yerely: therefore the King of Afshúr shut him vp, and put him in prison.

5 Then the King of Afshúr came vp throughout all the land, and went against Samarra, and besieged it the yere.

6 In the ninth yere of Hofhóa, the King of Afshúr toke Samaria, and caryed Ifra- él away vnto Afshúr, and put them in

Ha- lálh, and in Habór by the ruer of Gozán, and in the cities of the Medes.

7 For when the children of Ifraél d finned against the Lord their God, which had brought them out of the land of Egypt, from vnder the hand of Pharaóh King of Egypt, and feared other gods,

8 And walked according to the factions of the heathen, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Ifraél, and after the manors of the Kings of Ifraél, which they vfed,

9 And the children of Ifraél had done fe- cretly things that were not vpriht befo- re the Lord their God, and throughout all their cities had buylt his places, boche from the tovere e of the watche, to the defen- fed citre,

10 And had made them images and groues vpon euerie his bil, and vnder euerie grene tre,

11 And there burnt incense in all the his places, as did the heathé, whome the Lord had taken away before them, and wrought wicked things to angre the Lord,

12 And ferued idoles: whereof the Lord had faid vnto them, e Ye fhall do no fuche thing,

13 Notwithstanding the Lord testified to Ifraél, and to Iudáh " by all the Prophe- tes, and by all the Seers, faying, e Turne from your euil wares, & kepe my cóman- dements & my statutes, according to all the Lawe, which I commanded you fa- theirs, and which I fint to you by my fei- uants the Prophetes.

14 Neuertheles they wolde not obey, but haidened their neckes, like to the nec- kes of their f fathers, that did not beleue in the Lord their God.

15 And they refused his statutes and his co- uenant, that he made with their fathers, and his testimonies (wherewith he witnef- fed vnto them) and they followed vanitie, and became vaine, & followed the heathé that were rounde about them: concerning whome, the Lord had charged them, that they fhulde not do like them.

16 Finally they left the commandements of the Lord their God, and made them molten images, e even two calues, & made a giou, and worshiped all the s hofte of heanen; and ferued Baal.

17 And they made their fonges and their daughters b paffe through the fyre, and v-fed witchcraft and enchantements, yea, b folde them felues, to do euil in the fight of the Lord, to angre him.

18 Therefore f Lord was exceeding wroth with Ifraél, and put them out of his fight, and none was left but the tribe of Iudáh b onely.

19 Yet Iudáh kept not the commandemets of the Lord their God, but walked according to the faction of Ifraél, which they vfed.

20 Therefore the Lord cast of all the fede of Ifraél, and afflicted them, & deliuered them into the hands of spoylers, vntil he had cast them out of his fight.

21 "For he cut of Ifraél from the houfe of Dauíd, and they made Ieroboám the fon- ne of Nebáz King: & Ieroboám drewe If- raél away from following the Lord and made them finne a great finne.

22 For the children of Ifraél walked in all the finnes of Ieroboám, which he did, and departed not therefrom, 23 Vntil the Lord put Ifraél away out of his fight, as he had faid" by all his feruáts the "Prophetes, & caryed Ifraél away out of their land to Afshúr vnto this day.

24 And the King of Afshúr broght folke from Babel, and from "Cutháh, and from Auá, and from Hamáth, and from Sepharuám, and placed them in the cities of Samaria in theade of the children of If- raél: fo they possessed Samaria, and dwelt in the cities thereof.

25 And at the beginning of their dwellig there, they fared not the Lord: therefore the Lord fent lyons among them, which flewe them.

26 Wherefore they fpake to the King of Afshúr, faying, The nacions which thou haft iemoued, and placed in the cities of Samaria, knowe not the maner of f God of the land: therefore he hathe fent lyons among them, and beholde, they flay them, because they knowe not the maner of the God of the land.

27 Then the King of Afshúr commanded, faying, Cary thether one of the priests, whome ye broght thence, and let him go and dwel there, & teache them the maner of the God p of the countrey.

28 So one of the priests, which they had caryed from Samaria, came and dwelt in Beth-el, and taught them how they fhulde feare the Lord.

3 And the Auims made Nibház, and Tar- rák: and the Sepharuims burnt their chil- dren in the fyre to Adrammélech, and A- nammélech the gods of Sepharuáim.

3 Thus they feared the Lord, and appointed our priests out of them felues for the hie places, who prepared for them sacrifices in the houses of the hie places.

e That is, the had a certain knowledge of God & feared him, becaufe of the panili- ment, but that continued till idolaters, as do f Papists, which worship both God & idolat: but this is not to feare God as appeareth verſ 34 f He maneth this by the Ifraelites, to whome he had giuen his commandements Gen 32, 33. f King 18, 35. They * feared the Lord, but ſerued their gods after the maner of the nacifons whome they carved thence.

Vnto this day they do after the olde maner: they nether feare God, nether do after f their ordinances nor after their cuſtomes, nor after the Lawe, nor after the commandement, which the Lord commanded the children of Iakób, * whome he named Ifiaél,

35 And ſi whome the Lord had made coucnát, & charged them, ſaying, * Feare none other gods, nor bowe your felues to them, nor ſeue them, nor ſacrifice to them:

36 But feare the Lord which brought you out of the lád of Egypt with great power, and a ſtretched out arme: him feare ye, and worship him, and ſacrifice to him.

37 Also kepe ye diligently the statutes and the ordinances, and the Lawe, and the co- mandement, which he wrote for you, that ye do them continually, & feare not other gods.

38 And forget not the couenant that I haue made fi you, nether feare ye other gods, 39 But feare the Lord your God, and he wil deliuer you out of the hands of all your enemies.

40 Howbeit they obeyed not, but did after their olde custome.

41 So thefe * nacifons feared the Lord, and ferued their images also: fo did their chil- dren, and their childrens children: as did their fathers, fo do they vnto this day.

to them Eliakim the sonne of Hilkiyah, which was steward of the house, & Sheb-nah the chancellor, and Ioah the sonne of Afaph the recorder.

19 And Rabshakeh said vnto them, Telye Hezekiah, I pray you, Thus sayth the great King, me the great King of Afshur, What cometh is this wherein ye trust

20 Thou thinkest, Surely I have eloquence, but counsel and strength are for the warre. On whome then doest thou trust, that thou rebellest against me?

21 Lo, thou trustest now in this broken staffe of reede, to wit, on Egypt, on which if a man leane, it wil go into his hand, & peace it: for, Pharaoh King of Egypt vnto all that trust on him.

22 But if ye say vnto me, We trust in y Lord our God, is not that he whose places, and whose altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and hath said to Iudah and Ierusalem, Ye shall worship before this altar in Ierusalem?

23 Now therefore giue hostages to my lord the King of Afshur, and I wil giue the two thousand horses, if thou be able to furnish vpon them.

24 For how canst thou despise anie captai- ne of the leaft of my mafter feruats, & put thy truft on Egypt for charets and horfemen?

25 Am I now come vp without the lord to this place, to deftroie it? the lord faid to me, Go vp againft this lad, & defstroy it.

26 Then Eliakim the fonne of Hilkiah and Shebnah, and Ioah faid vnto Rabshakeh, Speake, I pray thee, to thy feruants in the Aramites language, for we vnderft and it, and taik not with vs in the Iewes ton- gue, in the audience of the people that are on 27 But Rabshakeh faid vnto the, Hathe my mafter fent me to thy mafter and to thee to fpeake thefe wordes, and not to the men which fit on the wall, that they may eat then owne dounge, & drinke their owne piffe with you?

28 So Rabshakeh ftole and cryed with a loude voyce in the Iewes language, & fpa- ke, faying, Heare the wordes of the great King, of the King of Afshur.

29 Thus fayth the King, Let not Heze- kiah difceiue you: for he fhall not be able to deliuer you out of mine hand.

30 Nether let Hezekiah make you to truft in the Lord, faying,
The Lord wil surely deliuer vs, and this citte fhall not be giuen

31 Hearken not vnto Hezekiah: for thus faith the King of Afshur, Make appointment with me, and come out to me, that euerie man may eat of his owne vine, and euerie man of his owne figre, and drinke

euerie man of the water of his owne well, 33 Til I come, and bring you to a land like your owne land, even a land of wheat and wine, a land of bread and vineyardes, a land of oliues oyle, & hony that ye may liue and not dye: and obey not Hezekiah, for he difceiueh you, faying, The Lord wil deliuer vs.

34 Hathe anie of the gods of the naciós de- liuered his land out of the hand of the King of Afshur?

35 Where is the god of Hamah, and of Ar- pad? where is the god of Sepharuaim, He- na and Iuah? how haue they deliuered Sa- maria out of mine hand?

36 Who are they among all the gods of the naciós, that haue deliuered their land out of mine hand, that the Lord shulde deliuer Ierufalem out of mine hand?

37 But the people held their peace, and answered not him a word: for the King's commandement was, faying, Answer ye him not.

38 Then Eliakim, the fonne of Hilkiash W was ftewarde of the houfe & Shebnah the chancellor, and Ioah the fonne of Afaph

8 ¶ So Rabshakéh retuned, and founde the King of Asshúr

9 ¶ He heard also men say of Tirhákah King of Ethnopia, Beholde, he his come out to fight against thee: he therefore departed and sent other messengers vnto Hezekiáh, saying,

10 Thus shal ye speake to Hezekiáh Kig of Iudáh, & say, Let not thy God disceue thee in whome thou trusteft, saying, Ieru-salém shal not be deliuered into the hand of the King of Asshúr.

11 Beholde, thou hast heard what the Kings of Asshúr haue done to all lands, how they haue destroyed them: and shalt thou be deliuered?

12 Haue the gods of the heathé deliuered them which my

13 Where is the King of Hamáth, and the King of Arpád, and the King of the citie of Sepharuaim, Hená and Iua?

14 ¶ So Hezekiáh received the letter of the hand of the messengers, and red it: & Hezekiáh wét vp into the house of the Lord, and Hezekiáh spred it before the Lord.

15 And Hezekiáh prayed before Lord, and said, O Lord God of Israel, which dwellest betwene the Cherubims, thou art very God alone ouer all the kingdomes of the earth: thou hast made the heauen & the earth.

16 Lord, bowe downe thine esye, and heare: Lord open thine eyes and beholde, and heare the wordes of Sancherib, who hathe sent to blaspheme the young God.

17 Trueth it is, Lord, that the Kings of Asshúr haue destroyed the nations and their lands, 18 And haue set fyre on their gods: for they were no gods, but the worke of mans háds, even wood and stone: therefore they destroyed them.

19 Now therefore, O Lord our God, I beseche thee, saue thou vs out of his hand, that all the kingdomes of earth may knowe, that thou, o Lord, art only God.

20 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amóz sent to Hezekiáh, saying, Thus sayeth Lord God of Israel, I naue heard that which thou hast prayed me, concerning Sancherib King of Asshúr.

21 This is the worde that the Lord hathe spoken against him, O virgine, daughter of Zion, he hathe despised thee, and laughed thee to soone: o daughter of Ieru-salém, he hathe shaken his head at thee.

22 Whome hast thou railed on and whome hast thou blasphemed: and against whome hast thou exalted thy voyce, and lifted vp thine eyes on hycæuen against the Holy one of Israel.

23 By thy messengers thou hast railed on the Lord, and said, By the multitude of my chatets I am come vp to the top of the mountains, by the sides of Lebanon, and wil cut downe the hie cedies thereof, and the faue fyre trees thereof, and I wil go into the lodging of his borders, and into the forest of his Caimel.

24 I haue digged, and dronke the waters of others, and with the plant of my feete haue I dryed all the floods closed in.

25 Hast thou not heard, how I haue of olde time made it, and haue formed it long ago? and shulde I nowe bring it, that it shulde be destroyed, and layed on ruinous heapes, as cities defended?

26 Whose inhabitants haue small power, and are afraid, and confounded: they are like the graffe of the field, and grene herbe, or graffe on the house toppes, or as corne blasted before it be growen.

28 And becaufe thou rageft against me, and thy tumult is come vp to mine eares, I wil put mine thoke in thy nothrels, and my bridel in thy hippes, & wil bring thee backe againe the same way thou camest.

29 And this shalde a signe vnto thee, Hezekiáh, Thou shalt eat this yere suche things as growe of the selues, and the next yere suche as growe without sawing, and the third yere sowe ye and reape, & plant vineyardes, and eat the frutes thereof.

30 And the remnant that is escaped of the house of Iudáh, shal againe take roote downewarde, and beare frute vpwarde.

31 For out of Ieru-salém shal go a remnant, and some that shal escape out of mount Zion: the zeale of the Lord of hostes shal do this.

Asshúr, He shal not entie into this citie, nor shote an arow there, nor come before it with shield, nor cast a mount against it:

33 But he shal retuine the way he came, and shal not come

Prophet Ifaiah the fonne of Amóz came to him, and laid vn- to him, Thus sayth the Lord, Put thine houle in an ordre: for thou fhalt dye, and not lue.

Then he turned his face to the a wall, & prayed to the Lord, faying,

I befeche thee, & Lord, remember now, how I haue walked before thee in trueth & with a b perfit heart, and haue done that which is good in thy fight: and Hezekiáh c wept fore.

And afore Ifaiah was gone out into the middle of the court, the worde of the Lord came to him, faying,

Tume againe, and tel Hezekiáh the cap- taine of my people, Thus sayth the Lord God of Dauid thy father, I haue heard thy

d prayer, and fene thy teares: beholde, I haue healed thee, and the third day thou shalt go vp to the house of the Lord,

And I will adde vnto thy dayes fifteen ye- re, & wil deliuer thee and this citie out of the hand of the King of Affhúr, and wil defend this citie for mine owne sake, and for Dauid my seruants sake.

Then Ifaiah said, Take a lome of diye figs. And they toke it, and layed it on the boyle, and he recouered.

For Hezekiah had said vnto Ifaiah, What shall be the signe that the Lord wil heale me, and that I shall go vp into the house of the Lord the third day?

And Ifaiah answered, This signe shalt thou haue of the Lord, that the Lord wil do that he hath spoken, Wilt thou that the shadowe go forwarde ten degrees, or go backe ten degrees?

And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadowe to passe forwarde ten degrees: not so thou, but let the shadowe go backe ten degrees.

And Ifaiah the Prophet called vnto the Lord, and he brought againe the shadowe te degrees backe by the degrees whereby it had gone downe in the dial of Aház.

The same season Berodach Baladan

the sonne of Baladán King of Babél, sene letters and a t present

And Hezekiáh heard them, and shewed them all his treasure house, to wit, the siluer, & the golde, & the spices, and the precious ointment, & all the house of his amount, and all that was founde in his treasures: there was nothing in his house, and in all his k realme, that Hezekiáh shewed them not.

Then Ifaiah the Prophet came vnto King Hezekiáh, and said vnto him, What said these men? and from whence cam- they to thee? And Hezekiáh said, They be come from a farre count: ey, even from Ba- bél.

Then said he, What haue they sene in thine house? And Hezekiáh answered, All that is in mine house haue they sene:
there is nothing among my treasures, that I haue not shewed them.

And Ifaiah said vnto Hezekiáh, Heare the worde of the Lord.

Beholde, the dayes come, that all that is in thine house, and what fouer thy fathers haue laied vp in store vnto this day, *

And of thy sonnes, that shal procede out of thee, & which thou shalt beget, shal they take away, and they shalbe eunuches in the palace of the King of Babél.

Then Hezekiáh faid vnto Ifaíah, The worde of the Lord which thou haft l spo- ken, is good: for faid he, Shal it not be good, it m peace and trueth be in my dayes?

Concerning the reft of the actes of He- zekiáh, and all his valiant dedes, and how he made a poole & a códite, & bioght wa- ter into the citie, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the King's of Iudáh?

And Hezekiáh flept with his fathers: & Manaffh his fonne reigned in his ftea- de.

8 And Hilkiah the hie Priest faid vnto Shaphan the chancellor, I haue founde the boke of the Lawe in the houfe of the Lord: and Hilkiah gaue the boke to Sha- phan, and he red it.

13 Go ye and inquire of the Lord for me, and for the people, and for all Iudah, concerning the wordes of this booke that is founde: for great is the wrath of the Lord that is kindled against vs, because our fathers haue not obeyed the wordes of this booke, to do according vnto all that which is written therein for vs.

14 ¶ So Hilkiah the Priest and Ahikam, and Achbor and Shaphan, and Afahiah went vnto Huldah the Prophetesse the wife of Shallum, the femme of Tikuah, the femme of Hathas keeper of the ward-robe: (and she dwelt in Ierusalem in the scollidge) and they communed with her. 15 And she answered them, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, Tel the man that sent you to me,

16 Thus sayth the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon this place, and on the inhabitants thereof, even all the wordes of § booke which § King of Iudah hath red,

17 Because they haue forfaken me, and haue burnt incense vnto other gods, to anger me with all the h works of their hands: my wrath also shalbe kindled against this place, and shal not be quenched.

18 But to the King of Iudah, who sent you to inquire of the Lord, so shal ye say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord God of Israel, The wordes that thou hast heard shal come to pfffe.

19 But because thine heart did melt, and thou hast humbled thy selfe before the Lord, when thou heardest what I fpake a- gainst this place, and against the inhabi- tats of the fame, to wit, that it fshulde be de- stroyed and accursed, and hast rent thy clothes, and wept before me, I haue also heard it, fayth the Lord.

20 Beholde therefore, I wil gather thee to thy fathers, and thou fhalt be put in thy graue in peace, and thine eyes fhall not fe all the euil, which I wil bring vpon this place. Thus they brought the King worde againe.

1 Then the King 4 sent, and there gathered vnto him all the Elders of Iudah and of Ierufalem.

2 And the King went vp into the houfe of the Lord, with all the men of Iudah and all the inhabitants of Ierufalem with him, and the Priests and Prophetes, and all the people bothe fmall & great: and he red in their cares all the wordes of the boke of the couenant, which was found in the hou- fe of the Lord.

3 And the King fode by b the piller, and made a couenant before the Lord, that they fshuldewalke after the Lord, and kepe his commandements, and his testimon- ies, and his flatutes with all their heart, & with all their foul, that they might accom- plish the wordes of this couenant writen in this boke. 8 Also he brought all the priestes out of the cities of Iudáh, and defiled the hie places where the priests had burnt incense, even from Géba to Beer-shéba, and destroyed the hie places of the gates, that were in entering in of the gate of Ioshúa the gouernour of the citie which was at the left hand of the gate of the citie.

9 Neuerthel the priests of the hie places came not up to the altar of the Lord in Ierusalém, said only thei did eat of the vulnauened bread among their brethren.

10 He defiled also Tópheth, which was in the valley of the children of Hinnóm, that no man should make his sonne or his daughter pass through fyre to Mólech.

11 He put downe also the horses that the Kings of Iudáh had given to the sunne at the entering in of the house of the Lord, by the chamber of Nethan-mélech the cunuche, which was ruler of the suburbs, and burnt the charets of the sunne with fyre.

12 And the altars that were on the top of the chamber of Aház, which the Kings of Iudáh had made, and the altars which Manasseh had made in the two courtes of the house of the Lord, did the Kig breake downe, and hastened thence, and cast the dust of them in the brooke Kedrón.

13 Moreover the King defiled the hie pla- ces that were before Ierusalém and on the right hand of the mount of corruption (which Salomón the King of Israel had buyit for Adhócteth the idole of the Zido nians, and for Chemoh the idole of the Moabites, and for Milchóm the abomina- tion of the children of Ammón)

14 And he brake the images in pieces, and cut downe the groues and filled their pla- ces with the bones of men.

15 Furthermore the altar that was at Beth- él, the hie place made by Ieroboám the sonne of Nehát, which made Israel to sin- ne, both this altar and also the hie place brake he downe, & burnt the hie place, & stamp it to powder and burnt the groue.

16 And as Iosiah turned him selfe, he spied the graues, that were in the mount, and sent and toke the bones out of the graues, and burnt them upon the altar, and pollu- ted it, according to the words of the Lord that the man of God proclaimed which cryed the same words.

17 The he said, What citie is that which I said And the me of the citie said vnto him, is the sepulchre of the man of God, which came from Iudáh, and tolde these things that thou hast done to the altar of Beth-él.

18 The said he, Let him alone: let none re-mou his bones. So his bones were saved with the bones of the Prophet that came from Samaria.

19 Iosiah also toke away all the houses of the hie places, which were in the cities of Samaria, which the Kings of Israel had made to angre the Lord, and did to them according to all the facies that he had done in Beth-él.

20 And he sacrificed all the priests of the hie places, that were there vpo the altars, and burnt mens bones vpon them, and returned to Ierusalém.

21 ¶ Then the King commanded all the people, saying, "Kepe the Pafseouer vnto the Lord your God," as it is writen in the boke of this couenant.

22 And there was no Pafseouer holden a li- ke that from the daies of the Iudges that iudged Israel, nor in all the dayes of the Kings of Israel, and of the Kings of Iu- dáh.

23 And in the eighteenth yere of King Io- siah was this Pafseouer celebrated to the Lord in Ierusalém.

24 Iosiah also toke away them that had familiar spitits, & the sochesayers, and the images, and the idoles, & all the abomina- cians that were espied in the land of Iu- dáh & in Ierusalém, to performe the wor- des of the Lawe, which were written in the boke that Hilkiah the Priest founde in the house of the Lord.

25 Like vnto him was there no King befo- re him, that turned to the Lord with all his heart, and with all his foule, & with all his might according to all the Lawe of Moses, nether after him arose there anie like him.

26 Not withstanding the Lord turned not from the fearcenes of his great wrath wherewith he was angric against Iudáh, because of all the provocacians wherewith Manasseh had prouoked him.

27 Therefore the Lord said, I wil put Iu- dáh also out of my sight, as I haue put a- way Israel, and wil cast of this citie Ieru-salem, which I haue chosen, and the house whereof I said,
"My Name shall be there."

And in the n in the yere of his trig- ne, the tenth moneth & tenth day of the moneth Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél came, he, & all his hofte againft Ie- rufalém, and pitched againft it, and they buylt fortes againft it rounde about it.

So the citre was befieged vnto the eleuéth yere of King Zedekiáh.

And the nunhe day of the moneth the fa- mine was fore in the citre, fo that there was no bread for the people of the land.

Then the citre was broken vp, and all the men of warre fled by night, by the waye of the gate, which is betwene two walles that was by the Kings garden: now the Caldees were by the citre rounde a- bout: and the King went by the way of the wilderness.

But the armie of the Caldees pursued af- ter the King, and toke him in the deferts of Ietichó, and all his hofte was fcattered from him.

Then they toke the King, and caryed him vp to the King of Babél to Ribláh, where they gaue iudgement vpon him.

And they flewe the fones of Zedekiáh before his eyes, and put out the eyes of Zedekiáh, and bounde him in chaines, & caryed him to Babél.

And in the fift moneth, & feuenth day of the moneth, which was the nintenth yere of King Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél, came Nebuzar-adán chief steward and feruant of the King of Babél, to Ie- rufalém,

And burnt the houfe of the Lord, and the Kings houfe, and all the houfes of Ieufa- lém, & all the great houfes, burnt he with fyre.

And all the armie of the Caldees that were with the chief stewarde, brake downe the walles of Ierufalém rounde about.

And the left of the people that were left in the citre, and thofe that were fled and a fallen to the King of Babél, with the remnant of the multitude, did Nebuzar- adán chief stewarde carye away captiue.

But the chief stewarde left of the poore of the land to dieffe the vines, and to til the land.

Also the pillars of braffe that were in the houfe of the Lord, and the bafes, and the brafen Sea that was in the houfe of the Lord, did the Caldees, brake, and caryed the braffe of them to Babél.

The pottes also and the befonnes, and the untruments of mufike, and the incenfe affhes, & all the veffels of braffe that they miniftred in, toke they away.

And the affhe pannes, and the bafens, and all that was of golde, & that was of filuer, toke the chief stewarde away,

With the two pillers, one Sea & the ba- fes, which Salomón had made for the hou- fe of the Lord: the braffe of all thefe vef- fels was without weight.

The height of the one piller was eigh- tene cubites, and the chapter thereon was braffe, and the height of the chapter was with netwoike thie cubites, and pomegi a- naees vpon the chapter: rounde about, all of braffe: and likewise was the feconde pil- ler with the netwoike.

And the chief stewarde toke Seraiah the chief Priest, and Z. phaniah the feconde Priest, and the thre keepers of the dote.

And out of the citre he toke an eunuche that had the out fight of the mé of warre, and fine men of them that were in the Kings presence, which were founde in the citre, and Sophér captaine of the hofte, who muftred the people of the land, and threfcote men of the people of the land, that were founde in the citre.

And Nebuzar-adán the chief stewarde toke them, and brought them to the King of Babél to Ribláh.

And the King of Babél fmote them, and flewe them at Ribláh in the land of Ha- máth. So Iudáh was caryed away captiue out of his owne land.

Howbeit there remained people in the land of Iudáh, whome Nebuchad-nezzár King of Babél left, & made Gedaliáh the fonne of Ahikám the fonne of Shaphán ruler ouer them.

Thé when all the captaines of the hofte & their men heard, that the King of Babél had made Gedaliáh goueinour, that came to Gedaliáh to Mizpáh, to wit, Ithmaél the fonne of Nethaniáh, and Iohanán the fonne of Káreah, and Seraiáh the fonne of Tanhúmeth y Netophathite, & Iazani- áh y fonne of Maachathí, thei & theii mé.

THE FIRST BOKE OF

the Chronicles, or Paralipoménon.

THE ARGUMENT.

"The Warden of Bays. "Or, if things omitted, to wit, to the hope of the Kings.

The Iewes comprehend both these bokes in one, which the Grecians because of the length deude into two and they are called Chronicles, because they note briefly the histories from Adam to the returns from their capturitis in Babylon. But these are not those bokes of Chronicles, which are so oft-menioned in the bokes of Kings of Iudáh and Israel, which did at large set forth the state of both the kingdoms, and afterward perished in the captivities: but an abridgement of the same, and were gathered by Esra, at the Jewes write, for their returns from Babylon. This first booke contained a brief rehearsal of the children of Adam unto Abraham, Izhák, Izakáh, and the twelve Patriarchs, chiefly of Iudáh and of the reign of David, because Christ came of him according to the first. And therefore it setteth forth more amply his acts, both the covenanting civil government, and also the administration, and care of things concerning religion, for the good success whereof he rengeth, and giveth thanks to the Lord.

1 And Daud counseled with the cap- taines of thonfands & of

2 And Daud said to all the Congregacion of Israel, If it time good to you, and that it proceedeth of the Lord our God, we wil fend to and fro vnto our brethren, that a- re left in all the land of Israel (for with them are the Priests and the Levites in y cities and their Suburbs) that they may assemble them selues vnto vs.

3 And we wil bring againe the Arke of our God to vs: for we foght not vnto it in the dayes of Saul.

4 And all the Congregacion answered, Let vs do so: for the thing femed good in the eyes of all the people.

5 So Daud gathered all Israel together fro Shubor in Egypt, eue vnto the entring of Hamath, to bring the Arke of God from Kiriath-tearim.

6 And Daud went vp & all Israel to Baa- lath, in Kiriath-tearim, y was in Iudab, to bring vp from thence the Arke of God the Lord that dwelleth betwene the Che- ubims, where his name is called on.

7 And they carried the Arke of God in a newe cart out of the house of Abinadah: and Vzsa and Ahio guided the cart.

8 And Daud and all Israel plaied before God with all their might, both wongs & with harpes, and with violes, and with timbrels and with cimbares and with tru- pets.

9 And when they came vnto the thref- shing floore of Chidon, Vzsa put for the his hand to holde the Arke, for the oxen did shake it.

10 But the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Vzza, and he smote him, because he laied his hand vpon y Arke: so he dyed there before God.

11 And Daud was angrie, because the Lord had made a breache in Vzza, and he called the name of that place Pérez-vzza vnto this day.

12 And Daud feared God that day, sayig, How shal I bring in to me the Arke of God?

13 Therefore Daud broght not the Arke to him into the citre of Daud, but cau- sed it to turne into the house of Obed Edom the Gittite.

14 So the Arke of God remained in the house of Obed Edom, even in his house the moneths: and the Lord blessed the house of Obed Edom, and all that he had.

8 But when the Philistims heard that Da- uid was anointed King ouer Israel, all y Philistims came vp to feke Dauid. And when Dauid heard, he went out against them.

9 And the Philistims came, and spred them selues in the valley of Rephaiin.

10 Then Dauid asked counsel at God, say- ing, Shal I go vp against y Philistims, & with thou deluer them into mine hand And the Lord said vnto him, Go vp: for I wil deluer them into thine hand.

11 So they came vp to Báal-perazim & Da- uid smote them there: and Dauid said, God harhe deuided mine enemies with mine had, as waters a. e deuided: therefore thei called the name of that place, Báal-pera- zim.

12 And there they had left their gods: and Dauid said, Let them euen be buint with fyre.

13 Againe the Philistims came and spred them selues in the valley.

14 And whe Dauid asked againe counsel at God, God said to him, Thou shalt not go vp after them, but turne away from them, that thou mauest come vpon them ouer a- gainst the mulbery trees.

15 And when thou hearest the noise of one going in the toppes of the mulbery trees, then go out to battel: for God is gone for the before thee, to smite the hoste of the Philistims.

16 So Dauid did as God had commanded him: and they smote the hoste of the Philistims from Gibeón euen to Gé- zer.

11 And Daud called Zadók & Abiathár the Priests, and of the Leuites, Vriél, A- faiáh and Ioél, Shemaiáh, and Eliél, and Amminadáb:

12 And he said vnto the, Ye are the chief fa- thers of the Leuites: f fancífi: your felues, and your brethren, and bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Ifraél vnto the place that I haue prepared for it.

13 For b because ye were not there at f firft, the Lord our God made a bicache among vs: for we foght him not after due f or- die.

14 So the Priests and the Levites fancified them feues to bring vp the Arke of the Lord God of Ifraél.

15 And the fonnes of the Levites bare the Arke of God vpon their fhulces with the barnes, as Molés had commanded, according to the worde of the Lord.

16 And Daud fpalet to the chief of the Levites, that they fhulde appoint certune of their brethren to sing with s instruments of mufike, with voles and harpes, & cym-bales, that they might make a founde, and list vp their voyce with 1000.

17 So the Levites appointed Hemán the fonne of Ioél, and of his brethren Afaph the fonne of Berechiáh, and of the fonnes of Merari their brethren, Ethán the fonne

24 An i S ecaniáh and Iehohaphát and Nithaneél and Amafhát, and Zachariáh, and Benaiáh, and Elézer the Priests did bowe with trumpets before the Arke of God, and Obéd Edóm and Ieuiáh were porters m for the Arke.

25 "So Daud and the Elders of Ifraél and the captaines of thoufinds went to bring vp the Arke of the couenant of the Lord from the houfe of Obéd Edóm with 1000.

26 And because that God e helped the Le- uites that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord, they offred e feuen bullockes and feuen rams.

23 Sing vnto the Lord all the earth: declare his saluacion from day to day.

24 Declare his glorie among the nacions, and his wonderful works among all people.

25 For the Lord is great and mache to be praised, and he is to be feared about all gods.

26 For all the gods of the people are m i- doles, but the Lord made the heauens.

28 Giue vnto the Lord, ye famil: of the people: giue vnto the Lord glorie and power.

29 Giue vnto the Lord the glorie of his Name, bring an offering and come before him, & worship the Lord in the glorious Sanctuarie.

30 a Tremble ye before him, all the earth: surely the worlde shal be stable and not mone.

31 Let the heauens reioyce, and let the earth be glad, and let them say among the nacions, The Lord reigneth.

32 Let the sea roare, and all that therein is: let the field be joyful and all that is in it.

33 Let the trees of the wood the reioyce, at the presence of the Lord: for he commeth to judge the earth.

34 Praise the Lord, for he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer.

35 And say ye, Saue vs, o God, our saluacio, and gather vs, & deliuer vs from the hea- the, that we may praise thine holy Name, and glorie in thy praise.

36 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel for euer and euer: and let all people say, So be it, and praise the Lord.

37 Then he left there before the Aike of the Lords couenant Asaph and his bre- thren to minister continually before the Aike, that which was to be done euerie day:

38 And Obed Edom and his brethren, the scose and eight: and Obed Edom the sonne of Ieduthun, and Hosah were porters.

39 And Zadok the Priest and his brethren the Priests were before the Tabernacle of the Lord, in the his place that was at Gi- heon, 40 To offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord, vpon the burnt offering altar continually, in the morning and in the evening, euen according vnto all that is written in the Lawe of the Lord, which he commanded Israel.

41 And with them were Heman, and Ieduthun, and the left that were chosen, (which were appointed by names) to praise the Lord, because his mercie endureth for euer.

42 Euen with them were Heman and Ieduthun to make a

3 David is forbidden to buyde an house vnto the Lord. 12 Christ is promised under the figure of Sal. min. 18 David giveth toanges, 23 And prayeth vnto God.

1 Now afterwarde whe David dwelt in his house, he said to Nathan y Pro- pret, Beholde, I dwel in an house of 2 ce- dre trees, but the Arke of the Lord's cou- enant remaineth vnder 3 curtames.

2 Then Nathan said to David, Do 4 all that is in thine heart, for God is with thee. And the same 5 might euen the worde of God came to Nathan, saying,

4 Go, and tel David my seuat, Thus saith the Lord, Thou shalt not buyde me an house to dwel in:

5 For I haue dwelt in no house, since the day y I broght out the children of Israel vnto this day, but I haue bene from 6 tent to tent, and from habitation to habitation.

6 Wherefore I haue 7 walked with all Israel, spake I one worde to ame of the judges of Israel (whome I commanded to fede my people) saying, Why haue ye not buylt me an house of cedre trees?

7 Now therefore thus shalt thou say vnto my seruant David, Thus saith the Lord of hostes, I toke thee si o the shepecoare 8 or from following the shepe, that thou shul- dest be a prince ouer my people Israel.

9 And I haue bene w thee whetherfore thou hast walked, and haue destroyed all thine enemies out of thy sight, and haue

'mide thee a name, like the name of the great men that are in the earth.

10 (Also I wil appoint a place for my people Israel, & 11 wil plant it, that they may dwell in their place, and move no more: neither shall the "wicked people" vex thee any more, as at the beginning, 12 And since the time that I commanded judges over my people Israel) And I wil subdue all thine enemies: therefore I say unto thee, that the Lord wil 13 buy thee an house.

14 And when thy days shall be fulfilled to go with thy fathers, then wil I raise up thy seed after thee, which shall be of thy sons, and wil establish his kingdom.

16 He shall buy me an house, and I wil establish his throne for 17 ever.

18 I wil be his father and he shall be my son, and I wil not take my mercy away from him, as I took it from him that was before thee.

20 But I wil establish him in mine house, & in my kingdom for ever, and his throne shall be established for ever,

25 According to all these words, and according to all this vision. So Nathan spake to King David.

16 ¶ And David the King 17 went in and fate before the Lord and said, Who am I, o Lord God, and what is mine house, that thou hast brought me 18 hetherto.

17 Yet thou esteeming this a smalt thing, o God, hast also spoken concerning the house of thy seruant for a great while, and hast regarded me according to the estate of a man of 19
hye degre, o Lord God.

18 What can David d. fire more of thee for the honour of thy seruat? for thou knowest thy seruant.

19 O Lord, for thy seruants sake, euen ac- cording to thine 20 heart hast thou done all this great thing to declare all magnificence.

20 Lord, there is none like thee, nether is there ame god besides thee, according to all that we haue heard with our eates.

21 Moreover what one nation in the earth is like thy people Israel, whose God went to redeem thie to be his people, & to make thy selfe a Name, and to do great and terri- ble things by casting out naciós from be- fore thy people, whome thou hast delue- red out of Egypt?

22 For thou hast ordeined thy people Israel to be thine owne people for euer, and thou Lord art become their God.

23 Therefore now Lord, let the thing that thou hast spoken concerning thy seruant & concerning his house, be confirmed for euer, and do as thou hast said,

24 And let thy Name be stable & magnified for euer, that it may be said, The Lord of hostes, God of Israel, is the God of Israel, & let the house of David thy seruant be stablished before thee.

25 For thou, o my God, hast reueled vnto the eare of thy seruant, that thou wilt buyde him an house: therefore thy seruant hath bene bolde to pray before thee.

26 Therefore now Lord (for thou art God, and hast spoken this goodnes vnto thy seruant)

27 Now therefore, it hath pleased thee to blesse the house of thy seruant, that it may be before thee for euer: for thou, o Lord, hast blessed it, & it shalbe blessed for euer.

14 So the Lord sent a pestilence in Israel, and there fell of Israel seven hundred thousand men.

15 And God sent the Angel into Ierusalem to destroy it. And as he was destroying, the Lord beheld, and repented of the evil, and said to the Angel that destroyed, It is now enough, let thine hand cease. Then the Angel of the Lord stood by the threshing floor of Ornan the Jebusite.

16 And Dauid lifted up his eyes, and saw the Angel of the Lord standing between the earth and the heaven with his sword drawn in his hand, and he stretched out towards Jerusalem. Then Dauid and the Elders of Israel, which were clothed in sackcloth, fell upon their faces.

17 And Dauid said vnto Gad, Is it not I that commanded to number the people? It is even I that have sinned and have committed evil, but shewe what have they done? Lord my God, I beseeche thee, let thine hand be on me and on my fathers house; and not on thy people for their destruction.

1 David prepareth things needful for the building of the Temple.

the altar for the burnt offering of Israel.

2 And David commanded to gather together the strangers that were in the land of Israel, and he set masons to hew and polish stones to build the house of God.

3 David also prepared: much iron for the nails of the doors of the gates, and for the joinings, and abundance of brass pouring weight,

4 And cedar trees without number: for the Zidonians and they of Tyre brought -much cedar wood to David.

5 And David said, Salomón my son is young and tender, and we must build an house for the Lord, magnificent, excellent and of great fame and dignity through-out all countries. I will therefore now prepare for him. So David prepared very much before his death.

6 Then he called Salomón his son, and charged him to build an house for the Lord God of Israel.

9 And the people rejoiced when they of- freed willingly: for they offered willingly unto the Lord, with a perfite heart. And Dauid the King also rejoiced with great joye.

10 Therefore Dauid blessed the Lord be- fore all the Congregation, & Dauid said, Blessed be thou, & Lord God, of i Israel our father, for euer and euer.

11 Thine, & Lord, is greatnes and power, and glorie, and victorie and praise: for all that is in heauen & in earth is thine: thine is the kingdome, & Lord, and thou excellest as head ouer all.

12 Bothe riches and honour come of thee, & thou reignest ouer all, and in thine hand is power and strength, and in thine hand it is to make great, and to giue strength vnto all.

13 Now therefore our God, we thanke thee, and praise thy glorious Name.

14 But who am I, and what is my people, that we shulde be able to offer willingly after this sort? for all things be come of thee: and of thine owne hand we haue giuen thee.

15 For we are strangers before thee, and sojourners, like all our fathers: our dayes are like the shadowe vpon the earth, and there is none abiding.

16 O Lord our God, all this abundance that we haue prepared to buyld thee an house for thine holy Name, is of thine hand and all is thine.

17 I knowe also, my God, that thou tryest the heart, and hast pleasure in righteousness: I haue offered willingly in thy righteousness of mine heart all these things: now also haue I sent thy people which are founde here, to offer vnto thee willingly with joye.

18 O Lord God of Abraham, Izhák and Israel our fathers, kepe this for euer in the purpose, and the thoughts of the heart of thy people, and prepare their hearts vnto thee.

19 And giue vnto Salomón my fonne a per- fit heart to kepe thy commandements, thy testimonies, and thy statutes, and to do all things, and to buylde the house which I haue prepared.

20 And Dauid said to all the Congrega- ció, Now bless the Lord your God. And all the Congregation blessed the Lord God of their fathers, and bowed downe their heads, & worshipped the Lord and the i King.

21 And they offred sacrifices vnto the Lord, and on the moiowe after that day, they offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, even a thousand yong bullockes, a thousand rammes, & a thousand sheepe, with their ndrinke offrings, and sacrifices in abundá- ce for all Israel.

22 And they did eat and drinke before the Lord the fame day with greate joye, and they made Salomón the fonne of Dauid King the feconde time, and anointed him prince before the Lord, and Zadók for the hie Priest.

23 So Salomón fate on the throne of the Lord, as King in steade of Dauid his fa- ther, and prospered: and all Israel o- beyed him.

24 And all the princes and men of power, and all the fones of King Daudid "sub- mitted them selues vnder King Salo- món.

25 And the Lord magnified Salomón in dignitie, in the sight of all Israel, and ga- ue him so glorious a kingdome, as no King had before him in Israel.

26 Thus Daudid the fonne of Ishái reigned ouer all Israel.

27 And the space that he reigned ouer Is- rael, was fourtie yere: seuen yere reigned he in Hebrón, and the &chirtie yere reig- ned he in Ierusalém:

carrying away of the people captive into Babylon. In this storie are certain things declared and set forth more copiously than in the boxes of the Kings, and therefore serve greatly to the understanding of the Prophets. But the things are here chiefly to be considered. First that the godless Kings, when they saw the plagues of God prepared against their country for same, had recourse to the Lord, and by earnest prayer were heard, and the plagues removed. The second how it is a thing that greatly offended God, that such as scare him and profess the religion, should soye in amuse with the wicked. And thirdly how the good rulers ever loved the Prophets of God, and were very zealous to set forth the religion throughout all their dominions, and contrarie with the wicked based his ministers, deposed them, and for the true religion and wode of God, set up idolatrie, and served God according to the fantasies of men. Thus have we hitherto the chief altes from the beginning of the wode to the beylding agnine of Jerusalem, which was the two and thirtieth yeers of Darius, and contrarie in the wode, the thousand, so are hundredth foure score and eighty years, and six months.

15 And Salomón 'spake vnto all Israel, to the cap- taines of thousand, and of hudreths and to the judges, and to all the gouernours in all Israel, even the chief fathers.

16 So Salomón and all the Congregacion with him went to the hye place that was at Gibeón: for there was the Tabernacle of the Congregacion of God which Mo- fes the seruant of the Lord had made in the wilderness.

17 But the Arke of God had Daud brought vp from Kiriathlearim, when Daud had made preparation for it: for he had pitched a tent for it in Ierusalem.

18 Moreover the 'brafen altar' that Bera- leel the sonne of Vri, the sonne of Hur had made, did he set before the Tabernacle of the Lord: and Salomón and the Cógrega- cion fought it.

19 And Salomón offred there before y Lord vpon the brafen altar that was in the Ta- bernacle of the Congregation: 'even a thousand burnt offrings offred he vpon it.

20 The same night did God appeare vnto Salomón, and said
vnto him, Aske what I shal give thee.

21 And Salomón said vnto God, Thou hast shewed great mercie vnto Daud my father and hast made me to reigne in his steade.

22 Now therefore, o Lord God, let thy promes vnto Daud my father be 'true: for thou hast made me King ouer a great people, like to the dust of the earth.

23 Gue me now wisdom and knowledge, y I may go out & go in before this peo- ple for who ca judge this thy great people!

24 And God said to Salomón, Because this was in thine heart, & thou hast not asked riches, treasures nor honour, nor the li-

ues of thine enemies, nether ye hast asked long life, but hast asked for thee wisdom & knowledge that thou mightest judge my people, ouer whome I haue made thee King.

25 Wisdom & knowledge is granted vnto thee, and I wil gue thee riches and treasures and honour, so that there hath not bene the like among the Kings where before thee, nether after thee shal there be y like.

26 Then Salomón came from the hie place, that was at Gibeón, to Ierusalem from before the Tabernacle of the Congregacio, and reigned ouer Israel.

27 And Salomón gathered the charats & horsmen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charats, & twelve thousand horsmen, whome he placed in the charat cities, and with the King at Ierusalem.

28 And the King gave silver and gold at Ierusalem as stones, & gave cedre trees as the wilde fig trees, that are abundantly in the plaine.

29 Also Salomón had horset brought out of Egypt and fine linen: the Kings merchants received the fine linen for a price.

30 They came vp also and brought out of Egypt some charat, worthy fix hundred shekels of silver, that is an horse for an hundred and fiftie: & thus they brought horses to all the

Kings of the Hittites, and to the Kings of Aram by their 'meanes.

11 Then Hiram King of Tyrus answered in writing which he sent to Salomón, Because the Lord hath loved his people, he hath made thee King over them.

12 Hiram said moreover, Blessed be the Lord God of Israel which made the heaven and the earth, and that hath given unto David the King a wife of noble birth, that hath discretion, prudence and understanding to build an house for the Lord, and a palace for his kingdom.

13 Now therefore I have sent a wise man, of understanding of my father Hiram, 14 "The noble birth of a woman of the daughters of Dan: and his father was a man of Tyrus, & he can skill to work in gold, in silver, in brass, in iron, in stone, and in timber, in purple, in blue silk, and in fine linen and in crimson, and can carve in all carved work's, and broder in all broad-work that shall be given him, with thy cunning men, and with the cunning men of my lord David thy father.

15 Now therefore the wheat and the barley, the oil & the wine, which my lord hath spoken of, let him send unto his servants.

16 And we will cut wood in Lebanon as much as thou shalt need, and will bring it to thee in fables by the sea to Japho, for thou shalt carry them to Jerusalem.

17 ¶ And Salomón numbered all the strangers that were in the land of Israel, after the numbering that his father David had nombred them: and they were founde an hundreth and thre and fiftie thoufand, and fix hundreth.

18 And he fet feuentie thoufand of them to the burden, and fourefcore thoufand to hewe flouts in the mountaine, & thre thou- fand and fix hundreth ouerfcers to caufe the people to worke.

2 And he began to buyld in the feconde moneth o the feconde day, in the fourt yere of his reigne.

3 And thefe are the meafures, whereon Salo- món grofided to buyld the houfe of God: the length of cubites after the firft b mea- fure was threfcore cubites, & the breadth twenty cubites:

4 And the porche, y was before the length in the fronte c of the breadth was twentie cubites, and the height was an d hundreth and twêtie, & he ouerlaied it within with pure golde.

5 And the greater houfe he fylled with firre tree which he ouerlaied with good golde, & graued thereon palmetrees & chaines.

6 And he ouerlaied y houfe with precious ftone for beautie: and the golde was golde of a Paruáim.

7 The houfe, I fay, the beames, poftes, and walles thereof and the dootes thereof ouerlaied he with golde, and graued Cherubims vpon the walles.

8 ¶ He made alfo y houfe of the moft holy place: the length thereof was in the fronte of the breadth of the houfe, twentie cubites, and the breadth thereof twentie cubites: and he ouerlaied it with the beft golde, of fix hundreth talents.

9 And the weight of the nailes was fiftie fh. kels of golde, and he ouerlaied the chambers with golde.

10 ¶ And in the houfe of the moft holy place he made two Cherubims wight like children, and ouerlaied them with golde.

7 And he made ten candlestickes of golde (according to their forme) and put them in the Temple, fine on the right had, and fine on the left.

8 And he made ten tables, & put them in the Temple, fine on the right hand, & fine on the left: and he made an hundredth ba- fens of golde.

4 And all the Elders of Israel came, & the Leuites toke vp the Arke.

5 And they caryed vp the Arke and the Ta-bernacle of the Congregation, and all the holy vessels that were in the Tabernacle, those did the Priests & Leuites bring vp.

6 And King Salomón and all the Congre-gacion of Israel that were assembled vnto him, were before the Arke, offering shepe & bullockes, which colde not be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

7 So the Priests brought the Arke of the couenant of the Lord vnto his place, into the Oracle of the house, into the moste Holy place, own vnder the wings of the Cherubims.

8 For the Cherubims stretched out their wings ouer the place of the Arke, and the Cherubims couered the Arke and the barres thereof abouté.

9 And they drew out the barres, that the ends of the barres might be sene out of the Arke before the Oracle, but they were not sene without: and these they are vnto this day.

10 Nothing was in the Arke, saue d the two Tables, which Moses gaue at Hoseb, where the Lord made a couenant with the children of Israel, when they came out of Egypt.

11 And when the Priests were come out of the Sistuarie (for all the Priests that were present, were sanctified and did not waite by course.

13 And they were as one, blowing trumpets, and singing, and made one sounde to be heard in praising and thanking the Lord, and when they lift vp their voyce with trumpets and with cymbales, and with in-struments of musike, and when they prai-fed the Lord, singing, s For he is good, be-caufe his

Lord was fil-led with a cloude, the cloude: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of

2 And I haue buylt thee an house to dwel in, an habitation for thee to dwel in for euer.

3 And the King turned his face, & bleffed all the Congregation of Israel (for all the Congregation of Israel stode there)

4 And he said, Bleffed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouthe vnto Dauid my father, & hath with his hand fulfilled it, saying,

5 Since the day that I brought my people out of the land of Egypt, I chose no citic of all the tribes of Israel to buyde an

'house, that my Name might be there, ne-ther chose I anie man to be a ruler ouer my people Israel:

6 But I haue chosen Ierusalem, that my Name might be there, and haue chosen Daudid to be ouer my people Israel.

7 * And it was in the heart of Daudid my fa-ther to buyde an house vnto the Name of the Lord God of Israel,

8 But the Lord said to Daudid my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buyde an house vnto my Name, thou didest wel, that "thou wast so minded.

9 Notwithstanding thou shalt not buyde the house, but thy sonne which shal come out of thy loynes, he shal buyde an house vnto my Name.

10 And the Lord hath performed his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the roume of Daudid my father, and am set on the throne of Israel as the Lord pro-mised, and haue buylt an house to the Na-me of the Lord God of Israel.

11 And I haue set the Arke these, wherein is the b couenant of the Lord, that he made with the children of Israel.

CHAP. VII.

The fyre consumeth the sacrifice. 2 The glorie of the Lord filleth the Temple. 13 He heareth his prayer, 17 And premiseth to exalt him and his trowne.

2 Mac 2.10. a Hereby God declared that he was pleased with Salomons prayer.

1 And when Salomón had made an end of praying, fyre came down from heaven, and consumed the burnt offering & the sacrifices, and the glorie of the Lord filled the house,

2 So that the Priests could not enter into the house of the Lord, because the glorie of the Lord had filled the Lords house.

3 And when all the children of Israel saw the fyre, and the glorie of the Lord come down, upon the house, they bowed themselves with their faces to the earth upon the pavement, and worshiped and praised the Lord, saying, For he is good, because his mercies endure for ever.

2 King 2.63.

4 Then the King and all the people offered sacrifices before the Lord.

5 And King Salomón offered a sacrifice of two and twinnie thousand bullockes, and an hundredth and twinnie thousand sheep, for the King and all the people dedicated the house of God.

6 And the Priests waited on their offices, & the Leutres with the instruments of musi- ke of the Lord, which King David had made to praise Lord, Because his mercy lasteth for euer: when David praised God by them, the Priests also blewe trumpets ouer against them: and all they of Israel stode by.

The by their hands

7 Moreover Salomón hallowed the middle of the court that was before the house of the Lord: for there he had prepared burnt offrings, and the fat of the peace offrings, because the brafen altar which Salomón had made, was not able to receive burnt offering, and the meat offering, and the fat.

8 The feast of the Tabernac- cle, which was kept in the fe- ment moneth. 4 They affim- bled to hear the words of God after that they had re- mained seven dares in the bomb, and Ta- beroncles. 4 They had large to de- prive & to us twentieth day, 2 King 8, 68, but they were not away to the next day.

8 And Salomón made a feast at that ti- me of seven days, & all Israel with him, a very great Congregation, from the en- tring in of Hamiah, unto the ruler of Egypt.

9 And in the eight day they made a solé- ne assemble, for they had made the dedi- cation of the altar seven days, and the feast seven days.

10 And the three and twentieth day of the sevent moneth, he sent the people away into their tents, joyous & with glad heart, because of the goodness that the Lord had done for David and for Salomón, and for Israel his people.

11 So Salomón finished the house of the Lord, and the Kings house, and all that ca- me into Salomons heart to make in the house of the Lord, and he prospered in his house.

12 And the Lord appeared to Salomón by night and said to him, I have heard thy prayer, and have chosen this place for my self to be an house of sacrifice.

13 If I shut the heaven that there be no rai- ne, or if I commande the grasshopper to deuore the land, or if I find pestilence a- mong my people,

14 If my people, among whom my Name is called upon, do humble them selues, & praye, and seke my presence, and turne fro their wicked ways, then wil I heave in heauen, and be merciful to their sinne, and wil heave their land.

15 Then mine eyes shaibe open and mine eares attend unto the prayer made in this place.

16 For I have now chosen and sanctified this house, that my Name may be there for euer: and mine eyes and mine heart shaibe there perpetually.

17 And if thou wilt walke before me, as Da- uid thy father walked, to do according unto all that I have commanded thee, and shalt observe my statutes & my judgements, 18 Then wil I stabbish the throne of thy kingdome, according as I made the cou- neate with David thy father, saying, "Thou shalt not want a man to be ruler in Israel.

19 But if ye turne away, and forsake my sta- tutes and my commandments which I ha- ue set before you, and shal go and serue other gods, and worship them,

20 Then wil I plucke them up out of my land, which I have given them, and this house which I have sanctified for my Name, wil I cast out of my fight, and wil make it to be a prouerbe and a commune talke among all people.

21 And this house which is most hie, shaibe an astonishment to euerre one & passeth by it, so that he shal say, Why hither the Lord done thus to this land, and to this house?

22 And they shal answer, Because they for- soke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, an I have taken holde on other gods, and have worshiped them, and served them, therefore hither he brought all the evil up- on them.

And Salomón went to Hamáth Zobáh, and ouercame it.

And he buylt Tadmór in the wilderness, & repaired all c the cities of store which he buylt in Hamáth.

And he buylt d Beth-horón the vpper, & Beth-horón y nether, cities deftnsed with walles, gates and barres:

Also Baaláth, and all the cities of store that Salomón had, and all the charet ci- ties, and the cities of the horsemen, and euerie

And all the people that were left of the Hittites, and the

which were not of Ifraél,

But of their children which were left after them in the land, whome the children of Ifraél had not consumed, even the did Sa- lomón make "tributaries vntil this day.

But of the childré of Ifraél did Salomón make no seruants for

So these were the chief of the officers which Salomón had,

The Salomón broght vp the daughter of Pharaóh one of the crtie of Dauid, into the house that he had buylt for her: for he said, My wife shal not dwel in the house of Dauid King of Ifraél: for it is holy, becau- se that the Arke of the Lord came vnto it.

Then Salomón offred burnt offrings vnto the Lord, on the e altar of the Lord, which he had buylt before the porche,

And they declined not from the com- mandement of the King, concerning the Priests & the Leuites, touching all things, and touching the treasures.

Now Salomón had made prouisio for all the b worke, from the day of the fun- dacion of the house of the Lord, vntil it was finifhed: so the house of the Lord was perlite.

Then went Salomón to Exion-géber, & to Elóth by y seaside in y land of Edóm. And Hurám fent him by the hands of his seruants, shippes, and seruants that had knowledge of the sea: and they went with y seruats of Salomón to Ophir, & brought princes of Iudáh, that were gathered together in Ierufalém, because of Shifhák, and faid vnto them, Thus fayth the Lord, Ye haue forfakin me; therefore haue I also left you in the fhtelds of golde, "which Salomón had made.

In fted whereof King Rehoboám made fhtelds of braffe, and

And when the King entred into the houfe of the Lord, the

And becaufe he humbled him felfe, the wrath of the Lord him, pursued them vnto Gerar. And the Ethiopians hoste was ouerthrowen, so that there was no life in them: for they were destroyed before the Lord and before his hoste: & they caryed away a mighty great fpoile. 14 And they fmote all the cities round about Gerar: for the s feare of the Lord came vpon them, and they spoiled all the cities, for there was exceeding much fpoile in them. 15 Yea, and they fmote the tents of cattel, &

1 Then the Spirit of God came upon 2 Azarsah the sonne of Odé. 3 And he went out to mere Asa, and said 4 vnto him, O Asa, and all Iudáh, and Ben- 5 iamin, he are ye me. The Lord is with you, 6 while we be with him: and if ye see him, 7 he will be sounde of you, but if ye forsake 8 him, he will forsake you.

9 Now for a long season Ifrael has he bene without the b true God, & without Priest to reache and without Lawe.

10 But whofouer returned in his affliction to the Lord God of Ifrael, and fought him, he was sounde of them.

11 And in that time there was no peace to him, that did go out and go in: but great troubles were to all the inhabitants of the earth.

12 For nacion was destroyed of nacion, and citie of citte: for God troubled them with all aduerite.

13 Be ye strong therefore, and let not your hands be weake: for your d worke shall haue a rewarde.

14 And when Asa heard these words, and the prophecie of Odéd the Prophet, he was encouraged, and toke away the abominations out of all the land of Iudáh, & Beniamin, and out of the cities which he had taken of mount Ephraim, and he renewed the altar of the Lord, that was befo- re the porche of the Lord.

15 And he gathered all Iudáh & Beniamin, & the strangers with the out of Ephraim, and Manasseh & out of Simeón: for there fell many to him out of Ifrael, when they saw that the Lord his God was with him.

16 So they assembled to Ierusalém in the c third moneth, in the fifteenth yece of the reigne of Asa.

17 And they offered vnto the Lord the same time of the spoyle, which they had brought, even seuen hundred bullloches, and seuen thousand shepe.

18 And they made a couenant to foke the Lord God of their fathers, with all their heart, and with all their foule.

19 And a whofouer wil not foke the Lord God of Ifrael, shall be fleane, whether he were small or great, man or woman.

20 And they sware vnto the Lord with a loude voyce, and with shouting and with trumpers, and with cornets.

21 And all Iudáh reioyced at the othe: for they had sworne vnto the Lord with all their heart, and fought him with a whole desire, and he was b sounde of them. And the Lord gave them rest rounde about.

22 And King Asa deposed Maacháh by mother from her regécie, because she had made an idole in a grone: and Asa brake downe her idole, & stamped it, and burnt it at the broke Kidrón.

23 But the his places were not b taken away out of I Ifrael: yet the heart of Asa was m perfite all his dayes.

24 Also he brought into the house of God the things that his father had dedicate, & that he had dedicate, siluer, and golde, & veffels.

25 And there was no warre vnto the siue & thirtieth yere of the reigne of Asa.

29 In the six & thirtieth yere of the reig- ne of Asa came Baasha King of Ifra- el vp against Iudáh, and buylt b Ramáh to let none paffe out or go in to Asa King of Iudáh.

30 Then Asa brought out siluer and golde out of the treasures of the house of the Lord, and of the Kings house, and sent to Benhadád King of Arám that dwelt at Damafeus, saying,

31 There is a couenant betwene me & thee, and betwene my father and thy father: be- holde, I haue sent thee siluer and golde: come, b breake thy league with Baasha King of Ifrael that he may depaite from me.

32 And Benhadád hearkened vnto King Asa, and sent the captaines of the armies which he had, against the cities of Ifrael. And they smote Ión, and Dan, and Abel- maim, and the store cities of Naphtalf.

33 And when Baasha heard it, he left buyl- ding of Ramáh, and let his worke cease.

34 Then Asa the King toke all Iudáh, and carved away the stones of Ramáh and the tymbre thereof, wherewith Baasha did buyld, and he buylt therewith Géba and Mixpáh.

35 And at that same time Hanáni the Seer came to Asa King of Iudáh, and said vn- to him, Because thou hast rested vpon the King of Arám, and not rested in the Lord thy God, therefore is the hoste of the Kig of Arám escaped out of thine hand.

11 And beholde, the actes of Asá first and last, lo, they are written in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh and Israel.

12 ¶ And Asá in the nine and thirtieth yere of his reigne was' difeafed in his fete, and his difeafe was' extreme: yet he foght not the Lord in his difeafe, but to the 1 Phificians.

13 So Asá flept with his fathers, and dyed in the one and fourteenth yere of his reigne.

14 And they buryed him in one of his fe-pulchres, which he had made for him felfe in the citie of Daud, & laied him in the bed, which they had filled with fwete o-dours and diuefe kinde of fucos, made by the aite of the apoticarie: and they burnt him with an exceeding great fyre.

CHAP. XVII.

Ichoshaphát trofing in the Lord, proffereth in riches and honour. 6 He abhisfheth idolatrie. 7 And causeth the people to be taught. 11 He receiunth tribute of strangers. 13 His munition and men of warre.

1 And Ichoshaphát his fonne reigned in his ftead, and preuailed against Israel.

2 And he put garifons in all the strong cities of Iudáh, and fet bands in the land of Iudáh and in the cities of Ephráim, which Asá his father had taken.

3 And the Lord was with Ichoshaphát, because he walked in the 1 first wayes of his father Daud, and foght not 2 Baalim,

4 But foght the Lord God of his father, and walked in his commandments, and not after the "trade of Israel.

5 Therefore the Lord stablified the king-dome in his hand, and all Iudáh broght prefents to Ichoshaphát, fo that he had of riches and honour in abundance.

6 And he 1 lift vp his heart vnto the wayes of the Lord, and he toke awaie moreover the hie places & the groues out of Iudáh.

7 ¶ And in the third yere of his reigne he fent his princes, Ben-háil, and Obadiáh, & Zechariáh, and Nethaneél, and Michatáh, that they fshulde 4 teache in the cities of Iudáh,

8 And with them Leuites, Shemaiáh, and Nethaniáh, and Zebadiáh, and Asahél, & Shemiramóth, and Iehonathán, and Adoniáh, and Tobitiáh, and Tob adonniáh, Leuites, and with them Elíshamá and Ie-horám Pricíts.

9 And they taught in Iudáh, and had the boke of the Lawe of the Lord with them, & went about throughout all the cities of Iudáh, and taught the people.

10 And the feart of the Lord fell vpon all the kingdomes of the lands y were rounde about Iudáh, and they 1 foght not against Ichoshaphát.

11 Also fons of the Philiflims broght Ichoshaphát gifts and tribute filuer, and the Arabiás broght him flockes, feué thoufád, and feuen hundreth rams, and feuen thou-fand, and feuen hundreth he gotes.

12 So Ichoshaphát proffered and grewe vp on hie: and he buylt in Iudáh palaces and cities of store.

13 And he had great workes in the cities of Iudáh, and men of warre, & valiant men in Ierufalém.

14 And thefe are the numbers of them after the houfe of their fathers, In Iudáh were captaines of thoufands, Adnáh the captaine, and "with him of valiant men thte hundreth thoufand.

15 And 1 at his hand Iehohanán a captaine, and with him two hundreth & foure fcore thoufand.

16 And at his hand Amafiáh the fonne of Zichrá, which 1 willingly offred him felfe vnto the Lord, and with him two hidreth thoufand valiant men.

17 And of Beniamín, Eliadá a valiant má, and with him armed men with bowe and fshield two hundreth thoufand.

18 And at his hand Iehoxabád, & with him an hundreth and foure fcore thoufand armed to the warre.

the children of Ammon and Moab rose against the inhabitats of mount Seir, to flea & to deftroy them: and when they had made an end of the inhabitats of Seir, euerie one helped to defroy another. 24 And when Iudah came toward Mizpah in the wilderness, they loked vnto the mul-titude: and beholde, the carkefies were fal-len to the earth, and none efcaped. 25
And when Iohshaphat and his people came to take away the CHAP. XXII.

1 Sam. 7. 12. 2 King 2. 4. 3 2. 1. 4 King 2. 19. Chap 6. 16.

7 Howbeit the Lord wolde not destroy the house of Daud, because of the covenant that he had made with Daud, and because he had promised to give a light to him, and to his sonnes for ever.

8 In his dayes Edom rebelled fro vnder the hand of Iudáh, and made a King ouer them.

9 And Ichorám wêt forthe with his princes, and all his charets with him: & he rofe vp by night, and fmote Edom, which had co-passed him in, and the captaines of the charets.

10 But Edom rebelled from vnder the had of Iudáh vnto this day. the did a Libnah rebell at the fame time from vnder his hand, because he had forsaken the Lord God of his fathers.

11 Moreouer he made his places in the mountains of Iudáh, and caused the inhabitants of Ierusalém fo commit fornicacion, and compelled Iudáh thereto.

12 And there came a writing to him from a Eliáh the Prophet, saying, Thus faith the Lord God of Daud thy father, because thou hast not walked in the waves of Iehofhaphát thy father, nor in the waves of Afa King of Iudáh,

13 But hast walked in the way of the Kings of Israel, and hast made Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém to go a whoring, as the house of Aháb went a whoring, and hast also slease thy brethré of thy fathers house, which were better then thou,

14 Beholde, with a great plague wil y Lord smite thy people, and thy children, & thy wines, and all thy substance,

15 And thou shalt be in great diseases in the disease of thy bowels, vntl a thy bowels fall out for the disease, day by day.

16 So the Lord stirred vp against Ichorám the spirit of the Philistims, and the Arabians that were beside the Ethiopias.

17 And they came vp into Iudáh, and brake into it, and carried away all the substance that was found in the Kings house, & his sonnes also, and his wines, so that there was not a sonne

18 And after all this, the Lord fmote him in his bowels with an incurable disease.

19 And in process of time, even after the end of two yeres, his guttes fell out with his disease: so he dyed of sore diseases: & his people made no burning for him like the burning of his fathers.

20 When he began to reigne, he was two and thirtie yere olde, and reigned in Ierusalém eight yere, and lived without being desired: yet they buryed him in the citre of Daud, but not among the sepulchres of the Kings.

this father yet lying without sinner & after his fathers death he was coloured to reigne fall, as Chap 12. 2.

1 Ahazáh reigneth after Ichorám. 2 Iohí King of Israel hylleth Ahazáh to Athaliáh putteth to death all the Kings image 11 Iohíh efeapeth.

2 And the inhabitants of Ierusalém made Ahaziáh his yogest sonne Kig in his stead: for the armie y came with the Arabians to the camp, had slease all the eldest: therefore Ahaziáh the sonne of Ichorám King of Iudáh reigned.

3 Two and foury yere olde was Ahaziáh whe he began to reigne, & he reigned one yere in Ierusalém. and his mothers name was Athaliáh the daughter of Omri.

4 He walked also in the waves of the house of Aháb: for his mother counseled him to do wickedly.

5 Wherefore he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the house of Aháb: for they were his counselors after the death of his fathers, to his destruction.

6 And he walked after their counsel, and went with Ichorám the sonne of Aháb King of Israel to sight against Hazael King of Arám at Ramóth Gileád: and the Aramites fmote Iorám.

7 And he returned to be healed in Izreél, because of the wounds wherewith they had wounded him at Ramáh, when he fogh with Hazael King of Arám. Now Azariah the sonne of Ichorám King of Iudáh went down to se Ichorám the sonne of Aháb at Izreél, because he was diseased.

8 And the destruction of Ahaziáh came of God in that he wêt to Iorám: for when he was come, he went forthe with Ichorám against Ichú the sonne of Nimshí, who me the Lord had anoointed to destroy the house of Aháb.

9 Therefore when Ichú executed judgement upon the house of Aháb, and foode the princes of Iudáh and the sonnes of the brethren of Ahaziáh that waited on Ahaziáh, he slewe them also.

10 And he foght Ahaziáh, and they caught hi where he was hid in Samaria, & brought him to Ichú, and slewe him, and buried him, because, said then, he is the sonne of a Iehofhaphát, which foght the Lord with all his heart. So the house of Ahaziáh was not able to reteine the kingdom.

11 Therefore when Athaliáh the mother of Ahaziáh sawe that her sonne was dead, she arose and destroyed all the Kings sede of the house of Iudáh.

12 But Iehofhabeáth the daughter of the King, toke Iosáth the

1 Ioáh the some of Ahaziáh is made King. 2 Atha- liáh is put to death 17 The Temple of Baal is destroyed. 18 Iehoiadá appointed ministers on the Temple.

A Nd a in the leuente yere Iehoiadá waxed bolde, and toke the capta- nes of hundreths, to wit, Azeriáh the sonne of Ierohám, and Ithmaél the sonne of Ie- hohanán, and Azariáh the sonne of Obéd, and Maasiáh the sonne of Adaiáh, and E- liíhaphát the sonne of Zichri in covenant with him.

2 And they went about in Iudáh, & gathe- red the Leuites out of all the cities of Iu- dáh, and the chief fathers b of Israel: and they came to Ierusalém.

3 And all the Congregation made a cou- nant with the King in the house of God: & he said vnto them, Beholde, the Kings sonne muste reigne, as g Lord hathe said of the sonnes of Dauid.

4 This is it that ye shal do, The third parte of you that come on the Sabbath of the Priests, and the Leuites, shalbe porters of the dotes.

5 And another third parte towards the Kings house, and another third parte at the g gate of the c fundacion, and all the people shalbe in g courtes of the hou- se of the Lord.

6 But let none come into the house of the Lord, saue the Priests, and the Leuites that minister: they shal go in, for they are holy: but all the people shal kepe the watch of the Lord.

7 And the Leuites shal compaffe the Kig round about, and euerie má with his wea- pon in his hand, and he that entreth s in- to the house, shalbe sleane, and be you, with the King, when he commeth in, and when he goeth out.

8 So the Leuites and all Iudáh did accor- ding to all things that Iehoiadá the Pri- est had commanded, and toke euery man his men that came on the Sabbath, with them that went out on the Sabbath: for Iehoiadá the Priest did not discharge the courses.

9 And Iehoiadá the Priest deluered to the captaines of hundreths speares, and shields, and bucklers which had bene King Dauds, and were in the house of God.

10 And he caused all the people to shad (eue- rie man with his weapon in his hand) from the right side of the house, to the left side of the house by the altar and by the house round about the King.

11 Then they brought out the Kings son- ne, and put vpon him the crowne and ga- ne him the s testimonie, and made him

King. And Iehoiadá and his sonnes anointed him, and said, God saue the King.

12 But when Athaliáh heard the noise of the people running and praising the King, she came to the people into the house of the Lord.

13 And whe she loked, beholde, the King stode by his pillar at the entring in, & the princes & the trumpets by the King, & all the people of the land retoyced, and blewe the trumpets, and the singers were with instruments of musike, and they that colde sing praise: then Athaliáh rent her cloches, and said, b Treason, treason.

14 Then Iehoiadá the Priest brought out the captaines of hundreths that were go- uerners of the hoste, and said vnto them, Haue her forthe of the ranges, & he that followeth her, let him dye by g fwarde: for the Priest had said, Slea her not in the house of the Lord.

15 So they layed hands on her: and when she was come to the entring of the horse- gate by the Kings house, they slewe her there.

16 And Iehoiadá made a c covenant be- twene him, and all the people, and the King, that they wolde be the Lords peo- ple.

17 And all the people went to the house of Baal, and destroyed it, and brake his al- tars and his images, and slewe a Mat- tán

the Priest of Baal before the altars.

18 And Iehoiadá appointed officers for the house of the Lord, under the hands of the Priests and Leuites, whome Dauid had distributed for the house of the Lord, to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, with reioycing and singing by the appointment of Dauid.

19 And he set porters by the gates of the house of the Lord, that none that was vncleane in any thing, shulde entre in.

20 And he toke the captaines of hundreths, and the noble men, and the gouerners of the people, and all the people of the land, and he caused the King to come downe out of the house of the Lord, and they went through a the hie gate of the Kings house, and sit the King vpon the throne of the kingdome.

21 Then all the people of the land reioyced, & the citie was quiet, after that the i had sleane Athaiah with the fwarde.

3 And Ioáfh did vprightly in the fight of the Lord, all the dayes of a Iehoiadá the Priſt.

4 And Iehoiadá toke him two wiues, and he begate ſonnes and daughters.

5 And afterward it came into Ioáfh minde, to renew the houſe of the Lord.

And he aſſembled the Priſtes and the Leuites, & ſaid to them, Go out vnto the cities of Iudáh, and gather of all Iſraél money to repaire the houſe of your God, from yere to yere, and haſte the thing: but the Leuites haſted not.

6 Therefore the King called Iehoiadá, the chief, and ſaid vnto him, Why haſt thou not required of the Leuites to bring in out of Iudáh and Ierufalém the taxe of Moſes the ſeruant of the Lord, and of the Congregation of Iſraél, for the Tabernacle of the teſtimonie

7 For wicked Achaiaſh, or her children brake vp the houſe of God: and all the things that were dedicate for the houſe of the Lord, did thei beftowe vpon Baa- lim.

8 Therefore the King commanded, and they made a cheft, and fet it at the gate of the houfe of the Lord.

9 And they made proclamacion through Iudáh and Ierufalém, to bring vnto the Lord the taxe of Mofes the feruant of God, laid vpon Ifraél in the wilder- nes.

10 And all the princes and all the people reioyced, and brought in, and caft into the cheft, vntil they had finifhed.

11 And when it was time, thei broght the cheft vnto the Kings officer by the hand of the Leuites: and when they fawe that there was much filuer, then Kings Scri- be (& one appointed by his Prift) came and emptied the cheft, and toke it, and carried it to his place againe: thus they did day by day, and gathered filuer in abundance.

12 And the King and Iehoiadá gaue it to fuche as did the labour or worke in the houfe of the Lord, and hyréd mafons and carpenters to repaire the houfe of the Lord: they gaue it alfo to workers of yron and brafte, to repaire the houfe of the Lord.

13 So the workemen wrought, and the worke "amended through their hands: and they reftored the houfe of God to his ftate, & ftrengthened it.

14 And when they had finished it, they brought the rest of the silver before the King and Jehoiadá, and he made thereof vessels for the house of the Lord, even vessels to minister, both mortars & incense cups, and vessels of gold, and of silver: and they offered burnt offerings in the house of the Lord continually all the days of Jehoiadá.

15 But Jehoiadá waxed old, and was full of days and died. An hundred and thirtie yere old he was when he died.

16 And they buried him in the city of David with the Kings, because he had done good in Israel, and toward God and his house.

17 And after the death of Jehoiadá, came the princes of Judah, and did rebellion to the King, & the King hearkened unto them.

18 And they left the house of the Lord God of their fathers, and served groves and idols: and wrath came upon Judah and Jerusalem, because of this their trespass.

19 And God sent Prophets among them, to bring them againe unto the Lord: and they made protestation among them, but they would not heare.

20 And the Spirit of God came vpon Ze- chariah the sonne of Iehoiadá the Priest, which stood abone the people, and said vnto them, Thus saith God, Why trans- gresse ye the commandements of Lord. surely it stand not proper: because ye ha- ue forsaken the Lord, he also hath forsaken you.

21 Then they conspired against him and stoned him with stones at the command- ment of the King, in the court of the house of the Lord.

22 Thus Ioásh the King remembered not kindness which Iehoiadá his father had done to him, but slew his sonne. And when he dyed, he said, The Lord oke vpó it, & require it.

23 And when the yere was out, the hoste of Arám came vp against him, and they came against Iudáh and Ierusalém, & destroyed all the princes of the people of the people, and sent all the spoile of them vnto the King of Damafcus.

24 Though the armie of Arám came with a small company of men, yet the Lord delivered a very great armie into their hand, because they had forsaken the Lord God of their fathers: and they gave sentence against Ioásh.

25 And when they were departed from him, (for they left him in great diseases) his owne seruants conspired against him for the blood of the children of Iehoiada the Priest, and slew him on his bed, and he dyed, and they buried him in the ci- tie of Dauid: but they buried him not in

4 But he slewe not their children, not did, as it is written in the Law, or in the booke of Moses, where the Lord commanded, saying, "The fathers shall not dye for the children, neither shall the children dye for the fathers, but euerie man shall dye for his owne sinne.

5 And Amaziáh assembled Iudáh, and made them captaines ouer thoufands, & captaines ouer hundredths according to the houf.s of their fathers, throughout all Iudáh and Beguansin: & he nombled them from twentie yere olde and aboue, and founde among them thre hundreth thou-fand chosen me, to go forthe to the warre, and to handle speare and shield.

6 He hyred also an hundreth thoufand valiant men out of Israel for an hundreth talents of siluer.

7 But a man of God came to him, saying, O King, let not the armie of Israel go with thee: for the Lord is not with Israel, neither with all the house of Ephraim.

9 If not, go thou on, do it, make thy selfe stt og to the battel, but God shall make thee fall before y enemie: for God hathe power to helpe, and to cast downe.

9 And Amaziáh said to the man of God, What shall we do then for the hundreth talents, & I have given to the hoste of Israel? Then y man of God answered, The Lord is able to s give thee more then this.

10 So Amaziáh separated the, to wit, the armie that was come to him out of Ephraim, to returne to their place: wherefore their wrath was kindled greatly against Iudáh, and they returned to their places with great angre.

11 Then Amaziáh was encouraged, and led for the his people, & went to the salt valley, and smote of the children of Seir, ten thoufand.

12 And other ten thoufand did the children of Iudáh take alue, and caryed them to the toppe of a rocke, and cast the downe from the toppe of the rocke, and they all burst to pieces.

13 But the men of the armie, which Amaziáh sent away, that they shulde not go with his people to battel, fell vpon the cities of Iudáh from Samaria vnto Beth-horón, and smote thre thoufand of them, and toke mucche spoyle.

14 Now after that Amaziáh was come fro the slaughter of the Edomites, he bioght the gods of the children of Seir, and set them vp to be his gods, and worshiped them, and burned incense vnto them.

15 Wherefore the Lord was wroth with Amaziáh, and sent vnto him a Prophet, which said vnto him, Why hast y foght the gods of the people, which were not able to deliver their owne people out of thine hand?

16 And as he talked with him, he said vnto him, Have they made thee y Kings counfeler cease thou: why shulde they smite thee? And the Prophet ceased, but said, I knowe that God hath determined to destroye thee, because thou hast done this, and hast not obeyed my counfel.

17 Then Amaziáh King of Iudáh toke counfel, and sent to Ioáth the sonne of Ichoahaz, the sonne of Iehá King of Israel, saying, Come, let vs se one another in the face.

18 But Ioáth King of Israel sent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedre that is in Lebanon, saying, "Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: & the wilde beast that was in Lebanon went & trode downe the thistle.

19 Thou thinkest: lo, thou hast smiten Edóm, and thine heart lifeth thee vp to bragge: abide now at home: why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shuldest fall, and Iudáh with thee?

20 But Amaziáh wolde not hear: for it was of God, that he might deliuer them into his hand, because they had foght the gods of Edóm.

21 So Ioáth the King of Israel went vp: & he, and Amaziáh King of Iudáh sawe one another in the face at Bethshemeh, which is in Iudáh.

22 And Iudáh was put to the worfe before Israel, and they fled euerie man to his tents.

found in the Temple of the Lord; into the court of the house of the Lord: and the Levites took it, to carry it out unto the 17 They began the first day of the first month to sanctify it, and the eighth day of the month came they to the porch of y and in the sixteenth day of the first month they made an end.

18 Then they went in to Hezekiah the King, and said, We have

20 And Hezekiah the King h rose early, and gathered the princes of the citie, and went vp to the house of the Lord.

21 And they broght seuen bullockes, and seuen rams, and seuen lambes, and seuen hegoates, for a s fin offring for the king- dome, and for the fanctuarise, and for Iu- dah. And he commanded the Priests the sonnes of Aaron, to offer them on the altar of the Lord.

22 So they fl. we the bullockes, and y Priests received the blood, & s sprinkled it vpon the altar: they slewe also the rams & spun- kled the blood vpon the altar, and they slewe the lambes, and they spunkled the blood vpon the altar.

23 Then they broght the hegoates for the sinne offring before the King & the Co- gregacion, k and they lased their hands vpon them.

24 And the Priests slewe them, & with the blood of them they clfd the altar to re- concile all Israel: for the King had commanded for all Israel the burnt offring & the sinne offring.

25 He appointed also the Leuites in the house of the Lord with cymbales, with viol-s, and with harpes, according to the commandement of David, and God the Kings Seer, and Nathan the Proph. t: for the commandement wa by the hand of the Lord, and by the had of his Prophetes. 26 And the Leuites stode with the instru- ments of David, and the Priests with the trumpets.

27 And Hezekiah commanded to offer the burnt offering vpon the altar: & when the burnt offering began, the song of the Lord began with the trumpets, and the instruments n of David King of Israel.

28 And all the Congregation worshiped, singing a song, and they blew the trumpets: all this continued vntil the burnt offering was finished.

29 And when they had made an end of offering, the King and all that were present with him, bowed themselves, and worshiped.

30 The Hezekiah the King & the princes commanded the Leuites to praise the Lord with the words of David, and of Asaph the Seer. so they praised with ioye, and they bowed themselves, and worshiped.

31 And Hezekiah spake, and said, Now ye haue conferred your selves to the Lord: come nere and bring the sacrifices and offerings of praise into the house of the Lord. And the Congregation brought sacrifices, and offerings of praises, and euery man that was willing in heart, offered burnt offerings.

32 And the number of the burnt offerings, which the Congregation brought, was seuentie bullockes, an hundred rammes, and two hundred lambs: all these were for a burnt offering to the Lord:

34 But the Priests were to sewe, & were not able to slay all the burnt offrings: therefo- re their brethren the Leuites did helpe them, til they had ended the worke, & vn- til other Priests were fancified: for the Le- uites were more vpright in heart to fancifie them selues, then the Priests.

35 And also the burnt offrings were many with the fat of the peace offrings and the drinke offrings for the burnt offering. so the service of the house of the Lord was set in order.

36 Then Hezekiah reioyced & all the peo- ple, that God had made the people so r rea- dy: for the thing was done sodenly.

Being there, were  with a little hear here no the prince; & the readers of the people, Chap 15, 26 To me, of the little of the Pafécouer

4 And the thing pleased the King, and all the Congregation.

5 And they decreed to make proclamation throughout all Israel from a Beerthéba euen to Dan, that they should come to ke- pe the Pafécouer vnto the Lord God of Israel at Ierufalém: for they had not done it of a great time, & as it was witton.

6 So the poites went with letters by the commission of the King, and his princes, throughout all Israel and Judah, and with the commandment of the King, saying, Ye childeré of Israel, tuine againe vnto the Lord God of Abraham, Iznák, and Israel, and he wil return to the remnant that are escaped of you, out of the hands of the King of Asshúir.

7 And be not ye like your fathers, and like your brethren, which trespassed against the Lord God of their fathers: and there- fore he made them desolate, as ye se.

8 Be not ye now stifnecked like your fa- thers, but if giue the had to the Lord & co- me into his Sactuarie, which he hathe fan- ctified for euer, and ferue the Lord your God, and the scarcene of his wrath shal- tume away from you.

9 For if ye returne vnto y Lord, your bre- thren and your children shal finde mercie before them that led them captives, and they shal & returne vnto this land: for the Lord your God is gracious and merciful, and wil not tuine away his face from you, if ye conuert vnto him.

10 So the poites went from citie to citie through the land of Ephraim, and Mana- seh, euen vnto Zebulán: but they haug- ghed them to scone, and mecked them.

11 Ne ertheles duers of Athér, and Ma- našeh, and of Zebulán siomitted them selues and came to Ierufalém.

12 And the hand of God was in Judah, so that he gave them one heart to do the co- mandemet of the King, and of the rulers, according to the words of the Lord.

13 And there assembled to Ierufalém muche people, to kepe the feast of y vancauned bread in the seconde moneth, a very great assembler.

14 And they arose, & toke away the altars that were in Ierufalém: and all those for incense toke they away, and cast them into the broke Kidron.

15 Afterward they shoue the Pafécouer the fourtenate day of the seconde moneth: and the Priests and Leuites were ashamed, and fancified them selues, and broght the burnt offerings into the house of the Lord.

16 And they stode in their place after their maner, according to the Law of Moses the man of God: and the Priests sprinkled the blood, recessed of the hands of the Leuites.

17 Because there were manie in the Cógre- gacion that were not fancified, therefore the Leuites had the charge of the killing of y Pafécouer for all that were not clea- ne, to fancifie it to the Lord.

18 For a multitude of the people, enen a mul- titude of Ephraim, & Manašeh, Issachár & Zebulán had not clenfed them selues, yet did eat the Pafécouer, but not as it was witton:

wherefore Hezekiah prayed for them, saying, The good Lord be merci- ful toward him.

19 That prepareth his whole heart to sike y Lord God, the God of his fathers, hogst he be not clenfed, according to the purificacion of the Sanctuarie.

20 And the Lord heard Hezekiah, & hea- led the people.

21 And the children of Israel that were pre- sent at Ierufalém, kept the feast of the vn- leauened bread seven dayes w great ioye, and the Leuites, and the Priests praised the Lord, day by day, singing with low- de instruments vnto the Lord.

22 And Hezekiah spoke comfortably vnto all y Leuites that had good knowledge to sing vnto the Lord: & they did eat in that feast seven dayes, & offred peace offings, & praised the Lord God of their fathers.

23 And the whole assembler toke counsel to kepe it other seven dayes. So they kept it four dayes with ioye.

24 For Hezekiah King of Judah had giuen to the Congregacion a thousand bul- lockes, and seven thousand shepe. And the princes had giuen to the Congrega- cion a thousand bullockes, and ten thou- sand shepe: and many Priests were fan- ctified.

25 And all the Congregació of Judah re- loyced with the Priests and the Leuites, & all the Congregacion that came out of Israel, and the strangers that came out of the land of Israel, & that dwelt in Judah.

26 So there was great ioye in Ierufalém: for since the time of Silomón the sonne of David King of Israel there was not the like thing in Ierufalém.

27 Then the Priests and the Leuites aro- se, and blessed the people, and their voy- ce was heard, and their prayer came vp vn to heauen, to his holy habitation.

4 He commaed alfo the people that dwelt in Ierufalem, to giue

5 And when the commandment was spread, the children of Israel brought abundance of first fruits, of corn, wine, & oyle, & honey, & of all the increase of the field, and the tithes of all things brought they abundantly.

6 And the children of Israel & Judah that dwelt in the cities of Judah, they also brought the tithes of bullocks: and sheeps, and the holy tithes that were consecrated unto the Lord their God, & laid them on many heaps.

7 In the third month they began to lay the foundation of the heaps, and finished them in the fourth month.

8 And when Hezekiah & the princes came, and saw the heaps, they both blessed the Lord and his people Israel.

9 And Hezekiah questioned of the Priests and the Levites concerning the heaps.

10 And Azariah the chief Priest of the house of Zadok answered him, & said, Since the people began to bring the offerings into the house of the Lord, we have eaten & have been satisfied, & there is left in abundance: for the Lord hath blessed his people, and this abundance that is left.

11 And Hezekiah commanded to prepare chambers in the house of the Lord: and they prepared them,

12 And carved in the first frutes, and the tithes, & the dedicate things faithfully: & ouer the was Conaniah the Leuite, f chief, and Shimei his brother the seconte.

13 And Iehiél, and Azaziah, & Nahath, & Alahél, & Ierimoth, and Iozabád, and E- liél, and Ifmachiah, and Mahath, and Benaiah were ouerfeers by the apponte- ment of Conaniah, and Shimei his bro- ther, by the comandement of H zechiáh the King, and of Azariah the chief of the houle of God.

14 And Koré the sone of Imnah the Leui- te porter toward the East, was ouer the things f were willingly offred vnto God, to distribute the oblations of the Lord, & the holy things that were consecrate.

15 And at his hand were Edén, & Miniamin, & Ielhúa, & Shemaiah, Amariah, and She- chaniáh, in the cities of the Priests, to di- stribute with fidelitie to their brethré by courses, bothe to the great and small,

18 And to the generation of all their children, their wives, & their wives and their daughters throughout all the Congregation: for by their fidelity are their partakers of the holy things.

19 Also to the wives of A-tón, the Priests, which were in the fields of suburbs of their cities, in every city the men that were appointed by names, should give portions to all the males of the Priests, and to all the generation of the Levites.

20 And thus did Hezekiah throughout all Judah, and did well, and uprightly, & truly before the Lord his God.

21 And in all the works that he began for the service of the house of God, both in the Law and in the commandments, to follow his God, he did it with all his heart, & prospered.

which sent vnto him to enquire of the wondre that was done in the land, God left him to a trye him, & to knows all that was in his heart.

32 Concerning the rest of the actes of He- zekiah, and his goodnes, beholde, the are written in the vision of Ishaiah the Pro- phet, the sonne of Amóz, in the boke of the Kings of Iudáh and Israel.

33 So Hezekiah slept with his fathers, and they buryed him in the highest sepulchre of the sonnes of Daud: and all Iudáh and the inhabitants of Ierusalém did him ho- nour at his death, and Manasseh his sonne reigned in his stead.

CHAP. XXXIII.

2 Manasseh an idolater 9 He caused Iudáh to err. 11 He used away prisoner into Babylon. 12 He prea- eth to the Lord, and is delivered. 13 He abhisheth is dolative, 16 And setteth up true religion 20 He dysth and Amon his sonne succedeth, 24 Whome he ounce servants stay.

2 King. 21, 2. 1 Manasseh was twelve yere olde, & whe he began to reigne, and he reigned sue and siftie yere in Ierusalém:

2 And he did euil in the sight of the Lord, like the abominacions of the heathen, & whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Israel.

3 For he went backe and buylt the hie pla- ces, & which Hezekiah his father had bro- ken downe: & and he set vp altars for Baa- lim, and made groues, and worshiped all the hoste of the heauen, and serued them.

4 Also he buylt altars in the house of the Lord, whereof the Lord had said, "In Ie- rusalém shal my Name be for euer.

5 And he buylt altars for all the hoste of the heaue in the two courtes of the house of the Lord.

6 And he caused his sonnes to passe through y fyre in the valley of Ben-hin- nóm: he gaue him selfe to witchcraft and to charming, and to sorcerie, and he vfed them that had familiar spirits, and so the- sayers: he did verie muehe euil in y sight of the Lord to angre him.

7 He put also the karued image, which he had made, in the house of God: whereof God had said to Daud and to Salomón his sonne, "In this house & in Ierusalém, which I haue chosen before all the tribes of Israel, wil I put my Name for euer,

8 Nethei wil "I make the foore of Israel to remove any more out of the land which I haue appointed for your fathers, so that they take hede, & do all that I haue com- manded them, according to the Law and statutes and iudgements by the b hand of Moses.

9 So Manasseh made Iudáh and the inha- bitats of Ierusalém to err, & to do worse then the heathen, whome the Lord had destroyed before the children of Isra-él.

10 And the Lord spake c to Manasseh & to his people, but they wolde not regarde.

11 Wherefore the Lord broght vpon them the captaines of the hoste of the King of Affhúr, which toke Manasseh & put him in setters, and bounte him in chaines, and ca- ryed him to Babel.

12 And when he was in tributació, he pray- ed to the Lord his God, and humbled him selfe greatly before y God of his father,

13 And prayed vnto him, and God was d en- treated of him, and heard his prayer, and broght him againe to Ierusalém into his kingdome: the Manasseh knewe that the Lord was God.

14 Now after this he buylt a wall without the citie of Daud, on the Westside of c Gihón in the valley, eue at the entue of the sift gate, & compassed about Ophel, and raised it very his, and put captaines of warre in all the strong cities of Iudáh.

15 And he toke away the strange gods and the image out of the house of the Lord, and all the altars that he had buylt in the mount of the house of the Lord, and in Ierusalém, and cast them out of the citie.

16 Also he prepared the a altar of y Lord, and sacrificed thereon peace offrings, and of thanks, and commanded Iudáh

20 So Manasseh slept with his fathers, and they buried him in his owne b house: and Amón his sonne reigned in his stead.

21 Amón was two and twentie yere olde, when he began to reigne, and reigned two yere in Ierusalém.

22 But he did euil in the sight of the Lord, as did Manasseh his father, for Amón sa- crificed to all the images, which Manasseh his father had made, and seued them,

23 And he humbled not him self before the Lord, as Manasseh

I Osáh was eight yee old whé he be- gan to reigne, and he reigned in Ieru- sálem one and thirtie yere.

2 And he did vprightly in the fight of the Lord, and walked in the wayes of a Daud his father, and bowed nether to the right hand nor to the left.

3 And in the eight yere of his reigne (when he was yet a childe) he began to feke af- ter the God of Daud his father: and in the twelfs yere he began to purge Iudáh, and Ierufalém from the hie places, and the groues, and the kerued images, and molté images:

4 And they brake downe in his fight the altars of Baalím, and he caused to cut downe the images that were on hie vpon them: he brake also the groues, & the ker- ued images, and the molten images, and stamp them to poudre, and strowed it vp- op the graues of them that had sacrificed vnto them.

5 Also he burnt the bones of the Priests vpon their altars, and purged Iudáh and Ierufalém.

6 And in y cities of Manasseh, & Ephráím, and Simeón, euen vnto Naphtalí, with their maules they brake all rounde about.

7 And when he had destroyed the altars and the groues, and had broken and stamped to poudre the images, and had cut downe all the idoles throughout all the land of Israel, he returned to Ierufalém.

8 Then in the eighteenth yere of his reigne when he had purged the land and the Temple, he sent Shaphán the sonne of Azaliáh, and Maaseáh the gouernour of the citie, and Ioáh the sonne of Ioaház the recorder, to repare the house of the Lord his God.

9 And when they came to Hilkiáh the hie Priest, they dehuered the money that was brought into the house of God, which the Leuites that kept the dore, had gathered at the hand of Manasseh, and Ephráim, & of all the residue of Israel, and of all Iu- dáh and Beniamin, and of the inhabitants of Ierufalém.

10 And they put it in the hands of them that shulde do the worke & had the ouer- sight in the house of the Lord: and they gave it to the workemen that wrought in the house of the Lord, to repare & amende the house.

11 Euen to the workemen & to the buyers gave they it, to byehewed stone and timber for couples & for beames of the houses, which the Kings of Iudáh had destroyed.

12 And the men did the worke & faithfully, and the ouersers of them were Iaháh and Obadiah the Leuites, of the children of Merari, and Zechariah, and Meihul- lam, of the children of the Kohathites to set it forward: and of the Leuites all that colde skil of instruments of musike.

13 And they were ouer the bearers of burdés, and them that set forwarde all the work- emen in eueie worke: and of the Leuites were scribes, & officers and porters.

14 And when they brought out the money that was brought into the house of the Lord, Hilkiáh the Priest foide the b boke of the Law of the Lord giuen by the had of Moses.

15 Therefore Hilkiáh answered and said to Shaphán the chanceler, I haue founde the boke of the Lawe in the house of the Lord: and Hilkiáh gave the boke to Shaphán.

16 And Shaphán caryed the boke to the King, and brought the King worde againe, saying, All that is committed to the hand of thy seruants, that do they.

17 For they haue gathered the money that was founde in the house of the Lord, and haue deliuered it into the hands of the ouersers, and to the hands of the work- emen.

18 Also Shaphán the chanceler declared to the King, saying, Hilkiáh the Priest hathe guen me a boke, & Shaphán recit before the King.

19 And when the King had heard the wor- des of the Lawe, he tare his clothes.

20 And the King commanded Hilkiáh, and Ahikám the sonne of Shaphán, & Abdón the sonne of Micáh, & Shaphán the chan- celer, and Asaiah the Kings seruant, say- ing,

21 Go and enquire of the Lord for me, and for the rest in Israel and Iudáh, concer- ning the wordes of this boke that is foun- der for great & the wrath of the Lord y is fallen vpon vs, because our fathers haue not kept the worde of the Lord, to do af- ter all that is written in this boke.

22 Then Hilkiáh and they that the King had appointed, went to Huldáh the prophe- teshe the wife of Shallám, the sonne of Tokháth, the sonne of Hafráh keeper of the wardrobe (and the dwelt in Ieru- sálem within the college) and they commuted hereof with her.

24 Thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil brig euil vpon this place, and vpon the inhabi- tants thereof, euen all the curses, that are written in the boke which they have red before the King of Iudáh:

25 Because they haue forfake me, and burnt incéfe vnto other gods, to angre me with all the works of their r hands, therefore shal my wrath fall vpon this place, & shal not be quenched.

26 But to the King of Iudáh, who frnt you to enquire of the Lord, fo shal ye fay vnto him, Thus faith the Lord God of Ifraél, The words which thou hast heard, shal come to puffe.

27 But becaufe thine heart did t melt, and thou didest humble place and against the inhabitants thereof, and humbledst thy feife before me and tairst thy clothes, and weptest before me, I

29 Then the King sent and gathered all the Elders of Iudáh and Ierufalém.

30 And the King went vp into the house of the Lord, and all the men of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierufalém, and the Priests and the Leuites, and all the people from the greatest to the r smallest, and he read in their eares all the words of the booke of the couenant that was founde in the house of the Lord.

31 And the King stode by his pillar, and made a couenant before the Lord, to waite ke after the Lord, and to kepe his commandments, and his testimonies, and his statutes, with all his heart, and with all his soule, & y he wolde accomplish the words of the couenant written in the fame booke.

32 And he caused all that were founde in Ierufalém, and Bimamín to stand to it: & the inhabitants of Ierufalém did according to the couenant of God, euen the God of their fathers.

33 So Iofiah toke away all the abominations out of all the countries that pertained to the children of Ifraél, and compelled all that were found in Ifraél, to ferue the Lord their God:

& all his daes they turned not backe from the Lord God of their fathers.

16 So all the seruice of the Lord was pre- pared the same day, to keep the Passeouer, and to offer burnt offrings upon the altar of the Lord, according to the commande- ment of King Iosiah.

17 And the children of Israel that were pre- sent, kept the Passeouer the same time, and the feast of the unleauened bread

18 And there was no Passeouer kept like that, in Israel, from to fight in the valley of Megiddo.

23 And the shoters shot at King Iosiah: the the King said to his

24 So his seruants toke him out of that cha- ret, & put him in

THE PRAYER OF MA-naſſéh King of the Iewes.

O Lord almightie, God of our fathers, A-bran, Ifaac and Iacob, and of their righteous fede, which haft made heauen and earth with all their ornament, which haft bound the fea by the worde of thy commandement, which haft fhut vp the depe and fealed it by thy terrible and glo-rious Name, whome all do feare & trem-ble before thy power: for the maie-ftie of thy glorie can not be borne, & thi-ne angrie threatening toward finners is im-portable, but thy merciful promes is vn-meafurable & vnfearcheable. For thou art the moſte high Lord, of great compaſſio, long ſuffring & moſte merciful, & repéſt for mal miferies. Thou, ô Lord, accordig to thy great goodnes haft promiſed 2 re-pentance & forgivenes to them that finne againſt thee, & for thine infinite mercies haft appointed repentance vnto finners that thei may be ſaued. Thou therefore, ô Lord, that art the God of the iuſte, haft not appointed repentance to the iuſte, as to Abram, and Ifaac and Iacob, which ha-ue not b finned againſt thee, but thou haft appointed repentance vnto me that am a finner: for I haue finned above the nober of the ſand of the ſea. My tranſgreſſions, ô Lord, are multiplied: my tranſgref-fions are exceeding many: and I am not worthy to beholde & ſe the height of the heaués for the multitude of mine vnrighteouſnes. I am bowed downe with many yró bades, that I cā not liſt vp mine head, nether haue any releafe. For I haue prouoked thy wrath and done euil before thee. I did not thy wil, nether kept I thy com-mandements. I haue ſet vp abominations & haue multiplied offinſes. Now therefo-re I bowe the kne of mine heart, befeche thee of grace. I haue ſinned, ô Lord, I haue ſinned, &

I acknowledge my träſgreſſifos: but I humbly befeche thee, forgiue me: ô Lord, forgiue me, & deſtroie me not with my tranſgreſſions. Be not angry with me for euer by referuing euil for me, nether condemn me into the lower partes of the earth.
For thou art the God, euen the God of them that repent: and in me thou wilt ſhewe all thy goodnes: for thou wilt ſaue me that am vnworthy, according to thy great mercies: therefore I wil praife thee for euer all the dayes of my life. for all the power of the heauens praife thee, & thine is the glorie for euer & euer, Amen.

THE ARGUMENT.

As the Lord is ever merciful unto his Church, and death not punish them, but to the intent they ſhulde ſe their owne miseries, and be exerciſed under the croſſe, that they might contemne the worlde and aſpire vnto the heauens, ſo aſier that he had viſited the Lewes and kept the new in londage ſeuente yeres in a ſtrange country among infideles and idolaters, he remembered his tendre mercies and their infirmities, and therefore for his owne sake raised them vp a deluerer, and moved lothe the heart of the chief ruler to pite them, and also by him punished suche, which had kept them in servitude. Notwithstanding lest they shulde grove into a contempt of Gods great benefice, he kept them still in exercise, and raiseth domestic enemies, which endeavour as much as they can to hinder their moste worlde enterprises: yet by the exhortation of the Prophetes they went forward by lide and lide till their worlde was finished. The autor of this boe was Exrd, who was Priest, and scribe of the Law, as chap. 7, 6. he returned to Ierusalem the first yere of Darius, who succeeded Cyrus, that is more than fourteen yeres after the returne of the first under Zerubbabel, when the Temple was buyit. He broght with him a great companie, and much treasures, with letters to the Kings officer for all suche things as shulde be necessare for the Temple, and as his coming he redressed that which was amiss, and set the things in good order.

Ow in a y first yere of Cyrus King of Persia (y the worlde of the Lord, spoken by the b mouth of Jeremiah, might be accomplished) the Lord stirred vp the c spizit of Cyrus

Thus saith Cyrus King of Persia, The Lord God of heauen hache gueen me d all the kingdoms of the earth, and he hache commanded me to buyld him an house in Ierusalem, which is in Iudah.

2 Thei buyld the altar of God & Thei offer to the Lord. 3 Thei prepare for the Triple, 11. And fing vnto the Lord.

A Nd when the a feuent moneth was come, and the children of Ifraél were in their cities, the people assembled them felues as one man vnto Ierufalém.

Then fode vp Iefhúa the fonne of Iozadák, and his brethren the Priests, and Zerubbabél the fonne of Shealtiel, and his brethren, & buylded the altar of the God of Ifraél, to offer burnt offrings thereon, as it is writen in the Law of Mofes the man of God,

And they fere the altar vpo this bafes (for feare was among them, because of the people of thofe countrees) therefore they offred burnt offrings thereof vnto the Lord, enen burnt offrings in the morning and at euen.

4 They kept also the feast of the Tabernacles, as it is writen, and the burnt offering daily, by number according to the custome day by day,

And after ward the continual burnt offering, bothe in the new moneths and in all the feast dayes that were confecrate vnto the Lord, and in all the oblations willingly offred vnto the Lord.

From the first day of the feuent moneth began they to offer burnt offrings vnto the Lord: but the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord was not laied.

They gaue money also vnto the mafons, and to the workemen, and meat and drink, and oyle vnto them of Zidón and of Tyrus, to bring the cedre wood from Le banón to the fea vnto Iaphó, according to the grant that they had of Cyrus King of Persia.

And in the feconde yere of their comming vnto the houfe of God in Ierufalém in the fecond moneth began Zerubbabél the fonne of Shealtiel, and Iefhúa the fonne of Iozadák, and the remnant of their brethren the Priests and the Leuites, & all they that were come out of the capituitie vnto Ierufalém, and appointed the Leuites from twenty yere olde & abouce, to fet forward the worke of the houfe of the Lord.

And Iefhúa f fode with his fonnes, and his brethren, o Kadmiel with his fonnes, o the fonnes of Iudáh together to fet forward the workemen in the houfe of God, and the fonnes of Henadád with their fonnes, and their brethren the Leuites.

And when the buylders laied the fundacion of the Temple of the Lord, thei appointed the Priests in their apparel with trumpets, and the Leuites the fonnes of Afaph with cymbales, to praife the Lord, after the ordinance of Daud King of Ifraél.

Thus they fing when they gaue praife, and when they gaue thanks vnto the Lord, For he is good, for his mercie endureth for euer toward Ifraél. And all y people flouted with a great foute, whe thei praifed the Lord, becaufe the fundacion of the houfe of the Lord was layed.

Many also of the Priests and the Leuites and the chief of the fathers, ancient men, which had fene the first houfe, (when the fundacion of this houfe was layed before their eyes) swept with a loude voyeur and many flouted a loude for ioye,

So that the people colde not difcerne the founde of the foute for ioye, from the noyce of the weping of the people: for the people flouted with a loude crye, and the noyce was heard farre of.

9 Then asked we thofe Elders, and faid vnto them thus, Who hathe giuen you commandement to buyld this houfe, and to laye the fundacion of thofe walles?

10 We asked their names alfo, y we might certifie thee, & that we might write the names of the men that were their rulers.

11 But thei answered vs thus, & faid, We are the seruants of y God of heauen & earth, & buyld the houfe that was buylt of olde & many yetes ago, which a great King of Israel buylded, & founded it.

12 But after that our fathers had prouoked the God of heauen vnto wrath, he gaue them ouer into the hand of Nebuchadnezzar King of Babel the Caldean, and he destroyed this houfe, and caryed the people away captiue vnto Babel.

13 But in the first yee of Cyrus King of Babel, Kig Cyrus made a decree to buyld this houfe of God.

14 And the vessels of golde & siluer of the houfe of God, which Nebuchadnezzar toke out of the Teple, that was in Ierufalem, and broght them into the Temple of Babel, thofe did Cyrus the King take out of the Teple of Babel, & they gaue them vnto one Shefshbazzar by his name, whome he had made captaine.

15 And he faid vnto him, Take thefe vessels and go thy way, & put them in the Temple that is in Ierufalem, and let the houfe of God be buylt in his place.

16 Then came the same Shefshbazzar and layed the fundacion of the houfe of God, which is in Ierufalem, and since that time euen vneil now, hathe it bene in buylding, yet is it not finished.

17 Now therefore if it please the King, let there be seatche made in the houfe of the Kings & treasures, which is there in Babel, whether a decree hathe bene made by King Cyrus, to buyld this houfe of God in Ierufalem, and let the King send his minde concerning this.

CHAP. VI.

At the commandement of Darius King of Persia, after the Temple was buylded and dedicate, the children of Israel hope the fault of unleavened bread.

1 Then King Darius gave commandement, and they made seatche in the librarie of the treasures, which were there layed vp in Babel.

2 And there was founde in a coffee (in the palace that was in the prouince of the Medes) a volume, & therein was it thus wirt, as a memorial,

3 IN THE FIRST yee of King Cyrus, King Cyrus made a decree for the houfe of God in Ierufalem, Let the houfe be buylt, even the place where they offered sacrifices, & let the walles thereof be joyned together: let the height thereof be thie score cubites, & the breadth thereof thre score cubites,

4 Thre' orders of great stones, and one order of tymbre, and let the expences be giuen of the Kings houfe.

5 And alfo let them render y vessels of the houfe of God (of golde & siluer, & Nebuchadnezzar toke out of the Teple, which was in Ierufalem, and broght vnto Babel) and let him go vnto the Temple that is in Ierufalem to his place and put them in the houfe of God.

6 Therefore Tatnáí captaine beyonde the Riuer, and Shehtar Boznái, (& their companions Apharfecaié, which are beyonde the Riuer) he ye farre from thence.

7 Suffre ye the worke of this houfe of God, that the captaine of the Iewes & the Elders of the Iewes may buyld this houfe of God in his place.

8 For I haue giuen a commandement what ye shal do to the Elders of these Iewes for the buylding of this houfe of God, that of the truences of the King, which is of the tribute beyonde the Riuer, there be incontinently expences giuen vnto thefeme that they cease not.

9 And that which ther shal haue nede of, let it be giuen vnto them day by day, whether it be yong bullockes, or rams, or lambes for the burnt offerings of the God of heauen, wheat, salt, wine, & oyle, according to the appointment of the Priests that are in Ierusalem, that there be no faure,

10 That they may haue to offer swete odours vnto the God of heauen, and pray for the Kings life, and for his sonnes.

11 And I haue made a decree, y whosoever shal alter this sentence, the wood shal be pulled downe from his houfe, and shalbe set vp, he shal be hanged thereon, & his houfe shal be made a dung hal for this.

12 And the God that hathe caused his Name to dwel there, destroye all Kings and people that put to their hand to alter, and to destroye this houfe of God, which is in Ierusalem. I Darius haue made a decree, let it be done with spede.

13 Then Tatnái the captaine beyonde the Riuer, & Shehtar Boznái and their companions, according to that which Darius had sent, so thei did spedely.

CHAP. VII.

By the commouement of the King, Ezra and his company came to Ierusalém. 27 He cometh thanks to God. Now after these things, in the reigne of a Artahfashate King of Persia, was Ezra the sonne of Seraiáh, the sonne of Azariáh, the sonne of Hilkiáh,

15 And I gathered them to the River that goeth toward Ahaua, and there abode we thre dayes: then I vewed the people, and the Priests, and founde there none of the sonnes of Leui.

16 Therefore sent to Eliezer, to Ariel, to Shemeiah, & to Elnathan, & to Iarib, and to Elnathan, and to Nathian, and to Ze- chariah, and to Meshullam the chief, and to Ioiarib and to Elnathan, men of under- standing, 23 So we fasted, and befought our God for this and he was intreated of vs.

24 Then I separated twelve of the chief of the Priests, Sheiebish, and Hashabiah, and ten of their brethren with them,

25 And weighed the the siluer & the golde, & the vessels, even the ofring of the house of our God, which the King and his cois-felers, and his princes, and all Israel that were present had offred.

26 And I weighed vnto their hand six hundredth and fifty b talents of siluer, and in siluer vessel, an hundredth talents, and in golde, an hundredth talents:

27 And twentie basins of golde, of a thousand 1 drammes, and two vessels of shining braffe very good, and precious as golde.

30 So the Priests and the Leuites receiued the weight of the siluer and of the golde, and of the vessels to bring them to Ierusalem, vnto the house of our God.

31 ¶ Then we departed from the Ruer of Ahaud on the twelfth day of the first moneth, to go vnto Ierusalem, and the hand of our God was vpon vs, and deliuered vs from the hand of the enemie, and of suche as layed k waite by the way.

32 And we came to Ierusalem, and abode there thre dayes.

33 And on the fourte day was the siluer weighed, and the golde and the vessel in the house of our God by the hand of Meremoth the sonne of Vrish the Priest, and with him was Eleazar the sonne of Phinehas, and with them was Iozabad the sonne of Ieshua, and Noadiah the sonne of Binnis the 1 Leuites,

34 By nomber and by weight of euerie one, and all the weight was writen at the same time.

35 Also the childre of the captiutie, which were come out of captiutie, offred burnt offrings vnto the God of Israel, twelve bullockes for all Israel, nuntie and six rams, seuentic and seuen lambes, and twelve he goates for sinne: all was a burnt offering of the Lord.

36 And they deliuered the Kings commif-

1 The people repent and tume, and put away their strange wiues.

2 W Hiles Ezrá prayed thus, & cor- ressed him selfe weping, and fal- ling down before y house of God, there assembled vnto him of Israel a very great Congregation of m.n and women & chil- dren: for the people w.pt with a great la- mination.

3 Then Shee hani:th the sonne of Ishael one of the sonnes of Elam, answered, and said to Ezrá, We haue trespassed against our God, and haue taken strange wiues of the people of the land, yet now there is hope in Israel concerning this.

4 Now therefore let vs make a covenant with our God, to put away all the wiues (and fuche as are borne of them) according to the counsel of the Lord, and of those that feare the commandments of our God, and let it be done according to the Law.

5 Arise: for the matter 4 belongeth vnto thee: we also wil be with thee: be of com- fore and do it.

6 Th: n arose Ezrá, and caused the chief Priests, the Leuites, & all Israel, to swear that they wolde do according to this worde. So they sware.

7 And Ezrá rose vp from before the house of God, and went into the chambre of Lohan in the sonne of Eliashib: he went euen thither, but he did eat nethet bread, nor dronke water: for he mourned, because of the trisgression of the of the captiuitie.

8 And they caused a proclamation to go throughout Judah and Jerusalem, vnto "all them of the captiuitie, that they shul- de assemble them selues vnto Jerusalem.

9 And whosoeuer wolde not come with- in thre dayes according to the counsel of the princes and Elders, all his substance shulde be forfeit, & he shulde be separate from the Congregation of them of the captiuitie.

10 Then all the men of Judah & Benia- min assembled them selues vnto Jerufal- lem within thre dayes, which was the twéteeth day of the e mne moneth, and all the people fate in the strete of the house of God, trembling for this matter, and for the raine.

11 And Ezrá the Priest stode vp, and said vnto them, Ye haue transgressed, and ha- ue taken strange wiues, to e incitease the trespasses of Israel.

12 Now therefore h giue praise vnto the Lord God of your fathers, and do his wil and separate your selues from the people of the land, & from the strange wiues.

13 And all the Congregation answered, & said with a loude voyce, So wil we do ac- cording to thy wordes vnto vs.

14 But the people are many, and it is a ray- nie wither, and we are not able to stand without, neither is the worke of one day or two: for we are many that haue offen- ded in this thing.

NEHEMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God doeth in all ages and at all times set vp worthy perfones for the commoditie and profite of his Church, as now within the compaffe of feuentie yerci he rafed vp diuers excellent men for the preferuation of his people, after their returne from Babylon, as Zerubbakél, Exrd, and Nehemiáh. Whereof the firil was their captaine to bring them bome, and prouded that the Temple was byélded: the feconde reformed their maners and planted religion: Or the third byélded vp the walks, deliuered the people from oppression, and prouded that the Law of God was put in execution among them. He was a godlie man and in great autoritie with the King, so that the King favoured him greatly, and gaue him mofte ample letters for the accomplishment of all things which he colde deffire.

This boke is also called of the lattus the feconde of Exrd, because he was the writer thereof.

1 After Nehemiah had obtained letters of Artavernex, 11 He came to Jerusalem, 17 And brylled the walles.

Now in the moneth a Nifan in the twentieth yere of King b Archbishop- the, the wine sode before him, and I toke vp the wine, and gave it vnto the King, now I was not before time sad in his pre- sence.

2 And the King said vnto me, Why is thy countenance sad, seeing thou art not sic- ke? this is nothing, but sorowe of heart. Then was I sore afraid,

3. And I said to the King, God save the King for euer: why shulde nor my coun- tenance be sad, when the citre of house of y sepulchres of my fathers heth waft & the gates thereof are deuoured with fyre?

4 And the King said vnto me, For what thing doest thou require? Then I praised to the God of heauen,

5 And said vnto the King, If it please the King, and if thy seruant have founde fa- uour in thy sight, I desire that thou woldest send me to Iudah vnto the citre of the se- pulchres of my fathers, that I may buyl- de it.

6 And the King said vnto me, (the quene also sitting by him) How long shall thy journey be? and when wilt thou come a- gaine? So it pleased the King, and he sent me, and I set him a time.

7 After I said vnto the King, If it please y King, let them give me letters to the cap- taines beyond the Ruer, that they may conuaye me ouer, til I come into Iu- dah,

8 And letters vnto Asaph the keper of the Kings' paike, that he may give me timber to buyld the gates of the palace (which appretained to the house) & for the walles of the citre, and for the house that I shal entre into. And the King gave me according to the good hand of my God vp- on me.

9 Then came I to the captaines beyond the Ruer, & gave them the Kings letters. And the King had sent captaines of the armie and horfinen with me.

10 But a Sanballat the Horonite, and To- biah a seruant an Ammonite heard it, and it grieved the sore, that there was come a man which soghe the wealth of the chil- dren of Israel.

11 So I came to Jerusalem, and was there thre dayes.

12 And I rose in the night, I, and a few me w me: for I tolde no man, what God had put in mine heart to do at Jerusalem, and there was not a beast with me, save the beast whereon I rode.

13 And I went out by night by the gate of the valley, and came before the draggon well, and to the dung porte, and vewed the walles of Jerusalem, how they were bio- ken downe, and the portes thereof deuou- red with the fyre.

14 Then I went forth the vnto the gate of y fountaine, and to the Kings fish pool, & there was no toume for the beast that was vn'er me to paffe.

15 Then went I vp in the night by the broke, & vewed the wall, and turned bac- ke, and comming backe, I entred by the gate of the valley and returned.

16 And the rulers knew not whether I was gone, nor what I did, neither did I as yet tel it vnto the Iewes, nor to the Priests, nor to the noble men, nor to the rulers, nor to the rest that laboured in the worke.

17 After ward I said vnto them, Ye se the miserie that we are in, how Jerusalem heth waft, and the gates thereof are burnt with fyre: come and let vs buylde the wall of Jerusalem, that we be no more a repro- che.

18 Then I tolde them of the hand of my God, (which was good ouer me) and also of the Kings woides that he had spo- ken vnto me. And they said, Let vs rise, & buylde. So they a strengthened their hand to good.

19 But whe Sanballat the Horonite, & To- biah the seruant an Ammonite, and b Ge- shém the Arabian heard it, they mocked vs and despised vs, and said, What a thing is this that ye do? Wil ye rebell against the King?

CHAP. III.

7 The buylding of Ierusalém is kindred, 18 But God breaketh their enterprise. 19 The Iewes buyld with one hand, and holds their weapons in the other.

1 B Vt when Sanballát heard that we buylde the wall, then was he wroth and fore grieved, and mocked the Iewes,

2 And laid before his brethren and the armie of Samaria, thus he said, What do thesse weake Iewes? wil they fortifie the felues? wil they sacrifice? wil they finsh it in a day? wil they make the stones whole agame out of § heapes of duft, feing they are burnt?

3 And Tobiáh the Ammonite was beside him, and said, Although they buyld, yet if a foxe go vp, he shal euen breake downe their stony wall.

4 Heare, our God (for we are despyred) and turne their shame vpon their owne head, and giue them vnto a prayd in the land of their captiuitie,

5 And couer not their iniquitie, nether let their sinne be put out in thy pietie: for they haue prouoked thee before the buylders.

6 So we buyld the wall, and all the wall was loyned vnto the halfe thereof, and the heart of the people was to worke.

7 But when Sanballát, and Tobiáh, & the Arabians, and the Ammonites, & the Ashdodims heard that the walles of Ierusalém were repared, (for the breaches began to be stopped) then they were verie wroth,

8 And conspired altogether to come and to fight against Ierusalém, & to hinder the.

9 Then we prayed vnto our God, and set watchmen by them, day & night, because of them.

10 And Iudáh said, The strength of our bearers is weakened, and the earth is much earth, so that we are not able to buyld the wall.

11 Also our aduersaries had said, They shal not knowe, neither see, til we come into the middles of them and slaye them, and cause the worke to ceafe.

12 But when the Iewes (which dwelt befide them) came, they tolde vs (ten times, s Fró all places whence ye fhall returne, they wil be vpon vs.

13 Therefore fet I in the lower places be- hinde the wall vpon § toppes of the ftones, & placed § people by their families, with their fwordes, their fpeares & their bowes,

14 Then I beheld, and rofe vp, & laid vnto the princes, & to the rulers, & to the reft of the people, Be not afraied of them: h reméber the great Loid, & feareful, & fight for your brethren, your fonnes, and your daughters, your wines, and your houfes.

15 And when our enemies heard that it was knowen vnto vs, then God brought their counfel to noght, & we turned all againe to the wall, euerie one vnto his worke.

16 And fró that day, halfe of the yong men did the labour, and the other halfe parte of them helde the fpeares, and ftiels, & bowes, and habergins: and the rulers ftode behinde all the houfe of Iudáh.

17 They that buylded on the wall, and they that bare burdens, or they that laded, did the worke with one hand, & with the other helde the fwoide.

18 For euerie one of the buylders had his fwoide girde on his loynes, & fo buylded: & he that blewe the trúpet, was befide me.

19 Then faid I vnto the princes, and to the rulers, and to the reft of the people, The worke is great and large, and we are fepa- rated vpon the wall, one faire from ano- ther.

20 In what place therefore ye heare the foud of the trumpet, k reforte ye thither vnto vstou God fhall fight for vs.

21 So we laboured in the worke, and halfe of them helde the fpeares, from the appea- ring of the morning, til the ftarres came fortite.

22 And at the fame time faid I vnto the people, Let euerie one with his ftruant lodge within Ierufalém, that they may be a watche for vs in the night, and labour in the day.

23 So nether I, nor my brethren, nor my fer- uants, nor the mé of the warde, (which fol- lowed me) none of vs did put of our clo- thes, fame euerie one put them of i for waf- fhing. CHAP. V.

1 And all the people assembled them selues "together, in y threat that was before the watergate, and they spake vnto Ezra the a scribe, that he wolded bring the boke of the Law of Moses, which the Lord had commanded to Israel.

2 And Ezra the Priest brought the Law be- fore the Congregation both of men and women, and of all that b colde heare and vnderstand it, in the first day of the se- uent moneth,

3 And he red therein in the threat that was before the watergate (from the morning vntil c the midday) before men and wo- men, and of them that vnderstode it, and the eares of all the people hearkened vnto the boke of the Law.

4 And Ezra the scribe stode vpon a pul- pit of wood, which he had made for the preaching, & beside him stode Matrithiah, and Shema, and Ananiah, and Vriiah, & Hilkihah, and Maaseiah on his right had, and on his left hand Pedaiah, & Mishael, and Malchiah, and Hashum, and Hashba- dana, Zechariah, and Meshullam.

6 And Ezra praised y Lord the great God, and all the people answered, Amen, Ame, with lifting vp their hads: & they bowed them selues, and worshiped the Lord with their faces toward the ground.

7 Also Ieshua, and Bani, and Sherebiah, Ia- min, Akkib, Shabbetah, Hodiah, Maase- iah, Kelita, Azariah, Iozabid, Hanin, Pe- laiah, & the Levites caused the people to vnderstand the Law, and the people stode in their place.

8 And they red in the booke of the Law of God distinctly and gave the sense, & cau- sed them to vnderstand the reading.

9 Then Nehemiáh (which is Tirshatha) and Ezra the Priest & scribe, and the Le- uites that instructed the people, said vnto all the people, This day is holy vnto the Lord your God: mourne not, neither wepe: for all the people a wept, whe they heard the words of the Law.

10 He said also vnto them, Go, and eat of the far, & drinke the swete, and send parte vnto them, for whome none is f prepared: for this day is holy vnto our Lord: be ye not fory therefore: for the g ioye of the Lord is your strength.

11 And the Levites made silence through- out all the people, saying, Holde your pea- ce: for y day is holy, be not sad therefore.

12 Then all the people went to eat and to drinke, and to send away parte, & to make great ioye, because they had vnderstand the words that they had taught them.

13 And on the secode day the chief fathers of all the people, the Priests and the Leui- tes were gathered vnto Ezra the scribe, that he also might instruct them in the words of the Law.

14 And they found writed in the Law, (that the Lord had commanded by Moses) that the children of Israel shulde dwell in boo- thes in the feast of the seuent moneth,

15 And that they shulde cause it to be decla- red and proclaimed in all their cities, and in Jerusalem, saying, Go for wilderness:* the pillar of the cloude departed not from them by the day to lead them the way,nether the pil- ler of fyre by night,to shewe them light,& the way whereby they fhulde go.

20 Thou gaueft also thy good Spirit to in- struct them,& withheldest not thy MAN from their mouth,and gaueft them water for their thrift.

21 Thou didest also fede the fourtie yeres in y wilderness:thei lacked nothig:* their cloches waxed not olde,and their fete fwelled not.

22 And thou gaueft them kingdomes and people, and scattered it them into corners: for they possessed* the land of Sihón and the land of the King of Hefihbón, & the land of Og King of 23 And thou didest multiplie their childré, like the ftarres of the heauen, & brogh- test them into the lad, whereof thou ha-dest spoken vnto their fathers, that they fhulde go, and possesse

24 So the children went in, and possessed the land, and thou fubduedst before them the inhabitants of the land, even the Ca-possessed houfes, full of all goods, cisternes digged out, vineyardes, & olues, and trees for fode in abundance, and they did eat, and were filled, and be- came fat, & liued in pleasure through thy great goodnes.

26 Yet they were disobedient, and rebelled against thee, & cast thy Law behinde their backes & slewe thy Prophetes (which pro- tested among them to turne them vnto thee) and committed great blasphemies.

27 Therefore thou deliueredst them into the hand of their enemies that vexed the: yet in the time of their affliction,when they cryed vnto thee,thou heardest them from the heauen,and through thy great mercies thou gaueft them fauours,who faued them out of the hand of their ad- uerfaries.

The covenant fealed 1224

Levi. 18.3. ex 6.20.16. Yorba 10.5. Gal 3.12.

Which is a similitude to hen or upon, & shrooke to the yoke or buried, as Zach. 7.11. When thou didest admonish them by thy Prophets "do thou hast prolong upon the many years."

Exod. 34.6.

Tfal. 143.2.

1 By whom we were led away into expi- neic, & have been appalled to be done, as Eifer 5.11. He confected that all those things came to them in Italy for their finnes, but he appalach fro Gods notice to his mercies. 1 That thou woldest deferry them, except that wol- de returns to thee.

2 There is, to be the lords thereof.

3 Thus by affliction they promises to keep Gods commandments, wherewith they colde not be broph by Gods give the nefites.

Or, healer.

mightest bring the againe vnto thy Law: but they behaued them felues proudly, and hearkend not vnto thy commandments, but finned against thy judgments (* which a man shulde do and li- ue in them) and s pulled away the shul- dre, and were flshecked, and wolde not be here.

Yet thou didest forbear them many years, and protested among them by thy Spirit, even by the hand of thy Prophetes, but they wolde not hear: therefore gaueft thou them into the hand of the people of the lands.

Yet for thy great mercies, thou hast not confunded them, neither forsaken them: for thou art a gracious and merciful God.

Now therefore our God, * thou great God, mightie and terrible, that kepest co- uenant and * mercie, let not all the affli- ction that hath come vnto vs, some a li- tle before thee, that is, to our Kings, to our princes, & to our Priests, and to our Pro- phetes and to our fathers, & to all thy peo- ple since the time of the Kings of Aishur vnto this day.

Surely thou art lust in all that is come vpon vs: for thou hast delt truely, but we have done wickedly.

And our Kings and our princes, our Priests and our fathers have not done thy Law, nor regarded thy commandments nor thy protestations, wherewith thou hast protested among them.

And they have not ferued thee in their kingdome, and in thy great goodnes that thou shewedst vnto them, and in the lar- ge and fat land which thou fettest before them, and have not conuerted from their euil works.

Beholde, we are seruants this day, & the lad that thou gaueft vnto our fathers, to eate them frute thereof, and the good- nes thereof, beholde, we are seruants the- rein.

And it yeldeth muche frute vnto Kigs whome thou hast fet ouer vs, because of our finnes: and they have dominion ouer our bodies and ouer our cattel at their pleasure, and we are in great affliction.

Now because of all this we make a sure couenat, and write it, and our princes, our Leuites and our Priests feale vnto it.

And before this had the Priest Eliashib the ouersight of the

And he had made him a great chamber & there had that aforetime laid the offerings, the incené, and the vessels, and the tithes of corne, of wine, and of oyle (appointed for the Leuites, and the fingers, & the porters) and the offerings of the Priests.

But in all this time was not I in Ierufalém: for in the two and thirtieth yeere of Artahfahshe King of Babél, came I vnto the King, and after certeine dayes I obtained of the King.

And when I was come to Ierufalém, I vnderftode y euilth it Eliashib had done for Tobiáh, in that he had made him a chaber in the court of the house of God,

And it grieued me for either fore I cast forth all y vessels of the house of Tobiáh out of the chamber.

And I commanded them to cleanse the chambers: and the other broght I againe the vessels of the house of God with the meat of sting and the incené.

And I perceived that the porcions of the Leuites had not bene guen, and that euerie one was fled to his lad, euen the Leuites & fingers that executed the worke.

The reproued I the rulers & said, Why is the house of God forsake? And I assembled them, and set them in their place.

Then broght all Iudáh the tithes of corne & of wine, & of oyle vnto y treasures.

And I made treasures ouer y treasures, Shelemiáh the Priest, & Zadók the scribe, & of the Leuites, Pedaiáh, & vnder their hand Hanán the sonne of Zacúr the sonne of Mattaniáh: for they were corned fanthful, and their office was to distribute vnto their brethren.

16 These dwelt men of Tytus also therein, which broght fish and all wares, and I solde on the Sabbath vnto the children of Iudáh euen in Ierusalém.

17 Then reprobued I the rulers of Iudáh, & said vnto them, What euil thing is this that ye do, and breake the Sabbath daye?

18 Did not your fathers thus, and our God broght all this plague vpon vs, and vpon this citie? yet ye increafe the wrath vpon Ifraél, in breaking the Sabbath?

caryed away from Ierusalém with the captiuitie that was ca-Nchuchadnczár King of Babél had caryed away) 7 And he nourished Hadassáh, that is Estér, his vnckles daughte: for she had nether fa-ther nor mother, and the maid was faire, and beautiful to looke on: & after the death of her father, and her mother, Mordecái toke her for his owne daughter. 8 And when Kings house, and he gaue change to her and to her maides of she shulde not tell to. 11 And Mordecái walked euery day before the courte of the womens house, to knowe if Estér did wel, and what shulde be done with her. 12 And when the course of euery maid came, to go in to King Ahasueró, after that she had bene twelue moneths according to the maner of the women (for so were the dayes of their purifications ac-thus went the maids vnto the King) whatfoeur she required, was giuen her, to go with her out of the womens house vnto the Kings house.

17 And the King loued Eftér aboue all the women, and she founde grace and fauour in his sight more then all the virgins: so that he fit the crowne of the kingdome vpó her head, & made her Quene in Itca- de of Valhiti.

18 Then the King made a great feast vnto all his princes and his seruants which was the feast of Eftér and gaue rest vnto the prouines, and gaue giftes, according to the power of a King.

19 And when the virgins were gathered the seconde time, then Mordecái fate in the Kings gate.

11 So Hamán toke the raymét & the horfe, and arayed Mordecái, and brought him on horfe backe through the ftrete of the ci- tie, and proclaimed before him, Thus fhall it be done to the man whome the King wil honour.

12 And Mordecái came againe to f Kings gate, but Hamán halted home mounning and his head couered.

13 And Hamán tolde Zérefh his wife, & all his friends all that had befallen him. The faid his wife men, and Zérefh his wife vn- to him, If Mordecái be of the fide of the Iewes, befoe whome thou haft begone to fall, thou fhalt not preuaile againft him, 4 but fhalt furely fall before him.

1 SO the King and Hamán came to ban- ket with the Quene Eftér.

2 And the King faid againe vnto Eftér on the feconde day at the banket of a wine, What is thy peticion, Quene Eftér, that it may be giue thee and what is thy request? It shalbe euen performed vnto the halfe of the kingdome.

3 And Eftér the Quene answered, and said, If I haue founde fauour in thy sight, & King, and if it please the King, let my life be giuen me at my petition, & my people at my request.

4 For we are solde, I, and my people, to be destroyed, to be slayne and to perish: but if we were solde for seruants, & for hand- maides, I wolde haue helde my tongue: although the aduerfarie colde not but recō- pense the Kings losse.

5 The King Ahasueróh answered, & said vnto the Quene Eftér, Who is he? & where is he that "presumeth to do thus?

6 And Eftér said, The aduerfarie and enemye is this wicked Hamán. Then Hamán was afraid before the King & the Quene.

7 And the King arose from the banquet of wine in his wrath, & went into the palace garden: but Haman stood vp, to make request for his life to the Quene Eftér: for he sawe that there was a chief prepared for him of the King.

8 And when the King came againe out of the palace garden, into the house where they dranke wine, Hamán was a fallen vpon the bed whereon Eftér sat: therefore the King said, Wil he force f Quene alfo before me in the houfe? As the worde wét out of the Kings mouthe, they c couered Hamans face.

9 And Haibonáh one of the eunuches, laid in the prefence of the King, Beholde, the- re ftandeth yet the tie in Hamans houfe fiftie cubites hie, which Hamán had pre- pared for Mordecái, that fpake good for the King. Then the King laid, Hang him thereon.

8 Write ye alfo for the Iewes, as it liketh you in the Kings name, and feale it with the Kings ring, (for the writings written in the Kings name, and fealed with the Kings ring, may no man reuoke)

9 There were the Kings fcribes called at the fame time, eue in the third moneth, that is the moneth fifuán, on the thre & twétieth day thereof: and it was written, according to all as Mordecái commanded vnto the Iewes and to the prouunces, & captaines, and rulers of the princes, which were from India euen vnto Ethiopia, an hundredh & feuen and twentie prouunces, vnto euerie prouunce, according to the writing thereof, and to euerie people after their fpeech, and to the Iewes, according to their writing, and according to their language.

10 And he wrote in the King Ahaffhuerófh name, and fcaled it with the Kings ring: & he fent lettres by poftes on horftbacke & that rode on beaftes of price, as dromedaries & coltes of mares.

11 Wherein the King granted the Iewes (in what cities foeur they were) to gather them felues together, & to ftand for their life, & to tooce out, to flay & to deftroie all the power of the people & of the prouince that vexed them, bofa children and women, and to fpoyle their goods:

13 The copie of the writing was, how there fhulde be a commandement giuen in all and euerie prouince, publifhed among all the people, and that the Iewes fhulde be readie againft that day to & auenge them felues on their enemies.

14 So the poftes rode vpon beaftes of price, & dromedaries, & wét for the with fpede, to execute the Kings commandement, & the decree was giuen at Shufhán & palace.

15 And Mordecái went out from the King in royal apparel of blewes, and white, and with a great crowne of golde, and with a garment of fine linen and purple, and the citie of Shufhán reioyced and was glad.

16 And vnto the Iewes was come light and loye and gladnes, and honour.

17 Alfo in all and euerie prouunce, and in all and euerie citie and place, where the Kings commadement & his decree came, there was toye and gladnes to the Iewes, a feaft and good day, and many of the people of the Iewes became Iewes: for the feare of the Iewes fell vpon them.

2 The Iewes gathered the felues together, into their cities throughout all the prouinces of the King Ahaffhuerófh, to

THE ARGUMENT.

In this historic is set before our eyes the example of a singular patience. For this holy man Iob was not only extremely afflicted in outward things and in his body, but also in his minds, and conscience by the sharpe tentations of his wife, and chief friends: which by their vehement words, and subtil disputations brought him almost to dispare, for they set for the God as a severe judge, and mortal enemies unto him, which had cast him of, therefore in vain he should see unto him as such. These friends came unto him under pretence of consideration, and yet they tormented him more than did all his affliction. Notwithstanding he did constantly resist them, and at length had good success. In this store we have to mark that Iob man, beneath a good cause, but handeleth it out: against his adversaries have an evil matter, but they defend it creatively. For Iob held that God did not always punish men according to their sinners, but that he had secret indulgence, whereof man knew not the cause, and therefore man could not reason against God therein, but he should be convicted.

Moreover he was assured that God had not resected him, yet through his great torments, or affliction he braitheth for the into manne inconveniences both of words and sentences, and she with him self as a desperate man in manne things, and alone that would resist God: and thus in his good cause which he doeth not handel well. As tyme the adversaries maintain with manne goodlie argumē, that God punisheth continually according to the trespass, grounding upon Gods providence, his justice, and manne sinners, yet their intention is evil: for they labour to bring Iob into dispare, and so they maintain an evil cause. Exekiel commendeth Iob as a just man, Exek. 14, 14, and James futeeth out his patience for an example, Iam. 5, 11.

And when the dayes of their banquetting were gone about, Iob sent, and sanctified the, and rose vp early in the morning, and toffred burnt offerings according to the number of the all. For Iob thought, It may be that my sonnes have sinned, and blasphemed God in their hearts: thus did Iob euerie day.

Then the Lord said unto Satán, Lo, all that he hath, in thine hand, onely vp6, him selfe shalt thou not stretch out thine had. So Satán departed from the presence of the Lord.

CHAP. VII.

2 Iob fherweth the fortunes and miferie of mans life.

1 S there not an appointed time to man vpon earth? and are not his dayes as the dayes of an a hyreling.

2 As a feruant longeth for the fhadowe, & as an hyreling loketh for the end of his works,

3 So haue I had as an inheritance the bino- naths of vanitie, and peineful nights ha- ue bene appointed vnto me.

4 If I faied me downe, I faid, When fhall Iarife? and measurig the euening I am e- uen ful with tofiting to and fro vnto the dawning of the day.

5 My flefh is clothed with wormes & fil- thines of the duftmy skin is rent, & be- come horrible,

6 My dayes are fwifter the da weauers fhitt- tle, and they are fufnt without hope.

7 Remember that my life is but a winde, & that mine eye fhall not returne to fe plea- fure.

8 The eye that hae fene me, fhall fe me no more: thine eyes are vpon me, and I fhall be no longer.

9 As the cloude vanifheth & goeth away, fo he that goeth downe to the geue, fhall f come vp nomore.

10 He fhall returne nomore to his houfe, nether fhall his place knowe him anymore.

11 Therefore I wil not fpare my mouthe, but wil fpeake in the trouble of my fpirit, & mufe in the bitternes of my minde.

12 Am I a fea beaſt or a whalefiſh, that thou ke- peſt me in warde?

13 When I fay, My couche fhall relieue me, & my bed fhall bring comfort in my medi- tation,

14 Then feareft thou me t with dreamer, and aftonifheft me with vifoni.

15 Therefore my foule b chofeth rather to be ftrangled & to dye, then to be in my bo- nes.

16 I abhorre it, I fhall not liue alway: fpa- re me then, for my daies are but va- nitie.

17 What is man, that thou m doeft magni- fe him, and that thou fetreft thine heat vpon him?

18 And doeft vifit him euerie morning, and tryeft him euerie moment?

19 How long wil it be ye rthou departe fro me? thou wilt not let me alone whiles I may fwallowe my fpeme.

20 I haue n finned, what fhall I do vnto thee? b thou preferuer of men, why haft thou fet me as a marke againft thee, fo that I am a burden vnto my felf?

1 Then answered Bildad the Shuhite, and faid,

5 Yet if thou c wilt early feke vnto God, & pray to the Almighty,

6 If thou be pure and vpriight, then furely he wil awake vp vnto thee, & he wil make the habitation of thy righteoufnes profpe rous.

7 And thogh thy beginning b be fmale, yet thy later end fhál greatly increafe.

8 Inquire therefore, I pray thee, of the former age, and prepare thy felfe to fear- che of their fathers.

CHAP. XIII.

Job describeth the fortunes and miserie of the life of man. 14
Hope puffeth the godly. 22 The condition of man's life.

Man a y is borne of woman, is of short continuance, and full of trouble. He flourisheth forth as a flower, and is cut downe:
the vanisheth also as a shadow, & continueth not. And yet thou openest thine eyes vpon the children, and causest me to entre into iudgement with thee. Who can bring a cleane thing out of filthines? there is not one. Are not his dayes determined? the number of his months are with thee. thou hast appointed his boundes, which he can not passe. Turne from him that he may cease vntill his desired day, as an hireling. For there is hope of a tree, if it be cut downe, that it will yet sprout, and the branches thereof will not cease. Though the roote of it waxe olde in the earth & the flocke thereof be dead in the groue, Yet by the fount of water it will bud, and bring forth the bowes like a plant.
But man is ficke, and dyeth, & man perisheth, and where is he? As the waters passe from the sea, and as the flood decayeth and dryeth up, So man felleth and perisheth not: for he shall not wake againe, nor be raised from his flepe til the heauen be nomore.

Oh that thou woldeft hide me in the gra- ue, and kepe me fecret, vntil thy e wrath were pafte, and woldeft gue me terme, and frcmember me. If a man dye, fhall he liue againe? All the dayes of mine appointed time wil I wai- te, til z my changing fhall come. Thou fhalt call me, and I fhall h anfwer thee: thou loueft the worke of thine owne hands. But now thou nombrest my fteps, and doeft not delay my finnes. Mine iniquitie is fealed vp, as in a bag- ge, and thou addeft vnto my wickednes.
And furely as the moftaine that falleth, cometh to noght, and from God, & the heritage that he phalhaue of God for his f wordes.

CHAP. XXI.

7 Iob declareth how the prosperitie of the wicked maketh them proud, 1) In fo much that they blaspheme God. 2) Their deftruction is at hand 3) None eght to be judged wicked for affliction, nether good for prosperi- tie.

D Vt Iob answered, and faid, Heare diligently my wordes, and this I thalbe in stead of your consolations. Suffre me, that I may fpeake, and when I haue fpoken, mockie on.

4 Do I direct my talke to man? If it b weie fo, how thulde not my fpirit be troubled? 5 Marke me, and be abafted, and lay your hand vpon your mouth.

6 Euen when I remember, I am afraied, & feare taketh holde on my flesh. 7 Wherefore do the wicked d liue, and waxe olde, and growe in welth?

8 Their fede is eftablished in their fighe with them, and their generacion before their eies.

9 Their houfes are peaceable without fea- re, and the rod of God is not vpon them. 10 Their bullocke gendreth, & faileth not: their cowe calueh, and cafteth not her calfe.

11 They fend forthe their children e like fhepe, and their fennes dance.

12 They take the tabret and harpe, and re- joyce in the founde of the organs.

13 They fpend their daies in welth, and fo- denly f they go downe to the graue.

14 Thei fay alfo vnto God, Depart fro vst for we defire not the knowledge of thy waies.

15 Who is the Almightye, that we thulde ferue him? and what

16 Lo, their welth is not in their hand: b the- before let the

17 How oft thal the candel of the wicked be put out? and their

19 God will lay vp the forow of the fables for his children:

20 His eies thal fe his deftruction, and he thal drinke of the wrath of y Almightye.

21 For whas pleafure hathe he in his houfe after him, when the number of his mo- neths is cut of?

22 Shal any reache f God knowledge, who iudgeth the hieft things?

23 One d dyeth in his ful ftrengh, being in all eafe and prosperitie.

24 His breafte are full of milke, and his bo- nes runne full of marowe.

25 And another d dyeth in the bitternes of his foule, and neuej eateth with pleafure?

26 They thal flepe bothe in the duft, and the wormes thal couer them.

27 Beholde, I know your thoghts, and the enterprifes, where with ye do me wrong.

28 For ye fay, Where is the princes p houfe, and where is the tabernacle of the wic- keds dwelling?

29 May ye not a afke the that go by y way? and ye can not denie their fignes.

30 But the wicked is kept vnto the day of d deftructio, or they thal be broght forthe to the day of wrath.

31 Who thal declare his waie f to his face: and who thal rewarde him for that he hathe done?

32 Yet thal he be broght to the graue, and remaine in the heape.

33 The f flimie valley thalbe fwete vnto hi, and euerie man

The living God has the taken away my judgement: for the Almighty has the put my soul in bitterness.

Yet so long as my breath is in me, and the Spirit of God in my nostrils,

My lips surely shall speak no wickedness, and my tongue shall vites no decent.

God forbid, that I should e justise you: vntil I dye, I will never take away mine innocence from my self.

I will keep my righteousness, and will not forsake it: mine heart shall not reprove me of my e days.

Mine enemies shall be as the wicked, & he that riseth against me, as the unrighteous.

For what hope has the hypocrite who he has heaped up riches, if God take a- way his soul?

Will God heave his crye, when trouble cometh upon him?

Will he set his delight on the Almighty? will he call upon God at all times?

I will teach you what is in a bad of a God, & I will not conceal that which is with the Almighty.

Beholde, all ye your selves have seen it: why then do you thus vanish in vanity?

This is the k porcion of a wicked man with God, & the heritage of tyrants, which they shall receive of the Almighty.

If his children be in great number, the fwords shall destroy them, and his postee: the shall not be satisfied with bread.

His remnant shall be buryed in death, & his widower shall not weep.

Though he should heave up silver as the dust, and prepare innocent shall decide & silver.

He buyldeth his house as the m more, and as a lodge that the watchman maketh.

When the rich man slepeeth, he shall not be gathered to his fathers: they opened their eyes, and he was gone.

Terrorists shall take him as waters, and a tempest shall carie him away by night.

CHAP. XXVIII.

Job foreth that the wisdom of God is Unferable.

He silver surely has he his vain, e & the gold his place, where the take it.

Iron is taken out of the dust, and brasse is molten out of the stone.

God putteth arend to darkness, b & he try- eth the perfectio of all things: he setteth a bode of darkness, & of a shadow of death.

The flood breaketh out against the e inhabitant, and the waters d forgotten of the d which a fore, being higher the ma, are gone away. d which a fore can not wade through.

5 Out of the same earth cometh e bread, & vnder it, as it were fyre is turned up.

6 The stones thereof are a place f of fa- phirs, and the dust of it is gold.

7 There is a path which no soul has he known, neither has he kites eye sene it.

8 The lions whelps have not walked it, nor the lion passed thereby.

9 He putteth his hand upon the s rockes, & ouert hroweth the mousames by f roores.

10 He breaketh rivers in the rockes, and his eye seeth euerie precious thing.

11 He bindeth the floods, that they do not ouersowe, & the thing that is hid, bring- eth he to light.

12 But where is wisdoms soide h & where is the place of understanding?

13 Man knoweth not the price thereof: for it is not found in the land of the living.

14 The depth saith, It is not in me: the se also saith, It is not with me.

15 k Golde shall not be given for it, neither shall silver be weighed for f price thereof.

16 It shall not be valued with the wedge of golde of Ophir, nor with the precious o- nix, nor the saphir.

17 The gold nor the christian shall be equal vnto it, nor the exchange shall be for plate of fine gold.

18 No mencion shall be made of coral, nor of the gabsis for wisdom is more pre- cious then perles.

19 The Topaz of Ethiopia shall not be e- qual vnto it, neither shall it be valued with the wedge of pure gold.

20 Whence the cometh wisdoms and whe- re is the place of understanding.

21 Seing it is hid from the eyes of all the li- uing, & is hid so the m foules of f heave?

22 Destruction and death say, We have he- ard the same thereof with our eares.

23 But God understandeth the n way thereof, and he knoweth the place thereof.

24 For he beholdeth the ends of f worlde, e seeth all that is under heaven,

25 To make the weight of the wines, & to weigh the waters by measure.

26 When he made a decree for the raine, & a way for the lightening of the thunders,

27 Then did he se it, and counted it the pre- pared it and also considered it.

28 And vnto man he said, Beholde, e the feare of the Lord is wisdom, and to de- parte from evil is understanding.

against Iob, because he iustified him self more then God.

3 Also his anger was kindled against his thre friends, because they colde not finde an answer, and yet condemned Iob.

4 (Now Elihú had waited til Iob had spoken: for 4 they were more ancient in yeres: then he)

5 So when Elihú sawe, that there was none answer in the mouth of the three men, his wrath was kindled.

6 Therefore Elihú the sonne of Barachél, the Buzite answered, and said, I am yong in yeres, and ye are ancient: therefore I doutd, and was arrayed to shewe you mine opinion.

7 For I said, The dayes a shal speake, and the multitude of yeres shal teache wisdom.

8 Surely there is a spirit in man, b but the inspiration of the Almighty giueh understanding.

9 Great men are not always wise, neither do the aged all way understand judgement.

10 Therefore I say, He are me, and I wil shewe also mine opinion.

11 Beholde, I did waite vpon your wordes & hearkened vnto your knowledge, whiles you foght out 2 reasons.

12 Yea, when I had considered you, lo, there was none of you that reproued Iob; nor answered his wordes:

13 Lest ye shulde say, We haue b founde wisdom: for God hathe cast him-downe, & no man.

14 Yet hathe 1 he not directed his wordes to me, nether wil I answer b him by your wordes.

15 Then they fearing, answered nomore, but left of their talke.

16 When I had waited (for they spake not, but stode still and answered nomore)

17 Then answered I in my turne, & I shewed mine opinion.

18 For I am full of 1 matter, & the spirit within me compelloeh me.

Chap 36.23. k To destroy him l The breach of life, which he gave man

1 M Oreouet Elihu answered, and said, Heare my wordes, ye a wife men, and hearke vnto me, ye that have knowledge. 3 For the care vryeth the wordes, as y mouth tasteth meat.

4 Let vs seke judgement among vs, & let vs knowe among our selues what is good.

5 For Iob hathe said, I am righteous, and God hathe taken away my judgement.

6 Shulde I lye in my right my wounds of the arowe is a grievous without my sinne.

7 What ma is like Iob, that drinketh f scor- nefulnes like water?

8 Which goeth in the s companie of them that worke iniquitie, & walketh with wic- ked men?

9 For he hathe said, h It profiteeth a ma no- thing that he shulde walke with God.

10 Therefore hearken vnto me, ye men of wisdom, God forbid y wickednes shulde be in God, and iniquitie in the Almighty.

11 For he will rendre vnto man according to his worke, & cause euerie one to sinde according to his way.

12 And certainly God will not do wickedly, nether wil the Almightye peruert judgement.

13 Whome hathe he appointed ouer y earth beside him self or who hathe placed the whole worlde?

14 If he set his heart vpon man, and gather vnto him self his spirit and his breath, 15 All flesh shall perish together, and man shall return vnto dust.

16 And if y hast understanding, heare this & hearken to the voyce of my worders.

17 Shal he that hateth judgement, m go- uerne & wilt thou iudge him wicked that is moste iust?

18 Wilt thou say vnto a Kig, Thou art a wicked for to princes, Te are vngodlie?

19 How muche lesse to him that accepteth not the petsones of princes, & regardeth not the riche, more then the poore for thei be all the worke of his hands.

20 They shal dye sodenly, and the people shal be troubled at midnight, & they shal palls for the and take away the mightie without hand.

21 For his eyes are vpon the wayes of man, and he seeth all his goings.

22 There is no darkenes nor shadowe of de- ath, that the workers of iniquitie might be hid therein.

23 For he will not lay on man so muche, that he shulde a entre into iugemet with God.

24 He shal breake the mightie without se- king, and shal set vp other in their ste- ade.

25 Therefore shal be declare their f workes: he shal turne the s night, and they shal be destroyed.

26 He striketh them as wicked men in the places of the s seers,

27 Because they have turned backe from him, and wolde not consider all his waies:

28 So that they have caused the voyce of the poore to come vnto him, and he hathe heard the crye of the afflicted.

29 And when he giueth quietnes, who can make trouble and when he hideth his fa- ce, who can beholde him, whether is be vpon nacions, or vpon a man onely?

30 Because the r hypocrite doeth reigne, & because the people are snared.

31 Surely it apperteineth vnto God to say, I have pardoned, I will not destroye.

32 But if I se not, teache thou me: if I ha- ue done wickedly, I will do no more.

33 Wil he performe the thing through thee for thou haste reproued it, becau- se that thou hast chosen, and not I now speake what thou knowest.

34 Let men of understanding telme, and let a wife man hearken vnto me.

35 Iob hathe not spoken of knowledge, ne- ther were his worders according to wis- dome.

36 I desire that Iob may be d trved, vn- to the end touching the answers for wic- ked men.

37 For he addeth rebellion vnto his sin- ne: he clappeth his haste among vs, & mul- tipleth his worders against God.

8 And if thei be bound in fetters & tyed with the cordes of

10 He openeth alfo their eare to difipline, and commandeth them that they returne from iniquitie.

11 If they obey and ferue him, they fhall end their dayes in prosperitee, & their yeres in pleafures.

12 But if they wil not obey, they fhall paffe by the fworde, & perish without know- ledge.

13 But the hypocrites b of heart increafe the wrath: for they call not when he bindeth them.

CHAP. XI.

2 How weak man power is, being compared to the work of God: 10 Whose power appeared in the creation, and governing of the great beasts.

1 A Gaine the Lord answered Iob out of the whirlwind, and said,

2 Gird vp now thy loynes like a man: I wil demade of thee, & declare thou vnto me. 3 Wilt thou difanul my judgement or wilt thou condemne me, that thou mayest be justified?

4 Or hast thou an arme like God? or doest thou thunder with a voyce like him?

5 Decke thy self now with b maiestie and excellence, & araye thy self with beautie and glorie.

6 Cast abroad the indignacion of thy wrath, and beholde enesto one that is proude, and abafe him.

7 Loke on euerie one that is arrogant, and bring him low: and destroy the wicked in their place.

8 Hide them in the dust together, & binde their faces in a secret place.

9 Then wil I confesse vnto thee also, that thy right hand can d faue thee.

10 Beholde now e Behemoth, (whome I made f with thee) which eateth a graffe as an oxe.

11 Beholde now, his strength in his loines, and his force is in the nauil of his belly.

12 When he taketh pleasure, his taile is like a cedre: & sinews of his stones are wrapt together.

13 His bones are like statues of braffe, and his small bones like statues of yron.

14 b He is the chief of the wayes of God: he that made him, wil make his sword to approche vnto him.

15 Surely the mountaines bring him for the graffe, where all the beasts of the field playe.

16 Lyeth he vnder the trees in the couert of the rede and fennes?

17 Can the trees couer him with their sha- dowe? or can the willowes of the riuer co- paffe him about?

18 Beholde, he spoileth the riuer, and ha- seth not: he trusteth that he can drawe vp Iorden into his mouth.

19 He taketh it with his eyes, and thrusteth hu nofe through whatsfœuer meteth him.

21 Canst thou cast an hooke into his nofe canst thou perse his sawes with an angle?

23 Wil he make a covenant with thee? and wilt thou take a him

24 Wilt thou play with him as with a bird? or wilt thou binde

6 The repentance of Iob. 9 He prayeth for his friends. 10 His goodi are reftored double vnto him. 11 His children age and death.

1 Hen Iob answered the Lord, and faid,

2 I knowe that thou canft do all things, and that there is no a thought hid from thee.

3 Who is he that hideth counfel without knowledge? therefore haue I fpoke that I vnderftode not, euen things to wonder ful for me, 4 and which I knewe not.

4 Heare, I befeche chee, and I wil fpeake: I wil demande of thee, 5 and declare thou vnto me.

6 I haue a heard of thee by the hearing of the earo, but now mine eye feeth thee.

6 Therefore I abhorre my felf, and repent in duft and afhes.

7 Now after that the Lord had fpoken thefe wordes vnto Iob, the Lord alfo laid vnto Eliphaz the Temanite, My wrath is kindled againft thee, and againft thy two friends; for ye haue not fpoke of me? thing that is right, like my feruant to Iob.

8 Therefore take vnto you now feuen bul- lockes, and feuen rams, and go to my fer- uant Iob, & offer vp for your felues a burne offering, and my feruant Iob fhall pray for you: for I wil accept him, left I fhulde put you to fhame, becaufe ye haue not fpoke of me the thing, which is right, like my feruant Iob.

9 So Eliphaz the Temanite, and Bildad the Shuhite, and Zophar the Naamathite went, and did according as the Lord had laid vnto them, and the Lord accepted Iob.

10 Then the Lord turned the i captiui- tie of Iob, when he prayed for his friends: alfo the Lord gaue Iob twife fo muche as he had before.

11 Then came vnto him all his brethren, and all his fifters, and all they that had bene of his acquaintance before, and did eat bread with him in his houle, and had compassion of him, and comforted him for all the evil, that the Lord had brought vpon him, and euerie man gaue him a piece of money, & euerie one an earring of golde.

12 So the Lord bleffed the laft dayes of Iob more then the left:
for he had fourte- ne thoufand ſhepe, and fix thoufand ca- mels, and a thoufand yoke of oxen, and a thoufand ſhe affes.

13 He had alfo ſeuen ſonnes, and thre dau- ghters.

14 And he called the name of one = Iemi- māh, and the name of Dauid.

THE PSALMES

THE ARGUMENT.

This book of Psalmes is set forth the unto us by the belie God to be esteemed as a most precious treasure, wherein all things are contained that appertine to true solícite: as well in this life present as in the life to come. For the riches of true knowledge, and heahemile wisdom are here set open for us, to take thereof most abundantly. If we wode know the great, and his majestic of God, here we may so the brightness thereof shine most clearly. If we wode see his incomprehensible wisdom, here is the whole of the same profession. If we wode comprehend his inestimable boisture, and approche nere thereunto, and sit your hands with that treasure, here we may have a most likely, and comfortable taste thereof. If we wode know wherein standeth our saluation, and how to attine to life everlasting, here is Christ our only redemer, and mediator most evidently described. The riche man may leave the true rise of his riches. The poore man may synde for contentation. He that will reoyce, shall know the true rose, and how to keep measure therein. They that are afflicted and oppressed, shall so wherein standeth their comforte, and how they oght to praise God when he sendeth them deliverance. The wicked and the persecutors of the children of God shall so how the hand of God is ever against them: and though he suffer them to prosper for a while, yet he brideeth them, in so much as they can not touche an heere of ones head, except he permit them, and how in the end their destruction is most miserable. Briefly, here we have most present remedies against all tentations, and troubles of mind and conscience, so that being well practised herein, we may be assured against all dangers in this life, live in the true stare, and love of God, and at length attine to that incorruptible crowne of glorie, which is laid up for all them that love the comming of our Lord Jesus Christ.

Or, Praises, according to the Purposes; and were chiefly Institute to praise, and give thanks to God for his benefits. They are called the Psalmes, or Says of Dauid be, and the more parts were made by him.

PSALME I.

Whether it was Esfaras, or any other that gathered the Psalmes into a body, it semeth he did for this Psalme first in manner of a preface, to exhort all godless men to studie, and meditate the heahemile wisdom. For the effect hereof is, That they be blessed, which give them selues wholly all their life to the holy Scriptures. And that the wicked consumers of God, though they some for a while happen, yet at length shall come to miserable destruction.

When I man hathe good on- ce place to o- mit counsel, or to his own cheapishence, he beginneth to forget him self in his sin, & so falleth in to comfor of God, which attempt to ex- lect the fact of the cormers. Deut. 6. 6. Ioh. 1. 8. Pro. 6. 20. In the holie Scriptures. Lore. 17. 8. Gods chil- dren are so morthed &

Leffed is the man that deeth not walke in the counsel of the wicked, nor stand in the way of sinners, nor sit in the fear of the corme-ful:

But his delibe is in the Law of the Lord, & in his Law doeth he meditate it and night.

For he shall be like a tre planted by the ruers of waters, that will bring forth her fruce in due feafon: whose leafe shall not fade: so whatfoeuer he shall do, shall prof- per.

The wicked are not so, but as the chaffe, which the winde drueeth away.

Therefore the wicked shall not stand in the Judgement, nor sinners in the assem- ble of the righteous.

For the Lord knoweth the way of the righteous, and the way of the wicked shall perish.

ing in this world, yet the Lord demeth them doone that the shall not rise nor stand in the compn of the righteous. But suf- ble, when they feel Gods wealth. Doeth approne and prosper, like as yet to know it to reprove and resist.

PSALM. II.

The Prophet Dauid releyceeth that notwithstanding his enemies rage, yet God will obtinue his kingdoms for ever & adduce it even to the end of the worlds, so And therefore exhorteeth Kings and rulers, that they wode humbly submit them selues under Gods yoke, because it is in vain to refute God. Herein it figured Christ's kingdoms.

Why do the heathen rage, & the people murmur in vain?

The Kings of the earth band them selues, and the princes are assembled together a- gainst the Lord, and against his Christ.

Let us break their bands, and cast their cords from us.

But he that dwelleth in the heauen shall laugh: the Lord shall have the in derisio.

Then shall he speake vnto them in his wrath, & vexe them in his fore displeafure, saying.

Even I haue fet my King vpon Zion mi- ne holie mountaine.

I wil declare the decree: that is, the Lord hathe said vnto me, Thou art my Sonne: this day haue I begotten thee.

Aske of me, & I shall giue thee the heath for thine inheritance, and the cendes of the earth for thy possession.

Thou shalt kruish them with a sceptre of yron, & breake them in pieces like a pot- ters vessel.

PSAL. V.

1 David oppressed with the crueltie of his enemies, and fearing greater dangers, called to God for succour, shewing how requirite it is that God should punish the malice of his adversaries. 7 After being assured of prosperous success, he conceiveth comfort, 12 Concluding that when God should deliver him, others also should be partakers of the same mercies.

6 Arife, & Lord, in thy wrath, and lift vp thy selfe against the rage of mine ene- mies, and awake for me according to the iudgement that thou hast appoin- ted.

7 So shal the Congregation of the people compasse thee about:

8 The Lord shal iudge the people: iudge thou me, & Lord, according to my & righ- teousnes, and according to mine innocen-cise, that is in me. 9 Oh let the malice of the wicked come to an end: but guide thou the usft: for the righteous God tiyeth the hearts and reines.

10 My defence is in God, who preferueth the vpright in heart.

11 God iudgeth the righteous, & him that contemneth God, euerie day.

12 Except his turne, he hathe whet his fwoide: he hathe bent his bowe and made it readie.

13 He hathe also prepared him deadly wea- pons: he wil ordeine his arrowes for them that persecute me.

14 Beholde, he shal trauall with wicked- nes: for he hathe conceiue mischief, but he shal bring for the a lye.

15 He hathe made a pit and digged it, and is fallen into the pit that he made.

16 His mischief shal returne vpon his ow- ne head, and his crueltue shal fall vpon his owne pate.

17 I wil praise the Lord according to his righteousnes, and wil sing praise to the Name of the Lord moste high.

PSAL. XI.

1 This psalme contends two parts. In the first David sheweth how hard afflicted of tentations he fattened, & in how great anguish of minds he was, when Saul did persecute him. 4 Then next he resuyeth that God set him fuccour in his necessities declaring his justice as well in gnaerung the good, and the wicked men, as the whole worlde.

PSAL. XIII.

2 The Lord looked downe from heauen vpon the children of men, to se if there were anie that wolde vnderstand, and feke God.

To the excellent musician I eduthin. A Psalm of David.

saluation.

Yet he is my strength and my saluation, & my defence:
therefore I shal not much be moued.

How long wil ye imagine mischief against a man ye shalbe all

For thy louing kindness is better then li- fet: therefore my lippes shal praise thee.

Thus wil I magnifie thee all my life, and life vp mine hands in thy Name.

My soule shal be satisfied, as with marow and fatnes, and my mouth shal praise thee with joyful lippes,

When I remember thee on my bed, & when I thinke vpon thee in the night wat- ches.

Because thou hast bene mine helper, the- refore vnder the shadow of thy wings wil I reioyce.

My soule cleaueth vnto thee: for thy right hand vpholdeth me.

Therefore they that seke my soule to de- stroy it, they shal go into the lowest par- tes of the earth.

They shal cast him downe with the ed- ge of the swords, & thei shal be a portio for foxes.

rune whereof that Psalme was long

b. I high many crye to their forruses, yet they crye not apparently to God for rem- ade as he did; whome he ch- failed

God to helpe, whf me call unto him in their digers she to vary til that he dead & then raise the vp agame

¶ A song or Psalme of 6 Remain the Exrabite to give instruction, committed to the sonnes of Kjirah for him that excellet upon Sta- lish 2 Leanneth.

O Lord God of my saluació, I crye day and night 3 before thee.

Let my prayer enter into thy presence: incline thine eae vnto my crye.

For my foule is filled with euils, and my life draweth nere to the graue.

I am counted among them that go dow- ne vnto the pit, and am as a man without strength:

6 Fre amòg the dead, like the slaine lying in the graue, whome thou remembrett no more, and they are cut of from thine 4 hand.

6 Thou haft laied me in the lowest pit, in darkness, & in the depe.

7 Thine indignation lieth vpon me, and thou haft vexed me with all thy e waues. Selah.

8 Thou haft put away mine f acquaintan- ce farre fro me, & made me to be abhor- red of them: 9 I am shut vp, and can not get forthe.

9 b Mine eye is forowful through mine af- fliction: Lord, I call daiely vpon thee: I stretche out mine hands vnto thee.

10 Wilt thou shewe a miracle to & dead? on shal the dead rise & praise thee? Selah.

11 Shal thy loung kindenes be declared in the graue 2 or thy faithfulness in destru- ction 2

12 Shal thy wonderous works be known in the darke 3 and thy righteousnes in the land 4 of obliution?

13 But vnto thee haue I cryed, & Lord, and early shal my praice come before thee.

14 Lord, why doest thou reiect my foule, & hidest thy face from me?

15 I am afflicted and at the point of death: from my youth I susser thy terrours, dou- ting of my life.

16 Thine indignations go ouer me, & thy feare hathe cut me of.

17 They came round about me daiely like water, & compassed me together.

PSAL. XXXIX.

3 With manie words deeth the Prophet praise the good- ness of God, 11 For his testament & covenant, that he had made her name him and his elect by Iesus Christ the sonne of David: 12 Then deeth he compleine of the great ruins, and desolation of the kingdoms of Da- uid, so that to the outwards appearance the promes was arise, thou stillest them.

3 Which laieeth the beames of his chabers in the waters, and maketh the cloudes his chariot, and walketh vpon the wings of the winde.

4 Which maketh the spirits his messengers, & a flaming fyre his munitions.

5 He fet the earth vpon her foundations, for y it shal neuer moue.

6 Thou coueredst it with y deepe as with a garment: the waters wolde stand about the mountaines.

7 That thy rebuke they flee: at the voice of thy thunder: they haue awaked.

8 And the mountaines ascend, & the valleys descend to the place which thou hast established for them.

9 But thou hast fet them a bond, which they shal not passe: they shal not returne to cover the earth.

10 He sendeth the springs into the valleys, which runne between the mountaines.

11 They shal giue drinke to all the beasts of the field, and the wilde asses shal quenche their thirst.

12 By these springs shal the foules of the heauen dwell, and sing among the branches.

That I may fe the felicitie of thy chofen, and reioyce in the

We haue finned with our fathers: we haue committed iniquitie, and done wic-kedly.

Our fathers vnderstode not thy worders in Egypt, neither remembered they y mul- titude of thy mercies, but rebelled at the Sea, even at the red Sea.

Neuerthetes he faued them for his Na- mes fake, that he might make his power to be knowen.

their fathers finnes, they shew that they had hope that God according to his promes would pure them. The unethimble goodness of God is yeareeth in this, that he would change the order of nature, rather than his people should not be deliuated, although they were wicked.

And he rebuked the red Sea, and it was dried vp, and he led them in the depe, as in the wilderness.

And he faued them si o the aduersaries hand, and deliuated them from the hand of the enemie.

Then beleued they his wordes, & sing praise vnto him.

But incontinently they forgate his wor- kes: they wasted not for his counsel,

But lusted with concupiscce in the wil- dernes, & tempted God in the desert.

Then he gaue them their desire: but he sent leannes into their foule.

They enuied Moses also in the tentes, Aaron the holie one of the Lord.

Therefore the earth opened and fwallow- ed vp Dachan, and couered the companie of Abiram.

And the fyre was kindled in their assem- blie: the flame burnt vp the wicked.

They made a calfe in Horèb, & worshi- ped the molten image.

Thus they turned their glorie into the similitude of a bullocke, that eateh grass.

They forgate God their Saviour, which had done great things in Egypt, Wonderous works in the land of Ham, and fearful things by the red Sea.

Therefore he minded to destroye them, had not Moses his chofen stand in the breache before hi to turn away his wrath, left he fluide destroye them.

Also they contemned that pleasant land, & beleued not is worde,

But murmured in their tentes, & hear- kened not vnto the voyce of the Lord.

Therefore he lifted vp his had against them, to destroye them in the wilderness,

And to destroye their fede among the nacions, and to scater them throughout the countress.

They ioyned them selues also vnto Baal-peor, & did eat the offrings of the dead.

Thus they provoked him vnto angry with their owne inuentions, and the pla- gue brake in vpon them.

But Phinehas stode vp, and executed iudgement, and the plague was stated.

And it was imputed vnto him for ri- ghteousnes si om generacion to generacio for euer.

They angred him also at the waters of Meribah, so that Moses was punished for their sakes,

Because they vexed his spirit, so that he spake vnadusedly with his lippes.

Neither destroyed they the people, as y Lord had commanded them.

PSAL. CVIII.

This Psalme is composed of two other Psalmes before, the seven and sixth of the sixth. The matter here contained is, 1 That David gives him self with heart and voice to praise the Lord, 2 And assures him self of the promise of God concerning his kingdoms over Israel, and his power against other nations: 11 Who though he sense to forsake us for a time, yet he alone will in the end cast down our enemies.

9 A song of Psalme of David.

1 God, mine heart is prepared, so is my tongue: I will sing & give praise.

2 Awake viole & harpe: I will awake early. I will praise thee, & Lord, among the people, and I will sing vnto thee among the nations.

3 For thy mercie is great above the heaues, and thy trueth vnto the cloudes.

4 Exalt thy self, & God, above the heaues, and let thy glorie be vpon all the earth,

5 That thy beloued maie be deliuered: & helpe with thy right hand and heare me.

6 God hath spoken in his holines: therefore I will reioyce, I shall diuide Shechem and measure the valley of Succoth.

7 What that thou art God ouer all, & so assesses thee thou art glorious. 8 What God by his benesses maketh us partakers of his mercies, he admonisheth us so be earnest in prayer to desire him to continue and finish his graces. 9 At he hath spoken to Samuel concerning me, so will he shewe him self constant, and holte in his promise, so that these nations following shall be subject vnto me.

8 Gilead shall be mine, and Manasseh shall be mine: Ephraim also shall be the strength of mine head: Iuda is my Lawegiuer.

9 "Moab shall be my wasthpotzouer Edom wil I cast out my shoe: vpon Palestina wil I triumph.

Then I called vpon the Name of the Lord, saying, I beseeche

What shall I render vnto the Lord for all his benefices toward of Salomón.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE wonderful love of God toward his Church is declared in this holy forasmuch as the summer and effect of the whole Scriptures is here set forth in these brief sentences, which partly conceive doctrine, and partly maners, and also exhortations to both. Whereof the nine first chapters are as a preface full of grave sentences, and deep mysteret, to allure the hearts of men to the diligent reading of the parables that follow: which are left as a most precious jewel to the Church, of those throst and parables mentioned. King. 4, 3, and were gathered and comms to writing by Salomons servants and indited by him.

This words Proue the, or Parable signifieth a grave & notable fervence, worthie to be kept in memory: and it some time taken in the full parte for a mock, or scorn.

25 Before the mountaines were settled: & before the hilles, was I begotten. 26 He had not yet made the earth, nor the open places, nor the height of the dust in the worlde. 27 When he prepared the heauens, I was there, when he set the compass vpon the depe. 28 When he established the cloudes aboute, when he confirmed the fountaines of the depe. 29 When he gaue his decree to the sea, that the waters shoulde not passe his commandment: when he appointed the foundations of the earth, 30 Then was I with him as a nourisher, and I was daily his delight reioicing alwaie before him, 31 And toke my comfort in the compass of his earth: & my delight is with the children of men. 32 Therefore now hearken, O children, vnto me: for blessed are they that keepe my wayes. 33 Heare instruction, and be ye wise, & refuse it not. blessed is the man that heareth me, watching daily at my gates, & gusing attendance at the postes of my dores. 34 For he that findeth me, findeth life, and shall obtaine fauour of the Lord. 35 But he that sinneth against me, hurteth his owne soule: & all that hate me, loue death.

5 The thoughts of the iuste are right: but the counfels of the wicked are disceitful.

6 The talking of the wicked is to lie in wait for blood: but the mouth of the righteous will deliver them.

7 God overthroweth the wicked, and they are not: but the house of a righteous shall stand.

8 A man shall be commended for his wisdom: but the forward of heart shall be despised.

9 He that is despised, and is his own servant, is better than he that boasteth himself and lacketh bread.

10 A righteous man regardeth the life of his beast: but the mercies of the wicked are cruel.

11 He that tilleth his land, shall be satisfied with bread: but he that followeth the idle, is destitute of understanding.

12 The wicked desireth the net of evils: but the roote of the righteous shall bring forth fruit.

10 A reprove entreth more into him that hathe vnderstanding, then an hundreth stripes into a foole.

11 A fedicious persone feketh onely euil, & a cruel c messenger shal be fent against him.

12 It is better for a ma to mete a beare rob- bed of her whelpes, then f a foole in his folie.

13 *He that rewardeth euil for good, euil shal not departe from his houfe.

14 The beginning of strife is as one that openeth the waters:
therefore or the con- tention be medled with, leaue of.

15 *He that iustiseth the wicked, and he y condemnneth the iust, euen their bothe are abomination to the Lord.

16 Wherefore is there a sprice in the hand of the foole to get wisdom, and he hathe none heart?

17 A friend loueth at all times: and h a bro- ther is borne for adue: frie.

18 A man destitute of vnderstanding i tou- cheth the hand, and becometh suretie for his neighbour.

19 He loueth träfgresio, that loueth strife: and he that exalteth his k gate, feketh de- struction.

20 The frowarde heart findeth no good: and he that hathe a naugheie tongue, shal fall into euil.

21 He that begetteth a foole, getteth him self forowe, and the father of a foole can haue no ioye.

8 What anal. leth is the wic hed to be re- che, sing he fetteth not his mude to wis- dome? h So that he is more then a friend, even a brother y he peth in time of aduerfere. i Read Chap. 6.1 & kifeeth up hi f if ab oar his degre.

22 *A ioyesul heart causeth good health: but a forowful minde dryeth the bones.

23 A wicked man taketh a gift out of the l bofome to wreft the waies of iudge- ment.

24 *Wisfome is in the face of him that hathe vnderstanding: but the eyes of a foole are in the m cornets of the worlde.

25 A foolish fonne is a grief vnto his father, and a *heauines to her that bare him.

26 Surely it is not good to condemn the iuste, nor that the princes shulde fante fo- che n for equitie.

27 He that hathe knowledge, spareth his wordes, and a man of vnderstanding is of an excellent spirit.

28 Euen a foole (when he holdeth his pea- ce) is counted wise, and he that stoppeth his lippes, prudent.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 For the desire thereof he wil a feparate him self to sike it, & with the vile man reproche.

4 The wordes of a mans mouth are like de- pe d waters, & the well spring of wisdom is like a flowing truer.

5 It is not good to c accept the persone of the wicked, to cause the righteous to fall in iudgement.

6 A fooles lippes come with strife, and his mouth calleth for stripes.

7 A fooles mouth is his owne destruction, and his lippes are a snare for his foule.

8 The wordes of a tale bearer are as flatte- rings, and the go downe into the bowels of the bellie.

9 He also that is slouthful in his worke, is euen the brother of him that is a great waiter.

10 The Name of the Lord is a strong towre: the righteous runneth s vnto it, and is ex- alted.

12 *Before destruction the heart of a man is lautie, and before glorie gothi lowli- nes.

13 *He that answereth a matter before he heare it, it is folie and shame vnto him.

14 The spirit of a man wil sustine his in- firmitie: but h a wounded spirit, who can beare it?

15 A wife heart getteth knowledge, and the eare of the wife fekeeth learning.

16 A mans gift i enlargeth him, and lea- deth him before great men.

24 The father of the righteous shall greatly reioyce, & I eshat begeteth a wise childe, shal haue joye of him. 25 Thy father and thy mother shalbe glad, and the that hare thee, shal reioyce. 26 My sonne, giue me thine heart, and let thine eyes detain in my wayes. 27 For a whoreus via depe ditche, & a stra- ge woman qua nat-w pit. 28 Also the llethim waite as for a pray, and the increaseth the transgressors a- mong men. 29
To whome is wo to whome is forowe to whome is strife to whome is murmu- ring to whome are woundes without cau- se to whome is the rednes of the eyes 30 Even to them that tarie long at the wine, to them that go, and feke mixt wine. 31 Loke not thou vpon the wine, when it is red, & when it sheweth his colour in the cuppe, or goeth downe pleasantly. 32 In the end thereof it wil bite like a ser- pent, and hurt like a cockatrice. 33 Thine eyes shal loke vpo strage wome, and thine heart shal speake lewde things. 34 And thou shalt be as one that slepeth in the middles of the yea, and as he that sle- peth in the top of the matt.: 35 They haue striken me, shalt thou say, but I was not sicke: they haue beaten me, but I knewe not, when I awoke: therefore wil I seke it yet shil. CHAP. XXIII. 36 Be not thou enuiou against euil men, nether desire to be with them. 37
For their heart imagineth destructor, and their lipper speake mischief. 38 Through wisdom is an houfe buylded, and with understanding it is established. 39 And by knowledge shal the chambers be filled with all precious, & pleasant riches. 40 A wise man is strong: for a man of vnder- standing encreaseth

his strength. 41 *For with counsel thou shalt enterprise thy warre, and in the multitude of them that can giue counsel, is health. 42 Wisdome is hie to a foole: therefore he can not open his mouth in the gate. 43 He that imagineth to do euil, men shall call him an author of wickednes. 44 The wicked thought of a foole is sinne, and the scornier is an abomination vnto man. 45 If thou be faint in the day of aduersitie, thy strength is small. 46 Deliuer them that are drawn to death: and wilt thou not preferre them that are led to be slaine? 47 If thou say, Beholde, we knewe not of it: he that podereth the hearts, doeth not he vnderstand it; and he that kepeth thy foule, knoweth he it not: wil not he also recompense euery man according to his workers

My sonne, eat thine, for it is good, and the honeycombe, for it is swete vnto thy mouth.

So shall the knowledge of wisdom be vnto thy foule, if thou finde it, and there shall be an end, and thine hope shall not be cut of.

Lay no waite, o wicked man, against the house of the righteous, and spoyle not his resting place.

For a suite man falleth feuen times, & riseth againe: but the wicked fall into mischief.

Be thou not glad when thine enemy falleth, and let not thine heart reioyce when he stumbleth,

Left the Lord se it, and it displease him, and he turne his wrath from him.

*Freat not thy self because of the mali- cious, nether be enuiou at the wicked.

For there shal be none end of plagues to the euil man: the light of the wicked shal- be put out.

My sonne, seare the Lord, and the King, & meddle not with the that are sedicious.

For their destruction shal rise suddenly, & who knoweth the ruine of the s bothe

ALSO THESE THINGS PER- TEINE TO THE WISE, It is not good to haue respect of ante persone in iud- gement.

He that saith to the wicked, Thou art righteous, him shal the people curse, and the multitude shal abhorre him.

But to them that rebuke him, shalbe plea- sure, and vpon them shal come the blessing of goodness.

They shal kisse the lipper of him that answereth vpiight wordes.

Prepare thy worke without, and make ready thy things in the field, and after, buyld thine houfe.

Be not a witness against thy neighbour without cause: for wilt thou deceive with thy lipper

*Say not, I wil do to him, as he hath done to me, I wil recompense euerie man according to his worke.

I passed by the field of the slouthful, & by the vineyarde of the man destitute of vnderstanding.

And lo, it was all growen out with thor- nes, & nettles had courted the face there- of, and the stone wall thereof was broken downe.

Then I behelde, and I considered it wel: I loked vpon it, and received instructio.

Yet a little slepe, a little slumber, a little folding of the hands to slepe.

So thy pouertie cometh as one that ualeth by the way, and thy necessitie li- ke an aimed man.

1 THESE ARE ALSO PARABLES of Salomón, which the a men of Hezekiah King of Iudáh b copied out.

2 The glorie of God is to c conceile a thing secret: but the d
Kings honour is to be as he out a thing.

3 The heauens in height, and the earth in depenes, and the e
Kings heart can no man fear he out.

4 Take the f droffe from the siluer, and there shal procede a vessel for the fines.

5 Take g away the wicked from the King, and his throne shalbe stablished in right- teousnes.

6 Boast not thy self before the King, and stand not in the place of great men.

7 *For it is better, that it be said vnto thee, Come vp hither, the thou to be put lower in the presence of the prince whome thine eyes haue fene.

8 Go not for the hastely to strife, lest thou knowe not what to do in the end thereof, when thy neighbour hathe put thee to shame.

9 D bate thy matter with thy neighbour, & discouer not the secret to another,

10 Lest he that heareth it, put thee to shame, and thine infamie do not h cease.

11 A worde spoke in his place, is like appels of golde with pictures of siluer.

12 He that reproach the wife, & the obe- dient are, & the son, & the king and an or- niment of an glorie.

13 As the colde of the snow in the time of heru st, is a feth'ui meffing; to toem that fnd him: for he refresheth the foute of his masters.

14 A man that b safteth of faif liberalitie, is like h cloudes and wmdc without raine.

15 A prince is pacified by staying i of an- gt, and a foite togue breaketh y m bones.

16 If thou haue foine h honie, eat that is of fficient for thee, lest thou be ouerful, and ve mit it.

17 Withdraw thy fote from thy neigh- bours houle, lest he be weary of thee, and hate thee.

18 A man that beaeth false wines ag sinft his neighbour, is like an hammer & a swor- de, and a sharpe a rowe.

19 Cofidence in ar, vnfaithful man in time of trouble is like a brok n to the and a sl- ding fote.

20 He y taketh away the gaimét in y colde feafon, is like vin g,

21 * If he that hateth thee be hungrie, giue him bread to eat, and if h be thirtie, giue him water to d nke.

22 For thou shalt lay p coles vpon his head, and the Lord shal recompense thee.

23 As the Northwind driueth away the rai- ne, so doeth an angite coftenance y fclan- dering tongue.

24 *It is better to dwell in a corner of the houfe toppe, than with a contentious wo- man in a wide houfe.

25 As are the colde waters to a wearie foule, so n good newes from a farre countrey.

26 A righteous man falling downe before the wicked, is like a troubled well, and a corrupt spring.

27 It is not good to eat much honie. *so to search their owne glorie is not glorie.

28 A man that refraineth not his appetite, is like a citte which

10 The excellent that formed all things, bothe rewardeth the

2 For I haue not learned wisdom, nor at teined to the knowledge of holte things.

3 Who hathhe ascended vp to heauers, and descended Who hathhe gathered the winde in his nit Who hathhe bohnd the waters in a garmee Who hathhe establi shed all ends of the worlde What is his name, & what is his sonnes name, if thou canst tell

4 Euerie worde of God is pure: he is a shield to thofe, that trust in him.

5 Put nothing vnto his wordes, lest he reprove thee, and thou be founde a lyet.

6 Two things haue I requited of thee: de- by me them not before I dye:

7 Remone, farre fro me vanitie and lies: gi- ue me not pouertie, nor riches: fede me with foode conuenient for me,

8 Lest I be ful, and denie thee, and say, Who is the Lord? or lest I be poore and steale, and tallethe Name of my God in vainet.

- 9 Accuse not a seruant vnto his master, lest he elute thee; when thou hast offended:
- 10 There is a generacion that cutseth their father, and doctifnot blesse their mother.
- 11 There is a generacion that are pure in there owne conceit, and ye are not washed from their fithines.
- 12 There is a generacion, whofe eyes are hau- rie, and their eye liddes are lifted vp.
- 13 There is a generacion, whofe teeth are as swordes, and their chawes as knues to eat vp the afflicted out of the earth, and the poore from among min.
- 14 The horfe leache hathhe two daughters which cries, Guie, giue. There be thre things that wil not be satisfied: yea, foure that say not, It is ynough.
- 15 The graue, & the baren wombe, the earth that can not be satisfied with water, and the fyre that saith not, It is ynough.
- 16 The eye that mocketh his father and de- piseth the instructio of his mother, let the rauens of the valley picke it out, and the yong egles eat it.
- 17 There be thre things hid from me: yea, foure that I knowe not.
- 18 The way of an egle in the aire, the waie of a serpent vpon a stone, the ware of a shippe in the middes of the sea, and the way of a man with a maide.
- 19 Suche is the way also of an aduoterous woman: the earteth & wipeth her mouth, and saith, I haue not committed iniqui- tie.
- 20 For thre things the earth is moued: yea, for foure it can not fustine it self:
- 21 For a seruant when he reigneth, and a foole when he is filled with meat,
- 22 For the hareful woman, when she is ma- ried, and for a handmaid that is heere to her masters.
- 23 Thefe be foure fmal things in the earth, yet thei are wife and ful of wisdom:
- 24 The pismires a people not strong, yet prepare they their meat in sommer:
- 25 The conies a people not mightie, yet make they their houfes in the rocke:

Lemuell: The prophecie which his mother taught him.

WHat my sonne! and what the sonne of my wombe! and what, of sonne of my desires!

Gine not thy strength vnto wome, nor thy waies, with vnto destroy Kings.

It is not for Kings, of Lemuel, it is not for Kings to drinke wine, nor for princes strong drink;

Lest he drinke, and forget the decree, and change the iudgement of all the children of affliction.

Gine ye strong drinke vnto him, that is read to perish, and wine vnto them that haue grief of heart.

Let him drinke, that he may forget his pouette, and remember his miscellane no more.

Open thy mouth for the s domme in the cause of all the children of destruction.

Open thy mouth, iudge righteously, and iudge the afflicted, and the poore.

Who shal finde a vertuous woman for her pries is farie about the pearles.

The heart of her housband trusteth in her, and he shal hue no nede of s spoile.

She wil do him good, and not euil all the daies of her life.

She feketh wooll and flaxe, and laboreth cheerfully with her hands.

She is like the thippes of marchants: the bringeth her fode from a farie.

And she riseth, whiles it is yet night: and giveth the poicion to her housholde, and the ordinarie to her maids.

She considereth a field, and getteth it: with the frute of her hands the plateth a vineyarde.

She girdeth her loynes with strength, & strengtheneth her armes.

She felith that her marchandise is good: her candle is not put out by night.

She putreth her hands to the wherue, & her hands handle the spindle.

She stretcheth out her hand to the poore, and putreth for the her hands to the neave.

She feareth not the shewe for her familie, for all her familie is clothed with fkarlet.

She maketh her self carpets: fine linen & purple is her garment.

Her housband is known in the gates, when he sitteth with the Elders of land.

She maketh shetes, and sellet them, & giveth girdels vnto the marchant.

Strength and honour is her clothing, and in the latter day she shal reioyce.

She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and the law of grace is in her tongue.

She ouerseth wares of her housholde, and eateth not the bread of ydenes.

Her children rise vp, and call her blessed, her housband also shal praise her, syng.

Manic daughters haue done vertuously: but thou surmountest them all.

Fauour is discertful, and beautie is vanitie but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shal be praised.

ECCLESIASTES, OR

the Preacher.

THE ARGUMENT.

a Salomon is here called a Preacher, or one that affi-bleth the people, be cause, be a steth the true knowledge of God, & how men og is to prsle that life in his th- siterate world b He condemneth the opinions of all and that set felic-tie in ame shing, but in God alone, se- ing that in this worlde all things are at vanitie and nothing c Salo nor doeth not con- denne man I labour or di- ligence, but shaweth that there is no ful consenta- tion in ame thing under f kvenen, nor in ante creature, for simuche as all things are tristiorn.

Salomon, as a preacher and one that defied to instruct all in the way of saluation, descrieth the deceasuals v inities of this worlde, that man shalde not be adducted to ame the gander the sinne, but rather infirmed with the desire of the heamenle life; therefore he confuteth thropoisons, which set their felic-ties, either in knowledge, or in pleasures, or in dignitie and riches, shewing that man true felic-ties confuteth in that that he is united with God and shal unaye his presence: so that all other things must be reticited, save in as much as the further vs to atteme to this heamen- lie treasure, which is pure and permanent, and can not be found in ame other save in God alone.

2 All things in this worlde are ful of vanitie, and of none endurance. 13 All manas misdeme is but false and grief.

He wordes of the s Preacher, the sonne of David King in Ierusalem.

Vanitie of vanities, faith & Preacher: vanitie of vanities, all is vanitie.

What remaineth vnto ma in all his c trauail, which he fuseteth vnder the sunne.

4 One generation passeth, and another generation succedeth: but the earth remaineth for euer.

5 The sunne riseth, & the sunne goeth downe, & draweth to his place, where he riseth.

6 The s winde goeth toward & South, & co-passeth toward & North: the win le goeth tound about, & returneth by his circuities.

7 All the riuers go vnto the sea, yet the sea is not ful: for the riuers go vnto the piace.

8 One man de-eth after ano- slet, and the earth remain- nth longeth, a- tion to the left dais, which yet is fesseth to corruption eby the sonne, winde and ri- uers he sheen- eith that the greatest labous and longest had an end, and therefore there can be no labour in the worlak. Eclisf.40.

Ecclesiastes.

Who knoweth his heirs 1220/1224

The sea & compaffeth all the earth, fil- leth the vomer thereof, the & power our spings and it- uers into the sea again. The spicheth of times & sea lons & things done in them, which at this haue bene in times paf, fo come thus of paffo again. The spicheth that if anie colde haue are reined to feli- cuse in this worlde by la- bour and fin- die, he chief- ly fhalde haue ohermed it, he canfe he had gffet and ay- des of God thereunto a- bone all other. Man of man- re harhe a de- fire to knowe, and yet is not able to come to the perfec- tion of know- ledge, & is the puriffment of finne, to hum- ble man, and to teache him to depende only vpon God. Man is not a ble by all his diligence to caufe things to go other wife then the de nether can he nounbre the finnes that are committed, puche leffe re- modie them. I that is, vanne things, which ferued vnto pleafure, wherein was no commodit, but grief & trouble of confidence in Wifdome & knowledge can not be come by without great peine of hodie and minde for when a man harhe uretmed to the hefft, yet is his monde near fully content, therefore in this worlde is no true felicit.

7 whence theireturne, and go.

All things are ful of labour: man can not utter it: the eye is not fanffhed with faing, nor the care filled with hearing.

8 What is it that harhe bene? that that fhalbe: & what is it that harhe bene done that which fhalbe done: and there is no new thing vnder the funne.

Is there anie thing, whereof one may fay, Beholde this, it is new? it harhe bene already in the olde time & was before ve.

There is no memorie of & former, nether fhall there be a remembrance of the later that fhallbe, with them that fhall come after.

9 I the Preacher haue bene King ouer Ifrael in Ierufalem:

And I haue giuen mine heart to teach & finde out wifdome by all things that are done vnder the beauen, (this fore trauail harhe God giuen to the fonnes of men, to humble them thereby)

I haue confidered all the workes that are done vnder the funne, and beholde, all vanitie, and vexacion of the fpirit.

That which is & croked, can none make ftraght: & that fwaiileth, can not be nobred.

I thought in mine heart, & faid, Beholde, I am become great, and excel in wifdome all them that haue bene before me in Ierufalem: and mine heart harhe fene muche wifdome and knowledge.

And I gaue mine heart to knowe wifdome & knowledge, madnes & foolifhnes: I knewe alfo & this is a vexacio of the fpirit.

For in & multitude of wifdome is muche = grief: & he that encreafeth knowledge, encreafeth forowe.

That is, vanne things, which ferued vnto pleafure, wherein was no commodit, but grief & trouble of confidence in Wifdome & knowledge can not be come by without great peine of hodie and minde for when a man harhe uretmed to the hefft, yet is his monde near fully content, therefore in this worlde is no true felicit.

CHAP. II.

Pleasures, fumptuous buydings, riches and poffiffes are but vanitie. The wife and the foole haue be the one and, muching the bedelie death.

I Said in mine heart, Go to now, I wil proue a thee with ioye: therefore take thou pleafure in pleafant things: & beholde, this alfo is vanitie.

I faid of laughter, Thou art mad: and of ioye, What is this that thou doeft?

I foghe in mine heart "to giue my felf to wine, & to lead mine heart in wifdome, and to take holde of folie, til I might fe where is that goodnes of the children of men, which they "enioye vnder the funne: the whole number of the daies of their life.

I haue made my great workes: I haue bu- ylt me houfes: I haue plated me vineyards.

I haue made me gardens and "orchardes, and planted in them trees of all fruite.

I haue made me cisternes of water, to watter therewith the woods that growe with trees.

7 I haue gotten seruantes & maids, and had children borne in the house: also I had great possession of beees and sheepe above all that were before me in Ierusalem.

8 I haue gathered vnto me also siluer and golde, and the chief treasures of Kings & prouinces: I haue provided me me fingers and women fingers, and the & delites of the fountaines of men, as a woman a taken captiue, and women taken captiues.

9 And I was great, and encreased above all that were before me in Ierusalem: also my wisdom remained with me.

10 And what forer mine eyes desired, I withheld it not from the! I withdrew not mine heart from any ioye: for mine heart reioyced in all my labour: and this was my & portion of all my travail.

11 The I looked on all my workes that mine hands had wrought, and on the travail that I had labored to do: and beholde, all a vanitie and vexacion of the spirit: and there is no profite vnder the sunne.

12 And I turned to beholde wisdom, & madnes and folie: (for who is the man that wil come after the King in things, which men now haue done?)

13 Then I sawe that there is profite in wisdom, more then in folie: as the light is more excellent then darkenes.

14 For the wife mans eyes are in his head, but the foole walketh in darkenes: yet I knowe also that the same condition fall- leth to them all.

15 Then I thought in mine heart, It befall- leth vnto me, as it befall-eth to the foole. Why therefore do I the labour to be more wife? And I said in mine heart, that this also is vanitie.

16 For there shall be no remembrance of the wife, nor of the foole for euer. for that that now is, in the daies to come shall all be forgotten. And how dyeth the wife man, as doeth the foole?

17 Therefore I hated life: for the worke & is wrought vnder & sunne is grievous vnto me: for all a vanitie, & vexacion of the spirit.

18 I hated also all my labour, wherein I had travailed vnder & sunne, which I shall leave to the man that shall be after me.

19 And who knoweth whether he shall be wife or foolish? yet shall he haue rule ouer all my labour, wherein I haue travailed, & wherein I haue shewed my self wife vnder the sunne. This is also vanitie.

20 Therefore I went about to make mine heart a abhorre all the labour, wherein I had trauailed vnder the funne.

21 For there is a man whose trauail is in wifdome, & in knowledge and in equitie: yet to a ma that harhe not trauailed here- in, fhal he a gue his portion: this also is vanitie and a great grief.

3 A time to flay, and a time to heale a time to breake downe, and a time to buy lde.

4 A time to wepe, and a time to laugh: a time to mourn, and a time to dance.

9 What p. of the ha the that woketh, of y thing wherein he traualeth?

10 I haue fene the trauail that God ha the gmen to the f. nnes of mcn to humble them thereby.

11 He ha the made eerie thing beaut. ful in his time: also he ha the fet the e worlde in their heart, yet can not man finde out the worke that God ha the wrogt from the beginning even to the end.

12 I knowe that there is nothing good in the, but to reioyce, & to do good in his life.

13 And also that euerie and cateth and drin-keth, and fe: th the commod. tie of all his labour, this is the e gct of God.

14 I knowe that whafoeuer God fhald do, it fhaldbe foreuerr to it can no man adde, and frô it can none diminish: for God ha the done it, y they fhald feare before him.

15 What is that that ha the bene - that is now: & that that fhaldbe, ha the now bene: for God requereth that which is paft.

16 And moreover I haue fene vnder the funne the place of judgement, where was wickednes, and the place of iustice where a tinitie.

17 I thought in mine heart, God wil iudge the suite & the wicked, for time is a there for curie pu. pofe and for euerie worke.

18 I considered in mine heart the flate of the children of men that God had purged them yet to fe to, they are in the fel- uer a beafts.

19 For the condition of the children of me, and the conditio of beaftes are eue as one conditio vnto them. As the one dyeth, fo dyeth the other, for they haue all one bre- ath, and there is no excellence of man a- boue the beaft, for all n vanitie.

20 All go to one place, and all was of the duft, an all fhald retune to the duft.

21 Who knoweth whether the spirit of man afcende vpward, and the spirit of the beaft defcend downward to the earth?

D E not a rash with thy mouth, nor let thine heart be hastie to vter a thing before God: for God is in the heauens, and thou art on y earth: therefore let thy wordes be b fewe.

For as a dreame cometh by the multitude of busines: so the voyce of a foole is in the multitude of wordes.

When thou hast vowed a vowe to God, deferre not to pay it: for he delsteth not in fooles, paye therefore y thou hast vowed.

It is better that thou shuldest not vowe, then that thou shuldest vowe and not paye it.

Suffer not thy mouth to make thy d flesh to sinne: nether say before the e Angel, that this is ignorance: wherefore shal God be angrie by thy voyce, & destroye the worke of thine hands.

For in the multitude of dreames, & vanities are also manie wordes: but feare thou God.

8 And the s abundance of the earth is ouer all: the King h also confseth by the field that is tilled.

9 He that loueth siluer, shal nor be satisfied with siluer, & he that loueth riches, shalbe without the frute thereof: this also is vanitie.

10 Whé goods encrease, they are encreased that eat them: and what good cometh to the owners thereof, but the beholding thereof with their eyes?

11 The slepe of him that trauaileth, is fwete, whether he eat litle or muche: but the facietie of the riche wil not suffer him to slepe.

12 There is an euil sickenes that I haue sene vnder the sunne: to wit, riches k restrued to the owners thereof for their euil.

13 And these riches perish by euil trauail, & he be getteth a sonne, and in his hand is nothing.

14 As he came forth of his mothers belly, he shal returmenaked to go as he came, & shal beare away nothing of his labour, which he has he caused to pass by his had.

15 And this also is an euil sickenes that in all pointes as he came, so shal he go, and what profit: has he he that he has he trauailed for the n winde?

17 Beholde then, what I haue sene good, that it is comelie to o eat, and to drinke, & to take pleasure in all his labour, wherein he trauaileth vnder the sunne, y whole nober of the dayes of his life, which God giueth him: for this is his portion.

18 Also to euerie man to whome God has he giuen riches and treasures, and giueth him power to eat thereof, and to take his parte, and to enioye his labour: this is the gift of God.

19 Surely he wil not muche remember the dayes of his p life, because God answereth to the ioye of his heart.

CHAP. VI.

The miserable estate of him to whome God has he giuen riches, and not the grace to use them.

1 There is an euil, which I sawe vnder the sunne, and it is muche among me:

3 If a man beget an hundreth children and liue manie yeres, and the dayes of his yeres be multiplied, and his foule be not b satisfied with good things, and he be not e buried, I say that an vntimelie fiute is better then he.

4 It is better to go to the houfe of f mour- ning, then to go to the houfe of feafting, because this is the end of all m.n. and the luing fhal lay it to his heart.

5 Angie is better then laughter: for by a fad loke the heait is made better.

6 The heart of the wife is in the houfe of mourning: but the heart of fooles is in the houfe of mirth.

7 Better it is to heare the rebuke of a wife man, then that a ma fshulde heare the fong of fooles.

8 For like the noife of the d thornes vnder the pot, fo n the laughter of the foole. this also is vanitie.

9 Surely oppresio maketh a wife ma mad: and the rewarde deftroiyeh the heart.

10 The f end of a thing is better then the beginning thereof, or the pacient in fpirit is better then the proude in fpirit.

11 Be not y of an hafte fpirit to be angrie: for angre refteh in the bofome of fooles.

16 In the day of wealth be of good comfort, & in the day of affliction confier: God also hathe made this contrary to that, to the intent: that ma fshulde finde h nothing after him.

17 I haue fene all things in the daies of my vanitie: there is a iustie man that peritheth in his l iustice, and there is a wicked man that continueth long in his malice.

18 Be not thou iustie ouermuche, nether make thy self ouer wife: wherefore fshul- deft thou be defolate?

19 Be not thou wicked ouermuche, nether be thou foolish: wherefore fshuldefth thou perish not in thy time?

20 It is good that thou late holde on o this: but yet withdrawe not thine hand from p that: for he that feareth God, fhall come forth of them all.

21 Wifdome fhall ftrenghen the wife man more then ten mightie princes that are in the citte.

25 All this haue I proued by wifdome: I thoght I wil be wife, but it went faire from me.

27 I haue compaffed about, bethe I and mine heart to knowe and to enquire and to fear- che wifdome and reason, and to knowe the wickednes of folie, and the foolishnes of madnes.

2 Haste not to go forthe of his fight: stand not in an euil thing: for he wil do whatso- euer pleaseth him.

3 Where the worde of the King is, there is power, and who shal say vnto him, What doest thou?

4 He that kepeth the commandement, shal knowe none euil thing, and the heart of the wife shal knowe the e time and iud- gement.

5 For to euerie purpose there is a time and iudgement because the f miserie of man is great, vpon him.

6 For he knoweth not that which shalbe: for who can tel him when it shalbe?

7 Man is not lord a ouer the spirit to re- teine the spirit: nether hathe he power in the day of death, nor deluerance in the batel, nether shal wickednes deluer the possesses thereof.

8 All this haue I fene, and haue giuen mine heart to euerie worke, which is wrought vn- der the sunne, and I sawe a time that man ruleth ouer man to his owne h hurt.

9 And likewise I sawe the wicked buryed, and i they returned, and they that came from the holte k place, were yet forgotten in the citie where they had done right: this also is vanitie.

10 Because sentence against an euil worke is not i executed speedely, therefore the he- art of the children of men is fully set in the to do euil.

11 Thogh a sinner do euil an hüdreth times, and God prolongeth his dayes, yet I knowe that it shalbe wel with them that feare the Lord, and do reuerence before him.

12 But it shal not be wel to the wicked, nether shal he prolong his dayes: the shalbe like a shadowe, because he feareth not be- fore God.

13 There is a vanitie, which is done vpo the earth, that there be righteous men to who- me it cometh according to the m worke of the wicked: and there be wicked men to whome it cometh according to the worke of the iuste: I thoghe also that this is vanitie.

14 And I praised ioye: for there is no good- nes to man vnder the sunne, saue o to eat and to drinke and to reioyce: for this is adioyned to his labour, the dayes of his li- fe that God hathe giuen him vnder the sunne.

15 When I applied mine heart to knowe wislome, and to beholde the business that is done on earth, that nether day nor night the eyes of man take slepe,

17 Then I beleide y whole worke of God, that ma can not finde out the worke that is wrought vnder the sunne. for the which man laboreth to feke it, and can not fin- de it: yea, and thogh the wife man thunke to knowe it, he can not finde it.

CHAP. IX.

1 By no outward thing can man knowe whome God lo- werth or hateth. 12 No man knoweth his end. 16 Wis- dome excelleth strength.

2 I haue suerly giuen mine heart to all this, and to declare all this, that the iuste, & the wafe, and their workes are in the hand of God, & no man knoweth either loue or a hatred of all that is before them.

3 All things come alike to all: and the same condition is to the iuste and to the wicked, to the good and to the pure, & to the pol- luted, & to him that sacrificeth, & to him that sacrificeth not: as is the good, so is the sinner, he that sweareth, as he that feareth an othe.

4 This is euil among all that is done vn- der the sunne, that there is one b condi- tion to all, and also the heart of the sonnes of men is ful of euil, and madnes is in their hearts whiles they liue, and after that, they go to the dead.

5 Surely whosoeuer is ioyned to all the li- uing, there is hope: for it is better to a cli- uing dog, then to a dead lyon.

6 For the liuing knowe that they shal dye, but the dead knowe nothing at all: nether haue they ante more a reward: for their remembrance is forgotten.

7 Also their loue, and their hatred, & their enue is now perished, and they haue no more portion foreues, in all that is done vnder the sunne.

8 Go, eat thy bread with ioye, & drinke thy wine with a cheerful heart: for God now d accepteth thy workes.

9 At all times let thy garments be e white, and let not oyle be lacking vpon thine head.

10 "a Reioyce with the wife whome y hast loued all the dayes of the life of thy va- nitie, & God hathe giuen thee vnder the sunne all the dayes of thy vanitie: for this is thy portion in the life, & in thy travail wherein thou laborest vnder the sunne.

11 All that thine hand shal finde to do, do it with all thy power: for there is nether worke nor imention, nor knowledge, no wislome in the graue whether thou goest.

12 I returned, & I sawe vnder the sunne that the race is not to the swift, nor the battel to the strog, nor yet bread to the wife, nor also riches to men of vnder standing, nether yet fauour to men of knowledge: but time and chance cometh to them all.

13 I haue also fene this wifidome vnder the funne, and it is great vnto me. 14 A little citie and fewe men in it, and a great King came against it, and compaf- sed it about, and buylded fortres against it. 15 And there was founde therein a poore and wife man, and he defloured the citie by his wifidome: but none remtmbred this poore man. 16 Then said I, Better is wifidome then strength: yet the wifidome of the poore is despised, and his wordes are not heard. 17 The wordes of the wife are more heard in quietnes, then the crye of him that ru- leth among fooles. 18 Better is wifidome then weapons of war- re: but one finner deftroyeth much good.

CHAP. X.

The difference of foolishnes and wifidome. 11 A filan- derer is like a serpent that can not be charmed. 16 Of foolish Kings, and drunken princes. 17 And of good Kings and princes.

1 D Ead flies cause to stinke, and putrifie the ointment of the apotic arte: so doeth a little folie him that is in estimation for wifidome, and for glorie.

2 The heart of a wife ma is at his right had: but the heart of a foole is at his left nand. 3 And also whe the foole goeth by the way, his heart falleth, and he b telleth vnto all that he is a foole.

4 If the c spirit of him that ruleth, tife vp against thee, leaue not thy place: for gen- tlenes pacifieth great finnes.

5 There is an euil that I haue fene vnder the funne, as an d error that procedeth fro the face of him that ruleth.

6 Folie is set in great excellencie, and the c riche set in the fowe place.

7 I haue fene seruants on horses and prin- ces walking as seruants on the grounde.

8 He that diggeth a pit, shal fall into it, & he that breaketh the hedge, a serpent shal bite him.

9 He y remoueth stones, shal hurt him self thereby, &c he that cueteth wood, shalbe in danger thereby.

10 If the yron be blunt, and one hath not whet the edge, he must then put to more f strength: but the excell. nce to direct a thing is wifidome.

11 If the serpent bite, when he is not char- med: no better is a babler.

12 The wordes of the mouth of a wife man haue grace: but the lippes of a foole denou- re him self.

13 The beginning of y wordes of his mou- the is foolishnes, and the latter end of his mouth is wicked madnes.

14 For the foole multiplieth wordes, saying, Man knoweth not what shalbe: and who can tel him what shalbe after him? 15 The labour of the foolish doeth weary him: for he knoweth not to go into the c citie. 16 Wo to thee, o land, when thy King is a b childe, and thy princes eat in the mor- ning. 17 Bl. sed art thou, o land, when thy King is the sonne of nobles, and thy princes eat in time, for strength and not for dron- kennes. 18 By slouthfulnes y rooffe of the house go- eth to decay, and by the ydlenes of the hands the house droppeth through. 19 Thei prepare bread for laughter, and wine comforteth the liung, but siluer an- swereth to all. 20 Curse not the Kig, no nor in thy thought, nether curse the riche in thy b.d cham- ber: for the foule of the heauen shal cary the voice, & that which hathe wings, shal declare the matter.

CHAP. XII.

To think on God to youth and not to defferve till age. The foule returned to God as if it came in the gyri of God and enlisteth in fearing him and keeping his com- mandments.

R Remember now thy Creator in the dates of thy youth, whiles the evil dates come not, nor the yeres approche, wherein thou shalt say, I have no pleasure in them:

Whiles the sunne is not darke, nor the light, nor the moone, nor the starres, nor the clouds returne after the rain:

When the kins of the house shall trem- ble, and the strong men shall bowe them selues, and the grinders shall cease, becau- se their are few, and they waze darke that loke out by the windows:

And the stores shall be shut without by the bas, soinde of the grinding, and he shall rise up at the voice of the binder & all the daughters of singing shall be a- based.

Also the shalbe afraued of the hie thing, and feare shalbe in the way, and the almende the shal a fiorish and the grasshopper shall be a burden, and concu- piscence shalbe druten away, for man goeth to the house of his age, and the mourn- ers go about in the street.

6 Whiles the silver corde is not length- ened, nor the golden ewer broken, nor the sprich broke at the well, nor the whi- le broken at the cistine.

7 And dust returne to the earth as it was, and the spirit returne to God that ga- ue it.

8 Vanitie of vanities, faith the Preaches, all v vanitie.

9 And the more wise the Preacher was, the more he taught the people knowledge, & caufed them to hears, & searched for the, and prepared manie parables.

10 The Preacher foght to finde out plea- sant wolves, & an upright writing, and the wovels of truth.

11 The wolves of the wise are like goades, and like nailes fast, ned by the matters of the assemblies, who are gird by one pa- stour.

12 And of other things besides these, my son- ne, take thou hede, for there is none end in making manie-bolies and much reading is a wearines of the flesh.

13 Let us heare the end of all: feare God & kepe his commandments: for this is the whole dower of man.

14 For God wil bring eunie worke vnto judgerme, with eunie feuer thing, whe- ther it be good or evil.

ISAIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

God, according to his promes Deut. 18, 15, that he wolds never leave his Church destinee of a Prophet, but he from time to time accomplished the same: whose office was not onely to declare vnto the people the things to come, whereof they had a special reuelation, but also to interpret & declare the Law, and to apply particularly the doctrine, contended briefly therein, to the visible & profete of those, to whom they thought it chiefly to appertine, and as the time and state of things required. And principally in the declaration of the Lawe they had respect to the things, which were the grounds of their doctrine: First to the doctrine contended briefly in the twotables: secondly to the promises & threatenings of the Law; thirdly, to the covenant of grace & reconciliation, grounded vpon our Saviour Iesus Christ, who is the end of the Law. Whereunto this neither added nor diminished, but faithfully expounded the sense and meaning thereof. And according as God gave them understanding of things, they applied the promises particularly for the comfort of the Church and the members thereof, and also denounced the menaces against the enemies of the same: not for any care or regard to the enemies, but to assure the Church of their sauergards by the destruction of their enemies. And as touching the doctrine of reconciliation they have more clearly intreated it then Moses, and set forth more lively Iesus Christ, in whom this covenant of reconciliation was made. In all these things Isaiah did excell all the Prophetes, and was most diligent to set out the same, with most vehement admonitions, reprehensions, and consolations: ever applying the doctrine, as he sawe that the disease of the people required. He declares also manne notable prophecies which he had received of God, as touching the promes of the Messiah, his office, and his kingdoms. Also of the favour of God toward his Church, the vocation of the Gentiles, and their vision with the Lewes. Which are as most principal points contended in this book, and a gathering of his sermons that he preached. Which after certain dates that they had stand vpon the Temple dore (for the maner of the Prophetes was to set vp the summe of their doctrine for certain days that the people might the letter mark it, as Isa. 8, 1. & Habak. 2, 2.) the Priests take it down and reserved it among their registers: and so by Gods providence these bokes were preserved as a monument to the Church for ever. As touching his persone and time, he was of the Kings Stocke: for Amos, his father was brother to Azariah King of Judah, as the best writers agree, and prophesied more than 64 yeres from the time of Vxxxiah vnto the reigne of Manasseh, whose father in lawe he was (as the Elrewes write) and of whom he was put to death. And in reading of the Prophetes this one thing among other is to be observed, that they speak of things to come as though they were now past, because of the certain thereof, and that they colde not but come to passe, because God had ordained them in his secret counsel, and so revealed them to his Prophetes.

12 And the harpe and viole, timbrel, and pi- pe, and wine are in their feaftes: but they regarde not the o worke of g Lord, nether confider the worke of his hands.

13 Therefore my people is gone into cap- tiuitie, becaufe they had o no knowledge, and the glorie thereof are men famshed, & the multitude thereof is dried vp with thift.

14 Therefore o hel hath enlarged it felf, and hath opened his mouth, without meafure, and their glorie, and their multi- tude, and their pompe, and he that reioy- ceth among them, fhall defcende vnto it.

25 Therefore is the wrath of the Lord kin- dled again: his people, & he hathe ſtret- ched out his e hand vpon them, and hathe ſintten them that g mountains did tié ble: and their karcaſes were torne in the middes of the ſtretes, & for all this his wrath was not turned away, but his hand was ſtretched out ſtil.

26 And he will lift vp a ſigne f vnto the na- tions a farre, and wil hife vnto them from the end of the earth: & beholde, they ſhal come haſtely with ſpede.

27 None shal e fame nor fall among them: none shal flumber

The munition also shal cease from Ephraim, & the kingdoms from Damafcus, and the remnant of Arám shalbe as the glorie of the children of Ifraél, faith the Lord of hostes.

And in that day the glorie of Iaakóh shalbe impoueriffed, and the fatnes of his flesh shal be made leane.

The earth shalbe cleane emptied, and ve- terly spoyled: for the Lord hathe spoken this worde.

Therefore shall the words of the Lord be vnto them precept line, there a little there a little, that they may go, and fill backward, and be broken and be finared and be taken.

Wherefore, he ate the words of the Lord, ye scornful men y rule this people, which is at Scrufalem.

Because ye have said, We have made a c covenant with death, & & hell are we at agreement: though a scourge runne ouer, & paise through, it shall not come at vs: for we have made a fathode our refuge, and vndit vanitie are we hid,

Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Beholde, I will lay in Zion a stone, a try ed stone, a precious corner stone, a sure fundacion. He that beleuceth, I shall not make heste.

Judgement also will I laye to the rule, & eighteousnes to the belace, and the a haile shall swepe away the vine confidence, and the waters shall ouerslowe the secret place.

And your covenant with death shall be disannulled, & your agreement with hell shall not stand: when a scourge shall runne ouer and paise through, then shall ye be troude downe by it.

When it paiseth ouer, it shall take you away for it shall paise through euerie morning in the day, and in the night, and there shall be oneity ye are to make ye to vnderstand the hearing.

For the bed is threict that it can not suffise, and the couering narowe that one can not wrap him self.

For the Lord shall stand as in mount a Perazim: he shall be wrath as in the valley of Gibeon, & he may do his worke, his strange worke, and bring to paise his acte, his strange acte.

Now therefore be no mockers, lest your bonds increas: for I have heard of the Lord of hostes a consumption, euen determined vpon the whole earth.

Hearken ye, and heare my voyce: hearke ye, and heare my speache.

Doeth the plow man plow all the day, to sowe doeth he opé, and breake the clottes of his giouade.

When he hathe made it a plaine, wil he not then sowe the fitches, and sowe cummin, and cast in wheat by measure, & the appointed barley and rye in their place.

For his God doeth instruct him to have discrecion, and doeth teache him.

For fitches shall not be threshed with a threshing instrument, nether shall a cart

another, so that his chosen side is beaten, and tryed, but not whole be turned about vpon the cummin: but the fitches are beaten out with a staffe, and cummin with a rod.

Bread come when it is threshed, he doeth not alway thresh it, nether doeth the whole of his cast shall make anyse, nether will he breake it with the tethe thereof.

This also cometh from the Lord of hostes, which is wonderful in counsel, excellent in works.

them that follows the traditions of men.

but I will bring the altar into distress, and there shall be heaviness & scrow, and it shall be vnto me like an altar.

And I will besege thee as a circle, & fight against thee, on a mount, & will cast vp ramparts against thee.

So shall thou be humbled, & shall speak out of the ground, and thy speache shall be out of the dust. thy voyce also shall be out of the ground like him that hathe a spirit of disunation, and thy talking shall whisper out of the dust.

Moreover, the multitude of thy strangers shall be like smale dust, and the multitude of strong men shall be as chaffe that paiseeth away, and it shall be in a moment, eann suddenly.

Thou shalt be visited of Lord of hostes with thundre, and shaking, and a great noyse, a whirlwind, and a tempest, and a slaine of a deuouring fyte.

And the multitude of all the nations & fight against the altar, shall be as a dreame avision by night: euen all they that make the warre against it, and strong holds against it, and laye sege vnto it.

And it shall be like as an hégie man dreameth, and beholde, he eateeth and when he awaketh, his foule is emptie: or like as a thirstie to an dreameth, and lo, he is drinking, and when he awaketh, beholde, he is faine, and his foule longeth: so shall the multitude of all nations be that fight against mount Zion.

Stay your selues, and wonder: they are blinde, & make ye blinde: they are drunken, but not with want: they stagger, but not by strong drinke.

For the Lord hathe couered you with a spirit of slumber, and hathe shot vp your eyes: the Prophetes, and your chief Secrs, hathe be couered.

And the vision of them all is become vnto you, as the wordes of a booke that is sealed vp, which they deliver to one that can read saying, Read this, I pray thee. Then shall he say, I can not: for it is sealed.

z This threat- ing is againft the Affyrians, the chief en- mits of the people of God a To drive thee to nothig; and thus God con-funeth the wicked by y manne, where- by he ele- feth his.

h Ye ſhal refol- ce at the de- droction of your enemies, as they that king for fuyē of the ſolemne feaſt, which he ges in the out- ning.

18 Yet therefore wil y Lord waite, that he may haue t mercy vpon you, and therefo- re wil he be exalted, that he may haue có- paſſion vpon you: for the Lord u the God of e iudgement. Bleſſed are all they that waite for him.

19 Surely a people ſhal dwell in Zió n, or in Ierufalém: thou ſhalt wepe no more: he wil certainly haue mercie vpó thee at y voy- ce of thy crye: whē he heareth thee, he wil anſwer thee.

20 And when the Lord hathe giue you the bread of aduerſitie, and the water of affli- ctió, thy raine ſhalbe no more kept backe, but thine eyes ſhalſe thy 'raine.

21 And thine eares ſhal heare a worde be- hinde thee, ſaying, This is the way, 'wal- ke ye in it, when thou turneſt to the right hand, and when thou turneſt to the left.

22 And ye ſhal 'pollute the couering of the images of ſiluer, and the riche ornament of thine images of golde, or caſt the away as a menſtruous cloth, and thou ſhalt fay vnto it, a Get thee hence.

23 Then ſhal he giue raine vnto thy fede, when thou ſhalt fowe the grofide, & bread of the increafe of the earth, and it ſhalbe fat and as oyle: in that day ſhal thy cartel be fed in large paſtures.

24 The oxen alſo and the yong affes, that til the grounds, ſhal eat cleane prouendre, which is winowed with the ſhoouel and with the fanne.

25 And vpon euerie hie a mountaine, and vpon euerie hie hil ſhal there be riuers or ſtreames of waters, in the day of the great ſlaughter, when the towers ſhal fall.

26 Moreouer, the light of the moone ſhalbe as the light of the y funne, and the light of the funne ſhal be ſeuē folde, and like the light of ſeuē dayes in the day that the Lord ſhal binde vp the breache of his people, & heale the ſtroke of their wofide.

27 Beholde, a the Name of the Lord com- meth from farre, his face is burning, and the burden thereof u heauie: his lippe are ful of indignacion, and his tongue u as a deuouring fyre.

28 And his ſpirit u as a riuer y ouerſtoweth vp to y necke: it diuideth afondre, to fan- ne the nations with the fanne of a vanitie, and there ſhalbe a bridle to cauſe them to erre in the chawes of the people.

29 But there ſhalbe a ſong vnto you as in the b night, whē a ſolemne feaſt is kept: & gladnes of heart, as he that cometh with a pipe to go vnto the mount of the Lord, to the mightie one of Ifraél.

30 And the Lord ſhal caufe his glorious voyce to be heard, & ſhal declare the ligh- ting downe of his arme with the angre of his countenance, and flame of a dououring fyre, with ſcattering & tempeſt, and hai- le ſtones.

31 For with the voyce of the Lord ſhal Af- ſhúr be deſtroyed, which ſmote with the c rodde.

32 And in euerie place that the ſtaffe ſhal paſſe, it ſhal d cleane faſt, which the Lord ſhal lay vpon him with e tabrets and harpes: and with battels, or lifting vp of hands ſhal he fight e againſt it.

33 Fors Tóphet is prepared of olde: it is e- ué prepared for the b King: he hathe ma- de it i depe and large: the burning the- roof is fyre & muche wood: the breth of the Lord, like a riuér of brimſtone, doeth kindle it.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 He curſah them that forſake God, and loke for the hel- pe of men.

2 WO vnto them that a go downe in- to Egypt for helpe, and ſtay vpon horſes, and truſt in charcettes, becauſe they are manie, and in horfemen, becaufe they lie very ftrong: but: thei loke not vnto the holie one of Ifraél, not b foke vnto the Lord.

3 But he yet is e wifelt: therefore he wil bring euil, and not turne backe his worde, but he wil arife againft the houfe of the wicked, and againft the helpe of them that worke vanitie.

4 Now the Egyptians are men, & not God, and their horfes fleth and not fpirit: and when the Lord fhall ftreche out his hand, the e helper fhall fall, and he that is holpé fhall fall, and thei fhall altogethcr faile.

5 For thus hathe the Lord fpoken vnto me, As the lion or lions whelpc roareth vpon his praie, againft whom: if a multitude of fhepherds be called, he wil not be afrai- de at their voice, nether wil humble him felf at their noife: fo fhall the Lord of ho- ftes come e downe to fight for mount Zi- ón, and for the hill thereof.

6 As birdes that ftie, fo fhall the Lord of hoftes defend Ierufalém: by defending and deliuering, by pafing through & ptefer- uing it.

7 O ye children of Ifraél, turne againe, in afmuchc as ye are f

Our redeemer, the Lord of hostes is his Name, the holy one of Israel.

Sit stil, and get thee into darkenes, & daughter of the Chaldeans: for thou shalt no more be called, The ladie of kingdomes.

I was wrath with my people: I haue polluted mine inheritance, and giuen them into thine hand: thou didest shewe them no h mercie, but thou didest lay thy very heaue yoke vpon the ancient.

And thou saidest, I shalbe a ladie forever, so that thou didest not set thy minde to these things, nether didest thou remember the latter end thereof.

Therefore now heare, thou that art giuen to pleasures, & dwellest earteles, She saith in her heart, I am and none els: I shal not sit as a widow, nether shal knowe & loose of children.

But these two things shal come to thee suddenly on one day, the loose of children and widdowhead: they shal come vpon thee in their perfection, for the multitude of thy diuinations, & for the great abundance of thine inchanters.

For thou hast trusted in thy wickedness: thou hast said, None seeth me. Thy h wif- dome & thy knowledge, that haue caused thee to rebell, and thou hast said in thine heart, I am, and none els.

Therefore shal euil come vpon thee, and thou shalt not know the morning thereof: destruction shal fail vpo thee, which thou

Thou art wearied in the multitude of thy counsels: let now the astrologers, the starre gafers, & pronosticatouers stand vp, and saue thee from these things, that shal come vpon thee.

Beholde, they shalbe as stubble: the fyre shal burne them: that shal not deliver their owne lues: from the power of the flames: there shal be no coles to warme at, nor light to fit by.

Thus shal they ferue thee, with whome thou hast wearied thee, eue thy marchants from thy youth: euery one shal wander to his owne quater: none shal saue thee.

1 The hypocrisie of the Jews is reproved. 1: The Lord alone will be worshipped. 2: Of their delusurance out of Babylon.

CHAP. XLIX.

The Lord exhorteth all nations to believe his promises & Christ in the salutes of all that believe, and will deliver them from the tyrannies of their enemies.

1 H. Eare y. me, o yles, & I eakke, ye peo- ple fro farre. The Lord hathe called me from the wombe, and made mention of my name from my mothers beile.

3 And said vnto me, Thou art my seruant, Israel, for I wil be glorious in thee.

4 And I said, I have labored in vain: I ha- ue spent my strength in vain and for no- thing: but my judgement with the Lord, and my works with my God.

5 And now faith the Lord, that formed me fro the wombe to be his seruant, that I make bring Iaskob againe to him (though Israel be not gathered, yet shall I be glori- ous in the eyes of the Lord: and my God shalde my strength)

6 And he said, It is a finale thing that thou shuldest be my seruant, to taste vp the tribes of Iaskob, and to restore the defola- tions of Israel. I wil also give thee for a light of the Gentiles, that thou matest be my saluacion vnto the end of the worlde.

7 Thus faith the Lord the redemer of Isra- él, & his Hole one, to him that is de- spised in soule, to a nation that is abhorred, to a seruant of rulers, Kings shall be, and arrise, and princes shall worship, because of the Lord, that is faithful, and the Hole one of Israel, which hathe chosen thee.

8 Thus faith the Lord, In an acceptable time haue I heard thee, and in a day of sal- uacion haue I helped thee, and I wil pre- sence thee, and wil give thee for a couc- nant of the people, that thou matest taste vp the earth, and obtaine the inheritance of the desolate heritage:

9 That thou matest say to y prisone, s, Go forthe: and to them that are in darkness. Shew your selues: they shall fede in the wayes, & their prisures shall be in all the toppes of the hilles.

10 They shall not be bugrie, nether shall they be thisthe, nether shall the heat smite the nor the sinne: for he that hathe compa-

11 And I wil make all my mountains, as a way, & my paths shall be exalted.

13 Reroyee, o heauns: and be joyful, o earth brast for the in to praise, o mountai- nes: for God hathe comforted his people, & wil haue mercie vpon his afflicted.

16 And I haue put my wordes in thy mou- the, and have defended thee in the shadow of mine hand, that I may plant heaues, and iaye the fundacion of the earth, & fay vnto Zion, Thou art my people.

17 Awake, awake, and stand vp, & Ierufalem, which hast drifke at the hand of the Lord the cup of his wrath, thou hast drunken the dregges of the cup of trembling, and wrung them out.

18 There is none to guide her among all his fones, whome she hathe broght forth: there is none that taketh her by the hand of all the fones that she hathe broght vp.

19 These two things are come vnto thee: who wil lament thee defolation and de- ftruction, and famine, and the fworde: by whome shal I comfote thee

20 Thy fones haue fainted, and lie at the head of all the ftreets as a wilde bulle in a net, and ate full of the wrath of the Lord, - ebuke of thy God.

21 Therefore heate now this, thou m'fer- able and drunken, but not with wine.

22 Thus faith thy Lord God, even God that pleadeth the cause of his people, Be- holde, I haue taken out of thine hand the cuppe of trembling, even the dregges of the cuppe of my wrath, thou shalt drink it no more.

23 But I wil put it into theu had that spoi- le thee, which haue said to thy soul, 'Bowe downe, that we may go out, and thou hast laid thy bodie as the ground, and as the ftrete to them that wane out.'

But he thal growe vp before him as a branche, & as a croote out of a dry gro- unde: he hafe nether forme nor beautie: whé we thal fe him, there shalbe no forme that we thulde desire him.

He is deprived and reiected of me: he is a man full of sorrows and hath experience of infirmities: we hid as it were our faces from him: he was deprived and we esteemed him not.

Surely he hath borne our infirmities, & carried our sorrows: yet we did judge him, as plagued, and smitten of God, & hum- bled.

But he was wounded for our transgres- sions, he was broken for our iniquities: the chastisement of our peace was upon him, and with his stripes we are healed.

All we like sheep have gone astray: we have turned every one to his own way, and the Lord hath laid upon him the iniqui- tie of us all.

He was oppressed & he was afflicted, yet did he not open his mouth: he is brought as a sheep to the slaughter, and as a sheep be- fore her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth.

He was taken out from prison, and from judgement: & who shall declare his age? for he was cut out of the land of the living: for the transgression of my people was he plagued.

And he made his grave with wicked, and with the rich in his death, though he had done no wickedness, neither was any deceit in his mouth.

But willingly, & patiently obeyed his Father's appoint- ment,

IEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

The Prophet Ieremiah borne in the citie of Anathoth in the country of Beniamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah, whome some thanks to be he that found out the boke of the Lawe, and gave it to Iosiah. The Prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most evident revelations of prophecies, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very young to prophecies, that is, in the thirteenth yere of Iosiah, and continued eighene yere under the said King, and the moneths under Iehoiak, and under Iehoiakim eleven yere, and the moneths under Iehoiakin, and under Zedekiah eleven yere; unto the time that they were caryed away into Babylon. So that the time amounted to about forty yere, besides the time that he prophesied after the capnuine. In this boke he declareth with teares, and lamentation the destruction of Ierusalem, and the capnuine of the people, for their idolatrie, courtoufnes, subtitue, crueltie, excelsse, rebellion, and contempt of Gods worde, and for the consolation of the Church, reuileth the ueste time of their deliuerance. And here chiefly are to be considered thre things. First the rebellion of the wicked, which wace more subberne and obstinate, when the Prophecies do admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next how the Prophecies and ministers of God ought not to be discouraged in their vocatio, though they be persecuted by rigorously handeled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdely, though God shewe his uste iudgement against the wicked, yet wil he ever shewe him self a preseruer of his Church, and when all meanes some to mans iudgement to be abolished, the wil he declare him self victorious in preserving his.

Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

Before I s formed thee in the wombe, I kntwe thee, and before thou camest out of the wombe, I fancified thee, or ordained thee to be a Prophet vnto the h nations.

Then said I, Oh, Lord God, beholde, I can not speake, for I am a childe.

But the Lord said vnto me, Saie not, I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all that I shal send thee, and whatsoever I com-mande thee, shalt thou speake.

Be not afraid of their faces: for I am with thee to deliuer thee, saith the Lord.

was also called Marzaniah, and at this time the Iewes were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar. g The Scripture wisch that manor of speache to declare, that God has he appointed his ministers to their offices before they were born, as Isa. 49, 1 gal. 1, 35. h For Ieremiah did not onely prophesie against the Iewes, but also against the Egyptians, Eshy Ionians, Maubites, and other nations. i Considering the great iudgements of God, which according to his threatenings thulde come vpon the worde, he was moord with a cercuse compulsion on the one side to patie them that shulde thus perish, & on the other side by y infirmence of salt nature knowing how hard a thing is was to enterprise toche a charge, as Isa. 6, 11. and 1, 1, & 4, 1.

9 Then the Lord stretched out his hand & touched my mouth, and the Lord said vn to me, Beholde, I haue put my wordes in thy mouth.

10 Beholde, this daie haue I set thee over y l natios and ouer the kingdomes to plucke vp, and to roote out, and to destroy and throwe downe, to buy lde, and to plant.

11 After this y worde of the Lord came vn to me, saying, Ieremiah, what seest thou? And I said, I se a w rod of an almonde tre.

12 Then said the Lord vnto me, Thou hast sene aright: for I wil hasten my worde to performe it.

13 Againe the worde of the Lord came vn- to me the seconde time, saying, What seest thou? And I said, I se a seethug a pot lokig out of the North.

14 Then said the Lord vnto me, Out of the a North shal a plague be spred vpon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I wil call all the families of the kingdomes of the North, saith the Lord, and thei shal come, and euerte one shal set his throne in the entring of the gates of Ierusalem, and on all the walles thereof counde about, and in all y cities of Iudah.

16 And I wil declare vnto them my r iudge ments touching all the wickedness of them that haue forsaken me, and haue burnt in- cerise vnto other gods, and worshiped the workes of their owne hands.

17 Thou therefore trufe vp thy loynes, & artse & speake vnto them all that I com- mande thee: be not afrayed of their faces, last I destroye thee before them.

CHAP. II.

2 God rehearseth his benefites done Unto the Levies. 2 Against the Priests and false prophetes. 12 The Levies are destroyed because they forsake God.

1 M Orouet, the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

2 Go, and cry in the eares of Ierufalem, saying, Thus faith the Lord, I remember thee, with the a kindenes of thy youth and y loue of thy marriage, when thou wentest after me in the wild: nes b in a land that was not fowen.

3 Ifraél was as a thing c halowed vnto the Lord, & his firft frutes: all they d that eat it, shal offend, euil shal come vpon them, faith the Lord.

4 Heare ye the worde of the Lord, & houfe of Jaakob, and all the families of the houfe of Ifraél.

5 Thus faith the Lord, What iniquitie haue your fathers founde in me, that they are gone e farre from me, and haue walked after vanitie, and are become f vaine?

6 For they faid not, Where is y Lord that broght vs vp out of the land of Egypt that led vs through y wildernes, through a defert, and wafte fand, through a drye land, and a by the shadowe of death, by a land that no man paffed through, and where no man dwelt?

7 And I broght you into a plentiful country, to eat the frute thereof, and the commodities of the fame: but when ye entred, ye defiled h my land, and made mine heritage an abominacion.

8 The Priests faid not, i Where is the Lord? and they that shulde minifter the b Law, knewe me not: y pafours also offended against me, and the prophetes prophected in m Baal, and went after things that did not profite.

9 Wherefore I wil yet a plead with you, faith the Lord, and I wil plead with your childrens children.

10 For go ye to the yles of c Chittim, & beholde, and fend vnto p Kedar, and take diligent hede, and fe whether there be fuche things.

11 Hathe anie nation changed their gods, That is, fake vaine things, and broght the people from the the Mishnes, are ment all idoles. n Signifying, that he wolde not as he might, freght way condemne them, but theweth them by eudent examples their great ingratitude, that they might be affamed, and reprice. o Meaning, the Goetiana & Italians. p Vnto Arabia.

which yet are no gods? but my people haue chaged their vglorie, for that which doeth not i profite.

12 O ye f heaueut, be aptonied at this be afrayed and vterry cofounded, faith the Lord.

13 For my people haue comitted two euils: they haue forsake me t the fountaine of liung warers, to digge the pitres, euen broken pitres, that can nolde no water.

14 Is Ifraél a sferuant, or is he borne in the houfe? why then is he spoiled?

15 The a lyon, roared vpon him & yelled, and they haue make his land waftethis cities are barnt without an inhabitant.

16 Also the children of i Nopn and Tahapanes haue a broken thine head.

17 Haft not thou procured this vnto thy felt, because thou haft forsake in the Lord thy God, when he b led thee by the way?

18 And what haft thou now to do in the way of c Egypt to drinke the water of Nilus? or what makett thou in the way of Afshur? to drinke the water of the d Riuers?

19 Thine owne wickednes shal e correct thee, and thy turnings backe shal reproue thee: knowe therefore and beholde, that it is an euil thing, and bitter, that thou haft forsaken the Lord thy God, and that my feare is not in thee, faith the Lord God of hoftes.

20 For of olde time I haue broke thy yoke, & burft thy bods, and thou faideft, f I wil no more thafrageffe, but like an harlot thou runneth about vpon all hie hilles, and vnder all grene trees.

21 Yet I had plated thee, a noble vine, whofe " plants were all natural: how then art thou turned vnto me into the plants of a strange vine?

22 Thogh thou waft thee with a nitre, & take thee muche fope, yet thine iniquitie is marked before me, faith the Lord God.

23 How canft thou fay, I am not polluted, nether haue I h followed Baalim? beholde thy wayes in the valley, and knowe, what thou haft done: thou art like a fwift dromedarie, that runneth by his wayes.

24 And as a wilde k afte, vfed to the wildernes, that fnoffeth vp the winde by occafio at her pleafure: who ca turne her backe all thei that feke her, wil not weary them felues, but wil finde her in her l moneth.

m Hereby he wavereth them that thei fbul- de not go into strange coun- tries to feke helper for thei fbulde but fpd their labour, & hur them fel- ues, which is here ment by the bare fore and thrift, 17a. 57,10.

this title to their idoles.

x The Pro- phetes and the faithful are fayne in curry corner of your country. y For the Affiri- ans had taken away the ten tribes out of Israel, and destroyed Iuda, even un- to terufalomised the Egyptians flees Iudah, and vested the lewes in fondry forces. a In signe of lamentation, as 1 Sam. 13, 19.

CHAP. III.

God calleth his people unto repentance. 20 He promisfeh the reftituciou of his Church. 21 He reproueth Iudah & Israel, comparing them to a woman difobedient to her hoofband.

o According as it is writed, Deut. 2, 4, 4.

25 Kepe thou thy fete from m barenes, and thy throte from thirft: but thou faidft def- peratly, No, for I haue loued ftrangers, & them wil I followe.

26 As the o thefe is afhamed, when he is founde, fo is the houfe of Israel afhamed, they, their Kings, their princes and their Priests, and their Prophetes,

27 Saying to a tre, Thou art my o father, & to a ftone, Thou haft begotten me: for they haue turned their backe vnto me, and not their face: but in y time of their trou- ble they wil fay, Arife, and helpe vs.

28 But where are thy gods, that thou haft made thee: let them arife, if thei can helpe thee in the time of thy trouble: for accor- ding y to the number of thy cities, are thy gods, o Iudah.

29 Wherefore wil y ye pleade with me: ye all haue rebelled againft me, faieth the Lord.

30 Ihaue fmitten your children in vaine, they receiued no correction: your owne fwerde hathe deuoured your Prophetes like a deftroying lyon.

31 O generacion, take hede to the worde of the Lord: haue I bene as a wildernes vnto Israel: or a land of darkenes?
Wherefore faith my people then, We are lords, we wil come no more vnto the e?

32 Can a maide forget her ornament, or a bride her attire? yet my people haue for- gotten me, daies without number.

33 Why doeft thou prepare thy way, to ofe- ke amitie: euen therefore wil I teache thee, that thy waies are wickednes.

34 Alfo in thy owings is founde the blood of the foules of the poote innocents: I ha- ue not founde it in holes, but vpon all the- fe places.

35 Yet thou faift, Because I am gittles, fu- rely his wrath fhall turne fro me: beholde, I wil entre with thee into iudgement, because thou faieft, I haue not finned.

36 Why runneft thou about fo muche to change thy waies? for thou fhalt be con- founded of Egypt, y as thou are confounded of Afthur.

37 For thou fhalt go forthe from thence, & thine hands vpon thine head, becaufe the Lord hathe reiected thy confidence, and thou fhalt not prosper thereby.

1 They fay, If a ma put away his wife, and the go from him, and become an- other mans, fhall he returne againe vnto ier? tnal not this land be polluted? but y b If he take haft plaied the harlot with manie louers: y yet turne againe to me, faith the Lord. c That is, with idoles, & with them, who-

2 Lift vp thine eies vnto the high places, & beholde, where thou haft not plaied the harlot: thou haft fit waiting for them in the waies, as the Arabian in the wildernes: & y haft polluted the land with thy whore- domes, and with thy malice.

3 Therefore the fhowres haue bene reftrai- ned, and the f latter raine came not, and thou haddeft a t whores forheade: thou woldeft not be afhamed.

4 Did, ft thou not ftill crye vnto me, Thou art my father, or the guide of my youth?

5 Wil he kepe his angye for cuer? wil he re- ferue it to the end? thou haft thou fpoken, but thou dof ft euil, euen more and more.

6 The Lord faid alfo vnto me, in the daies of Iudah the King, Haft thou fene what this rebel? Israel hathe doneff: the hathe gone vp vpon curry high mountaine, and vnder curry grenette, & there plaied the harlot.

7 And I faid, when the had done all this, Turne thou vnto me: but the returned not, as her rebellious fifter Iudah fawe.

8 When I fawe, how that by all occafions rebellious Israel had plaied the harlot, I call her away, and gaue her a byl of deuorcement: yet her rebellious fifter Iudah was not afrayed, but the went alfo, & plai- ed the harlot.

9 So that for the lighines of her whore- dome the hathe euen defiled the land: for the hathe committed fornicacio with ftonnes and flockes.

10 Neuertheles for all this, her rebellious fifter Iudah hathe not returned vnto me with her whole heart, but fainedly, faith the Lord.

11 And the Lord faid vnto me, The rebelli- ous Israel hathe o iufthed her felf more then the rebellious Iudah.

12 Go and crye thefe wordes towarde o the North and faie, Thou difobedient Israel, returne, faith the Lord, or I wil not let my wrath fall vpon you: for I am merciful, faith the Lord, & I wil not alway kepe mi- ne angie.

13 But knowe thine iniquitie: for thou haft rebelled againft the Lord thy God & haft f eated thy waies to the strange gods vn- der euerie grene tre, but ye wolde not o- beye my voyce, faith the Lord.

14 O ye difobedient childiré, turne againe, faith the Lord, for I am your Lord, and I wil take you one of a citie, and two of a tribe and wil bring you to Zion,

15 And I wil giue you pafloours according mercit, if they wil repent. p There was no way, which thou dideft not liante to fekte after the idoles, and to trot a pilgrimage.

16 Moreover, when ye be increased & multiplied in the land, in those daies, faith the Lord, the shal fay no more, The 4 Arke of the covenant of the Lord: for it shal come no more to minde, nether shal they reméber it, nether shal they visit it, for that shalbe no more done.

18 In those daies the houfe of Judah shal walke with the houfe of Israel, & the shal come together out of y land of y North, into the land, that I haue giuen for an in- heritance vnto your fathers.

19 But I faid, How did I take thee for chil- dren & giue thee a pleasant land, euen the glorious heritage of the armies of the heathen, and faid, Thou shalt call me, fey- ing, My father, and shalt not turne fro me?

20 But as a woman rebelled against her thoufbaid: so haue ye rebelled against me, o houfe of Israel, faith the Lord.

21 A voyce was heard vpon the high pla- ces, weping and supplicacions of the chil- dré of Israel: for the haue peruerted their way, o forgotten the Lord their God.

22 O ye disobedient children, returne and I wil heale your rebellions. 2 Beholde, we come vnto thee, for thou art the Lord our God.

23 Truely the hope of the hilles is but vaine, nor the multitude of mountaines: but in the Lord our God is the health of Israel.

24 For confusion hath deuoured our fathers labour, from our youth their shepe & their bullockes, their sonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie downe in our confusion, and our shame couereeth vs
1 for we haue finned against the Lord our God, we and our fathers from our youth: euen vnto this day, & haue not obeyed the voyce of the Lord our God.

True repentance. 4 He exhorteth to the circumcision of the heart. 5 The deffruition of Judah is prophesied, for the malice of their hearts. 1.7 The Prophet lambeth it.

1 O Israel, if thou returne, 2 returne vnto me, faith the Lord: & if thou put away thine abominaciós out of my fight, then shalt thou not remoue.

2 And thou shalt b sweare, The Lord liueeth in crueth, in iudgement, and in righteousnes, and the naciens shalbe blessed in him, and shal glorie in him.

3 For thus faith the Lord to the men of Iudáh, and to Ierufalem,

4 Breake vp: your fallow ground, & sowe not among the thornes: be circumcised to the Lord, and take away the forekinnes of your hearts, ye men of Iudáh, and in- habitants of Ierufalem, lest my wrath co- me forthe like fyre, and burne, that none can quench it, because of the wickednes of your inuentions.

5 4 Declare in Iudáh, and shewe forthe in Ierufalem, and fay, Blowe the trumpet in the land: crye, and gather together, &
fay. Aisemble your selues, and let vs go into strong cities.

6 Set vp the standart in Zion: a prepare to flee, o stay not: for I wil bring a plague from the North, and a great destruction.

7 The f lyon is come vp from his denne, and the destroyer of the Gentiles is de- parted, o gone forthe of his place to lay thy land waste, and thy cities shalbe de- troyed without an inhabitant.

8 Wherefore girde you with fackeloth: lament, and howle, for the fierce wrath of the Lord is not turned backe from vs.

9 And in that day, faith the Lord, the heart of the King shal perish, and the heart of the princes and the Priests shalbe aston- shed, and the s Prophetes shal wonder.

10 Then faid I, Ah, Lord God, surely thou haft h deceived this people & Ierufalem, saying, Ye shal haue peace, and the sworde perceth vnto the heart.

11 At that time shal it be faid to this peo- ple and to Ierufalem, A drye 1 winde in the hie places of the wilderness cometh toward the daughter of my people, but nether h to fan, nor to clense.

12 A mightie winde shal come vnto me fro those places, and now wil I also giue senten- ce vpon them.

13 Beholde, he shal come vp as the 1 cloudes, and his charets shalbe as a tempeft: his hor- fes are lighter then eglés. = Wo vnto vs for we are destroyed.

15 For a voyce declareth from a Dan, and publisheth affliction fro moite Ephraim.

cala- mates of the Church, so that all the parts of their bodies
fele the grief of their heart, albeit with taste to Gods gloria the cured thee these things, such is thy wic- kednes: therefore it shal be bitter, therefo- re it shal perce vnto thine heart.

My bely, my bely, I am pemed, euen at the very heart: mine heart is troubled within me: I can not be ityl: for my soule hathe heard the sounde of the trumpet, & the alarme of the battel.

D: Struction vpon destruction is cryed, for the whole land is wasted: suddenly a- re my r tentes destroyed, and my curteines in a moment.

How long shal I se the standart, & hea- re the sounde of the trumpet?

For my people is foolish, thei haue not known me: thei are foolish children, & ha- ue none vnderstanding: thei are wise to do euil, but to do wel thei haue no know- ledge.

I haue loked vpon the earth, and lo, it was without forme and r vosde: and to the heauens, and thei had no light.

I beheld the moutaines: & lo, they trem bled and all the hilles shooke.

I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birdes of the heauen were depar- ted.

I beheld, and lo, the fruteful place was a wildernes, and all their cities thereof were broke downe at the presence of the Lord, and by his fierce wrath.

For thus hathe y Lord said, The whole land shal be desolate: yet wil I n not make a ful end.

Therefore shal the earth mourne, and the heauens aboue shal be darkened, be- cause I haue pronounced it: I haue thoght it, and wil not repent, nether wil I turne backe from it.

The whole citie shal stee, for the noise of the horsmen and bowe me: thei shal go into thickets, and clime vp vpon the rockes: euerie citie shal be forsaken, and not a man dwell therein.

And when thou shalt be destroyed, what wilt thou do? Thogh thou r clothes thy self with skarlet, thogh thou decket thee with ornamets of golde, thogh thou pain- test thy face with colours, yet shalt thou trimme thy self in vaine: for thy louers wil abhorre thee & seke thy life.

For I haue heard a noise as of a wo- man travailing, or as one laboring of her first childe, ouen the voice of the daughter Zion that sigheth and stretcheth out her hands: y wo is me now: for my soule fain- teth because of the murthers.

CHAP. V.

1 In Iudáh no righteous man found nether among the peo- ple nor the rulers. 15 Wherefore Iudáh is deformed of the Caldeans.

2 R Vnne to & fro by the stretes of Ieru- salém, and beholde now, & knowe, &

inquire in the open places thereof, if ye can finde a man, or if there be any that ex- ecuteth iudgement, and seketh the trueh, and I wil spare it.

2 For thogh thei say, The b Lord liueh, yet do thei sweare falsely.

3 O Lord, are not thine eies vpon y trueh? thou hast 4 stricken them, but thei haue not forowed: thou hast cosumed them, but thei haue refused to receive correction: thei haue made their faces harder then a sto- ne, and haue refused to returne.

4 Therefore I said, Surely thei are poore, they are foolish, for thei knowe not the way of the Lord, nor y iudgement of their God. 5 I wil get me vnto the great men, and wil speake vnto them: for thei haue known y way of the Lord, and the iudgement of their God: but these haue altogether bro- ken the yoke, and burst the bondes.

6 Wherefore a lion out of the forest shal shay them, and a wolfe of the wilderness shal destroye them: a leoparde shal watche over their cities: euerie one that goeth out thence, shal be torne i pieces, because their trespasses are many, and their rebellions a- re encreased.

7 How shulde I spare thee for this: thy chil dren haue forsake me, & s sworne by them y are no gods: thogh I fed them to y ful, yet thei committed adulterie, and allem- bled them selues by companies in the har lottes houses.

8 They rose vp in y morning life fed horses: for euerie man ne yed after his neighbours wise.

9 Shal Inot visit for these things, saith the Lord: Shal not my soule be auenged on such a nation, as this?

10 h Clime vp vpon their walles, and destroy them, but make not a ful end: take away their batilmets, for thei are not the Lords.

11 For the house of Israel, and the house of Iudáh haue grievously trespaced against me, saith the Lord.

12 Thei haue h denied the Lord, & said, It is not he, nether shal y plague come vpon vs, nether shal we se sworde nor famine.

13 And the Prophetes shal be as i winde, and the worde is m not in them: thus shal it come vnto them.

14 Wherefore thus saith the Lord God of hostes, Because ye speake such wor- des, beholde, I wil put my wordes n into thy mouth, like a fyre, and this people shal be as wodde, and it shal deuoure them.

15 Lo, I wil bring a nation vpon you o from far, oboufe of Israel, saith the Lord, which is a mightie nacion, & an ancient nacion, a nacion whose language: y knowest not, ne- ther vnderstandest what thei say.

16 Whose quiuer is as an r open sepulchre: thei are all very strong.

a That is, the citie. b Thogh they pretend reli- gion and boli- nes, yet all is but hypocrisie for vnder this kind of swea- ting is contrei- ned the true religion. c Doest not y laue upright- nes and such- ful dealing d Thou hast of times pu- nished them, but all is in rayon. CHAP. VI.

1 The cunning of the Affefrians and Caldeans. 16 He exhorteth the Iefars to repentance.

O Ye children of a Beniamfin, prepare to fite out of the infiddes of Ierufalem and blow the trumpet in a Tekoâ: fet vp a ftandart vpon c Beth-haccérent: for a plague appeareth out of the North and great deftruction.

2 I haue compared the daughter of Zión to a beautiful and deintie woman.

3 The paftors with their flockes a fhall come vnto her: thei fhall pitch their tents round about by her, & euerie one fhall fede in his place.

4 Prepare warre againft her: arife, and let vs go vp toward the South: wo vnto vs: for the day declineth, and the fhadowes of the euening are ftretched out.

5 Arife, and let vs go vp by night, and defstroy her palaces.

6 For thus hathe the Lord of hostes laid, Hewe downe wood, and caft a mount againft Ierufalem: this citie muft be vifited: all oppreffion is in the middes of it.

7 As y fountaine cafteth out her waters, fo fhe cafteth out her malice: c crueltie and fpoile is continually heard in her before me with forow and ftrokers.

8 Be thou instructed, a b Ierufalem, left my foule departe from thee, left I make thee defolate as a land, that none inhabiteth.

9 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, Thei fhall gather as a vine, the refidue of Ifraél: turne: backe thine hand as the grape gatherer into the baskets.

10 Vnto whome fhall I fpeake, & admonifh that thei may heare:
beholde, their eares are vncircumcifed, and thei can not hearken: beholde, the worde of y Lord is vnto them as a reproche: thei haue no deli-te in it.

11 Therefore I am ful of the wrath of the Lord: I am wearie with holding it: i I wil powre it out vpon the a childre in y ftrete, & likewife vp o y affemble of the yong men: for the houf band fhall euen be taken with the wife, & the aged with him that is ful of daies.

12 And their houses with their lands, and wives also shall be turned vnto strangers: for I wil stretch out mine hand vpon the inhabitants of the land, saith the Lord.

13 For fro the craft of them, euen vnto the greatest of them, euerie one is giuen vnto couetousnes, and from the Prophet euen vnto the Priest, thei all deale falsely.

14 Thei haue healed also the hurt of the daughter of my people with swete wordes, saying, a Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were thei ashamed when they had committed abominacion? nay, thei were not ashamed, no nether coulde they haue anie shame: therefore thei shall fall among the "filaine: when I shall visit them, they shall be cast downe, saith the Lord.

16 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the waies and beholde, and asse for the a olde waie, which is the good waye & walke therein, d Thane beron ted her ghely & gingo her a- bundance of all things a The shall be so destroyed, y y shepe may be fed in her. f He speaketh this in y perfa ne of y Babylo nians, & complaineth that the time fallteth them before thei haue brought their nuptialles to passe.

g He sheweth y cause why it shall be destroyed & how it cometh of them solens. h He warneth the to smid by his corredible, & to come to him by repon- tence.

i He exhorteth y Babyloufs to be diligent to fureth: out all & to I am none. k Thei delife to he are vry- ne chigs & to fhue vp their eares to true dofrine.

18 Heare therefore, ye s Gentiles, and thou Congregation knowe, what is among them.

19 Heare, o earth, beholde, I wil cause a pla- gue to come vpon this people; euen the frute of their owne imaginacions:

22 Thus faith the Lord, Beholde, a people cometh from the North country, and a great nation shal arise from the sides of the earth.

2 Ieremiáh is commanded to sforwe vnto the people the worde of God, which truffeth in the outward for- uice of the Temple.

13 The evils that shal come to the Iewes for the defting of their Prophetes. 21 Sa- crifices doeth not the Lord chiefly require of the Iewes, but that they shulde obeye his worde.

2 Stand in the gate of the Lords House & crye this worde there, and saie, Heare the worde of the Lord, all ye of Iudáh that en- tre in at these gates to worship the Lord.

3 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, a Améd your waies & your wor- kes, and I wil let you dwell in this place.

4 Truft not in lying wordes, saying, The Temple of the Lord, the Temple of the Lord: this is the Temple of the Lord.

5 For if you amend o redresse your waies and your works: if you execute iudgement berwene a man and his neighbour,

6 And oppresse not the stranger, the father- les and the wildowe & shed no innocent blood in this place, nether walke after o- ther gods to your destruction,

7 Then wil I let you dwell in this place in the land that I gaue vnto your fathers, for euer and euer.

8 Beholde, you truffe in lying wordes, that can not profite.

9 Wil you steale, murder, and commit adul- terie and sweare falsely and burnt incense vnto Baial, & walke after other gods who- me ye knowe not?

11 Is this House become a déne of theuen, whereupon my Name is called before your eies: beholde, euen I see it, faith the Lord.

12 But go ye now vnto my place which was in Shilo, where I set my Name at the beginning, and beholde, what I did to it for the wickednes of my people Israel.

13 Therefore now becaufe ye haue done all these works, faith the Lord, (& I rose vp earely and spake vnto you: but when I spake, ye wolde not heare me, nether whe I called, wolde ye answer)

21 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, the God of Ifraél, Put your burnt offrings vnto your facrifices, and eat the fleth.

22 For 3 I fpake not vnto your fathers, nor commanded them, when I broght them out of the land of Egypt, c&erning burnt offrings and facrifices.

23 But this thing commanded I them, fay- ing, Obey my voice, & I wil be your God, and ye fhall be my people: and walke ye in all the waies which I haue commanded you, that it maie be wel vnto you.

24 But thei wolde not obey, nor incline their eare, but went after the counfels and the flubbernes of their wicked heart, & went backwarde and not forwarde.

25 Since the daie that your fathers came vp out of the Land of Egypt, vnto this day, I haue euen fent vnto you all my feruants the Prophetes, 2-3 rifying vp early euerie daie, and fending them.

26 Yet wolde thei not heare me nor incline their eare, but hardened their necke and did worfe then their fathers.

28 But thou fhalt faie vnto them, This is a nation y heareth not the voice of y Lord their God, nor receiueth difcipline: trueth is perifhed, and is cleane gone out of their mouth.

29 Cut of thine 4 heere, o Ierufalém, & caft it awaie, and take vp a complaint on the hie places: for the Lord hathe reiected & forfaken the generation of his wrath.

30 For the children of Iudáh haue done e- uil in my fight, faith the Lord: thei haue fet their abominations in the Houfe, where- upon my Name is called, to pollute it.

32 Therefore beholde, y daies come, faith the Lord, that it fhall no more be called Tópheth, nor the vallei of Ben-Hinnóm, but the valley of flaughter: for thei fhall burye in Tópheth til there be no place.

g A curse of them that obey me the words of Gods co- uenant.
10 The people of Iudáh, following the step- per of their fathers, worshippe strange gods. 17 The Lord forbiddeh Ieremiáh to praise for them.

1 The words that came to Ieremiáh fro the Lord, saying,

2 He are ye the words of this covenant, & spake vnto the men of Iudáh, and to the inhabitants of Ierufalém,

3 And say thou vnto them, Thus faith the Lord God of Israel, a Cursed be the man that obeieth not the words of this covenant,

4 Which I commanded vnto your fathers, when I broght them out of the land of E- gypt, from the yron fornace, saying, Obey my voyce, and do according to all these things, which I commande you: so that ye be my people, and I will be your God,

5 That I may confirme the othe, that I haue sworne vnto your fathers, to giue them a land, which floweth with milke and hony, as appeareth this day. Then answered b I & said, So be it, o Lord.

6 Then the Lord said vnto me, Crye all these words in the cities of Iudáh, and in the streets of Ierufalém, saying, He are ye the words of this covenant, and do the.

7 For I haue protested vnto your fathers, when I broght them up out of the land of Egypt vnto this day, a rising earely & protesting, saying, Obey my voyce.

8 Neuertheles they wold not obey, nor encline their ears: but euery one walked in the flubbernes of his wicked a heart: therefore I wil bring vpon them all the e wor- des of this covenant, which I commanded them to do, but thei did it not.

9 And the Lord said vnto me, A conspira- cie is found among the men of Iudáh, & among the inhabitants of Ierufalém.

10 They are turned backe to the iniquities of their forefathers, which refused to rea- re my words: and they went after other gods to ferue them: thus the house of Isra- él, and the house of Iudáh haue broken my covenant, which I made with their fathers.

11 Therefore thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil bring a plague vpon them, which they shal not be able to escape, and thogh they crye vnto me, a I wil not heare them.

12 Then shal the cities of Iudáh, and the inhabitants of Ierufalém go, and crye vn- to the gods vnto whome thei offer incense, but they shal not be able to helpe them in time of their trouble.

13 b For according to the number of thy cities were thy gods, o Iudáh, and according to the number of the streets of Ierufalém haue ye set up altars of confusion, even al- tars to burne incense vnto Báal.

14 Therefore thou shalt not pray i for this people, nether list up a crye, or prayer for them: for when thei crye vnto me in their trouble, I wil not he are them.

15 What shulde my b beloved tary in mine house, seing they haue committed abominacion with many b and the holy flesh i goeth away fro the: yet when thou doest euil, thou reioycest.

16 The Lord called thy name, A grene oliue tre, faire, and of goodlie frute: but with m noise and great tumult he hathe set fyre vpon it, and the branches of it are broken.

17 For the Lord of hostes that planted thec, hathe pronounced a plague against thee, (for the wickednes of the house of Israel, and of the house of Iudáh) which they haue done against them selues to proueke me to angre in offering incense vnto Báal.

18 And the Lord hathe taught me, and I knowe it, even then y shewedst me n their practises.

19 But I was like a lambe, or a bullocke, that is broght to the slaughter, and I knewe not y thei had deuised thus against me, saying, Let vs o destroye the tre with the frute thereof, and cut him out of the land of the liuing, that his name may be no more in memorie.

4 And the vessel that he made of a claie, was broken in the hand of the potter, so he returned, & made it another vessel, as se- nied good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the worde of the Lord came vnto me, saying,

6 O houfe of Israel, can not I do with you as this potter, saith the Lordsh. holde, as y claie is in the potters hand, so are you in mine hand, o houfe of Israel.

a pit to take me, and hid snares for my fete. 23 Yet Lord thou knowest all their counself against me tendeth to death: forgue not their iniquitie, nether put out their finne from thy figh, but let them be ouerthro-wen before thee: deale thun with them in the time of thine angre.

For the houfes of Ierufalém, and the houfes of the Kings of Iudáh fhall be defi- led as the place of Tópheth, becaufe of all the e houfes vpon whole s rofes then haue burnt incenfe vnto all the hoſte of hea- uen, and haue powred out drinke offrings vnto other gods.

Then came Ieremiáh from Tópheth, where the Lord had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the Lords house, and said to all the people,

Thus saith the Lord of hostes, the God of Israel, Beholde, I will bring vpon this citie, and vpon all her townes, all the plagues y I haue pronounced against it, because they haue hardened their neckes, and wolde not heare my wordes.

When Pashúr, the sonne of Immer, the Priest, which was appointed gouernour in the house of the Lord, heard that Ieremiáh prophesied these things,

Then Pashúr smote Ieremiáh the Prophet, and put him in the stocks that were in the high gate of Beniamín which was by the house of the Lord.

And on the morning, Pashúr brought Ieremiáh out of the stocks. Then said Ieremiáh vnto him, The Lord hath not called thy name Pashúr, but Magór-mischaib.

For thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil make thee to be a terrour to thy lift, & to all thy friends, and thei shal fall by the fworde of their enemies, & thine eyes shal beholde it, and I wil giue all Iudáh into the hand of the King of Babél, and he shal carie them captue into Babél, and shal flate them with the fworde.

The vishon of the bafkets of figges Signifieth that parte of the people should be brought against from capti- uste. 1 And that Zedekia and the rest of the pe- ple should be carried away. The Lord thewed me, & beholde, two bafkets of figges were fet before y Teple of the Lord, after that Nebuchadnezzar Kig of Babel had carried away captiue Iecomiah y fonne of Iehorakim King of Iudah, and the princes of Iudah with the workemtn, and cunning men of Iru-falem, and had broght them to Babel. And this whole land shal be defolate, and an astonishment, or these nations shal ferue the King of Babel feuentis yeres.

And when the feutntie yeres are accom- plished, I wil visite the King of Babel and that nacion, faith the Lord, for their iniquities, euen the land of the Caldeans, and wil make it a perpetual defolation,

And I wil bring vpon that land all my wordes which I haue pronounced against it, euen all y is written in this booke, which Ieremiáh hathe prophecied against all nations.

For many nacions, and great Kings shal euen ferue them felues of them : thus wil I recompéee them according to their dedes, and according to the workes of their owne hands.

For thus hathe the Lord God of Ifrael fpoken vnto me, Take the cup of wine of this mine indignacion at mine hand, and caufe all the nacions, to whome I fend thee, to drinke it.

And they shal drinke, and be moued & be madde, because of the fworde, that I wil fend among them.

Then toke I the cuppe at y Loids hand, and made all people to drinke, vnto who- me the Lord had fent me:

Euen Ietufalem, and the cities of Iudáh, and the Kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them defolate, an afonishment, an hissing, and a curfie, as ap- peareth this day:

Pharaóh alfe, King of Egypt, and his fer- uantes, and his princes, and all his peo- ple:

And all fortes of people, and all the Kings of the land of Vz:
and all the Kings of the land of the Phillisms, & A- fukelón, and Azzáh, & Ekrón, and y rem- nant of Afhdód:

Edóm, and Moáb, and the Ammoni- tes,

And all the Kings of Tyrus, and all the Kings of Zidón, & the Kings of y Yles, that are beyonde the fea,

And Dedán, and Temá, & Buz, and all that dwell in the vtermoft coiners,

of Dedán the fong of Abraham and Keturáh,

And all the Kings of Arabia, and all the Kings of Arabia, that dwell in the defert, And all the Kings of Zimri, and all the Kings of Elám, and all the Kings of the Medes.

And all y Kings of the North farre, and nere one to another, and all the kingdomes of the worlde, which are vpon the earth,
& the King of Shefhách shal drinke af- ter them.

Therefore fay thou vnto them, Thus faith the Lord of hoftes, the God of Ifra- él, Drinke and be drinke n, and fpewe and fall, and rife no more, because of the fworde, which I wil find among you.

But if the refufe to take y cup at thine hand to drinke, then rel them, Thus faith y Lord of hoftes, ye shal certeinly drinke.

For lo, I b-ginne to plague the citre where my Name is called vpon, & shulde you go fr? Ye shal not go quite: f I wil call for a fworde vpon all the inhabitants of the earth, faith the Lord of hoftes.

Therefore prophecie thou against them all these wordes, and faie vnto them, The Lord shal roare from aboue, and thrust out his voice from his holie habitacion: the shal roare vpon his habitacion, & crye aloude, at thei that prfife the grapes against all y inhabitants of the earth,

The founde shal come to the ends of the earth: for the Lord hathe a controuefie w the natio, and wil entre into iudgement with all fleft, he wil giue them that a- re wicked, to the fworde, faith the Lord.

Thus faith the Lord of hostes, Behol- de, a plague shal go for the from nation to nation, and a great whirlewinde shalbe raised vp from the coaltes of the earth,

And y the flaine of the Lord shalbe at y date, from one end of the earth, euen vnto the other end of the earth, thei shal not be mourned, nether gathered nor buried, but shalbe as the dôgue vpon the ground.

Howle, ye fhepherds, and crye, and wal- lowe your felues in the afhes, ye principal of the flocke: for your dates of slaughter are accomplished, and of your difperfion, and ye shal fall like precious voffels.

And the flight shal faile from the fhep- herds, and the efcaping from the principal of the flocke.

A voice of the crye of the fhepherds, and an howling of the principal of the flocke shalbe heard: for the Lord hathe deftroyed their pasture.

And the "beft pastures are deftroyed be- cause of the wrath and indignation of the Lord.

He hathe forfaken his couert, as the lion: for thei land is waite, because of y wrath of the opprofor, and because of the wrath of his indignation.

Jeremiah. Innocent blood.

CHAP. XXVI.

2 Jeremiah mounts the people to repentance. He is taken of the false Prophets and Priestes and brought to judgement. 23
Vriiah the Prophet is killed of Iehoiakim, contrarie to the will of God.

1 N the beginning of the reign of Iehoiakim the sonne of Iosiah King of Iudah, came this worde from the Lord, saying,

2 Thus saith the Lord, Stand in the court of the Lords House, and speake vnto all the cities of Iudah, which come to worship in the Lords House, all the wordes y I commad thee to speake: kepe not a worde backe,

3 If so be they wil hearken, and turne euerie man from his euil way, that I may repent me of the plague, which I haue determined to bring vpon them, because of the wickednes of their workes.

4 And y shalt say vnto the, Thus saith the Lord, If ye wil not heare me to walke in my Lawes, which I haue set before you,

5 And to heare the wordes of my seruants the Prophetes, whome I sent vnto you, both rising vp early, and sending them, and wil not obeie them,

6 Then wil I make this House like a Shiloh, and wil make this citie a cursle to all the nacions of the earth.

7 So the Priestes, and the Prophetes, and all the people heard Jeremiah speaking these wordes in the House of the Lord.

8 Now when Jeremiah had made an end of speaking all that the Lord had commanded him to speake vnto all the people, the Priestes, and the Prophetes, and all the people toke him, and said, Thou shalt dye the death.

9 Why hast thou prophecied in the Name of y Lord, saying, This House shalbe like Shiloh, & this citie shalbe defolate without an inhabitant & all the people were gathered against Jeremiah in the House of the Lord.

10 And when the princes of Iudah heard of these things, they came vp from y Kings house into the House of the Lord, & fate downe in the entree of the a newe gate of the Lords House.

11 Then spake the Priestes, and the Prophetes vnto the princes, & to all y people, saying, "This man is worthie to dye: for he hathe prophecied against this citie, an ye haue heard with your eares.

12 Then spake Jeremiah vnto all the princes, & to all the people, saying, The Lord hathe a sent me to prophecie against this House and against this citie all the things that ye haue heard.

13 Therefore now amad your waies & your workes, & heare the voice of y Lord your God, y the Lord may repent him of y plague, y he hathe pronounced against you.

14 As for me, beholde, I am in your hands: do with me as ye thinke good and 11ght.

15 But knowe ye for certeine, y if ye put me to death, ye shal surely bring innocent blood vpon your selues, and vpon this citie, and vpon the inhabitants thereof: for of a tueth y Lord hath sent me vnto you, to speake all these wordes in your eares.

16 Then said the princes and all the people vnto the Priests & to the Prophetes, This man is not worthie to dye: for he hathe spoken vnto vs in the Name of the Lord our God.

17 Then rose vp certeine of the Elders of the land, and spake to all the assemble of the people, saying,

18 Michah the Morashite a prophecied in y dayes of Hezekiah King of Iudah, and spake to all the people of Iudah, saying, Thus saith y Lord of hostes, Zion shalbe plowed like a field, and Ieualalem shalbe an heape, & the mountaine of the House shalbe as the high places of the forest.

19 Did Hezekiah King of Iudah, and all Iudah put him to death did he not feare the Lord, and prayed before the Lord, and the Lord repented him of the plague, that he had pronounced against them: thus might we procure great euil against our soules.

20 And there was also a man that prophecied in y Name of the Lord, one Vriiah the sonne of Shemaiah, of Kirrath-jarem, who prophecied against this citie, and against this land, according to all the wordes of Jeremiah.

21 Now when Iehoiakim the King with all his men of power,
& all the princes heard his wordes, the King foght to slaie him.
But when Vriiah heard it, he was afraid and fled, and went into Egypt.

22 The Iehoiakim the King sent men into Egypt, even Elnathan the sonne of Achbór, and certeine with him into Egypt.

23 And they for Vriiah out of Egypt, and brought him vnto Iehoiakim the King, who slewe him with the sworde, and a cast his dead bodie into the graues of the children of the people.

24 But the hand of Ahikam the sonne of Shaphán was with Jeremiah y thei shulde not giue him into the hand of the people to put him to death.

10 Then Hananiáh the Prophet toke the yoke from the Prophet Ieremiáhs necke, and brake it.

Thus faith the Lord, Refraine thy voice from weping, and thine and thei shal come againe from the land of the enemies:

And there is hope in thine end, faith the Lord, that thy children shal come againe to their owne borders.

I haue heard Ephraim lamenting thun, Thouhaft corrected me, and I was chafti- fed as an vntamed calfe: conuert thou me, and I shalbe conuerted: for thou art y Lord my God.

Surely after that I conuerted, I repented: & after that I was instructed, I fmote vp- on my thigh: I was ashamed, yea, euer confounded, because I did beare the repro- che of my youth.

Is Ephraim my dere fonne or pleasant childe yet since I spake

haue fatrat the weary foule, and I haue replenifled euerie forowful foule.

Therefore I awaked and behelde, and my flepe was fwete vnto

Israel, After thos- fe daies, faith the Lord, I wil put my Law in

God, and thei shalbe my people.

And thei shal teache nomore euerie ma his neighbour and euerie man his brother, faying, Knowe the Lord: for they shal all knowe me from the leaft of them vnto the greatest of them, faith the Lord: for I wil forgiue their iniquitie, and wil remem-
