Given back to the people so all may understand

The Geneva Bible was first printed in Geneva, Switzerland, by refugees from England, fleeing the persecution of Protestants by Roman Catholic Queen “Bloody” Mary. Many copies were smuggled back into England at great personal risk. In later years, when Protestant-friendly Queen Elizabeth took the throne, printing of the Geneva Bible moved back to England. The Geneva Bible was produced by John Calvin, John Knox, Myles Coverdale, John Foxe, and other Reformers. It is the version that William Shakespeare quotes from hundreds of times in his plays, and the first English Bible to offer plain roman-style type in some of its early printings.

The Geneva Bible was the first Bible taken to America, brought over on the Mayflower... it is the Bible upon which early America and its government was founded (certainly not the King's of England's Bible!) The Geneva Bible was also the first English Bible to break the chapters of scripture into numbered verses, and it was the first true "Study Bible" offering extensive commentary notes in the margins. It was so accurate and popular, that a half-century later, when the King James Bible came out... it retained more than 90% of the exact wording of the Geneva Bible.

TO THE MOSTEVER

TVOVS AND NOBLE QVENE ELI-

sabet, Quene of England, France, ad Ireland, &c. Your humble subjects of the English Churches at Geneva, wish grace and peace from God the Father through Christ Iesus our Lord.

O w hard a thing it is, and what great impedimentes let, to enterprise any worthie act, not only dailie experience sufficiently sheweth (mo- ste noble and vertuous Quene) but also that notable prouerbe doeth cofirme the fame, which admonisheth vs, that all thigs are hard which are faire and exceller. And what enterprise can there be of greater importance, and more acceptable vnto God, or more worthie of singuler commendation, then the building of the Lords || Temple, the || houfe of God, the || Church of Christ, where- of the || Sonne of God is the head and perfection?

When Zerubbabel went about to builde the material Temple, according to the commandement of the Lord, what difficulties and stayes || daily arofe to hinder his worthy indeuours, & bookes of Ezra & Esdras playnely witneffe: how that not on ly he and the people of God were fore molested with foreyn aduersaries, (whereof some maliciously || warred against them, and corrupted the Kings officers: and o- thers craftely practised vnder || pretence of religion) but also at home with dome- ftical enemies, as || false Prophetes, || crafte worldlings, faint hearted soldiers, and || oppressors of their brethren, who asuel by false doctrine and lyes, as by subtil counfel, cowardies, and extortion, discouraged the heartes almoft of all: so that the Lords worke was not only interrupted and left of for || a long tyme, but scarcely at the length with great labour and danger after a || sort brought to paffe.

Which thing when we weigh aright, and consider earnestly how much greater charge God hath laid vpon you in making you a builder of his spiritual Tem- ple. we can not but partly feare, || knowing the crafte and force of Satan our spi- ritual enemy, and the weakenes and vnabilitie of this our nature: and partly be feruent in our prayers toward God that he wolde bring to perfection this noble worke which he hath begon by you: and therefore we indeuour our selues by all meanes to ayde, & to beftowe our whole force vnder your graces ftadard, whome God hath made as our Zerubbabel for the erecting of this moft excellent Tem- ple, and to plant and maynteyn his holy worde to the aduancement of his glorie, for your owne honour and faluation of your foule, and for the singuler comfort of that great flocke which Christ Iesus the || great shepherd hath bought with his || pre- cious blood, and committed vnto your charge to be fed both in body and foule.

Considering therefore how many enemies there are, which by one meanes or other, as the || aduersaries of Judah and Benjamin went about to stay the building of that Temple, so labour to hinder the courfe of this building (whereof some are Pa- pistes, who vnder pretence of fatuoring Gods worde, traiteroufly feke to erect ido- latrie and to deftroy your maiestie: some are worldlings, who as || Demas haue for- fake Chrif for the loue of this worlde: others are ambitious prelates, who as || Ama- fiah & || Diotrephes can abide none but them selues: and as || Demetrius many practi- se sedition to maynteyne their errors) we perswaded our selues that there was no way so expedient and neceffarie for the preferuation of the one, and destruction of the other, as to present vnto your Maiestie the holy Scriptures faithfully and playnely translated according to the langages wherein thei were first written by the holy Gost. For the worde of God is an euident token of Gods|loue and our afsurance of his defence, wherefoeuer it is obediently receyued: it is the trial of the |spirits: and as the Prophet faieth, | It is as a fyre and hammer to breake the stonie heartes of them that resist Gods mercies offred by the preaching of the fame. Yea it is|sharper then any two edged sworde to examine the very thoghtes and to iudge the affections of the heart, and to discouer whafoeuer lyeth hid vnder hypocrisie and wolde be secret from the face of God and his Church. So that this must be the first fundacion and groundworke, according whereunto the good stones of this building must be framed, and the euil tried out and rejected.

Now as he that goeth about to lay a fundacion surely, first taketh away suche impedimentes, as might iustely ether hurt, let or difforme the worke: so is it necessarie that your graces zeale appeare herein, that nether the crastie persuation of man, nether worldly policie, or natural feare diffuade you to roote out, cut downe and destroy these wedes and impedimentes which do not only deface your buil- ding, but vtterly indeuour, yea & threaten the ruine thereof. For when the noble Iofias entreprised the like kinde of worke, among other notable and many things he destroyed, not only with vtter confusion the idoles with their appertinances, but also burnt (in signe of detestatio) the idolatrous priests bones vpon their altars, and put to death the false prophetes and sorcerers, to performe the wordes of the Lawe of God: and therefore the Lord gaue him good successive & blessed him wonderfully, so long as he made Gods worde his line and rule to followe, and enterprised nothing before he had inquired at the mouth of the Lord.

And if these zealous begynnings seme dangerous and to brede disquietnes in your dominions, yet by the storie of King Asait is manifest, that the quietnes and peace of kingdomes standeth in the vtter abolishing of idolatrie, and in aduancing of true religion: for in his dayes Iudah lyued in rest and quietnes for the space of fyue and thirtie yere, til at length he began to be colde in the zeale of the Lord, feared the power of man, imprisoned the Prophet of God, and oppressed the people: then the Lord sent him warres, & at length toke him away by death.

Wherefore great wisdom, not worldelie, but heauenly is here required, which you grace must earnestly craue of the Lord, as did|Salomon, to whome God ga- ue an vnderstanding heart to iudge his people aright, and to discern betwene good and bad. For if God for the furnishing of the olde temple gaue the Spirit of wis- dome & vnderstanding to them that shulde be the workemen thereof, as to|Beza- leel, Aholiab, and |Hiram: how much more wil he indewe your grace and other godly princes and chefe gouernours with a principal Spirit, that you may procure and commande things necessarie for this moste holy Temple, forese and take hede of things that might hinder it, and abolish and destroy whafoeuer might impere and ouerthrowe the fame?

Moreouer the maruelous diligence and zeale of Iehohaphat, Iofiah, and Heze- kiah are by the singuler prouidence of God left as an example to all godly rulers to reforme their countreys and to establish the worde of God with all spede, lest the |wrath of the Lord fall vpon them for the neglecting thereof. For these excellent Kings did not onely imbrace the worde promptly and joyfully, but also procu- red earnestly and commanded the fame to be taught, preached and maynteyned through all their countreys and dominions, |bynding them and all their subiectes bothe great and smale with solemne protestations and couenantes before God to obey the worde, and to walke after the waies of the Lord. Yea and in the daies of seruyng | Afa it was enacted that whosoeuer wolde not feke the Lord God of Israel, shulde be flayne, whether he were fmale or great, man or woman. And for the eftablifhing hereof and performance of this folemne othe, afwell | Priefts as Iudges were appointed and placed through all the cities of Iudah to infruct the people in the true knollage and feare of God, and to minifter iuftice according to the worde, knowing that, except God by his worde dyd reigne in | the heartes and foules, all mans diligence and indeuors were of none effect: for without this worde we can not difcerne betwene iuftice, and iniurie, protection and opprefion, wifdome and foolifhnes, knollage and ignorance, good and euil. Therefore the Lord, who is the chefe gouernour of his Church, willeth that nothing be attempted before we haue inquired thereof at his mouth. For feing he is our God, of duetie we muft giue him this preeminence, that of our felues we entreprife nothing, but that which he hath appointed, who only knoweth all things, and gouerneth them as may beft ferue to his glorie and our faluation. We ought not therefore to preuent him, or do any thing without his worde, | but aflone as he hath reueiled his wil, immediately to put it in execution.

Now as concerning the maner of this building, it is not according to man, nor after the wifdome of the fleih, but of the Spirit, & according to the worde of God, whose | wais are diueis ffrom mans wais. For if it was not lawful for Mofes to builde the mateia: Tabernacle after any other forte then God had fhewed him by a | patern, nether to prefcribe any other | ceremonies & lawes then fuche as the Lord had expi efly commâded: how can it be lawful to procede in this fpiritual building any other waies, then Iefus Chrifft the Sonne of God, who is bothe the fundacion, head and chief corner itone thereof, hath commanded by his worde? And for afmuch as he hath eftablifhed and left an order in his Church for the building vp of his body, | appointing fome to be Apoftles, fome Prophetes, others Euangeliftes, fome pafors, and teachers, he fignifeth that euery one according as he is placed in this body which is the Church, oght to inquire of his miniftes concerning the wil of the Lord, which is reueiled in his worde. For thei are, faieth | Ieremiah, as the mouth of the Lord: yea he | promifeth to be with their mouth, & that their | fippes fhall kepe knollage, & that the trueth & the law fi ilbe in their mouth. For it is their office chefely to vnderftand the Scriptures & teache them. For this caufe the people of Ifrael in matters of difficultie vfed to | afke the Lord ether by the | Prophets, or by the meanes of the hie | Prieft, who bare Vrim & Thummim, which were tokens of light & knollage, of holines & perfeçto which shulde be in the hie Prieft. Therefore when Iehofaphat toke this ouder in the Church of Ifrael, he appointed Amariah to be the chief concerning the worde of God, becaufe he was moſte expert in the law of the Lord, and colde gyue cofifel and gouerne according vnto the fame. Els there is no degre or office which may haue that autoritie and priuiledge to decife concerning Gods worde, except withall he hath the Spirit of God, and fufficient knollage and iudgement to define according thereunto. And as euery one is indued of God with greater giftes, fo ought he to be herein chefully heard, or at leaft that without the expi effe worde none be heard: for he that hathe not the worde, | fpeaketh not by the mouthe of the Lord. Agayne, what danger it is to do any thing, feme it neuer fo godly or neceffarie, without confulting with Gods mouth, the examples of the Ifraelites, | deceiued hereby through the Gibeonites: and of | Saul, whofe intention femed good and neceffarie: and of | Iofiah alfo, who for great confiderations was moued for the defence of true religion & his people, to right againft Pharaoh Necho King of Egypt, may fufficiently admonifh vs.

The creation of the worlde.

I 7/1224

THE FIRST BOKE OF

Mosés, called * Genesis.

THE ARGUMENT.

- This worde signif. th the beginning and generation of the creatures.

MOSES in effect declareth the thing, which are here chiefly to be considered: First, that the worlde & all things thereto were created by God, & that man being placed in the great tabernacle of the worlde to be lode Gods wonders'd works, & to praise his Name for the infinite graces, wherewith he had endowed him, set willingly from God through disobedience: who yet for his own morners sake restored him to life, & confirm'd him in the same by his promise of Christ to come, by whom he should overcome Satan, death and hell. Secondly, that the wicked, rummideful of God's most excellent benefits, remained still in their wickedness, & so falling most horribly from sinne to sinne provoked God (who by his preachers called them continually to repentance) as length to destroye the whole a First of all, & before that sure creature was, God made heaven and earth of no- thing.

world. Thirdly, he assueth us by the example, of Abraham, I. K. bak, I. a. c. & the rest of the Patriarchs, that his merces never saile them, whom he chuse to be his Church, and to profess his Name in earth, but in all their afflictions and persecutions he ever afflicted: them, sendeth comfort, & delivereth them. And because the beginning, increas, & preservation and success thereof might be only attributed to God, Moses sheweth by the examples of K. kin, I. shmael, E.

fua and others, which were noble in many judgments, that this Church dependeth not on the estimation and nobility of the worlde; and also by the few men of them, which have at all times worshiped him purely according to his worde, that it standeth not in the multitude, but in the poore and disposed, in the foule flock; and like number, that man in his wisdom might be confounded, & the Name of God ever more praised.

CHAP. I.

God created the heaven & the earth, The light & the darkenes, The firmament. He separates the water from the earth: He creates the same, the more, & the starred: He creates the fish, herds, beasts. He creates man and giveth him rule over all creatures, And proudeth nourriture for man and beast.

N THE beginning * God created & hea- uen and the earth. And the earth was without forme & voy- de, and darkenes was upon the depe, & the Spirit of God mouded vpon the waters.

Then God said, Let there be light: and there was light.

And God save & light that is, was good, and God separated the light from the darkenes.

And God called the light, Day, and the darkenes, he called Night. So the euenig and the morning were the first day.

Again God said, Let there be a firmament in the muddea of the waters: and let it separate the waters from the waters.

Then God made the firmament, & parted the waters, which were under the firmament, from the waters which were above the firmament, and it was so.

And God called the firmament, a Hea- uen. So the euening and the morning were the seconde day.

God said again, Let the waters vnder the heau be gathered into one place, & let the drye land appeare, and it was so.

And God called the drye land, Earth, & he called & gathering together of the waters, Seas: & God save that it was good.

Then God said, Let the earth budde for the the budde of the herbe, that sedeth sede, the fruitful tre, & beareth fruit according to his kinde, which may have his sede in it self vpon the earth. & it was so.

And the earth broght for the the budde of the herbe, that sedeth sede accordig to his kinde, also the tre that yeldeh fruit, & hathe his sede in it selfe according to his kinde: & God save that it was good.

So the euening and the morning were the third date.

And God said, Let there be lightes in the firmament of the heauen, to separate the date from the night, & let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for dates and yerres.

And let them be for lightes in the firmament of the heauen to giue light vpon the earth, and it was so.

God then made two great lightes: the greater light to rule the date, & the selfe light to rule & night: the made also & starres.

And God let them in the firmament of the heauen, to shine vpon the earth;

And to rule in the date, & in the night, and to separate the light from the darkenes: and God save that it was good.

So the euenig and the morning were the fourth date.

Afterwarde God said, Let the waters bring forth the in abundance euerie creeping thing that hath life: & let the foule sife vpon the earth in the open firmament of the heauen.

Then God created the great whales, & euerie thing liuing & mouing, & the waters brought forth the in abundance, according to their kinde, & euerie fethered foule according to his kinde: & God save that it was good.

1 This senor- ce is so oft re- peated, so light for & that mo- de all his cre- atures so fetue to his grave, & in the pro- fit of man: but for sinne: that were excited, yet to & elect, by Christ they are restored & fetue to their wish.

5 To wit, the sinne and the monnet: here he speaketh as to in length by his eye: for cle the moone is less the the plunest Suns- ons.

6 To giue is sufficed light, as infirmament appointed for & same, to be- lie to their vis- ters. 31.31.

7 The 4. day. 8 At fish and & ornam which side, for imme or crepe. 8 The the foule of life.

9 The fish & fouies had butch: one be- ginning, who- men to be that ounce giveth place to Gods wil, forsoin- che as the one forte is made to sife: shone in the eyes, & the other to foramen be- seth in the water.

23 So the euening & the morning were the fife day.

24 Moreover God said, Let the earth bring forth the "living thing according to his kind, cattel, & that which crepeth, & the beast of the earth, according to his kind, and it was fo.

25 And God made & beast of the earth according to his kind, and the cattel according to his kind, & euerie creping thing of & earth according to his kind: & God save that it was good.

26 Furthermore God said, Let vs make man in our image according to our likenes, and let them rule over the fish of the sea, and over the foule of the heauen, and over the beaftes, & ouer all the earth, and ouer euerie thing that crepeth & moueth on the earth.

27 Thus God created the man in his image: in the image of God created he him: he created them male and female.

28 And God blessed them, and God said to them, "Bring forth the frute and multiple, and fill the earth, and subdue it, and rule over the fish of the sea and ouer the foule of the heauen, & ouer euerie beast that moueth vpon the earth.

29 And God said, Beholde, I haue giuen vnto you euerie herbe beafig fede, which is vpon all the earth, & euerie tre, wherein is the frute of a tre bearing fede: that shalbe to you for meat.

30 Likewise to euerie beast of the earth, and to euerie foule of the heauen, & to euerie thing that moueth vpon the earth, which harhe life in it felfe, euerie grene herbe shalbe for meat, and it was fo.

31 And God save all that he had made, & lo, it was very good. So the euening and the morning were the fixt day.

CHAP. II

2 God refteth the feuenth day, and fanfiffeth it. 21 He fetteth man in the garden. 22 He createth the womā. 23 Marriage is ordained.

1 Thus the heauens and the earth were finished, & all the holte of them.

2 For in the feuenth day God ended his worke which he had made, & the feuenth day he rested from all his worke, which he had made.

3 So God blessed the feuenth day, & sanctified it, because that in it he had rested from all his worke, which God had created and made.

4 These are the gen:ractions of the heauens & of the earth, when they were created, in the day that the Lord God made the earth and the heauens,

5 And euerie plant of the field, before it was in the earth, and euerie herbe of the field, before it grew: for the Lord God had not caused it to raine vpo the earth, neither was there a man to til the ground. But a myft went vp from the earth, and waterd all the earth.

7 The Lord God also made the ma of the duft of the ground, and breathed in his face breath of life, and the man was a living foule.

8 And the Lord God platted a garden Eastwarde in Eden, and there he put the man whome he had made.

9 For out of the ground made the Lord God to growe euerie tre pleafant to the fight, and good for meat: the tre of life also in the middes of the garden, and the tre of knowledge of good and of eui.

10 And out of Eden went a riuer to water the garden, and from thence it was deuited, and became into foure heads.

11 The name of one p pishon: the fame compaffeth the whole land of Haurlah, where p golde.

12 And the golde of that land is good: the re p also bdelium, and the onix ftone.

13 And the name of the fecode riuer p Gihon: the fame compaffeth the whole land of Cush.

14 The name also of third riuer p Hiddekel: this goeth towarde the Eaffide of Afhde: and the fourth riuer is Perath.

15 Then the Lord God toke the man, and put him into the garden of Eden, that he might drefle it and kepe it.

16 And the Lord God commanded the man, saying, Thou shalt eat freiy of euerie tre of the garden.

17 But as touching the tre of knowledge of good and eui, thou shalt not eat of it: for "whenfueuer thou caett thereof, thou shalt dye the death.

18 Also the Lord God said, It is not good that the man shalde be him felfe alone. I wil make him an helpe mete for him.

19 So the Lord God formed of the earth euerie beast of the field, and euerie foule of the heauen, & broght them vnto the ma to fe how he wolde call the: for howfueuer the man named the living creature, fo was the name thereof.

20 The man therefore gaue names vnto all cattel, and to the foule of the heauen, and to euerie beast of the field: but for Adam founde he not an helpe mete for him.

21 Therefore the Lord God caused an heauie flepe to fall vpon the man. & whiles he flepe, he toke one of his rybbes and closed vp the flesh in theade thereof.

22 And the rybbe which the Lord God had taken from the man, made he a woman, and broght her to the man.

3 God threateneth to bring the flood. 4 Man is altogether corrupt. 15 Nóah is preferred in the Arke, which he was commanded to make.

5 O when men began to be multiplied Vpon the earth, and there were daughters borne vnto them,

Then the 6 sonnes of God sawe the daughters 7 of men that they were 8 fair, and they toke them wiues of all that they liked.

Therefore the Lord said, My Spirit shal not alway 9 striue with man, because he is but flesh, & his dayes shal be an 10 hundredreth and twentie yeres.

There were 11 gyantes in the earth in those dayes: yea, and after that the sonnes of God came vnto the daughters of me, and they had borne them children, these were mightie men, which in olde time were men of 12 renoume.

13 When the Lord sawe that the wicked- nes of man was great in the earth, and all the imaginacions of the thoughts of his 13 heart were onely euil continually,

Then it 14 repeted the Lord, that he had made man in the earth, and he was forie in his heart.

Therefore the Lord said, I wil destroye from the earth the man, whome I haue created, from man 15 to beast, to the creeping thing, & to the foule of the heauen: for I repent that I haue made them.

But Nóah 16 founde grace in the eyes of the Lord.

17 These are the 18 generations of Nóah. Nóah was a iuste and vpright man in his time, and walked with God.

18 And Nóah begate thre sonnes, Shem, Ham and Lápheth.

19 The earth also was corrupt before God:

for the earth was filled with 20 crueltie.

Then God loked vpo the earth, and be- holde, it was corrupt:
for all flesh had cor- rupt his way vpon the earth.

21 And God said vnto Nóah, 'An end of all flesh is come before me: for the earth is filled with crueltie through them:
and be- holde, I wil destroye them with the earth.

24 25 Make thee an Arke of "pine trees: thou shalt make" shalt thou finish it abou, and the dore of the Arke shalt thou set in the side thereof: thou shalt make it with the 29 lowe, feconde and third rounge.

30 And I, beholde, I wil bring a flood of wa- ters vpon the earth to destroye all flesh, wherein is 31 breath of life vnder the hea- uen: all that is in the earth shal perish.

32 But with thee wil I 33 establish my cou- enant, & thou shalt go into the Arke, thou, and thy sonnes, and thy wife, and thy son- nes wiues with thee.

34 And of euerie liuing thing, of all flesh two of euerie forte shalt thou cause to co- me into the Arke, to keep them aliue with thee: they shal be male and female.

36 Of the foules after their kinde, and of the cattel after their kinde, of euerie cre- ping thing of the earth after his kinde, two of euerie forte shal come vnto thee, that thou maieft kepe them aliue.

38 And take thou with thee of all meat that is eat & thou shalt gather it to thee, that it may be meat for thee & for them.

40 41 Nóah therefore did according vnto all, that God commanded him: euen 42 so did he.

4 For feuen dayes hence I wil cause it raine vpon the earth fourty dayes & fourty nights, and all the substance that I haue made, wil I destroye from of the earth.

5 *Nóah therefore did according vnto all that the Lord commanded him.

6 And Nóah was six hundreth yeres olde, when the flood of waters was vpon the earth.

7 So Nóah entred and his fonnes, & his wife, and his fonnes wiues with him into the Arke, because of the waters of the flood.

8 Of the cleane beastes, and of the vncleane beastes, and of the foules, & of all that crepeth vpon the earth, 9 There came two & two vnto Nóah into the Arke, male & female, as God had commanded Nóah.

10 And so after feuen dayes the waters of the flood were vpon the earth.

11 In the six hundreth yere of Noahs life in the 4 feconde moneth, the feuententh day of the moneth, in the fame day were all the fountains of the great depe broken vp, and the windowes of heauen were opened,

12 And the raine was vpon the earth forty dayes and forty nights.

13 In the selfe fame day entred Nóch with Shem, & Ham and Lipheth, the fonnes of Nóch, and Noahs wife, and the thre wiues of his fonnes with the into the Arke.

14 They and euerie beast after his kinde, & all cartel after their kinde, & euerie thing that crepeth and moueth vpon the earth after his kinde, & euerie foule after his kinde, enen euerie birde of euerie fethet.

15 For they came to Nóch into the Arke, two and two, 1 of all flesh wherein is the breath of life.

16 And they entering in, came male & female of all flesh, as God had commanded him: and the Lord s shut him in.

17 Then the flood was forty dayes vpon the earth, and the waters were increased, & bare vp y Arke, which was lifte vp abou the earth.

18 The waters also waxed strong, and were increased exceedingly vpon the earth, and the Arke went vpon the waters.

19 The waters "preuailed so exceedingly vpon the earth, that all the high mountaines, that are vnder the whole heauen, were couered.

20 Fiftene cubites vpwarde did the waters preuaille, when the mountaines were couered.

21 *Then all flesh perished that moued vp-on the earth, bothe foule and cartel and beast, & euerie thing that crepeth & moueth vpon the earth, and euerie man.

22 Euerie thing in whose nostrils the spirit of life did breathe, whatsoever they were in the drye land, they dyed.

23 So he destroyed euerie thing that was vpon the earth, from man to beast, to the creping thing, and to the foule of the heauen: they were euen destroyed from the earth, and Nóah only remained, & they that were with him in the Arke.

24 And the waters preuailed vpon the earth an hundreth and fiftie dayes.

25 The flood ceaseth 16 Nóah is commanded to come for the of the Arke with his 20 He farrefleeth to the Lord. 22 God promised that all things shall continue in their first order.

1 Now God remembred Nóah & euerie beast, & all the cartel that was with him in the Arke: therefore God made a winde to paffe vpon the earth, and the waters ceased.

2 The fountains also of the depe & the windowes of heauen were stopped & the raine from heauen was restrained,

3 And the waters returned from about the earth, going and returning: and after the end of the hundreth and fifteenth day the waters abated.

4 And in the feuenth moneth, in the feuententh day of the moneth, the Arke rested vpon the mountaines of Ararat.

5 And the waters were going & decreasing vntil the tenth moneth: in the tenth moneth, & in the first day of the moneth were the toppes of the mountaines fene.

6 So "after fourty dayes, Nóah opened y windowe of the Arke, which he had made,

7 And fent forthe a j rauē, which went out going forthe and returning, vntil the waters were dried vp vpon the earth.

8 Againe he fent a doue from him, that he might fest the waters were diminished from of the earth.

CHAP. X.

The increase of mankind by Nóch and his sonnes to The beginning of cities, centres and nations.

Now these are the 3 generations of 4 sonnes of Nóch, Shem, Ham & Iá- pheth: vnto whome sonnes were borne after the flood.

The sonnes of Iápheth were Gómez and Magóg, and 5 Madái, and Iauán, and Tu- bál and Mémeth, and Tirás.

And the sonnes of Gómez, Ashkenáz, and Riphath and Togarmáh.

6 Also 7 sonnes of Iauán, Elísháh and Tar- shíish, Kittím, and Dodánim.

Of these were the 8 yles of the Gentiles deuided in their landes, euctie man after his tongue, and after their families in their nations.

9 Moreover 10 sones of Ham were 11 Cush, and Mizráim, and Put, and Canáan.

And the sonnes of Cush, Sebá and Ha- uiláh, and Sabtáh, and Raamáh, and Sab- techá: also the sonnes of Raamáh were Shebá and Dedán.

11 And Cush begate Nimród, who began to be 12 mighty in the earth.

13 He was a mighty huter before the Lord, when fore it is said, 14 As Nimród 15 might- ty hunter before the Lord.

15 And the beginning of his kingdom was Babél, and Erech, and Accád, and Calnéh, in the land 16 of Shínár.

17 Out of that land came Afshúr, & buyl- ded Nimuch, and the 'citie Rehobóth, and Cálah:

12 Résen also between Niniuch and Cálah: this is a great citie.

13 And Mizráim begate 14 Ludím, and Ana- mím, and Lehabím, and Naphtuhim.

14 Pathruím also, and Caluhim (out of whome came the Philistims) and 15 Caph- toríms.

15 ¶ Also Canáan begate Zidón his first borne, and Heth,

16 And Iebusi, and Emorí, and Girgashi,

17 And Hiui, and Atki, and Sini,

18 And Aruadi, and Zemari, & Hamathi: & afterwarde were the families of 19 Cana- nites spread abroad.

19 Then the border of the Canaanites was from Zidón, as thou commest to Gerár vntil Azzáh, & as thou goest vnto Sodóm, and Gomoráh, and Admáh, & Zeboiím, euen vnto Lásha.

20 These are 21 sonnes of Ham according to their families, according to their ton- gues in their counties and in their naciós.

22 ¶ Vnto 23 Shem also the father of all the sonnes 24 of Eber, and elder brother of Iá- pheth were children borne.

25 The sonnes of Shem were Elám and Af- shúr, and Arpachshád, and Lud, and Arám.

26 And the sonnes of Arám, Vz & Hul, and Gétber and Másh.

27 Also Arpachshád begate Shélah, and Shélah begate Eber.

28 Vnto Eber also were borne two sonnes: the name of the one was Péleg: for in his dayes was the earth 1 divided: & his brothers name was Ioktán.

29 Then Ioktán begate Almodád and Shé- leph, & Hazarmáuech, and Iérah,

30 And Hadorám, & Vzál, and Dickláh,

31 And Obál, & Abimaél, and Shébá, 32 And Ophír, and Hauiláh, and Iobáb. all these were the sonnes of Ioktán.

33 And their dwelling was from Meshá, as thou goest vnto Sephár a mount of the East.

34 These are 35 sonnes of Shem according to their families, according to their ton- gues, in their countreis and nations.

35 These are the families of the sonnes of Nóah, after their generations among their people: and 36 out of these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood.

And Arpachfshád lhued, after he begate Shélah, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate fonnes and daughters.

And Shélah lhued thirty yeres, and be- gate Eber.

So Shélah lhued, after he begate Eber, foure hundreth and thre yeres, and begate fonnes and daughters.

Likewife Eber lhued foure and thirty ye- res, and begate Péleg.

So Eber lhued, after he begate Péleg, fou- re hundreth and thirty yeres, and begate fonnes and daughters.

And Péleg lhued thirty yeres, and begate Reú.

And Péleg lhued, after he begate Reú, two hundreth and nine yeres, and begate fonnes and daughters.

Alfo Reú lhued two and thirty yeres, & begate Serúg.

So Reú lhued, after he begate Serúg, two hundreth and feuen yeres, and begate fon- nes and daughters.

Moreover Serúg lhued thirty yeres, and begate Nahór.

And Serúg lhued, after he begate Nahór, two hundreth yeres, and begate fonnes & daughters.

So Nahór lhued, after he begate Térah, an hüdreth and nineteen yeres, and bega- te fonnes and daughters.

So Térah lhued fcuentie yeres, & bega- te Abrám, Nahór, and Harán.

Now thefe are g generaciós of Térah: Térah begate Abrám, Nahór, & Harán: and Harán begate Lot.

Then Harán dyed before Térah his father in the land of his natiuitie, in Vr of the Caldees.

So Abrám and Nahór toke them wiues, the name of Abrams wife was Sarái, and the name of Nahors wife Milcán, the daughter of Haran, the father of Milcán, and the father of Iscán.

But Sarái was barren, and had no childe. Then Térah toke Abrám his fonne, & Lot the fonne of Harán, his fonnes fonne, and Sarái his daughter in lawe, his fonne Abrams wife: and they departed together from Vr of the Caldees, to go into the land of Canáan, and then came to Har- án, and dwelt there.

So the dayes of Térah were two hun- dreth and fiue yeres, and Térah dyed in Harán.

14 Now, when Abrám was come into Egypt, the Egyptians beheld the woman: for she was very faire.

15 And the princes of Pharaoh sawe her, and commended her vnto Pharaoh: so the woman was a taken into Pharaohs house:

16 Who intreated Abrám wel for her sake, and he had shepe, and beues, and he asses, and men seruantes and maide seruantes, and she asses, and camelles.

17 But the Lord plagued Pharaoh and his house with great plagues, because of Sarai Abrams wife.

18 Then Pharaoh called Abrám and said, Why hast v done this vnto me? Wherefore didest thou not tel me, that she was thy wife?

19 Why saidest thou, She is my sister, that I shulde: take her to be my wife? Now therefore beholde thy wife, take her and go thy way.

1 A Game the Lord appeared vnto him in the plaine of Mamé, as he fate in his tent dore about the heate of the day.

2 And he lift vp his eyes, and looked: and lo, thre men shode by him, and when he saw we them, he ran to mete them from the tent dore, & bowed him selfe to the grounds.

3 And he said, Lord, if I haue now found fauour in thy fight, go not, I praise thee, from thy seruant.

4 Let a little water, I pray you, be broght, and wash your feet, and rest your selues vnder the tre.

5 And I wil bring a morsel of bread, that you may cofort your heartes, afterward de- ye shal go your wares: for the fore are ye come to your seruant. And they said, Do euen as thou hast said.

6 Then Abrahám made haste into the tée vnto Sa'áh, and said, Make ready at once the "measures of fine meale: knede it, and make cakes vpon the herthe.

7 And Abrahám ran to y beastes, & toke a tender and good calfe, and gaue it to the seruant, who hasled to make it ready.

8 And he toke butter & milke, and the cal- fe, which he had prepared, and fet before them, and shode him selfe by them vnder the tre, and e their did eat.

9 ¶ The thei said to him, Where is Sarah thy wife? And he answered, Beholde, she is in the tent.

10 And he said, I wil certainly come agai- ne vnto thee according to y time of li- fe: and lo, Sarah thy wife shal haue a fon- ne and Sarah heard in the téé dore, which was behunde him.

11 (Now Abrahám and Sa'áh were olde & shyken in age, and it ceased to be with Sa- ráh afte: the man of women) bake vnleauened bread, and their did eat.

4 But before thei went to bed, the men of the citie, even the men of Sodom compaf- sed the house round about from the yong to the olde, all the people from all quar- ters.

5 Who cryig vnto Lot said to him, Where are y men, which came to thee this night? bring them out vnto vs that we maie

13 For we s wil destroye this place, because the crie of them is great before y Lord, and the Lord hathe sent vs to destroye it.

14 Then Lot went out and spake vnto his sonnes in lawe, which married his daugh- ters, & said, Anise, get you out of this place: for the Lord wil destroie the citie: but he semed to his sonnes in lawe as though he had mocked.

2 Izhák is borne. 9 Ishmael macketh Izhák. 14 Hagár is cast out vnto her sonne. 17 The Angel comforteth Ha- gár. 22 The councell between Abimélech & Abrahám.

1 Now y Lord visited Sarah, as he had said, and did vnto her according as he had promised.

2 For Sarah conceived, & bare Abrahám a sonne in his olde age, at the same season that God tolde him.

3 And Abrahám called his sonnes name that was borne vnto him, which Sarah ba- re him, Izhák.

4 Then Abrahám circumcised Izhák his sonne, when he was eight daies olde, as God had commanded him.

5 So Abrahám was an hundredth yere olde, whê his sonne Izhák was borne vnto him.

6 The Sarah said, God hath made me to rejoyce all that heare will rejoyce w me?

7 Again she said, Who wolde haue said to Abrahám, that Sarah shulde haue given children sucke for I haue borne him a sonne in his olde age.

8 Then the child's grewe & was weaned: & Abrahám made a great feast the same day that Izhák was weaned.

9 And Sarah saw y sonne of Hagár the Egyptia (which she had borne vnto Abra- hám) mocking.

10 Wherefore she said vnto Abrahám, Cast out this bond woman and her sonne: for the sonne of this bond woman shal not be heire with my sonne Izhák.

11 And this thing was very grievous in A- brahams sight, because of his sonne.

12 But God said vnto Abrahám, Let it not be grievous in thy sight for the childe, and for thy bond womá: in all that Sarah shal sale vnto thee, heare her voice: for in Izhák shal thy sede be called.

13 As for y sonne of y bond womá, I wil ma- ke hi a nacro also, because he is thy sede.

14 So Abrahám arose vp early in the mor- ning, and toke bread, and a bottel of wa- ter, and gave it vnto Hagár, putting it on her shulder and the childe also, and sent her away: who departing wandled in the wilderness of Beer-sheba.

15 And when the water of the bottel was spet, she cast y childe vnder a certeine tre.

16 Then she went and fate her ouer against him a farre of about a bowe shote: for she said, I wil not se the death of the childe, and she fate downe ouer against him, and lift vp her voyce and wept.

17 Then God sheard the voyce of the chil- de, and the Angel of God called to Ha- gár from heauen, and said vnto her, What alieth thee, Hagár's feare not, for God hath heard y voyce of the childe where he is.

18 Arise, take vp y childe, and holde him in thine hand: for I wil make of him a great people.

19 And God opened her eies, & she saw a well of water so she went and filled the bottel with water, & gave y boye drinke.

20 So God was with the childe & he gre- we and dwelt in the wilderness, and was an archer.

21 And he dwelt in the wilderness of Parán, and his mother toke him a wife out of the land of Egypt.

22 And at that same time Abimélech and Phichól his chief captaine spake vnto A- brahám, saying, God is with thee in all y thou doest.

26 And Abimélech said I knowe not who hath done this thing: also thou toldest me not, nether heard I of it but this daie.

7 Then fpake Izhák vnto Abrahám his fa- ther, & faid, My father. And he answered, Here am I, my fonne. And he faid, Behol- de the fire & the wood, but where is the lambe for the burnt offering?

8 The Abrahám answered, My fonne, God wil d prouide him a lambe for a burnt of- fring: fo they went bothe together.

9 Whé they came to y place w God had she wed hi, Abrahám buylded an altar there, & couched y wood, & e houd Izhák his fo ne* & laied him on y altar vpon y wood.

10 And Abrahám stretching forthe his hand, toke the knife to kil his fonne.

11 But y Angel of the Lord called vnto him from heaue, faying, Abrahám, Abrahám.

And he anfwered, Here am I.

12 Then he faid, Lay not thine hand vpon the childe, nether do anie thing vnto him: for now I knowe that thou fea: eft God, feing for my fake thou haft not fpared thine onely fonne.

13 And Abrahám lifting vp his eies, loked: & beholde, there was a ram behinde him caught by y hornes in a bufhe, then Abra- hám wét & toke the ram & offred him vp for a burnt offering in y ftede of his fonne.

14 And Abrahám called the name of that place, 'Lehouáh-ineh. as it is faid this day. In the mount wil the Lord s be fene.

15 And the Angel of the Lord cryed vnto Abrahám fi om heauen the feconde time,

16 And faid, By b my feife haue I fwoine (faith y Lord) becaufe thou haft done this thig, & haft not fpared thine onely fonne,

4 But thou shalt go vnto my countrie, & to my kinred, & take a wife vnto my son ne Izhák.

5 And the seruant said to him, What if the woman wil not come w me to this land? shal I bring thy sonne againe vnto the lád from whence thou camels?

6 To whome Abrahám answered, Beware y y bring not my sonne thether againe.

7 The Lord God of heauen, who toke me from my fathers house, & from y lād whe re I was bonne, and that spake vnto me, & that sware vnto me, saying, 8 Vnto thy sede wil I giue this land, he shal send his Angel before thee, and thou shalt take a wife vnto my sonne from thence.

9 Then the seruant put his hand vnder the thigh of Abrahám his master, & sware to him for this matter.

10 So the seruant toke ten camels of the camels of his master, and departed: for he had all his masters goods in his hād, & so he arose, and went to Ariám Naharáim, vn to the citre of Nahór.

11 And he made his camels to lie downe without the citre by a well of water, at c- uen about the time that women come out to drawe water.

12 And he said, O Lord God of my ma- ster Abrahám, I besche thee, send me go- od spede this day, and shewe mercie vnto my master Abrahám.

24 Then she said to him, I am thy daughter of Bethuel the son of Milcah whom thou barest unto Nahór.

25 Moreover she said unto him, We have yielded also and provided enough, and room to lodge in.

26 And the man bowed himself and worshipped the Lord,

27 And said, Blessed be the Lord God of my master Abraham, who hath not withdrawn his mercie and his truth from my master: for whereto I was in thy way, thy Lord brought me to my masters brethren's house.

28 And the maid ran & tolde them of her mothers house according to these words.

29 Now Rebekah had a brother called Laban, & Laban ran unto thy father to the well.

30 For when he had given the earrings & the bracelets in his fathers hands, & when he heard the words of Rebekah his sister, saying, Thus said the man unto me, then he went to the man, & lo he found by the camels at the well.

31 And he said, Come in thy blessed of thy Lord: wherefore standest thou without, seeing I have prepared the house, & room for thy camels?

32 Then thy man came into thy house, and he unfaded the camels and brought yield & provided for the camels, and water to waehe his fete, & the mens fete that were with him.

33 Afterward the meat was fet before him: but he faid, It wil not eat, vntil I haue faid my meffage: And he faid, Speake on.

34 Then he faid, I am Abrahams feruant, 35 And the Lord haehe bleffed my master wonderfully, that he is become great: for he haehe giuen him fhepe, and beues, & filuer, and golde, and men, feruantes, & maide feruantes, and camels, and affes.

36 And Sarah my masters wife haehe borne a fonne to my master, whe the was olde, & vnto him haehe he giue all that he haehe.

37 Now my master made me fweare, faying, Thou fhalt not take a wife to my fonne of the daughters of the Canaanites, in whofe land I dwel:

38 But thou fhalt go vnto my fathers hou- fe and to my kinred, and take a wife vnto my fonne.

39 Then I faid vnto my master, What if the woman wil not followe me?

1 God preuldeh for Izhák in the famine 2 He ranneth his promes 3 The king blamed him for denying his wife. 4 The Philistims hate him for his riches, 5 Stoppe his wellers, 6 And drive him away, 7 God comforteth him, 8 He maketh alliance with Abimelech.

A Nd there was a famine in the land besides the first famine that was in the dayes of Abrahám, wherefore Izhák went to Abimélech King of the Phili- stims vnto Gerár.

2 For the Lord appeared vnto him, & said, Go not downe unto Egypt, but abide in the land which I shal shewe vnto thee.

3 Dwel in this land, & I wil be with thee, and wil blesse thee: for to thee, and to thy fede I wil giue all these "countries: and I wil performe the othe which I fware vn- to Abrahám thy father.

5 Because that Abrahám "obied my voy- ce and kept mine" ordinance, my com- mandemétes, my statutes, and my Lawes.

6 So Izhák dwelt in Gerár.

7 And the men of the place asked him of his wife, & he said, She is my sister: for he heared to say, She is my wife, left said he, the men of the place shulde kilme, be- cause of Rebekah: for she was beautiful to the eie.

8 So after he had bene there long time, A- bimélech King of the Philistims loked out at a windowe, and lo, he sawe Izhák spouting with Rebekáh his wife.

9 Then Abimélech called Izhák, and said, Lo, she is of a suretie thy wife, & why sai- dest I, She is my sister: To whome Izhák answered, Because I thought this, It mate be that I shal die for her.

10 Then Abimélech said, Why hast thou done this vnto vs? one of the people had almoft lien by thy wife, so shuldest thou haue broght sinne vpon vs.

11 The Abimélech charged all his people, saying, He that toucheth this man, or his wife, shal die the death.

12 Afterward Izhák sowed in that land, and founde in the same yere an hüdreth folde by estimation: and so I Lord blessed him.

13 And the man waxed mightie, and "til increased, til he was exceeding great,

14 For he had flockes of shepe, and herdes of cattel, and a mightie housholde: therefore the Philistims had s enuie at him, 15 In so muche that I Philistims stopped & filled vp with earth all the wells which his fathers seruants digged in his father Abra- hams time.

16 Then Abimélech said vnto Izhák, Get thee from vs, for thou art mightier the we a great deale.

17 Therefore Izhák departed these & pit ched his tent in the vallei of Gerár, and dwelt there.

18 And Izhák returning, digged the wel- les of water, which they had digged in the dayes of Abrahám his father: for the Phi- listims had stopped them after the death of Abrahám, & he gaue the the same na- mes, which his father gaue them.

19 Izhaks seruants then digged in the val- lei, & found there a well of liuing water.

4 Then make me sauourie meat, such as I loue, and bring it me that I maie eat, and y my soule maie blesle thee, before I dye.

5 (Now Rebekáh heard, when Izhák spake to Esau his sonne) and Esau went into the field to hunt for venison, and to bring it.

6 Then Rebekáh spake vnto Izakób her sonne, saying, Beholde, I haue heard thy father talking w Esau thy brother, saying,

7 Bring me venison, and make me sauou- rie meat, that I maie eat and blesle thee before the Lord, afore my death.

8 Now therefore, my sonne, heare my voy- ce in that which I commande thee.

9 b Get thee now to the flocke, & bring me thence two good kyds of the goates, that I maie make pleasant meat of them for thy father, such as he louch.

10 Then thou shalt bring it to thy father, and he shal eat, to the intent, that he maie blesle thee before his death.

11 But Izakób said to Rebekáh his mother, Beholde, Esau my brother m rough, and I am smothe.

12 My father maie possibly fele me, and I shal some to him to be a 'mocker: so shal I bring a curse vpon me, and not a blessing.

13 But his mother said vnto him, "Vpo me be thy curse, my 14 So he went and fet them, and broght them to his mother:

and his mother made plea- sant meat, such as his father loued.

15 And Rebekáh toke faire clothes of her elder sonne Esau, which were in her hou- se, and clothed Izakób her yonger
sonne:

16 And she couered his hands and the smo- the of his necke with the skinnnes of the kyds of the goates.

17 Afterwarde she put the pleasant meat and bread, which she had prepared, in the hand of her sonne Izakób.

18 And whe he came to his father, he said, My father. Who answered, I am here: who art thou, my sonne?

19 And Izakób said to his father, "I am Es- sau thy first borne, I haue done as y badest me, arise, I praie thee: sit vp and eat of my venison, that thy soule maie blesle me.

20 Then Izhák said vnto his sonne, How haft thou sounde it so quickly my sonne? Who said, Because the Lord thy God broght it to mine hand.

21 Againe said Izhák vnto Izakób, Come nere now, that I maie

26 Afterwards his father Izhák said vnto him, Come nere now, and kiss me, my sonne.

27 And he came nere and kissed him. Then he smelled the sauour of his garments, & blessed him, and said, Beholde, the cursed be he that curseth thee, and blessed be he that blesseth thee.

30 And when Izhák had made an end of blessing Iaakób, and Iaakób was scace gone out from the presence of Izhák his father, then came Esau his brother from his hunting,

31 And he also prepared sauouric meat and brought it to his father, and said vnto his father, Let my father arise, and eat of his sonnes venison, that thy soule may bless me.

32 But his father Izhák said vnto him, Who art thou? And he answered, I am thy sonne, euen thy first borne Esau.

33 Then Izhák was stricken with a meruelous great scare, & said, Who and where is he that hunted venison, and brought it me, and I haue eat of all before thou camest? and I haue blessed him, therefore he shall be blessed.

34 When Esau heard the wordes of his father, he cryed out on a great crye and bitter, out of measure, and said vnto his father, Blesse me, euen me also, my father.

35 Who answered, Thy brother came with subtilite, and hath taken away thy blessing.

† In the chap. 36. he was so called because he held his brother by y held, as though he would overthrow his & therefore he is here called anourethrower, or decy-ner. † For Izhák did this as he was the mus-ster and Pro-plet of God.

36 Then he said, Was he not iustely called a Iaakób? for he hath deceived me these two times: he take my birthright, and lo, now hath he taken my blessing. Also he said, Hast thou not reserved a blessing for me?

37 Then Izhák answered, and said vnto Esau, Beholde, I haue made him by lord, and all his brethren haue I made his seruantes: also with wheat and wine haue I furnished him, and vnto thee now what shall I do, my sonne?

38 The Esau said vnto his father, Hast thou but one blessing my father bless me, euen me also, my father: and Esau kissed vp his voyce, and wept.

39 Then Izhák his father answered, and said vnto him, Beholde, the farnes of the earth shaibe thy dwelling place, and thou shalt haue of the dewe of heauen from aboue.

40 And by thy swords shalt thou liue, and shalt be thy brothers seruant. But it shall come to pass, whe thou shalt get the marriage, that thou shalt break his yoke from thy necke.

41 Therefore Esau hated Iaakób, because of y blessing, wherewith his father blessed him. And Esau thought in his mind, "The dayes of mourning for my father wil co-me shortly, then I wil slay my brother Iaakób.

42 And it was told to Rebekah of y wordes of Esau her elder sonne, and she sent to the called Iaakób her yonger sonne, and said vnto him, Beholde, thy brother Esau "is comforted against thee, meaning to kill thee:

12 Then he dreamed, and beholde, there ftode a ladder vpon the earth and the top of it reached vp to heauen: and lo, the Angels of God went vp and downe by tt.

13 ¶ And beholde, the Lord ftode aboue it, and faid, I am the Lord God of Abrahám thy father, & the God of Izhák: the land, vpon the which thou flepeft, e wil I giue thee and thy fede.

14 And thy fede fhall be as the duft of the earth, and thou fhalt fpreade abroad to y Weft, and to the East, and to the North, and to the South, and in thee and in thy fede fhall all the families of the earth be blesfed.

15 And lo, I am with thee, & wil kepe thee whitethroough thou goeft, and wil bring thee againe into this land: for I wil not forfake thee vntill I haue performe that, that I haue promised thee.

16 ¶ Then Iaakób awoke out of his flepe, and faid, Surely the Lord is in this place, and I was not aware.

17 And he was affraid and faid, How fearful is this place: this is none other but the house of God, and this is the gate of heauen.

18 Then Iaakób rofe vp early in the mor- ning, and toke the ftonne that he had laied vnder his head, and s fet it vp as a piiler, and powred oyle vpon the top of it.

19 And he called the name of that place Beth-él: notwithstanding the name of the citie was at the firft calle I Luy.

20 Then Iaakób vowed a vowe, faying, If God wil be with me, an wil kepe me in this journey which I go, and wil giue me bread to eat, and clothes to put on:

21 So that I come againe vnto my fathers house in fafezy, then fhall the Lord be my God.

19 After, Leah conceived again, and bare Iaakób the six sonne.

20 The Leah said, God hath endowed me in a good dow. ie: now wil mine houst and dwel with me, because I haue borne him six sones: & she called his name Zebulán.

21 After that, she bare a daughter, and she called her name Dináb.

22 ¶ And God remembered Rahél, and God heard her, and opened her wombe.

23 So she conceived and bare a sonne, and said, God hath taken away my trebuie.

24 And she called his name Ioseph. saying, The Lord wil giue me yet another sonne.

25 ¶ And asone as Rahél had borne Ioseph. Iaakób said to Labán, Sed me away that I may go vnto my place and to my country.

26 Giue me my wiues and my children, for whome I haue ferued thee, and let me go: for thou knowest what feruice I haue do- ne thee.

27 To whome Labán answered, If I haue now founde fauour in thy fight, said: I ha- ue percenued that the Lord hath blessed me for thy sake.

28 Also he said, Appoint vnto me thy wa- ges, and I wil giue it thee.

29 But he said vnto hi, Thou knowest, what feruice I haue done thee, and in what ta- king thy cattel hath bene vndet me.

30 For the little, that thou hadest before I came, is increased into a multitude: and the Lord hath blessed thee "by my com- ming: but now whe shal h I trauel for mi- ne owne houfe also 31 Then he said, What shal I giue thee: And Iaakób answers, Thou shalt giue me no- thing at all: if thou wilt do this thing for me, I wil eturne, fede, and kepe thy shepe.

32 I wil paste through all thy flockes this day, and separate from them all the shepe with little spottes and great spottes, & all blacke lambes among the shepe, and the great spotted, and little spotted among the goates: and it shalbe my wages.

33 So shal my h righteousnesse answers for me hereafter, when it shal come for my rewards before thy face, or euct ie one that hath not little or great spottes among the goates, and blacke among the shepe, the same shalbe theft with me.

34 Then Labán said, Go to, wolde God it might be according to thy saying.

35 Therefore he toke out the same day the he goates that were party coloured and with great spottes, and all the she goates with little and great spottes, and all y had white in the, and all the blacke among y shepe, & put the in y keping of his sonnes.

36 And he set thre dares iourney between him selfe and Iaakób. & Iaakób kept the test of Labans shepe.

37 ¶ Then Iaakób t toke roddes of grene popular, and of hafel, and of the cheshut tre, and pilled white strakes in them, and made the white appeare in the roddes.

38 Then he put y roddes, which he had pil- led, in the gutters and watering troghes, when the shepe came to drinke, before y shepe: (for thei were in heate, when thei came to drinke)

39 And the shepe were in heate before the roddes, & afterward brought forth the yong of party colour, and with finale & great spottes.

40 And Iaakób parted these lambes, and turned the faces of the flocke towards these lambes party coloured and all maner of blacke, among the shepe of Labán: so he put his owne flockes by them selues, & put them not with Labans flocke.

41 And in euerie ramming tyme of the stronger shepe, Iaakób laied the roddes before the eues of the shepe in the gutters y thei might concenue before the roddes.

42 But when the shepe were feble, he put them not in and so y feble were Labans, and the stronger Iaakobs.

43 So the man encreased exceedingly, and had manie flockes, and maide fœuats, and men fœuants, and camels and asses.

This declares rith that the thing, which Iaakób did before, was by Gods obman- dement, & not through de- ceive. Or, passed

Thus hathe God taken awaie your fa- thers' fubftance, and giuen it me.

For in ramming time I lifted vp mine eies and fawc in a dreame, and beholde, the he goates leaped vpo the fhe goates, that were partie coloured with little and great fpottes fpotted.

And the Angel of God faid to me in a dreame, Iaakób. And I anfwered, Lo, I am here.

And he faid, lift vp now thine eies, and fe all the he goates leaping vpon the fhe goates that are partie coloured, fpotted with little & great fpottes: for I haue fene all that Labán doeth vnto thee.

This Angel was Christ & appeared to Iaakób in Be- thel: & hereby appeareth he had taught his wutes & feare of God: for he talked as tho' they know this thing. Chap 32, 32. For they we re giuen to Iaakób in re- compence of his fermer: & was a hande of fide.

I am the God of Beth-él, where thou *anointed y piller, where thou vowedft a vowe vnto me. Now arife, get thee out of this countrei & returne vnto the land where thou waft borne.

Then answered Rahél and Leáh, and faid vnto him, Haue we anie more porci- on and enheritance in our fathers houfe?

Doeth not he count vs as fitangers? for he hathe folde vs, and hathe eaten vp & confumed our mone.

Therefore all y riches, which God hathe taken from our father, is ours and our childrés: now then whatfoeuer God hathe faid vnto thee do it.

¶ The Iaakób rofe vp, and fet his fonnes and his wines vpon camels.

And he caried awaie all his flockes, and all his fubftance which he had gotten, to wit, his riches, which he had gotten in Padán Arám, for to go to Izhák his ra- ther vnto the land of Canán.

When Labán was gone to fhere his fhe- pe, then Rahél ftale hef fathers' idoles.

Thus Iaakób ftale awaie the heart of Labán the Aramite: for he tolde him not that he fled.

So fled he with all that he had, & he rofe vp, and paffed the' tiuer, and fet his face toward mount Gileád.

The third day after was it tolde Labán, that Iaakób fled.

Then he toke his brethren with him, & followed after him
feuen dayes journey, and ouertoke him at mount Gileád.

And God came to Labán the Aramite in a dreame by night, and faid vnto him, Take hede that thou fpeake not to Iaakób "oght

¶ Then Labán ouertoke Iaakób, & Iaa- kób had pitched his tent in the mount: & Labán alfo with his brethren pitched vp- on mount Gileád.

Then Labán faid to Iaakób, What haft thou done? thou haft euen ftollen away mine heart & caried away my daughters as thought they had bene taken captiues w the fworde.

Wherefore diddeft thou flee fo fecretly & ftale away from me, & diddeft not rel me, that I might haue fent thee forthe with mirth & with fongs, with timbrel & with harpe?

But thou haft not fuffered me to kiffe my fonnes and my daughters: now thou haft done foolifhly in doing fo.

I am "able to do you euil: but the s God of your father fpake vnto me yefter night, faying, Take hede that thou fpeake not to Iaakób oght faue good.

Now thought thou wenteft thy way, be- cause thou greatly longedft after thy fa- thers houfe: yet wherefore haft thou ftolle my gods?

Thé Iaakób anfwered, & faid to Labán, Because I was afraid, & thoght that thou woldeft haue taken thy daughters from me.

But with whome thou findeft thy gods, 'let him not liue. Serche thou before our brethren what I haue of thine, and take it to thee (but Iaakób wiift not that Rahél had ftollen them)

Then came Labán into Iaakobs tent, & into Leahs tent, and vnto the two maides tentes, but founde them not, fo he wét out of Leahs tent, & entred into Rahels tent.

(Now Ranel had také the idoles & put them in the camels litter & fate downe vpon them) & Labán ferched all the tent, but founde them not.

Then faid fhe to her father, "My lord, be not angry that I cannot rife vp before thee: for the cuftome of womé a vpon me: fo he ferched, but found not the idoles.

¶ Thé Iaakób was wroth, & chode with Labán: Iaakób alfo anfwered and faid to Labán, What haue I tré: paced: what haue
I offended, that thou haft put fued after me?

Seing thou haft ferched all my fluffe, what haft y founde of all thine houftolde fluffe? put it here before my brethren and thy brethren, that they may iudge be- twene vs bothe.

7 And when the femmes of Iaakób were come out of the field and heard it, it grieved the men, & they were very angry, because he had wrought 'vilennie in Ifraél, in that he had lie with Iaakobs daughter: "which thing ought not to be done.

8 And Hamór colmuned with them, faying, The foule of my femme Shechéme longeth for your daughter: giue her him to wife, I pray you.

9 So make affinitie fi vs: giue your daughters vnto vs, and take our daughters vnto you,

10 And ye fhall dwel with vs, and the land fhall be before you dwel, and do your buſines in it, and haue your poſſeſſions therein.

11 Shechéme alſo ſaid vnto her father and vnto her brethren, Let me finde fauour in your eyes, and I wil giue whaffocuer ye fhall appoint me.

12 "Aske of me abundantly bothe dowrie and gifts, & I wil giue as ye appoint me, ſo that ye giue me the maide to wife.

13 Thé the femmes of Iaakób answered Shechéme and Hamór his father, talking among them ſelues deceitfully, because he had defiled Dináh their ſiſter,

14 And they ſaid vnto them, We can not do this thing, to giue our ſiſter to an vn-circumciſed man: for that were a reproſe vnto vs.

15 But in this wil we confent vnto you, if ye wil be as we are, that cue: ie ma childe among you be circumcised:

16 Then wil we giue our daughters to you, and we wil take your daughters to vs, and wil dwel with you, and be one people.

17 But if ye wil not hearken vnto vs to be circumcised, then wil we take our daughter & departe.

18 Now their wordes pleased Hamór, and Sheché^m Hamors fonne.

19 And the yong man deferde not to do the thig becaufe he loued Iaakobs daughter: he was also the moſte ſet by of all his fathers houſe.

20 Then Hamór and Sheché^m his fonne went vnto the gate of their citie, & commuted with the men of their citie, ſaying, 21 Theſe men are peaceable with vs: & fy they may dwel in the land, and do their affaires therein (for beholde, the land harhe rounge ynough for them) let vs take their daughters to wuues, and giue them our daughters.

22 Onely herein wil fy men confent vnto vs for to dwel with vs, and to be one people, if all the men children among vs be circucised as they are circumcised.

23 Shal not their flockes and their subftá-ce and all their cattel be ouuſonely let vs conſent herein vnto the, and they wil dwel with vs.

24 And vnto Hamór, & Shechém his ſonne hearkened all that went out of the gate of his citie: and all the men children were circumcifed, eun all that went out of the gate of his citie.

25 And on the third day (when thei were fore) two of the ſonnes of Iaakób, Simeón and Leui, Dináhs brethren toke e-ther of them his ſworde & went into the citie boldly, and flewe euerie male.

26 Thei flewe alſo Hamór and Shechém his ſonne with the edge of the ſworde, & toke Dináh out of Shechems houſe, and went their way.

27 Againe the other ſonnes of Iaakób came vpon the dead, and ſpoiled the citie, becauſe they had defiled their ſiſter.

28 Thei toke their ſhepe, and their beues, and their affes, and whaffocuer was in the citie, and in the fields.

29 Alſo they caried away captiue and ſpoiled all their goods, and all their children and their wuues, and all that was in the houſes.

30 Then Iaakób ſaid to Simeón and Leui, Ye haue troubled me, & made me ſtink among the inhabitants of the land, affuel the Canaanites, as the Perizzites, and I being fewe in nombre, they shal gather them felues together against me, and flay me, and so shal I, and my house be destroyed.

31 And they answered, Shulde he abuse our filter as a whore

Then God said to Iaakób, Arife, go vp to Beth-el & dwel there, & make there an altar vnto God, that appeared vn to thee, whé thou fleddest from Esáu thy brother.

a Then said Iaakób vnto his housholde & to all that were with him, Put away the stráge gods that are among you, & clenfe your selues, and change your garments:

3 For we wil rife and go vp to Beth-el, and I wil make an altar there vnto God, which heard me in the day of my tribulation, & was with me in the way which I went.

4 And they gaue vnto Iaakób all the stran- ge gods, which were in their hands, and all their e earrings which were in their eares, and Iaakób hid them vnder an oke, which was by Shechém.

5 Then they went on their journey, and the feare of God was vpon the cities, that were round about them: so that they did not followe after the sonnes of Iaakób.

6 So came Iaakób to Luz, which is in the land of Canáan: (the same is Beth-el) he and all the people that was with him.

7 And he buyf there an altar, & had cal- led the place, The God of Beth-el, becau- fe that God appeared vnto him there, whé he fled from his brother.

8 Then Deborah Rebekahs nourfe dyed, and was buried beneth Beth-el vnder an oke: and he called the name of it Allón bachúth.

9 Againe God appeared vnto Iaakób, af- ter he came out of Padán Arám, and blef- sed him.

10 Moreouer God said vnto him, Thy name is Iaakób: thy name shal be no more called Iaakób, but Israel shalbe thy name: and he called his name Israel.

11 Againe God said vnto him, I am God all sufficiet, growe, & multiplie: a nation & a multitude of natiós shal sprig of thee, and Kings shal come out of thy loynes.

12 Also I wil giue land, which I gaue to A braham and Izhák, vnto thee: & vnto thy sede after thee wil I giue that land.

13 So God ascended from him in the pla- ce where he had talked with him.

14 And Iaakób set vp a pillar in the pla- ce where he talked with him, a pillar of sto ne, and powred drinke offering thereon: al- so he powred oyle thereon.

15 And Iaakób called the name of the pla- ce, where God spake with him, Beth-el.

16 Then they departed from Beth-el, & whé there was about halfe a daies journey of ground to come to Ephráth, Rahél trauailed, and in transiling she was in peril.

17 And when she was in peines of her la- bour, the midwife said vnto her, Feare not: for thou shalt have this sonne also.

18 Then as she was about to yelde vp the goste (for she dyed) she called his name Ben-oni, but his father called him Beniamin.

19 Thus dyed Rahél, & was buried in the way to Ephráth, which is Beth-léhem.

20 And Iaakób set a pillar vpon her graue: This is the pillar of Rahels graue vnto this day.

21 The Israel went forward, & pitched his tent beyonde Migdaléder.

22 Now, when Israel dwelt in that land, Reubén went, and laye with Bilhán his fathers concubine, and it came to Israels eare. And Iaakób had twelve sonnes.

23 The sonnes of Leán: Reubén Iaakobs el deft sonne, and Simeón, & Leui, & Iudáh, & Isachár, & Zebulún.

24 The sonnes of Rahél: Ioséph and Ben- iamin.

25 And sonnes of Bilhán Rahels maide: Dan and Naphtali.

26 And the sonnes of Zilpáh Leahs maide: Gad and Athér. these are the sonnes of Iaakób, which were borne him in Padán Arám.

27 Then Iaakób came vnto Izhák his father to Mamré a citte of Arbán: this is Hebrón, where Abrahám and Izhák were strangers.

28 And the dayes of Izhák were an hundred and foure score yeres.

29 And Izhák gaue vp the goste and dyed, and was gathered vnto his people, being olde and full of daies: & his sonnes Esáu and Iaakób buryed him.

13. And these are the sonnes of Reuél Es- sau sonne: duke Náhath, duke Zérah, du- ke Shammáh, duke Mizzáh: these are the dukes that came of Reuél in the land of E- dóm: these are the sonnes of Bashemáth Esau wife.

14. Likewise these were the sonnes of A- holibamáh Esau wife: Duke Ieúsh, duke Iaalám, duke Kórah: these dukes came of Aholibamáh, the daughter of Anáh Esau wife.
15. These are the children of Esau, & these are the dukes of the: This Esau is Edom.
16. These are the sonnes of Scir the Ho- rite, which inhabited the land before, Lo- tán, and Shobál, and Zibeón, and Anáh.
17. And Dishón, and Ezer, and Dishán: the- se are the dukes of the Horites, the son- nes of Scir in the land of Edom.
18. And the sonnes of Lotan were, Horí & Hemám, and Lotans sifter was Timná.
19. And the sonnes of Shobál were these: Aluán, and Manáhath, and Ebal, Shephó, And Onám.
20. And these are the sonnes of Zibeón: bothe Anáh, & Anáh: this was Anáh that founde mules in the wilderness, as he fed his father Zibeons ashes.
21. And the children of Anáh were these: Dishón & Aholibamáh, the daughter of Anáh.
22. Also these are the sonnes of Dishán: Hemdán, & Eshbán, & Ithrán, & Cherán.

23. The sonnes of Ezer are these: Bilhán, & Zaaúan, and Akán.
24. The sonnes of Dishán are these: Vz, and Arán.
25. These are the dukes of the Horites: du- ke Lotán, duke Shobál, duke Zibeón, duke Anáh,
26. Duke Dishón, duke Ezer, duke Dishán: these be the dukes of the Horites, after their dukedomes in the land of Scir.
27. And these are y Kings that reigned in the lad of Edom, before there reigned any King over the children of Ifsáél.
28. The Béla the sonne of Beór reigned in Edóm, and the name of his citic was Din- hábah.
29. And when Béla dyed, Iobáb the sonne of Zérah of Bozrá reigned in his stede.
30. When Iobáb also was dead, Hushám of the lad of Temaní reigned in his stede.
31. And after the death of Hushám, Hadád the sonne of Bedád, which slewe Mitíán in the field of Moáb, reigned in his stede, and the name of his citic was Auíth.
32. When Hadád was dead, then Samláh of Mafrekáh reigned in his stede.
33. When Samláh was dead, Shaúl of Re- hobóth by the ruler, reigned in his stede.

34. When Shaúl dyed, Baal-hanán the son- ne of Achbór reigned in his stede.
35. And after the death of Baal-hanán the sonne of Achbór, Hadád reignd in his stede, and the name of his citic was Pau: & his wines name Mehetabél the daugh- ter of Marréð, the daughter of Mezaháb.
36. Then these are the names of the dukes of Esau according to their families, their places and by their names: duke Timná, duke Aluáh, duke Iethéth,
37. Duke Aholibamáh, duke Eláh, duke Pi- nón,
38. Duke Kenáz, duke Temán, duke Mib- zár,

4 So when his brethren sawe that their father loved him more peaceably vnto him.

5 ¶ And Ioséph dreamed a dreame, and tolde his brethren, who hated him so much the more.

6 For he said vnto the Heare, I pray you, this dreame which I haue dreamed.

7 Beholde now, we were binding sheues in y middes of the field: & lo, my shefe arose and also stode vpriht, & beholde, your sheues compassed round about, and did reuerence to my shefe.

8 Then his brethren said to him, What, shalt thou reigne ouer vs, and rule vs? or shalt thou haue altogether dominiou ouer vs? And thei hated him so muche the more, for his dreames, & for his wordes. 9 ¶ Againe he dreamed another dreame, & tolde it his brethren, & said, Beholde, I haue had one dreame more, and beholde, the sunne and the moone and eleuen stares did reuerence to me.

10 Then he tolde it vnto his father & to his brethren, and his father rebuked him, & said vnto him, What is this dreame, which thou hast dreamed? shal I, & thy mother, and thy brethren come in dede and fall on the grounde before thee?

11 And his brethren enuied him, but his father noted the saying.

12 ¶ Then his brethren went to kepe their fathers shepe in Shechem.

13 And Israel said vnto Ioséph, Do not thy brethren kepe in Shechem? come & I wil send thee to them.

14 And he answered him, I am here. Then he said vnto him, Go now, se whether it be wel with thy brethren, and how the stockes prosper, and bring me worde againe. so he sent him from the vale of Hebi on, and he came to Shechem.

15 ¶ Then a man founde him: for lo, he was wandring in the field, and the man asked him, saying, What fekeft thou?

16 And he answered, I seke my brethren: tel me, I pray thee, where they kepe shepe.

17 And the man said, Thei are departed hence: for I heard them say, Let vs go vnto Dothan. Then went Ioséph after his brethren, and found them in Dothan.

18 And when thei saw him a far of, euen before he came at them, thei conspired against him for to slaie him.

19 For thei said one to an other, Beholde, this dreamer commeth.

20 Come now therefore, & let vs slaie him, and cast him into some pit, & we wil say, A wicked beast harhe deuoured him: the we shal se, what wil come of his dreames.

21 "But whe Reuben heard that, he deliuered him out of their hands, & said, "Let vs not kil him. Chap. 42, 45. "She let vs not fmin his life.

22 Also Reuben said vnto them, Shed not blood, but cast him into this pit that is in the wilderness, & lay no hand vpon him. Thus he said, that he might deliuer him out of their hand, and restore him to his father againe.

23 ¶ Now when Ioséph was come vnto his brethre, thei stript Ioséph out of his coat, his particoloured coate y was vpon him.

24 And thei toke him, & cast hi into a pit, & the pit was empty, without water in it.

25 Then thei sat them downe to eat bread: and thei list vp their eles and loked, and beholde, there came a company of Ishmeelites from Gilead, and their camels lade with spicerie, and rosen, and myrrhe, and were going to carie it downe into Egypa.

26 The Iudah said vnto his brethre, What auailleth it, if we slaie our brothers thogh we kepe his blood secret?

27 Come and let vs fel him to the Ishmeelites, and let not our hands be vpon him: for he is our brother or our flesh: and his brethren obeied.

28 The the Midianites marchat men passed by, and thei drewe forthe, and list Ioséph out of the pit, and solde Ioséph vnto the Ishmeelites for twentie pieces of siluer: who broght Ioséph into Egypt.

29 ¶ Afterward Reuben returned to y pit, and beholde, Ioséph was not in the pit: the he rent his clothes, 30 And returned to his brethre, & said, The childe is not yider, & I, whether shal I go?

31 And thei toke Iosephs coate, and killed a kid of the goates, and depped the coate in the blood.

32 So thei sent that particoloured coate, and thei broght it vnto their father, & said, This haue we solde: se now, whether it be thy sonnes coate, or no.

33 Then he knew it and said, It is my sonnes coat: a wicked beast harhe deuoured him: Ioséph is surely torne in pieces.

34 And Iaskob ret his clothes, & put sackcloth about his loynes, & sorowed for his sonne a long slason.

35 Then all his sonnes & all his daughters rose vp to cofoite him, but he wolde not be comforted, but said, "Surely I wil go downe into y graue vnto my sone mourning: so his father wept for him.

feale, & fy cloke, an I fy ſtaffe.

26 Then Iudáh knewe him, and faid, She is more righteous the I: for the hath done it becauſe I gaue her not to Sheláh my ſon-ne. So he laye with her no more.

27 ¶ Now, whe the time was come that ſhe ſhulde be deliuered, beholde, theſe were twinnes in her wombe.

28 And when ſhe was in trauel, the one put out his hand: & the Genesis.

5 And frô that time that he had made him ruler over his houſe & over all that he had, the Lord 6 bleſſed the Egyptias houſe for Ioſephſ ſake: & the bleſſing of the Lord was upon all that he had in y house, and in the field. 6 Therefore he left all y he had in Iosephs had, & toke accompte of nothig, that was w him, saue onely of the bread, which he did eat. And Ioseph was a saire per sonne, and wel fauoured. 7 Now therefore after these thigs, his masters wife cast her eyes upon Ioseph, and said, 'Lye with me. 8 But he refused & said to his masters wife, Beholde, my master knoweth not what he hathe in the house with me, but hathe comitted all that he hathe to mine hand. 9 There is no man greater in this house then I: nether hathe he kept any thing fro me, but only thee, because thou art his wife: how then can I do this great wickedness & so sinne against a God? 10 And albeit she spake to Ioseph day by day, yet he hearkened not vnto her, to lye with her, or to be in her companie. 11 Then on a certeine day Ioseph entred into the house, to do his business: & there was no man of the housholde in the house: 12 Therefore she caught him by his garment, sayig, Slepe w me: but he left his garment in her hand and fled, & got him out. 13 Now when she sawe that he had left his garment in her hand, and was fled out, 14 She called vnto the men of her house, and tolde them, saying, Beholde, he hathe broght an Ebrewe vnto vs to moke vs: who came into me for to haue slept with me: but I h cryed with a loude voyce. 15 And when he heard y I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment with me, & fled away, and got him out. 16 So she layed vp his garment by her, vntil her lord came home. 17 Then she tolde him according to these words, saying,

The Ebrewe situant, w thou hast broge vnto vs, came into me to moke me. 18 But asone as I lift vp my voyce and cryed, he left his garment w me, & fled out. 19 Then when his master heard the words of his wife, which she tolde him, saying, After this maner did thy seruāt to me, his angre was kindled. 20 And Iosephs master toke him and put him in 'prison, in the place where the Kingsprisoners lay bounde: and there he was in prison 21 But y Lord was with Ioseph, & 'shewed him mercie, and got him fauour in the 'sight of the' master of the prison. 22 And the keper of the prison committed to Iosephs had all the prisoners that were in the prison, and whatsoeuer they did there, that did he.

23 And the keper of the prison loked vnto nothing that was vnder his hand, seing that the Lord was with him: for whatsoeuer he did, the Lord made it to prosper.

k That is, nothing was done without his commandment.

CHAP. XL.

1 The interpretation of dreames is of God. 12. 19. Ioseph expoundeth the dreames of the two prisoners. 23 The ingratitude of the butler.

2 And Pharaoh was angry against his two officers, against the chief butler, and against the chief baker.

3 Therefore he put them in warde in his chief stuardes house, in the prison and place where Ioseph was bounde.

4 And the chief stuarde gaue Ioseph charge ouer them, & he serued them: and they continued a season in warde:

5 And they bothe dreamed a dreame, ether of the his dreame in one night, eche one according to y interpretation of his dreame, bathe y butler & the baker of the King of Egypt, w were bounde in the prison.

6 And when Ioseph came in vnto them in the morning, and loked vpon them, beholde, they were sad.

7 And he asked Pharaohs officers, that were with him in his masters warde, saying, 'Whe: efore' loke ye so sadly to day?

8 Who answered him, We haue dreamed, eche one a dreame, & there is none to interpret the same. Then Ioseph said vnto the,

9 Are not interpretations of God: tel them me now.

10 So the chief butler tolde his dreame to Ioseph, and said vnto him, In my dreame, beholde, a vine was before me,

11 And in the vine were thre branches, and as it budded, her floure came forth: & the clusters of grapes waxed ripe.

12 And I had Pharaohs cup in mine hand, & I toke the grapes, and wrong them into Pharaohs cup, and I gaue the cup into Pharaohs hand.

13 Then Ioseph said vnto him, 'This is the interpretation of it: The thre branches are thre dayes.

14 Within thre dayes shal Pharaoh lift vp thine head, & restore thee vnto thine 'office, and thou shalt giue Pharaohs cup into his hand after the olde maner, when y wast his butler.

15 But haue me in remembrance with thee, when thou art in good case, & shewe mercie, I pray thee, vnto me, and make mention of me to Pharaoh, that thou maieh bring me out of this house.

CHAP. XII.

26 Pharaohs dreames are expounded by Ioseph. 4c He is made ruler over all Egypt 1: He hath the two sonnes: Manaffh and Ephraim. 14 The famine beginneth throughout the world.

1 And two yeres after, Pharaoh also dreamed, and beholde, he stode by a riuer,

2 And lo, there came out of the riuer seuen goodlie kine and fatsfleshed, and thei fed in a meadow:

3 And lo, seuen other kine came vp after them out of the riuer, euilfauoured and leane sleshed, and stode by the other kine vpon the brinke of the riuer.

4 And the euilfauoured and leane sleshed kine did eat vp the seuen welfauoured & fat kine: so Pharaoh awoke.

5 Againe he slept, and dreamed the b seconde time: and beholde, seuen eares of corne grewe vpon one stalke, ranke and goodlie.

6 And lo, seue thinne eares, & blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them:

7 And the thinne eares, deuoured the seue ranke and ful eares, then Pharaoh awaked, and lo, it was a dreame.

8 Now when the morning came, this spirit was c troubled: therefore he sent and called all the fothesaiets of Egypt, & all the wife men thereof, and Pharaoh tolde them his dreames: but d none colde interpret them to Pharaoh.

9 Then spake the chief butler vnto Pharaoh, saying, I e call to minde my fautes this day.

10 Pharaoh being angry with his seruantes, put me in wai de in the chief stuardes house, bathe me and the chief baker.

11 The we dreamed a dreame in one night, bathe I, and he: we dreamed eche man according to the interpretation of his dreame.

12 And there was with vs a yong man, an Ebrewes, seruant vnto the chief stuarde, whome when we tolde, he declared our dreames to vs, to euerie one he declared according to his dreame.

13 And as he declared vnto vs, so it came to pafle: for he restored me to mine office, and hanged him.

14 a Then sent Pharaoh, and f called Iosfeph, and they broght him hastily out of prison, and he shaued him, and changed his raiment, and came to Pharaoh.

15 Then Pharaoh said to Iosfeph, I haue dreamed a dreame, and no man can interpret it, and I haue heard say of thee, that when thou hearest a dreame, thou canst interpret it.

16 And Iosfeph answered Pharaoh, saying, f Without me God shal " answer for the welth of Pharaoh.

17 And Pharaoh said vnto Iosfeph, In my dreame, beholde, I stode by the banke of the riuer:

18 And lo, there came vp out of y riuer seue fatsfleshed, and welfauoured kine, and thei fed in the medow.

19 Also lo, seuen other kine came vp after them, poore and very "euilfauoured, and leanefleshed: I neuer sawe the like in all the land of Egypt, for euilfauoured.

20 And the leane and euilfauoured kine did eat vp the first seuen fat kine.

21 And when they "had eaten them vp, it colde not be knowen that they had eaten them, but they were still as euilfaoured, as they were at the beginning: so did I awake.

22 Moreover I sawe in my dreame, and beholde, seuen eares sprang out of one stalke, ful and faire.

23 And lo, seuen eares, withered, thinne, and blasted with the East winde, sprang vp after them.

24 And the thinne eares deuoured the seuen good eares. Now I haue tolde the fothesaiets, and none can declare it vnto me.

25 ¶ Then Iosfeph answered Pharaoh, Bothe Pharaohs dreames are one. b God hath shewed Pharaoh, what he is about to do.

26 The seuen good kine are seuen yeres, & the seuen good eares are seuen yeres: this is one dreame.

27 Likewise the seuen thinne and euilfaoured kine, that came out after them, are seuen yeres: and the seuen emptie eares blasted with the East winde are seuen yeres of famine. 28 This is the thing, which I haue said vnto Pharaóh, that God hathe shewed vnto Pharaóh, what he is aboute to do. 29 Beholde, there come seuen yeres of great plentie in all the land of Egypt. 30 Againe, there shal arise after them seuen yeres of famine, so that all the plentie shalbe forgotten in the land of Egypt, and the famine shal consume the land: 31 Nether shal the plentie be knowé in the land, by reason of this famine that shal come after: for it shalbe exceeding great. 32 And therefore the dreame was doubled vnto Pharaóh the second time, because the thing is established by God, & God hasteth to performe it. 33 Now therefore let Pharaóh 'prouide for a man of understanding and wisdom, & set him ouer the land of Egypt. 34 Let Pharaóh make and appoint officers ouer the lad, and take vp the sifte parte of y lad of Egypt in y seuen plenteous yeres. 35 Also let them gather all the fode of these good yeres that come, and lay vp corne vnder the hand of Pharaóh for fode, in the cities, and let them kepe it. 36 So the fode shalbe for the prouision of the land, against the seuen yeres of famine, which shalbe in the land of Egypt, that the land perish not by famine. 37 ¶ And y saying pleased Pharaóh and all his seruantes. 38 Then said Pharaóh vnto his seruantes, Can we finde fache a man as this, in whome is the Spirit of God? 39 The Pharaóh said to Ioséph, For as much as God hathe shewed thee all this, there is no man of understanding, or of wisdom like vnto thee. 40 ¶ Thou shalt be ouer mine house,

& at thy "worde shal all my people be armed, only in y Kings thione wil I be abou thee. 41 Moreouci Pharaóh said to Ioséph, Beholde, I haue set thee ouer all the land of Egypt. 42 And Pharaóh toke of his 'ring from his hand, and put it vpon Ioséphs hand, and araied him in garments of fine linen and put a golden cheine about his necke. 43 So he set him vpon the "best charet that he had, saue one: & they cryed before him, a Abrech, and placed him ouer all the land of Egypt. 44 Againe Pharaóh said vnto Ioséph, I am Pharaóh; & without thee shal no man lift vp his hand or his fore in all the land of Egypt. 45
And Pharaóh called Ioséphs name Zaph n'ath-paaneish: and he

On, then went Ioséph abroad in the land of Egypt.

46 ¶ And Ioséph was a thirty yere olde whê he stode before Pharaóh King of Egypt: and Ioséph departing from the presence of Pharaóh, went through out all the land of Egypt.

47 And in the seuen plenteous yeres the earth" broght for the store.

48 And he gathered vp all the fode of the seuen plenteous yeres, which were in the land of Egypt, and layed vp fode in the cities: the fode of the field, that was roud about every citie, layed he vp in the same.

49 So Ioséph gathered wheat, like vnto the sand of y sea in multitude out of measure, vntil he left nombring: for it was without nombre.

50 Now vnto Ioséph were borne two sonnes (before the yeres of famine came) & Afinath the daughter of Poti-phérah prince of On bare vnto him.

51 And Ioséph called the name of the first borne Manaiseh: for God, said he, hathe made me forget all my labour & all my fathers housholde.

52 Also he called the name of the second Ephraim: for God, said he, hathe made me fruitful in the land of mine: afflicted.

53 ¶ So the seuen yeres of the plentie that was in the land of Egypt were enued.

54 ¶ The began the seuen yeres or famine to come, according as Ioséph had said: & the famine was in all landes, but in all the land of Egypt was bread.

55 At the length all the land of Egypt was affamished and the people cryed to Pharaóh for bread. An Pharaóh said vnto all the Egyptians, Go to Ioséph: what he saith to you, do ye.

56 When the famine was vpon all the lad, Ioséph opened all places, wherein the store was and solde vnto the Egyptians: for the famine waxed sove in the land of Egypt.

57 And all countess came to Egypt to bye corne of Ioséph, because the famine was fore in all landes.

10 But they said vnto him, Nay, my lord, but to bye vitale thy seruantes are come.

12 But he said vnto them, Nay, but ye are come to se the weakenes of the land.

13 And they said, We thy seruantes are twelve brethren, the fones of one man in the land of Canaan: and beholde, the youngest u this day with our father, and one is not.

14 Againe Ioseph said vnto the, This is it that I spake vnto you, sayig, Ye are spies.

15 Hereby ye shalbe proued: by the life of Pharaoh, ye shal not go hece, except your yongest brother come hether.

16 Sed one of you which may set your brother, and ye shal be kept in prison, that your wordes may be proued, whether there be tueth in you: or els by the life of Pharaoh ye are but spies.

17 So he put them in warde thre dayes.

18 Then Ioseph said vnto them the third day, This do, and liue:
for I a feate God.

19 If ye be true men, let one of your bre- thren be bounde in your prison houfe, or go ye, came fode for the famine of your when he befoght vs, and we wolde not heate him: the elote is this trouble come vpon vs.

22 And Reuben answered them, saying, Warned I not you, saying, "Sinne not a- gainst the childe, and ye wolde not heate" and lo, his blood is now required.

23 (And they were not aware that Ioseph vndestode them: for he "spake vnto them by an interpreter)

24 Then he turned from them, and wept, and turned to them againe, and commu- ned with them, and toke Simeon from amog them, and bounde him before their eyes.

25 So Ioseph commanded that thei shul- de fille their sackes with wheat, and put euerie mans money againe in his sacke, & giue them vitale for the iourney: and thus did he vnto them.

26 And they laied their vitale vpon their asses, and departed thence.

27 And as one of them opened his sacke for to giue his asse prouandre in the ynnre, he espied his money: for lo, it was in his sackes mouthe.

28 Then he said vnto his brethren, My money is restored: for lo, it is euen in my sacke. And their heart "sailed them, & they were: astonished, and said one to another, What is this, that God hath done vnto vs?

29 And they came vnto Iaakob their father vnto the land of Canaan, and tolde him all that had befallen them, saying,

30 The man, who is lord of the land, spake roughly to vs, and put vs in prison as spies of the countrei.

31 And we said vnto him, We are true men, and are no spies.

32 We be twelve brethren, fones of our father: one is not, and the youngest is this day with our father in the land of Canaan.

33 Then the lord of the countrei said vnto vs, Hereby shall I knowe if ye be true men: Leaue one of your brethren with me, and take fode for the famine of your houses & departe,

34 And bring your yongest brother vnto me, that I may knowe that ye are no spies, but true me: so wil I deliuer you your brother, and ye shal occupie in the land.

35 And as they emptied their sackes, be- holde, euerie mans bundel of money was in his sacke: and when they and their father fawe the budels of their money, they were afraid.

36 Then Iaakob their father said to them, Ye haue robbed me of my childre: Ioseph is not, and Simeon is not, and ye wil take Beiamin: all these thigs are against me.

37 Then Reuben answered his father, say- ing, Slay my two fones, if I brig him not to thee againe: deliuer him to mine hand, and I wil bring him to thee againe.

38 But he said, My fone shal not go downe w you: for his brother is dead, & he is left alone: if death come vnto him by y way, which ye go, then ye shal bring my graic head with forowe vnto the graue.

But if thou wilt not send him, we wil not go downe: for the man said vnto vs, "Loke me not in the face, except your brother be with you.

And Israel said, Wherefore delt ye so euil with me, as to tel the man, whether ye had yet a brother or no?

And they answered, The man asked Israity of our selues and of our kinred, saying, Is your father yet aliue haue ye any brother? And we tolde him "according to these words: colde we knowe certainly ye he wolde say, Bring your brother downe?

Then said Iudáh to Israel his father, Sed the boye with me, that we may rise & go, and that we may liue and not dye, both the we, and thou, and our children.

I will be suretie for him: of mine hand shalt thou require him.
"If I bring him not to thee, & set him before thee, "then let me beare the blame for euer."

For except we had made this tarying, doutes by this we had returned the second time.

Then their father Israel said vnto them, If it must nedes be so nowe, do thus: take of the best frutes of the land in your vessels, and bring the man a present, a little rosen, and a little honie, spices and myrre, nutes, and almondes:

And take double money in your hand, and the money, that was brought againe in your sackes mouthes: carie it againe in your hand, lest it were some ouer sight.

Take also your brother and arise, and go againe to the man.

And God almightie giue you mercie in the sight of the man, that he maie deliuer you your other brother, and Benjamin: but I shalbe robbed of my childe, as I haue bene.

Thus men toke this present, and toke twice so muche money in their hand with Benjamin, and rose vp, and went downe to Egypt and stode before Ioseph.

And when Ioseph sawe Benjamin with, he said to his stuard, Bring these men home and kil meat and make readie: for the men shal eat with me at noone.

And man did as Ioseph bad, & brought the men vnto Iosephs house.

Now when the me were brought into Iosephs house, thei were afraied, and said, Because of the money, that came in our sackes mouthes at the first time, are we brought, that he maie "prike a quarrel agaist vs, and "laie some thing to our charge, and bring vs in bondage and our asses.

Therefore came then to Iosephs stuard, and communed with him at the dore of the house.

And said, Oh syr, we came i dede downe hether at the first time to bye fode,

And as we came to an ynn and opened our sackes, behold, euerie mans money was in his sackes mouth, euen our money in ful weight, but we haue brought it againe in our hands.

Also other money haue we brought in & handes to bye fode, but we ca not tel, who put out money in our sackes.

And he said, Peace be vnto you, feare not: your God and the God of your father hathe giuen you that treasure in your sackes, I had your money: and he brought for the Simeon to them.

So the man led the in to Iosephs house, and gaue them water to wash their fete, and gaue their asses prouander.

And thei made redy their preset against Ioseph came at none, (for thei heard saie, that thei shulde eat bread there)

When Ioseph came home, thei brought the present into the house to him, which was in their hands, and bowed downe to the grounde before him.

And he asked them of their prosperitie, and said, Is your father the olde man, of whome ye tolde me, in good health? is he yet aliue?

Who answered, Thy seruat our father is in good helth, he is yet aliue: and they bowed downe, and made obeisance.

And he lifting vp his eies, behelde his brother Beniamin his mothers sonne, & said, Is this your yonger brother, of whome ye tolde me? And he said, God be merciful vnto thee, my sonne.

And Ioseph made haste (for his affection was inflamed toward his brother, and foght where to wepe) and entred into his chambte, and wept there.

Afterward he washed his face, and came out, and refrained him selfe, and said, Set on meat.

And they prepared for him by him selfe, and for them by them selues, and for Egyptians, which did eat with him, by them selues, because the Egyptians might not eat bread with ye Ebrewes: for that was an abominacion vnto the Egyptians.

So they sate before him: the eldest according vnto his age, and the youngest according vnto his youthe, and the men marueiled

15 Ioséph accuseth his brother of theft. 23 Iudáh offreth him false to be seruant for Beniamins.

A Fterwarde he comanded his thuard, saying, Fil the mens fackes with fode, as muche as thei can caty, and put e- uerie mans money in his fackes mouthe.

And put my cup, I mean the siluer cup, in the fackes mouthe of the yongest, and his corne money. And he did according to the commandement that Ioséph gaue him.

And in the "morning the men were sent away, thei, and their asfes.

And when thei went out of the citie not faire of, Ioséph said to his thuard, Vp, followe after the men: & whe thou doeft ouet take them, say vnto them, Wherefore haue ye rewarded euil for good?

Is that not the cup, wherein my lord drin- keth? and in the which he doeth deuine and prophecie? ye haue done euil in fo doing.

And whe he ouet toke the, he said thofe wordes vnto them.

And thei answered him, Wherefore fai- eth my lord fuche wordes? God forbid that thy seruants shulde do fuche a thing.

Bcholde, the money which we found in our fackes mouches, we broght again to thee out of the land of Canian: how then shulde we iteae out of thy lordes houfe siluet, ot golde?

With whomefoeuer of thy seruants it be founde, let him dye, and we also wil be my lords bondmen.

And he said, Now then let it be accor- ding vnto your wordes: he with whome it is founde, shalbe my seruant, & ye shal be" blameles.

Then at once euerie ma toke downe his facke to the grounde, and euerie one ope- ned his facke.

And he searched, and began at the eldest and left at the yongest: and the cup was founde in Beniamins facke.

Then thei sent their clothes, and laded euerie man his asfe, and went againe into the citie.

So Iudáh & his brethren came to Io- sephs houfe (fo: he was yet there) and thei fel before him on the grounde.

The Ioséph said vnto the, What asfe is this, which ye haue done? Knowe ye not that fuche a man as I, can deuine & prophecie?

Then said Iudáh, What shal we say vn- to my lord: what shal we speake? & how can we iustifie our selues? God hathe founde out the wickednes of thy seruan- tes: beholde we are seruants to my lord, bothe we, and he, with whome the cup is founde.

17 But he answered, God forbid, if I shulde do fo, but the man, with whome the cup is founde, he shalbe my seruant, & go ye in peace vnto your father.

18 The Iudáh drewe nere vnto him, and said, Oh my lord, let thy seruant now speake a wode in my lords eares, and let not thy wrath be kindled against thy ser- uant: for thou art euen as Pharaoh.

My lord asked his seruats, saying, "Haue ye a father, or a brother?

And we answered my lord, We haue a father that is olde, and a yong" childe, which he begate in his age: and his brother is dead, & he alone is left of his mother, and his father loueth him.

Now if saidest vnto thy seruants, Bring him vnto me, that I may "set mine eie vp- on him.

And we answered my lord, The childe can not departe from his father: for if he leaue his father, his father wolde dye.

Then saidest thou vnto thy seruats, "Ex- cept your yonger brother come downe with you, loke in my face no more.

So when we came vnto thy seruant our father, and shewed him what my lord had said,

And our father said vnto vs, Go againe, bye vs a litle fode,

The we answered. We can not go dow- ne: but if our yongest brother go with vs, then wil we go downe: for we may not se the mas face, except our yongest brother be with vs.

Then thy seruant my father said vnto vs, Ye knowe that my wife bate me two fauces,

And the one went out from me, and I said, Of a surety he is toine in pieces, and I sawe him not since.

Now ye take this also away from me: if death take him, then ye shal bring my gray head in forowe to the graue.

Now therefore, whe I come to thy ser- uant my father, and the childe be not with vs (feing that his "life dependeth on the childes life)

Then when he shal se that the childe is not come, he wil dye: fo shal thy seruants bring the gray head of thy seruant our father with forowe to the graue.

Doutles thy seruant became furee for the childe to my father, and said, "If I bring him not vnto thee againe, the I wil beate

2 And he wept & cryed, so that the Egyptias heard: y houfe of Pharaoh heard also.

3 Then Iosfeph said to his brethren, I am Iosfeph: doeth my father yet liue? But his brethren colde not answer him, for thei were astonished at his presence.

4 Againe Iosfeph said to his brethren, Come nere, I pray you, to me. And thei came nere. And he said, 5 I am Iosfeph your brother, whome ye solde into Egypt.

6 Now therefore be not b sad; nether grieved with your selues, that ye solde me hether: 7 For God did send me before you for your preservation.

6 For now two yeres of famine haue bene through the land, and fiue yeres are behind, wherein nether shalt be earing nor harueth.

7 Wherefore God sent me before you to preferue your posteritie in this land, and to saue you aliue by a great deliuerance.

8 Now then you sent not me hether, but c God, who hathe made me a father vnto Pharaoh, and lord of all his houfe, and ruler through out all the land of Egypt.

9 Haste you and go vp to my father, and tel him, Thus saieth thy fonne Iosfeph, God hathe made me lord of all Egypt: come downe to me, tary not.

10 And thou shalt dwel in the land of Goshen, and shalt be nere me, thou and thy children, & thy childrens childre, & thy shepe, & thy beastes, & all that thou hast.

11 Also Iwil nourish thee there (for yet remaine fiue yeres of famine) lest thou perish through pouertie, thou & thy housholde, and all that thou hast.

12 And beholde, your eies do se, & the eies of my brother Benjamin, y d my mouth speaketh to you.

13 Therefore tel my father of all mine honour in Egypt, & of all that ye haue sene, & make haste, & bring my father hether.

14 Then he fel on his brother Beniamins necke, and wept, & Benjamin wept on his necke.

15 Moreouer he kissed all his brethren, and wept vpon them: and afte: warde his brethren talked with him.

16 ¶ And the "tydings came vnto Pharaohs houfe, so that thei said, Iosfeph brethren are come: and it pleased Pharaoh wel, & his seruants.

17 Then Pharaoh said vnto Iosfeph, Say to thy brethren, This do ye, lade your beastes & departe, go to y lad of Canaan, 18 And take your father, and your houtholdes, and come to me, and I wil giue you the c best of the land of Egypt, and ye shal eat of the c fat of the land.

19 And I commande thee, Thus do ye, take you charets out of the land of Egypt for your children, and for your wines, and bring your father and come.

20 Also "regard not your stuffe: for the best of all the land of Egypt is yours.

21 And the children of Israel did so: and Iosfeph gaue them charets according to the commademem of Pharaoh: he gaue them viraile also for the iourney.

22 He gaue the all, none except, change of raiment: but vnto Benjamin he gaue thre hundred pieces of siluer, & fiue sues of rayment.

23 And vnto his father likewise he sent ten he asses laden with the best things of Egypt, and ten she asses lade with wheat, & bread, & meat for his father by the way.

24 So sent he his brethren away, and thei departed: and he said vnto them, a Fall not out by the way.

25 ¶ Then thei wér vp from Egypt, & came vnto the land of Canaan vnto Iaakob their father, 26 And tolde him, saying, Iosfeph is yet aliue, and he also is gouerner ouer all the lad of Egypt, and Iaakob heart b failed: for he beleued them not.

27 And thei tolde him all the wordes of Iosfeph, which he had said vnto them: but when he sawe the charets, which Iosfeph had sent to cary him, then the spirit of Iaakob their father reuiued.

28 And Israel said, I haue ynough: Iosfeph my fonne is yet aliue: I wil go and se him yer I dye.

13 ¶ Also the sonnes of *Issachár: Tola, & Phuiah, and Iob, and Shumron.

14 ¶ Also the sonnes of Zebulún: Séred, & Elón, and Iahleél.

15 These be the sonnes of Leáh, which she bare vnto Iaakób in Padán Arám, with his daughter Dináh. All the soules of his sones & his daughters were thirty & thre.

16 ¶ Also the sonnes of Gad: Ziphún, and Haggi, Shuní, and Ezbón, Erí, and Aro- di, and Arelí.

17 ¶ Also the sonnes of *Ashér: Iimnah, & Ishuáh, and Isui, and Beriah, and Sérah their sister. And the sonnes of Beriah: Héber, and Malchiél.

18 These are y childré of Zilpáh, whome Labán gaue to Leáh his daughter: & the- se she bare vnto Iaakób, and sixtene soules.

19 The sonnes of Rahél Iaakobs wife we- re Ioseph, and Beniamin.

20 ¶ And vnto Ioseph in the lad of Egypt were borne Manasseh, & Ephraim, which *Asenáth the daughter of Poti- phérah prince of On bare vnto him.

21 ¶ Also y sonnes of *Beniamin: Bélah, & Becher, & Ashbél, Gerá, and Naamán, Ehi, & Rosh, Muppim, & Huppim, & Ard.

22 These are the sonnes of Rahél, where borne vnto Iaakób, souttene soules in all.

23 ¶ Also the sonnes of Dan: Hushim.

24 ¶ Also the sonnes of Nephtali: Iahzeél, and Guni, and Iézer, and Shillém.

25 These are the sonnes of Bilháh, & La- bán gaue vnto Rahél his daughter, & she bare these to Iaakób, in all, seue soules.

26 All the *soules, that came with Iaakób into Egypt, which came out of his "loy- nes (beside Iaakobs sonnes wiues) were in the whole, thre score and fixe soules.

27 Also the sonnes of Ioseph, which were borne him i Egypt, were two soules: f that all the soules of y house of Iaakób, which came into Egypt, are seuen* e.

28 ¶ Then he sent Iudáh behure him vnto Ioseph, to 'direct his way vnto Gófsen, and they came into the land of Gófsen.

29 Then Ioseph "made ready his charet & went vp to Gófsen to mete Israel his fa- ther, and presented him selfe vnto him, & felon his necke, and wept vpon his necke a "good while.

30 And Israel said vnto Ioseph, Now let me dye, since I haue sene thy face, and that thou art yet aliue.

31 Then Ioseph said to his brethren, and to his fathers house, I wil go vp and shewe Pharaoh, and tel him, My brethren and my fathers house, which were in the land of Canáan, are come vnto me, 32 And the men are *shepherdēs, & becau- se they are shepherdēs, they haue broght their shepe & their cattel, & all y their haue.

33 And if Pharaoh call you, and afke you, What is your trade?

34 The ye shal say, Thy seruants are men occupied about cattel, fro our childhood euen vnto this time, bothe we and our fa- thers: that ye may dwel in the lad of Gó- fsen: for euerie shepekeper is an *abo- minacion vnto the Egyptians.

10 And Iaakob "toke leaue of Pharaoh, & departed from ye presence of Pharaoh. 11 And Ioseph placed his father, and his brethren, and gaue them possession in the land of Egypt, in the best of the land, e- uen in the land of Ramefes, as Pharaoh had commanded.

12 And Ioseph nourished his father, and his brethren, and all his fathers houshol- de with bread, euen to the yong chil- dren.

13 Now there was no bread in all the lads for the famine was exceeding fore: so that the land of Egypt & the land of Canaan were famished by the reason of ye famine.

14 And Ioseph gathered all the money, that was foude in the lads of Egypt, and in the land of Canaan, for the corne which they boght, & Ioseph laied vp the money in Pharaohs house.

15 So when money failed in the land of E- gypt, and in the land of Canaan, then all the Egyptias came vnto Ioseph, and said, Giue vs bread: for why shulde we dye before thee for our money is spent.

16 Then said Ioseph, Bring your cattel, & I wil giue you for your cattel, if your mo- ney be spent.

17 So they broght their cattel vnto Ioseph, & Ioseph gaue them bread for the horses, and for the flockes of shepe, and for the herdes of cattel, and for the asfes: so he fed them with bread for all their cattel that yere.

18 But when the yere was ended, they came vnto him the next yere, & said vnto him, We wil not hide from my lord, that since our money is spent, & my lord hathe the herdes of the cattel; there is nothing left in the sight of my lord, but our bodies & our grounds.

19 Why shal we perish in thy sight, bothe we, and our sland bye vs and our lads for bread, and we and our land wil be bonde to Pharaoh: therefore giue vs fede, ye we may liue and not dye, and that the land go not to waite.

20 So Ioseph boght all the lads of Egypt for Pharaoh: for ye Egyptians solde euerie ma his grounde because the famine was fore vpon them: so the land became Pharaohs.

21 And he tremoured the people vnto the cities, "from one side of Egypt euen to the other.

22 Onely the land of the Priestes boght he not: for the Priestes had an ordinatie of Pharaoh, and they did eat their ordi- natie, which Pharaoh gaue the: wherefo- re they solde not their grounde.

23 Then Ioseph said vnto the people, Be- holde, I haue boght you this day and your land for Pharaoh: lo, here is fede for you: sowe therefore the grounde.

24 And of the encrease ye shal giue the sife parte vnto Pharaoh, and foure partes shal be yours for the fede of the field, and for your meat, and for them of your houshol- des, and for your children to eat.

25 Then they answered, Thou hast saued our liues: let vs finde grace in the sight of my lord, & we wil be Pharaohs fœtuate.

26 Then Ioseph made it a lawe ouer the land of Egypt vnto this day, that Pharaoh shulde haue the sife parte, b except the land of the Priestes onely, was not Pharaohs.

27 And Israel dwelt in the lads of Egypt, in the country of Goshen: and they had their possessions therein, and grewe and multiplied exceedingly.

28 Moreouet, Iaakob liued in the land of Egypt seuentene yeres, so that the whole age of Iaakob was an hundreth fourtie & seuen yere.

29 Now when the time diewe nere ye Israel must dye, he called his sonne Ioseph, and said vnto him, If I haue now foude grace in thy sight, put thine had now vnder my thigh, and deale mercifully and truely w me: buty me not, I pray thee, in Egypt,

8 Then Ifraél behelde Iosephs fonnes and faid, Whofe are thefe?

9 And Ioseph faid vnto his father, Thei are my fones, which c God hathe giue me he- re, then he faid, I pray thee, bring them to me, that I may blesfe them:

10 (For the eies of Ifraél were dim for age, so that he colde not wilfe) Then he caused them to come to him, and he kissed them and embraced them.

11 And Ifraél faid vnto Iosfeph, I had not thoght to haue fene thy face: yet lo, God hathe shewed me alfo thy fede.

12 And Iosfeph toke the away fió his knees, and did reuerence" downe to the ground.

14 But Ifraél stretched out his right hand, and laid it on Ephraims head, which was the yonger, and his left hand vpon Ma- naffehs head (directing his hands of pur- pose) for Manaffeh was the elder.

15 ¶*Alfo he blesed Iosfeph and faid, The God, before whome my fathers Abrahám and Izhák did walke, the God, which ha- the fed me all my life long vnto this day, bleffe thee.

16 The e Angel, which hathe deliuered me from all euil, blesfe the children, and let my f name be named vpon them, and the name of my fathers Abrahám and Izhák, that they may grove as fish into a multi- tude in the middes of the earth.

17 But whé Iosfeph fawe that his father laid his right hád vpo the head of Ephráim, it a displeased him: and he stayed his fathers hand to remoue it from Ephraims head to Manaffehs head.

18 And Iosfeph faid vnto his father, Not so my father, for this is y eldest, put thy right hand vpon his head.

19 But his father refused, and faid, I knowe wel, my fonne, I knowe wel: he fhaibe alfo a people, & he fhaibe great likewife: but his yonger brother fhaibe greater the he, and his fede fhaibe ful of nations.

20 So he blesed them that day, and faid, In thee Ifraél fhal bleffe, and fay, God make thee as b Ephráim and as Manaffeh. & he fet Ephráim before Manaffeh.

21 Then Ifraél faid vnto Iosfeph, Beholde, I dye, and God fhaibe with you, & bring you againe vnto the land of your fathers.

of Moſes, called Exodus.

THE ARGUMENT.

AFTER that Iaakób by Gods commandemēt Gen. 46,3, had brought his familie into Egypt, where they remained for the ſpace of foure hundred yere, and of ſecurity perſones grew to an infinite nombre, ſo that the King and the country grudged and endeoured both by tyrannic and cruel ſtoure to ſuppreſſe them: the Lord according to his promes Gen. 15,14 had compaſſion of his Church & deliuered them, but plagued their enemies in moſes ſtrūge and ſondry fortes. And the more that the tyrānie of the wicked enraged againſt his Church, the more did his ſtoure ſudgements increaſe againſt them, til Phara- chic & his armie were drowned in the fame & ea, which gave an entree and paſſage to the childrē of God. But as the ingratitude of man is great, ſo did they immed: atly forget Gods woſterful benefices & alhis he had given them the Paff: ouer to be a ſigne & memorial of the fame, yet they ſel to diſtruſt, & tempted God with ſondry murmurings and grudgings againſt him and his miniſters ſometime mowed with am- binif ſometime for lack of drinke or meate to cofent their loſtes, ſometime by idolatrie or fuche like. Where- fore God viſited them with ſharpe rodde and plagues that by his corrections they might ſeke to him for remedy againſt his ſcourget & earneſtly repent them for their rebellii & wickedneſſe. And becauſe God loueeth the to the end, whome he bathe once begone to love, he puniſhed the not according to their deſortes, but dealt with them in great mercies, and dare with newe benefices labored to overcome their malice: for he ſtil governed them and gave the his worde & Law, both clocerning the maner of ſeruing him, & alſo the forme of ſudgements and civil policie: to the intent that the ſholde not ſerue God after their owne inuenſions, but according to that ordre, which his ſeauenlie wiſdome had appointed.

people of the children of Israel are greater and mightier than we.

10 Come, let vs worke wisely with the, lest they multiply, and it come to passe, that if there be warre, they joyne themselves also vnto our enemies, & fight against vs, and get them out of the land.

11 Therefore did they fet takemasters o- uer them, to keepe them vnder with burdens: and they buyld the cities Pithom & Raamses for the treasuries of Pharaoh.

12 But the more they vexed them, the more they multiplied and grew: therefore they were more grieved against the children of Israel.

13 Wherefore the Egyptians by crueltye caused the children of Israel to fret.

14 Thus they made them weary of their li- ues by fore labour in claye and in bricke, and in all worke in the field, with all manner of bondage," which they laied vpon them more cruelly.

15 Moreover the King of Egypt commanded the midwives of the Hebrew women, (of which the one name was 'Sisphiah, and the name of the other Puzh)

16 And said, When ye do the office of a midwife to the women of the Hebrewes & se them on their 'stolles, if it be a sonne, the ye shall kill him: but if it be a daughter, then let her liue.

17 Notwithstanding the midwives feared God, & did not as the King of Egypt commanded them, but preferred aliue the men children.

18 Then the King of Egypt called for the midwives, & said vnto the, Why haue ye done thus, and haue preferred aliue the men children?

19 And the midwives answered Pharaoh, Because the Hebrew women are not as the women of Egypt: for they are liuelie, and are deliuered yet y midwife come at the.

20 God therefore prospered the midwives, and the people multiplied & were very mightie.

21 And because the midwives feared God, therefore he made them houses.

22 Then Pharaoh changed all his people, saying, Euetie man childe that is borne, 'cast ye into the ruce, but refetuee: to the maidchilde aliue.

23 ¶ Then in proceffe of time, the King of Egypt dyed, & the childre of Ifrael figh- ed for the bondage and clyed: & their crye for the bondage came vp vnto God.

24 Then God heard their mone, and God remembered his covenant with Abrahâm, Izhák, and Izakób.

25 So God loked vpon the children of If- rael, and God had refpect vnto them.

CHAP. III.

1 Mofes kept the fhepe, and God appeareth vnto him in a bulhe to He fendeth him to deliuer the children of If- rael. 1 The name of God 16 God neacheth him what to do.

2 When Mofes kept the fhepe of Ie- tho his father in lawe, Prift of Mician, & droue the flocke to the backe fide of the defert, and came to the Mo- untaine of God, Horéb,

3 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him in a flame of fyre, out of the middles of a bulhe: & he loked, & behol- de, the bulhe burned with fyre, and the bulhe was not confumed.

4 Therefore Mofes faid, I wil turne afide now, & fe this great fight, why the bulhe burneth not.

5 And when the Lord faw that he turned afide to fe, God called vnto him out of the middles of the bulhe, and faid, Mofes, Mofes. And he answered, I am here.

6 Then he faid, Come not hither, put thy fhooes of thy fete: for the place whereon thou ftandeft is holy ground.

7 Moreouet he faid, I am the God of thy father, the God of Abrahâm, the God of Izhák, & the God of Izakób. Then Mo- fes hid his face: for he was a afiated to lo- ke vpon God.

8 ¶ Then the Lord said. I have surely seen the trouble of my people, which are in Egypt, & have heard their cry, because of their taskmasters: for I knowe their sorowes.

9 Therefore I am come down to deliver them out of the hand of the Egyptians, and to bring them out of that land into a good land & a large, into a land that floweth with milke & hony, even into the place of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, & the Amorites, and the Perizzites, and the Hivites, and the Jebusites:

9 And now lo, the cry of the children of Israel is come unto me, and I have also seen the oppression, wherewith the Egyptians oppress them.

10 Come now therefore, and I will send thee unto Pharaoh, that thou maiest bring my people the children of Israel out of Egypt.

11 ¶ But Moses said unto God, Who am I that I should go unto Pharaoh, and that I should bring the children of Israel out of Egypt?

12 And he answered, Certainly I will be with thee: & this should be a token unto thee, that I have sent thee, After that thou hast brought the people out of Egypt, ye shall see God upon this Mountaine.

13 Then Moses said unto God, Beholde, when I shall come unto the children of Israel, and shall say unto them, The God of your fathers hath sent me unto you: if they say unto me, What is his Name: what answer shall I give them?

14 And God answered Moses, I AM THAT I AM. Also he said, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, I AM hath sent me unto you.

15 And God spake further unto Moses, Thus shalt thou say unto the children of Israel, The Lord God of your fathers, the God of Abraham, the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob hath sent me unto you: this is my Name for ever, & this is my memorial unto all ages.

16 Go and gather the Elders of Israel together, & thou shalt say unto them, The Lord God of your fathers, & God of Abraham, Isaac, & Jacob appeared unto me, & said, I have surely redeemed you, & that which is done to you in Egypt.

17 Therefore I did say, I will bring you out of the affliction of Egypt unto the land of the Canaanites, and the Hittites, and the Amorites, and the Perizzites, & the Hivites, and the Jebusites, unto a land that floweth with milke and hony.

18 Then shall they obey thy voice, & thou and the Elders of Israel shall go unto the King of Egypt, and say unto him, The Lord God of the Hebrews hath met us vs: we pray thee now therefore, let vs go thie dayes iouiney in the wildernes, that we may sacrifice vnto Lord our God.

19 ¶ But I knowe, that the King of Egypt wil not let you go, but by strong hand.

20 Therefore wil I steeth out mine haft and fmite Egypt with all my wonders, & I wil do in the middles thereof: and after that shal he let you go.

21 And I wil make this people to be fauoured of the Egyptians: so that when ye go- ye shal not go emptye.

14 And the officers of the children of Is- rael, which Pharaohs taskemasters had set ouer them, were beaten, and demanded, Wherefore haue ye not fulfilled your taske in making bricke yesterday and to day, as in times past?

15 The the officers of the children of Is- rael came, & cryed vnto Pharaóh, saying, Wherefore dealeft thou thus with thy seruants?

16 There is no straw giuen to thy seruants, and they say vnto vs, Make bricke: and lo, thy seruants are beaten, and thy people is blamed.

17 But he said, "Ye are to muche idle: the- refore ye say, Let vs go to offer sacrifice to the Lord.

18 Go therefore now & worke: for there shal no straw be giuen you, yet shal ye de- liuer the whole tale of bricke.

19 Then the officers of the children of Is- rael sawe the selues in an euil case, because it was said, Ye shal diminish nothing of your bricke, nor of euerie dares taske,

20 And they met Mofés & Aarón, which stode in their way as they came out from Pharaóh, 21 To whome they said, The Lord loke vp- on you and iudge: for ye haue made our favour to a stncke before Pharaóh & before his seruants, in that ye haue s put a sworde in their hand to slay vs.

22 Wherefore Mofés returned to y Lord, and said, Lord, why hast thou afflicted this people? wherefore hast thou thus sent me?

6 Then Aarón stretched his haid vpon the waters of Egypt, and the frogges came vp, and couered the land of Egypt.

7 And y sorcerers did likewise with their sorceries, and brought frogges vp vpo the land of Egypt.

8 Then Pharaoh called for Moses & Aarón, & said, 9 Pray ye vnto the Lord that he may take away the frogges from me, and from my people, & I wil let the people go, that they may do sacrifice vnto the Lord.

9 And Moses said vnto Pharaoh, "As concerning me, euen commande when I shal praye for thee, and for thy seruants, and for thy people, to destroye the frogges fro thee and from thine houses, that they may remaine in the riuer onely.

11 So the frogges shal departe fro thee, & from thine houses, and from thy seruants, and from thy people: onely they shal remaine in the riuer.

12 Then Moses and Aarón went out from Pharaoh: and Moses stayed vnto the Lord concerning the frogges, which he had sent vnto Pharaoh.

13 And the Lord did according to the saying of Moses: so the frogges dyed in the houses, in the townes, & in the fields.

gwen him, he hardened his heart, and hearkened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

16 ¶ Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, Say vnto Aaron, Stretche out thy rod, & smite the dust of the earth, that it may be turned to lyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

17 And they did so: for Aaron stretched out his hand with his rod, and smote the dust of the earth: and lyce came vpo man & vpon beast: all the dust of the earth was lyce throughout all the land of Egypt.

18 Now ¶ enchanter assailed likewise with their enchantments to bring forth the lyce, but they colde not so the lyce were vpo man and vpon beast.

19 Then said ¶ enchanter vnto Pharaoh, Thus is the finger of God. But Pharaohs heart remained obstinat, and he hearckened not vnto them, as the Lord had said.

20 ¶ Moreoues the Lord said to Moses, Rise vp early in ¶ morning, and stand before Pharaoh (lo, he wil come forth the vn- to the water) & say vnto him, Thus saith ¶ Lord, Let my people go, that they may screue me.

21 Els, if ¶ wilt not let my people go, be- holde, I wil send swarmes of flies bothe vpon thee, & vpon thy seruants, and vpon thy people, & into thine houses: and the houses of the Egyptians shalbe ful of swar- mes of flies, and the grounds also where- on they are.

22 But the land of Gofhen, where my peo- ple are, wil I cause to be wonderful in that day, so that no swarmes of flies shal be there, ¶ thou maieft knowe that I am the Lord in the middles of the earth.

23 And I wil make a defiueraunce of my peo- ple from thy people: to morowe shal this miracle be.

24 And the Lord did so: for there came great swarmes of flies into the house of Pharaoh, and into his seruants houses, so that through all the land of Egypt the earth was corrupt by the swarmes of flies.

25 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron, & said, Go, do sacrifice vnto your God in this land.

26 But Moses answered, It is not mete to do so: for then we shulde offre vnto the Lord our God that, which is an abomination vnto the Egyptians. Lo, can we sa- crifice the abomination of the Egyptians before their eyes, and they not stone vs?

27 Let vs go thre dayes journey in the de- fect, & sacrifice vnto the Lord our God, as he hath commanded vs.

28 And Pharaoh said, I wil let you go, ¶ ye may sacrifice vnto the Lord your God in the wilderness: but go not farre away, play for me.

29 And Moses said, Beholde, I wil go out from thee, and pray vnto the Lord, that ¶ swarmes of flies may departe fro Pharaoh, from his seruants, and from his people tomorrow: but let Pharaoh fro hence- forthe deceue no more, in not suffering ¶ people to sacrifice vnto the Lord.

30 So Moses went out from Pharaoh and prayed vnto the Lord.

31 And the Lord did according to ¶ saying of Moses, and the swarmes of flies departed from Pharaoh, from his seruants, and fro his people, & the e remained not one.

32 Yet Pharaoh hardened his heart euen then also, & did not let the people go.

22 ¶ And the Lord faid to Mofés, Stretche forth the thine hand toward heauen, that the-re may be haile in all the land of Egypt, vpon man and vpon beast, and vpon all ye herbes of the field in the land of Egypt.

23 Then Mofés stretched out his rod tow-ard heauen, and the Lord fent thundre & haile, and "lightening vpon the groun-de: and the Lord caufed haile to raine vp-on the land of Egypt.

24 So there was haile, & fire mingled with the haile, so grievous, as there was none throughout all the land of Egypt, fince it was a nation.

25 And the haile fmote throughout all the lad of Egypt all that was in ye field, bothe man and beast: also the haile fmote all ye herbes of the field, and brake to pieces all the trees of the field.

26 Onely in the land of Gófsen (where the children of Ifiaél were) was no haile.

Exodus.

6. And they shal fill thine houses, & all thy feruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers have done, since the time they were upon the earth unto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

6 And they shal fill thine houses, & all thy feruants houses, and the houses of all the Egyptians, as neither thy fathers, nor thy fathers fathers have done, since the time they were upon the earth unto this day. So he returned, and went out from Pharaoh.

7 Then Pharaohs feruants said unto him, How long shal he be an offence unto us let the men go, that they may ferue the Lord their God: wilt thou first know ye Egypt is destroyed.

8 So Moses and Aaron were brought again- ne unto Pharaoh, & he said to them, Go, ferue the Lord your God, but who are they that shal go?

9 And Moses answered, We wil go with yong and with our olde, with our son- nes and with our daughters, with our shepe and with our cattel wil we go: for we must celebrate a feast unto the Lord.

10 And he said unto them, Let the Lord so be with you, as I wil let you go and your children beholde, for evil is befo- te your face.

11 Is shal not be so: now go ye that are me, and ferue the Lord: for that was your desire. Then they were thrust out from Pharaohs presence.

12 After, ye Lord said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand upon the land of Egypt for the greshoppers, that they may come upon the land of Egypt, and eat all the herbes of the land, even all that the haile hathe left.

13 Then Moses stretched for the his rod upon the land of Egypt: and the Lord brought an East winde upon the land all that day, and all that night: and in the morning ye East winde brought the gresh- hoppers.

14 So the greshoppers went up up all the land of Egypt, and remained in all quar- ters of Egypt: so grievous greshoppers, like to these were never before, neither after them shal be siche.

15 For they couerd all the face of ye earth, so that the land was darcke: and they did eat all the herbes of the land, and all the fiures of the trees, which ye haile had left, so ye there was no green thing left upon the trees, nor among ye herbes of the field throughout all the land of Egypt.

16 Therefore Pharaoh called for Moses and Aaron in haste, and said, I have sinned against the Lord your God, and against you.

17 And now forgive me my sinne onely this once, and pray unto the Lord your God, that he may take away from me this death onely.

18 Moses then went out from Pharaoh, and praised unto the Lord.

19 And the Lord turned a mightiest song Westwinde, and took away the grasshoppers, and violently cast them into the Red Sea, so that there remained not one grasshopper in all the coast of Egypt.

20 But the Lord hardened Pharaoh's heart, and he did not let the children of Israel go.

21 Again the Lord said unto Moses, Stretch out thine hand toward heaven. yea there may be upon ye land of Egypt darkness, even darkness that may be felt.

22 Then Moses stretched forth his hand toward heaven, and there was a blacke * darkness in all the land of Egypt three days.

23 No man saw another, neither rose up from the place where he was for three days: but all the children of Israel had light where they dwelt.

24 Then Pharaoh called for Moses and said, Go, ferue the Lord: onely your shepe and your cattel shal abide, and your chil- dren shal go with you.

25 And Moses said, Thou must giue vs also sacrifices, and burnt offings that we may do sacrifice unto the Lord our God.

26 Therefore our cattel also shal go to vs: there shal not an hoofe be left, for the- roof must we take to ferue the Lord our God: neither do we know how we shal ferue the Lord, until we come thither.

27 (But ye Lord hardened Pharaohs heart, and he wolde not let them go)

28 And Pharaoh said unto him, Get thee fro me: loke thou se my face no more: for whenfouen thou comdest in my sight, thou shalt deue.

29 Then Moses said, Thou hast said well from henceforth: wil I se thy face no- more.

41 And when the foure hundredth & thirty yeres were expired, euen the felfe fame day departed all the hoftes of the Lord out of the land of Egypt.

42 It is a night to be kept holy to the Lord, becaufe he broght them out of the land of Egypt: this is that night of the Lord, which all the childré of Ifraél muſti kepe throughout their generations.

43 Alfo the Lord ſaid vnto Moſes and Aarón, This is the lawe of the Paſſeouer: 1 no ſtranger ſhal eat thereof.

44 But euerie ſeruát that is boght for money, when thou haſt circumcified him, then ſhal he eat thereof.

45 A ſtranger or an hyrred ſeruant ſhal not eat thereof.

46 "In one houſe ſhal it be eare: thou ſhalt cary none of the fleſh out of the houſe, "nether ſhal ye breake a bone thereof.

47 All the Cógregacion of Ifraél ſhal ob-ſerue it.

48 But if a ſtranger dwel with thee, & wil obſeue the Paſſeouer of Lord, let him circumciſe all the males, that belong vnto him, and then let him come and obſeue it, and he ſhalbe as one that is borne in the land: for none vncircumcified perſone ſhal eat thereof.

49 One "law ſhalbe to him that is borne in the land, & to the ſtranger that dwel-leth among you.

50 Then all the children of Ifraél did as the Lord commanded Moſes and Aarón: ſo did thei.

51 And the ſelfe ſame day did the Lord bring the children of Ifraél out of the land of Egypt by their armies.

leavened bread shalbe h eaten.

This day come ye out in the moneth of c Abib.

Now whe the Lord hathe broght thee into the land of the Canaanites, and Hit- tites, and Amotites, and Hiuites, and Iebuistes (which he fware vnto thy fathers, that he wolde giue thee, a land flowing with milke and hony) the thou shalt kepe this feruice in this moneth.

Seuen daies shalt thou eat vnleavened bread, & the d feuenth day shalbe the feaet of the Lord.

Vnleavened bread shalbe eaten feuen daies, & there shal no leavened bread be fene with thee, nor yet leaued be fene with thee in all thy quarters.

And thou shalt thewe thy fonne e in y day, faying, This is done, becaufe of that which the Lord did vnto me, whe I came out of Egypt.

And it shal be a figne vnto thee f vpon thine hand, & for a remembrance betwene thine eies, that the Lawe of the Lord may be in thy mouth: for by a strong hand the Lord broght thee out of Egypt.

Kepe therefore this ordinance in his feaon appointed from yece to yere.

And when the Lord shal bring thee into the land of the Canaanites, as he fware vnto thee and to thy fathers, & shal giue it thee.

Then y shalt fet a parte vnto the Lord all that firft openeth the wombe: also cue- rie thing that firft doeth opé the wombe, or commeth for the of thy beaft: the males shalbe the Lords.

But euer ie firft fole of an a affe, y shalt redeme with a lambe: and if thou rede- me him not, then thou shalt breake his necke: likewise all the firft borne of man among thy fonnes shalt thou h bye out.

And when thy fonne shal afke thee comorowe, faying, What is this? thou shalt then fay vnto him, With a mightie hand the Lord broght vs out of Egypt, out of the house of bondage.

For when Pharaoh was hard hearted a- gainst our departing, the Lord the flewe all the firftborne in the lad of Egypt: fro the firftborne of mancué to the firftborne of beaft: therefore I facrifice vnto y Lord all the males that firft open the wobe, but all the firftborne of my fonnes I redeme.

And it shalbe as a token vpon thine hand, & as froitelet betwene thine eies, that the Lord broght vs out of Egypt by a mightie hand.

Now whe Pharaoh had let the people go, God caried the not by the way of the Philistims countrey, thogh it were nerer: (for God faid, Left y people repent whe thei fe i warre, & turne againe to Egypt)

18 But God made the people to go about by y way of the wilderness of the red Sea: and the children of Israel went vp k ar- med out of the land of Egypt.

19 (And Moses toke the bones of Joseph with him: for he had made the childre of Israel fware, faying, *God wil surely vi-fite you, and ye shal take my bones away hence with you)

20 So thei toke their iourney from Suc- coth, and camped in Etham in the edge of the wilderness.

21 *And the Lord went before the by day in a pillar of a l cloude to leade them the way, & by night in a pillar of fyre to giue them light, that thei might go bothe by day and by night.

22 *He toke not away the pillar of the clou- de by day, nor the pillar of fyre by night from before the people.

Exodus.

10 And when Pharaoh drew nie, the children of Israel lift up their eies, and beholde, the Egyptians marched after the, and they were fore afraied: wherefore the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord.

f Thei, which a little before in their deliverance rejoyed, being now in danger are afraied & met more.

In this figure there chief points are to be considered, first that the Church of God is ever fished in this world to the Cross & to be afflicted after one sort or other. The second, that the ministers of God following their vocation shall be still spoken of, and murmured again, even of them that pretend the same cause and religion that they do. The third, that God delivereth not his Church incontinently out of dangers, but to exercise their faith and patience continually their troubles, yea and often tyones augments them as the Israelites were now in less hope of their lives than when they were in Egypt. The fourth point is, that when the dangers are most great, then Gods hope is most ready to succour: for the Israelites had in other side the huge rocks & mountains, be fore them the Sea, behinde them more cruel enemies, so that there was no way left to escape to many indulgent.

11 And thei said vnto Moses, Hast thou brought vs to dye in the wilderness, because there were no graues in Egypt; wherefore hast thou serued vs thus, to cary vs out of Egypt?

12 Did not we tell thee this thing in Egypt, saying, Let us be in rest, that we may serue the Egyptians; for it had bene better for vs to serue the Egyptians, the that we shulde dye in the wilderness.

13 Then Moses said to the people, Feare ye not, stand still, and beholde the saluacion of the Lord which he wil shewe to you this day. For the Egyptians, whome ye haue fene this day, ye shal neuer se them againe.

14 The Lord shal fight for you: therefore holde you your peace.

15 And the Lord said vnto Moses, Wherefore cryest thou vnto me: spe ake vnto the children of Israel that thei go forward:

16 And lift thou vp thy rod, & stretch out thine hand vpon the Sea & deuide it, and let the children of Israel go on dye groude through the middes of the Sea.

17 And I, beholde I wil harden the heart of the Egyptians that thei may follow the, and I wil get me honour vpon Pharaoh, & vpon all his hoste, vpon his charets, & vpon his horsemen.

18 Then the Egyptians shal knowe that I am the Lord, when I haue gotten me honour vpon Pharaoh, vpon his charets, & vpon his horsemen.

19 (And the Angel of God, which went before the hoste of Israel, removed & went behinde them: also the pillar of the cloude went from before them, and stode behinde them, 20 And came betwene the campe of the Egyptians and the campe of Israel: it was bothe a cloude and darckenes, yet gaue it light by night, so that all the night long the one came not at the other)

21 And Moses stretched forth his hand vpon the Sea, and the Lord caused the Sea to runne backe by a strong East winde all the night, and made the Sea drye land: for the waters were deuided.

22 The children of Israel wet through the middes of the Sea vpon the drye ground, and the waters were a wall vnto them on the right hand, and on their left hand.

23 And the Egyptians pursued and went after them to the middes of the Sea, even all Pharaohs horses, his chariots, and his horsemen.

24 Now in the morning I watched, when the Lord looked vnto the hoste of the Egyptians, out of the fiery and cloudy pillar, he smote the hoste of the Egyptians with fear.

25 For he toke of their charet wheles, and thei draue them with much a do: so that the Egyptias mevie one said, I wil flee fro the face of Israel: for the Lord sightseth for them against the Egyptians.

26 Then the Lord said to Moses, Stretch thine hand vpon the Sea, that the waters may returne vpon the Egyptians, vpon their charets and vpon their horsemen.

27 Then Moses stretched forthe his hand vpon

Afterward all the Congregation of children of Israel departed from E- lim, and came to the wilderness of Sin, (which is between Elim and Sinai) the fifteenth day of the second month after their departing out of the land of Egypt. 2 And the whole Congregation of the chil- dren of Israel murmured against Moses and against Aaron in the wilderness.

3 For the children of Israel said to them, Oh ye had dyed by the hand of Lord in the land of Egypt, when we fate by flesh pottes, when we ate bread our bel- liesful: for ye have brought us out into this wilderness, to kill this whole compa- nie with famine.

4 Then said the Lord unto Moses, Be- holde, I will cause bread to rame five hea- uen to you, and the people shall go out, & gather that ye is sufficient for euerie day, that I may proue them, whether they will walke in my Lawe or no.

5 But the first day they shall prepare that, which they shall bring home, and it shall be twife as much as they gather daisly.

6 Then Moses and Aaron said unto all the children of Israel, At euen ye shall knowe, that the Lord brought you out of the land of Egypt:

7 And in the morning ye shall be the glorie of Lord, for he hath heard your grud- gings against the Lord: and what are we ye have murmured against us?

8 Again Moses said, At euee shall the Lord giue you flesh to eat, and in the morning your fil of bread: for Lord hath heard your murmurings, which ye murmure a- gainst him: for what are we your murmu- rings are not against us, but against the Lord.

9 And Moses said to Aaron, Say unto all the Congregation of the children of Is- rael, Drawe here before Lord: for he ha- the heard your murmurings.

10 Now as Aaron spake unto the whole Co- gregation of the children of Israel, they looked toward the wilderness, and beholde, y glorie of the Lord appeared in a cloude.

11 (For the Lord had spoken unto Moses, saying,

12 I have heard y murmurings of the chil- dren of Israel: tell them therefore, & say, 'At euen ye shall eat flesh, and in the morning ye shall be filled with bread, and ye shall knowe that I am the Lord your God)

13 And so are eue the quales came & cou- ered the camp: & in the morning y dewe laye rounde about the hoste.

14 And when the dewe that was fallie was ascended, beholde, a finale rounde thing was upon the face of the wilderness, finale as the horse frott on the earth.

15 And when the children of Israel sawe it, they said one to another, It is MAN, for they wist not what it was. And Moses said unto them, 'This is the bread which the Lord hath given you to eat

16 This is the thing which Lord hath commanded: gather of it euerie man according to his eating: an Omer for 'a ma according to the nombre of your perfonies: euerie man shall take for the which are in his tent.

17 And the children of Israel did so, & gathered, some more, some less.

18 And when they did measure it with an Omer, 'he that had gathered much, had nothing ouen, & he that had gathered little, had no lacke: so euerie man gathered according to his eating.

19 Moses then said unto them, Let no man reseue thereof til morning.

20 Notwithstanding the: obed not Moses: but some of them reseued of it til morning, and it was ful of wormes, & flanke: therefore Moses was angry with them.

21 And they gathered it euerie morning, euerie ma accordig to his eating: for whe the heat of the sune came, it was melted.

22 And the first day they gathered twife so much bread, two Omers for one man: then all the rulers of the Congregation came and tolde Moses.

23 And he answered the, This is that, which Lord hath said, To morowe is the rest of the holy Sabbath vnto the Lord: bake that no daie which ye wil bake, and sethe y which ye wil sethe, and all that remaineth, lay it vp to be kept til y mornig for you.

24 And they laied it vp til the morning, as Moses bade, and it flanke not, nether was there any worme therein.

25 Then Moses said, Eat that to day: for to day is the Sabbath vnto the Lord: to day ye shall not finde it in the field.

26 Six dayes shall ye gather it, but in y se- ueth day is the Sabbath: in it thee shall be none.

27 Notwithstanding, there went out some of the people in the seventh day for to gather, and they founde none.

28 And the Lord said vnto Moses, How log refuse ye to kepe my commandements, & my lawes?

29 Beholde, how the Lord hath giue you the Sabbath: therefore he giueeth you the first day bread for two dayes: taiy there-

4 And Moses cryed to the Lord, saying, What shall I do to this people? for they be almost ready to stone me.

5 And y Lord answered to Moses, Go before the people, and take with thee of the Elders of Israel: and thy rod, wherewith thou b smoteh the ruuer, take in thine had, and go:

6 "Beholde, I wil said there before thee vp on the rocks in Horèb, & thou shalt smite on the rocks & water shall come out of it, that the people may drink. And Moses did so in the sight of the Elders of Israel.

7 And he called the name of the place, 'Maf sah and' Meiibah, because of the contention of the children of Israel, and because they had tempted the Lord, saying, Is the 4 Lord among vs, or no?

8 "Then came Amalek and foght with Israel in Rephidim.

9 And Moses said to Joshua, Chuse vs out men, and go fight w Amalek: tomorrow I wil stand on the top of the hhill with the rod of God in mine hand.

10 So Joshua did as Moses bade hi, & foght with Amalek: &
Moses, Aaron, and Hur, went vp to the top of the hil.

11 And when Moses held vp his hand, Israel preuailed: but when he let his hand s downe, Amalek preuailed.

12 Now Moses hads were heaury: therefore they toke a stone and put it vnder him, & he fate vpon it: and Aaron & Hur staied vp his hands, the one on the one side, and the other on the other side: so his hands were steady vntil the going downe of the sunne.

13 And Joshua discomfited Amalek and his people with the edge of the swords.

14 And y Lord said to Moses, Write this for a remembrance b in the boke, and "re heaise it to Joshua: for b I wil vterly put out the remembrance of Amalek from vnder heaun.

15 (And Moses buylte an altar and called the name of it, Iehouah-nifsi)

16 Also he said, "The Lord hathe sworne, that he wil haue wat te with Amalek from generacion to generacion.

1 The matter of consecrating the Priests 3t The continual sacrifice. 4 The Lord permiteth to dwell among the children of Israel.

1 His thing also shalt thou do unto the when thou consecratest them to be my Priests, * Take a young calf, and two rams without blemish,

2 And unleavened bread & cakes unleavened tempered with oyle, & wafers unleavened anointed with oyle: (of fine wheat flower shalt thou make them)

3 The first shalt put the in one basket, & present them in the basket with the calf and the two rams,

4 And shalt bring Aaron and his sons unto the door of the Tabernacle of & Congregation, and wash them with water.

5 Also thou shalt take the garments, & put upon Aaron the tunic, and the robe of the Ephod, and the Ephod, and the breastplate, and shalt clothe him to him with the broidered garment of the Ephod.

6 Then thou shalt put the mitre upon his head, and shalt put the holy crown upon the mitre.

7 And thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and shalt pour upon his head, and anoint him.

8 And thou shalt bring his sons, and put coats upon them,

9 And fhalt girde them with girdels, both Aarón & his fonnes:
and fhalt put the bo- nets on them, and the Prielftes office fhall be theirs for a perpetual lawe: thou fi fhalt alfo 'fil the hands of Aarón, and the hāds of his fonnes.

10 After, thou fhalt prefent the calf before the Tabernacle of the Cfgregacion. * and Aarón and his fonnes fhall 'put their hāds vpon the head of the calf.

11 So thou fhalt kil the calf befor: & Lord, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Con- gregacion.

12 Then thou fhalt take of & blood of the calf, and put it vpon the boines of the al- tar with thy finger, and fhalt powre all the rest of the blood at the fore of the altar.

13 *Alfo thou fhalt take all the fat that co- uereth the inwards, and the kall, that is on the liuer, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon the, and fhalt burne them vpon the altar.

14 But the flefh of the calf, and his fkin, and his dofig fhalt thou burne with fire with out the hofte: it is a 'finne offering.

15 Thou fhalt alfo take one ram, and Aa- rón and his fonnes fhall put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

16 Then thou fhalt kil the ram, and take his blood, and fprinkle it round about vpon the altar,

17 And thou shalt cut the ram in pieces, and wash & inwardes of him and his legges, & shalt put them vpon the pieces thereof, and vpon his head.

18 So thou shalt burne the whole ram vpon the altar. for it is a burnt offering vnto the Lord 4 for a swete fauour: it is an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

19 And thou shalt take the other ram, and Aarón and his sonnes shall put their hands vpon the head of the ram.

20 Then shalt thou kill the ram, and take of his blood & put it vpon the lap of Aaróns eare, and vpon the lap of the right eare of his sonnes, and vpon the thumbe of their right hand, & vpon the great toe of their right fore, and shalt sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

21 And thou shalt take of the blood that is vpon the altar, and of the anointing oyle, and shalt sprinkle it vpon Aarón, and vpon his garments, and vpon his sonnes, and vpon- on the garments of his sonnes with him: so he shall be hallowed, and his clothes, and his sonnes, and the garments of his sonnes with him.

22 Also thou shalt take of the rams & fat & the rumpe, euen the fat that couereth the inwardes, and the kalle of the liuer, and the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, and the right shulder, (for it is the 1 ram of consecration)

23 And one loaf of bread, and one cake of bread tempered with oyle, & one wafer, out of & basket of the vneauened bread that is before the Lord.

2 God maketh The glest & Aholdh mete for his worke. 13 The Sabbath day is the sign of our sanctification. 14 The tables written by the finger of God.

1 A Nd y Lord spake vnto Moses, sayig, Beholde, I haue called by name, Behalc, the sonne of Vri, the sonne of Hur of the tribe of Iucah,

3 Whome I haue filled with the Spirit of God, in wisdom, & in understanding & in knowledge & in all b workmanship:

4 To finde out curious workes to worke in golde, & in siluer, and in brasse,

5 Also in the art to set stones, and to carue in timber, and to worke in all maner of workmanship.

6 And beholde, I haue iowned with hi Aho- liab the sonne of Ahisamah of the tribe of

Dan, & in the hearers of all that are wise hearted, haue I put wisdom to make all y I haue commanded thee:

7 That is, y Tabernacle of y Congregacio, and the Arke of the Testimonie, and the Merciseat that shalbe thereupon, with all instruments of the Tabernacle:

8 Also the Table and the instruments the- reot, and the d pure Candelsticke with all his instruments, and the Altar of perfume:

9 Likewise the Altar of burnt offing with all his instruments, and the Laue, with his fote:

10 Also the garments of the ministration, and the holy garments for Aaron y Priest, and the garments of his sonnes, to minister in the Priests office, 11 And the anointing oyle, and swete per- fume for the Sanctuarie: according to all that I haue commanded thee, shal they do.

12 Afterward the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying,

13 Speake thou also vnto the children of Is- rael, & say, Notwithstanding kepe ye my Sabbaths: for it is a sign between me and you in your generations, that ye may kno- we that I the Lord do sanctise you.

14 Ye shal therefore kepe y & Sabbath: for it is holy vnto you: he that defileth it, shal dye y death: therefore whofoeuer worketh therein, the same persone shalbe euen cut of from among his people.

15 Six dayes shal men worke, but in the se- uenth day o the Sabbath of the holy rest to the Lord: whofoeuer doeth any worke in the Sabbath day, shal dye the death.

16 Wherefore the children of Israel shal ke- pe the Sabbath, that they may observe the rest through out their generations for an euet lasting covenant.

17 It is a sign between me and the chil- dren of Israel for euet: for in six dayes y Lord made the heaven and the earth, and in the seventh day he ceased, and rested.

18 Thus (when the Lord had made an end of comaning with Moses vpon mount Si- nai) the gaue him two Tables of the Te- stimonic, two tables of stone, written with the finger of God.

the golden earrings, which are in the eares of your wines, of your fones, and of your daughters, and bring them vnto me.

3 Then all the people pluckte from the f values the golden earrings, which were in their eares, and they broght them vnto Aa- ron.

4 Who receiued them at their hands, and facioned it with the grazing tole, & ma- de of it a molten calf: then they said, *

These be thy gods, & Israel, & broght thee out of the land of Egypt.

5 When Aaron sawe that, he made an altar before it: and Aaron proclaimed, saying, To morowe shalbe the holy day of the Lord.

6 So they rose vp the next day in the morning, and offered burnt offerings, & broght peace offings: also the people fate them downe to eat and drinke, and rose vp to playe.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Moses, * Go, get the downe: for thy people which thou haft broght out of the land of Egypt, hath the corrupted their wines.

8 They are sone turned out of the way, which I commanded them for they haue made them a molten calf, & haue worshipped it, & haue offered the eto, sayig, * These be thy gods, & Israel, which haue broght thee out of the land of Egypt.

9 Againe the Lord said vnto Moses, * I haue sene this people, and beholde, it is a stiffnecked people.

10 Nowe therefore let me alone, that my wrath may wake hote against them, so I wil consume toem: but I wil make of thee a mightie people.

11 *But Moses prated vnto y Lord his God, and said, O Lord, why doe: h: thy wrath wake hote against thy people, which thou haft broght out of the lad of Egypt, with great power, and with a mightie hand?

12 *When fore shal the Egyptians speak, and say, He hath broght them out mali- ciously for to slay them in the mouraines, and to consume them from the earth: tur- ne from thy scarce wrath, and change thy minde from this euil toward thy people.

13 Remember Abraham, Izhak, & Israel thy seuanes, to whome thou swarest by thine owne selfe, and saidest vnto them, * I wil multiple your sede, as the stares of the heauen, and all this land, that I haue spoken of, will I giue vnto your sede, and the shal inherit it for euer.

14 Then the Lord changed his minde from the euil, which he threatened to do vnto his people.

15 So Moses returned and went downe from the mountaine with the two Tables of the Testimonie in his had: the Tables were writte on bothe their sides, euen on y one side & on the other were thei written.

16 And these Tables were the worke of God, and h this writing was the writing of God grauen in the Tables.

17 And whe Ioshua heard the noise of the people, as thei showted, he said vnto Mo- ses, There is a noise of warre in the hoste.

18 Who answered, It is not the noise of the that haue the victorie, nor the noise of the that ate ouercome: but I do heare the noi- se of singing.

19 Nowe, assone as he came nere vnto the hoste, he sawe the calf and the dancing: so Moses wrath waxed hote, and he cast the Tables out of his hands, and brake them in pieces beneth the mountaine.

20 *After, he toke the calf, which they had made, & burned it in the fire, and ground it vnto powder, and strowed it vpon the water, & made the child: e of Israel: din- ke of it.

21 Also Moses said vnto Aaron, What did this people vnto thee, y thou haft broght so great a sinne vpon them?

22 The Aaron answered, Let not the wrath of my loud wake feaice: thou knowest this people, that: the are euen set on mischief.

23 And thei said vnto me, Make vs gods to go before vs: for we knowe not what is become of this Moses (the man y broght vs out of the land of Egypt.)

24 The I said to them, Ye that haue golde, plucke it of: and thei broght it me, and I did cast it into the fire, and thereof came this calf.

25 Moses therefore sawe that the people were k naked (for Aaron had made them naked vnto their shame among their ene- mies)

26 And Moses stode in the gate of the cap, and said, Who pretenteth to the Lord his lum come to me. And all the sonnes of Leui gathered them selues vnto him.

27 Then he said vnto them, Thus saith the Lord God of Israel, Put euerie man his sworde by his side: go to and fro, fro gate to gate, through the hoste, and slay eue- rie man his brother, and euerie man his companion, & euerie man his neighbour.

28 So the children of Leui did as Moses had commanded: and there fel of the peo- ple the same day about thre thousand me.

29 (For Moses had said, Consecrar your hands vnto the Lord this day, euen euerie man vpon his s sonne, and vpon his brother, that there may be giuen you a blef- sing this day)

30 And whe the morning came, Moses said vnto the people, Ye haue committed a grie- uous crime: but now I wil go vp to the Lord, if I may pacifie him for your sinne.

31 Moses therefore went againe vnto the Lord, and said, Oh, this people haue sin- li.

2 And I wil send an Angel before thee & wil cast out the Canaanites, Amorites, and the Hittites, and the Petizzites, the Hiuites, and the Iebusites:

3 To a lad, I say, that floweth with milke & hony: for I wil not go vp with thee, be- cause thou art a stifnecked people, lest I consume thee in the way.

4 And when the people heard this euil ti- dings, they followed,
& no man put on his best rayment.

5 (For the Lord had said to Moses, Say vn- to the children of Israel, Ye are a stifnec- ked people, I wil come sodenly vpon thee, and consume thee: therefore now put thy costly rayment fro thee, that I may know what to do vnto thee.)

6 So the child is of Israel laied their good rayment from them, after Moses came down from the mount Horeb.

7 Then Moses toke his tabernacle, & pitched it without the hoste far of from the hoste, and called it Ohel-moed. And when anie did foke to the Lord, he weir out vnto the Tabernacle of the Congrega- tion, which was without the hoste.

8 And when Moses went out vnto the Ta- bernacle, all the people rose vp, and stode euerie man at his tent dore, and loked af- ter Moses, vntil he was gone into the Ta- bernacle.

9 And aflone as Moses was entred into the Tabernacle, the Tabernacle,

and the Lord talked with Moses.

10 Now when all the people faw the clou- dy piller stand at the 11 And the Lord spake vnto Moses, face to face, as a man speaketh vnto his friend. After he turned againe into the hoste, but his seruant Ioshita the sonne of Nun a yong man, departed not out of the Ta- bernacle.

12 ¶ Then Moses said vnto the Lord, Se, & faeist vnto me, Lead this people fourth, & thou hast not shewed me whome thou wilt send with me: thou hast said moreo- uer, I knowe thee by name, & thou hast also founde grace in my sight.

13 Now therefore, I pray thee, if I haue fo- unde fauour in thy sight, shewe me now thy way, that I may knowe thee, and that I may finde grace in thy sight: consider al- so that this nation is thy people.

14 And he answered, My presence shal go with thee, and I wil giue thee seft.

15 Then he said vnto him, If thy presence go not with us, cary vs not hence.

16 And wherein now shal it be knowe, that I and thy people haue founde fauour in thy sight shal it not be when thou goest with us so I, & thy people shal haue pre- eminence before all the people that are vpon the earth.

17 And the Lord said vnto Moses, I wil do this also that thou hast said: for thou hast founde grace in my sight, and I knowe thee by name.

18 Againe he said, I beseche thee, shewe me thy & glorie.

19 And he answered, I wil make all my good go before thee, and I wil proclai- me the Name of the Lord before thee: for I wil shewe mercie to whome I wil shewe mercie, & wil haue compaision on whome I wil haue compaision.

20 Furthermore he said, Thou cast not se my face, for there shal no man se me, and liue.

21 Also the Lord said, Beholde, there is a place by me, and thou shalt stade vpon the rocke:

2 *Six days thou shalt worke, but the seventh day shal be vnto you the holy Sabbath of rest vnto Lord: whosoever doeth anie worke therein, shal dye.

3 Ye shal kindle no fire throughout all your habitations vpon the Sabbath day.

4 ¶Againe, Moses spake vnto all the Congregation of children of Israel, saying, This is the thing which the Lord commandeth, saying,

5 Take from among you an offering vnto the Lord: whosoever is of a willing heart, let him bring this offering to the Lord, namely golde, and siluer, and brasse:

6 Also blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine linen, and goats heere,

7 And rams skins died red, and badgers skins with Shuttim wood:

8 Also oyle for light, & spices for the anointing oyle, and for the swete incense,

9 And onix stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the best plate.

b Read Chap. 10 And all the wise heard among you, shal come & make all that the Lord hath commanded:

Chap. 26.11. 11 That is, the Tabernacle, the paullion thereof, & his couering, & his taches & his boards, his barres, his pillars & his sockets,

12 The Arke, and the barres thereof: the Merciseat, & the vail that couereth it, 13 The Table, and the barres of it, and all the instruments thereof, & the shewe bread:

14 Also the Cadelfsticke of light and his instruments and his lampes with the oyle for the light:

15 *Likewise the Altar of perfume and his barres, and the anointing oyle, and the swete incense, and the vail of the dore at the entering in of the Tabernacle,

16 The Altar of burnt offering with his brazen grate, his barres and all his instruments, the Laver and his fote,

17 The haggings of the course, his pillars & his sockets, and the vail of gate of the course,

18 The pins of the Tabernacle, and pins of the course with their cordes,

19 The ministring garments to ministrate in the holy place, and the holy garments for Aaron the Priest, and the garments of his sonnes, that they may ministrate in the Priestes office.

20 ¶Then all the Congregation of children of Israel departed from the presence of Moses.

21 And euerie one, whose hearts encouraged him, & euerie one, whose spirit made him willing, came and brought an offering to Lord, for the worke of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and for all his vases, and for the holy garments.

22 Bothe men & women, as many as were fre hearted, came and brought taches and earrings, and rings, and bracelets, all were icwels of golde: and euerie one that offied an offering of golde vnto the Lord:

23 Euerie man also, which had blewe silke, and purple, & skarlet, and fine linen, and goats heere, and rams skins died red, and badgers skins, brought them.

24 All that offred an oblatio of siluer & of brasse, brought offing vnto the Lord: & euerie one, had Shuttim wood for anie maner worke of ministratio, brought it.

25 And all the women that were wise hearted, did spun with their hades, and brought the spun worke, euer the blewe silke, and the purple, the skarlet, and the fine linen.

26 Likewise all the women, whose hearts were moued with knowledge, spun goats heere.

27 And the rulers brought onix stones, and stones to be set in the Ephod, and in the blest plate:

28 Also spice, and oyle for light, and for the anointing oyle, and for the swete perfume.

29 Euerie man and woman of the children of Israel, whose hearts moued the willingly to bring for all the worke which the Lord had commanded the to make: by the had of Moses, brought a fre offering to Lord.

30 ¶Then Moses said vnto the children of Israel. Beholde, * d Which were fit pictures with singges in the service of children.

1 Then wrought Bezaleel, and Aholiaib, and all "conning men, to whome the Lord gave wisdom, and understanding, to knowe how to worke all manner worke for the service of the Sanctuarie, according to all that the Lord had commanded.

2 For Moses had called Bezaleel, & Aholiaib, and all the wise hearted men, in whose hearts the Lord had given wisdom, even as many as their hearts encouraged to come unto that worke to worke it.

3 And they received of Moses all the offering which the children of Israel had brought for the worke of the service of the Sanctuarie, to make it: also they brought still unto him fre gifts euerie morning.

4 So all the wise men, that wrought all the holy worke, came every man from his worke which they wrought,

5 And spake to Moses, saying, The people bring to me, and more than enough for the use of the worke, which the Lord hath commanded to be made.

6 Then Moses gave a commandment, and they caused it to be proclaimed throughout the host. saying, Let neither man nor woman prepare any more worke for the oblation of the Sanctuarie. So the people were stayed from offering.

7 For the stuffe they had, was sufficient for all the worke to make it, and to me.

8 All the cunning men therefore among the workmen, made for the Tabernacle ten curtains of fine twined linen, and of blue flax, and purple, and scarlet:

4 Cherubims of broyded worke made they upon them.

9 The length of one curtain was twenty and eight cubites, and the breadth of one curtain foure cubits: and the curtains were all of one cloth.

10 And he coupled five curtains together, and other five coupled he together.

11 And he made fringes of blue flax by edge of one curtain, in the felledge of coupling: likewise he made on the side of the other curtaine in the feluedge in the seconde coupling.

12 "Fiftie strings made he in the one curtai- ne, and fiftie strings made he in the edge of the other curtaine, which was in the se- conde coupling: the strings were set one against an other.

13 After, he made fiftie taches of golde, & coupled the curtaines one to an other the taches: so was it one Tabernacle.

14 Also he made curtaines of goates heere for the couering vpon the Tabernacle: he made them to the number of eleuen cur- taines.

15 The length of one curtaine had thirty cubites, and the breadth of one curtaine foure cubites: the eleuen curtaines were of one cife.

16 And he coupled fiue curtaines by them felues, and fix curtaines by them felues:

17 Also he made fiftie strings vpon the ed- ge of one curtaine in fi feluedge in the cou- pling, and fiftie strings made he vpon the edge of the other curtaine in the seconde coupling.

18 He made also fiftie taches of braffe to couple the couering that it might be one.

19 And he made a couering vpon the pa- uillion of rams skins died red, & a coue- ring of badgers skins abone.

20 Likewise he made the boardes for the Tabernacle of Shittim wood to ftad vp.

21 The length of a boarde was ten cubites, & the breadth of one boarde was a cubi- te, and an halfe.

22 One boarde had two tenons, fet in ordre as the fete of a ladder, one againft an o- ther: thus made he for all the boardes of Tabernacle.

23 So he made twette boardes for South- fide of the Tabernacle, euen ful South.

24 And fourtie fockets of filue: made he vn- der the twette boardes, two fockets vnder one boarde for his two tenos, & two foc- kets vnder another boarde for his two te- nons.

25 Alfo for the other fide of the Taberna- cle towarde the North, he made twentie boardes, 26 And their fourtie fockets of filuer, two fockets vnder one boarde, & two fockets vnder another boarde.

27 Likewise towarde the Weftfide of the Tabernacle he made fix boardes.

28 And two boardes made he in the corners of the Tabernacle, for ether fiue, 32 And fue barres for the boarders in the o- ther side of the Tabernacle, and fue bar- res for the boarders of the Tabernacle on the side towards the West.

33 And he made the middest barre to shote through the boarders, from the one end to the other.

34 He ouerlaied also the boarders with gol- de, and made their rings of golde for pla- ces for the barres, and couered the barres with golde.

b Which was between § 12. dhurie and § Holлиеft of all.

35 ¶ Moreover he made a b vaille of blewe silke, and purple, and of skarlet, and of si- ne twined linen: with Cherubims of broy dred worke made he it:

36 And made thereunto foure pillers of Shittim, and ouerlaied them with golde: whose hokes were also of golde, and he cast for them foure sockets of siluer.

b which was between the gout and the Schoharte.

37 And he made an hanging for the Taber nacle dore, of blewe silke, and purple, and skarlet, and fine twined linen, and needle worke,

38 And the fue pillars of it with their ho- kes, and ouerlaied their chapters & their filets with golde, but their fue sockets were of braille.

1 A Fier this, Bezalcel made the Arke of Shittim wood, two cubites and an halfe long, and a cubite and an halfe broa- de, and a cubite and an halfe hie:

a Like barul- ments.

2 And ouerlaied it with fine golde within and without, and made a crowne of gol- de to it round about,

3 And cast for it foure rings of golde for y foure corners of it: that is, two rings for y one side of it, and two rings for the other side thereof.

4 Also he made barres of Shittim wood, & couered them with golde,

5 And put the barres in the rings by the sides of the Arke, to be are the Arke.

Chap. 25, 27.

6 ¶ And he made the Merciseat of pure golde: two cubites and an halfe was the length thereof, and one cubite and an halfe the breadth thereof.

7 And he made two Cherubims of golde, vpon the two ends of the Merciseat: tenen of worke beaten with the hammer made he them.

b Of the self same matter y the Merciseat was.

8 One Cherub on y one end, and an other Cherub on the other end: b of the Merciseat made he the Cherubims, at the two ends thereof.

9 And y Cherubims spread out their wings on hie, and couered the Merciseat & their wings, and their faces were one towards an other: toward the Merciseat were the faces of the Cherubims.

10 ¶ Also he made the Table of Shittim wood: two cubites was the length thereof, and a cubite the breadth thereof, and a cubite and an halfe the height of it.

11 And he ouerlaied it with fine golde, and made thereto a crowne of golde round a- bout.

12 Also he made thereto a border of an had breadth round about, and made vpon y border a crowne of golde round about.

13 And he cast for it foure rings of golde, and put the rings in the foure corners that were in the foure fete thereof.

14 Against the border were the rings, as places for the barres to be are the Table.

15 And he made the barres of Shittim wo- od, and couered them with golde to be are the Table.

16 * Also he made the instruments for the Table of pure golde: dishes for it, & incen cups for it, and goblets for it, & couerings for it, wherewith it shulde be couered.

17 ¶ Likewise he made the Candelfilcke of pure golde: of worke beaten out with the hammer made he the Candelfilcke: and his shaft, & his branche, his bolles, his knops, and his floures were of one piece.

18 And six branches came out of the sides thereof: the branches of the Candelfilcke out of the one side of it, and the branches of the Candelfilcke out of the other si- de of it.

19 In one branche the bolles made like al- mondes, a knop and a floure: and in an o- ther branche the bolles made like almôdes, a knop & a floure: and so through- out the six branches that proceeded out of the Candelfilcke.

20 And vpon the Candelfilcke were foure bolles after the facion of almondes, the knops thereof and the floures thereof:

21 That is, under euerie two branches a knop made thereof, and a knop under the secode branche thereof, and a knop under the third branche thereof, according to the six branches comming out of it.

22 Their knops and their branches were of the same: it was all one* beaten worke of pure golde.

23 And he made for it seuen lampes with y shuffers, & shuldishes thereof of pure gold.

24 Of a talent of pure golde made he it with all the instruments thereof.

25 Furthermore he made the perfume altar of Shittim wood: the length of it was a cubite, and the breadth of it a cubite (it was square) and two cubites hie, and the homes.

The Altar of burnt offrings & The brafen Lauer. The Courte 24
The fume of that the people offered.

Chap 27.1. A Lfo he made the altar of the bunn offering* of Shittim wood: fiue cub- ites was the length thereof, and fiue cubi- tes the breadth thereof: it was fquate and thre cubites hic.

2 And he made vnto it honcs in the foure corners thereof: the honcs thereof were of the fame, & he ouetlaied it with brafle.

3 Alfo he made all the instruments of the Altar: y* afhpan, & the befomes, and the bafins, y flefhokes, & the cenfers: all the instruments thereof made he of brafle.

4 Moreoues he made a brafle grate wrought like a net to the Altar, vnder the compas of it beneth in the *middes of it,

5 And caft foure rings of brafle for y fou- re ends of the grate to put barres in.

6 And he made the barres of Shittim wo- od, and couered them with brafle.

7 The which barres he put into the rings on the fides of the altar to beare it with- all, and made it holowe within y boardcs.

8 Alfo he made the Lauer of brafle, and the fore of it of brafle of the b glaffes of y women that did affemble and came together at the dote of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

9 Finally he made y courte on the South- fide ful Southe: the hangings of the cour- te were of fine twined linen, hauing an hundreth cubites.

10 Their pillers were twentie, & their bra- fen fockets: twentie: the hokes of the pil- lers, and their filets were of filuer.

11 And on the Northfide the hangings were an hundreth cubites: their pilleis twentie, & their fockets of brafle twétie, y hokes of y pillers & their filets of filuer.

12 On the Westfide alfo were hangings of fiftie cubites, their ten pillers with their ten fockets: y hokes of the pillers and their filets of filuer.

13 And toward the Eaftside, ful Eaft, were hangings of fiftie cubites.

14 The hangings of the one fide were fifte- ne cubites, their thre pillers, and their thre fockets:

15 *And of the other fide of the courte ga- te on bothe fides were hangings of fiftene cubites, with their thre pillers and their thre fockets.

16 All the hangings of the courte round a- bout were of fine twined linen:

17 But the fockets of the pillers were of braffe: the hokes of the pillers and their filets of filuer, and the couring of their chapters of filuer: and all the pillers of the courte were hooped about with filuer.

18 He made alfo the hanging of the gate of the courte of nedle worke, blewe filke, and purple, and fkarlet, and fine twined linen euen twentie cubites long, and fiue cubi- tes in height & breadth, "like the hágings of the courte.

19 And their pillers were foure with their foure fockets of brafle: their hokes of fil- uer, and the couring of their chapiters, and their filets of filuer.

20 But all the* pins of the Tabernacle and of the courte round about were of brafle.

21 These are the partes of the Tabernac- le, I mtaue, of the Tabernacle of the Te- ftimonie, which was appointed by the com- mandement of Mofes for the office of y Leuites by the hand of Ithamâr fonne to Aarón the Priest.

22 So Bezaleél the fonne of Vif the fonne of Hur of the tribe of Iudâh, made all y the Lord commanded Mofes.

23 And with him Aholiah fonne of Ahifa- mâch of the tribe of Dan, a cuning wor- kerman and an embroyderer and a worker of nedle worke in blewe filke, and in pur- ple, and in fkarlet, and in fine linen.

24 All the golde that was occupied in all y worke wrought for the holy place (which was the golde of the offring) was nine & twentie talents, and feuen hundreth and thirtie fhekels, according to the fhekel of the Sanctuarie.

25 But the filuer of them that were nom- bred in the Cógregacion, was an hüdreth talêts, and a thoufand feuen hundreth fe- uentie and fiue fhekels, after the fhekel of the Sanctuarie.

26 A portion for a man, that is, halfe a fhe- kel after the fhekel of the Sanctuarie, for all them that were nombred from twen- tie yere olde and aboue, among fix hun- dreth thoufand, and thre thoufand, & fiue hundreth and fiftie men.

27 Moreoues there were an hundreth ta- lents of filuer, to caft the fockets of the Sanctuarie, and the fockets of the vaile: an hundreth fockets of an hundreth talents, a talent for a focket.

28 But he made the hokes for the pillers of a thoufand feuen hundreth and feuérie & fiue fhekels, and ouetlaied their chapiters, I.iiii.

CHAP. XXXIX.

Chap. 27,19.

1 The apparel of Aarón and his fumes 32 All that the Lord commanded, was made, and finished 43 Mofes blefeth the people.

a As cenerings for the Arce, & Cidefische, the Altars & fuche like Chap 31, 10. & 37,29.

1 M Oreouer they made garments of miniftration to minifte in the San ctuatie of blewe filke, and purple, & fkar- let: the* made also the holy garments for Aarón, as the Lord had commanded Mo- fes.

2 So he made the Ephód of golde, blewe filke, and purple, and fkarlet, and fine twi- ned linen.

3 And they did beate the golde into thin plates, and cut it into wiers, to woike it in the blewe filke & in the purple, and in the fkarlet, & in the fine linen, with broydred worke.

4 For the which thei made fhulders to cou- ple together: for it was clofed by the two edges thereof.

5 And the broydred garde of his Ephód that was vpon him, was of the fame fluffe, and of like woike: ewen of golde, of blewe filke, and purple, and fkarlet, and fine twi- ned linen, as the Lord had commanded Mofes.

Chap. 28,9. b That is, of very fine and curious work- manfhip

6 ¶ And they wroght *two onix ftones clofed in ouches of golde, and graued, as b fi- gnets are grauen, with the names of the children of Ifraél,

Chap. 28, 12.

7 And put the on the fhulders of § Ephód, as ftones for a* remembrance of the chil- dren of Ifraél, as the Lord had comman- ded Mofes.

8 ¶ Also he made the breft plate of broy- dred worke like the woike of the Ephód: to wit, of golde, blewe filke, and purple, & fkarlet, and fine twined linen.

9 They made the breft plate double, and it was fquare, an hand breadth long, and an hand breadth broad: it was also double.

10 And they filled it with foure towes of ftones. The ordre was thus, a ruby, a topa- ze, and a carbuncle in the fiift rowe.

: Or a lignee, which foure outers write that it com- meth of em- vine of the beaft called line.

11 And in the feconde rowe, an emeraude, a faphi, and a diamond:

12 Also in the third rowe, & a tuikeis, an a- chate, and an hematite:

13 Likewise in the fourte rowe, a chryfolite, an onix, and a lafferclofed and fet in ou- ches of golde.

14 So the ftones were according to the na- mes of the children of Ifraél, ewen twelue & after their names, grauen like figners e- ue: it one after his name according to the twelue tribes.

15 After, they made vpon the breft plate cheines at the endes, of wrethen woike & pure golde.

16 They made also two boffes of golde, & two golde rings, and put the two rings in the two corners of the breft plate.

17 And they put the two wrethen cheines of golde in the two rings, in the corners of the breft plate.

18 Also the two other endes of the two wrethen cheines they fastened in the two boffes, and put them on the fhulders of the Ephód vpon the foie fronte of it.

19 Likewise the, made two rings of golde, and put them in the two other corners of the breft plate vpon the edge of it, which was on the infide of the Ephód.

20 They made also two other golden rings, and put them on the two fides of the Ephód, beneth on the forefide of it and ouer againft his coupling aboue the broydred garde of the Ephód.

21 Then they fastened the breft plate by his rings vnto the rings of the Ephód, with a lace of blewe filke, that it might be faft vpon the broyded garde of the Ephód, and that the breft plate fhulde not be lofed from the Ephód, as the Lord had commanded Mofes.

22 ¶ Mo. eouer he made the robe of the Ephód of wouen woike, altogether of blewe filke.

23 And f the hole of the robe was in the mildes of it, as § collet of an habergeon, with an edge about the collar, that it fhu- de not rent.

24 And they made vpon the fkrates of the tobe pomegranates, of olewe filke, & pur- ple, and fkarlet, and fine linen twined.

25 They made also *belles of pu.e golde, & put the belles betwene the pomegrana- tes vpon the fkrates of the tobe rounde a- bout betwene the pomegranates.

26 A bel & a pomegranate, a bel & a pome- granate round about the fkrates of the to- be to minifter in, as the Lord had co- manded Mofes.

27 ¶ After, they made coates of fine line, of woué woike for Aarón & for his fannes.

28 And the mtre of fine linen, and goodlie bonners of fine linen, and linen *breches of fine twined linen, 29 ¶ And the girdel of fine twined linen, & of blewe filke, & purple, & fkarlet, ewen of nedle worke, as the Lord had comman- ded Mofes.

42 According to euerie point: that the Lord had commanded Moses, so the children of Israel made all the worke.

43 And Moses behelde all the worke, and beholde, thei had done it as the Lord had commanded: so had thei done: and Moses h blessed them.

CHAP. XL.

The Tabernacle with the appurtenances is reared vp. 34 The glorie of the Lord appeareth in the clouds co- uering the Tabernacle.

Then the Lord spake vnto Moses, say- ing,

In the a first day of the first moneth in the very first of the same moneth shalt thou set vp the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregation:

And thou shalt put therein the Arke of the Testimonie, and couer the Arke with the vaile.

4 Also thou shalt bring in the Table, and Read chap. set it in ordre as it doeth require: thou shalt also bring in the Candelsticke, and light his lampes,

5 And thou shalt set the incense Altar b of b That is, the golde before the Arke of the Testimonie, alter of perfu- me, or to bur- ne incense on. c This haging or vaile was barwene the Sanctuarie and the courte.

6 Moreouer thou shalt set the burnt offrig Altar before the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congrega- cion.

7 And thou shalt set the Lauer betwene the Tabernacle of the Congregation & the Altar, and put water therein.

8 Then thou shalt appoint the courte roud about, and hang vp the hanging at the courte gate.

9 After, thou shalt take the anointing oyle, and anoint the Tabernacle, and all that is therein, and halowe it with all the in- struments thereof, that it may be holye.

10 And thou shalt anoint the Altar of the burnt offering, and all his instruments, and shalt sanctifie the Altar, that it may be an altar moste holy.

11 Also thou shalt anoint the Lauer and his fote, and shalt sanctifie it.

12 Then thou shalt bring Aaron and his sonnes vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & wash them with water.

13 And thou shalt put vpon Aaron the ho- ly garments, and shalt anoint him, & sanctifie him that he may minister vnto me in the Priests office.

14 Thou shalt also bring his sonnes, and clothe them with garments,

15 And shalt anoint them as thou diddest anoint their father, that they may minister vnto me in the Priests office: for their anointing shall be a signe, that y priesthode shall be euerlasting vnto the throughout their generations.

16 So Moses did according to all that the Lord had commanded him: so did he.

17 ¶ Thus was the Tabernacle reared vp the first day of the first moneth in the seconde yere.

18 Then Moses reared vp the Tabernacle and fastened his fockets, and set vp the boardes thereof, and put in the barres of it, and reared vp his pillers.

19 And he spred the couering ouer the Tabernacle, and put the couering of that couering on hie aboue it, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

and couered the Arke of the Testimonie, as the Lord had commanded Moses,

Furthermore he put the Table in the Tabernacle of the Congregation in the Northside of the Tabernacle, without the vaile, And set the bread in ordre before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses. 24 Also he put the Candelsticke in the Tabernacle of the Congregation ouer against the Table toward the Southside of the Tabernacle. 25 And he lighted the lampes before the Lord, as the Lord had commanded Moses. 26 Moreover he set the golden Altar in the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the vaile, 27 And burnt swere incse thereon, as the Lord had commanded Moses. 28 Also he haged vp the vaile at the s dore of the Tabernacle. 29 After, he set the burnt offering Altar without the dore of the Tabernacle, called the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, & offred the burnt offering and the sacrifice thereon, as the Lord had comaded Moses. 30 Likewise he set the Lauer between the Tabernacle of the Congregacion & the Altar, and powred water therein to wash with.

So Moses, and Aaron, and his sonnes, washed their hands & their fete thereat. When thei went into the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, and when thei approached to the Altar, thei washed, as the Lord had commanded Moses. Finally he reared vp the courte round about the Tabernacle and the Altar, and hanged vp the vaile at the courte gate: so Moses finished the worke. 34 Then the cloude couered the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle. 35 So Moses colde not entre into the Tabernacle of the Congregacion, because the cloude abode thereon, and the glorie of the Lord filled the Tabernacle. 36 Now when the cloude ascended vp from the Tabernacle, the children of Israel went forward in all their iourness. 37 But if the cloude ascended not, then thei iourneied not til the day that it ascended. 38 For the cloude of the Lord was vpon the Tabernacle by day, and fire was in it by night, in the sight of all the house of Israel, throughout all their sorneies.

Moses, called *Leuiticus.

- Because in that booke is cruelly increased to 9 Leuiticus, and of things pertaining to their office.

THE ARGUMENT.

A God daily by most singular benesses declared him selfe to be mindful of his Church: so he woldne not that they should have anie occasion to trust other in them selues, or to depend upon others for lacke of temporal things, or oght that belonged to his diuine seruice and religion. Therefore he ordained diuers knodes of oblatons and sacrifices, to assure them of forgiveness of their offenses. (if they offered them in true faith and obedience) Also he appointed their Priests and Leuitues, their apparel, offices, conversation and portion: he shewed what seafes, they shulde obserue, and in what times. Moreover he declared by these sacrifices & ceremonies that the reward of sinne is death, and that without the blood of Christ the innocent Lambe there can be no forgiveness of sinnes. And because their shulde give no place to their owne sinuensions (which thing God most detesteth as appeareth by the terrible example of Nadab and Abibi) he prescribed ewen to the least things, what their shulde do, as what beafes their shulde offre and eat: what diseases were contagious and to be aucyded: what ordre their shulde take for all maner of filthines and pollution: whose companie their shulde flee: what marriages were lawful: and what politike lawes were profitable. Which things declared, he promised favour and blessing to them that kept his Lawes, and threatened his curse to them that transgressed them.

4 And he shal put his hand vpon the head of the burnt offering and it shalbe accepted "to the Lord, to be his atonement. 5 And he shal kil the bullocke before the Lord, and the Priest Aarons fones shal offer the blood, and shal fprinkle it round about vpon the a altar, that is by the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation. 6 Then shal he fley the burnt offering and cut it in pieces. 7 So the fones of Aaron the Priest shal put fire vpon the altar, and lay the wood in ordre vpon the fire. 8 Then the Priest Aarons fones shal lay the partes in ordre, the head and the 'kall vpon the wood that is in the fire which is vpon the altar. 9 But the inwardes thereof and the legs thereof he shal waft in water, and the Priest shal burne all on the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblati made by fire, for a fwete fauour vto the Lord. 10 And if his facrifice for y burnt offrig be of the flockes (a) of the fnepe, or of y goates) he shal offer a male without blemish, 11 And he shal kil it on the Northside of the altar b before the Lord, & the Priest Aarons fones shal fprinkle the blood thereof round about vpon the Altar. 12 And he shal cut it in "pieces, feparating his head and his 'kall, and the Priest shal lay them in ordre vpo the wood that lieth in the fire which is on the altar: 13 But he shal waft the inwardes, and the legs with water, and the Priest shal offer the whole & burne it vpon the altar: for it is a burnt offering, an oblati made by fire for a fwete fauour vto the Lord. 14 And if his facrifice be a burnt offering to the Lord of the foules, the he shal offer his facrifice of the turtle doues, or of the yong pigeons. 15 And the Priest shal bring it vto the altar, and wring the necke of it a funder, and burne it on the altar: and the blood thereof shal be fhed vpon the fide of the altar. 16 And he shal plucke out his mawe h his fethers, and cast them befide the altar on the Easparte in the place of the ashes. 17 And he shal cleave it with his wings, but not deude it a fundre: and the Priest shal burne it vpon the altar vpon the wood that is in y fire: for it is a burnt offering, an oblati made by fire for a fwete fauour vto the Lord. CHAP. II. 1 The meat offering is after thre firters of fine floure vn-baken, 4 Of bread baken, 14 And of evne in the care. 2 And whe ante wil offer a meat offrig vto the Lord, his offering shalbe of fine floure, and he shal poure oyle vpo it, and put incense thereon,

3 And shal bring it vto Aarons fones the Priests, and he shal take thence his handful of the floure, and of the oyle with all the incense, and the Priest shal burne it for a memorial vpon the altar: for it is an offering made by fire for a fwete fauour vto the Lord. 4 But the remnant of the meat offring shal be Aarons and his fones: for it is most bo ly of the Lords offrings made by fire. 5 If thou bring also a meat offering baken in the oué, it shalbe an vnleauened cake of fine floure mingled with oyle, or an vnleauened wafer anointed with oyle. 6 But if thy meat offering be an oblati of the fying pan, it shalbe of fine floure vnleauened, mingled with oyle. 7 And thou shalt paite it in pieces, and powre oyle thereon: for it is a meat offering. 8 And if thy meat offering be an oblation made in the caudron, it shalbe made of fine floure with oyle. 9 After, thou shalt bring the meat offering (y is made of these things) vto y Lord, & shalt prefent it vto the Priest, and he shal bring it to the altar, 10 And the Priest shal take from the meat offering a memorial of it, and shal burne it vpon the altar: for it is an oblation made by fire for a fwete fauour vto the Lord. 11 But y which is left of the meat offering, shalbe Aarons and his fones: for it is most holy of the offerings of the Lord made by fire. 12 All the meat offerings which ye shal offer vto y Lord, shalbe made without leave: for ye shal nether burne leauernot hoay in any offering of the Lord made by fire. 13 In the oblation of the first frutes ye shal offer them vto the Lord, but they shal not be burnt vpo the altar for a fwete fauour. 14 (All the meat offerings also shalt thou feaon with salt, nether shalt thou suffre the falt of the couenant of thy God to be lacking from thy meat offering, but vpon all thine oblations thou shalt offer falt) 15 If then thou offer a meat offering of thy first frutes vto the Lord, thou shalt offer for thy meat offering of thy first frutes eares of corne dried by the fire, and wheat beaten out of the grene eaves. 16 After, thou shalt put oyle vpon it, and late incense thereon: for it is a meat offering. 17 And the Priest shal burne the memorial of it, even of that that is beaten and of the oyle of it with all the incense thereof: for it is an offering vto the Lord made by fire.

A Lfo if his oblation be a peace offering, if he wil offer of f droue (whether it be male or female) he shal offer fuch as is without blemish, before f Lord, 2 And shal put his hand vpon the head of his offering, and kil it at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation: & Aarons sons the Priests shal sprinkle the blood vpon the altar round about.

So he final offer parte of the peace offrings as a sacrifice made by fire vnto the Lord, even the fat that couereth the inwardees, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardees. He final also take away the two kidneys, and the fat that is on them, and vpon the flanks, and the kall on the liuer with the kidneis.

5 And Aarons fones final burne it on the altar with the burnt offering, which is vpo the wood, that is on the fire: this a facin- ce made by fire for a fwere fauour vnto the Lord.

6 Also if his oblation be a peace offering vnto the Lord out of the flocke, whether it be male or female, he final offer it without blemish.

7 If he offer a lambe for his oblation, then he final bring it before the Lord,

8 And lay his hand vpon the head of his offing, and final kil it before the Taber- nacle of the Congregation, and Aarons fones final fprinkle f blood thereof roud about vpon the altar.

9 After, of the peace offrings he final offer an offering made by fire vnto f Lord: the final take away the fat thereof, & the rumpe altogether, hard by the backe bone, & the fat that couereth the inwardees, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardees.

10 Also he final take away the two kidneys, with the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks, & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneys.

11 The Priest final burne it vpon the al- tar, at the meat of an offering made by fire vnto the Lord.

12 Also if his offering be a goat, then final he offer it before the Lord, 13 And final put his hand vpon the head of it, and kil it before the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & the fones of Aaron final fprinkle the blood thereof vpo the al- tar round about.

14 The he final offer thereof his offering, and an offering made by fire vnto the Lord, the fat that couereth the inwardees, and all the fat that is vpon the inwardees.

15 Also he final take away the two kidneys, & the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneis.

16 So the Priest final burne them vpon the altar, as f meat of an offering made by fire for a fwere fauour: all f fat is the Lords.

17 This final be a perpetual ordinance for your generations, through out all your dwel- lings, fo that ye final eat neither fat nor blood.

3 If the Priest that is anointed do sinne (according to the sinne of the people) the sin he offer, for his sinne which he hath committed, a young bullocke without blemish vnto the Lord for a sinne offering,

4 And he shall bring the bullocke vnto the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation before the Lord, & shall put his hand vpon the bullocks head, and kill the bullocke before the Lord.

5 And the Priest that is anointed shall take of the bullocks blood, and bring it vnto the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

6 Then the Priest shall dip his finger in the blood, and sprinkle of the blood seven times before the Lord, before the vail of the Sanctuary.

7 The Priest also shall put some of the blood before the Lord, vpon the bones of the altar of incense, which is in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, then shall he pour all the rest of the blood of the bullocke at the fore of the altar of burnt offering, which is at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation.

8 And he final take away all the fat of the bullocke for the finne offerings to wit, f fat that couereth the inwardees, and all the fat that is about the inwardees.

9 He final take away also the two kidneys, and the fat that is vpon them, and vpon the flanks, & the kall vpon the liuer with the kidneys,

10 As it was taken away from the bullocke of the peace offerings, and the Priest final burne the vpon the altar of burnt offering.

11 But the skin of the bullocke, and all his fush, with his head, and his legs, & his in- wardees, and his dounge final be bare out.

12 So he final cary the whole bullocke out of the hote vnto a cleane place, where f ashes ate powred, & final burne him on f wood in the fire: where the ashes are cast out, final he be burnt.

14 *Then he brought the bullock for the first offering, & Aaron & his sons put their hands upon the head of the bullock for the first offering.

15 And Moses slew him, & took the blood, which he put upon the horns of the Altar round about with his fingers, and purified the Altar, and poured the rest of the blood at the fore of the Altar: so he sanctified it, to make reconciliation upon it.

16 Then he took all the fat that was upon the inward parts, and the gall of the liver and the two kidneys, with their fat, which Moses burned upon the Altar.

17 But the bullocke and his e hide, and his flesh, and his dounge, he burnt with fire without the hoste as the Lord had com- manded Moses.

18 ¶ Also he brought the ram for the burnt offering, and Aarón & his sonnes put their hands upon the head of the ram.

19 So Moses killed it, and sprinkled the blood upon the Altar round about,

20 And Moses cut § ram in pieces, & burnt the head with the pieces, and the fat,

21 And washed the inwardes and the legs in water: so Moses burnt the ram euerie whit upon the Altar: for it was a burnt offering for a swete fauour, which was made by fire vnto the Lord, as the Lord had co- manded Moses.

22 ¶ After, he brought § other ram, the ram of confectrations, and Aarón and his son- nes laied their hads upon the head of the ram,

25 And he toke the fat and the rumpe, and all the fat that was upon the inwardes, & the kall of the liuer, and the two kidneys with their fat, and the right shulder.

26 Also he toke of the basket of the vn- leauened bread that was before the Lord, one vnleauened cake and a cake of oyled bread, and one wafer, and put them on the fat, and upon the right shulder.

27 So he put * all in Aarons hands, and in his sonnes hands, and shoke it to and fro before the Lord.

28 After, Moses toke the out of their hads, and burnt the upon the Altar for a burnt offering: for these were confecrations for a swete fauour which were made by fire vn- to the Lord.

29 Likewise Moses toke the breast of the ram of confecrations and shoke it to and fro before the Lord: for it was Moses *por- tion, as the Lord had commanded Moses.

30 Also Moses toke of the anointing oyle, and of the blood which was upon the Al- tar, and sprinkled it upon Aarón, upon his garments, and upon his sonnes, and on his sonnes garments with him: so he sanctified Aarón, his garments, and his sonnes, and his sonnes garments with him.

31 ¶ Afterward Moses said vnto Aarón & his sonnes, Sethe the flesh at the dore of the e Tabernacle of the Congregation, and there * eat it with the bread that is in the basket of confectrations, as I comman- ded, saying, Aarón and his sonnes shal eat it,

CHAP. XI.

Of beaftes, fiſhes and berdes, which be cleane, and which be vncleane.

A Fter, the Lord ſpake vnto Mofes & to Aarón, ſaying vnto them,

2 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, and ſay, "Theſe are the beaftes which ye ſhal eat, among all the beaftes that are on the earth.

3 Whatfoeuer parteth the hhoofe, and is clouen foeted, and chaweth the cud among the beaftes, that shal ye eat:

4 But of them that chewe the cud, or de- uide the hoofe onely, of them ye shal not eat: as the camel, becaufe he cheweth the cud, and deuideth not the hoofe, he shal- be vncleane vnto you.

5 Likewise the conie, becaufe he cheweth the cud & deuideth not y hoofe, he shal- be vncleane to you.

6 Alfo the hare, becaufe he cheweth the cud, & deuideth not the hoofe, he shalbe vncleane to you.

7 * And the fwine, becaufe he parteth the hoofe and is clouen foeted, but cheweth not the cud, he shalbe vncleane to you.

8 Of their s flesh shal ye not eat, and their carkeis shal ye not touche: for thee shalbe vncleane to you.

9 ¶ These shal ye eat, of all that are in the waters: whatfoeuer hathe finnes & skales in the waters, in the seas, or in the riuers, them shal ye eat.

10 But all that haue not fins not skales in the seas, or in y riuers, of all that d moueth in the waters & of all e huiing things that are in the waters, thei shalbe an abomi- nacion vnto you.

11 Thei, I say, shalbe an abominacion to you: ye shal not eat of their flesh, but shal abhoire their carkeis.

12 Whatfoeuer hathe not fins not skales in the waters, that shalbe abominacion vnto you.

13 ¶ These shal ye haue alfo in abominaci6 am6g the foules, thei shal not be eaten: for thei are an abominacion, the egle, and the 'goshauke, and the ofpley:

14 Alfo the vultur, and the kite after his kinde,

15 And all rauens after their kinde:

16 The ofluche alfo, and the night crowe, and the 'feameawe, and the hauke after his kinde:

17 The litle owle alfo, and the oormorant, and the great owle.

18 Alfo the' edshake and the pelicane, and the fwanne:

19 The ftoike alfo, the heron after his kin- de, and the lapwing, and the backe:

20 Alfo euerie foule that ctepeth and goeth vpon all foure, fuche shalbe an abomina- cion vnto you.

21 Yet these shal ye eat: of euerie foule that ctepeth, and goeth vpon all foure which 'haue their fete and leggs all of one to leape withall vpon the earth, 22 Of them ye shal eat these, the grafhoper after his kinde, and the f folean after his kinde, the hargol after his kinde, and the hagab after his kinde.

23 But all other foules y crepe or haue fou- re fete, thei shalbe abominacion vnto you.

24 For by fuche ye shalbe polluted. who- foeuer toucheth their carkeis, shalbe vn- cleane vnto the euenng.

25 Whofoeuer also t beareth of their car- keis, shal wafh his clothes, and be vnclea- ne vntil euen.

26 Euerie beaft that hathe clawes deuided, and is 'not clouen foeted, nor cheweth the cud, fuche shalbe vncleane vnto you: eue- rie one y toucheth the, shalbe vncleane.

27 And whatfoeuer goeth vpon his pawes among all maner beaftes that goeth on all foure, fuche shalbe vncleane vnto you: whofo doeth touche their carkeis shalbe vncleane vntil the euen.

28 And he that beareth their carkeis, shal wafh his clothes, and be vncleane vntil the euen: for fuche shalbe vncleane vnto you.

2 A lawe how women shulde be purged after their delluerance.

1 And the Lord spake vnto Moyses, say- ing,

2 Speake vnto the children of Israél, and say, When a woman hath brought for the fede, and borne a manchild, she shall be vncleane a feul daies, like as she is vncleane whé she is put a patte for her "difeafe" (* And in the eighte day the forekin of the childes fleth shall be circumcised) seuen daies.

5 After, the Priest shal loke vpon him the seuenth day: & if the plague some to him to abide stil, and the plague growe not in the skin, the Priest shal shut him vp yet se- uen daies more.

6 Then the Priest shal loke on him agai- ne the seuenth day, and if the plague e be darcke, and the sore growe not in the skin, then the Priest shal "pronounce him clea- ne, for it is a skab: therefore he shal wash his clothes, and be cleane.

7 But if the skab growe more in the skin, after that he is sene of the Priest, for to be purged, he shalbe sene of the Priest yet againe.

8 Then the Priest shal consider, and if the skab 'growse in the skin, then the Priest shal pronounce him d vncleane: for it is leprosie.

9 When the plague of leprosie is in a man, he shalbe broght vnto the Priest, 10 And the Priest shal se him: & if the swelling be white in the skin, & haue made y heere white, & there be rawe flesh in the swelling, 11 It is an olde leprosie in the skin of his flesh: and the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane, and shal not shut him vp, for he is vncleane.

12 Also if the leprosie 'breake out in the skin, and the leprosie couer all the skin of the plague, from his head euen to his fete, wherefocuer the Priest loketh,

13 Then the Priest shal consider: and if the leprosie couer all his flesh, he shal pronoun- ce y plague to be e cleane, because it is all turned into whitnes: so he shalbe cleane. 14 But if there be rawe flesh on him when he is sene, he shalbe vncleane.

15 For the Priest shal se the rawe flesh, and declare him to be vncleane: for the rawe flesh is f vncleane, therefore it is the leprosie.

16 Or if the rawe flesh change and be tur- ned into white, then he shal come to the Priest, 17 And the Priest shal beholde him: and if the sore be changed into white, then the Priest shal pronounce the plague cleane, for it is cleane.

18 The flesh also in whose skin there is a bile and is healed,

19 And in the place of the bile there be a white swelling, or a white spot some what reddish, it shalbe sene of the Priest.

20 And whe the Priest seeth it, if it appeare lower then the skin, and the heere thereof be changed into white, the Priest the shal pronounce him e vncleane: for it is a pla- gue of leprosie, broken out in the bile.

21 But if the Priest loke on it and there be no white heeres therein, & if it be not lo- wer then the skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

22 And if it spread abroad in the flesh, the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane, for it is a sore.

23 But if the spot continue in his place, & growe not, it is a burning bile: therefore the Priest shal declare him to be cleane.

24 If there be anie flesh, in whose skin there is an hote burning, and the quicke flesh of the burning haue a h white spot, somewhat reddish or pale,

25 Then the Priest shal loke vpon it: and if the heere in that spot be chaged into whi- te, and it appeare lower then the skin, it is a leprosie broke out in the burning: there- fore the Priest shal pronounce him vnclea- ne: for it is the plague of leprosie.

26 But if the Priest loke on it, and there be no white heere in the spot, and be no lo- wer the the other skin, but be darcker, then the Priest shal shut him vp seuen daies.

27 After, the Priest shal loke on him the se- uenth day: if it be growen abroad in the skinne, then the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane: for it is the plague of leprosie.

28 And if the spot abide in his place, not growing in the skin, but is darcke, it is a tri ling of the burning: the Priest shal there- fore declare him cleane, for it is the dry- ing vp of the burning.

29 If also a man or woman hathe a sore on the head or in the beard,

30 Then the Priest shal se the sore: and if it appeare lower then the skin, and there be in it a smale yelow: heere, then the Priest shal pronounce him vncleane: for it is a blacke spot, and leprosie of the head or of the beard.

31 And if the Priest loke on the sore of the blacke spot, and if it some not lower then y skin nor haue anie blacke heere in it, the the Priest shal shut vp him, that hathe the sore of the blacke spot, seuen daies.

32 After, in the seuenth day the Priest shal loke on the sore: and if y blacke spot gro- we not, & there be in it no yelow: heere, and the blacke spot some not lower then the skin, of y flesh of man or woma, 39 Then the Priest shal cofider:

and if the spots in the skin of their flesh be fome- what darcke there- fore he is cleane. 40 And the man whofe heere is fallen the flesh. 44 He is a leper and vncleane: therefore the Priest shal pronounce him altogether vn- cleane: for the fore is in his head. 45 The leper alfo in whome the plague is, shal haue his clothes m rent, and his head bare, and shal put a couering vpo his lip pes, and shal crye, I am vncleane, I am vn- cleane. 46

prosie is in, whether it be a wollen gar- ment or a linen garment, 48 Whether it be in the warpe or in the woofe of skin, 49 And if the fore be grene or fomewhat reddish in the garment or in the skin, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thig that is made of skin, it is a plague of leprosie & shalbe fhewed vnto the Priest. 50 Then the Priest shal fe the plague, and shut vp it that hathe the plague, feue dates, 51 And shal loke on the plague the feuenh day: if the plague growe in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in the skin or in anie thing that is made of skin, that plague is a frearing leprosie and vncleane.

52 And he shal burne the garment, or the warpe, or the woofe, whether it be wollen or linen, or anie thing that is made of skin, wherein the plague is: for it is a frea- ting leprosie, therefore it shalbe burnt in the fire.

53 If the Priest yetfe that the plague gro- we not in the garment, or in the woofe, or in whatfoeuer thing of skin it be,

54 Then the Priest shal commade them to waft the thing wherein the plague is, & he shal shut it vp feuen dayes more.

55 Againe the Priest shal loke on the pla- gue, after it is wafted: and if the plague have not changed his colour, thogth the plague spred no further, it is vncleane: thou shalt burne it in y fire, for it is a freat inwarde, whether the spw be in the bare place of the whole, or in parte thereof.

56 And if the Priest fe that the plague be darcker, after that it is wafted, he shal cut it out of the garment, or out of the skin, or out of the warpe, or out of the woofe.

57 And if it appeare shal in the garment or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing made of skin, it is a spreading leprie: thou shalt burne the thing wherein the plague is, in the fire.

58 If thou haft wafted the garment or the warpe, or y woofe, or whatfoeuer thing of skin it be, if the plague be departed therefrom, then shal it be wafted the feconde time, and be cleane.

59 This is the lawe of the plague of leprosie in a garment of wollen or linen, or in the warpe, or in the woofe, or in anie thing of skin, to make it cleane or vncleane.

goat.

And Aaron shal offer the goat, vpon which the Lords lot shal fall, and make him a finne offring.

But the goat, on which the lot shal fall to be the Scape goat, shal be presented a- liue before the Lord, to make reconciliacion by him, or to let him go (as a Scape goat) into the wilderness.

Thus Aaron shal offer the bullocke for his finne offring, & make a reconciliation for him selfe, and for his house, and shal kill the bullocke for his finne offring.

And he shal take a censer ful of burning coles from of the Altar before the Lord, & his hadful of swete incens beate small, and bring it within the vailes;

And shal put the incens vpon the fire before the Lord, that the 'cloude of the incens may couer the Merciseat that is vpon' the Testimonies: so he shal not dye.

And he shal take of the blood of the bullocke, and sprinkle it with his finger vpon the Merciseat. 'Eilward: and before the Merciseat shal he sprinkle of the blood with his finger seuen times.

Then shal he kill the goat that is the peoples finne offering, & bring his blood within the vailes, and do with that blood, as he did with the blood of the bullocke, & sprinkle it vpon the Merciseat, and before the Merciseat.

So he shal purge the Holy place from the vncleennes of the children of Israel, & from their trespasses of all their sinnes: so shal he do also for the Tabernacle of the Congregation placed with them, in the middles of their vncleennes.

And these shal be no man in the Tabernacle of the Congregation, when he goeth in to make an atonemés in the Holy place, vntll he come out, & haue made an atonement for him selfe, & for his houshold, and for all the Congregation of Israel.

After, he shal go out vnto the f Altar that is before the Lord, & make a recon- ciliacion vpon it, & shaltake of the blood of the bullocke, and of the blood of the goat, and put it vpon the hornes of the Altar round about:

So shal he sprinkle of the blood vpon it with his finger seuen times, and clense it, and halowe it from the vnclennes of the children of Israel.

Whe he hathe made an ed of purging the Holy place, & the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and the altar, then he shal bring the liue goat:

And Aaron shal put hothe his hands vpo the head of the liue goat, and confesse over him all the antiquities of the childre of Israel, & all their trespasses, in all their sinnes, putting the vpo the head of the goat, and shal send him away (by the hand of a man appointed) into the wilderness.

So the goat shal beare vpon him all their iniquities into the land that is not inha- bited, and he shal let the goat go into the wilderness.

After, Aaron shal come into the Tabe- nacle of the Congregation, and put of the linen clothes, which he put on whe he went into Holy place, & leaue the there.

He shal wash also his flesh with water in the Holy place, and put on his owne rai- ment, and come out, and make his burnt offering, and the burnt offering of the peo- ple, and make an atonement for him self, and for the people.

Also the fat of the finne offering shal he burne vpon the Altar.

And he that caiyed for the the goat, cal- led the Scape goat, shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after that shal come into the hoste.

Also the bullocke for the finne offering, and the goat for the finne offering (whose blood was bioghe to make a reconciliació in Holy place) shal one may out with out the hoste to be burnt in the fire, with their sluns, and with their flesh, and with their dounge.

And he that burneth them shal wash his clothes, and wash his flesh in water, and after warde come into the hoste.

So this shal be an ordinance for euer vnto you: the tenth day of the seventh moneth, ye shal humble your soules, and do no worke at all, whether it be one of same count, ey or a stranger that soout- neth among you.

For vday shal the Priest make an atone- mét for you to cléé you: ye shal be cleane from all your sinnes before the Lord.

This shal be a Sabbath of rest vnto you, and ye shal humble your soules, by an ordinance for euer.

And the Priest whome he shal anoint, and whome he shal consecrate (to minister in his fathers stede) shal make the atonement, and shal put on the linen clothes & holy vestments;

And shal purge the holy Sanctuaire and the Tabernacle of the Congregation, & shal clense the Altar, & make an atonement for the Priests and for all the people of the Congregation.

And this shal be an unerlasting ordinance vnto you, to make an atonement for the childe of Israel for all their sinnes once a yeice: and as the Lord commanded Moses, he did.

16 Vnto the morowe after the feuenth Sabbath fhal ye nombre fifty daies: then ye fhal bring a newe meat offering vnto the Lord.

17 Ye fhal bring out of your habitacions bread for the fhake offering: thei fhalbe two loaues of two tenth deales of fine floure, which fhalbe baken with leauen for firft frutes vnto the Lord.

18 Also ye shall offer with the bread seven lambs without blemish of one year old, and a young bullock and two rams: they shall be for a burnt offering unto the Lord, with their meat offerings and their drink offerings, for a sacrifice made by fire of a sweet savour unto the Lord.

19 Then ye shall prepare an he goat for a sin offering, and two lambs of one year old for peace offerings.

20 And the Priest shall flay them to and fro with the bread of the first fruits before the Lord, and with the two lambs: they shall be holy to the Lord, for the Priest.

21 So ye shall proclaim the same day, that it may be an holy convocation unto you: ye shall do no servile work therein: it shall be an ordinance for ever in all your dwellings, throughout your generations.

7 And for thy cattel, and for the beaftes that are in thy land shal all the increase thereof be meat.

8 ¶ Also thou shalt nomber seuen Sabbaths of yeres vnto thee, euen seuen times seuen yere: and the space of the seuen Sabbaths of yeres wil be vnto thee nine and fourty yere.

9 Then thou shalt caufe to blowe the trumpet of the Iubilee in the tenth day of the seventh moneth: euen in the day of the reconciliation shal ye make the trumpet blowe, through out all your land.

10 And ye shal halowe that yere, euen the fiftieth yere, and proclaime libertie in the land to all the inhabitants thereof: it shal be the Iubilee vnto you, and ye shal returne euery man vnto his possession, and euery man shal returne vnto his familie.

11 This fiftieth yere shalbe a yere of Iubilee vnto you: ye shal not sowe, nether reape that which groweth of it selfe, nether gather the grapes thereof, that are left vnto labourers.

12 For it is the Iubilee, it shal be holy vnto you: ye shal eat of the increase thereof out of the field.

13 In the yere of this Iubilee, ye shal returne euery man vnto his possession.

14 And wher thou sellest ought to thy neighbour, or byest at thy neighbours hand, ye shal be not oppress one anothers

THE ARGUMENT.

Forasmuch as God hathe appointed that his Church in this worlde shalbe vnder the croffe, bothe because they shulde learne not to put their trust in worldly things, and also fele his comforte, when all other helpe faileth: the did not straight way bring his people, after their departure out of Egypt, into the land which he promised them: but led them to and fro for the space of fuerte yere, and kept them in continual exercises before they enjoyed it, to try their faith, and to teache the to forget the worlde and to depend on him. Which tryal did greatly profit to discern the wicked and the hypocrites from the faithful and true servants of God, who ferued him with pure heart, where as the other preferring their carnal affections to Gods glorie, and making religion to ferue their purpose, murmured when they lacked to content their lustes, and despised them whome God had appointed rulers ower them. By reason whereof they provoked Gods terrible judgements against them, and are set forthe as a mofte notable example for all ages to beware how they abuse Gods worde, preferre their owne lustes to his wil, or despise his ministers.

Notwithstanding God is euer true in his promes, and gourneth his, by his holy Spirit, that ether they fall not to fuche inconveniences, or els returne to him quickly by true repentance: and therefore he continueth his graces toward them, he giueth them ordinances and instructions, asvel for religion as outward polusche preferueth them against all craft and conspiracie, and giueth them mansfelde victories against their enemies. And to aucyd all controversies that might arift, he taketh away the occassio, by diuding among all the tribes, bothe the land, which they had wonne, or that also which he had promised, as femed beft to his godlie wisdom.

2 Speake vnto the children of Iſrael, and ſay vnto them, When a man or a woman doeth ſeparate the ſelues to vowe a vowe of a Nazarite to ſeparate him ſelfe vnto the Lord,

He ſhal abſteine fro wine & ſtú ſg drin- ke, and ſhal drinke no fowre wine nor fo- we drinke, nor ſhal drinke anue licour of grapes, nether ſhal eat freſh grapes nor dried.

4 As long as his abſtinence endureth, ſhal he eat nothing y is made of the wine of y vine, nether the ketnels, nor the holke.

5 While he is ſeparate by his vowe, the ra- fure ſhal not come vpo his head; vntil the dayes be out, in the which he ſeparateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he ſhalbe holie, and ſhal let the loches of the heere of his head growe.

6 During the time that he ſeparateth him ſelfe vnto the Lord, he ſhal come at no dead body:

7 He ſhal not make him ſelfe vncleane at the death of his father, or mother, brother, or fiſter: for the confeccration of his God is vpon his head.

8 All the dayes of his ſeparacion he ſhalbe holy to the Lord.

9 And if anie dye ſodély by him, or he be- ware, then the head of his confeccration ſhalbe defiled, and he ſhal ſhaue his head in the day of his clenſing: in the ſeuenth day he ſhal ſhaue it.

10 And in the eight day he ſhal bring two turtles, or two yong pigeós to the Priſt, at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Co- gregacion.

11 Then the Priſt ſhal prepare the one for a ſin offering, and the other for a burnt of- fring, & ſhal make an atonemér for him, because he ſinned by the dead: ſo ſhal he halowe his head the ſame day,

12 And he ſhal confecrate vnto the Lord the daies of his ſeparacion, and ſhal bring a lambe of a yere olde for a trespas offering, and the firſt daies ſhalbe voyde: for his confeccration was defiled.

13 This then is the lawe of the Nazarite: When the time of his confeccration is out, he ſhal come to the dore of the Taberna- cle of the Congregation,

14 And he ſhal bring his offering vnto the Lord, an he lambe of a yere olde without blemíſh for a burnt offering, and a ſhe labe of a yere olde without blemíſh for a ſin offering, and a ram without blemíſh for peace offerings,

15 And a basket of vnleauened bread, of cakes of fine ſtoure, mingled with oyle, and wafers of vnleauened bread anointed with oyle, with their meat offering, and their drinke offerings:

16 The which the Priſt ſhal bring before the Lord, and make his ſin offering and his burnt offering.

17 He ſhal prepare alſo the ram for a peace offering vnto the Lord, with the basket of vnleauened bread, and the Priſt ſhal make his meat offering, and his drinke offering.

18 And y Nazarite fhall haue the head of his confecració at the dore of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and fhall take the heere of the head of his consecration, and put it in the fire, which is vnder the peace offering.

19 Then the Priests fhall take the foded shulder of the ram, and an unleavened cake out of the basket, & a wafer unleavened, and put them vpon the hands of the Nazarite, after he hath haue his consecració.

CHAP. VII.

The heades or princes of Israel offre at the setting vp of the Tabernacle, so And at the dedicacum of the altar, to God speaketh to Moses fro the Mercissar.

Now when Moses had finished the setting vp of the Tabernacle, and * anointed it and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, and the altar with all the instruments thereof, and had anointed them and sanctified them,

Then the princes of Israel, 'leades ouer the houffs of their farmers (they were the princes of the tribes, who were ouer them that were nounced) offered,

And broght their offing before y Lord, fix 'coutied charets, and twelve oxen- to cheat for two princes, and for euerie one an oxe, and they offied them before the Tabernacle.

And the Lord spake vnto Moses, saying, Take these of them, that they may be to do the 'ferruce of the Tabernacle of the Congregation, and thou shalt giue them vnto the Levites, to euerie man according vnto his office.

So Moses toke the charets and the oxen, and gaue them vnto the Levites:

Two charets and foure oxen he gaue to the sonnes of Gershon, according vnto their office.

And foure charets and eyght oxen he ga- ue to y sonnes of Merai according vnto their office, vnder the had of Ithamar the sonne of Aaron the Priest.

But to the sonnes of Kohath he gaue no- ne, 'because the charge of the Sanctuarie belonged to them, which they did beare vpon their shoulders.

The princes also offied in the 'dedi- cacion for the altar in the day that it was anointed: then the princes offred their offering 21 The Kohathites alfo wét forwarde and bare the Sanctuarie, & the former did fet vp the Tabernacle agamft they came.

22 Then the fterd of the hote of the children of Ephráim went forwarde according to their armies, and ouer his bade was Elifhamá the fonne of Ammiúd.

23 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the fonnes of Manafféh was Gamliél the fonne of Pedazúr.

24 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the fonnes of Benjamin was Abidán the fonne of Gideoní.

25 Laft, y ftáderd of the hote of y childré of Dan marched, gatherig all the hotes according to their armies: & ouer his bade was Ahiezer the fonne of Ammifhaddái.

26 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Afhér was Pagiél the fonne of Ocrán.

27 And ouer the bande of the tribe of the children of Naphtalí was Ahirá the fonne of Enán.

28 These were the remouings of the children of Ifraél according to their armies, when they marched.

29 After, Mofes faid vnto Hobáb the fonne of Reuél y Midianite, the father in lawe of Mofes, We go into the place, of w y Lord faid, I wil gine it you: Come thou with vs, and we wil do thee good for the Lord hathe promifed good vnto Ifraél.

W He the people became "murm- ters," it displeased the Lord: and the Lord heard it, therefore his wrath was kindled, and the fire of the Lord burnt among them, and "consumed the vmost parte of the hoste.

2 Then the people cryed vnto Moses: and when Moses prayed vnto the Lord, the fi- re was quenched.

3 And he called y name of that place "Ta- berah, becaufe the fire of the Lord burnt among them.

4 And a number of a people that was a- mong them, fel a lusting, and b turned away, and the children of Israel also wept and said, Who shal giue vs flesh to eat?

5 We remember the hift which we did eat in Egypt for c naught, the cucumbers, and the pepons, and the lekes, and the onions, and the garleke.

9 And when the dewe fel downe vpon the hoste in the night, the MAN fel with it)

10 Then Moses heard the people wepe throughout their families, euerie man in the dore of his tente, and the wrath of the Lord was grievously kindled: also Moses was grieved.

11 And Moses said vnto y Lord, Wherefo-re hast thou 'vexed thy seruant? and why have I not founds f fauour in thy sight, scing thou hast put the charge of all this people vpon me?

12 Have I s conceiued all this people? or have I begotten them? that thou shuldest say vnto me, Cary them in thy bosome (as a nurse beareth y sucking childe) vnto the b land, for the which thou swarest vnto their fathers?

13 Where shulde I have flesh to giue vnto all this people? for they wepe vnto me, saying, Giue vs flesh that we may eat.

14 I am not able to beare all this people a- lone, for it is to heauie for me.

15 Therefore if thou deale thus with me, I pray thee, if I have founde fauour in thy sight, kil me, that I beholde not my mi-

16 Then y Lord said vnto Moses, Gather vnto me feuenty men of the Elders of If- rael, whome thou knowest, that they are the Elders of the people, & gouerners ouer them, and bring them vnto the Taber- nacle of the Congregation, and let them stand there with thee,

17 And I wil come downe, & talke with thee there, b and take of the Spirit, which is vpon thee, and put vpon them, and they shal beare the burthe of the people with thee: so thou shalt not beare it alone.

18 Furthermore thou shalt say vnto the people, Be sanctified against tomorowe, and ye shal eat flesh: for you have wept in the eares of the Lord, saying, Who shal giue vs flesh to eat? for we were better in Egypt: therefore the Lord wil giue you flesh, and ye shal eat.

And be of good courage, and bring of the frute of the land (for then was the time of the first ripe grapes) 22 So they went vp, & searched out the land, from the wilderness of a Zin vnto Rehob, to go to Hamath, 23 And thei ascided toward the South, and came vnto Hebron, where were Ahiman, Shehali and Talmai, the sonnes of a Anak. And a Hebron was buyit seuen yere before Zoan in Egypt. 24 The they came to the river of Eshcol, and cut downe thence a branche with one clustre of grapes, and they bare it vpon a barre betwene two, and bough of the pomegranates and of the figges. 25 That place was called the 'riuer Eshcol because of the clustre of grapes, which the children of Israel cut downe thence. 26 Then after fourty daies they turned againe from searching of the land. 27 And they went and came to Moses and to Aaron & vnto all the Congregation of the children of Israel, in the wilderness of

b Paran, to Kadeh, and brought to them, and to all the Congregation tidings, and shewed them the frute of the land. 28 And they tolde him, and said, We came vnto the land whether thou hast fente vs, & surely it floweth with a milke & honie: and here is of the frute of it. 29 Neurtheles the people be strong that dwel in the land, and the cities are walled and exceeding great: and moreover, we sawe the a sonnes of Anakthere. 30 The Amalekites dwel in y Southecoi-trey, and the Hittites, and the Iebulses, and the Amorites dwel in the moitaines, and the Canaanites dwel by the Sea and by the cofte of Iorden. 31 Then Caleb killed the people before Moses, & said, Let vs go vp atonce, and possesse it: for vndoubtedly we shal ouer-come it. 32 But the men, that went vp with him, said, We be not able to go vp against the people: for they are stronger then we. 33 So they brought vp an euil reporte of the lad which they had searched for the children of Israel, saying,

The land which we haue gone through to searche it out, is a land that eaceth vp the inhabitants the reo: for all the people that we sawe in it, are men of great stature. 34 For there we sawe gyates, the sonnes of Anak, which come of the gyantes, so that we semed in our fight like greshoppers: and so we were in their fight.

Beholde, there is a people come out of Egypt and coareth the face of the earth: come now, curfe them for my fake: so it may be that I shal be able to ouercome them in battel, and to driue them out. And God f said vnto Balaam, Go not thou with them, nether curfe the people, for they are blessed. And Balaam rose vp in the morning and said vnto the princes of Balak, Returne vnto your land: for the Lord hathe refused to giue me leaue to go with you. So the princes of Moab rose vp, and wet vnto Balak, and said, Balaam hathe refused to come with vs. Balak yet sent againe mo princes, and more honorable then they. Who came to Balaam, and said to him, Thus saeth Balak the sonne of Zippor, Be not thou stayed, I pray thee, from coming vnto me. For I wil promote thee vnto great honour, and wil do whatsoever thou sayest vnto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curfe me this people. And Balaam answered, and fayd vnto the seruantes of Balak, If Balak wode giue me his houfe ful of siluer and golde, I can not go be; onde the worde of the Lord my God, to do leffe or more. But nowe, I pray you, tary here this night, that I may wit, what the Lord wil say vnto me more. And God came vnto Balaam by night, and said vnto him, If the me come to call thee, rise vp, and go with them: but onely what thing I say vnto thee, that shalt thou do. So Balaam rose vp early, and saddled his asse, and went with the princes of Moab. And the wrath of God was kindled, because he went: & the Angel of the Lord stode in the way to be against him, as he rode vpon his asse, and his two seruantes were with him. And when the asse sawe the Angel of Lord stad in the way, and his sworde drawn in his hand, the asse turned out of y ware and went into the field, but Balaam smote the asse, to turne her into the way. Againe the Angel of the Lord stode in a path of the vineyardes, hawing a wall on the one side, and a wall on the other. And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she thrust her selfe vnto the wall, and dasht Balaams fote against the wall: wherefore he smote her againe. Then the Angel of the Lord went further, and stode in a narrow place, where was no way to turne, other to the right hand, or to the left. And when the asse sawe the Angel of the Lord, she lay downe vnder Balaam:

therefore Balaám was very wrath, and smote the asse with a staffe.

Then the Lord opened the mouth of the asse, and she said vnto Balaám, What haue I done vnto thee, that thou hast smetten me nowe thre times?

And Balaám said vnto the asse, Because thou hast mocked me: I wode there we-ve a sworde in mine hand, for now wode I kil thee.

And the asse said vnto Balaám, Am not I thine asse, which thou hast ridden vpon since thy first time vnto this day haue I vsed at ante time to do thus vnto thee? Who said, Nay.

And the Lord opened the eies of Balaam, and he sawe the Angel of the Lord stading in the way with his sworde drawe in his hand: then he bowed him selfe, and fel flat on his face.

And the Angel of the Lord said vnto him, Wherefore hast thou now smetten thine asse thre times? beholde, I came out to withstand thee, because thy way is not straight before me.

But the asse sawe me, and turned fro me now thre times: for els, if she had not turned fro me, surely I had eue now slaine thee, and saued her aliue.

Then Balaám said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I haue sinned: for I wilt not that thou stodest in the way against me: now therefore if it displease thee, I wil turne home againe.

But the Angel said vnto Balaám, Go with the men: but what I say vnto thee, that shalt thou speake. So Balaám went with the princes of Balak.

And when Balak head that Balaám came, he went out to mete him vnto a citie of Moab, which is in the border of Arnón, euen in the vtmoft coffe.

Then Balak said vnto Balaám, Did I not send for thee to call thee wherefore cameest thou not vnto me? am I not able in dede to promote thee vnto honour.

And Balaám made answer vnto Balak, Lo, I am come vnto thee, & can I now say (ante thing at all) the worde that God purteeth in my mouth, that shal I speake.

So Balaám went with Balak, and thei came vnto the citie of Huzóth.

Then Balak offred bullockes, and shepe, and sent thereof to Balaám, and to y princes that were with him.

And on the morow Balak toke Balaám, and broght him vp into the hie places of Baal, that thence he might se the vtmoft parte of the people.

3 Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Stand by the burnt offering, & I wil go, if so be that the Lord wil come and mete me: & whatsoever he sheweth me, I wil tell thee: so he went for the alone.

4 And God b met Balaám, and Balaám said vnto him, I haue prepared seuen altars, & haue offied vpon euerie altar a bullocke and a ram.

5 And the Lord c put an answer in Balaás mouth, and said, Go againe to Balak, and say on this wise.

6 So when he returned vnto him, lo, he stood by his burnt offering, he, & all the princes of Moab.

7 Then he vttered his parable, and said, Balák the King of Moab hathe brought me from Ariám out of the mountains of the East, saying, Come, curse Iakób so. my sake: come, and detest Israel.

8 How shall I curse, where God hathe not cursed? or how shall I detest, where y Lord hathe not detested?

9 For fro the top of the rocks I did se him, and from the hills I did beholde him: lo, the people shall dwell by them selues, and shall not be reckoned among the c nations.

10 Who can tell the c dust of Iakób, and the number of the fourth parte of Israel? Let me s dye the death of the righteous, and let my last end be like his.

11 Then Balák said vnto Balaám, What has thou done vnto me? I take thee to cus- se mine enemies, and beholde, thou hast blessed them altogether.

12 And he answered, and said, Must I not take hede to speak that, which the Lord hathe put in my mouth?

13 And Balák said vnto him, Come, I pray thee, with me vnto an other place, whence thou matest se them, and thou shalt se but the utmost parte of them, and shalt not se them all: therefore curse the out of that place for my sake.

14 And he broght him into Sede-sophim to the top of Pisgah and buyit seuen al- tars, & offred a bullocke, & a ram on euerie altar.

15 After, he said vnto Balák, Stand here by thy burnt offering, and I wil mete the Lord yonder.

16 And the Lord met Balaám, and put an answer in his mouth, and said, Go agai- ne vnto Balák, and saie thus.

17 And when he came to him, beholde, he stode by his burnt offering, and the princes of Moab with him: so Balák said vnto him, What hathe the Lord said?

18 And he vttered his parable, & said, Ri- se vp, Balák, and heare: hearken vnto me, thou sonne of Zippór.

19 b God is not as man, that he shulde lie, nether as the sonne of man that he shul- de repent: hathe he said, and shall he not do it: and hathe he spoken, and shall he not accomplish it?

20 Beholde, I haue receiued commandement to bless: for he hathe blessed, & I can not alter it.

21 He seeth none iniquitie in Iakób, nor seeth no transgression in Israel: the Lord his God is with him, & the i joyful thou- te of a King is among them.

22 God broght them out of Egypt: their strength is as an vnto:ne.

23 For there is no sorcerie in Iakób, nor soothsaying in Israel: b according to this time it shalbe said of Iakób and of Isra- él, What hathe God wrought?

24 Beholde, the people shall rise vp as a lió, and lift vp him self as a yong lion: he shall not lie downe, til he eat of the praie, and til he drinke the blood of the slaine.

25 Then Balák said vnto Balaám, Nether curs, nor bless them at all.

26 But Balaám answered, and said vnto Ba- lák, Told not I thee, saying, All that the Lord speaketh, that must I do?

27 Againe Balák said vnto Balaám, Come, I pray thee, I wil bring thee vnto another place, if so be it wil please God, that thou mastest thence curse them for my sake.

28 So Balák broght Balaám vnto the top of Peor, that loketh toward Ieshmón.

29 Then Balaám said vnto Balák, Make me here seuen altars, and prepare me here seuen bullockes, and seuen rams.

30 And Balák did as Balaám had said, and offred a bullocke and a ram on euerie al- tar.

CHAP. XXIII

1 Balaám prophesieth of the great profferitie that shul- de come vnto Israel 17. Also of the coming of Christ. 20 The destruction of the Amalekites, and of the Kg- nites.

1 When Balaám sawe that it pleased the Lord, to bless Israel, then he went not, as certeine times before, to set diunacions, but set his face towarde the a wilderness.

2 And Balaám lift vp his eies, and looked vpó Israel, which dwelt according to their tribes, and the Spirit of God came vpon him.

The land of Atarosh, and Dibon, and Iazér, and Nimash, and Hehbon, and Elealeh, and Shebam, and Nebo, and Beon,

4 Which country the Lord Smote before the Congregation of Israel, is a land more for cactel, and thy feruants haue cattel:

5 Wherefore, said thei, If we haue founde grace in thy fight, let this land be giuen vnto thy feruats for a possession, or bring vs not ouer Iorden.

6 And Mofes said vnto the child of Gad, and to the children of Reuben, Shal your brethren go to warre and ye tary here?

7 Wherefore now "discourage ye y heart of the children of Israel, to go ouer into the land, which the Lord hathe giuen the?

8 Thus did your fathers when I sent them from Kadeh-barnea to se the land.

9 For * when they went vp eunn vnto the ryuer of Eshcol, and save the land: they discouraged the heart of the children of Israel, that thei wold not go into the lad, which the Lord had giuen them.

10 And the Lords wrath was kindled the same day, and he did sweare, saying,

"None of the men that came out of Egypt* from twentie yere olde and abou, shal se the land for the which I sware vnto Abraham, to Izhak, and to Izakob, because thei haue not * wholje folowed me:

11 Except Caleb the sonne of Iephunneth the Keneute, & Ioshua the sonne of Nun: for thei haue costately folowed the Lord.

12 And the Lord was verie angry with If a el, and made them wander in the wilderness fortie yeres, vntil all the generacion that had done e cuil in the fight of the Lord were consumed.

13 And beholde, ye a e risen vp in your fathers theade as an enceede of sinneful me, stil to augment the fearce wrath of the Lord, toward Israel.

14 For if ye turne away fro following him, he wil yet againe leaue the people in y wilderness, and y ye shal dethoyé all this folke.

15 And thei went nere to him and said, We wil buylde thepe foldes here for b thepe, and for our cattel, and cities for our children.

17 But we our selues wil be ready armed to gebefore the children of Israel, vntil we hauebrought them vnto their e place: but our children shal dwel in the defenced cities, because of the inhabitants of the land.

18 We wil not returne vnto our houfes, vn-til the children of Israel haue inherited, euerie man his inheritance.

19 Nether wil we inherit with the beyode

20 And Moses said vnto them, If ye wil do this thing, and go armed before the Lord to warre:

21 And wil go euerie one of you in harnes ouer Iorden before the Lord, vntil he ha the call out his enemies from his fight:

22 And vntil the land be subdued before the Lord, then ye shal returne and be innocent toward the Lord, and toward Israel: and this land shalbe your possession before the Lord.

23 But if ye wil not do fo, beholde, ye haue sinned against the Lord, and be sure, that your sinne wil finde you out.

24 Builde you then cities for your children and foldes for your shepe, and do that ye haue spoken.

25 Then the children of Gad & the children of Reuben Spake vnto Moses, sayig, Thy feruants wil do as my lord commandeth:

26 Our children, our wiues, our shepe, and all our cattel shal remaine there in the cities of Gilead, 27 But * thy feruants wil go euerie one armed to warre before the Lord for to fight, as my lord sayeth.

28 So concerning them, Moses * commanded Eleazar the Priest, & Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Israel:

29 And Moses said vnto them, If the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben wil go with you out: Iorden, all armed to fight before the Lord, then when the land is subdued before you, ye shal giue them the land of Gilead for a possession:

30 But if thei wil not go ouer with you armed, then thei shal haue their possessions among you in the land of Canaan.

31 And the children of Gad, and the children of Reuben answered, saying, As the Lord hathe said vnto thy feruants, so wil we do.

32 We wil go armed before the Lord into the land of Canaan: that the possession of our inheritance may be to vs on this side Iorden.

33 *So Moses gaue vnto the, even to the children of Gad, & to the children of Reuben, & to half the tribe of Manasseh the sonne of Joseph, kingdome of Sihon King of the Amorites, and the kingdoms of Og, King of Bashan, the land with the cities thereof and coastes, euen the cities of the country round about.

THE FIFTH BOKE OF

Mofes, called' Deuteronomic.

THE ARGUMENT.

The wonderful love of God toward his church is lively set for the in this booke. For alfeft through their 1. grantude and fundry rebellions against God, for the ſpace of forty yere, Deu. 9, 7, they had deſerued to have been cut of from the uſber of his people, and for euer to have been deprived of the vſe of his holy wode, or ſacraments; yet he did euer preferne his Church euen for his owne mercies ſake, and wolde ſtil have his Name called vpon among them. Wherefore he brought them into the land of Candan, deſtroyeth their enemies, giveth them their country, townes, and goodes, and exhorteth them by the example of their fathers, whole infidelite, idolater, adulteries, murmurings and rebellion, he had moſte ſtamply puniſhed) to feare and obey the Lord, to embrace and kepe his law without adding ther vnto or diminſſing there from. For by his worde he wolde be knowſe to be their God, and they his people: by his worde he wolde gouerne his Church, and by the ſame they ſtulde learne to obey him. by his worde he wolde dicterne the falſe Prophet from the true, light from darkneſſe, error from knollage, and his owne people from all other nations and inſileſes: teaching them thereby to refoſe and deſteſt, deſtroy and abolish whaffeuer u not agreeable to his holy wil, ſeme it otherwiſe neuer ſo good or precious in the eyes of man. And for this cauſe God promiſed to raiſe vp Kings and gouernuer, for the ſeking for the of this worde and preferuacion of his Church: young vnto them an eſpecial charge for the executing thereof: whome therefore he wilfeth to exercife them felues diligently in the continual ftadie and meditacio of the fame: that they might learne to feare the Lord, love their folnefis, alfhore conftones and vice, and whaffeuere offendeth the mafstie of God. And as he had to fore intrudfed their fathers in all things appertening, bothe to his fpiritual feruice, and alfo for the maintenance of that fociatte which is between men: fo he prefcribeth here anew, all fuche lawes and ordinances, which other concerne his Duane feruice, or ft are neceffarie for a comon weale: appointing vnto euer eftate and degre their charge and duets: afvel, how to rule anft love in the fcare of God, as to nourfh friendfhip to worde their neighbours, and to preferne that ordre which God hathe eftablifhed among men: threatening with all mofe horribis plagues to them that tranfprefe his commandements, and promifing alftle fongs of filicute to fuche as obferne and obey them.

That is, a feconde lawetio called, becaufe the Lawe of God gave in mount Similich here repeated, as though it we to a new Law and this boke is a commencatie or capofition of the ft comandeufes.

These wordes the Lord spake vnto all your multitude in the mount out of the middes of the fire, the cloude & the darkenes, with a great voyce, and added no- m ore thereto: and wrote them vpon two tables of stone, and deliuered them vnto me.

And when ye heard the voyce out of the middes of the darkenes, (for y mountaine did burne with fire,) then ye came to me, all the chief of your tribes, and your El- ders:

And ye said, Beholde, the Lord our God hath shewed vs his glorie & his greatnes, & we haue heard his voyce out of y middes of the fire: we haue fene this day that God doeth talke with man, and he li- ueth.

1 Theſe now are the colmandements, or- dinances, and 'lawes, which the Lord your God commanded me to teache you, that ye might do them in the land whe- ther ye go to poſſeſſe it:

2 That thou mighteſt a feare the Lord thy God, and kepe all his ordinances, and his commandements which I commâde thee, thou, and thy ſonne, and thy ſonnes ſon- ne all the dayes of thy life, euen that thy dayes may be prolonged.

3 Heare therefore, ô Ifraél, and take hede to do it, that it may go wel with thee, and that ye may increaſe mightely b in the land that floweth with milke and hony, as the Lord God of thy fathers hathe pro- mified thee.

4 Heare, ô Ifraél, The Lord our God is Lord onely,

5 And a thou ſhalt loue the Lord thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy fou- le, and with all thy might.

6 a And theſe wordes which I commande thee this day, ſhalbe in thine heart.

7 And thou ſhalt e rehearſe them conti- nually vnto thy children, and ſhalt talke of them when thou tarieſt in thine houſe, and as thou walkeſt by the way, and when thou lyeſt, downe, and when thou ri- left vp:

8 And thou ſhalt binde them for a ſigne vpon thine hand, and they ſhalbe' as fron- telets betwene thine eyes.

9 Also thou shalt write them upon the posts of thyne house, and upon thy gates.

10 And when the Lord thy God hath brought thee into the land, which he swore unto thy fathers, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give to thee, with great and goodly cities which thou buildedst not,

11 And houses full of all manner of goods which thou filledst not, and wells digged which thou diggedst not, vineyardes and olive trees which thou plantedst not, and when thou hast eaten and art full,

12 Beware lest thou forget the Lord, which brought thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage.

13 Thou shalt feare the Lord thy God, and serue him, & shalt fear by his Name.

14 Ye shall not walke after other gods, after any of the gods of the people which are round about you,

15 (For the Lord thy God is a jealous God among you:) lest the wrath of the Lord thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from the face of the earth.

16 Ye shall not tempt the Lord your God, as ye did tempt him in Massah:

17. But ye shall keepe diligently the commandeméts of the Lord your God, and his te- ftimonies, and his ordinances which he hathe commanded thee,

18 And thou fhalt do that which is right and good in the h fight of the Lord: that h Here, he ch thou maieft profpet, and that thou maieft dmeneth all go in, and poffeffe that good land which maieft good in the Lord fware vnto thy fathers,

5 Knowe therefore in thine heart, that as a man nouitereth his fonne, so the Lord thy God nourtereth thee. 6 Therefore shalt thou kepe the commandments of the Lord thy God, that thou mauest walke in his wayes, and feare him. 7 For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land, a lad in the which are riuers of water and tountaines, & depths that spring out of valens and mountaines: 8 A land of wheat and barley, and of vineyards, and figtrees, & pomgranates: a lad of oyle olive and honey: 9 A lad wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarcette, nether shalt thou lacke anie thing therein: a lad whose stones are ylo, & out of whose mountains thou shalt digge brasse. 10
And when thou hast eaten and filled thy self, thou shalt eblesse the Lord thy God for the good land, which he hath given thee.
11 Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, not keping his commandemets, and his lawes, and his ordinances, which I commande thee this day: 12 Lest when thou hast eaten and filled thy selfe, & hast buyit goodly houses & dwelt therein, 13
And thy beastes, and thy shepe are increased, and thy siluer and golde is multiplied, & all that thou hast is encreaded, 14
Then thine heart be lifted vp and thou forget the Lord thy God, which broght thee out of the land of Egypt, from the house of bondage, 15 Who was thy guide in the great and terrible wilderness (wherein were firy serpets, and scorpions, and drought, where was no water, who broght for the water for thee, out of the rocke of slinte: 16 Who fed thee in y wilderness with MAN, which thy fathers knewe not,) to humble thee, and to proue thee, that he might do thee good at thy latter end. 17 Beware lest thou say in thine heart, My power, and the strength of mine owne had hath prepared me this abundance. 18 But remember the Lord thy God: for it is he which i guie thee power to get substance to establish his couenat which he sware vnto thy fathers, as appeareth this day. 19 And if thou forget the Lord thy God, and walke after other gods, & ferue them, and worship them, I testifie vnto you this day that ye shal surely perish. 20 As the nactos which the Lord destroyeth before you, so ye shal perish, because ye wolde not be obedient vnto the voyce of the Lord your God.

1 ¶ Hefe are the ordinances & the lawes, which ye shal obferue and do in the land (which the Lord God of thy fa- theis giueh thee to poffeffe it) as long as ye liue vpon the earth.

2 ¶ Ye shal vtterly defroy all the places wherein the nacians which ye shal poffe- ffe, ferued their gods vpon the hie moun- tains & vpon the hilles, and vnder euerie grene tre.

3 ¶ Alfo ye shal ouerthrowe their altars, & breake downe their pillers, & burne their groues with fite & ye shal hewe downe the grauen images of their gods, & abo- lift their names out of that place.

4 Ye shal not fo do vnto the Lord your God,

5 But ye shal foke the place which the Lord your God shal chofe out of all your tri- bes, to put his Name there, & there to dwel, and thether thou shalt come,

6 And ye shal biig thether your burnt of- frings, and your sacrifices, & your tribes, & the offering of your hands, & your vowes, & your free offerings & the first borne of your kine & of your sheepe.

7 And there ye shal eat before the Lord your God, and ye shal reioyce in all that ye put your hand vnto, lohe ye, & your householdes, because the Lord thy God hath blessed thee.

8 Ye shal not do after all these things y we do there this day:
that is, euery man what- soeuer cometh him good in his owne eyes.

Lord your God hath giuen you to inherit, & when he hath gi-uen you a rest from all your enemies rounde about, & ye dwell in safety,

11 When there shalbe a place which y Lord your God shal chose, to cause his Name to dwell there, thither shal ye bring all that I commaunde you: your burnt offerings, & your sacrifices, your tribes, and the offering of your hands, and all your special vowes which ye vow vnto the Lord:

12 And ye shal reioyce before y Lord your God, ye, & your wives & your daughters, & your seruants, and your maidens, and y Leuite that is within your gates: for he hathe no parte nor inheritance with you.

4 This also is cause wherefore the ma- slaier shal flee thether, and liue: whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, & hated him not in time passed:

5 As he that goeth vnto the wood with his neighbour to hewe wood, and his hand straketh with the axe to cut downe the tre, if the head slip from the helue, and hitte his neighbour that he dyerth, same shal flee vnto one of the cities, & liue,

11 But if a man hate his neighbour, and laie waite for him, and rise against him, & smite any man that he dye, and flee vn- to any of these cities,

12 Then the Elders of his citie shal send and set him thence, and deluer him into the hands of the auenger of the blood, that he may dye.

13 Thine e eie shal not spare him, but thou shalt put away the cry of innocent blood from Israel, that it may go wel with thee.

14 Thou shalt not remove thy neigh- bours make, which thee of old time haue set in thine inheritance, that thou shalt inherit in the lad, which the Lord thy God giueth thee to possess it.

15 One witness shal not rise against a ma for any trespass, or for any sinne, or for any faute that he offendeth in, but at the mouth of two witnesses or at the mouth of thre witnesses shal the matter be sta- blished.

16 If a false witness rise vp against a man to accuse him of trespass,

17 Then bothe the men which striue toge- ther, shal stand before the Lord, even before the Priests and the Judges, which shalbe in those daies,

18 And the Judges shal make diligent in- quisition: and if the witness be founde fal- se, and hathe giuen false witness against his brother, the mueſte of Moſes, that a Prophet ſhulde be raiſed vp vnto

the people like vnto him, whome he will-th to obey. Deut.

18.15: fo he fhewith him life here true in his promes, as at all other times, and after the deathe of Mofes his faithful feruans, he raifeth vp Iofhúa to be ruler and gouernour ouer his people, that neither they fhulde be discouraged for lacke of a captaine, nor haue occaſion to diftruſt Gods promſes hereafter. And becauſe that Iofhúa might be confirmed in his vocation, and the people alſo might haue none occaſion to grudge, as though he were not approved of God : he is adorned with moſte excellent gifts and graces of God, boſhe to gouerne the people with counſ. 1, and to defend them with ſtrength, that he lacked nothing which either belonged to a valiant captaine or a faithful miniſter. So he ouercometh all difficulties and bringeth them in to the land of Candan: the which according to Gods ordinance he deuideth among the people & appointeth their border: the eſta bliſheth lawes and ordinances, and puteth them in remembri- ſce of Gods manſſide benefices, affuring them of his grace and ſauour, if they obey God, and contro- viewſe of his plagues and vengeance, if they doſobey him. This hiſtorre doeth reprefine I. ſus Chriſt the true Iofhúa, who leadeth vs into eternal filicate, which is ſignified vnto vs by this land of Candan. From the beginning of the Genofis to the end of this boke are contained 2597 yeres. For from Adam vnto the flood are 1656. from the flood vnto the departure of Abrahám out of Caldea, 363, and from thence to the death of Ioseph 290. So that the Genofis containeth 2390. Exodus 140. the other three bokes of Mofes 40. Iofhúa 27. So the whole maketh 2597 yeres.

16 And she said vnto them, Go you into the mountaine, lest the pursuers mete with you, & hyde your selues there thte daies, vntil the pursuers be returned: the after- ward may ye go your way.

17 And the men said vnto her, 'We wil hebb lameles of this thine othe, which thou bast made vs sweare.

18 Beholde, when we come into the land, thou shalt binde this corde of red threde in the windowe, whereby thou lettest vs downe, and thou shalt bring thy father & thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy fathers housholde home to thee.

19 And whosoever then doeth go out at the doors of thine house into the street, 'his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guilty: but whosoever shall be with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any hand touch him:

20 And if thou utter this our matter, we will be quit of thine oath, which thou hast made us swear.

21 And she answered, According unto your words so be it: then she sent them away, and they departed, and she bound the door in the window.

22 And they departed, and came into the mountain, & there abode three days, until the pursuers were returned: & the pursuers fought them throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, & passed over, and came to Ioshua the son of Nun, & told him all things that came unto them.

24 Also they said unto Ioshua, Surely the Lord hath delivered into our hands all the lands for ever: all the inhabitants of the country faint because of us.

CHAP. III.

1 Ioshua commandeth them to depart where the Ark removeeth. 2 The Lord proves to Ioshua before the people. 3 Ioshua exhortacum to the people. 4 The waters parte afunder whiles the people pass.

5 Then Ioshúa rose verse early, & they removed from Shitrim, and came to Iordén, he, & all the children of Israel, & lodged there, before they went ouer.

And after 'thre daies the officers went throughout the hoste,

And commanded the people, saying, Whse ye se y Arke of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the Priests of the Leuites bearing it, ye shal departe from your pla- ce, and go after it.

4 Yet there shalbe a space between you & it, about two thousand cubites by measu- re: ye shal not come here vnto it, that ye may knowe the way, by the which ye shal go: for ye haue not gone this way in times past.

5 (Now Ioshúa had said vnto the people, * Sanctifie your selues: for tomorowe the Lord wil do wonders among you)

6 Also Ioshúa spake vnto the Priests, say- ing, Take vp the Arke of the covenant, and go ouer before the people: so their toke vp the Arke of the covenant, and went be- fore the people.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, This day wil I begin to magnifie thee in the sight of all Israel, which shal knowe, that as I was with Moses, so wil I be with thee.

8 Thou shalt therefore comade the Priests that beare the Arke of the covenant, say- ing, When ye are come to the brinke of the waters of Iordén, ye shal stand stil 'm Iordén.

9 Then Ioshúa said vnto the children of Israel, Come hether, and heare the wordes of the Lord your God.

10 And Ioshúa said, 'Hereby ye shal knowe that the living God is among you, & that he wil certainly cast out before you the Canaanites, and the Hitites, and the Hi- uites, and the Perizzites, and the Gerga- shites, and the Amorites, and the Iebu- sites.

11 Beholde, the Arke of the covenant of the Lord of all the worlde passeth before you into Iordén.

12 Now therefore take from among you twelve men out of the tribes of Israel, out of euerie tribe a man.

2 God comaded Iofh a to for up twelve stones in Iordén. 18
The waters return to their side course. 20 Other twelve stones are for up in Gilgal. 21 This miracle must be declared to the possessive.

1 A Nd when all the people were wholly gone ouer Iordén, (after the Lord had spoken vnto Iofhúa, saying,

2 Take you twelve men out of the people, out of euerie tribe a man,

3 And commande you them, saying, Take you hence out of the middes of Iordén, out of the place where the Priests stode in a 4 readiness, twelve stones, which ye shal take away with you, and leave them in the 5 lodging, where you shal lodge this night)

4 Then Iofhúa called the twelve me, who- me he had prepared of the children of Israel, out of euerie tribe a man,

5 And Iofhúa said vnto them, Go ouer be- fore the Arke of the Lord your God, eue th ough the middes of Iordén, & take up euerie man of you a stone vpó his shulder according vn to the number of the tribes of the children of Israel,

6 That this may be a signe among you, that when your 6 children shal aske their fathers in time to come, saying, What means you by these stones?

7 Then ye may answer them, That the waters of Iordén were cut of before the Arke of the couenant of the Lord: for whe it passed through Iordén, the waters of Iordén were cut of, therefore these sto- nes are a memorial vnto the children of Israel for euer.

8 Then the children of Israel did eue so, as Iofhúa had commanded, & take up twelve stones out of the middes of Iordén, as the Lord had said vnto Iofhúa, according to the nobor of the tribes of the children of Israel, & carried the away with them vnto the lodging, and layed them down there.

9 And Iofhúa set vp 4 twelve stones in the middes of Iordén, in the place where the fete of the Priests, which bare the Arke of the couenant, stode, and there have they continued vnto this day.

10 So the Priests, & bare the Arke, stode in the middes of Iordén, vntil euerie thing was finished that the Lord had commanded Iofhúa to say vnto the people, according to all that Moses charged Iofhúa: then the people hatted and went ouer.

11 When all the people were cleane passed ouer, the Arke of the Lord went ouer also, and the Priests 6 before the people.

12 6 And the sonnes of Reuben, & the sonnes of Gad, and halfe the tribe of Mana- seh went ouer before the children of Is- rael armed, as Moses had charged them.

13 Euen fourty thousand prepared for war- re, went before the 6 Lord vnto battel, nto the plaine of Jericho.

14 That day the Lord magnified Iofhúa in the sight of all Israel, & they feared him, as they feared Moses all dayes of his life.

15 An 1 the Lord spake vnto Iofhúa, saying,

16 Commande the Priests that beare the 6 Arke of the Testimonie, to come vp out of Iordén.

17 Iofhúa therefore commanded the Priests, saying, Come ye vp out of Iordén.

18 And when the Priests that bare the Arke of the couenant of the Lord were come vp out of the middes of Iordén, and assonne as 9 soles of the Priests fete were set on the drye land, the waters of Iordén returned vnto their place, and slowed ouer all the bankes thereof, as they did before.

19. So the people came vp out of Iordén the tenth day of the 6 first moneth, and pitched in Gilgal, in the Eastside of Jericho.

20 Also the twelve stones, which they toke out of Iordén, did Iofhúa pitche 7 Gilgal.

21 And he spake vnto the children of Isra-él saying, When your children shal aske their fathers in time to come, and say, What means these stones?

22 The ye shal shewe your children, and say, Israel came ouer this Iordén on drye laid:

23 For 9 Lord your God dryed vp the waters of Iordén before you, vntil ye were gone ouer, as the Lord your God did the red Sea, 6 which he dried vp before vs, til we were gone ouer,

24 That all the people of the 1 world may know that the had of the Lord is mightie, that ye might feare the Lord your God a Gilgal was so called, be- cause they were there circumcised.

3 Then Ioshua made him sharpe knives & circumcised the sonnes of Israel in c the hil of the forefkinnes.

4 And this is the cause why Ioshua circu- cised all the people, even the males that came out of Egypt, because all the men of warre were dead in the wilderness by the way after they came out of Egypt.

5 For all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were borne in the wilderness by the way after they fnew the the land, e which the Lord had fwor- ne vnto their

7 So their sonnes whome he raised vp in their steade, Ioshua circumcised: for they were vncircucised, because they circumcised them not by the way.

8 And when they had made an end of cir- cucising all the people, they abode in the places in the cape til they e were whole.

9 After, the Lord said vnto Ioshua, This day I haue taken away the f shame of E- gypt from you: wherefore he called the name of that place Gilgal, vnto this day.

10 So the childie of Israel abode in Gil- gal, and kept the feast of the Paffoeuet the fourteenth day of the moneth at euen in the plaine of Iericho.

11 And they did eat of the corne of the lad, on the morow after the Paffeouer, vnlea- uened bread, and parched corne in the fame day.

12 And the MAN ceased on the morowe after they had eaten of the corne of the land, nether had the children of Israel MAN anie more, but did cat of the fiute of the land of Canaan that yere.

14 And he said, Nay, but as a captaine of the hoste of the Lord am I now come: the Ioshua fel on his face to the earth, and E did worship, and said vnto him, What faith my Lord vnto his feruant?

after the Aike of the Lord, as they went and bleve the trompets.

14 And the second day then compaffed the citic once, and returned into the hofte: thus they did fix dayes.

15 And when the feueth day came, they ro- fe early, euē with the dawning of the day, and compaffed the citic after the fame maner k feuen times, onely that day they compaffed the citic feuen times.

16 And when the Prifets had blowen the trompets the feueth time, Iofhúa faid vn- to the people, Shouse: for the Lord hathe guen you the citic.

17 And y citic fhälbe i an execrable thing, lofhe it, and all that are therein, vnto the Lord: onely Raháb the harlot fhäl liue, lhe, and all that are with her in the houle: for lhe* hid the meffengers that we fent.

18 Notwithstanding be ye ware of the execrable thing, left ye make your felues execrable, & in taking of the execrable thing, make also the hofte of Ifraél * execrable, and trouble it.

19 But all filuer, and golde, and veffels of braffe, and yron fhall be = confecrate vnto the Lord, and fhall come into the Lords treafurie.

20 So the people fhouted, when they had blowen trumpets: for whē the people had heard the founde of the trumpet, they fhouted with a great fhoute: and the* wall fel downe flat·fo the people went vp into the citic, euerie man ftreight before him: * and they toke the citic.

21 And they vtterly deftroyed all that was in the citic, bothe man and woman, yong, and olde, and oxe, and fhepe, and affe, with the edge of the fworde.

22 But Iofhúa had faid vnto the two men that had fpied out the countrey, Go into the harlots houfe, and bring out thence the woman, and all that fhe hathe, * as ye fware to her.

23 So the yong men that were fpies, went in, and brought out Raháb, and her father and her mother, and her b·cthren, and all that fhe had: alfo they brought out all her familie, and put them a without the ho·fte of Ifraél.

24 After they burnt the citic with fire, and all that was therein, onely the filuer and the golde, and the veffels of braffe and yron, they put vnto the treafure of the * houfe of the Lord.

25 So Iofhúa faued Raháb the harlot, and her fathers houfholde, & all that fhe had, & fhe p dwelt in Ifraél euē vnto this day, because fhe had hid the meffengers, which Iofhúa fent to fpie out Ierichó.

26 ¶ And Iofhúa fware at y time, faying, Curfed be the man before the Lord, that tifeth vp, and buyfdeth this citic Ierichó:

the fhall lay the fundacion thereof in his eldeft fonne, & in his yfgeft fonne fhall he fet vp the gates of it.

27 So the Lord was with Iofhúa, and he was famous through all the worlde.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Lord is angry with Achán. 4 They of Aí put the Iftralites to ftight. 6 Iofhúa prayeth to the Lord. 10 Iofhúa inquereth out him that finned, and Hameth him & all his.

1 D Vt the children of Ifraél committed a trespaffe in the * excommunicate thing· for Achán the fonne of Caimí, the fonne of Zabdi, the fonne of Zérah of y tribe of Iudáh toke of the excóminate thing: wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled againft the children of Ifraél.

2 And Iofhúa fent men from Ierichó to b Aí, which is befide Bethauén, on the Eaft fide of Beth-él, and fpake vnto them, fay- ing, Go vp, and vewe the countrey. And the men went vp, and vewed Aí,

3 And returned to Iofhúa, and faid vnto hī, Let not all y people go vp, but let as it we- retwo or thre thoufand me go vp, & fmite Aí, and make not all the people to labour thether, for they are fewe.

4 So there went vp thether of the people about thre thoufand men, & they fied be- fore the men of Aí.

5 And the c men of Aí fmote of them vpon a thirtie and fix men: for they chafed them from before the gate vnto Shebarim, and fmote them in the going downe: wherefo- re the hearters of the people meked away like water.

6 ¶ Then Iofhúa rent his clothes, and fel to the earth vpon his face before the Aike of the Lord, vntil the euenride, he, and the Elders of Ifraél, and put duft vpon their heades.

7 And Iofhúa faid, Alas, ó Lord God, whe- refore haft thou broght this people ouer Iordén, to deliuer vs into the hand of the Amorites, and to deftroy vs wolde God we had bene contét to dwel on the dother fide Iordén.

8 Oh Lord, what fhall I fay, whē Ifraél tur- ne their backes before their enemies?

9 For the Canaanites, and all the inhabitants of the land shall heate of it, and shall compass vs, and destroy our name out of the earth: and what wilt thou do vnto thy mightie e Name?

10 ¶ And the Lord said vnto Ioshúa, Get thee vp, wherefore liest thou thus vpon thy face?

11 Ifraél hath sinned, and they haue transgressed my covenant, which I commanded them. for they haue euē taken of 12 Therefore the childr: of Ifraél can not ftande before their enemies, but haue turned their backes before their enemies, becaufe they be execrable: nether wil I be with you ame more, except ye deftroy the exco municate from among you.

13 Vp therefore, funftifie the people, and fay, Sàctifie your felues againft tomorowe. for thus faith the Lord God of Ifraél, There is an execrable thing among you, ó Ifraél, therefore ye can not ftand againft your enemies, vntil ye haue put the execrable thing from among you.

14 In the morning therefore ye fhall come according to your tribes, and the tribe which the Lord taketh, fhall come according to the families: & the familie which the Lord fhall take, fhall come by the houfholde: & the houfholde which the Lord fhall take, fhall come man by man.

15 And he that is taken with the excommunicate thing, fhall be burnt with fire, he, & all that he hathe, becaufe he hathe tràfgreffed the couenant of the Lord, and becaufe he hathe wroglt folly in Ifrael.

16 ¶ So Ioshúa tofe vp early in ¶ morning & broglt Ifhaél by their tribes: & the tribe of Iudah was taken.

17 And he broglt the families of Iudah, & toke the familie of the Zarlutes, and he broglt the familie of the Za hites, man by man, and Zabdi was taken.

18 And he broglt his houfholde, man by man, and Achán the fonne of Carmí, the fonne of Zabdi, the fonne of Zérah of the tribe of Iudah was taken.

19 Then Ioshúa faid vnto Achán, My fonne I befeche thee, giue glorie to the Lord God of Ifhaél, and make confeltion vnto him, and fh we me now what thou haft done: hide it not from me.

20 And Achán answered Ioshúa, and faid, In dede, I haue finned againft the Lord God of Ifhaél, and thus, and thus haue I done.

21 I fawe among the fpoyle a goodly Ba-bylonfh garmet, & two humlterth fhekels of filuer, and a wedge of golde of fytie fhakels weight, and I coueted them, and toke them: and beholde, they lye hid in the earth in the middes of my tent, & the filuer vnder it.

22 ¶ Then Ioshúa fent meffengers, which ran vnto the tent, and beholde, it was hid in his tent, and the filuer vnder it.

23 Therefore they toke them out of the tet, and broglt them vnto Ioshúa, and vnto all the children of Ifhaél, and layed them before the Lord.

24 Then Ioshúa toke Achán the sonne of Zérah, and the filuer, & the garment and the wedge of golde and his sonnes, & his daughters, and his oxen, and his affe, and his shepe, and his tent, and all that he had: and all Ifhaél with him broglt them vnto the valle of Achó.

25 And Ioshúa faid, In as muche as riou haft troubled vs, the Lord fhall trouble thee this day: and all Ifhaél threwe stones at him, and burned them with fi-e, & stoned them with stones.

26 And they caft vpon him a great heape of stones vnto this day: and so the Lord turned from his fearce wrath: therefore he called the name of that place, The valley of Achó, vnto this day.

Deut 7,2.

10 And Ioshua rose vp early in y morning, and a nombred the people: and he and the Elders of Israel went vp before the people against Ai.

11 Also all the men of warte that were with him w: vp & due nere, and came against the citre, & pitched on the Northside of Ai: and there was a valley between them and Ai.

12 And he toke about fiue thousand men, a & set them to lie in ways between Beth- el & Ai, on the Westside of the citre.

13 And the people set all the hoste that was on the Northside against the citre, & the lieis in wayte on the West, against the ci- tre: o Ioshua went the same night into y mides of the valley.

14 And whe the King of Ai sawe it, then the men of the citre hasted & rose vp ear- ly, and went out against Israel to battel, he & all his people at the time appointed, be- fore the plaine: for he knew not that aine lay in waite against him on the backside of the citre.

15 Then Ioshua and all Israel is as beaten before the, fled by the way of the wilder- nes.

16 And all the people of the citre were cal- led together, to pursue after them: & they pursued after Ioshua, and were drawn a- way out of the citre, 17 So that there was not a man left in Ai, nor in Beth-el, that went not out after If- rael: and they left the citre open, & pursued after Israel.

18 The the Lord said vnto Ioshua, b Street- che out the speare that is in thine hand towarde Ai: for I wil grue it into thine hand: and Ioshua stretched out the speare that he had in his hand, towarde the ci- tre.

19 And thei that lay in waite, arose quickly out of their place, & ran aflone as he had stretched out his hand, and they entred in- to the citre, and toke it, and hasted, and set the citre on site.

20 And the men of Ai loked behind the, & sawe it: for lo, the smoke of the citre af- cended vp to heauen, and they had no power to flee this way or that way: for y people that fled to the wilderness, turned backe vpon the pursuers.

21 When Ioshua and all Israel sawe that they that lay in wait, had take the citre, & that the smoke of the citre mounted vp, then they turned againe and slewe the me of Ai.

22 Also the other issued out of the citre against the: so were they in the mides of Israel, thei being on y one side, & y rest on y other side, & they slewe the, so that they let none of them remain not escape.

23 And the King of Ai they toke alue, & brought him to Ioshua.

24 And when Israel had made an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Ai in y field, that is, in y wilderness, where they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, vntil they were consu- med, all the Israelites retuned vnto Ai, & h smote with the edge of the swords.

25 And all that fel that day, bothe of men and women, were twelve thousand, euen all the men of Ai.

26 For Ioshua drew not his hand backe a- gaine which he had stretched out with the speare, vntil he had vtterly destroyed all y inhabitants of Ai.

27 "Onely the cartel & the spoyle of this citre, Israel toke for a pray vnto them sel- ues, according vnto the worde of y Lord, which he commanded Ioshua.

28 And Ioshua burnt Ai, and made it an heape for euer, o a wilderness vnto this day.

29 And y King of Ai he hanged on a tre, vnto the euening. And aflone as y sunne was downe, Ioshua commanded that they shulde take his caikeis downe fro the tre, and cast it at the entring of the gate of the citre, and lay thereon a great heape of stones, that remaineth vnto this day.

30 Then Ioshua buylt an altar vnto the Lord God of Israel, in mount Ebal, 31 As Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded the children of Israel, as it is written in y boke of the Lawe of Moses, an altar of whole stone, ouer which no ma had lift an yron and they offered thereon burnt offrings vnto the Lord, & sacrificed peace offrings.

32 Also he wrote there vpon the stones, a rehearsal of the Lawe of Moses, which he wrote in the presence of the children of Israel.

33 And all Israel (and their Elders, and offi- cers & their judges stode on this side of the Arke, and on that side, before the Pri- cits of the Leuites, which bave the Aike of the couenant of the Lord) aswel the stranger, as he that is borne in the coun- trey: halfe of them were ouer against mount Gerraim, and halfe of them ouer against moot Ebal, as Moses the seruant of the Lord had commanded before, that they shuldt bleffe the people of Israel.

34 Then afterward he led all the words of the Lawe, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in the booke of the Lawe.

35 There was not a worde of all that Moses had commanded, which Ioshua red not before all the Congregation of Israel, as well after the women and the children, as the stranger that was conuersant among them.

And when all the Kings ye were beyond Iordén, in the mountains & in the valleys, and by all the coastes of the great Sea ouer against Lebanon (as the Hirtites, & ye Amorites, the Canaanites, the Perizzites, the Huitites, & the Iebusites) heard thereof,

They gathered them selues together, to fight against Iosthúa, & against Israel with one "accord.

But the inhabitants of Gibeón heard what Iosthúa had done vnto Ierichó, and to Ai.

And therefore they wrought craftely: for they went, and fained them selues embasta dours and toke olde sakes vpon their asses, and olde bottels for wine, bothe rent & e tounde vp,

And olde shooes and clouted vpon their feter: also the rament vpon them was olde, & all their prouision of bread was dried, & mouled.

So they came vnto Iosthúa into the hoste to Gilgál, & said vnto him, and vnto the men of Israel, We be come from a farre country: now therefore make a league with vs.

The the men of Israel said vnto the Hiuites, It may be that thou dwellest among vs, how then can I make a league with thee?

And they said vnto Iosthúa, We are thy seruáts. Then Iosthúa said vnto the, Who are ye & whence come ye?

And they answered him, From a very far country thy seruants are come for the Name of the Lord thy God: for we haue heard: his fame & all that he bathe done in Egypt,

And all that he bathe done to the two Kings of the Amorites that were beyond Iordén to Sihón King of Hefihón, & to Og King of Bashán, which were at Ašhtaróth.

Wherefore our Elders, and all the inhabitants of our coitrey spake to vs, saying, Take vitales "with you for the journey, & go to mete them, & say vnto them, We are your seruants: now therefore make ye a league with vs.

This our bread we toke it hot with vs for vitales out of our house, the day we departed to come vnto you: but now beholde, it is dried, and it is mouled.

Also these bottels of wine which we filled, were new, and lo, they be rent, and these our garments and our shooes are olde, by reason of the exceeding great journey.

And the same accepted their tale concerning their vitales, & counseled not with the mouth of the Lord.

So Iosthúa made peace with them, & made a league with this, that he wolde suffer them to lue: also the Princes of the Congregation swore vnto them.

But at the end of three daies, after they had made a league with them, they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

And the children of Israel toke their journey, and came vnto their cities the third day, and their cities were Gibeón, & Chephirán, & Betróth & Kinathiearim.

And the children of Israel slewe them not, because the Princes of the Congregation had sworne vnto them by the Lord God of Israel: wherefore all the Congregation murmured against the Princes.

Then all the princes said vnto all the Congregation We haue sworne vnto the by the Lord God of Israel: now therefore we may not touche them.

But this we wil do to them, & let them lue, lest the wrath be vpon vs because of the oothe which we swore vnto them.

And the Princes said vnto them agame, Let them lue, but they shal hewe wood, & drawe water vnto all the Congregation, as the Princes appoint them.

Iosthúa then called them, and talked ye them, and said, Wherefore haue ye beguiled vs, saying, We are verie farre from you, when ye dwel among vs?

Now therefore ye are cursed, and there shal none of you be freed from being bondmen, and hewers of wood, and drawers of water for the house of my God.

And they answered Iosthúa and said, Because it was tolde thy seruants, that the Lord thy God had commanded his seruants Moses to giue you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land out of your fight, therefore we were exceeding fore afraid for our lues at the presence of you, & haue done this thing:

And beholde now we are in thine hands do as it smeth good & right in thine cies to do vn o vs.

Fun so did he vnto them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Israel, that they slewe them not.

And Iosthúa appointed them that same date to be hewers of wood, & drawers of water for the Congregation, & for the altar of the Lord vnto this day, in ye place which he shulde chufe.

If 2,11,22. Eisleff-4,5.

1 Now whe Adoni-zedek King of Ierusalém had heard how Ioshua had taken Ai and had destroyed it, (* for as he had done to Ierichó and to the King thereof, so he had done to * Ai and to the King thereof) and how the inhabitants of Gibeón had made peace with Israel, and were among them,

2 Then thei feared exceedingly for Gibeón was a great citie, as one of the royal cities: for it was greater then Ai, and all the men thereof were mightie.

Wherefore a Adoni-zedek King of Ierusalém sent vnto Hohám King of Hebrón, and vnto Pirám King of Iarmúth, and vnto Iapia King of Lachiñ, and vnto Dúbir King of Eglón, saying,

4 Come vp vnto me, and helpe me, that we may smite Gibeón: for thei haue made peace with Ioshua and with the children of Israel.

5 Therefore the fiue Kings of the Amorites, the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachiñ, and the King of Eglón gathered them selues together, & went vp, thei with all their hostes, & besieged Gibeón, and made b warce against it.

6 And the me of Gibeón sent vnto Ioshua, end to the hoste to Gilgál, saying, Withdrawne not thine hand ho thy servants: come vp to vs quickly, and saue vs, and helpe vs: for all the Kings of the Amorites which dwel in the mountaines, are gathered together against vs.

7 So Ioshua ascended from Gilgál, he, and all the people of warre with him, and all the men of might.

8 And the Lord said vnto Ioshua, c Feare them not: for I haue giuen them into thine hand: none of them shal stand against thee.

9 Ioshua therefore came vnto them sodenly: for he went vp from Gilgál all y night.

10 And the Lord discomfited them before Israel, & slewe them with a great slaughter at Gibeón, and chased them along the way that goeth vp to Beth-horón, and smote them to Azekáh and to Makkedáh.

11 And as thei fled fro before Israel, were in the going downe to Beth-horón, y Lord cast downe great stones from heaue vpo them, vntil Azekáh, & thei dyed: thei were more that dyed with the d haylesto-nes, then they whome the children of Israel slewe with the sworde.

12 Then spake Ioshua to the Lord, in the day when the Lord gaue the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, * Sunne, state thou in Gibeón, and thou moons, in the valley of Atalón.

13 And the sunne abode, & the moone stode

stil, vntil the people auenged them selues vpo their enemies: (Is not this written in the booke of a Iasher) so the sunne abode in the middes of the heauen, and hasted not to go downe for a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it, nor after it, that the Lord heard the voyce of a man: for the Lord f foughe for Israel.

15 ¶ After, Ioshua returned, and all Israel with him vnto the campe to Gilgál:

16 But the fiue Kings fled and were hid in a caue at Makkedáh.

17 And it was tolde Ioshua, saying, The fiue Kings are foude hyd in a caue at Makkedáh.

18 Then Ioshua said, Roule great stones vpon the mouthe of the caue, and set men by it for to kepe them.

19 But stand ye not stil: followe after your enemies, and "smite all the hindemost, suffre them not to enter into their cities: for the Lord your God has the giuen them into your hand.

20 And when Ioshua and the children of Israel had made an end of slaying them with an exceeding great slaughter til they were consumed, and the rest that remained of them were entred into walled cities, 21 Then all the people returned to the cape, to Ioshua at Makkedáh in a peace: no man moued his tongue against the children of Israel.

22 After, Ioshua said, Open the mouthe of the caue, & bring out these fiue Kings vnto me for the of the caue.

23 And thei did so, and broght out those fiue Kings vnto him for the of the caue, even the King of Ierusalém, the King of Hebrón, the King of Iarmúth, the King of Lachiñ, and the King of Eglón.

24 And when thei had broght out those Kings vnto Ioshua, Ioshua called for all the men of Israel, and said vnto the chief of y men of warre, which went with him, Come nere, set your sete vpo the h neckes of these Kings: & thei came nere and set their sete vpon their neckes.

25 And Ioshua said vnto them, Feare not, nor be saint hearted, but be strong and of a good courage: for thus wil the Lord do to all your enemies, against whome ye sight.

26 So then Ioshua smote them, and slewe them, and hanged them on fiue trees, and thei hanged stil vpon the trees vntil the euening.

27 And at the going downe of the sunne, Ioshua gaue commandement, that thei shulde take * them downe of the trees, & cast them into the caue (wherein thei had bene hid) and thei layed great stones vpo the caues mouthe, which remains vntil that day.

Ioshua.

Ioshua teck 28 And that fame day Ioshua toke | Makkedah and fmote it with the edge of the fowde, & the King thereof deftoyed he with them, and all the foules that were therein, he let none remayne: for he did to the Kig of Makkedah as he had done vnto the King of Iericho. 29 Then Ioshua went from Makkedah, and all Ifrael with him vnto Libnah, & fought against Libnah. 30 And the Lord gaue | it also & the King thereof into the had of Ifrael: & he fmote it with the edge of the fowde, & all the foules y were therein: he let none remaine in it: for he did vnto the King thereof, as he had done vnto the King of Iericho. 31 And Ioshua departed from Libnah, & all Ifrael with him vnto Lachish, and befieged it, and affalted it. 32 And the Lord gaue | Lachish into y hand of Ifrael, which toke it the feconde day, and fmote it with the edge of the fowde, and all the foules that were therein, according to all as he had done to Libnah. 33 Then Horam King of | Gezer came vp to helpe Lachish: but Ioshua fmote him and his people, vntil none of his remained. 34 And from Lachish, Ioshua departed vnto | Eglon, and all Ifrael with him, and the befieged it, and affalted it, 35 And they toke it the fame day, & fmote it with the edge of the fowde, and all the foules y were therein he vtterly defroyed the fame day, according to all that he had done to Lachish. 36 Then Ioshua went vp from Eglon, and all Ifrael with him vnto Hebron, & they fought against it. 37 And when they had take | it, they fmote it with the edge of the fowde, and the King thereof, and all the cities thereof, & all the foules that were therein: he left none remaining, according to all as he had done to Eglon: for he defroyed it vtterly, and all the foules that were therein. 38 So Ioshua returned, and all Ifrael with him to Debir, and fought against it. 39 And when he had taken | it, & the King thereof, and all the cities thereof, they fmote them with the edge of the fowde, & vtterly defroyed all the foules y were therein, he let none remaine: as he did to Hebron, fo he did to Debir, & to the King thereof, as he had also done to Libnah, & to the King thereof. 40 So Ioshua fmote all the hyl coifereis, and the Southcountress, and the valleis, and the hil fides, & all their Kings, & let none remaine, but vtterly defroyed euery foule, as the Lord God of Ifrael had commanded. 41 And Ioshua fmote them from Kadeh-bainea euen vnto Azzah, and all the country of Goshén, euen vnto Gibeón.

42 And all thefe Kings, and their land did Ioshua take at one time, becaufe the Lord God of Ifrael fought for Ifrael.

43 Afterwarde, Ioshua and all Ifrael with him returned vnto the campe in Gil-gál.

CHAP. XI.

Diners Kings and cities, and countrite overcome by Ioshua. 15 Ioshua did all that Moshe had commanded him to God hardaneth the enemies bearers that they might be defroyed.

1 And when Iabin King of Hazor had heard this, then he sent to Iobab King of Madon, and to the King of Shimron, and to the King of Achshaph,

2 And vnto the Kings that were by the North in the mountaines, and plaines towarde the Southside of Cinneroth, and in the valleis, and in the borders of Dos Westwarde,

3 And vnto the Canaanites, bohe by Eaft, and by West, and vnto the Amorites, and Hittites, and Peizzates, and Ichufites in the mountaines, and vnto the Hinites vnder Hermon in the land of Mizpeh.

4 And they came out and all their hofes with them, many people as the fand that is on the feafho, e for multitufe, with hofes and charets exceeding many.

5 So all thefe Kings met together, & came and pitched together at the waters of M-róm, for to fight against Ifrael.

6 The the Lord fand vnto Ioshua, Be not afraid for them: for to morowe about this time wil Ideluer them all flayne befoe Ifaelt thou shalt bough their hores, & burne their charets with fire.

7 Then came Ioshua and all the men of warte with him against them by the waters of Merom fodenly, and fel vpon them.

8 And the Lord gaue them into the hand of Ifaelt: and they fmote them, and chafed them vnto great Zidon, and vnto Mifrephothmaim, and vnto the valley of Mizpeh Eaftwarde, & fmote them vntil then had none remaining of them.

9 And Ioshua did vnto them as the Lord bade him: he houghed their hores, and burnt their charets with fire.

10 At that time also Ioshua turned backe, and toke Hazor, and fmote the King thereof with the fowde: for Hazor beforetime was the head of all thofe kingdomes.

11 Moreover they fmote all the perfones that were therein with the edge of the fowde, vtterly defroying all, leaving none alue, and he burnt Hazor with fire.

12 So all the cities of thofe Kings, and all the Kings of them did Ioshua take, and fmote the with the edge of the fowde, cy

13 But Israel burnt none of the cities that stode still in their strength, save Hazor onely, that Ioshua burnt.

14 And all the spoyle of these cities and the cartel the children of Israel toke for their praye, but they smote euerte man with the edge of y swode vntil they had destroyed them, not leauing one a hue.

15 As the Lord had commanded Moses his seruati, so did Moses comande Ioshua, & so did Ioshua he left nothing vndone of all that the Lord had commanded Moses.

16 So Ioshua toke all this land of the mo- untaines, and all the South, and all the lad of Goshen and the lowe country, and the plaine, & the mountains of Israel, and the lowe country of the same,

17 From the mount Halak, that goeth vp to Seir, euen vnto Baal-gad in y valley of Lebanon, vnder mount Hermon: and all their Kings he toke, and smote them, and slewe them.

18 Ioshua made warre long time with all those Kings,

19 Nether was there any citie that made peace with the children of Israel, save those Hiiutes that inhabited Gibcon: all other they toke by battel.

20 For it came of the Lord, to harden their heartes that they shulde come a- gainst Israel in battel to the intent that they shulde destroy them vtterly, and she- we them no mercy, but that they shulde bring them to noght: as the Lord had commanded Moses.

21 And that same season came Ioshua, and destroyed the Anakims out of the mountaines: as out of Hebron, out of Debir, out of Anab, and out of all the moun- taines of Judah, and out of all the moun- taines of Israel: Ioshua destroyed them vtterly with their cities.

22 There was no Anakim left in the land of the children of Israel: onely in Az- zah, in Gath, and in Ashdod were they left.

23 So Ioshua toke the whole land, accor- ding to all that the Lord had said vnto Moses and Ioshua gaue it for an inheri- tance vnto Israel according to their por- cians through their tribes: then the land was at rest without warre.

CHAP. XII. 2. 7. Now when Ioshúa was olde, & stri- ken in yeres, the Lord faid vnto him, Thou art olde & "growen in age, & the- re remaineth exceeding much land to be possessed:

2 This is the land that remaineth, all the legions of the Philsftims, & all Gefhuri,

3 From "Nílus which is "in Egypt, eue vn- to the borders of Ekrón Northward: this is counted of the Canaanites, euen fue lordchippes of the Philsftims, the Azzi- thites, and the Afhdodites, the Eshkeloni- tes, the Gittites, and the Ekronites, and 4 Auites:

4 From the Sourbe, all the land of the Ca- naanites, and the "caue that is beside the Sidonians, vnto Aphék, and to the borders of the Amorites:

5 And the land of the Gibites, and all Le- banón, towarde the funne rífing from Ba- hal-gád vnder mount Hermón, vntil one come to Hamáth.

6 All the inhabitants of the mountaines fró Lebanon vnto: Mifrephothmáim, & all the Sidonians, I wil cast them out fró before the children of Ifraél: onely deu- de thou it by lot vnto the Ifraelites, to inherit, as I haue commanded thee.

7 Now there fore deuide this land to inhe- rit, vnto the nine tribes, and to the halfe tribe of Manaffeh.

8 For with halfe thereof the Reubenites and the Gadites haue receiued their inheritá- ce, which Mofes gaue them beyond Ior- dén Eaftward, euen as Mofes the feruant of the Lord had giuen them,

9 From Aroér that is on the brinke of the riuer Arnón, and from the citie that is in the middes of the riuer, and all the plaine of Medebá vnto Dibón,

10 And all the cities of Sihón King of the Amorites, which reigned in Hefhbón, vn- to the borders of the childré of Ammón,

11 And Gileád, & the borders of the Gefhu rues & of the Maachathites, & all mount Hermón, with all Balhán vnto Salcáh:

12 All the kingdome of Og in Balhán, & reigned in Afhtaróth and in Edrés: (who remained of the "reft of the gyantes") for thefe did Mofes fmite, and caft them out.

13 But the childré of Ifraél 4 expelled not Gólhurites nor the Maachathites: but Gólhurites & Maachathites dwel amóg the Ifraelites euen vnto this day.

14 Onely vnto the tribe of Leui he gaue none inheritance, but the sacrefices of the Lord God of Ifraél are his inheritance, as he faid vnto him.

15 Mofes then gaue vnto the tribe of the children of Reubén inheritance, according to their families.

16 And their coalt was from Aroér, that is on the brinke of the riuier Arnón, & fró the citie that is in the middes of the riuier, & all the plaine which is by Medebá:

17 Hefhbón with all the cities thereof, that are in the plaine: Dibón and Bamoth-bá- al, and Beth-baal-meón:

20 And Beth-peór, & Afhdoth pífgáh, & Beth-ielhumóth:

21 And all the cities of the plaine: and all the kingdome of Sihón King of the A- morites, which reigned in Hefhbón, whome Mofes smote with the Princes of Mi- dián, Eui, and Rekém, and Zur, and Hur, and Réba, the dukes of Sihón, dwelling in the countrey.

22 And 'Balaám the fonne of Beór y fouth- fayer did the children of Ifraél flaye with the fworde, among them that were flaine.

23 And the border of the children of Reu- bén was Iordén with the coaxes. this was the inheritance of the children of Reu- bén according to their families, with the cities and their villages.

24 Alfo Mofes gaue inheritance vnto the tribe of Gad, euen vnto the children of Gád according to their families.

25 And their coaxes were Iazér, and all the cities of Gileád and halfe the land of the children of Ammón vnto Aroér, which is before Rabbáh:

26 And from Hefhbón vnto Ramóth, Mizpéh, and Betonim and from Mahaná- im vnto the borders of Debír.

27 And in the valley Beth-atám, and Beth- nimráh, and Succóth, and Zaphón, the reft of the kingdome of Sihón King of Hefhbón, vnto Iordén and the borders e- uen vnto the Sea coalt of Cinéreth, & be- yonde Iordén Eaftward.

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad, after their families, with the ci- ties and their villages.

a The land of Canáan was deuided among the nine tri- bes and the halfe. 6 Caléb requereth the heritage that was promised him. 13 Hebrón was gween him.

1 Hele also are the places which the children of Ifraél inherited in the lád of Canáan, which Eleazár the Prift, and Iosthúa the sonne of Nun and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Ifraél, diftributed to them,

2 *By the lot of their inheritance, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Mofes, to giue to the nine tribes, and the halfe tribe.

3 For Mofes had riuen inh ritage vnto two tribes and an halfe tribe, beyonde Iordén: but vnto the Leuites he gaue no- ne inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Ioséph were two tribes, Manaşşéh and Ephráim: therefore they gaue no paite vnto the Leuites in the lád, faue cities to dwel in, with the fubur- bes of the fame for their beastes and their fubftance.

5 *As the Lord had commanded Mofes, fo the children of Ifraél did whe they deui- ded the land.

6 Then the children of Iudáh came vn- to Iosthúa in Gilgál: and Caléb the sonne of Iephúnéh the Kenezite laid vnto him, Thou knowest what the Lord laid vnto Mofes the man of God, concerning me and thee in Kadelh-bainéa.

7 Fourty yere olde was I, when Mofes the feruant of the Lord fent me from Ka- defh-bainéa to efpy the land, & I broght him worde againe, as I fingle in mine heart.

8 But my brethren that went vp with me, discouraged the heart of the people: yet I follow: d ftill the Lord my God.

9 Wherefore Mofes fware the fame day, faying, Certicnly the land whereon thy fete ha te troden, ftall be thine inheritan- ce, and thy childrens for euer, becaufe thou haft followed conftantly the Lord my God.

10 Therefore beholde now, the Lord hafhe kept me aliuie, as he promifed: this is the fourty and fift yere fince the Lord fpake this thing vnto Mofes, while the children of Ifraél wandred in the wildernes: and now lo, I am this day fourfcore and fiue yere olde:

11 And yet am as *ftiong at this time, as I was whe Mofes fent me: as ftiong as I was then, fo ftiong am I now, ether for 12 Now therefore giue me this mountaine whereof the Lord fpake in y day (for thou heardft in that daie, how the Anakíms were there, and the cities great and walled) * if fo be the Lord will be with me, that I may driue them out, as the Lord faid.

13 Then Iosthúa bleffed him, and gaue vn- to Caléb the fonne of Iephúnéh, Hebrón for an inheritance.

14 *Hebrón therefore became y inheritá- ce of Caléb the fonne of Iephúnnéh the Kenezite, vnto this day: becaufe he followed coftantly the Lord God of Ifraél.

The lot or parts of Ephraim. 10 The Cananite dwelled among them.

And the lot fell to the 1 children of Ioseph fro Iorden by Ierichó vnto the water of Ierichó Eastwarde, & to the 7 And goeth downe from Iano'iah to A-tanoth, and Naa'ah, and coareth to Ierichó, 4 and goeth out at Iorden.

8 And this border goeth from Tappuah Westward vnto the river Kanah, and the ends thereof are at the Searths in the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ephraim by their families.

9 And the 1 separate cities for the children of Ephraim were among the inheritance of the children of Manasseh, all the cities with their villages.

10 And they cast not out the Cananite that dwelt in Gezer, but the Cananite dwelleth among the Ephraimites vnto this day, and serue vnder tribute.

CHAP. XVII.

The portion of the half of the of Manasseh. 1 The daughters of Zelophehad 12 The Cananites are become tributaries 14 Manasseh and Ephraim require a greater portion of heritage.

1 This was also the lot of the tribe of Manasseh: so he was the 1 first borne of Ioseph, to wit, of Machar y first borne of Manasseh, and the father of Gilead: now because he was a man of warre, he had Gilead and Bashan.

2 And also 1 of the 1 rest of the sonnes of Manasseh by their families, even of the sonnes of Abiezer, and of the sonnes of Helek, and of the sonnes of Azriel, and of the sonnes of Shechem, and of the sonnes of Hépher, and of the sonnes of Shemidah: these were the males of Manasseh, the sonne of Ioseph according to their families.

3 But Zelophehad the sonne of Hépher, the sonne of Gilead, the sonne of Machir, & 27, and the sonne of Manasseh, had no sonnes, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Malhah, and Noah, Hoglah, Milchah and Tirzah:

4 Which came before Eleazar the Priest, and before Ioshua the sonne of Nun, and before the princes, saying, The Lord commanded Moses to give vs an inheritance among our 1 brethren: therefore according to the commandment of the Lord he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.

5 And there fell ten porcions to 1 Manasseh, beside the land of Gilead and Bashan, which is on the other side Iorden, 6 Because the daughters of Manasseh did inherit among his sonnes: and Manassehs other sonnes had the land of Gilead.

7 So the borders of Manasseh were from Aishar to Micmethah y lieth before Shechem, & this border goeth on y right had, even vnto the inhabitants of En-tappuah.

8 The land of Tappuah belonged to Manasseh, but 4 Tappuah beside the border of Manasseh belonged to the sonnes of Ephraim.

9 Also this border goeth down vnto the river Kanah Southward to the river: these cities of Ephraim are among the cities of Manasseh: and the border of Manasseh on the Northside of the river, and the ends of it are at the 1 Sea,

10 The South pertemeth to Ephraim, and the North to Manasseh, and the Sea is his border: and they met together in 1 Aishar Northward, and in Issachar Eastward.

11 And Manasseh had in Issachar and in Aishar, Beth-shean & her townes, & Ibleam, & her townes, & the inhabitants of Dor with the townes thereof, and the inhabitants of En-dó: with the townes thereof, & the inhabitants of Thaanach with her townes, & the inhabitants of Megiddo w the townes of the same, on other cofacts.

12 Yet the children of Manasseh 1 colde not destroy those cities, but the Cananites dwelled from that land.

13 Now there, when the children of Israel were strong, they put the Cananites under tribute, but cast the not out wholly.

15 Ioshúa then answered them, If thou be much people, get thee vp to the wood, & cut trees for thy selfe there in the land of the Perizzites, and of the gyáts, if moot Ephráim be tonarowe for thee.

16 Then the children of Ioşsph said, The mountaine wil not be ynough for vs: and all the Canaanites that dwel in the lowe countrey haue charets of yron, as wel they in Beth-sheán, and in the townes of the fame, as they in the valley of Izreél.

17 And Ioshúa spake vnto the house of Ioşsph, to Ephráim, & to Manaşséh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power, and shalt not haue one lot.

18 Therefore the mountaine shalbe thine: for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it downe: and the ends of it shalbe thine, & thou shalt cast out the Canaanites, though they haue yron charrets, and though they be strong.

1 The Tabernacle sat in Shiloh 4 Cartaine are sent to deude the land to the other feuen tribes. 2 The lot of the children of Benaamin.

3 And the whole Congregation of the children of Israél came together at Shiloh: for they set vp the Tabernacle of the Congregation there, after the land was subiect vnto them.

4 Now there remained among the children of Israél feuen tribes, to whome they had not deuided their inheritance.

5 Therefore Ioshúa said vnto the children of Israél, How long are ye so slacke to entre and possesse the land which the Lord God of your fathers hath be giuen you?

6 Giue from among you for enerte tribe thre men, that I may send them, and that they may rise, and walke through the lad, and distribute it according to their inheritance, and returne to me.

7 And that they may deude it vnto them into feuen partes, (Iudáh shal abide in his coast at the South, and the house of Ioſſph ſhal ſtand in their coaſtes at the North)

8 Ye ſhal deſcribe the land therefore into feuen partes, & ſhal bring them hether to me, & I wil caſt lottes for you here before the Lord our God.

9 But the Leuites ſhal haue no part among you: for the Priethode of the Lord is their inheritance: alſo Gad and Reuben & halfe the tribe of Manaſſéh haue recei- ued their inheritance bey ode Iordén Eaſt- ward, which Moſes the ſeuaz of the Lord gaue them.

1 Then the men aroſe, and went their way: and Ioſhúa changed them that went to deſcribe the land, ſaying, Departe, and go through the land, and a deſcribe it, and returne to me, that I may here caſt lots for you before the Lord in Shilóh.

9 So the men departed, and paſſed through the land, and deſcribed it by cities into fe- uen partes in a boke, and returned to Ioſhúa into the camps at Shilóh.

10 Then Ioſhúa caſt lots for them in Shilóh before the Lord, and there Ioſhúa deuided the lad vnto the children of Iſra- él, according to their porcions:

11 And the lot of the tribe of the children of Beniamín came for the according to their families, and the coaſt of their lot lay between the children of Iudáh, and the children of Ioſſph.

12 And their coast on the Northside was from Io. dén, and the border went vp to the side of Lerichó on the Northpate, & went vp through the mountaines West- ward, and the ends thereof are in the wil- dernes of Beth-auén:

13 And this border goeth along from the- ce to Luz, even to the Southside of Luz (the fame is Beth-él) and this border descendeth to Atroth-addár, nere the moot, that lieth on the Southside of Beth- horón the nether.

14 So the border turneth, and compasseth the corner of the Sea Southward, from the moot that lieth before Beth-horón Southward: and the ends thereof are at Kiriath- baal (which is Kiriath-earím) a citie of the children of Iudáh: this is the West- quarter.

15 And the Southquarter is from the end of Kiriath-earím, and this border goeth our Westward, and cometh to the foun- teine of waters of Nephtóah.

16 And this border descendeth at the end of the mountaine, that lieth before the valley of Bé-hinnóm, which is in the valley of the gyantes Northward, & descé- deth into the valley of Hinnóm by the si- de of Iebufi Southward, and goeth do- wne to En-rogél,

17 And compasseth from the North, and goeth for the to En-shemesh, & stretcheth to Gelilóth, which is toward the going vp vnto Adummim, and goeth downe to the stone of Bóhan the sonne of Reuben.

18 So it goeth alog to the side ouer agamst the plaine Northward, and goeth downe into the plaine.

19 After, this border goeth along to the si- de of Beth-hogláh Northward: & the ends thereof, that is, of the border, reache to the point of the salt Sea Northward, and to the end of Iordén Southward: this is the Southcoast.

47 But the coastes of the children of Dan fel out to lide for them: therefore the children of Dan went up to fight against Lé-shem, and toke it, and fmote it with the edge of the fworde, and pollesed it, and dwelt therein, and called Lé-shem, * Dan, after the name of Dan their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dan according to their families: that is, these cities and their villages.

49 When thei had made an end of deui-ding the land by the coastes thereof, then the children of Ifraél gaue an inheritance vnto Ioshúa y sonne of Nun among the.

a The Lord commandeth Ioshúa to appoint cities of refuge. 3
The use thereof, 7 And their names.

1 The Lord also spake vnto Ioshúa, saying,

2 Speake to the children of Ifraél, and say, *Appoint you cities of refuge, whereof I spake vnto you by the hand of Mofés,

3 That the slayer y killeth any persone by ignorance, and vnwittingly, may flee the-ther, & thei shal be your refuge from the auenger of blood.

4 And he that doeth flee vnto one of tho-se cities, shal stand at the entrang of the gate of the citie, and shal shewe his cause

"to the Elders of the citie: and thei shal receive him into the citie vnto them, and giue him a place, y he may dwel w them.

5 And if the a auenger of blood purfue after him, thei shal not delhue the slayer into his hand because he fmote his neighbour ignorantly, nether hated he him be-foretime:

6 But he shal dwel in y citie vntil he stand before the Congregacion in iudgement, or vntil the death of the hye Priest that shalbe in those daies: then shal the slayer returne, and come vnto his owne citie, and vnto his owne house, even vnto the citie from whence he fled.

7 Then thei appointed Kédeh in Galil in mount Naphtalí, & Sheché in mount Ephráim, and Kiriath-arbá, (which is Hebrón) in the mountaine of Iudáh.

8 And on the other side Iordén towarde Ie-richó Eastwarde, thei appointed *Bézer in the wilderness vpon the plaine, out of y tribe of Reubén, & Ramóth in Gilrád, out of the tribe of Gad, and Golán in Ba-shán, out of the a tribe of Manasseh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Ifraél, and for the stranger that soourned among them, that whofoeuer killed any persone ignorantly, might flee thether, & not dye by the hand of the auenger of blood, vntil he stode before the a Congregacion.

by lot, out of the tribe of Iudáh, and out of the tribe of Simcón, and out of the tri- be of Benjamin e thirtene cities.

And the rest of the children of Koháth had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Ephráim, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the halfe tribe of Manafféh, ten cities.

6 Also the children of Gerfhón had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Iffá- chár, and out of the tribe of Afhér, and out of the tribe of Naphtalí, and out of the halfe tribe of Manafféh in Bañán, thirté- ne cities.

7 The children of Merarí according to their families had out of the tribe of Reu- bén, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zebulún, twelve cities.

8 So the childré of Ifraél gaue by lot vnto the Leuites these cities with their fubur- bes, as the Lord had commanded by the hand of Mofes.

9 ¶ And they gaue out of y tribe of y childré of Iudáh, & out of the tribe of the childré of Simcón, these cities w are here named.

14 And Iatir with her suburbs, and Eshemodah and her suburbs,

15 And Holon with her suburbs, and Debir with her suburbs,

16 And Ain with her suburbs, and Iuttah with her suburbs, Beth-shean with her suburbs: nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Benjamin they gave Gibeon with her suburbs, Geba with her suburbs,

19 All the cities of the children of Aaron Priests, were thirte cities with their suburbs.

20 ¶ But to the families of the children of Kohath of the Levites, which were the rest of the children of Kohath (for the settlements of their lot were out of the tribe of Ephraim)

21 They gave them the city of refuge for the slayer, Heshkemon with her suburbs in mount Ephraim, and Gezer with her

THE BOKE OF IVDGES.

THE ARGUMENT.

A Lheit there is nothing that more provoketh Gods wrath, then mans ingratitude, yet is there nothing so displeasant and heinous that can turne back Gods love from his Church. For now when the Israelites were entred vnto the land of Candan, and sawe the trueth of Gods promes performed, in stead of acknowledging his great benefices and giving thanks for the same, they fell to moske horrible obliuon of Gods graces, contrarie to their sol: mne promes made vnto Ioshua, and so provoked his vengeance (as much as in them stode) to their utter destruction. Whereof as they had moske evident signes by the mutabilitie of their state: for he suffered them to be moske cruelly vexed and tormented by tyrants: he pulled them from liberate, and cast them into } }(a) us the intent they might feel their owne miseries and so call vnto him and be delivered. Yet to shewe that his mercies endure for ever, he raised vp from time to time suche as shulde deliuer them and assure them of his favour and grace, if they wolde turne to him by true repentance. And these deliurers the Scripture calleth Judges, because they were executors of Gods judgements, not chosen of the people nor by succession, but raised vp, as it semed best to God, for the governance of his people. They were twelve in number besides Ioshua, and governed from Ioshua vnto Saul the first King of Israel. Ioshua and these vnto the tyme of Saul ruled 336 yeres. In this boke are manie notable points declared, but two especially: first, the battel that the Church of God hathe for the maintenance of true religion against idolatrie and superstition: next, what great danger that commune wealth is in, when as God giueth not a magistrate to retinue his people in the purones of religion and his true service.

brought him to Ierusalém, and there he dyed.

Is 11, 14.

8 (Now the children of Iudah had fought against Ierusalém, and had také it & fmit-ten it with the edge of the sword, and had fct the citie on fire)

f These thre were gyats, & the children of Anik.

9 Afterwarde also the children of Iudah went downe to fight against the Canaanites, that dwelt in y mountaine, and toward the South, and in the lowe country.

10 And Iudah wét against the Canaanites, that dwelt in Hebrón, which Hebrón be-foretime was called Kiriath-arba: and they flcwe Shefhai, and Ahimán & Tal-más.

g Read Iosh. 9, 15.

11 And from thence he went to the inhabitants of Debir, and the name of Debir in olde time was Kiriath-fepher.

12 And Caléb said, He y fmireth Kiriath-fepher, & taketh it, euen to him wil I gue Achśáh my daughter to wife.

13 And Othniel the fonne of Kenáz Ca-lebs yonger brother toke it, to whome he gaue Achśáh his daughter to wife.

14 And whe flc came to him, flc moued him to aske of her father a field, s and flc light-ed of her aske, and Caléb said vnto her, What wilt thou?

15 And flc answered him, Giue me a blef-fing: for thou hast giueme a South con-trey, giueme also springs of water: and Caléb gaue her the springs abue and the springs beneath.

16 And the children of b Kení Mofés fa- h This was one of the va- thes in lawe went vp out of the citie of the palmetrees with the children of Iu- dáh, into the wildernes of Iudáh, that lieth in the South of Ará, and went and dwelt among the people.

17 But Iudáh went with Simeón his brother, and they flew the Canaanites that inhabited Zephách, and utterly destroyed it, and called the name of the citie Hor- Nam. 21, 2

18 Also Iudáh took Azzáh with the coasts thereof, & Askelón with the coasts thereof, and Ekron with the coasts thereof.

19 And the Lord was with Iudáh, and he possessed the mountains: for he could not drive out the inhabitants of the valleys, because they had chariots of iron.

20 And they gave Hebrón unto Caléb, as Moses had said, and he expelled thence the three sons of Anak.

21 But the children of Beniamín did not cast out the Jebusites, that inhabited Jerusalem: therefore the Jebusites dwell with the children of Beniamín in Jerusalem unto this day.

22 They also that were of the house of Joseph, went up to Beth-él, and the Lord was with them,

23 And the house of Joseph caused to dwell at Beth-él (and the name of the citie beforetime was Luz)

24 And the spies saw a man come out of the citie, & they said unto him, Shew us, we pray thee, the way into the citie, and we will fly thee mercie.

25 And when he had flown them the way into the citie, they smote the citie with the edge of the sword, but they let the man

& all his housholde departe.

26 Then the man went into the land of the Hittites, and buyit a citie, and called the name thereof Luz, which is the name thereof vnto this day.

27 Nether did Manasseh destroy Beth- Ioh. 17, 21. sheán with her townes, nor Taanách with her townes, nor the inhabitants of Dor with her townes, nor the inhabitants of I- bleám with her townes, nether the inha- bitants of Megidó with her townes: but the Canaanites dwelled fill in that land.

28 Neuertheles when Israel was strog, they put the Canaanites to tribute, and expel- led them not wholly.

29 Likewise Ephráim expelled not the Canaanites that dwelt in Gézer, but the Canaanites dwelt in Gézer among them.

of Nahalōl, but the Canaanites dwelt among them, and became tributaries. 31 ¶ Nether did Affer call out the inhabitants of Acchō, nor the inhabitants of Zidōn, nor of Ahlāb, nor of Achrib, nor of Helbāb, nor of Aphik, nor of Rehōb, 32 But the Afferites dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the land: for thei did not drive them a out. 33 ¶ Nether did Naphtali drive out the inhabitants of Beth-fhēmefh, nor the inhabitants of Beth-anāth, but dwelt among the Canaanites the inhabitants of the lid: neuertheles the inhabitants of Beth-fhēmefh, and of Beth-anāth became tributaries vnto them. 34 And the Amorites 'droue the children of Dan into the mountains: so that thei suffred them not to come downe to the valley. 35 And the Amorites 'dwelt ftill in mount Hēres in Analōn, and in Shaalbim, and when the a hand of Ifsephs familie pre-uailed, thei became tributaries: 36 And the coalt of the Amorites was from Maaleh-akrabbim, even from a Sēlah and vpwarde. CHAP. 11. 37 The Angel rebuketh the people, because thei had made peace with the Canaanites. 38 The Iffractites fell to idolatrie after Iffhua death. 39 This are deftuered into the enemies hands. 40 God deftuereth them by Iudges 41 Why God fuffred idolaters to remain among them.

38 And an a Angel of the Lord came vp from Gilgāl to Bochim, & laid, I made you to go vp out of Egypt, & haue brought you vnto the land which I had fwoine vnto your fathers, and laid, I wil neuer break my couenant with you. 2 a Ye alfo fhall make no couenant with the inhabitants of this land, a but fhall break downe their altars: but ye haue not obeyed my voyce. Why haue ye done this? 3 Wherefore, I laid alfo, I wil not caft the out before you, but thei fhall be a as thornes vnto your fides, and their gods fhall be 'your deftruction. 4 And when the Angel of the Lord fpake thefe wordes vnto all the children of Ifraél, the people lift vp their voyce, and wept. 5 Therefore thei called the name of that place, 'Bochim, and offred facrifices there vnto the Lord. 6 ¶ Now when Iffhūa had a fent the people away, the children of Ifraél went euerie mā into his inheritance to poffeffe the land. 7 And the people had ferued the Lord all the daies of Iffhūa, and all the daies of the Elders that outlyued Iffhūa, which had fene all the great c workes of the Lord that he did for Ifraél. 8 But Iffhūa the fonne of Nun the ftruāt of the Lord dyed, when he was an hūdreth and ten yeres olde: 9 And thei buiyed him in the coaftes of his inheritance, in a Timmath-hēres in mount Ephraim, on the Northfide of mount Galh. 10 And fo all that generacion was gathered vnto their fathers, and an other generacion arofe after them, which nether knew the Lord, nor yet the workes, which he had done for Ifraél. 11 ¶ The the children of Ifraél did wickedly in the fight of the Lord, and ferued a Baalim. 12 And forfoke the Lord God of their fathers, which brought them out of the land of Egypt, & followed other gods, eue the gods of the people that were round about them, and bowed vnto them, & prouoked the Lord to angre. 13 So thei forfoke the Lord, & ferued Baal and a Afftarōth. 14 And the wrath of the Lord was hote against Ifraél, and he deftuered them into the hāds of spoilers, that spoiled them, & he a folde them into the hands of their enemies roūl about the, so that thei colde no longer stand before their enemies. 15 a Whether focuer thei went out, the b had of the Lord was fote against them, as the Lord had laid, & as the Lord had fwoine vnto them: so he punshed them fore. 16 ¶ Notwithstanding, the Lord raifed vp Iudges, which 'destuered them out of the hands of their oppreffers. 17 But yet thei wolde not obey their Iudges: for thei went a whoring after other gods, and worhipped them, & turned quickly out of the a way, wherein their fathers walked, obeying the commandements of the Lord: thei did not so. 18 And when the Lord had raifed them vp Iudges, the Lord was with the Iudge, and deftuered them out of the hand of their enemies all the daies of the Iudge (for the Lord 'had compaffion of their gronings, a because of them that oppreffed them & to mented them) 19 Yet a whe the Iudge was dead, thei returned, and 'did worfe then their fathers, in following other gods to fcue them and worhip them: thei ceafed not from their owne inuencions, nor from their rebellious way. 20 Wherefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Ifraél, & he laid, Because this people haine

That through them I may = proue If- rael, whether they wil kept it, or not.

So the Lord left those nations, & droue them not out immediately, nether deli- ered them into the hand of Iofhúa.

CHAP. III.

1 The Canaanites were left to try Ifrael. 2 Othniel de- liuereth Ifrael. 3 Ehúd killeth King Eglón. 4 Sham- gor killeth the Philistims.

2 These now are the nations which the Lord left, that he might proue Ifrael by them (men as many of Ifrael as had not known all the 3 warres of Canán,

4 Which were achieved by 3 hand of God, and not by the power of man.

5 For this tru- hed in God & he fought for 3 them.

2 Onely to make the generations of the children of Ifrael to know, and to teache them warre, which douteles their predef- feitors knowe 6 not)

3 Fine princes of the Philistims, and all the Canaanites, and the Sidonians, and the Hiuites that dwelt in mount Lebanon, from mount Báal hermón vnto one come to Hamath.

4 And these remained to proue Ifrael by them, to wit, whether they wolde obey the commandements of the Lord, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Moses.

5 And the children of Ifrael dwelt among the Canaanites, the Hitrites, & the Amo- rites, and the Perizzites, and the Hiuites, and the Iebuistes,

6 And they toke 7 their daughters to be their wives, and gave their daughters to their sonnes, and ferued their gods.

7 So 8 children of Ifrael did wickedly in the sight of the Lord, & forgave the Lord their God, & ferued Baalim, and 9 Athe- róth.

8 Therefore the wrath of the Lord was kindled against Ifrael, and he solde them into the had of Chushán rishatháim King of 'Arám-naharáim, & the childré of If- rael ferued Chushán rishatháim eight ye- res.

9 And when the children of Ifrael cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred vp a faut- our to the children of Ifrael, and he faued them, enen Othniél the sonne of Kenáz, Caleb yonger brother.

10 And the 11 Spirit of the Lord came vpó him, and he iudged Ifrael, and went out to warre: & the Lord deliuered Chushán ri- shatháim King of 'Arám into his hand, and his hand preuailed against Chushán rishatháim.

11 So the land had rest 12 fourtie yeres, and Othniél the sonne of Kenáz dyed.

13 The children of Ifrael againe co- mitted wickednes in 14 sight of the Lord: & the Lord 15 strengthened Eglón King of Moab against Ifrael, because ther had committed wickednes before the Lord.

13 And he gathered vnto him the children of Ammón, and Amalek, and went and smore Ifrael, and they possessed the citic of palmetrees.

14 So the children of Ifrael ferued Eglón King of Moab eightyne yeres.

15 But when the children of Ifrael cryed vnto the Lord, the Lord stirred them vp a fauiour, Ehúd the sonne of Gerá the sonne of 'Temin, a man lame of his right hand: and the children of Ifrael sent a present by him vnto Eglón King of Moab.

16 And Ehúd made him a dagger with two edges of a cubite length, and he did girde it vnder his raymet vpon his right thigh,

17 And he presented the gift vnto Eglón King of Moab (and Eglón was a very fat man)

18 And whé he had now presented the pre- sent, he sent away the people that bare the present,

19 But he turned againe from the 20 quarries, that were by Gilgál, and faid, I haue a se- cret errand vnto thee, ó King. Who faid, Kepe 21 silence: and all that stode about him, went out from him.

20 Then Ehúd came vnto him, (& he fate alone in a somer parler, which he had) & Ehúd faid, I haue a message vnto thee frá God. Then he arose out of his throne,

22 So that the hafte went in after the bladet and the fat closed about the blade, so that he colde not drawe the dagger out of his belly, but the dirt came out.

23 Then Ehúd gate him out into the por- che, and shut the dores of the parler vpon him, and locked them.

24 And when he was gone out, his seruants came: who seing that 25 dores of the parler were locked, they faid, 26 Surely he doeth his castm. nt in his somer chambre.

25 And they tarved til they were ashamed: and seing he opened not the dores of the parler, they toke the keye, and opened the, and beholde, their lord was fallen dead on the earth.

26 So Ehúd escaped (while they tarved) and was passed the quarris, and escaped vnto Suráth.

27 And when he came home, 28 he blewe a trumpet in mount Ephráim, and the children of Ifrael went downe with him from the mountaine, and he went before them.

29 Then faid he vnto them, Follow me: for the Lord hathe deliuered your ene- mies, enen Moab into your hand. So they went downe after him, and toke the paf-

Ifraél fume and are gmd into the hands of Iabin. De- borah rudgeth Ifraél and exhorreth Barák to deliuer the people to before fleteh. 17 And is hyllled by Iail

And the children of Ifraél began a- gaine to do wickedly in the fight of the Lord when Ehúd was dead.

2 And the Lord folde them into the hand of ¹ Iabin King of Canaan, that teigned in Hazór, whoft chief captaine was called Siferá, which dwelt in ² Harofshoth of the Gentiles.

Then the children of Ifraél ceyed vnto the Lord: (for he had nine hundreth cha- rets of yron, and twenrie yeres he had vexed the children of Ifraél very fore)

4 ¶ And at that time Deborah a Prophe- tesse the wife of Lapidóth ¹ judged If- raél.

5 And this Deborah dwelt vnder a palme tre, betwene Ramáh and Beth-él in moút Ephráim, & the children of Ifraél came vp to her for judgement.

6 Then she fent and called Barák the fon- ne of Abinóam out of Kédefh of Naph- tali, and faid vnto him, Hathé not 9 Lord God of Ifraél ¹ commanded, feying, Go, and drawe toward mount Tabór, & take with thee ten thousand men of the children of Naphtali and of the children of Zebulun?

7 And I wil drawe vnto thee to the ¹ iouer Kifhón Siferá, the captaine of Iabins ar- mie with his chaets, and his multitude, & wil deliuer him into thine hand.

8 And Barák faid vnto her, ¹ If thou wilt go with me, I wil go: but if thou wilt not go with me, I wil not go.

9 Then she answered, I wil surely go with thee, but this is ourney that thou takeft, fhal not be for thine honour: for 9 Lord fhal fel Sifera into 9 had of awomá. And De- borah a: ofe and went 9 Barák to Kédefh.

10 ¶ And Barák called Zebulun and Naph- tali to Kédefh, & ¹ he went vp on his fere with ten thousand men, and Deborah wét vp with him.

11 (Now Hebet the Kenite, which was of the ¹ children of ¹ Hobáb the father in law of Moës, was departed from the ¹ Kenites, and pitched his tent ¹ vntil the plaine of Zaanam, which is by Kédefh)

12 Thé they fhewed Siferá, 9 Barák 9 fonne of Abinóa was gone vp to mou't Tabór.

13 And Siferá called for all is chaets, even nine hundreth chaets of yron, & all the people that were with him to ¹ Harofheth of the Gentiles, vnto the iouer Kifhón.

14 Then Deborah faid vnto Barák, 1 Vp: for this is 9 day that the Lord hathc deli- uered Sifera into thine hand. Is not the Lord gone out before thee fo Barák went downe from mount Tabór, and ten thou- fand men after him.

15 And the Lord destroyed Siferá and all his chaets, & all his hofte with the edge of the fwoide, before Barák, fo that Siferá lighted downe of his chaet, and fled away on his fete.

16 But ¹ Barák purfued after the chaets, & after the hofte vnto Harofheth of the Gétiles: & all 9 holt of Sifera fel vpon 9 edge of 9 fwoide: thcte was not a má leit.

17 Howbeit, Sifera fled away on his fete to the tent of Iaél the wife of ¹ Hebet the Kenite: (for peace was betw: ne Iabin the King of Hazór, and betwene the houfe of Hebet the Kenite)

18 And Iaél wét out to mete Siferá, & faid vnto him, Turne in, my Lord, turne into me: feare not. And when he had turned in vnto her into het tent, she couered him with a ¹ mantel.

19 And he faid vnto her, Giue me, I pray thee, a fittle water to drike: for I am thulify. And she opened ¹ a bottle of milke & ga- ue him drinke, and couered him.

20 Againe he faid vnto her, Stande in the dore of the tent, and when anie man do- eth come and enquire of thee, faying, Is ¹ anie man her: thou fhak fay, Nay.

21 Then Iaél Hebers wife toke a: nayle of the tent, and toke an hammer in her hand, and went fsoftly vnto him, and fmote the naile into his temples, and fattened it into the grounde, (fo: he was falt a flope, and wearse) and fo he dyed.

22 And beholde, as Barák purfued after Si- ferá, Iaél came out to mete him, and faid vnto him, Come, and I wil fhewet thee the má, whome thou fk kept: and whé he came into het ten beholde, Sifrá lay ¹ dead, and the naile in his temples.

23 So God broght downe Iabin the King of Canaan that day before the children of Ifraél.

24 And the hand of the children of Ifraél "prospereft", and preuailed against Iabin the King of Canaan, vntil they had de- fstroyed Iabin King of Canaan.

3 When Israel had fowen, then came vp the Midianites, the Amalekites, and they of the East, and came vpon them,

4 And camped by them, and destroyed the frute of the earth, euen til thou come vnto Azzah, & left no foode for Israel, nether shepe, nor oxe, nor asse.

5 For they wet vp, and their cattel, and came with their tentes as greshoppers in multitude: so that they and their camels were without numbers: and they came in- to the land to destroye it.

6 So was Israel exceedingly impouerished by the Midianites: therefore the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord.

7 And when the children of Israel cryed vnto the Lord because of the Midianites, The Lord sent vnto the children of Israel a Prophet, who said vnto them, Thus sayeth the Lord God of Israel, I haue brought you vp fro Egypt & haue brought you out of the house of bondage,

9 And I haue deliuered you out of the had of the Egyptians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and haue cast them out before you, and giuen you their land.

10 And I said vnto you, I am the Lord your God: * for e not the gods of the Amotites in whose land you dwell: but you haue not obeyed my voyce.

11 ¶ And the Angel of the Lord came, and sate vnder the oke: which was in Ophrah, that pertained vnto Isaiah the father of the Exites, and his sonne Gideón threshed wheat by the win: presse, to hide it from the Midianites.

12 Then the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto him, and said vnto him, The Lord is with thee, thou valiant man.

13 To whome Gideón answered, 4 Ah my Lord, if the Lord be with vs, why then is all this come vpon vs? and where be all his miracles which our fathers tolde vs of, and said, Did not the Lord bring vs out of Egypt? but now the Lord hathe forsaken vs, and deliuered vs in- to the hand of the Midianites.

14 And the Lord looked vpon him, and said. Go in this thy might, & thou shalt saue. Israel out of the hands of the Midianites: haue not I sent thee?

15 And he answered him, Ah my Lord, whereby shal I saue Israel? beholde, my father is poore in Manasseh, and I am the least in my father's house.

16 Then the Lord said vnto him, I will be- refore be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Midianites, as one man.

17 And he answered him, I pray thee, if I haue foode fauour in thy sight, then shewe me a sign, that thou talkest with me.

18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, vntil I come vnto thee, and bring mine offering, & lay it before thee. And he said, I wil tary vntil thou come againe.

19 ¶ Then Gideón went in, & made ready a kid, & vnleauened bread of an Ephah of sioue, and put the flesh in a basket, and put the broth in a pot, and broght it out vnto him vnder the oke, and presented it.

20 And the Angel of God said vnto him, Take the flesh and the vnleauened bread, and lay them vpon this stone, and powre out the broth: and he did so.

21 ¶ The the Angel of the Lord put forth the end of the staffe that he held in his hand, and touched the flesh & the vnleauened bread: and there arose vp fire out of the stone, and consumed the flesh & the vnleauened bread: so the Angel of the Lord departed out of his sight.

22 And when Gideón perceiued that it was an Angel of the Lord, Gideón then said, Alas, my Lord God: * for because I haue sene an Angel of the Lord face to face, I shal dye.

23 And the Lord said vnto him, Peace be vnto thee: seare not, thou shalt not dye.

24 Then Gideón made an altar there vnto the Lord, and called it. Iehouah shalom: vnto this day it is in Ophrah, of the father of the Exites.

25 ¶ And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Take thy fathers yong bullocke, & another bullocke of feuen yeres olde, and destroy the altar of Baal that thy father haue, and cut downe the groue that is by it,

26 And buyde an altar vnto the Lord thy God vpo the top of this rock, in a plaine place: and take the feconde bullocke, and offer a burnt offspring with the wood of the groue, which thou shalt cut downe.

27 Then Gideón toke ten men of his seruants, and did as the Lord bade him: but because he feared to do it by day for his fathers housholde and the men of the cite, he did it by night.

28 ¶ And when the men of the cite arose early in the morning, beholde, the altar of Baal was broken, and the groue cut downe that was by it, and the feconde bullocke officid vpon the altar that was made.

29 Therefore they said one to another, Who hathe done this thing? & when they inquired and asked, they said, Gideón the sonne of Isaiah hathe done this thing.

30 Then the men of the cite said vnto Ioash, Bring out thy sonne, that he may dye: for he hathe destroyed the altar of Baal, & the also cut down: the groue that was by it.

38 And so it was: for he rose vp early on y motowe, & thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dewe out of the fleece, and filled a bowle of water.

39 Againe Gideon said vnto God, Be not angry with me, that "I may speake once more: let me proue once againe, I pray thee, with the fleece: let it now be diye o- nely vpon the fleece, and let dewe be vpo all the grounde.

40 And God did so that same night: for it was 3drye vpon the fleece onely and there was dewe on all the grounde.

CHAP. VII.

2 The Lord commandeth Gideon to send a may a great parte of his company so The Midianites are discom- plated by a wondrous fort. 3 Orob and Zeah are Maine.

1 Then "Ierubbaal (who is Gideon) rose vp early and all the people that were with him, and pitched beside" the well of Harod, so that the hoste of the Midianites was on the Northside of them in the valley by the hill of "Moteh.

1 And y Lord said vnto Gideon, The people that are with thee, are too many for me to give the Midianites into their hands, lest Israel make their "vanne against me, and say, Mine hand hath faued me.

3 Now therefore proclaim in the audience of the people, & say, "Who is timorous or fearful, let him returne, and departe early from mount Gilead And they returned of the people which were at mount Gilead, two and twentie thousand. so ten thousand remained.

4 And the Lord said vnto Gideon, The people are yet too many bring the downe vnto the water, and I will trye them for thee there: and of whome I say vnto thee, This man shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee, and of whome forer I say vnto thee, This man shall not go with thee, the same shall not go.

5 So he brought downe the people vnto the water. And y Lord said vnto Gideon, As many as lapped the water with their tongues as a dog lappeth, them put by themselves, & euery one that shall bowe downe his knees to "drinke, put asure.

6 And the number of them that lapped by putting their hands to their mouths. were three hundred men: but all the remnant of the people kneeled downe vpon their knees to drinke water.

7 Then the Lord said vnto Gideon, By these thre hundred men that lapped, wil I faue you, and deluer the Midianites in- to thine hand, and let all the other d people go euerie man vnto his place.

8 So the people toke vitales "with the, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Israel, euerie man vnto his tent, " & retained the thre hundred men: and the ho- ste of Midian was beneth him in a valley.

9 And the same night the Lord said vnto him, Arise, "get thee downe vnto the ho- ste: for I haue deluered it into thine had.

10 But if thou feare to go downe, then go thou, & Phurah thy seruant downe to the hoste, 11 And thou shalt hearken, what they say, and so shal thine hands be strong to go downe vnto y hoste. The went he downe and Phurah his seruat vnto the outside of the souldias that were in the hoste.

12 And the Midianites, and the Amalek- ites and all they of the East, lay in the val- ley like grasshoppers in multitude, & their camels were without nombei, as the sand which is by the seaside for multitude.

13 And when Gideon was come, beholde, a man tolde a dreame vnto his neighbour, and said, Beholde, I dreamed a dreame, & lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled from aboue into the hoste of Midian, and came vnto a tent, and fmete it that it fell, and o- uerturned it, that the tent fell downe.

14 And his fellowe answered, and said, This is nothing els faue the sworde of Gideon the sonne of Loaf a man of Israel, for into his had hathe God deluered Midian and all the hoste.

15 When Gideon heard the dreame tol- de, and the interpretation of the same, he r v or shipped, and returned vnto the ho- ste of Israel, & said, Vp: for the Lord hathe deluered into your had y hoste of Midia.

princes of Midián, Oréb and Zeéb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? and when he had thus spoken, then their spirits abated toward him.

4 And Gideón came to Iordén to pass out, he, and the thre hundreth men that were with him, weary, yet pursuing them.

5 And he said vnto the men of Succóth, Giue, I pray you, 'mosfels of bread vn- to the people' that follow me (for they be weary) that I may follow after Zebah, & Zalmunna Kings of Midián.

6 And the princes of Succóth said, Are the hands of Zebah and Zalmunna now in thine hads, that we should give bread vn- to thine armies?

7 Gideón then said, Therefore when the Lord hath deliuered Zebah & Zalmun- na into mine hand, I will 'teare your flesh with thornes of the wilderness and with breers.

8 And he went vp thence to Penuél, and spake vnto them likewise, and the men of Penuél answered him, as the men of Succóth answered.

9 And he said also vnto the men of Pe- nuél, When I come against 'in peace, I will break down this towar.

22 ¶ Then the men of Ifraél said vnto Gi- deón, Reigne thou ouer vs, bothe thou, & thy fonne, & thy 2 sonnes fonne: for thou haft deliuered vs out of y hád of Midián.

23 And Gideón said vnto them, I wil not reigne ouer you, nether shal my childe reigne ouer you, but the Lord shal 2 reigne ouer you.

24 Againe Gideón said vnto them, I wolde defite a request of you, that you wolde giue me euerie man the earrings of his praye (fot they had golden earrings because they were Ifsnacites)

26 And the weight of the golden earrings that he required, was a thousand and seven hundreth shekels of golde, beside colliers, "and jewels, and purple raiment that was on the Kings of Midián, and beside the cheines, that were about their camels neckes.

27 And Gideón made an 2 Ephód thereof, and put it in Ophrah his citie: & all Ifra-él wét a whoring there after it, which was the destruction of Gideón and his house.

28 Thus was Midián brought lowe before y childré of Ifraél, so that they lift vp their heads nomore: and the countrey was in quietnes forty yees in the dayes of Gi- deón.

32 So Gideón the fonne of Ioásh dyed in a good age, and was butyed in the fepulchre of Ioásh his father in Ophrah, of the 2 fa- ther of the Earites.

33 But when Gideón was dead, the children of Ifraél turned away and wét a whoring after Baalím, and made 2 Baal-berith their god.

34 And the children of Ifraél remembered

11 Then said the trees vnto the vine, Come thou be King ouer vs. 12 But the vine said vnto them, Shulde I leue my wine, whereby I cheare God and man, and go to auance me above the trees 13 The said all the trees vnto the bramble, Come thou and reigne ouer vs. 14 And the bramble said vnto the trees, If ye wil in dede anoint me King ouer you, come, & put your trust vnder my shadow: and if not, the fire shall come out of the bramble, and consume the cedres of Lebanon. 15 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimélech King, & if ye haue dealt wel with Ierubbáal & with his house, & haue done vnto him according to the deferuing of his hands, 16 Now therefore, if ye do truely and vncorruptly to make Abimélech King, & if ye haue dealt wel with Ierubbáal & with his house, & haue done vnto him according to the deferuing of his hands, 17 (For my father fought for you, and "ad-uentured his life, & deliuered you out of the hands of Midián. 18 And ye are risen vp against my fathers house this day, and haue slayne his children, about seuento per sones vpon one stone, & haue made Abimélech the sonne of his maideferuant, King ouer the men of Shechem, because he is your brother) 19 If ye then haue delt truely and purely with Ierubbáal, and with his house this day, then a reioyce ye with Abimélech, and let him reioyce with you. 20 But if not, let a fire come out from Abimélech, and consume the men of Shechém and the house of Milló: also let a fire come for the fro the men of Shechém, & from the house of Milló, and consume Abimélech. 21 And Iothám ranne away, and fled, & wét to Beér and dwelt there for seare of Abimélech his brother. 22 So Abimélech reigned thre yere ouer Israel. 23 But God sent an euil spirit betwene Abimélech, and the men of Shechém: and the me of Shechém brake their promes to Abimélech, 24 That the crueltie towarde the seunte sonnes of Ierubbáal & their blood might come and be laide vpon Abimélech their brother, which had slayne them, and vpon y men of Shechém, which had aided him to kill his brethren. 25 So y men of Shechém set men in waite for him in the tops of the mountaines: who robbed all that passed that way by them: and it was tolde Abimélech. 26 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd came with his brethren, and then went to Shechém: and the men of Shechém put their confidence in him. 27 Therefore thei went out into the field, & gathered in their grapes & troade them, and made merry, and went into the house of their gods, and did eat & drinke, and cursed Abimélech.

28 The Gáal the sonne of Ebéd said, Who is Abimélech? and who is Shechém, that we shulde ferue him? Is he not the sonne of Ierubbáal? & Zebúl is his officer? Serue rather the men of Hamór the father of Shechém: for why shulde we ferue him?

29 Now wolde God this people were vnder mine had: then wolde I put away Abimélech. And he said to Abimélech, Increase thine armie, and come out.

30 ¶ And when Zebúl the ruler of the citie heard the wordes of Gáal the sonne of E-béd, his wrath was kindled.

31 Therefore he sent messengers vnto Abimélech "pruely, saying, Beholde, Gáal the sonne of Ebéd and his brethren be come to Shechém, and beholde, the fortifie the citie against thee.

32 Now therefore arise by night, thou and y people that is with thee, & lie in wayte in the field.

33 And rise early in the morning as soon as the sonne is vp, and assalt the citie: and when he and the people that is with him, shall come out against thee, do to him "what thou canst.

34 ¶ So Abimélech rose vp, & all the people that were with him by night: and they laie in waite against Shechém in foure bandes.

35 Then Gáal the sonne of Ebéd went out and stode in the entring of the gate of the citie: and Abimélech rose vp, and the folke that were with him, fro lying in waite.

36 And when Gáal sawe the people, he said to Zebúl, Beholde, there come people downe from the tops of the mountaines: and Zebúl said vnto him, The shadow of the mountaines some men vnto thee.

37 And Gáal spake againe, & said, Se, there come folke downe
"by the middle of the land, & an other band cometh by the way of the plaine of Meonenim.

38 Then said Zebúl vnto him, Where is now thy mouth, that said, Who is Abimélech, that we shulde ferue him? Is not this the people that thou hast despised: Go out now, I pray thee, and fight with them.

39 And Gáal went out before the men of Shechém, and fought with Abimélech.

40 But Abimélech pursued him, & he fled before him, and many were ouerthrown and wounded, euen vnto the entring of the gate.

41 And Abimélech dwelt at Arumáh: and Zebúl thrust out Gáal and his brethren that they shulde not dwel in Shechém.

3 And the Angel of the Lord appeared vnto the woman, and said vnto her, Beholde now, thou art baren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceiue, and beare a fonne. 4 And now therefore beware that thou dinke no wine, nor ftrong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing. 5 For lo, thou shalt conceiue and beare a fonne, & no tafor shal * come on his head: for the childe shalbe a * Nazarite vnto God from his birth: and he shal begin to faue Ifrael out of the hands of the Philistims. 6 Then the wife came, & tolde her houfband, faying, A man of God came vnto me, and the facion of him was like the facion of y Angel of God exceeding fearful, but I asked him not whence he was, nether tolde he me his name, But he said vnto me, Beholde, thou shalt conceiue, and beare a fonne, and now thou shalt drinke no wine, nor ftrong drinke, nether eat anie vncleane thing: for the childe shal be a Nazarite to God from his byrth to the day of his death. Then Manóah prayed to the Lord and said, I pray thee, my Lord, let the man of God, whome thou fenteft, come againe now vnto vs, and teache vs what we shal do vnto the childe when he is borne. And God heard the voyce of Manóah, & the Angel of God came againe vnto the wife, as the fate in the field, but Manóah her houf band was not with her. And the wife made haste & ranne, and shewed her houf band and said vnto him, Beholde, the man hath appeared vnto me, that came vnto me to day. And Manóah arose and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said vnto him, Art thou the man that fpakest vnto the woman? and he said, Yea. Then Manóah said, Now let thy faying come to paffe: but how shal we ordre the childe, and do vnto him? And y Angel of the Lord said vnto Manóah, The woman must beware of all that I said vnto her. She may eat of nothing that cometh of the vinetre: the shal not drinke wine nor ftrong drinke, nor eat anie s vncleane thing: let her obfe: ue all that I haue commanded her. Manóah then said vnto the Angel of the Lord, I pray thee, let vs reteine thee, vntil we haue made ready a kid for thee. And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Manóah, Thogh thou make me abide, I wil not eat of thy bread, and if thou wilt make a burnt offering, offer it vnto the Lord: for Manóah knewe not that it was an Angel of the Lord.

17 Againe Manóah said vnto y Angel of y

Lord, What is thy name, y whe thy faying is come to paffe, we may honour thee?

18 And y Angel of the Lord said vnto him, Why afkeft y thuf after my name, which is fecret?

19 Then Manóah toke a kid with a meat of fring, and offred it vpon a fione vnto the Lord: and the Angel did wonderoufly, whiles Manóah and his wife loked on.

20 For when the flame came vp towarde heauen from the altar, the Angel of the Lord afcended vp in the flame of the altar, and Manóah and his wife beheld it, & fel on their faces vnto the ground.

21 (So the Angel of the Lord did no more appeare vnto Manóah and his wife) The Manóah knewe that it was an Angel of y Lord.

22 And Manóah said vnto his wife, We shal furely dye, becaufe we haue fene God.

23 But his wife said vnto him, If the Lord wolde kil vs, he wolde not haue receiued a k burnt offing, and a meat offing of our hands, nether wolde he haue shewed vs all thefe things, nor wolde now haue tolde vs anie fiche.

24 And the wife bare a fonne, and called his name Samsón: and the childe grewe, & the Lord bleffed him.

25 And the Spirit of y Lord began to ftrégthe him in the hoste of Dan, betwene Zoráh, and Efhtaól.

2 Samsón defreth to haue a wife of the Philistims. 6 He killeth a lyon. 12 He propoundeth a riddle. 19 He kylleth thirtse. 20 His wife forfaketh him and taketh another.

1 Now Samsón went downe to Timnáth, and fawe a woman in Timnáth of the daughters of the Philistims,

2 And he came vp and tolde his father and his mother, and said, I haue fene a woman in Timnáth of the daughters of the Philistims: now therefore "giue me her to wife."

3 The his father and his mother said vnto him, Is there «neuer a wife amóg y daughters of thy brethren, and among all my people, that thou misft go to take a wife of the vncircúiled Philistims? And Samsón said vnto his father, Giue me her, for she pleafeth me wel.

4 But his father and his mother knewe not that it came of the Lord, that he shulde foke an occafion againft the Philistims: for at that time the Philistims reigned ouer Ifrael.

5 Then went Samsón and his father and his mother downe to Timnáth, and came to y vineyardes at Timnáth: & beholde, a yong lyon roared vpon him.

ther tolde he his father nor his mother what he had done.

7 And he went down, and talked with the woman which was beautiful in the eyes of Samfon.

8 ¶ And within a few days, where he returned to receive her, he went aside to & the carke is of the lyon; and beholde, there was a swarme of bees, and honey in the body of the lyon.

9 And he toke therof, as his hands, and went eating, and came to his father and to his mother, and gave vnto them, and they did eat: but he tolde not them, that he had taken the honey out of the bodie of y lyon.

10 So his father went down vnto the woman, and Samfon made there a d feaft: for fo vfed the yong men to do.

11 And when e they fawe him, they brought thirtie companions to be with him.

12 Then Samfon faid vnto them, I wil now put for the a ridle vnto you: & if you can declare it me within feuen dayes of the feaft, and finde it out, I wil giue you thirtie fhetes, and thirtie f change of garmets.

13 But if you cānot declare it me, then fhāl ye giue me, thirtie fhetes and thirtie change of garments. And they answered him, Put for the thy ridle, that we may heare it.

14 And he faid vnto them, Out of the eater came meat, and out of the ftrong came fwetenes: & they colde not in thre dayes expounde the ridle.

15 And when the feuenth day was e come, they faid vnto Samfons wife, Entife thyne houfband, that he may declare vs the ridle, left we bu ne thee and thy fathers houle with hite. Haue ye called vs, to poffeffe vs is it not fo?

16 And Samfons wife wept before him, and faid, Surely thou hateft me and loueft me not: for thou haft put for the a ridle vnto the h children of my people, and haft not tolle it me. And he faid vnto her, Beholde, I haue not tolde it my father, not my mother, and fhāl I tel it thee?

17 Then Samfons wife wept before him feuen dayes, while their feaft lafted: and when the feuenth day came, he tolde her, becaufe ſhe was importunate vpon him: fo ſhe tolde the ridle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the citie laid vnto him the feuenth day before the ſonne went down, What is ſwearer, then bonie? and what is ſtronger then a lyon? Then ſaid he vnto them, h If ye had not plowed w my heiffer, ye had not founde out my ridle.

19 And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon him, and he went down to Aſhkelon, and ſlewe thirtie men of them & ſpoiled the, and gaue change of garments vnto them, which expounded the ridle: & his wrath.

2 And her father said, I thought that thou haddest hated her: therefore gaue I her to thy companion. Is not her yonger sifter fairer then she take her, I pray thee, in stead of the other.

3 The Samson said vnto them, Now am I more blameles then the Philistines: therefore wil I do them displeasure.

4 ¶ And Samson went out, & toke three hundred foxes, and toke firebrands, & turned them taile to taile, and put a firebrand in the middes between two tails.

5 And when he had set the brandes on fire, he sent them out into the standing corne of the Philistines, and burnt vp bothe the crickets & the standing corne with the vineyardes & oliues.

6 Then the Philistines said, Who hath done this? And they answered, Samson the sonne in lawe of the Dalmite, because he had taken his wife, & giuen her to his companion. Then the Philistines came vp and caught burnt her and her father with fire.

7 And Samson said vnto them, Though ye haue done this, yet wil I be auenged of you, and then I wil cease.

8 So he smote them hippe and thigh with a mighty plague: then he went and dwelt in the toppe of the rocke Etain.

9 Samfon curieth away the gutes of Azzah. 10 He was descued by Delilah. 11 He polieth drume the house vpon the Philistims, and dyeto with them.

1 Hen went Samfon to Azzah, & fawe there an harlot, & 2 went in vnto her.

2 And it was tolde to the Azzathites, Sam- fon is come hether. And they went about, & layed wait for him all night in the gate of the citre, and were quiet all the night, faying, Abide til the morning earely, and we fhal kil him.

3 And Samfon flept til midnight, & arose at midnight, and toke the dores of the ga- tes of the citre, and the two poftes and lift them away with the barres, and put them vpon his fhulders, and carted them vp to the top of the mountaine that is before Hebron.

4 And after this he loued a woman by y 1 tuer of Sorék, whose name was Delilah:

5 Vnto whome came the princes of y Phi- listims, and faid vnto her, Entife him, and fe wherein his great ftrength lieth, and by what meane we may ouercome him, that we may binde him, and punifhe him, and euerie one of vs fhall giue thee eleuen hun- dred 2 fhhekels of fluer.

6 And Delilah faid to Samfon, Tel me, I pray thee, wherein thy great ftrength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bounde, to do the hurt.

7 Samfon then answered vnto her, If they binde me with feuen greene cordes that were neuer dried, the fhall I be weake, and be as an other man.

8 And the princes of y Philistims brought her feue greene cordes that were not drye, and the bound him therewith.

9 (And the had 4 men lying in wayte 1 her in y chaber) Then the faid vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samfon. And he brake the cordes, as a thread of towe is broken, when it

10 After Delilah faid vnto Samfon, Se, y haft mocked me and tolde me lies. I pray thee now, 1 tel me wherewith y mightest be bound.

11 Then he answered her, If they binde me with newe ropes y neuer were occupied, then fhall I be weake, and be as another man.

12 Delilah therefore toke newe ropes, and bound him therewith, and faid vnto him, The Philistims be vpon thee, Samfon: (& men lay in wait in the chaber) & he brake them from his armes, as a thread.

13 Afterward Delilah faid to Samfon, He- therto thou haft beguiled me, and tolde me lies: tel me how thou mightest be princes of the Philistims came vp vnto her, and brought the money in their hands.

19 And the made him flepe vpo her knees, & the called a man, & made him to fhaue of y feuen lockes of his head, & the begu

7 Then the sue men departed and came to Laifh, and sawe the people that were therein, which dwelt careles, after the ma- ner of the Zidonians, quiet and sure, be- cause no man "made any trouble in the land, or vsurped any dominion: also they were far from the Zidonians, and had no business with other men.

8 So thei came againe vnto their brethré to Zorah and Efhtal: and their brethren said vnto them, What haue ye done?

9 And thei answered, Arife, that we may go vp against them: for we haue sene the land, and surely it is very good, and e do ye sit still be not slouthful to go and enter to possess the land.

11 Then there departed thence of the familie of the Danites, from Zorah and from Efhtal, six hudreth men appointed with instruments of warre.

12 And thei went vp, & pitched in Kiriath iearim in Iudah: wherefore they called that place, "Mahanch-Dan vnto this day: and it is behince Kiriath iearim.

13 And thei went thence vnto mount Ephraim, and came to the house of Michah.

14 Then answered the sue men, that wet to spie out the countrey of Laish, and said vnto their brethren, f Knowe ye not, that there is in these houses an Ephod, & Teraphim, and a grauen and a molten image? Now therefore consider what ye haue to do.

15 And thei turned thetherwarde and came to the house of the yong man the Leuite, euen vnto the house of Michah, and saluted him peaceably.

16 And the six hundreth men appointed with their weapons of warre, which were of the children of Dan, stode by the entering of the gate.

17 Then the sue men that went to spie out the land, went in thether, and toke the a grauen image and the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image: and the Priest stode in the entering of the gate with the six hundreth men, that were appointed with weapons of warre,

18 And the other went into Michahs house and set the grauen image, the Ephod, and the Teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the Priest vnto them, What do ye?

19 And thei answered him, Holde thy peace: laye thine hand vpon thy mouth, and come with vs to be out father and Priest. Whether is it better that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto the house of one man, or that thou shuldest be a Priest vnto a tribe and to a familie in Israel?

20 And the Priests iear was glad, and he toke the Ephod and the Teraphim, and the grauen image, and went among the b people.

21 And they turned and departed, and put the children and the cattel, and the substi- ce before them.

22 When thei were farce of fro the hou- se of Michah, the men that were in the houses nere to Michahs house, gathered together, and pursued after the children of Dan, 23 And cryed vnto the children of Dan: who turned their faces, and said vnto Mi- chah, What ayleth thee, that thou makest an outcrye?

24 And he said, Ye haue taken away my b gods, which I made, and the Priest, and go your waies: & what haue I more? how then say ye vnto me, What aileth thee?

25 And the children of Dan said vnto him, Let not thy voyce be heard among vs, it is "angry fellowes runne vpon thee, & thou lose thy life with the liues of thine houf- holde.

26 So the children of Dan went their waies: and when Michah sawe that they were to strong for him, he turned, & went backe vnto his house.

27 And the toke the i things which Mi- chah had made, and the Priest which he had, and came vnto Laifh, vnto a quiet people and without mistrust, and smote the with the edge of the sworle. & burnt

22 And the people, the men of Israel pluc- ked vp their hearts, and set their battel a- gaine in array in the place where they put them in array the first day.

23 (For the children of Israel had gone vp and wept before the Lord vnto y euening, and had asked of the Lord, saying, Shal I

24 Then the children of Israel came nere against the children of Benjamin the se- conde day.

25 Also the seconde day Benjamin came forthe to mete the out of Gibeah, & slewe downe to the groside of the children of Ifrael againe eighteen thousand men: " all they colde handle the swords.

26 Then all the children of Israel went vp & all the people came also vnto the house of God, & wept and sate there before the Lord & fasted that day vnto the euening, and offered burnt offrings & peace offrings before the Lord.

27 And the children of Israel asked the Lord (for m there was the Aike of the co- uenant of God in those dayes, 29 And Israel set men to lye in wait round about Gibeah.

30 And the children of Israel went vp a- gainst the children of Benjamin the third day, and put them selues in array against Gibeah, as at other times.

31 Then the children of Benjamin coming out against the people, were drawn from the citie: and they began to smite of the people and kill as at other times, even by the wayes in the field (whereof one goeth up to the house of God, & the other to Gibeah) upon a thirtie men of Israel.

32 (For the children of Benjamin said, They are fallen before us, as at the first. But the children of Israel said, Let us flee & plucke them away from the citie unto the high places)

33 And all the men of Israel rose up out of their place, & put themselves in array at Baal tamar: and the men that lay in wait of the Israelites came forth of their place, even out of the meadows of Gibeah, 34 And they came over against Gibeah, ten thousand chosen men of all Israel, & the battell was fore: for they knewe not that the ambush was nere them.

35 ¶ And y Lord smote Benjamin before Israel, and the children of Israel destroyed of the Beniamites the same day hue and twentieth thousand and an hundredth men: all they could handle the swords.

36 So the children of Benjamin sawe that they were stricken downe: for the men of Israel gave place to the Beniamites, because they trusted to the men that lay in wait, which they had laid beside Gibeah.

37 And they that lay in waite hasted, and brake forth towarde Gibeah, and the embuismene 'drew them selues along, and smote all the citie with the edge of the swords.

38 Also the men of Israel had appointed a certaine time with the embuismets, that they shulde make a great flame, and smoke rise vp out of the citie.

39 And whe the men of Israel retired in the battel, Benjamin began to smite and kil of the men of Israel about thirtie persones: for they said, Surely they are stricken downe before vs, as in the first battel.

40 But when the flame began to arise out of the citie, as a pillar of smoke, the Ben- iamites looked backe, and beholde, the flame of the citie began to ascende vp to heauen.

41 Then y men of Israel turned ' againe, and the men of Benjamin were astunted: for they saw that euil was nere vnto the.

42 Therefore they fled before the men of Israel vnto the way of the wilderness, but the battel ouertoke them: also they which came out of the cities, slewe them " among them.

43 Thus they compassed the Beniamites about, and chased them ' at ease, and ouer- ran them, euen ouer against Gibeah on the Eastside.

44 And there were slaine of Benjamin ei- gheene thousand men, which were all men of warre.

45 And they turned and fled to the wilder- nes vnto the rocke of Rimmón: and the Israelites ' glained of them by the way si- ue thousand me, & pursued after the vnto Gidom, & slewe two thousand me of the.

46 So that all that were slaine that day of Benjamin, were y hue and twentie thou- sand men that drew swords, which were all men of warre:

6 And the children of Ifraél were forie for Beniamín their brother, & laid, The- re is one tribe cut of from Ifraél this day.

7 How fhall we do for wines to them that remaine, feing we haue fworne by y Lord, that we wil not giue them of our daugh- ters to wines?

8 Also they laid, Is there anie of the tribes of Ifraél that 1 came not vp to Mizpéh to the Lord and beholde, theie came none of Iabéfh Gileád vnto the hofte and to the Congregation.

9 For when the people were vewed, behol- de, none of the inhabitants of Iabéfh Gi- leád were there.

10 Therefore the Congregation fent the- ther twelue thoufand men of the "moſte valiant, and commanded them, faying, Go, and fmite the inhabitants of Iabéfh Gileád with the edge of the fworde, bothe women and children.

11 ¶ And this is it that ye fhall do: ye fhall vterly deftroy all the males and all the women that haue lien by men.

12 And they founde among the inhabitants of Iabéfh Gileád foure hundredh maidens, virgins that had knowen no man by lying with anie male: and they broght them vn- to the hofte to Shilóh, which is in the land of Canáan.

13 ¶ The the whole Congregation 1 sent & spake with the children of Beniamín that were in the rocke of Rimmón, and cal- led 'peaceably vnto them:

14 And Beniamín came againe at y time, & they gaue them wines which they had faued aliue of the women of Iabéfh Gileád: but they had not fo ynough for the.

15 And the people were fory for Beniamín, because the Lord had made a breache in the tribes of Ifraél.

16 Therefore the filders of the Congrega- cion laid, How fhall we do for wines to the temnant 2 for the women of Beniamín are deftroyed.

17 And they laid, There muft be an 1 inheri- tance for them that be efaped of Benia- min, that a tribe be not deftroyed out of Ifraél.

18 Howbeit we may not giue them wines of our daughters : for the children of Ifraél had fworne, faying, Curfed be he, that giueeth a wife to Beniamín.

19 Therefore they laid, Beholde, there is a feaft of the Lord euerie yere in Shilóh in a place, which is on the 1 Northfide of Beth-él, and on the Eaftfide of the way that goeth vp from Beth-él to Shechém, and on the South of Lebonáh.

20 Therefore thei commanded the childré of Beniamín, faying, Go, and lye in waite in the vineyardes.

21 And when ye fe that the daughters of Shilóh come out to dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyardes, and catche you euery man a wife of the daughters of Shilóh, & go into the land of Beniamín.

22 And 1 when their fathers or their bre- thren come vnto vs to them that dāced accor- ding to their 1 number: which they toke, and went away, and returned to their in- heritance, and repaired the cities & dwelt in them.

THE BOKE OF RVTH.

THE ARGUMENT.

This booke is entituled after the name of Ruth: which is the principal persone spoken of in this treatise. Whereas also figuratively is set for the state of the Church which is subject to manifold afflictions, and yet at length God growth good and royal issue teaching us to abide with patience till God deliver us out of troubles. Herein also is ascribed howe Iesus Christi, who according to the flesh ought to come of David, proceeded of Ruth, of whome the Lord Iesus did vouchsime to come, notwithstanding she was a Moabite of base condition, and a stranger from the people of God: declaring vnto us thereby that the Gentiles shulde be sanctified by him and vnyed with his people, and that there shulde be but one sheepfolds, and one shepherds. And it semeth that this hisioe apperteineth to the time of the Judges.

CHAP. I.

1 Elimilech goeth with his wife and children into the lidd of Moab. 2 He and his sonnes dye. 3 Naomi and Ruth come to Beth-lehem.

"Ble. Judged.

a In the land of Canjan, b in Scribe of Judah, which was also called Beth-lehe Ephrathah, because there was another time so called in the tribe of Zebulon.

By this wonderful providence of God Ruth became one of Gods households, of whome Christ came.

4 By finding them plentiful agents.

e Hereby is appertained that Naomi by dwelling among idolaters was wont to be cold in Scribe, e- the of God, & rather hath respect to the case of Schoody than in Schoone, a sort of Schoone.

N the time that the judges ruled, there was a dearth in the land, and a man of Beth-lehem in Judah went forth to sojourn in the coitres of Moab, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

And the name of the man was Elimilech, and the name of his wife, Naomi: and the names of his two sons, Mahlon, & Chilion, Ephrathites of Beth-lehem Judah: and when they came into the land of Moab, they continued there.

Then Elimilech the husband of Naomi died, & she remained with her two sons, 4 Which took them wives of the Moabites: the one name was Orpah, and the name of the other Ruth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Mahlon and Chilion dyed also bothe twaine: so the woman was left destitute of her two sonnes, & of her houshad.

6 Then she arose with her daughters in lawe, and returned from the country of Moab: for she had heard say in the countries of Moab, that the Lord had visited his people, and given them bread.

7 Wherefore she departed out of the place where she was, and her two daughters in lawe with her, and they went on their way to returne vnto the land of Iudah.

8 The Naomi said vnto her two daughters in lawe, Go, returne eche of you vnto her owne mothers house: y Lord shewe fauour vnto you, as ye haue done with the dead, and with me.

9 The Lord grant you, that you may finde rest, ether of you in the house of her housband. And when she kissed them, they lift vp their voyce and wept.

10 And they said vnto her, Surely we will returne with thee vnto thy people.

11 But Naomi said, Turne againe, my daughters: for what cause will you go with me: are there ante mo sonnes in my wombe, that they may be your housbands?

12 Turne againe, my daughters: go your way: for I am to olde to haue an houshad, if I shulde faie, I haue hope, or if I had an housband this night: yea, if I had borne sonnes, 13 Wolde ye tary for them, til they were of age: wolde ye be differred for them from taking of housbands: nay my daughters: for it gricueeth me "muche for your fales y the had of y Lord is gone out against me.

14 Then they lift vp their voyce, and wept againe, and Orpah kissed her mother in lawe, but Ruth abode still with her.

15 And Naomi said, Beholde, thy sister in lawe is gone backe vnto her people & vnto her gods: returne y after thy sister in law.

16 And Ruth answered, Intreat me not to leaue thee, nor to departe from thee: for whither thou goest, I wil go: and where thou dwelled, I wil dwel: thy people shalde my people, and thy God my God.

17 Where y dyest, wil I dye, and there wil I be buried, the Lord do so to me & more also, if oght but death departe thee & me.

18 When she sawe that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, she left speaking vnto her.

19 So they went bothe vneil they came to Beth-lehem, it was b noised of them through all the citte, and they said, Is not this Naomi?

20 And she answered the, Call me not 'Naomi, but call me'
Maria: for the Almighty he has the given me muche bitternes.

21 I wet out ful, & y Lord hathe caused me to returne empty:
why call ye me Naomi, seing the Lord hath hibbed me, & the Almighty hathe broght me vnto adue: stite.

22 So Naomi returned and Roth y Moabiteffe her daughter in they came to Beth-lehem in the beginning of barly harueft.

death of thine houshold, and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land where thou wast borne, and art come vnto a people where thou knewest not in time past.

12 The Lord recompence thy woike and a full reward be giuen thee of the Lord God of Israel, vnder whose wings thou art come to trust.

13 Then she said, Let me finde fauour in thy sight, my lord: for I hast comforted me, and spoken comfortably vnto thy maid, though I be not like to one of thy maids.

14 And Bóaz said vnto her, At the meale time come thou hither, and eat of the bread, & dip thy morsel in the vinegre. And she sat beside the reapers, and he reached her parched corne: and she did eat, and was sufficed, and left thereof.

15 And when she arose to glean, Bóaz commanded his seruants, saying, Let her gather among the sheaves, and do not rebuke her.

16 Also let fall some of the sheaves for her,

& let it lie, that she may gather it vp, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the field vntil euening, and she threshed that she had gathered, and it was about an Ephah of barley.

18 And she toke it vp, & went into the citie, and her mother in lawe sawe what she had gathered: also she s toke forthe, and gaue to her that which she had reserued, when she was suffised.

19 Then her mother in lawe said vnto her, Where hast thou gleaned to day & where wrogteth thou blessed be he, that knewe thee. And she shewed her mother in lawe, with whome she had wrogt, & said, The mans name with whome I wrogt to day, is Bóaz.

20 And Naomi said vnto her daughter in lawe, Blessed be he of the Lord: for he ceafeth not to do good to the liuing and to the dead. Againe Naomi said vnto her, The ma is nere vnto vs, & of our affinitie.

21 And Ruth the Moabitesse said, He said also certainly vnto me, Thou shalt be w my seruats, vntil they haue ended all mine haueest.

3 And he said vnto y kinfman, Naomi, that is come againe out of y couties of Moab, wil fel a parcel of lad, which was our bro- ther Elimélechs.

4 And I thought to aduertise thee, saying, Bye it before the afiistans, and before the Elders of my people. If thou wilt redeme it, redeme it: but if thou wilt not redeme it, tel me: for I knowe that there is none besides thee to redeme it, & I am af- ter thee. Then he answered, I wil rede- me it.

5 Then said Bóaz, What day thou byest y field of the hand of Naomi, thou must also bye it of Ruth y Moabiteffe the wife of the dead, to sterre vp the name of the dead, vpon his inheritance.

6 And the kinfman answered, I can not redeme it, lest I destroy mine owne inheritance: redeme my right to thee, for I can not redeme it.

7 Now this was the maner before time in Ifraél, concerning redeming and chaging, for to stablish all things: a man did plucke of his shooe, and gaue it his neighbour, and this was a sure witnes in Ifraél.

8 Therefore the kinfman said to Bóaz, Buye it for thee: and he drue of his shooe.

9 And Bóaz said vnto the Elders and vnto all the people, Ye are witnesse this day, that I haue bought all y was Elimélechs, and all that was Chilións & Mahlóns, of the hand of Naomi.

10 And moreover, Ruth the Moabiteffe the wife of Mahlón, haue I bought to be my wife, to sterre vp the name of y dead vpon his inheritance, and that the name of the dead be not put out from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesse this day.

11 And all the people that were in the gate, & the Elders said, We are witnesse: the Lord make the wife that cometh into thine house, like Rahél and like Leáh, which twaine did buyld the houfe of Ifraél: and that thou maiest do worthely in Ephrathah, and be famous in Beth-léhem, 12 And that thine houfe be like y houfe of Phárez ("whome Thamár bare vnto Iu- dáh) of the fede which the Lord shal giue thee of this yong woman.

13 So Bóaz toke Ruth, and she was his wife: and when he went in vnto her, the Lord gaue, that she conceiued, and bare a sonne.

14 And the women said vnto Naomi, Bles- sed be y Lord, which hathe not left thee this day without a kinfman, & his name shalbe continued in Ifraél.

15 And this shal bring thy life againe, and cherish thine olde age: for thy daughter in lawe which loueth thee, hathe borne vn- to him, and she is better to thee then fe- uen sonnes.

16 And Naomi toke the childe, and lay- ed it in her lap, and became nounce vn- to it.

THE FIRST BOKE OF

Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

According as God had ordained Deut. 17,24, that when the Israelites should be in the land of Candan, he would appoint them a King: so here in the first boke of Samuel is declared the state of this people under their first King Saul, who not content with that ordre, which God had for a time appointed for the government of his Church, demanded a King, to the intent that might be as other nations in a greater assurance as they thought: not because they might the better thereby serve God, as being under the safe side of him, which did represent Jesus Christ the true deliverer: therefore he gave them a tyrant and an hypocrite to rule over them, that they might leave, that the person of a King is not sufficient to defend them, except God by his power preserve and keep them. And therefore he punisheth the ingratitude of his people & sendeth the continual warren before at home and abroad. And because Saul, whome of nothing God had preferred to the honour of a King, did not acknowledge Gods mercy towards him, but rather disobeyed the words of God and was not zealous of his glories, he was by the voice of God put down from his state, and Daud the true figure of Messiah placed in his stead, whose patience, modestie, constance, persecution by open enemies, fanned friends, and dissembling flatterers are left to the Church and to every member of the same, as a paterne and example to beholde their state ad vocacion.

2 There were two Ramaths, so that in this cete in mount Ephráim were Zophim: that in the learned man and Prophes.

Here was a man of one of the two Ramathaim Zophim, of moût Ephráim, whose name was Elkanáh the sonne of Iero- hám, the sonne of Elihú, the sonne of Tóhu, the sonne of Zuph, an Ephrathite:

2 And he had two wives: the name of one was Hannah, and the name of the other Peninnáh: and Peninnáh had childré, but Hannáh had no children.

3 * And this man went up out of his citie every yere, to worship & to sacrifice vnto the Lord of hostes in Shilóh, where were the two sonnes of Elí, Hophní and Phinehás Priests of the Lord.

4 And on a day, whé Elkanáh sacrificed, he gave to Peninnáh his wife and to all her sonnes and daughters portions,

5 But vnto Hánáh he gave a worthy portion: for he loued Hannah, and the Lord had made her baron.

6 ¶ And her aduersáie vexed her sore, for asmuch as she upbraided her, because the Lord had made her baron.

7 (And so did he yere by yere) & as oft as she wét up to the house of Lord, thus she vexed her, that she wept and did not eat.

8 Then said Elkanáh her housbád to her, Hannáh, why wepest thou? and why eateft thou not? & why is thine heart troubled? am not I better to thee then ten sonnes?

9 So Hannah rose up after that they had eaten and dronke in Shilóh (and Elí the Priest fate up a stole by one of y poftes of the Temple of the Lord)

10 And she was troubled in her minde, and praed vnto the Lord, and wept soie:

12 And as she continued praying before the Lord, Elí marked her mouth.

13 For Hánáh spake in her heart: her lippes did moue onely, but her voyce was not heard: therefore Elí thought she had bene dronken:

14 And Elí said vnto her, How long wilt thou be dronké? Put away "thy dronkènes "the thy wom. from thee.

18 ¶ Now Samuél being a young childe mi- nistered before the Lord, girded with a lin- nen * Ephód.

19 And his mother made him a little coate, and brought it to him from yere to yere, when she came vp with her housband, to offer the yerely sacrifice.

20 And Eli blessed Elkanáh and his wife, & said, The Lord giue thee fede of this wo- man, for the petition that she asked of the Lord: and they departed vnto their place.

21 And the Lord visited Hannáh, so that she conceived, and bare thre sonnes, and two daughters. And the childe Samuél grewe before the Lord.

22 ¶ So Eli was very olde, & heard all that his sonnes did vnto all Ifraél, & how they laye with the women that p assembled at the doore of the Tabernacle of the Con- gregation.

23 And he said vnto the, Why do ye suche things? for of all this people I heare cuil repoties of you.

24 Do no more, my sonnes: for it is no good reporte that I heate, which is, that ye make the Lords people to trespasse.

25 If one man sinne against an other, the judge shal judge it: but if a man sinne against the Lord, who wil pleade for him? Notwithstaiding the: obeyed not the voice of their father, because y Lord wolde flaye them.

26 ¶ (Now the childe Samuél profited and grewe and was in fauour bothe with the Lord, and also with men)

27 And there came a man of God vnto Eli and said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Did not I plainly appeare vnto y house of thy father, when they were in Egypt in Pharaohs house?

28 And I chose him out of all the tribes of Ifraél to be my Priest, to offer vpon mine altar, and to burne incense, and to wear an Ephód before me, and I gaue vnto the house of thy father all the offrings made by fire of the children of Ifraél.

29 Wherefore haue you liked against my sacrifice and mine offering, which I commanded in my Tabernacle, and honoured thy children about me, to make your selves fat of the firstfruits of all the offrings of Ifraél my people?

30 Wherefore y Lord God of Ifraél sayth, I faid, y thine houle houfe, that there fhall not be an olde man in thine houle.

32 And thou y shalt fe thine enemy in the habitation of the Lord in all things where- with God fhall bleffe Ifraél, and there shall not be an olde man in thine houle for euer.

33 Neuertheles, I wil not deftroy euery one of thine fro mine altar, to make thine eyes to faile, & to make thine heart forowful: and all the multitude of thine houle fhall dye when they be men.

34 And this fhall be a figne vnto thee, that fhall come vpon thy two fonnes Hophni and Phinehas: in one day they fhall dye bothe.

35 And I wil fterre me vp a faithful Prift, that fhall do according to mine heart and according to my minde: and I wil buylde him a fure houle, and he fhall walke before mine Anointed for euer.

36 And all that are left in thine house, shall come and bowe downe to him for a piece of silver and a morfel of bread, and shall say, Appoint me, I pray thee, to one of the Priests offices, that I may eat a morfel of bread.

CHAP. III.

1 There was no manifest signe in the time of Eli. 4 The Lord calleth Samuél three times, 11 And sheweth what shall come vpon Eli and his house. 12 The same declareth Samuél to Eli.

1 Now the childe Samuél ministered vnto the Lord a before Eli: and the worde of the Lord was but precious in those dayes: for there was no manifest vision.

2 And at that time, as Eli laye in his chamber, his eyes began to waxe dimme that he coulde not see.

3 And yet the light of God went out, Samuél slept in the temple of the Lord, where the Arke of God was.

4 Then the Lord called Samuél: and he said, Here I am.

5 And he ran vnto Eli, and said, Here am I, for thou calledst me. But he said, I called thee not: go againe and sleepe. And he went and slept.

6 And the Lord called once againe, Samuél. And Samuél arose, and went to Eli, & said, I am here: for thou didst call me. And he answered, I called the not, my son- ne: go againe and flepe.

7 Thus did Samuél, before he knewe f the Lord, and before the worde of the Lord was reueiled vnto him.

8 And the Lord called Samuél againe the third time: and he arose, and went to Eli and said, I am here: for thou hast called me. Then Eli g perceived that the Lord had called the childe.

9 Therefore Eli said vnto Samuél, Go and flepe: and if he call thee, then say, Speake

1 Israél is ouercome by the Philistims. 4 They do set the Arke, wherefore the Philistims do feare 10 The Arke of the Lord is taken 11: Is and his children dye. 12 The death of the wife of Phinehas the sonne of Eli.

A Nd Samuél spake vnto all Israël: & Ifraél went out against y Philistims to battel and pitched beside 1 Ebén eze: and the Philistims pitched in Aphék.

2 And y Philistims put them selues in ar- ray against Israël: and when they ioyned the battel, Israël was smitten downe befo- re the Philistims: who slewe of the armie in the field about foure thousand men.

So when the people were come into the campe, the Elders of Israël said, 3 Whe- refore hathe the Lord smitten vs this day before the Philistims: let vs bring y Arke of the couenant of the Lord out of Shilóh vnto vs, that when it commeth among vs, it may saue vs out of the hand of our enemies.

4 The the people sent to Shilóh, & broght from thence the Arke of the couenant of the Lord of hostes, who b dwelleth betwene the Cherubims: and there were the two sonnes of Eli, Hophní, & Phinehas, with the Arke of the couenant of God.

5 And when the Arke of the couenát of the Lord came into the hoste, all Israël show- ted a mihgty showte, so that the earth rag againe.

6 And when the Philistims heard the noi- se of the showte, they said, What meaneth the sounde of this mighty showte in the hoste of the Ebrewes? & they vnderstode, that the Arke of the Lord was come into the hoste.

7 And the Philistims were afraid, and said, God is come into the hoste: therefore said thei, c Wo vnto vs: for it hathe not bene so heretofore.

8 Wo vnto vs, who shal deliuer vs out of the hand of these mighty Gods: these are the Gods that smote the Egyptians with all the plagues in the 4 wildness.

9 Be strong and play the men, o Philistims, that ye be not seruáts vnto the Ebrewes, " as they haue serued you: be valiant the- refore, and fight.

10 And the Philistims fought, and Israél was smitten downe, and fled euerie man into his tent: and there was an exceeding great slaughter: for there fel of Israél " thirtie thousand sotemen.

11 And the Arke of God was taken, and the two sonnes of Eli, Hophní and Phinehas dyed.

12 And there ran a man of Benjamin out of the armie, and came to Shilóh the same day with his clothes f rent, and earth vpon his head.

re the Arke of the Lord, and they toke vp Dagón, and fet him in his place againe.

4 Alfo they rofe vp early in the morning the next day, & beholde, Dagón was falle vpon his face on the grounde before the Arke of the Lord, and the head of Dagón and the two palmes of his hands were cut of vpon the threfholde: onely the flumpe of Dagón was left to him.

5 Therefore the Priests of Dagón, and all that come into Dagons houfe treade not on the threfholde of Dagón in Afhdód, vnto this day.

6 But the hand of the Lord was heauy vpo them of Afhdód, and deftroied them, and fmote them with emerods, bolhe Afhdód, and the coaftes thereof.

7 And whê the men of Afhdód fawe this, they faid, Let not the Arke of the God of Ifraél abide with vs: for his hand is fore vpon vs and vpon Dagón our god.

8 They fent the: efore and gathered all the princtes of the Philistims vnto them, and faid, What fhall we do with the Arke of the God of Ifraél: And they answered, Let the Arke of the God of Ifraél be caried about vnto Gath: & thei caried the Arke of the God of Ifraél about.

9 And when they had caried it about, the hand of the Lord was againft the ci- tie with a very great deftruction, and he fmote the men of the citie boche fmall and great, & they had emerods in their fe- cret pattes.

10 ¶ Therefore they fent the Arke of God to Ekrón: and aflone as the Arke of God came to Ekrón, the Ekronites cryed out, faying, They haue broght the A.ke of y God of Ifraél to vs to flay vs and our people.

11 Therefore they fent, and gathered toge- ther all the princes of the Philistims and faid, Send away the Arke of the God of Ifraél, and let it renurne to his owne place, that it flay vs not and our people: for there was a deftruction death through out all the citie, the hād of God was very fore there.

12 And the men that dyed not, were fmitte with the emerods: and the crye of the ci- tie went vp to heauen.

vnto the Lord, and Samuél cryed vnto the Lord for Ifraél, and the Lord heard him.

10 And as Samuél offred the burnt offering, the Philistims came to fight against Ifra- él: but the Lord ¹ thundred with a great thundre that day vpon the Philistims, & scared them: so they were flame before If- raél.

11 And the men of Ifraél went from Miz- péh and pursued the Philistims, and smote them vntit they came vnder Beth-car.

12 Then Samuél toke a stone and pitched it between Mizpéh and s Shen, and called § name thereof, Ebén ézer, and he said, Hi- therto hatne the Lord holpen vs.

13 ¶ So § Philistims were broght vnder, & they came nomore againe into the coastes of Ifraél: and the hand of the Lord was a- gainst the Philistims all the dayes of Sa- muél.

14 Also the cities which the Philistims had taken from Ifraél, were restored to Ifra- él, from Eknón euen to Gath: & Ifraél de- liuered the coastes of the same out of the hands of the Philistims: & there was pea- ce between Ifraél & the h Amorites.

15 And Samuél judged Ifraél all the dayes of his life,

16 And went about yere by yere to Beth- él, and Gilgal and Mizpéh, and judged If- raél in all those places.

17 Afterward he returned to Ramáh: for there was his house, & there he judged If- raél: also he buylt an 'altar there vnto the Lord.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Samuél maketh he sones judges ouer Ifraél, who follow not his Heppes: The Ifraelites as he a King is Samu- él declareth in what state they shulde be vnder the King: 19 Narmishifanding they as he one Nil, & the Lord willeth Samuél to grant vnto them.

1 WH: Samuél was now become old, he a made his sonnes judges ouer Ifraél.

3 And his sonnes walked not in his waies but turned aside after lucre and a toke re- wardes, and peruerted the judgement.

4 ¶ Wherefore all the Elders of Ifraél gathered them together, & came to Samuél vnto a Ramah,

5 And said vnto him, Beholde, thou art old, and thy sonnes walke not in thy waies: a make vs now a King to judge vs like all nacions.

6 But the thing d difpleafed Samuél, when they said, Giue vs a King to judge vs: and Samuél prayed vnto the Lord.

7 And the Lord said vnto Samuél, Heare the voice of the people in all that they shal fay vnto thee: for they haue not cast thee away, but they haue cast me away, that I shulde not reigne ouer them.

8 As they haue euer done since I broght the out of Egypt euen e- uen so do they vnto thee.

9 Now therefore hearké vnto their voyce: howbeit yet e testifie vnto them & shewe the the maner of the King that shal reigne ouer them.

10 ¶ So Samuél tolde all the wordes of the Lord vnto the people that asked a King of him.

11 And he said, This shalbe the maner of the King that shal reigne ouer you: he wil take your sonnes, and appoint them to his charets, and to be his hostmen, and some shal iume before his charet.

12 Also he wil make them his captaines o- uerthousandes and captaines ouer fifties, and to eare his grounde, and to reape his haruest, & to make instruments of waire, and the things that ferue for his cha- rets.

13 He wil also take your daughters and make them apoticaries, and cookes and bakers.

14 And he wil take your fieldes, and your vineyardes, and your best oliue trees, and giue them to his seruants.

15 And he wil take the tenth of your fede, and of your vineyardes, and giue it to his Eunuches, and to his seruants.

16 And he wil take your men seruants and your maid seruants, and the chief of your yong men, and your asfes, and put them to his worke.

17 He wil take the tenth of your shepe, and ye shalbe his seruants.

18 And ye shal crye out at that day, because of your King, whome ye haue choen you, and the Lord wil not sheare you at that day.

19 But § people wolde not heare the voyce of Samuél, but did fay, Nay, but there shalbe a King ouer vs.

20 And we also wil be like all other naciós, and our King shal iudge vs, & go out be- fore vs, and fight our barrels.

21 Therefoe when Samuél heard all the wordes of the people, he rehearsed them in the eares of the Lord.

22 And the Lord said to Samuél, 'Hear- ken vnto their voyce, and make them a King And Samuél said vnto the men of Ifraél, Go euerre man vnto his citie.

There was now a man of Beniamín mightie in power named Kifh the fonne of Abiél, the fonne of Zerór, & fon- ne of Bechotách, the fonne of Aphiáh, the fonne of a man of Iemíní.

And he had a fône called Saúl, a b goodly yong man and a faiiie: fo that among the children of Ifraél there was none goodlier then he: from the fhulders vpward he was hier then anie of the people.

And the affes of Kifh Saúles father were loft: therefore Kifh faid to Saúl his fonne, Take now one of the feruants with thee, and arife, go, and feke the affes.

So he paffed through mount Ephráim & went through the land of Shalifháb, but they found them not. Then they went through the land of Shalím, and there they were not: he went also through the land of Iemíní, but they found them not.

When they came to the land of 4 Zuph, Saúl faid vnto his feruant that was with him, Come and let vs returne, left my father leaue the care of affes, and take thoght for vs.

And he faid vnto him, Beholde now, in this citie is a man of God, and he is an ho- norable man: all that he faieth commeth to paffe: let vs now go thither, if fo be that he can fhewe vs what way we may go.

Then faid Saúl to his feruant, Wel then, let vs go: but what fhall we bring vnto the man? For the bread is fpent in our vefi la, and there is no prefent to bring to the ma of God: what haue we?

And the feruant answered Saúl againe, & faid, Beholde, I haue found about me the fourth parte of a fhi:kle of filuer: that wil I giue the man of God, to tel vs our way.

(Beforetime in Ifraél when a man went to fike an anfwer of God, thus he fpake, Come, & let vs go to the fSeer: for he that is called now a Prophet, was in f olde time called a Seer.)

The faid Saúl to his feruant, Wel faid, come, let vs go: fo they went into the ci- tie where the man of God was.

And as thei were going vp the hie way to the citie, they founde maydes that ca- me out to drawe water, and faid vnto thé, Is there here a Seer?

And they answered them, and faid, Year lo, he is before you. make hafte now, for he came this day to the citie: for there is an s offering of the people this day in the hie place.

When ye fhal come into the citie, ye fhal finde him ffreight way yer he come vp to the hie place to eat: for the people wil not eat vnill he come, becaufe he wil blelfe f facrifice: and then eat: they that be biddin to the feaft: now therefore go vp: for eue now fhal ye finde him.

Then they went vp into the citie, and when they were come into the middes of the citie, Samuél came out againft them, to go vp to the hie place.

But the Lord had reueiled to Samuél "fecretly (a day before Saúl came) fay- ing, Tomorowe about this time I wil fend thee a man out of the land of Beniamín: him fhalt thou anoint to be gouernour o- uer my people Ifraél, & he may faue my people out of the hands of the Philiflims: for I haue looked vpon my people, & their crye is come vnto me.

When Samuél therefore fawe Saúl, the Lord answered him, Se, this is the man whome I fpake to thee of, he fhall rule my people.

Then went Saúl to Samuél in the mid- des of the gate, and faid, Tel me, I pray thee, where the Seers houfe is.

And Samuél answered Saúl, and faid, I am the Seer: go vp before me vnto the hie place: for ye fhall eat with me to-day, and tomorowe I wil let thee go, & wil tel thee all that is in thine bheart.

And as for thine affes f were loft thre dayes ago, care not for them: for they are founde, and on whome ufe all the defi: e of Ifraél is it not vpon thee and on all thy fathers houfe?

But Saúl answered, and faid, Am not I the fonne of Iemíní of the fmaleft tribe of Ifraél & my familie is the leaft of all the families of f tribe of Beniamín. Where- fore then fpeakeft thou fo to me?

And Samuél toke Saúl and his feruant, and broght them into the m chamber, and made them fit in the chifft place among them that were hidden: which were about thirtie perfoncs.

And Samuél faid vnto the cooke, Bring fo: the the portion which I gaue thee, e whereof I faid vnto thee, Kepe it with thee.

And the cooke toke vp the fhoulder, & that w was vpon it, & fet it before Saúl. And Samuél faid, Beholde, that which is left, fet it before thee e eat: for hitherto hathe it bene kept for thee, faying, Alfo I v haue called the people. So Saúl did eat with Samuél that day.

And whe they were comedowne fró the hie place into f citie, he communed with Saúl vpon the top of the houfe:

And whe they arofe early about f spring of f day, Samuél called Saúl to the top of the houfe, faying Vp, that I may fend thee away. And Saúl arofe, and they went out, bothe he, and Samuél.

9 And whe he had turned his "backe to go from Samuél, God gaue him another 4 heart: & all those tokens came to passe that same day.

10 And whe thei came thether to the hil, beholde, the companie of Prophets met him, and the Spirit of God came vpon him, and he prophecied among them.

11 Therefore all the people that knewe him before, when thei sawe that he prophecied among the Prophets, said eche to other? What is come vnto the sonne of Kifsh? is Saúl also among the Prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered, and said, But who is their a father? Therefore it was a prouerbe, Is Saúl also among the Prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the his place.

14 And Sauls vncle said vnto him, and to his feuuât, Whether went ye? And he said, To feke the asses: and when we sawe that thei were no where, we came to Samuél.

15 And Sauls vncle said, Tel me, I pray thee, what Samuél said vnto you.

16 Then Saúl said to his vncle, He tolde vs plainly that the asses were founde: but concerning the kingdome whereof Samuél spake, tolde he him nor.

17 And Samuél assembled the people vnto the Lord in Mizpéh,

18 And he said vnto the children of Ifraél, Thus faith the Lord God of Ifraél, I ha- ue broght Ifraél out of Egypt, and deli- uered you out of the hand of the Egypti- ans, & out of the hands of all kingdomes that troubled you.

19 But ye haue this day cast away your God, who onely deliueteth you out of all your aduerities and tribulacions: and ye said vnto him, No, but appoint a Kig ouer vs. Now therefore stand ye before the Lord according to your tribes and accor- ding to your thoufands.

20 And when Samuél had gathered together all the tribes of Ifraél, the tribe of Benjamin was b taken.

21 Afterwarde he assembled the tribe of Benjamin according to their families, & the familie of Marri was taken. So Saúl the sonne of Kifsh was taken, and when thei foght him, he colde not be founde.

22 Therefore thei asked the Lord againe, if that man shulde yet come thether. And the Lord answered, Beholde, he a harhe hid him selfe among the stuffe.

23 And thei ianne, and broght him thence: and when he stode among the people, he was hier then any of the people from the shoulders vpwa: de.

24 And Samuél said to all the people, Se ye not him, whome the Lord harhe chofen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people showted and said, "God saue the King.

25 Then Samuél tolde the people b the duetie of the kingdome, and wrote it in a boke, and layed it vp before the Lord, & Samuél sent all the people away euery man to his houfe.

26 Saúl also went home to Gibeah, & there followed him a band of men, whose heart God had touched,

4 And all Ifraél heard fay, Saul hathe de- ftroyed a garifon of the Philistims: whe- refore Ifraél was had in abominació with the Philistims: and the people gathered together after Saul to Gilgál.

5 The Philistims alfo gathered them fel- ues together to fight with Ifraél, thirrie thoufand charets and fix thoufand horfe- mé: for the people was like the fand which is by the feas fide in multitude, and came vp, and pitched in Michmáth Eaftwarde from a Beth-áuen.

6 And whé the men of Ifraél fawe that they were in a ftrante (for the people were in diftref- fe) the people hid the felues in caues, & in holdes, & in rockes, & towres, & in pires.

7 And fome of the Ebrewes went ouer Ioi- dén vnto the land of Gad & Gileád: and Saúl was yet in Gilgál, and all the people for feare followed him.

8 And he taried feus dayes, according vn- to the time that Samuél had appointed: but Samuél came not to Gilgál, therefore the people were s fcar: ed f: om him.

9 And Saúl faid, Bring a burnt offering to me and peace offerings: and he offied a burnt offering.

10 And afone as he had made an end of offring the burnt offering, beholde, Samuél came. and Saúl went for the to mete him, to "falute him.

he commâded thee: for the Lord had now stablished thy kingdoms vpon Israel for euer.

14 But now thy kingdoms shal not continue: the Lord hathe fought him a man after his owne heart, and y Lord hathe commanded him to be gouvernour ouer his people, becaufe thou hast not kept that which the Lord had commanded thee.

15 And Samuél arofe, and gate him vp fró Gilgál in Gibeáh of Beniamín: & Saúl nomb:ed the people that were foude with him, about fix hundred men.

16 And Saúl and Ionathán his sonne, & the people that were founde with them, had their abiding in Gibeáh of Beniamín: but the Philistims pitched in Michmáth.

17 And there came out of the hofte of the Philistims' thre bádes to deftroy, one bá- de turned vnto the way of Ophráh vnto the land of Shuál,

18 And another bande turned toward the way to Beth-borón, and the thride bá- de turned toward the way of the coaft that loketh toward the valley of Zeboim, toward the wilderness.

19 Théthere was no smith founde through out all the land of Israel: for the Philistims faid, Left the Ebrewes make them swordes or speares.

20 Wherefore all the Israelites wét downe to the Philistims, to sharpen euerie man his share, his mattocke, & his axe and his wedding hooke.

21 Yet they had a file for the shares, and for the mattockes, and for the pickeforkes, & for the axes and for to sharpen the goades.

22 So when the day of battel was come, the- re was nether s swords nor speare founde in the hands of anie of the people that were with Saúl & with Ionathán: but onely with Saúl and Ionathán his fonne was there founde.

23 And the garison of the Philistims came out to the passage of Michmáth.

CHAP. XIII.

24 Ionathán and his armour bearer put the Philistims to flight.

25 Saúl bindeth the people by an othe, not to out its evening.

26 The people eat with the blood. 27 Saúl wulds put Ionathán to death. 28 The people deliver him.

1 Then on a day Ionathán the fonne of Saúl faid vnto the yong man that ba- re his armour, a Come and let vs go ouer toward the Philistims garison, that is yonder on the other side, but he tolde not his father.

2 And Saúl taryed in the border of Gi- beáh vndt a pomegranate tre, which was in Migrón, and the people that were with him, were about fix hundred men.

3 And Ahián the fonne of Ahirúb, Ichabods brother, the fonne of Phinehás, the fonne of Elí, was the Lords Priest in Shi- lóh, and ware an Ephód: and the people knewe not that Ionathán was gone.

4 Now in the way whereby Ionathán foght to go ouer to y Philistims garison, the: e was a sharpe rocke on the one side, and a sharpe rocke on the other side: the name of the one was called Bozéz, & the name of the other Séneh.

5 The one rocke stretched fró the North toward Michmáth, & the other was from the South toward Gibeáh.

6 And Ionathán faid to the yong man that bare his armour, Come, and let vs go ouer vnto the garison of thefe v uncircumci- fed: it may be that the Lord wil worke with vs: for it is not hard to the Lord to faue with manie, or with fewe.

7 And he that bare his armour, faid vnto him, do all that is in thine heart: go where it pleafeth thee: beholde, I am with thee as thine heart desireth.

8 Then faid Ionathán, Beholde, we go ouer vnto thofe men, and wil shewe our selues vnto them.

9 If they fay on this wife to vs, Tarie vn- til we come to you, then we wil stand stil in our place, and not go vp to them.

10 But if they fay, Come vp vnto vs, then we wil go vp: for the Lord hathe deliuer- red them into our hand: and this shalbe a signe vnto vs.

11 So they bothe shewed them selues vnto the garison of the Philistims: and the Phi- listims faid, Se, the Ebrewes come out of y holes wherein they had hid the selues.

12 And the men of the garison answered Ionathán, & his armour bearer, and faid, Come vp to vs: for we wil shewe you a thing. Then Ionathán faid vnto his ar- mour bearer, Come vp after me: for the Lord hathe deliuered them into the hand of Israel.

13 So Ionathán went vp vpon his hands and vpon his fete, and his armour bearer after him: and some fel before Ionathán, & his armour bearer slewe others after him.

14 So the first slaughter which Ionathán and his armour bearer made, was about twentie mé within that cópaffe, as it were within halfe an acre of land which two oxen plowe.

15 And there was a feare in the hofte, and in the field, and amóg all the people: the ga- rison also, and they that went out to spoi- le, were afsayed them selues: and the earth trembled: for it was stricken with feare by God.

13. And fo the Lord faued Ifraél that day: and the battel continued vnto Beth-áuen.

14. ¶ And at that time the men of Ifraél we-re preffed with hunger: for Saúl charged the people with an othe, faying, 'Curfed be the man y eateth "foode til nyght, that I may be auenged of mine enemies: fo none of the people tafted and fufenance.

15. And all they of the Iad came to a wood, where hony lay vpon the ground.

16. And the people came into the wood, & beholde, the hony dropped, and no man moued his had to his mouth: for the peo-ple feared the = othe.
17. But Ionathán heard not when his father charged the people with the othe: where-fore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his had, and dipt it in an hony co-be, and put his hand to his mouth, and his "eyes receyued sight.
18. Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father made y people to sweare, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth his fellow this day: and the people were 'faint.
19. Then said Ionathán, My father hathe "troubled the land: fe now how mine eyes are made cleare, because I haue tasted a little of this hony:
20. How much more, if the people had eaten to day of the spoile of their enemies which they found: for had there not been now a greater slaughter among the Philistims?
21. ¶ And they smote y Philistims that day, from Michmáth to Aiálon: and the peo-ple were exceeding faint.
22. So the people turned to the spoyle, and
- toke shepe, & oxen, and calves, & flew them on the ground, and the people did eat them with the blood.

23. Then men told Saúl, faying, Beholde, the people finne againft the Lord, in that thei eat with the blood. And he laid, Ye haue trespaffed: roule a great ftone vnto me this day.
24. Againe Saúl laid, Go abroade among y people, & bid them bring me euerie man his ox, and euery ma his fhepe, and flaye them here, and eate and finne not againft the Lord in eating with the blood. And the people broght euery man his ox in his hand that night and flewe them there.
25. Then Saúl made an altar vnto the Lord, & that was the firft altar that he made vnto the Lord.
26. ¶ And Saúl laid, Let vs go downe after the Philiftims by night, and fpoyle them vntil the morning fhine, and let vs not lea-ue a ma of them. And they laid, Do what-foeur thou thinkeft beft. Then laid the Priéft, Let vs fdraw nete hither vnto God.
27. So Saúl afked of God, faying, Shal I go downe after the Philiftims: wilt thou de-liuer them into the hands of Ifraél? But he answered him not at that time.
28. ¶ And Saúl laid, "All" ye chief of y peo-ple, come ye hither, and knowe, and fe by whome this finne is done this day.

29. For as the Lord liueth, which faueth If-raél, thogh it be done by Ionathán my sonne, he shal dye the death. But none of all the people answered him.
30. Then he said vnto all Ifraél, Be ye on one side, & I and Ionathán my sonne wil be on the other side. And the people said vnto Saúl, Do what thou thinkest best.
31. Then Saúl said vnto the Lord God of Ifraél, Giue: a perfectat. And Ionathán & Saúl were taken, but the people escaped.
32. And Saúl said, Cast la betwene me and Ionathán my sonne. And Ionathán was taken.
33. Then Saúl said to Ionathán, Tel me what thou hast done. And Ionathán told him, and said, I tasted a litle hony with y end of the rod, that was in mine hand, & lo, I must dye.
34. Againe Saúl answered, God do so and more also, vnles y dye y death, Ionathán.
35. And the people said vnto Saúl, 'Shal Ionathán dye, who hath so mightely de-liuered Ifraél? God forbid. As y Lord li-ueth there shal not one heere of his head fall to the ground: for he hath wrought y God this day. So the people deliuered Io-nathán that he dyed not.

1 A Frenarde Samuél faid vnto Saúl, ² The Lord fent me to anoint thee King ouer his people ouer Ifraél: nowe therefore ³ obey the voyce of the wordes of the Lord.

2 Thus faith the Lord of hostes, I remember what Amalék did to Ifraél, ⁴ how they layed was for them in the way, as they came vp from Egypt.

3 Nowe therefore go, and fmite Amalék, & deftroye ye all that pertaineth vnto them, and haue no cópaffion on them, but ⁵ flay bothe man and woman, bothe infant and fuckeling, bothe oxe, and fhepe, bothe camel, and affe.

4 ¶ And Saúl affembled the people, and 'nombred them in Telaim, two hundreth thoufand fotemen, and ten thoufand men of Iudáh.

5 And Saúl came to a citie of Amalék, ⁶ and fet watch at the riuer.

6 And Saúl faid vnto the ⁷ Kenites, Go, departe, and get you downe from among the Amalekites, lest I deftroy you with them: for ye fhewed ⁸ mercy to all the children of Ifraél, when they came vp fró Egypt: and the Kenites departed from among the Amalekites.

7 So Saúl fmote the Amalekites from Ha- uiláh as thou comdest to Shur; that is before Egypt,

8 And toke Agág the King of the Amalekites aliue, and deftroyed all the people with the edge of the fwoird.

9 But Saúl and the people fpared Agág, & the better fhepe, and the oxen, and the far beaftes, and the lambes, and all that was good, & they wolde not deftroie the: but every thing that was vile & noght worthe, that they deftroyed.

10 ¶ The came the worde of the Lord vn- to Samuél, faying, 11 It ² repenteth me that I haue made Saúl King: for he is tuine d fó me, & hathe not perfo: med my commandments. And Samuél was moued, & cryed vnto the Lord all night.

12 And whé Samuél arofe early to mete Sa- úl in the morning, one tolde Samuél, fay- ing. Saul is gone to Carmél: and beholde, he hathe made him there a place, from whence he returned, and departed, and is gone downe to Gilgál.

13 ¶ The Samuél came to Saúl, & Saúl faid vnto him, Bleffed be ý of the Lord, I haue fulfilled the ² comandement of the Lord.

14 But Samuél faid, What meaneth then ý bleating of the fhepe in mine eares, & the lowing of the oxen which I heare?

15 And Saúl afwered, Thei haue broght the from the Amalekites: for the people fpa- red the beft of the fhepe, and of the oxen to facrifice them vnto the Lord thy God, and the zemnant haue we deftroyed.

16 Againe Samuél faid to Saúl, Let me teft thee what the Lord hathe faid to me this night. And he faid vnto him, Say on.

1 The Lord the faid vnto Samuél, How long wilt y mourne for Saúl, a feing I haue caft him away from reigning ouer Ifhaél: fil thine horne with oyle and come, I wil find thee to Ifhál the Bethlehemite: for I haue prouided me a King among his fonnes.

2 And Samuél faid, How can I go for if Saúl fhall heare it, he wil kil me. Then the Lord answered, Take an heifer "w thee, & fay, I am come to do facrifice to y Lord.

3 And call I fhál to the facrifice, and I wil fhewe thee what y fhalt do, & y fhalt anoit vnto me him whome I name vnto thee.

4 So Samuél did y the Lord bade him, & came to Beth-léhem, and the Elders of the towne were a aftonied at his comming, & faid, Commett thou peaceably?

5 And he answered, Yea: I am come to do sacrifice vnto the Lord: sanctifie your sel- ues, & come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Ifhál and his sonnes, and called them to the sacrifice.

6 And when they were come, he looked on Eliáb, and said, Surely the Lords anointed is before him.

7 But the Lord said vnto Samuél, Look not on his countenance, nor on the height of his stature, because I have refused him: for God seeth not as man seeth: for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the Lord beholdeth the heart.

8 Then Ifhál called Abinadáb, & made him come before Samuél. And he said, Neither hath the Lord chosen this.

9 The Ifhál made Shámáh come. And he said, Neither yet hath the Lord chosen him.

10 Again Ifhál made his seven sonnes to come before Samuél: & Samuél said vnto Ifhál, The Lord hath chosen none of these.

13 Then Samuél toke the horne of oyle, & anointed him in the middles of his bre- thren. And the Spirit of the Lord came vpon Dauid, from that day forward: the Samuél tofe vp, and went to Ramáh.

14 But the Spirit of the Lord departed from Saúl, and an euil fpirit sent of the Lord vexed him.

15 And Sauls feruáts faid vnto hi, Beholde now, y euil fpirit of God vexeth thee.

16 Let our lord therefore commande thy feruants, that are before thee, to feke a man, that is a conning player vpon the harpe: that when the euil fpirit of God commeth vpon thee, he may playe with his hand, & thou maleft be eafed.

17 Saúl then faid vnto his feruáts, Prouide me a man, I pray you, that can play wel, & bring him to me.

18 Then answered one of his feruants, and faid, Beholde, I hauefene a fonne of Ifhál, a Bethlehemite, that can playe, & is fit fog, valiát & a má of warte & wife in matres, & a comely pei fone, & y Lord is with hi.

19 Wherefore Saúl fin meffengers vnto Ifhál, & faid, Senc me Dauid thy fonne, which is with the fhepe.

Chap. 18, 2.

The Philiflims make marre again! Ifraél. 10 Goliáth defieth Ifraél. 17 Daid is fanc to his brethren. 14 The strength and boldness of Daid. 47 The Lord faneeth me by fowde nor fpaere. 10 Daid killeth Goliáth and the Philiflims flee.

1 Now the Philiflims gathered their armies to battel, and came together to Shochóh, which is in Iudáh, & pitched between Shochóh and Azckáh, 'in the co- aft of Dammim.

2 And Saúl, and the men of Ifraél' affem- bled, and pitched in the valley of Eláh, & put them felues in battel array to mete the Philiflims.

3 And the Philiflims fto de on a mountaine on the one fide, and Ifraél fto de on a mo- untaine on the other fide: fo a valley was between them.

4 Then came a má between them: bothe out of the tences of the Philiflims, na- med Goliáth of Gath: his height was fix cubits and an hand breadth,

5 And had an helmet of brafle vpó his he- ad, and a brigandine vpon him: and the weight of his brigandine was fiue thou- fand fhekels of brafle.

6 And he had 'bootes of brafle vpó his leg- ges, & a fhilde of brafle vpó his fhoulders.

7 And the fhafte of his fpeare was like a weauers beame: and his fpeare head weyed fix hundreth fhekels of yron: and one bea- ring a fhilde went before him.

8 And he fto de, and cryed againft the hofte of Ifraél, and faid vnto them, Why are ye come to fet your battel in array: am nor

I a Philiflim, and you feruáts to Saúl: chofe you a má for you, & let him come downe to me.

9 If he be able to fight with me, and 'kil me, then wil we be your feruants: but if I ouercome him, and kil him, then fhall ye be our feruants, and ferue vs.

10 Alfo the Philiflim faid, I defie the hofte of Ifraél this day:
giue me a man, that we may fight together.

11 When Saúl and all Ifraél heard thofe wordes of the Philiflim, they were dif- couraged, and greatly afrayed.

12 Now this Daudid was the fonne of an Ephrathite of Bethléhem Iudáh, named

Ifnáí, which had eight fonnes: and this má was taken for an olde man in the dayes of Saúl.

13 And the thie eldeft fonnes of Ifnáí went and followed Saúl to the battel: and the names of his thre fonnes that wér to bat-tel, were Eliáb the eldeft, & the next Abi- nadáb, and the third Shammáh.

14 So Daudid was the leaft: and the thre eldeft went after Saúl.

15 Daudid alfo went, but he returned from Saúl to fede his fathers fhepe in Beth-lé- hem.

16 And the Philiflim drewe nere in y mor- ning, and euening, and continued fourtie dayes.

17 And Ifnái faid vnto Dauid his fonne, 18 Take now for thy brethren an Epláh of this parched corne, and thefe ten cakes, and runne to the hofte to thy brethren.

19 Alfo cary thefe ten frefh chefes vnto the captaine, and loke how thy brethren fare, and receiue their pledge.

20 (Then Saúl and they, and all the men of Ifraél were in the valley of Eláh, figh- ting with the Philiflims)

21 So Dauid rofe vp early in the mornig, and left the fhepe with a keper, and toke and went as Ifnái had commanded him, & came within the compaffe of the hofte: & the hofte went out in array, and show- ted in the battel.

22 For Ifraél and the Philiflims had put them felues in array, armie againft ar- mie.

23 And Dauid left the things, which he bare, vnder the hands of the keper of the "carriage, and ran into the hofte, & came, and affed his brethren "how they did.

24 And as he talked with them, beholde, the man that was between the two armies, ca- me vp, (whofe name was Goliáth the Phi- liflim of Gath) out of the 'armie of the Philiflims, and fpake f fuche wordes, & Dauid heard them.

25 And all the men of Ifraél, when they faw the man, ran away from him, & were fore afrayed.

26 For euery man of Ifraél faid, Sawe ye not this man that cometh vp: euen to re- uile Ifraél is he come vp: and to him that killeth hi, wil the King giue gieat riches, and wil giue him his daughter, yea, and make his fathers houfe s fre in Ifraél.

27 Then Daud fpake to the men that ftode with him, and faid, What fhalbedo- ne to the man that killeth this Philiflim, and taketh away the f flame from Ifraél: for who is this vncircumcised Philiflim, that he fhulde reuile the hofte of the li- uing God:

the man that killeth him.

28 And Eliáb his eldest brother heard whé he spake vnto the men, & Eliáb was very angry with Daud, and said, Why camest thou downe hethert and with whome haft y left those ft we shepe in the wildernes I knowe thy pride and the malice of thine hear, that thou art come downe to se the battel.

29 Then Daud said, What haue I now done? Is there not a cause?

30 And he departed from him into the prefence of another, and spake of the same maner, and the people answered him according to the form: it wordes.

31 ¶ And the that heard the wordes which Daud spake, rehearfed them before Saúl, which caused him to be broght.

32 So Dauid said to Saúl, Let no mans heart faile him, because of him: thy seruant wil go, and fight with this Philístim.

33 And Saúl said to Dauid, Thou art not a able to go against this Philístim to fight with him: for thou art a boye, and he is a man of warre from his youth.

34 And Dauid answered vnto Saúl, Thy seruant kept his fathers shepe, and there came a lyon and likewife a beare, and toke a shepe out of the flocke, 35 And I went out after him & smote him, & toke it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by the bearde, and smote him, an I slewe him.

36 So thy seruant slewe bothe the lyon, and the beare: therefore this vncircumcised Philístim shalbe as one of them, feing he hath railed on y hosite of the liung God.

37 ¶ Moreou: Dauid said, The Lord that deliuered me out of the pawe of the lyon, and out of the pawe of the beare, he wil deliuer me out of the hand of this Philístim. Then Saúl said vnto Dauid, = Go, and the Lord be with thee.

38 And Saúl put his rayment vpon Dauid, and put an helmet of brasse vpo his head, and put a brigandine vpon him.

39 The girded Dauid his sworde vpon his rayment, and began to go: for he neuer proued it: and Dauid said vnto Saúl, I can not go with thefe: for I am not accuftomed, wherefore Daud put them of him.

40 Then toke he his a ftale in his hand, and chofe him fue fmothe ftones out of a brooke, and put them in his fhepherdes bag or fkrippe, & his fling was in his hafd, and he drewne here to the Philiftim.

41 ¶ And the Philiftim came & drewne here vnto Daud, and the man that bare the fhield went before him.

42 Now when the Philiftim loked about and fawe Daud, he difdeined him: for he was but yong, ruddy & of a comely face.

43 And the Philiftim laid vnto Daud, Am

I a dog, that thou commeft to me with ftawe? And the Philiftim
* curfed Daud by his gods.

o He fware by his gods that he wilde defcruye him.

44 And y Philiftim laid to Daud, Come to me, and I wil giue thy flefh vnto the foules of the heauen, and to the beaftes of the field.

45 ¶ The laid Daud to y Philiftim, Thou commeft to me with a fworde, and with a fpeare, and with a fhield; but I come to thee in the Name of the Lord of hoftes, the God of the hoſte of Ifraél, whome thou haft railed vpon.

46 This p day fhall the Lord clofe thee in mine hand, and I fhall fmire thee, and take thine head from thee, and I wil giue the carkrles of the hofte of the Philíftims this day vnto the foules of the heauen, & to the beaftes of the earth, y all the worlde may knowe that Ifraél harhe a God,

47 And that all this affembly may knowe, that the Lord faueth not with fworde nor with fpeare (for the battel is the Lords) & he wil giue you into our hands.

48 And when the Philíftim arofe to come and drawne here vnto Dauid, Dauid y hafted & ran to fight againft the Philíftim.

49 And Dauid put his hand in his bag, and toke out a ftone, & flang it and fmote the Philíftim in his forehead, that the ftone fticked in his forehead, and he fel grout-ling to the earth.

50 So Dauid * ouercame the Philíftim with a fling and with a ftone, & fmote the Philíftim, & flewe him, when Dauid had no fworde in his hand.

51 Then Dauid ran, and ftode vpon the Philíftim, and toke his fworde & drew it out of his fheath, and ftwe him, & cut of his head therewith. So whé the Philíftims fawe, that their champion was dead, they fl.d.

52 And the men of Ifraél and Iudáh arofe, and fhowted, and followed after the Philíftims, vntil the came to the 'valley, and vnto the gates of Ekión: and the Philíftims fel downe wounded by the way of Shaaráim, euen to Gath and to Ekión.

53 And the children of Ifraél returned fro put fuing the Philíftims, and fpoiled their tents.

54 And Daud toke the head of the Philíftim, and broght it to Ierufalém, and put his armour in his tent.

55 ¶ When Saúl fawe Daud go for the againft the Philíftim, he faid vnto Abnér the captaine of his hofte, Abnér, * whose fonne is this yong man and Abné: answered, As thy foule liueth, ó

a His affliction was fully hune toward him

1 And when he had made an end of speaking vnto Saúl, the a foule of Ionathán was knut with the foule of Da-uid, and Ionathán loued him, as his owne foule.

2 And Saúl toke him that day, and wolde not let him returne to his fathers houfe.

3 Then Ionathán and Daud made a coue-nant: for he loued him as his owne foule.

4 And Ionathán put of the robe that was vpon him, and gaue it Daud, and his gar-ments, euen to his fworde, & to his bowe, and to his girdle.

b That is, he prospered in all his deings.

5 And Daud went out whetherfceuer Saúl fent him, & behaued him felfe b wífely: fo that Saúl fet him ouer the mé of warte, and he was accepted in the fight of all the people, and alfo in the fight of Sauls fer-uants.

7 And the women "fang by cours in their playe, & faid," Saúl hatue flavne his thou-fand, and Daud his ten thoufand.

8 Therefore Saúl was exceeding wrath, and the faying difpleafed him, & he faid, Thei haue afcribed vnto Daud ten thoufand, & to me thei haue afcribed but a thoufand, & what can he haue mote faue the kigdome?

d Because he bare him faue & hatred.

9 Wherefore Saúl d had an eye on Daud from that day forwarde.

e That is, fpe-ke as a mi he-fide him felfe: for fo the peo-ple abufed this worde, when thei colde not vnceffand.

10 ¶ And on the morowe, the euil fpirit of God came vpon Saúl, & he e prophecied in the middes of the houfe: and Daud plaied with his hand like as at other times, and there was a fpeare in Sauls hand.

11 And Saúl toke the fpeare, and faid, I wil fmite Daud through to ¶ wall. But Daud auoyded twife out of his prefence.

12 And Saúl was af. aied of Daud, becaufe the Lord was with him, and was departed from Saúl.

13 Therefore Saúl put him from him, and made him a captaine ouer a thoufand, and he went f out and in before the people.

14 And Daud behaued him felfe wífely in all his waies: for the Lord was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saúl fawe that he was vety wífe, he was afraied of him.

16 For all Ifraél and Iudáh loued Daud, becaufe he went out and in before them.

17 ¶ The Saúl faid to Daud, Beholde mine eldct daughter Meráb, her I wil giue thee to wife: onely be a valiant fonne vnto me, and a fight the Lords battels: for Saúl thoght, Mine hand fhall not be vpon him, but the hand of the Philíftims fhall be vp-on him.

18 And Daud answered Saúl, What am I and what is my life, or the familie of my father in Ifraél, that I ffulde be fonne in lawe to the King?

19 Howbeit when Meráb Sauls daughter ffulde haue bene giue to Daud, b fhe was giue vnto Adriel a Meholathite to wife.

20 ¶ Then Michál Sauls daughter loued Daud: and thei fhewed Saúl, & the thing pleafed him.

21 Therefore Saúl faid, I wil giue him her, that the may be a ffniate to him, and that the bad of the Philíftims may be againft hi. Wherefore Saúl faid to Daud, Thou fhalt this day be my fonne in lawe in the one of the twaine.

22 And Saúl comanded his feruants, Speake with Daud fecretly, and fay, Beholde, the King hathe a fauour to thee, and all his feruants loue thee: be now ther: fore the Kings fonne in lawe.

23 And Sauls feruants fpake thefe wordes in the eares of Daud. And Daud faid, k Semeth it to you a light thing to be a Kings fonne in lawe, feing that I am a poore man and of fmall reputacion?

24 And then Sauls feruants broght him worde againe, faying, Sache wordes fpake Daud.

25 And Saúl faid, This wife fhall ye fay to Daud, The King deifreth no dowrie, but an hūdreth forefkumes of the Philiftims, to be auinged of the Kings enemies: for Saúl thoght to make Daud fall into the hands of the Philiftims.

26 And when his feruáts tolde Daud thefe wordes, it pleafed Daud wel, to be the 1 Kings fonne in lawe: and the dates were not expired.

27 Afterwarde Daud arofe with his men, and went and flewe of the Philiftims two hun treth men: and Daud broght their forefkumes, and m ther gaue them wholly to the King that he might be the Kings fonne in lawe: therefore Saúl gaue him Michál his daughter to wife.

28 Then Saúl fawe, & vnderftode that the Lord was with Daud, & that Michál the daughter of Saúl loued him.

The Spirit of prophesia com- meth to Saúl.

1 Then Saúl spake to Ionathán his son- ne, and to all hisifuates, that they shulde kill Daid: but Ionathán Sauls sonne had a great fauour to Daid.

2 And Ionathán tolde Daid, saying, Saúl my father goeth about to flaye thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take hede unto thy selfe unto the morning, and abide in a se- cret place, and hide thy selfe.

3 And I wil go out, and stand by my father in the field where thou art, and wil co- mun: with my father of thee, and I wil se what he saith and wil tel thee.

4 And Ionathán spake good of Daid unto Saúl his father, and said unto him, Let not the King sinne against his fuar, against Daid: for he hath not sinned a- gainst thee, but his wokkes haue bene to thee very good.

5 For he "did" put his life in danger, and flewe the Philistim, and the Lord wrought a great saluation for all Israel: thou sawest it, and thou reioyseist: wherefore then wilt thou sinne against innocent blood, & flaye Daid without a caufe?

6 Then Saúl hearkened unto the voyce of Ionathán, and Saúl sware, As the Lord liueth, he shal not dye.

7 So Ionathán called Dáuid, and Iona- thán shewed him all those wordes, & Io- nathán brought Dáuid to Saúl, and he was in his presence as in times past.

8 ¶Againe the warre began, and Dáuid wét out and foght with the Philistims, and flewe them with a great slaughter, & they fled from him.

9 ¶And the euil Spirit of the Lord was vpó Saúl, as he face in his house hauing his spare in his hand, and Dáuid played with his hand.

10 And Saúl entended to smite Dáuid to the wall with the spare: but he turned a- fide out of Sauls presence, and he smote the spare against the wall: but Dáuid fled, and escaped the same night.

11 Siúl also sent messengers unto Dauids house, to watche him, and to flaye him in the morning: & Michál Dauids wife tolde it him, saying, If thou faue not thy self this night, tomorrowe thou shalt be flame. 12 So Michál let Dáuid downe through a windowe: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 Then Michál toke an image and layed it in the bed, and put a pillowe stufied with goates heere vnder the head of it, and co- ueled it with a cloth.

14 And when Saúl sent messengers to take Daid, the said, He is sickes.

15 And Saúl sent the messengers againe to se Daid, saying, Bring him to me in the bed, that I may flaye him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, beholde, an image was in the bed, with a pillowe of goates heere vnder the head of it.

17 And Saúl said unto Michál, Why hast thou mocked me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Michál answered Saúl, He said unto me, Let me go, or els I wil kill thee.

18 ¶So Daid fled, and escaped, and came to Samuél to Ramáh, and tolde him all that Saúl had done to him: and he and Sa- muél went and dwelt in a Naióth.

19 But one tolde Saúl, saying, Beholde, Da- uid wat Naióth in Ramáh.

20 And Saúl sent messengers to take Da- uid: and when they sawe a companye of Prophets prophecying, and Samuél standing as appointed ouer them, the Spi- rit of God fel vpon the messengers of Saúl, and they also prophecied.

21 And whe it was tolde Saúl, he sent other messengers, and they prophecied likewise: againe Saúl sent the third messengers, and they prophecied also.

22 Then went he him self to Ramáh, and came to a great wel that is in Sechú, and he asked, and said, Where are Samuél and Daid? and one said, Beholde, they be at Naióth in Ramáh.

23 And he went thither, ouen to Naióth in Ramáh, and the Spirit of God came vpon him also, and he went prophecying until he came to Naióth in Ramáh.

24 And he stupt of his clothes, and he prophecied also before Samuél, and fel to downe naked all that day and all that night: therefore they say, "Is Saúl also a- mong the Prophets?"

nothing great nor finale, but he wil "shew it me: and why shulde my father hide this thing from me: he wil not do it.

3 And Daud fware againe and faid, Thy father knoweth that I haue founde grace in thine eyes: therefore he thinketh, Ionathán fhál not knoweth, lest he be fory: but in dede, as the Lord liueth, and as thy foule liueth, there is but a, a steppe betwene me and death.

4 Then faid Ionathán vnto Daud, What- foeuer thy foule? requireth, that I wil do vnto thee.

5 And Daud faid vnto Ionathán, Beholde, tomorowe is the first day of the moneth, and I shulde fit with the King at meat: but let me go, that I may hide my felfe in the fields vnto the third day at euen.

6 If thy father make mention of me, then fay, Daud asked leaue of me, y he might go to Beth-dehe to his owne citie: for there is a y verely sacrifice for all that familie.

7 And if he fay thus, It is wel, thy feruant fhál haue peace: but if he be angry, be fure that wickednes is concluded of him.

8 So fhált thou shewe mercy vnto thy feruant: for thou halt ioyned thy feruant into a couenant of the Lord with thee, & if there be in me iniquitie, flaye thou me: for why shuldest thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Ionathán answered, God kepe y from thee: for if I knewe that wickednes were concluded of my father to come vpon thee, wolde not I tel it thee?

10 The faid Daud to Ionathán, Who fhall tel me? how fhall I knowe, if thy father anfwere thee cruelly?

11 And Ionathán faid to Daud, Come and let vs go out into the field: and they twaine went out into the field.

12 Then Ionathán faid to Daud, O Lord God of Ifi ael, when I haue groped my fathers minde tomorowe at this time, or with in this thre dayes, & if it be wel with Daud, and I then fend not vnto thee, and shewe it thee,

13 The Lord do fo & mucche more vnto Ionathán: but if my father haue minde to do thee euil, I wil shewe thee alfo, & fend thee away, that thou mayeft go in peace: and the Lord be with thee as he hathe bene with my father.

14 Likewise I require not whiles I liue: for I dont not but thou wilt shewe me the mercy of the Lord, h that I dye not.

15 But I require that thou cut not of thy mercie from mine houfe for euer: no, not whe the Lord hathe destroyed the enemies of Daud, euerie one from the earth.

16 So Ionathán made a bonde with the houfe of Daud, faying, Let the Lord require it at the hands of Dauds enemies.

17 And againe Ionathán fware vnto Daud, becaufe he loued him (for he loued him as his owne foule)

18 The faid Ionathán to him, Tomorowe is y firft day of the moneth: and thou fhalt 'be looked for, for thy place fhallbe empty.

19 Therefore thou fhalt hide thy felfe thre dayes, then thou fhalt go downe quickly and come to the place where thou drdeft hide thy felfe, when this matter was in hand, & fhalt remaine by the stone "Ezel.

20 And I wil fhoote thre arrowes on the fide thereof, as thogh I fhot at a marke.

21 And after I wil fend a boy, faying, Go, feke the arrowes. If I fay vnto the boy, Sc, y arrowes are on this fide thee, bring them, and come thou: for it is "wel with thee and no hurt, as the Lord liueth.

22 But if I fay thus vnto the boy, Beholde, the arrowes are beyond the thee, go thy way: for the Lord hathe fent thee away.

23 As touching the thing which thou and I haue spoken of, beholde, the Lord be betwene thee and me for euer.

24 So Daud hid him felfe in the field: & when the firft day of the moneth came, the King fate to eat meat.

25 And the King fate, as at other times vpo his feat, euen vpon his feat by the wall: & Ionathán arofe, and Abner fate by Sauls fide, but Dauds place was empty.

26 And Saúl faid nothing that day: for he thoght, Some thing hathe befallen him, though he were clean, or als becaufe he was not purified.

27 But on the morow which was the fecod day of the moneth, Dauds place was emptie againe: and Saúl faid vnto Ionathán his fonne, Wherefoe commeth not the fonne of I fhai to meat, nether yesterday nor to day?

28 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl, Daud required of me, that he might go to Beth-lehem.

29 For he faid, Let me go, I pray thee: for our familie offreth a sacrifice in the citie, and my brother hathe fent for me: therefore now if I haue found fauour in thine eyes, let me go, I pray thee, & fe my brethre: this is the caufe that he cometh not vnto the Kings table.

30 Then was Saúl angry with Ionathán, & faid vnto him, Thou fonne of the wicked rebellious woman, do not I knowe, that thou halt chofen the fonne of I fhai to thy confusion and to the confusion and flame of thy mother?

31 For as long as the fonne of I fhai liueth vpon the earth, thou fhalt not be ftahli-shed, nor thy kingdoms: wherefore now fend and fet him vnto me, for he "fhal furely dye.

32 And Ionathán answered vnto Saúl his father,

33 And Saúl cast a speare at him to hit him, whereby Ionathán knewe, that it was de- termined of his father to slaye Dauid.

34 So Ionathán arose from the table in a great angre, and did eat no meat the secod day of the moneth: for he was sory for Dauid, and because his father had reui- led him.

q For this was the third day, as it was a- greed vpon, rect s.

35 On the next morning therefore Iona- thán went out into the field, 1 at the time appointed with Dauid, and a little boy with him.

36 And he said vnto his boy, Runne now, seke the arrowes which I shoote, & as the boy ran, he shot an arrowe beyonde him.

37 And when the boy was come to the pla- ce where the arrowe was that Ionathán had shot, Ionathán cryed after the boy, & said, Is not the arrowe beyond thee?

r By these wordes he ad- monified Da- uid what he ought to do

38 And Ionathán cryed after the boy, 1 Ma- ke spede, haste and stand not stil: and Io- natháns boy gathered vp the arrowes, and came to his master, 39 But the boy knewe nothing: onely Iona- thán and Dauid knewe the matter.

e Which othe he callich in the eighs ver- se the counel of the Lord.

42 Therefore Ionathán said to Dauid, Go in peace: that which we haue s sworne bothe of vs in the Name of the Lord, saying, The Lord be betwene me & thee, and betwene my seede and betwene thy se- ede, let it stand for euer.

43 And he arose and departed, and Iona- thán went into the citie.

1 Daud fleeth to Neb to Ahimélech the Priest. 4 He geteth of him the shewbread to satisfie his hun- gye. 7 Dvé^g Saúl feruant was prefene. 10 Daud fleeth to King Achish. 11 And there fameth him selfe mad.

a Where the Arke the was, to slaye coufel of the Lord

1 Hen came Daud to a Nob, to Ahi- mélech the Priest, and Ahimélech was astonyed at the meeting of Daud, and said vnto him, Why art thou alone, and no ma with thee?

b These infi- ments that we se to the faunz of God, eua- che to that no- ne lathe his cultice in him selfe, but re- centeth it of God's murete.

2 And Daud said to Ahimélech the Priest, The b King hathe commanded me a cer- teine thing, and hathe said vnto me, Let no man knowe whereabout I find thee, & what I haue commanded thee, and I haue appointed my feruant to fuche and fuche places.

3 Now therefore if thou hast oght vnder thine hand, giue me fiue cakes of bread, or what commeth to hand.

4 And the Priest answered Daid, & said, There is no commune bread vnder mine hand, but here is "halowed bread, if y yong men haue kept them selues, at lealt from women.

5 Daid then answered the Priest, and said vnto him, Certainly women haue bene se- parate fro vs these two or the dayes since I came out: and the 4 vessels of y yong men were holy, though the way were pro- phane, & how much more then shal every one be sanctified this day in the vessel?

6 So the Priest gaue him halowed bread: for there was no bread there, faue the shew- bread that was take from before the Lord, to put hote bread there, the day that it was taken away.

7 (And there was the same day one of the feruants of Saúl f abiding before the Lord, named Doég the Edomite, the 'chiefest of Sauls herdemen)

8 And Daid said vnto Ahimélech, Is the- re not here vnder thine hand a speare or a sworde? for I haue neither broght my swor- de nor mine haines with me, because the Kings bufines required haste.

9 And y Priest said, The sworde of Goliath the Philistim, whome thou slewest in the valley of Eláh, beholde, it is wrapt in a clothe behinde the s Ephód: if thou wilt take that to thee, take it: for there is none other faue that here, & Daid said, There is none to that, giue it me.

10 And Dauid arose & fled the same day from the b prefence of Saúl, & went to A- chish the King of Gath.

11 And the feruants of Achish said vnto hi, Is not this Dauid the "King of the land? did they not fing vnto him in dances, say- ing, "Saúl hathe slaine his thousand, & Da uid his ten thousand?

12 And Dauid "considered these words, & was fore afraid of Achish the King of Gath.

13 And he chaged his b, haustour before the, and fained him selfe mad in their hands, & scrabled on the do:es of the gate, & let his spetle fall downe vpon his bearde.

14 Then said Achish vnto his feruants, Lo, ye se the ma is besie him selfe, wherefore haue ye broght him to me?

15 Haue I nede of mad man, that ye haue broght this fellowe to play the mad man in my prefence? b shal he come into mine houfe?

12. Then the King sent to call Ahimélech the Priest the sonne of Ahitúb, and all his fathers house, to wit, the Priests that were in Nob: and they came all to the King.
13. And Saúl faid, Heare now, thou sonne of Ahitúb. And he answered, Here I am, my lord.
14. Then Saúl faid vnto him, Why haue ye conspired against me, thou and the sonne of Ishái, in that thou hast giuen him vitai- le, and a sworde, and hast asked counfel of God for him, that he shulde rise against me, & lye in waite as appeareth this day?
15. And Ahimélech answered the King, & faid, Who is so faithful among all thy fee uáts as Daudid, being also the Kings sonne in lawe, & goeth at thy commandement, and is honorable inchine house?
16. Haue I this day first begon to aske co- unfel of God for himbe it far fro me, let not the King impute any thing vnto his feruant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy feruant knewe nothing of all this, lesfe nor more.
17. Then the King faid, Thou shalt surely dye, Ahimélech, thou, and all thy fathers house.

18. And the King faid vnto the sergens that stode about him, Turne, & flaye the Priests of the Lord, becaufe their hand al- so is with Daud, and becaufe they knewe when he fled, and shewed it not to me. But the feruáts of the King & wolde not mone their hands to fall vpon the Priests of the Lord.
19. The the King faid to Doég, Turne thou and fall vpon the Priests. And Doég the Edomite turned, and ran vpon the Priests, and slewe that fame day foure score and fue persones that did weate a linen Ephód.

the Philistims?

4 Then Dauid asked counsel of the Lord againe. And the Lord answered him, and said, Arise, go down to Keilah: for I wil deliuer the Philistims into thine hand.

5 So Daud and his men went to Keilah, and foght with the Philistims, and broght away theyr cartel, and fmote them with a great slaughter: thus Dauid faued the inhabitants of Keilah.

6 (And whe Abiathar the fonne of Ahime lech* fled to Dauid to Keilah, he broght an Ephód "with him)

7 And it was tolde Saúl that Dauid was come to Keilah, and Saúl faid, God hathe deliuered him into mine hand: for he is shut in, feing he is come into a citre that hathe gates and barres.

8 The Saúl called all the people together to warre, for to go down to Keilah, and to besiege Daudid and his men.

9 And Daudid haumg knowledge that Saúl imagined mischief against him, faid to Abiathar the Priest, & Bring the Ephód.

10 Then faid Daudid, O Lord God of Israel, thy feruant hathe heard, that Saúl is about to come to Keilah to destroy the citre for my fake.

11 Wil the lords of Keilah deliuer me vp into his had and wil Saúl come down, as thy feruant hathe heard? O Lord God of Israel, I besieche thee, tel thy feruant. And the Lord faid, He wil come down.

12 The faid Daudid, Wil the lords of Keilah deliuer me vp and the men that are with me, into the hand of Saúl? And the Lord faid, They wil deliuer thee vp.

13 Then Daudid and his men, which were about six hundredth, arose, and departed out of Keilah, and went whither they colde. And it was tolde Saúl, that Daudid was fled from Keilah, and he left of his journey.

14 And Daudid abode in the wilderness in holdes, and remained in a mountaine in the wilderness of Ziph. And Saúl foght him euerte day, but God deliuered him not into his hand.

15 And Dauid fawe that Saúl was come out for to feke his life & Dauid was in the wilderness of Ziph in the wood.

16 And Ionathán Sauls fonne arose and went to Dauid into the wood, and comforted "him in God,

17 And faid vnto him, Feare not: for the had of Saúl my father fhal not finde thee, and thou fhalt be King ouer Israel, and I fhal be next vnto thee. and also Saúl my father knoweth it.

18 So they twaine made a couenant before the Lord, and Dauid did remaine in the wood: but Ionathán went to his house.

19 Then came vp the Ziphims to Saúl to Gibcah, fayig, Do. th is on the right side of Ieshimon.

20 Now therefore ô King, come down according to all that thine heart can desire, & our parte fhalbe to deliuer him into the Kings hands.

21 Then Saúl faid, & Be ye blessed of the Lord: for ye haue had compaission on me.

22 Go, I pray you, and prepare ye better: knowe and fe his place where he hanteth, and who hathe fene him there: for it is faid to me, He is fubtile, and crafty.

23 Se therefore, and knowe all the secret places where he hideth him felse, & come ye againe to me with the certente, and I wil go with you: and if he be in the hand. I wil fearche him out throughout all the thousands of Iudah.

24 The they arose and went to Ziph before Saúl, but Dauid and his men were in the wilderness of Maón, in the plaine on the right hand of Ieshimón.

25 Saúl also and his men went to feke him, and they tolde Dauid: wherefore he came down vnto a rocke, and abode in the wilderness of Maón. And when Saúl heard that, he followed after Dauid in y wilderness of Maón.

26 And Saúl and his men went on the one side of the mountaine, and Dauid and his men on the other side of the mountaine: and Dauid made haste to get from the presence of Saúl: for Saúl and his men co passed Dauid & his men round about, to take them.

27 But there came a messenger to Saúl, faying, Haste thee, and come: for the Philistims haue imuaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saúl returned from pursuing Dauid, and went against the Philistims. Therefore they called that place, Sela-hammáhi, koth.

3 The name also of the man was Nabál, & the name of his wife Abigáil, and she was a woman of singular wildome, and beautiful, but the man was churlish, and evil conditioned, and was of the familie of Ca- léb.

4 And Daud heard in the wilderness, that Nabál did there his shepe.

5 Therefore Daud sent ten young men, & Daud said vnto the young men, Go vp to Carmel, and go to Nabál, and after him in my name "how he doeth.

6 And thus shal ye say " for salutation, Bothe g, and thine house, and all that thou hast, be in peace, welth, and prosperitie.

11 Shal I then take my bread, & my water, & my flesh that I haue killed for my she- rers, and giue it vnto me, whome I knowe not whence thei be? 12 ¶ So Dauds feruants turned their way, and went againe, and came, and tolde him all thofe things. 13 And Daud faid vnto his men, Girde e- uery man his fworde about him. And they girded euery man his fworde: Daud also girded his fworde. And about foure hundred men went vp after Daud, and two hundred abode by the carriage. 14 Now one of the seruants tolde Abigail Nabals wife, saying, Beholde, Daud hath sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our master, and he hath rayled on them. 15 Notwithstanding the men were very good vnto vs, and we had no displeasure, neither missed we any thing as long as we were conversant with them, when we were in the fields. 16 They were as a wall vnto vs both by night and by day, all the while we were with them keeping sheep. 17 Now therefore take heed, and see what thou shalt do: for evil will surely come upon our master, and upon all his familie: for he is so wicked y a man can not speake to him. 18 ¶ Then Abigail made haste, and took two hundred cakes, and two bottles of wine, and five sheep ready dressed, & five measures of parched corn, and an hundred fialles of raisins, and two hundred of figges, and laded them on asses. 19 Then she said vnto her servants, Go ye before me: behold, I will come after you: yet she tolde & not her husband Nabál. 20 And as she rode on her ass, she came downe by a secret place of the mountaine, and beholde, Daud and his men came downe against her, and they met them. 21 And Daud said, In dede I haue kept all in vaine that this fellowe had in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained vnto him: for he hath requited me evil for good. 22 So and more also do God vnto the enemies of Daud: for surely I wil not leau of all that he hathe, by the dawning of the day, any that piffeth againft the wall. 23 And when Abigail fawe Daud, the ha- fled and lighted of her affe, & fel before Daud on her face, and bowed her felfe to the gionde, 24 And fel at his fete, & faid, Oh, my lord, I haue committed the iniquitie, and I pray thee, let thine handmaid fpeake" to thee, & heare thou the wordes of thine hadmayd. 25 Let not my lord, I pray thee, rega-de this wicked man Nabál: for as his name is, fo is he: Nabál is his name, and foly is with him: but I thine handmayd fawe not the yong men of my lord whome y fenteft.

26 Now therefore my lord, as the Lord li- ueth, and as thy foule liueth (the Lord, I fay, that hathe withholde thee from com- ming to fhed blood, and that thine hand ffulde not faue thee) fo now thine enemies fhallbe as Nabál, and thei that intende to do my lord euil.

27 And now, this blefing which thine handmayd hathe broght vnto my lord, let it be giuen vnto the yongme, that"fol- lowe my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgiue the trefpaffe of thi- ne handmayd: for the Lord wil make my lord a f fure houfe, becaufe my lord figh- teth the battels of the lord and none euil hathe bene founde in thee" in all thy life.

29 Yet a man hathe rifen vp to perfecute thee, and to foke thy foule, but the foule of my lord fhall be bounde in the bundel of life with the Lord thy God: and the foule of thine enemies fhall God caft out, as out of the midle of a fling.

30 And when the Lord fhall haue done to my lord all the good that he hathe promi- fed thee, and fhall haue made thee ruler ouer Ifrael, 31 Then fhall it be no grief vnto thee, nor offence of minde vnto my lord, that he hathe not fhed blood caufles, nor that my lord hathe not perfecued him felfe: & whe the Lord fhall haue dealt wel with my lord, remember thine handmayd.

32 Then Daud faid to Abigail, Bleffed be the Lord God of Ifrael, which fent thee this day to mete me.

33 And bleffed be thy counfel, and bleffed be thou, which hafte kept me this day fo comming to fhed blood, and that mine o head verf of hand hathe not faued me.

34 For in dede, as the Lord God of Ifrael liueth, who hathe kept me backe from hurting thee, except thou haddelt hafted and met me, furely there had not bene left vnto Nabál by the dawning of the day, any that piffeth againft the wall.

35 Then Daud receued of her hand that which flie had brought him, & faid to her, Go vp in peace to thine houfe: beholde, I haue heard thy voyce, and haue" granted thy petition.

36 ¶ So Abigail came to Nabál, & beholde, he made a feaft in his houfe, like the feaft of a King, and Nabals heart was mery within him, for he was very drókn: whe- refore the tolde him nothing, nether leffe nor more, vntil the morning arofe.

the Lord hathe recom- pensed the wickedness of Nabál vpon his owne head. Also Daud sent to commune with Abigáil to take her to his wife.

40 And when the seruants of Daud were come to Abigáil to Carmél, they spake vnto her, saying, Daud sent vs to thee, to take thee to his wife.

41 And she arose, and bowed her self on her face to the earth, & said, Beholde, let thy handmayd be a seruant to wash the fete of the seruants of my lord.

CHAP. XXVI.

Daud was dissuced unto Saúl by the Ziphims. Daud taketh away Sauls speare, and a pot of water that flide at his head. 21 Saúl confesseth his sinne.

1 A Gaine the Ziphims came vnto Sa- úl to Gibeáh, saying, "Doeth not Daud hide him selfe in the hil of Hachi- lán before" Ieshimón?

2 Then Saúl arose, and went downe to the wilderness of Ziph, hauing thire thousand chosen men of Israel with him, for to seke Dauid in the wilderness of Ziph.

3 And Saúl pitched in the hil of Hachiláh, which is before Ieshimón by the waye side. Now Dauid abode in the wilderness, and he sawe that Saúl came after him in- to the wilderness.

4 (For Dauid had sent out spies, & vnder- stude, that Saúl was come in very dede)

5 Then Dauid arose, and came to the place where Saúl had pitched, and when Dauid beheld the place where Saúl lay, & Ab- nér the sonne of Ner which was his chief captains, (for Saúl lay in the forte, and the people pitched round about him)

6 Then spake Dauid, & said to Ahmélech the Hittite, and to Abishái the sonne of Zeruiah, brother to Ioáb, saying, Who wil go downe with me to Saúl to the horse? Then Abishái said, I wil go downe with thee.

7 So Dauid & Abishái came downe to the people by night: and beholde, Saúl laye sleeping within the forte, & his speare did sticke in the grounde at his head: and Abnér and the people lay round about him.

8 ¶ The said Abishái to Dauid, God hathe closed thine enemies into thine hand this day: now therefore, I pray thee, let me smite him once with a speare to earth, and I wil not smite him again.

9 And Daud said to Abishái, Destroye him not: for who can lay his hand on the Lords anointed, and be gittles

10 Moreover Daud said, As the Lord li- ueth, other the Lord shal smite him, or his day shal come to dye, or he shal descende into battel, and perish.

11 The Lord kepe me from laying mine hand vpo the Lords anointed: but, I pray thee, take now the speare that is at his head, and the pot of water, and let vs go hence.

12 So Daud toke the speare and the pot of water from Sauls head, & thei gate them away, and no man sawe it, nor marked it, nether did any awake, but thei were all a- slepe: for" the Lord had sent a dead slepe vpon them.

13 Then Daud went into the other side, & stode on toppe of an hil a far of, a great space being between them.

14 And Daud cryed to the people, and to Abnér the sonne of Ner, saying, "Hearest thou not Abnér? Then Abnér answered, and said, Who art thou that cryest to the King?

15 ¶ And Daud said to Abnér, Art not man and who is like thee in Israel wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the King? for there came one of the folke in to destroye the King thy lord.

16 This is not wel done of thee: as the Lord liueth, ye are" worthy to dye, because ye have not kept your master the Lords An- ointed: and now se where the Kings spea- re is, and the pot of water that was at his head.

17 And Saúl knewe Dauids voyce, & said, Is this thy voyce, & my sonne Dauid? And Dauid said, It is my voyce, my lord of King.

18 And he said, Wherefore, doeth my lord thus persecute his seruants for what haue done? or what euil is in mine hand?

19 Now therefore, I beseche thee, let my lord the King hear the words of his ser- uant. If the Lord haue stured thee vp against me, let him smel the sauour of a sacrifice: but if the children of men haue done it, cursed be thei before the Lord: for thei haue cast me out this day fro abiding in the inheritance of the Lord, saying, Go, serue other gods.

20 Now therefore let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the Lord: for the King of Israel is come out to seke a flye, as one wolde hunt a parterche in the mountains.

d Meaning, he wolde make him sure as one stroke. e To wit, in his owne pri- uate cause: for Ishu flew two Kings at Gods appointment, 2. King. 9, 24.

CHAP. XXVII.

2 David fleeth to Achish King of Gath, who giueth him Ziklag.
3 David defrayeth certeine of the Philistims. 10 Achish is deceived by David.

1 And David said in his heart, I shal now perish one day by the hand of Saul: is it not better for me that I saue my selfe in the land of the Philistims, and that Saul may haue no hope of me to feke me anie more in all the coastes of Israel, and so escape out of his hand

2 David therefore arose, and he, and the six hundredth men that were with him, wet unto Achish the sonne of Maach King of Gath.

3 And David dwelt with Achish at Gath, he, and his men, euerie man with his household, David with his two wives, Abigail the Israelite, and Abigail Nabals wife the Carmelite.

4 And it was tolde Saul that David was fled to Gath: so he foght nomore for him.

5 And David said unto Achish, If I haue now founde grace in thine eyes, let them giue me a place in some other citie of the country, that I may dwel there: for why shulde thy seruant dwel in the head citre of the kingdome with thee

6 Then Achish gaue him Ziklag that fa- me day: therefore Ziklag pertaineth vnto the Kings of Iudah vnto this day.

7 And the time that David dwelt in the country of the Philiistims, was foure mo- neths and certeine dayes.

8 Then David and his men went vp, and inuaded the 4 Gethurites, and the Girri- tes and the Amalekites: for they inhabi- ted the land from the beginning, from the way, as thou goest to Shur, euen vnto the land of Egypt.

9 And David fmote the land, & left nether man nor woman aliue, and toke fhepe, & oxen, and affes, and camels, and apparel, and returned and came to Achish.

10 And Achish said, "Where haue ye bené a rouing this day? And David answered, Against the Southe of Iudah, and against § Southe of the 4 Ierameelites, & against the Southe of the Kenites.

11 And David saied nether man nor wo- man aliue, to bring them to Gath, saying, Left they shulde tel on vs, and say, So did David, and so wil be his maner all the whi- le that he dwelleth in the country of the Philiistims.

12 And Achish beleued David, saying, "He hathe made his people of Israel utterly to abhorre him: therefore he shaibe my ser- uant for euer.

CHAP. XXVIII.

2 David bathe the chief charge promised about Achish. 3 Saul consulteth with a misbe, and the causeth him to speak with Samuel. 14 Who declareth his rume.

1 Now at that time the Philiistims af- fombed their bandes and armie to fight with Israel: therefore Achish said to David, "Be sure, thou shalt go out with me to the battel, thou, and thy men.

2 And David said to Achish, Surely thou shalt knowe what thy seruant can do. And Achish said to David, Surely I wil make thee keper of mine head for euer.

3 (Samuel was then dead, and all Israel had lamented him, and buried him in Ra- mah his owne citre: and Saul had put away the forcereis, and the fothsfayes out of the land)

4 Then the Philiistims assembled them selues, and came, and pitched in Shunemi and Saul assembled all Israel, & they pitched in Gilboa.

5 And when Saul fowe the hofte of the Phi- listims, he was afrayed, and his heart was fore aftoned.

6 Therefore Saul asked counsel of Lord, & the Lord answered him not, nether by dicames, nor by Vrim, nor yet by Prophetes.

7 Then said Saul vnto his seruants, Seke me a woman that bathe a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and afke of her. And his seruants said to him, Beholde, there is a woman at Endor that bathe a familiar spirit.

8 Then Saul changed him selfe, and put on other raimene, and he went, and two me with him, and they came to the woman by night: and he said, I pray thee, coniectue vnto me by the familiar spirit, and bring me him vp whome I shal name vnto thee.

20 Then Saúl fel ſtreight way all along on the earth, and was fore aſtrayed becauſe of the wordes of Samuél, ſo that there was no ſtrength in him: for he had eaten no bread all the day nor all the night.

21 Then the woman came vnto Saúl, and ſawe that he was fore troubled, and ſaid vnto him, Se, thine handmayd hath obeyed thy voyce, & I a haue put my foule in mine hand, and haue obeyed thy wor- des which thou ſaideſt vnto me.

22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also vnto the voyce of thine hand- maid, and let me fet a morfel of bread before thee, that thou mayest eat & get thee strength, and go on thy iourney.

23 But he refused, and said, I wil not eat: but his seruants and the woman together compelled him, & he obeyed their voyce. so he arose from the earth, and fate on the bed.

24 Now the woman had a fat calfe in the house, and she haisted, and killed it, and toke floure and kneaded it, and baked of it I vnleauened bread.

25 Then she broght them before Saúl, and before his seruants: and when they had eaten, they stode vp, and went away the same night.

11 So Daid and his men rose vp early to departe in the morning, and to returne in- to the land of the Philistims: & the Phi- listims went vp to Izreél.

CHAP. XXX.

The Amalekites burne Ziklág. 1 Dauids two wi- nes are taken prisoners. 2 The people wside flue him. 3 He asyth counsel of the Lord and pursuing his enemies, recoureth the prayer. 4 He deoudeth it equally, 5 And fendeth parte to his friends.

6 Vt when Daid and his men were co- me to Ziklág a the third day, the A- malekites had inuaded vpon the South, euen vnto Ziklág, and had b smitten Zik- lág, and burnt it with fire,

And had taken the women that were the- ren prisoners, boche small and great, and slewe not a man, but caryed them away, and went their wayes.

So Daud and his men came to the ci- tie, and beholde, it was burnt with fire, and their c wiues, and their sonnes, and their daughters were taken prisoners.

Then Daud & the people that was with him, list vp their voyces and wept, vntil they colde were nomore.

Dauids two wiues were taken prisoners also, Ahinóam the Israelite, and Abigail the wife of Nabál the Carmelite.

And Daud was in great solowe: for the people d entended to stone him, because the hearts of all the people were vexed euerie má for his sonnes and for his dau- ghters: but Daud comforted him selfe in the Lord his God.

And Daud said to Abiathár the Priest Ahimelechs sonne, I pray thee, bring me the Ephód. And Abiathár broght the Ephód to Daud.

Then Daud asked counsel at the Lord, saying, Shal I follow after this compa- nte shal I ouertake them: And he answe- red him, Follow: for thou shalt surely ouertake them, and recouer all.

So Daud and the fix hundredth mé that were with him, wét, and came to the river Befór, where a parte of them abode:

But Daud and foure hundredth men fol- lowed (for two hundredth abode behinde, being to wearye to go ouer y river Befór)

And they founde an Egyptiá in the field, and broght him to Daud, and gaue him bread and he did eat, and they gaue him water to drinke.

Also they gaue him a fewe figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came againe to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor dronke ante water in thre dayes, and thre nights.

And Daud said vnto him, To whome belongest thou: and whence art thou: And he said, I am a yong má of Egypt, and fer- uant to an Amalekite: and my master left me thre daies ago, because I felllicke.

We roued vpon the South of Chéreth, & vpon the caft belonging to Iudáh, and vpon the South of Caléb, and we burnt Ziklág with fire.

And Daud said vnto him, Canst thou bring me to this companie: And he said, Sweare vnto me by God, that thou wilt nether kil me, nor deliuer me into the hands of my master, and I wil bring thee to this companie.

And when he had broght him thither, beholde, they lay fcattered abroad vpon all the earth, eating and drinking, & dan- ling, because of all y great pray that thei had taken out of the land of y Philistims, and out of the land of Iudáh.

And Daid fMOTE them from the twi- light, euen vnto the euening: of the next morowe, so that there escaped not a man of them, faue foure hundredth yong men, which rode vpon camels, and fied.

And Daid recouered all that y Amale- kites had také: also Daid rescued his two wiues.

And thei lacked nothing, fmall or great, some or daughter, or of the spoyle of all that they had taken away: Daid recouered them all.

Daid also toke all the shepe, and the oxé, or they draue them before his cattel, and laid. This is Daid's praye.

And Daid came to the two hundredth mé that were to wearie for to follow Dau- id: whome they had made also to abide at the river Befór: and they came to mete Daid, and to mete the people that were with him: so when Daid came nere to the people, he saluted them.

Then answered all the euil and wicked of the mé that went with Daid, and laid, Because they went not with vs, therefore wil we giue them none of the praye, that we haue recouered, faue to euery man his wife and his children: therefore let them cary them away and departe.

Then faid Dauid, Ye fhall not do fo, my brehten, with that which the Lord hathe giuen vs, who hathe preferued vs, and deli- uered the companie that came againft vs, into our handes.

For who wil obey you in this matter: but as his parte is that goeth downe to the bat- tel, fo fhall his parte be, that taieth by the ftuffe: they fhall parte alike.

So from that day forward hee made it a ftature and a lawe an Ifrael, vntil this day.

THE SECONDE BOKE

of Samuél.

THE ARGUMENT.

This bofe and the former beare the title of Samuél, becaufe they containe the conception, nativitue and the whole courfe of his life, and alfo the lines and ackes of two Kings, to wit, of Saúl and Daud, whome he anointed and consecrated Kings by the ordinance of God. And as the first bofe containeth thofe things, which God broght to paffe among his people vnder the guernement of Samuél and Saúl: fo this feonde bofe declareth the noble ackes of Daud, afer the death of Saúl, when he began to reigne, vnto the end of his kingdom: and how the fame by him was wonderfully augmented: alfo his great troubles & dangers, which he fustained bothe within his houfe and without: what horrible & dangerous infurrections, vprores, & treasons were wrought against him, pastely by false counfellers, famed friends & flatterers, and partely by some of his owne children and people and how by Gods affi-ftance he onercame all diffculues, and enjoyed his kingdome in rest and peace. In the perfone of Daud the Scripure feuth fo the Christ Iesus the chief King, who came of Daud according to the felfe, and was perfecuted on every fide with outward and inward enemies, afuel in his owne perfone, as in his members, but at length he ouercometh all his enemies and gmeth his Church victorie against all power bothe spiritual & temporal:

and fo reigneth with them, Kings for euermore.

4 It was told Daud of Sauls death. 15 He causeth him to be slayne that brought the tydings 19 He lamenteth the death of Saúl and Ionathán.

2 Sam 30, 17.

Fier the death of Saúl, when Daud was returned from the slaughter of the Amalekites and had bene two dayes in Ziklág, a Srmung to la ment y ouer-throwe of the people of Ifa-lal

3 Beholde, a man came the third day out of the hoste from Saúl with his clothes rét, and earth vpon his head: & when he came to Daudid, he fel to the earth, and did obes-fance.

3 Then Daudid faid vnto him, Whence co-meft thou And he faid vnto him, Out of the hoste of Ifraél I am efcaped.

4 And Daudid faid vnto him, What is done? I pray thee, tel me. The he faid, y the people is fled from the battel, and many of y people are ouetthrown, and dead, and al-fo Saúl and Ionathán his fonne are dead.

5 And Daudid faid vnto the yong man, that tolde it him, How knoweft thou that Saul and Ionathán his fonne be dead?

6 Then the yong man that tolde him, an-fwered. 7 As I came to mount Gilbóa, be-holde, Saúl leaned vpon his fpeare, and lo, the charets and horsemen followed hard after him.

7 And whe he loked backe, he fawe me, and called me And I anfwered, Here am I.

8 And he faid vnto me, Who art thou And I anfwered him, I am an Amalekite.

9 Then faid he vnto me, I pray thee, come vpon me, and slaye me: for anguish is come vpon me, becaufe my life is yet whole in me.

10 So "I came vpon him, and flewe him, & becauf. I was fuie that he colde not liue, after that he had fallen, I toke the crowne that was vpon his head, and the bra-celet that was on his arme, and broght the hither vnto my lord.

11 Then Dauid toke holde on his clothes, & rent them, and likewife all the men that were with him.

12 And they mourned and wept, and fafted vntil euen for Saúl and for Ionathán his fonne, and for the people of the Lord, and for the houfe of Ifraél, becaufe they were slayne with the fvorde.

13 Afterward Dauid faid vnto the yong man that tolde it him, Whence art thou And he answered, I am the fonne of a ftrágeran Amalektre.

14 And Dauid faid vnto him, "How waft thou not afraied, to put forth the thine hand to deftroy the Anoynted of the Lord?

15 Then Dauid called one of his yong me, & faid, Go nere, and fall vpo him. And he fmote him that he dyed.

16 The faid Dauid vnto him, 7 Thy blood f Thou art in-fly punished be vpon thine owne head, for thine owne for thy fiue, mouth hath teftified agaift thee, faying, I haue slayne the Lords Anointed.

17 Then Daud mounied with this lamé-tation ouer Saul, and ouet Ionathán his fonne,

18 (Alfo he bade them teache the children of Iudáhto s fhoote, as it is written in y boke of Iafhier)

19 O noble Ifraél, he is slayne vpon thy his places: how are the mighty ouerthro-wen?

20 "Tel it not in Gath, nor publish it in the ftrete of Afkelón, left the daughters of the Philistims retoyce, left the daugh-ters of the vncircumcised triumphe.

21 Ye mountaines of Gilbóa, vpon you be nether dewe nor taine, not the there fields of offrings: for there the shield of the mightie is cast downe, the shield of Saúl, as though he had not bene anynted with oyle.

22 The bowe of Ionathán neuer turned backe, nether did the fvorde of Saúl retur-ne empty from the blood of the slayne, and from the fat of the mighty.

23 Saúl and Ionathán were louely and pleasant in their liues, and in their deathes they were not deuded: they were fwifter the negles, they were fröge then lions.

24 Ye daughters of Ifraél, wepe for Saúl, which clothed you in fkarlet, with plea-funes, and hanged ornaments of golde vp-on you appaiel.

25 How were the mighty slayne in the mid-des of the battel?

26 Ionathán, thou waft slayne in thine his places.

26 Wo is me for thee, my brother Iona-thán: very kinde haft thou bene vnto me: thy loue to me was wonderful, pafting y loue of women: how are the mighty ouerthrown, and the weapons of warte de-ft, oyed?

4 Then the men of Iudáh came, and there they anointed Daudid King ouer the houle of Iudáh. And they tolde Daudid, faying, that the men of Iabéfh Gileád buyed Saúl.

5 And Daudid fint meffengers vnto the mé of Iabéfh Gileád, & faid vnto them, Bleffed ate ye of ý Lord, that ye haue fhewed fuche kindenes vnto your lord Saúl, that you haue buryed him.

6 Therefore now the Lord fhewe mercie and 4 trueth vnto you: and I wil recompence you this benefite, becaufe ye haue done this thing.

7 Therefore now let your hands be ftróg, and be you valiant: albeit your mafter Saúl be dead, yet neuerthelefe the houle of Iudáh hath anointed me • King ouer them.

8 But Abnér the fonne of Ner that was captaine of Sauls hofte, toke Ifh-bófheth the fonne of Saúl, and broght him to Mahanáim,

9. And made him King-ouer Gileád, and ouer the Alhurites, and ouer Ixréél, and ouer Ephráim, and ouer Beniamin, and ouer 1 all Ifiaél.

10 Ifh-bófheth Sauls fonne was fourty yere olde when he began to reigne ouer Ifraél, and reigned two yere: but the houle of Iudáh followed Daudid.

11 (And the time which Daudid reigned in Hebrón ouer the houle of Iudáh, was feué yere and fix t monethes)

12 ¶ And Abnér the fonne of Ner, and the feruants of Ifh-bófheth the fonne of Saúl went out of Mahanáim to Gibeón.

13 And Ioáb the fonne of Zeruiáh, and the feruants of Daudid went out and met one an other by the poole of Gibeón: and they fate downe, the one on the one fide of the poole, and the other on the other fide of the poole.

14 Then Abnér faid to Ioáb, Let the yong men now arfe, and 1 playe before vs. And Ioáb faid, Let them arfe.

15 Then there arofe and wene ouer twelue of Benjamin by nomber, which pertained to Ifh-bófheth the fonne of Saúl, and twelue of the feruants of Daudid.

16 And euerie one caught 1 his fellowe by the head, & thruft his fworde in his fellowes fide, fo they fel downe together: wherefore the place was called 1 Helkath-haczu: im which is in Gibeón.

17 And the battel was exceeding fore that fame day: for Abnér and the men of If: aél 1 fel before the feruants of Daudid.

18 And there were three fonnes of Zeruiáh there, Ioáb, and Abifháí, and Afahél. And Afahél was as light on foote as a wilde roc.

19 And Afahél followed after Abnér, & in going he turned nether to the right hand nor to the left from Abnér.

20 Then Abnér loked behinde him, & laid, Art thou Afahél:
And he answered, Yca.

21 Then Abnér laid, Turne thee ether to ý right hand or to the left, and take one of the yong men, and take thee his weapons:
1 Or, fpille, but Afahél wolde not departe from him.

22 And Abnér laid to Afahél, Departe fró me: 1 wherefore fhulde I fmite thee to the 1 Why don't 1 provoke me to gioude: how the fhulde I be able to holde 1 up my face to Ioáb thy brother?

23 And when he wolde not departe, Abnér with the hindre end of the fpeare fmote him vnder the 1 lift rib, that the fpeare came out behinde him: and he fel downe there, and dyed in his place. And as manie as came to the place where Afahél fel downe and dyed, ftode ftill. 1 Some read, in thofe par- tes, where as the lluely partes Iye: as the haue, the luige, ý liuer, the mift, and the gall.

24 Ioáb alfo and Abifháipurfued after Abnér: and the funne went downe, when they were come to ý hil Ammáh, that lieth before Giah, by the way of the wildernes of Gibeón.

25 And the children of Benjamin gathered them felues together after Abnér, & were on an heape and ftode on the top of an hil.

26 Then Abnér called to Ioáb, and faid, Shal the 1 fworde deuoure for euer: know- o If I hadft: not provoked the to battel, as verf 14. eft thou not, that it wil be bitternes in the latter end: how long the fhall it be, or thou bid the people returne fró following their brethren?

27 And Ioáb faid, As God liueh, if thou haddeft not • fpoken, fuely euen in the morning the people had departed euerie one backe from his brother. o If I hadft: not provoked the to battel, as verf 14.

28 ¶ So Ioáb blewe a trumpet, and all the people ftode ftill, and purfued after Ifraél nomore, nether foght they anie more.

29 And Abnér and his men walked all that night through the plaine, & wét ouer Ior- • Or, wilfterner. den, & paft through all Bithrón til they came to Mahanáim. • Or, in the 1524.

30 Ioáb alfo returned backe from Abnér: & whé he had gathered all the people together, there lacked of Dauds feruants nineteen men and Afahél.

31 But the feruárs of Daud had fmitten of Benjamin, and of Abners men, fo that chre r hundred and threfcore men dyed.

32 And they toke vp Afahél, and buryed hi in the sepulchre of his father, which was in Beth-léhem: and Ioáb and his men wét all night, and when they came to Hebrón, the dare arofe.

p Thus God wolde conf- me Daud in his kingfume by the deftru- ftion of his aduerfames.

Daud: but Daud waxed ft longer, & the houfe of Saúl wace: weaker.

1 ¶ And vnto Daud were children borne in Hebrón: and his eldest fonne was Amnón of Aimónam the Izraelite,

2 And his scōde, was Chilkáb of Abigáil the wife of Nabál the Caimelite: and the thiid, Abfalóm the fonne of Maacáh the daughter of Talmái the King of Gefhúr,

3 And the fourth, Adoniáh the fonne of Aggith, and the fifth, Shephaciáh the fonne of Abirál,

4 And the fixt, Ithréam by Egláh Dauids wife: thefe were borne to Daud in Hebrón.

5 ¶ Now while there was warte betw:ne the houle of Saúl and the houle of Daud, Abnér made all his powet for y houle of Saúl.

6 ¶ And Saúl had a concubine named Rizpáh, the daughter of Aiiáh. And Ifh-bófheth faid to Abnér, Wherefore haft thou gone in to my fathers concubin:

7 The was Abnér very wrothe for the wordes of Ifh-bófheth, & faid, Am I a dogs head, which againft Iudáh do ft: we mercy this day vnto the houle of Saúl thy father, to his brethren, & to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Daud, that thou chargift me this day with a faute concerning this woman?

8 The was Abnér very wrothe for the wordes of Ifh-bófheth, & faid, Am I a dogs head, which againft Iudáh do ft: we mercy this day vnto the houle of Saúl thy father, to his brethren, & to his neighbours, and haue not deliuered thee into the hand of Dauid, that thou chargift me this day with a faute concerning this woman?

9 So do God to Abnér, and more alfo, except, as the Lord hathe fwoine to Dauid, euen fo I do to him,

10 To remoue the kingdome ftō the houfe of Saúl, that the throne of Dauid may be ftablifhed ouer Ifraél, and ouer Iudáh, euen ftōm Dan to Beer fhéba.

11 And he durft nomore anfwer to Abnér: for he feared him.

12 ¶ Then Abnér fent meffengers to Dauid on his behalfe, faying, Whole is the land? Who fhulde alfo fay, Make couenant with me, & beholde, mine hand fhall be with thee, to bring all Ifraél vnto thee.

13 Who faid, Wel, I wil make a couenant with thee: but one thing I require of thee, that is, that y fe not my face except thou bring Michál Sauls daughter when thou commeft to feme.

14 ¶ Then Dauid fent meffengers to Ifh-bófheth Sauls fonne, faying, Deliuer me my wife Michál, which I married for an hundreth forelkinnes of the Philíftims.

15 And Ifh-bófheth fent, and toke her from her houfbád a Phaltriél the fonne of Laífh.

16 And her houfband went with her, and came weping behinde her, vnto Bahurim: then faid Abnér vnto him, Go, or reurne. So he returned.

17 ¶ And Abnér had communicacifo with the Elders of Ifraél, faying, Ye foght for Dauid in times paf, that he might be your King.

18 Now: then do it: for the Lord hathe fpoken of Dauid, faying, By the hand of my feruant Dauid I wil faue my people Ifraél out of the hands of the Philíftims, and out of the hands of all their enemies.

19 Alfo Abnér fpake to Beniamin, and afterwaide Abnér went to fpeake with Dauid in Hebrón, concerning all that Ifraél was content with, and the whole a houfe of Beniamin.

20 So Abnér came to Dauid to Hebrón, hauing twenty men with him, and Dauid made a feaft vnto Abnér, and to the men that were with him.

21 Then Abnér faid vnto Dauid, I will fe vp, and go gather all Ifraél vnto my lord y King, that thei may make a couenát with thee, or that thou maieft reigne ouer all that thine heart defireth. Then Dauid let Abnér departe, who went in peace.

22 ¶ And beholde, the feruants of Dauid and Ioáb came from the cape, & brought a great pray with them (but Abnér was not with Dauid in Hebrón for he had fet him away, and he departed in peace)

23 When Ioáb, and all the hofte that was with him were come, men tolde Ioáb, faying, Abnér the fonne of Ner came to the King, and he hath sent him away, and he is gone in peace.

24 Then Ioáb came to the King, and faid, What haft thou done beholde, Abnér came vnto thee, why haft thou sent him away, and he is departed?

25 Thou knoweft Abnér the fone of Ner: for he came to difcerue thee, & to knowe thy outgoing and ingoing, and to knowe all that thou doeft.

A Furth his now, Daud smote the Philistims, and subdued them, & Daud toke the bridle of bondage out of the hand of the Philistims.

2 And he smote Moab, and measured them with a corde, and cast them downe to the ground: he measured them with two cordes to put them to death, & with one full corde to kepe them aliue: so became the Moabites Dauds seruants, and brought gifts.

3 Daud smote also Hadadzer the sonne of Rehob King of Zobah as he went to recouer his border at the iuer "Euphrates.

4 And Daud toke a thousand and sunn hundred horsemen, and twettie thousand foremen, and destroyed all the charrets, but he reserved an hundred charrets of them

5 Then came the Aramites of Dam- mésik to succour Hadadézer King of Zo- bah, but Dauid slewe of the Aramites two and twentie thousand men.

6 And he put a garrison in Aram of Dámé- sik: and the Aramites became seruants to Dauid, and broght gifts. And the Lord saued Dauid wherefouen he went.

7 And Dauid toke the shields of golde that belonged to the seruants of Hada- dézer, and broght them to Ierufalém.

8 And out of Bétah, and Berothái (cities of Hadadézer) Dauid broght exceeding muché braffe.

9 Then Tóí King of Hamáth heard how Dauid had smitten all the hoste of Hada- dézer, 10 Therefore Tóí sent Iotám his sonne vnto King Dauid, to salute him, andro "resoyce with him because he had foght against Hadadézer, and beaten him (for Hadadézer had waite with Tóí) who "broght with him vessels of siluer, and vessels of golde & vessels of braffe.

4 The meffingers of Daudid are vileimnfty entreated of the King of Ammón. 7 Ioh is fent againft the Ammónites.

1 A Feet this, the K King of the children of Ammón dyed, & Hanún his fon- ne reigned in his ftede.

2 Then faid Daudid, I wil fhewe kindenes vnto Hanún the fonne of Nahálh, as his father a shewed kfdenes vnto me. And Da uid sent his seruát to cofo te him fot his father. So Dauids seruants came into the land of the children of Ammón.

3 And the princes of the children of Am- món said vnto Hanún their lord, "Thin- kelt thou y Daudid doeth honour thy fa- ther, that he hathe sent comforters to thee hathe not Daudid rather sent his seruants vnto thee, b to fearche the citie, and to spie it out, and to ouerthowe it?

4 Wherefore Hanún toke Dauids seruants, and shaued of the halfe of their bearde, & cut of their garments in the middle, euen to their buttockes, and sent them away.

5 When it was tolde vnto Daudid, he sent to mete them (for the men were excedig- ly afhamed) and the King said, Tarie at Ierichó, vntil, our beardes be grown, then retuine.

6 And when the children of Ammón sawe that they c stanke in the fight of Da- uid, the children of Ammón sent and hi- red the Aramites of the houfe of Rehób, and the Aramites of Zobá, twentie thou- land foocem n, and of King Maacáh a thoufand men, & of Ifh-tób twelue thou- land men.

7 And when Daudid heard of it, he sent Io- áb, and all the hofte of the ftrong men.

8 And the children of Ammón came out, & put their armie in xray at the entring in of the gate: & the Aramites of Zobá, and of Rehób, and of Ifh-tób, and of Ma- acáh were by them felues in the field.

9 When Ioáb fawc that the fronte of the battel was againft him before and be- hinde, he chofe of all the chofe of Ifra- él, and put them in array againft the Ara- mites.

10 And the reft of the people he defluet ed into the hand of Abihái his brother, that he might put them in array againft the children of Ammón.

11 And he laid, If the Aramites be ftróger then I, thou fhalt helpe me, & if the chil- dren of Ammón be to ftrong for thee, I wil come and fucour thee.

12 Be ftrong and let vs be valiant for our people, and for the cities of our God, and let the Lord do that which is good in his eyes.

13 Then Ioáb, & the people that was with him, joyned in battel with the Aramites, who fled before him.

14 And when the children of Ammón fawe that the Aramites fled, they fled alfo be- fore Abihái, and entred into the citie. fo Ioáb returned from the children of Am- món, and came to Ieruálém.

b For Dauid succeeded Saúl in his kingdom. c The Iewes understand this of Egláh and Michal, or of Kupáh and Michal.
d That is, grew ter things the thefeder Gods loue and beto fate increase toward his, if by their ingratitude they flay him not.
e Thou hast moth cruelly given him into the hands of Gods enemy.

1 Then the Lord sent Nathán vnto Dauid, who came to him, and said vnto him, There were two men in one citre, the one riche, and the other poore.

2 The riche man had exceeding many shepe and oxen:

3 But the poore had none at all, faue one little shepe which he had boght, & nouri- fbed vp: and it grewe vp with him, and with his children also, and did eat of his owne mortfels, & dranke of his owne cup, and slept in his bofome, and was vnto him as his daughter.

4 Now there came a stranger vnto the riche má, who refused to take of his owne shepe, and of his owne oxen to drefle for the stranger that was come vnto him, but toke the poore man shepe, and dressed it for the man that was come to him.

5 The "Dauid was exceeding wrothe with the má, and said to Nathán. As the Lord liueth, the man that hathe done this thing, "shal surely dye,

6 And he shal restore the labe "foure folde, because he did this thing, and had no pi- tie thereof.

7 Then Nathán said to Dauid, Thou art the man. Thus fayth the Lord God of Israel, "I anointed thee King ouer Israel, and deliuered thee out of the hand of Saúl,

8 And gaue thee thy lords h houfe, and thy lords "wives into thy bofome, and gaue thee the houfe of Israel, and of Iudáh, & wolde moreouer (if that had bene to little) haue giuen thee "fuche and fuche things.

9 Wherefore hast thou despised the com- mandement of the Lord, to do evil in his fight: thou hast killed Vriáh the Hittite with the fworde, and hast taken his wife to be thy wife, and hast slaine him with the fworde of the "children of Ammón.

10 Now therefore the fworde shal neuer departe from thine houfe, because thou hast despised me, and taken the wife of Vriáh the Hittite to be thy wife.

11 Thus faith the Lord, Beholde, I wil raise vp evil against thee out of thine owne houfe, and wil "take thy wives before thi- ne eyes, & giue them vnto thy neighbour, and he shal lye with thy wives in the fight of this f fune.

13 Then Daud said vnto Nathán, "I haue finned against y Lord. And Nathán said vnto Daud, The Lord also hathe s put away thy finne, thou shalt not dye.

14 Howbeit because by this dede thou hast caused the enemies of the Lord to blaf- pheme, the childe that is borne vnto thee shal surely dye.

15 ¶ So Nathán departed vnto his houfe: and the Lord stroke the childe that V-riahs wife bare vnto Daud, and it was ficke.

16 Daud therefore besoght God for the childe, and fasted and went in, and laye all night vpon the earth.

17 Then the Elders of his houfe arose to come vnto him, and to cause him to rise from the ground: but he wolde not, ne- ther did he eat wheat with them.

18 So on the seventh day the childe dyed: & the seruants of Daud feared to tel him that the childe was dead: for their said, Be- holde, while the childe was aliue, we spake vnto him, and he wolde not hearken vnto our voyce: how then shal we say vnto him, The childe is dead, "to vex him more?

19 But when Daud sawe that his seruants whispered, Daud perceived that y childe was dead: therefore Daud said vnto his seruats, Is the childe dead? And they said, He is dead.

20 Then Daud arose from the earth, & washed and anointed him selfe, and chan- ged his apparel, and came into the houfe of the Lord, and worshiped, & afterward came to his owne houfe, and bade that their shulde set bread before him, and he did eat.

21 Then said "his seruats vnto him, What thing is this, that thou hast done thou didest fast and wepe for the childe, while it was aliue, but whe the childe was dead, thou didest rise vp, and eat meat.

22 And he said, While the childe was yet aliue, I fasted, and wept: for I said, Who can tel whether God wil haue mereie on me, that the childe may liue?

23 But now being dead, wherefore shulde I now fast? Can I bring him againe ante more? I shal go to him, but he shal not

CHAP. XIII.

24 Ammón Dauds feme defileth his sister Tamár. 29 Tamár is comforted by her brother Abfalom. 29 Abfalom therefore killeth Ammón.

1 Now after this so it was, that Abfa- lóm the feme of David hauing a faue sister, whose name was a Tamár, Amnón the feme of David loued her.

2 And Amnón was so fore vexed, that he fel sicke for his sister Tamár: for she was a b virgin, & it femed harde to Amnón to do any thing to her.

3 But Amnón had a friend called Iona- dáb, the feme of Shimeáh Dauds bro- ther: and Ionadáb was a very subtile man.

4 Who said vnto him, Why art thou the Kings feme so leane fió day to day? wilt thou not tel me? Then Amnón answered him, I loue Tamár my brother Abfalos sister.

5 And Ionadáb said vnto him, 'Lye downe on thy bed, and make thy selfe sicke: and whenthey father shal come to se thee, say vnto him, I pray thee, let my sister Ta- már come, and giue me meat, and let her diesffe meat in my sight, that I may se it, and eat it of her hand.

6 ¶ So Amnón laye downe, & made him selfe sicke: and when the King came to se him, Amnón said vnto the King, I pray thee, let Tamár my sister come, & make me a couple of 4 cakes in my sight, that I may rectue meat at her b... 1.

7 Then David sent home a Tamár, say- ing, Go now to thy brother Amnós house, and diesffe him meat.

8 ¶ So Tamár went to her brother Am- nons house, and he laye downe: and she toke 'flour, and knead it, and made cakes in his sight, and did bake the cakes.

9 And she toke a panne, & a powred them out before him, but he wolde not eat. The Amnón said, Cause ye euery man to go out from 1 me: so euery man went out fió him.

10 Then Amnón said vnto Tamár, Bring the meat into the chamber, that I may eat of thine hand. And Tamár toke the cakes which she had made, and broght them in- to the chamber to Amnón her brother.

11 And when she had set them before him to eat, he toke her, and said vnto her, Co- me, lye with me, my sister.

12 But she answered him, Naye, my bro- ther, do not force me: for no suche thing * oght to be done in Ifraél: commit not this folie.

13 And I, whether shal I cause my shame to go: and thou shalt be as one s of the fooles in Ifraél: now therefore, I pray thee, speake to the King, for he wil not denye me vnto thee.

14 Howbeit he wolde not heaiké vnto her voyce, but being stronger then she, forced her, and lay with her.

15 Then Amnón hated her exceedingly, so that the hated wherewith he hated her, was greater then the loue, wherewith he had loued her: and Amnón said vnto her, Vp, get thee hence

16 And she answered him, 'There is no cause this euil (to put me away) is greater then the other that thou didest vnto me: but he wolde not heare her,

17 But called his 'seruant that serued him, and said, Put this woman now out from me, and locke the dore after her.

18 (And she had a garment of b diuers coulers vpon her: for with suche garmets were the Kings daughters that were virgins, appareled) Then his seruant broght her out, and locked the dore after her.

19 And Tamár put asthes on her head & rent the garment of diuers coulers which was on her, and layed her hand on her head, & went her way crying.

20 And Abfalom her brother said vnto her, Hath Amnón thy brother bene with thee: Now yet be 1 styl, my sister: he is thy brother: let not this thing grieve thine heart. So Tamár remained desolate in her brother Abfaloms house.

21 ¶ But when King David heard all these things, he was very wrothe.

22 And Abfalom said vnto his brother Amnón nether good not bad: for Abfalóm hated Amnón, because he had forced his sister Tamár.

23 ¶ And after the time of two yeres, Ab- falóm had shepeherers in Baal-hazór, which is beside Ephráim, and k Abfalóm called all the Kings sonnes.

24 And Abfalóm came to the King & said, Beholde now, thy feruant harhe shepehe- rers: I pray thee, that the King with his feruants wolde go with thy feruant.

25 But the King answered Abfalóm, Naye my sonne, I pray thee, let vs not go all, left we be changeable vnto thee. Yet Abfalóm laye fore vpó him: howbeit he wolde not go, but "thanked him.

26 Thé said Abfalóm, But, I pray thee, shal not my brother 1 Amnón go with vs And the King answered him, Why shulde he go with thee?

27 But Abfalóm was instant vpon him, and he sent Amnón with him, & all the Kings children.

28 ¶ Now had Abfalóm commanded his seruants, faying, Marke now when Amnós heart is mery with wine, and when I fay vnto you, Smite Amnón, kil him, feare not, for haue not a I commanded you be bolde therefore, and play the men.

29 And the seruants of Abfalóm did vnto Amnón, as Abfalóm had commanded: & all the Kings sonnes arofe, and euery man gate him vp vpon his mule, and fled.

30 ¶ And while thei were in the way, tidigs came to Dauid, faying, Abfalóm hathe flayne all the Kings sonnes, and there is not one of them left.

31 Then the King arofe, and tare his garments, and lay on the a ground, and all his seruants stode by with their clothes rent.

32 And Ionadáb the sonne of Shimcáh Dauids brother anfwered and laide, Let not my lord suppose that thei haue flayne all the yong men the Kings sonnes: for Amnón onely is dead, "because Abfalóm had reported so, since he forced his sister Tamár.

33 Now therefore let not my lord y King take y thing so grievously, to thinke that all the Kings sonnes are dead: for Am- nón onely is dead.

34 ¶ Then Abfalóm fled: & the yong man that kept the watche, lift vp his eyes, and looked, & beholde, there came muche people by the way of the hill side behinde him.

35 And Ionadáb laide vnto the King, Be- holde, the Kings fornes come: as thy ser- uant laide, a fo it is.

36 And affone as he had left speake, be- holde, the Kings fornes came, and lift vp their voyces, and wept: and the King also and all his seruants wept exceedingly fore.

37 But Abfalóm fled away, and went to Talmai the fonne of Ammihúr King of

Geshúr: and Dauid mourned for his fonne euery day.

38 So Abfalóm fled, and went to Geshúr, & was there thre yeres.

39 And King Dauid desired to go for the vnto Abfalóm, because he was pacified concerning Amnón, feing he was dead.

13 Then the woman said, Wherefore then halt thou & thought fuche a thing againft the people of God? or why doeth y King, as one which is fautie, fpeake this thing, that he wil not bring againe his banifhed?

14 For we maft nedes dye, & we are as wa- ter fplit on the grounde, which can not be gathered vp againe: nether doeth God fpare anie perfone, yet doeth he appoint meanes, not to caft out from him him that is expelled.

15 Now therefore that I am come to fpea- ke of this thing vnto my lord the King, the cause is that the people haue made me afraide: threfore thine handmaid said, Now wil I fpeake vnto y King: it may be that the King wil performe the requaft of his handmaid.

16 For the King wil heare, to deliuer his handmaid out of the hand of the man that wolde deftroie me, and alfo my fonne fro the inheritance of God.

17 Therefore thine handmaid said, The worde of my lord the King fhall nowe be “comfortable: for my lord the King is euen as an Angel of God in hearing of good & bad: therefore the Lord thy God be with thee.

18 Then the King answered, and said vnto the woman, Hide not from me, I pray thee, the thing that I shall aske thee. And y wo- man said, Let my lord y King now speake.

19 And the King said, Is not the hand of Ioab with thee in all this? Then the wo- man answered, & said, As thy foul liueh, my lord the King, I wil not turne to the right hand nor to the left from ought that my lord the King hath spoken: for euen thy seruant Ioab bade me, & the put all these wordes in y mouth of thine handmaid.

20 For to the intent that I fulfilld my charge the forme of speache, thy seruant Ioab hath done this thing: but my lord is wife according to the wisdom of an Angel of God to vnderstand all things that are in the earth.

21 ¶ And y King said vnto Ioab, Beholde now, I haue done this thing: go then, & bring the yong man Abalom againe.

22 And Ioab fel to the ground on his face, and bowed himselfe, and “thanked the King. Then Ioab said, This day thy seruant knoweth, that I haue founde grace in thy sight, my lord the King, in that the King hath fulfilled the request of his seruant.

23 ¶ And Ioab arofe, and went to Gethur, and broght Abfalom to Ierufalem.

24 And the King faid, Let him turne to his owne houfe, and not fe my face. So Abfalom turned to his owne houfe, and fawne not the Kings face.

25 Now in all Ifrael there was none to be fo muche praied for beautie as Abfalom: from the fole of his foote euen to the top of his head there was no blemifh in him.

26 And whe he polled his head, (for at eue- rie yeres end he polled it: becaufe it was to heauy for him, therefore he polled it) he weighed the here of his head at two hundieth f fheckels by the Kings weight.

27 And Abfalom had the fonnes, and one daughter named Tamar, which was a fai- re woman to loke vpon.

28 ¶ So Abfalom dwelt y fpace of two yeres in Ierufalem, & fawne not the Kings face.

29 Therefore Abfalom fent for Ioab to fend him to the King, but he wolde not come to him: and when he fent againe, he wolde not come.

30 Therefore he faid vnto his feruants, Be- holde, Ioab harhe a field by my place, & hathe baily the: ein: go, & fet it on fire: & Abfaloms feruants fet the field on fire.

31 Then Ioab arofe, and came to Abfalom vnto his houfe, and faid vnto him, Whe- refore haue thy feruants burnt my field with fire?

32 And Abfalom answered Ioab, Beholde, I fent for thee, faying, Come thou hither, and I wil fend thee to the King for to fay, Wherefore am I come from Gethur? It had bene better for me to haue bene there ftill: now there fore let me fe y Kings face: and if there be anie trespaft in me, let him kil me.

33 Then Ioab came to the King, and tolde him: and he called for Abfalom, who came to the King, and bowed him felfe to the grounde on his face before the King, and the King kised Abfalom.

21 And Itraí anfweted the King, and faid,

As the Lord liueth, & as my lord the King liueth, in what place my lord the King fhall be, whether in death or life, euen there furely wil thy feruant be.

22 Then Dauid faid to Itraí, Come, & go forward. And Itraí the Gittite went, and all his men, and all the children that were with him.

23 And all the countrey wept with a loude voyce, and 4 all the people went forward, but the King paffed ouer the brooke Kidión: and all the people wét ouer towarde the way of the wilderness.

24 ¶ And lo, Zadók alfo was there, and all the Leuites with hym, 5 bearing the Arke of the couenant of God: & they fet downe 6 Arke of God, and Abiathár wét 4 vp vntil the people were all come out of the citie.

25 Then the King faid vnto Zadók, Carie the Arke of God againe into the citie: if I fhall finde fauour in the eyes of the Lord, he wil bring me againe, & fhewe me bethe it, and the Tabernacle thereof.

26 But if he thus fay, I haue no deliite in thee, beholde, 7 here am I, let him do to me as femeth good in his eyes.

1 When Daudid was a litle past the toppe of the hill, Beholde, Zibá the seruant of Mephibó sheth met him with a couple of asses falded, and vpon them two hundredth cakes of bread, and one hundredth bunfhes of raisins, & an hundredth of dry-ed figges, and a bottel of wine.

2 And king faid vnto Zibá, What meanest thou by these: And Zibá faid, They be asses for the Kings houtholde to ride on, and bread and dried figges for the yong men to eat, and wine, that the faint may drincke in the wildernes.

3 And the King faid, But where is thy masters sonne? The Zibá answered the King, Beholde, he remaineth in Ierufalém: for he faid, This day shal the house of Ifraél restore me the kingdome of my father.

4 Then faid the King to Zibá, Beholde, thine are all that pertened vnto Mephibó-sheth. And Zibá faid, “I befeche thee, let me finde grace in thy sight, my lord, ô King.

5 And when King Daud came to a Bahurim, beholde, thence came out a man of the familie of the house of Saúl, named Shimei the sonne of Gerá: and he came out, and cursed.

6 And he cast stones at Daud, and at all the seruants of King Daud: and all the people, and all the men of warre were on his right hand, and on his left.

7 And thus faid Shimei when he cursed, Come forthe, come forthe thou “murthe-rer, and” wicked man.

8 The Lord hathe broght vpon thee all the blood of the house of Saúl, in whose stead thou hast reigned: and the Lord hathe delivered the kingdome into the hand of Abfalóm thy sonne: and beholde, thou art taken in thy wickednes, because thou art a murtherer.

9 Then faid Abifháí the sonne of Zeruiah vnto the King, Why doeth this dead dogge cursé my lord the King? let me go, I pray thee, and take away his head.

10 But the King faid, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiah: for he curseth, euen becausé the Lord hathe bidden him cursé Daud: who darte then say, Wherefore hast thou done so?

11 And Daud faid to Abifháí, & to all his seruants, Beholde, my sonne w came out of mine owne bowels, fekeeth my life:

then how much more now may this sonne of Iemini? Suffre him to cursé: for the Lord hathe bidden him.

12 It may be that the Lord wil loke on mine affliction, and do me good for his cursing this day.

13 And as Daud and his men went by the way, Shimei went by the side of the moû taine ouei against him, and cursed as he went, and th: ewe stones against him, and cast duft.

14 Then came king & all the people that were with him weary, and refreshed them selues there.

15 And Abfalóm, and all the people, the men of Ifraél came to Ierufalém, & Ahithóphél with him.

16 And when Hufháí the Archite Dauids friend was come vnto Abfalóm, Hufháí faid vnto Abfalóm, “God faue the King, God faue the King.

17 Then Abfalóm faid to Hufháí, Is this thy kindenes to thy friend? Why wentest thou not with thy friend?

18 Hufháí then answered vnto Abfalóm, Nay, but whome the Lord, & this people, and all the men of Ifraél chuse, his wil I be, and with him wil I dwell.

19 And “moreouer vnto whome shal I do seruice not to his sonne as I ferued before thy father, so wil I before thee.

20 Then spake Abfalóm to Ahithóphél, Giue counfel what we shal do.

21 And Ahithóphél faid vnto Abfalóm, Go in to thy fathers cocubines, which he hathe left to kepe the house: and when all Ifraél shal heare, that thou ait abhorred of thy father, the hands of all that are with thee, shalbe strong.

22 So they spred Abfalóm a tent vpon the top of the house, and Abfalóm went in to his fathers concubines in the sight of all Ifraél.

23 And the counfel of Ahithóphél which he counfeled in those dayes, was like as one had asked counfel at the oracle of God: so was all the coufel of Ahithóphél bothe with Daud and with Abfalóm.

9. Beholde, he is hid now in some cause, or in some place: and though some of them be ouer:thrown at the first, yet the people shall heare, and say, The people that follow Abfalom, be "ouer:thrown.
10. Then he also that is valiant whose heart is as the heart of a lion, shall "shrinke and faint: for all Israel knoweth, that thy father is valiant, and they which be with him, showte men.
11. Therefore my counsel is, that all Israel be gathered vnto thee, from Dan euen to Beer-sheba as the sand of the sea in number, and that thou go to battel in thine own: persone.
12. So shall we come vpo him in some place, where we shall finde him, and we wil vpo him as the dewe falleth on the ground: and of all the men that are with him, we wil not leauehim one.

13. Moreouer if he be gotten into a citie, then shall all the men of Israel bring ropes to that citie, and we wil drawent into the riuer, vntil there he not one smale stone found there.

14. Then Abfalom and all the men of If- rael said, The counsel of Hushais the Ar- chite is better, then the counsel of Ahithó- phel: for the Lord had determined to destroy the good counsel of Ahithóphēl, that the Lord might bring cuil vpon Abfalom.

15. Then said Hushais vnto Zadok and to Abiathá: the Priests, Of this and that ma- ner did Ahithóphēl and the Elders of If- rael counsel Abfalom: and thus and thus haue I counseled.

16. Now therefore send quickly, and shewe

David, saying, Tary not this night in the fieldes of the wilderness, but rather get thee out, least the King be deuoured & all the people that are with him.

17. Now Ionathán and Ahimáaz abode by En-rogél: (for they might not be sent to come into the citie) and a maid went, and tolde them, and they went and shew- ed King David.

18. Nevertheless a yong man sawe them, and tolde it to Abfalom, therefore they both departed quickly, & came to a man house in Bahurim, who had a well in his court, into the which they went down.

19. And the wife toke and spred a cou- ring ouer the welles mouthe, and spred grounde corne thereon, that the thing shulde not be known.
20. And when Abfaloms seruants came to the wife into the house, they said, Where is Ahimáaz and Ionathán? And the wo- man answered them, They be gone ouer the broke of water. And when they had focht them, and colde not finde them, they returned to Ierusalém.
21. And assone as they were departed, the other came out of the well, and went and tolde King David, and said vnto him, Vp, and get you, quyckly ouer the water: for "suche counsel hathe Ahithóphēl giuen against you.
22. Then David arose, and all the people that were with him, and they went ouer Iordén! vntil the dawning of the day, so that there lacked not one of them, that was not come ouer Iordén.
23. Now whe Ahithóphēl sawe that his co- unsel was not followed, he saddled his asse, and arose, and he went home vnto his ci- tie, and put his housholde in ordre, and whanged him selfe, and dyed, and was bu- ryed in his fathers graue.
24. Then David came to Mahanaim. And Abfalom passed ouer Iordén, he, and all the men of Israel with him.

25. And Abfalom made Amafa captaine of the hoste in the stead of Ioab: which Amafa was a mans sonne named Ithrá an Israelite, that wet in to Abigál the daughter of Naháth, sister to Zeruiah Iobabs mother.

26. So Israel and Abfalom pitched in the land of Gileád.

27. And when David was come to Mahanaim, Shobi the sonne of Naháth out of Rabbah of the children of Ammón, and Machir the sonne of Ammiel out of Lo-dehár, and Barzelái the Gileadite out of Rogél

Then Daudid 8 nobred the people that were with him, & set ouer them cap- taines of thousand and captaines of hun- dreds.

3 And Daudid sent forth the third parte of the people under the hand of Iráb, and the third parte under the hand of Abishái Ioabs brother the sonne of Zeruiah: and the other third parte under the hand of It- rái the Gittite. & the King said vnto the people, I wil go with you my selfe also.

3 But the people answered, Thou shalt not go for the: for if we flee away, they wil not regarde vs, nether wil they passe for vs, thogh halfe of vs were slaine: but thou 5 art now woth the thousand of vs: there- fore now it is better that thou succour vs out of the citie.

b Signifying, 7 a good go- nerour: 8 the to be so dear veto his pro- ple, that they wil rather look their lines, he 9 oghe shulde owns vnto hi.

4 Then the King said vnto them, What semeth you best, that I wil do. So 9 King stode by the gate side, and all the people came out by hundreds and by thousands.

5 And the King commanded Ioáb and A- bishái, and Itrái, saying, Encreate the yong man Abfalóm gently for my sake, and all the people hearde when the King gave all the captaines charge concerning Abfa- lóm.

6 So the people went out into the field to meete Ifraél, & the battel was in 7 wood of Ephraim:

7 Where the people of Ifraél were slaine before the seruants of Dauid: so there was a great slaughter that day, eness of twentie thousand.

8 9 For the battel was skatred ouer all the country: and the wood deuoured muche more people that day, then did the sworde.

9 10 Now Abfalóm met the seruants of Da- uid, and Abfalóm rode vpon a mule, and the mule came under a great thicke oke:
and his head caught holde of the oke, and he was taken vp 11 between the heauen and the earthe: & the mule that was under him went away.

10 And one that sawe it, rolde Ioáb, saying, Beholde, I sawe Abfalóm hanged in an oke.

11 Then Ioáb said vnto the man that rolde him, And hast thou in dede fene: why then didest not thou there smite him to the ground, and I wolde haue giuen thee ten 12 13 elele of siluer, and a girdle?

12 Then the man said vnto Ioáb, Thogh I shulde "receiue a thousand shekels of si- uer in mine had, yet wolde I not lay mine had vpon the Kings sonne: for in our hea- ring the King charged thee, and Abishái, & Itraí, saying, Beware, lest ante touche the yong man Abfalóm.

13 If I had done it, it had bene the "danger of my life: for nothing can be hid fro the King: yea, 14 thy selfe woldeest haue bene against me.

14 Then said Ioáb, I wil not thus tary with thee. And he toke thre darces in his hand, & thrust them" through Abfalóm, while he was yet aliue in the middes of the oke.

15 And ten seruats that bare Ioabs armour, compassed about and smore Abfalóm, and slewe him.

16 Then Ioáb 17 blewe the trumpet, and the people returned from pursuing after If- raél: for Ioáb helde backe the people.

17 And they toke Abfalóm, and cast him into a great pit in the wood, and layed a mighty great heape of stones vpon him: and all Ifraél sled eute: in one to his tent.

18 Now Abfalóm in his life time had take and reared him vp a piller, which is in the "Kings dale: for he said, I haue no sonne to kepe my name in remembrance. & he called 19 piller after his owne name, and it is called vnto this day, Abfaloms place.

19 20 Then said Ahimáaz the sonne of Za- dók, I pray thee, let me runne, and beare the King tidings that the Lord hathe" deliuered him out of the hand of his ene- mies.

20 And Ioáb said vnto him, Thou shalt not be 21 messenger to day, but thou shalt beare tidings another time, but to day thou shalt beare none: for the Kings some is dead.

21 The said Ioáb to Cushí, Go, tel the Kig, what thou hast fene. And Cushí bowed him selfe vnto Ioáb, and ran.

22 The said Ahimáaz the sonne of Zadók agame to Ioáb, What, I pray thee, if I also runne after Cushí? And Ioáb said, Whe efore now wilt thou runne, my son- ne, sing that thou hast no tidings to bring?

23 Yet what if I runne? Then he said vnto him, Róine. So Ahimáaz: anne by the way of the plaine, and ouerwent Cushí.

24 Now Dauid fate between 25 two 26 gates, And the watcheman went to the toppe of the gate vpon the wall, & lift vp his eyes, and sawe, and beholde, a man came tuning alone.

'Barr glui departeth 41 Ifrail frineth with Iudab. And it was tolde Ioab, Beholde, the King wepeth and mourneth for Abfalom. 2 Therefore the "victorie of that day was turned into mourning to all the people: for the people heard fay that day, The King furtoweth for his fonne. 3 And the people wet that day into the ci-tie 'secretly, as people confounded hide them felues when they flee in battel. 4 So the King hid his face, and the King cryed with a lowde voyce, My fonne Ab-falom, Abfalom my fonne, my fonne. 5 Then Ioab came into the houfe to the King & faid, Thou haft fhamed this day the faces of all thy feruats, which this day haue faued thy life, and the liues of thy fonnes and of thy daughters, and the liues of thy wiues, and the liues of thy con-cubines, 6 In that thou loueft thine enemies, & ha-teft thy friendes: for thou haft declared this day, that thou regardest nether thy 'pinnces nor feruants: therefore this day I perceive, that if Abfalom had liued, and we all had dyed this day, that the it wolde haue" pleafed thee wel.

7 Now thetetoie vp, come out, and fpeake "cofortably vnto thy fituats: for I fweare by the Lord, except thou come out, there wil not tary one man with thee this night: and that wil be worfe vnto thee, then all yeuill that fel on thee from thy youthe hetherto.

8 Then the King arofe, & fate in the 'gate: and they tolde vnto all the people, faying, Beholde, the King doeth fit in the gate:

& all the people came before the King: for Ifrael had fled euerie man to his tent.

9 Then all the people were at a ftrife throughout all the tribes of Ifrael, fay-ing, The King faued vs out of the had of our enemies, & he deliuered vs out of the hand of the Philistims, and now he is fled out of the land for Abfalom.

10 And Abfalom, whome we anointed ouer vs, is dead in battel: therefore why are ye fo flowe to bring the King againe?

11 But King Dauid fent to Zadok and to Abirahár the Priests, faying, Speake vn-to the Elders of Iudáh and fay, Why are ye behind to bring King againe to his houfe, (for the faying of all Ifrael is come vnto the King, even to his houfe)

12 Ye are my brethren: my bones and my flesh are ye: wherefore then are ye the last that bring the King againe?

13 Alfo fay ye to Amafa, Art thou not my bone and my flesh: God do fo to me and more alfo, if thou be not captaine of the hofte to me for euer in f'toume of Ioab.

14 So he bowed the heartes of all the men of Iudáh, as of one man: therefore they fent to the King, faying, Returne thou with all thy feruants.

15 So the King returned, & came to Ior-dén. And Iudáh came to Gilgái, for to go to meete the King, & to conduct him ouer

21 But Abishai the sonne of Zeruiah answered, and said, Shal not Shimei dye for this, because he cursed the Lords anoin-

22 And Daud said, What haue I to do with you, ye sonnes of Zeruiah, that this day ye shulde be aduersaries vnto me shal there anie man dye this day in Israel: for do not I knowe, that I am this day King ouer Is- rael?

23 Therefore the King said vnto Shimei, Thou shalt not dye, and the King sware vnto him.

24 ¶ And Mephibosheth the sonne of Saul came downe to meete the King, and had nether washed his feete, nor dressed his bearde, nor washed his clothes from the time the King departed, vntil he returned in peace.

25 And when he was come to Ierusalém, & met the King, the King said vnto him, Wherefore wentest not thou with me, Mephibosheth?

26 And he answered, My lord the King, my seruant dissecued me: for thy seruant said, I wolde haue mine asse saddled to ride the- reon for to go with the King, because thy seruant is lame.

27 And he hath a accused thy seruant vn- to my lord the King: but my lord y King is as an Angel of God: do therefore thy pleasure.

30 And Mephibosheth said vnto y King, Yea, let him take all, seing my lord the King is come home in peace.

31 ¶ Then Barzillái the Gileadite came downe from Rogelim, and went ouer Ior- dén with the King, to conduct him ouer Iordén.

32 Now Barzillái was a very aged man, eni- fourefore yere olde, and he had proudled the King of sustenance, while he lay at Mahanáim: for he was a man of very great substance.

33 And the King said vnto Barzillái, Come ouer with me, & I wil seede thee with me in Ierusalém.

34 And Barzillái said vnto y King, "How long haue I to lyue, that I shulde go vp with the King to Ierusalém?" She has many dates are the years of my life

35 I am this day sourefore yere olde: and ca I discerne betwene good or euil: Hath thy seruant anie taste in that I eat or in y I dinke: Can I heare anie more the voice of singing men and women? wherefore then shulde thy seruant be anie more a "burthen vnto my lord the King?

36 Thy seruant wil go a little way ouer Ior- dén with the King, and why wil the King retomence it me with such a reward?

37 I pray thee, let thy seruant tuine backe againc, that I may dye in mine owne ci- tre, and be buried in the graue of my father and of my mother: but beholde thy seruat p Chimhám, let him go with my lord the King, & do to him what shal please thee.

38 And the King answered, Chimhám shal go with me, and I wil do to him that thou shalt be content with: & whatsoever thou shalt require of me, that wil I do for thee.

39 So all the people went ouer Iordén: and the King passed ouer: and the King kissed Barzillái, and blessed him, and he retur- ned vnto his owne place.

40 ¶ Then the King went to Gilgál, and Chimhám went with him, and all the peo- ple of Iudáh conducted the King, and also haise the people of Israel.

41 And beholde, all the men of Israel came to the King, & said vnto the King, Why haue our brethren the men of Iudáh stolen thee away, and haue brought the King and his housholde, and all Dauds men with him ouer Iordén?

42 And all the men of Iudáh answered the men of Israel, Because the King is nere of kin to vs: and wherefore now be ye angry for this matter? haue we eat e of the Kings cost, or haue we taken anie bribes?

43 And the men of Israel answered the me of Iudáh, and said,

3 And Daud faid vnto the Gibeonites, b What shal I do for you, and wherewith shal I make the atonement, that ye may bleffe

4 The Gibeonites then answered him, We wil haue no filuer nor gold of Saul not of his houfe, nether for vs fhalt thou kil e anie man in Ifrael. And he faid, What ye fhall fay, that wil I do for you.

5 Then they answered the King, The man that confumed vs and that imagined euil against vs, fo that we are destroyed from remaining in anie coffe of Ifrael,

6 Let feuen men of his f fones be deli- uered vnto vs, and we wil hang them vp vnto the Lord in Gibeah of Saul, the Lords chofen. And the King faid, I wil glue them.

7 But the King had compaffin on Mephib- ofteh the fone of Jonathan the fonne of Saul, becaufe of the Lords othe, that was between them, even between Daud and Jonathan the fonne of Saul.

8 But the King toke the two fones of Riz- pah the daughter of Aiah, whome fhe bare vnto Saul, even Armoni & Mephibofteh and the fine fones of Michal, the daugh- ter of Saul, whome fhe bare to Abit e the fonne of Barzilai the Meholathite.

9 And he deliuered them vnto the hands of the Gibeonites, which haged them in the moutaine before the Lord: fo they "dyed all fuen together, and they were flaine in the time of narueft: in the firft doyes, & in the beginning of barly harueft.

10 Then Rizpah the daughter of Aiah to-ke f sackcloth & hanged it vp for he: vpo the rocke, from the beginning of harueft, vntil water dropped vpon them from the heauen, and fuffed nether the birdes of the aire to light on them by day, nor beaftes of the field by night.

11 And it was tolde Daud, what Rizpah the daughter of Aiah the concubine of Saul had done.

12 And Daud went and toke the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his fonne from the citizens of Iabeh Gilead, which had ftollen them from the ftrete of Beth-fnan, where the Philistims had handged them, when the Philistims had flaine Saul in Gilboa.

13 So he bioght thence the bones of Saul and the bones of Jonathan his fonne, and they gathered the bones of them that were hanged.

14 And the bones of Saul and of Jonathan his fonne buried they in the countri of Beniamin in Zelah, in the grace of Kish his father: and when they had performed all that the King had commanded, God was then appeafed with the land.

15 Again the Philistims had wrte with Ifrael: and Daud went downe, and his fruants with him, and they fogne a- gainst the Philistims, and Daud fanned.

16 Th.n Ifht benob which was of the fon- nes of Haraphah (the head of whofe fp are wayel thre hundreth a fhekels of braffe) eue he being girded with a newe fword, thought to haue flaine Daud.

17 But Abifhat the fonne of Zeruah fuc- coured him, and fmote the Philistim, and killed him. Then Dauds men fware vn- to him, faying, Thou fhalt go no more out with vs to battel, left thou quenche the light of Ifrael.

18 And after this alfo there was a battel with the Philistims at Gob, then Sib- bechal the Hufhathite flewe Saph, which was one of the fones of Haraphah.

19 And there was yet another battel in Gob with the Philistims, where Elhanah the fonne of Iaare-oregim, a Bethlehemite flewe Goliath the Gittite: the faffe of whofe fpeare was like a weauers be- ame.

20 Afterwarde there was alfo a battel in Gath, where was a man of a great ftature, and had on euerie hand fix fingers, and on euerie foote fix toes, fome and twentie in number: who was alfo the fonne of Ha- raphah.

21 And when he reuiled Ifrael, Jonathan the fonne of Shima the brother of Da- ud flewe him.

22 Thefe foure were borne to Haraphah in Gath, and dyed by the hand of Daud and by the hands of his fruants.

7 But in my tribulation did I call upon the Lord, and crye to my God, & he did hear my voice out of his temple, & my crye did enter into his eares.

8 Then the earth trembled and quaked: the fundacions of the heuens moued, and fhoke, becaufe he was angry.

9 d Smoke went out at his noftrels, and co-fuming a fire out of his mouth: coles were kindled thereat.

10 He f bowed the heuens alfo, and came downe, and darkenes was vnder his feete. 11 And he rode vpon a Cherib and did flye, and he was fene vpon the wings of the winde.

12 And he made darknes a tabernacle rounde about him, even the gatherings of waters, and the cloudes of the aire.

13 At the brightness of his prefence h the coles of fire were kindled.

14 The Lord thundred from heauen, & the moſte hye gaue his voyce.

15 He fhot arrowes alfo, and fcatred them: to wit, lightning, and deftroyed them.

16 The i chanelſ alfo of the fea appeared, even the fundacions of the worlde were difcouered by the rebuking of the Lord, and at the blaſt of the breath of his noſtrels.

17 He fent from abou, and toke me: he drewe me out of manie waters.

18 He deliuered me from my ftrongemie, and from the that hated me: for they were to ftrong for me.

19 They k preuented me in the day of my calamitie, but the Lord was my ftay, 20 And broght me forth into a large place: he deliuered me, becaufe he fauored me.

21 The Lord rewarded me according to my 1 rightcoufnes: according to the putenes of mine hands he recompenced me.

22 For I kept the wayes of the Lord, and did not m wickedly againft m God.

23 For all his lawes were before me, and his ftatutes: I did not depaite thei efom.

24 I was vpriht alfo towarde him, and haue kept me from my wickednes.

25 Therefore the Lord did rewarde me, according to my rightcoufnes, according to my putenes before his eyes.

26 With y godlie thou wilt fhewe thy felfe godlie: with the vpriht man thou wilt fhewe thy felfe vpriht.

27 With the pure thou wilt fhewe thy felfe pure, and with the a frowarde thou wilt fhewe thy felfe frowarde.

28 Thus thou wilt faue the poore people: but thine eyes are vpon the hautie to huble them.

29 Surely thou art my light, o Lord: and the Lord wil lighten my dark:nes.

30 For by thee haue I broken through an hofte, and by my God haue I leaped ouer a wail.

31 The way of God is • vncorrupt: the worde of the Lord is tryed in the fire: the is a fhield to all that truft in him.

32 For who is God besides the Lord? and who is mighty, faue our God?

33 God is my ftrengh in battel, and maketh my way vpriht.

34 He maketh my feete like p hinde feete, and hathe fet me vpon mine hte places.

35 He teacheth mine hands to fight, fo that a bowe of ' brafle is broken with mine armes.

36 Thou haft alfo giuen me the fhield of thy faluacion, and thy louing kindenes hathe caufed me to moieafe.

37 Thou haft enlarged my fteppes vnder me, and mine heeles haue not flid.

38 I haue purfued mine enemies and deftroyed them, and haue not turned againe vntil I had confumed them.

39 Yea, I haue confumed them and thruft them through, and they fhall not arife, but fhall fall vnder my feete.

40 For thou haft a girded me with power to battel, and them that arofe againft me, haft thou fubdued vnder me.

41 And thou haft giuen me the neckes of mine enemies, that I might deftroy them that hate me.

42 They looked about, but there was none to faue them, even vnto the ' Lord, but he answered them not.

43 Then did I beate the as fmall as the duft of the earth: I did tread thim flat as the clay of the ftreete, and did fpread them abroad.

44 Thou haft alfo deliuered me from the confections of my ' people: thou haft preferred me to be the head ouer nacions: the people which I knewe not, do ferue me.

45 Strangers ' fhall be in fubiectiion to me: aflone as they heare, they fhall obey me.

46 Strangers fhall fhrinke away, and feare in their prtuaie chambers.

47 Let the Lord liue, a and bleffed by my ftrength: and God, even the force of my faluacion be exalted.

48 It is God that giueth me power to reuëge me, and fubdue
the people vnder me,

49 And refcueth me from mine enemies: (y alfo haft lift me vp Dauid, when thes defied y Philistims gathered there to battel, when the men of Ishael were gone up. 10 He arose and smote the Philistims until his hand was weary, and his hand a claue vnto the fwoode: and the Lord gaue great victorie the same day, and the people returned after him onely to spoile. 11 After him was Shammah the sonne of Age the Hararite: for y Philistims assembled at a towne, where was a piece of a field

ful of lentils, and the people sled fro the Philistims. 12 But he stode in the middes of the field, and defended it, and slewe the Philistims: so the Lord gaue great victorie. 13 Afterward thre of the thirty captaines went downe, and came to Daud in the haruest time vnto the caue of Adullam, & the hote of the Philistims pitched in the valley of Rephaim. 14 And Daud watch in an holde, and the garison of the Philistims was then in Beth-lehem. 15 And Daud longed, and said, Oh, that on wode gue me to drinke of the water of the well of Beth-lehem, which is by the gate. 16 Thefe also be the last wordes of Daud, Daud the sonne of Ishai faith, euen the man who was set up on his, the Anointed of the God of Laakob, and the swete singer of Ishael faith, 17 The Spirit of the Lord spake by me, and his worde was in my tongue. 18 The God of Ishael spake to me, yth egth of Ishael said, Thou shale beare rule ouer me, being just, and ruling in the feare of God. 19 Euen as the morning light when y sunne riseth, the morning, I say, without clouds, so shal mine house be, and not as the grass of the earth by the bright raine. 20 For so shal not mine house be with God: for he hathe made with me an euerlating couenat, perfit in all points, and sure: therefore all mine health and whole desire us, that he wil not make it growe so. 21 But the wicked shal be euerie one as thornes chutst away, becaufe: they can not be taken with hands. 22 But the man that shal touche them, must be defended with yron, or with the shaft of a speare. & they shal be burnt with fire in the same place. 23 Thefe be the mighty brake into the hoste of the Philistims, and drewe water out of the well of Beth-lehem that was by the gate, and toke & broght it to Dauid, who wolde not drinke thereof, but powred it for an offering vnto the Lord, 30 And said, O Lord, be it far from me, that I shulde do this. Is not this blood of the men that wet in jeopardy of their liue: therefore he wolde not drinke it.

These things did these thre mighty men. 31 And Abishai the brother of Ioab, the sonne of Zeruah, was chief among y thre, and he lifted up his speare against thre hundredth, and slewe them, and he had the name among the thre. 32 For he was moste excellent of the thre, and was their captaine, but he attened not vnto the first thre. 33 And Benaiah the sonne of Ichoiada the sonne of a valiant man, which had done many actes, or was of Kabzeel, slewe two strong men of Moab: he went downe also, and slewe alion in the middes of a pit in the time of showe. 34 And he slewe an Egyptian a ma of great stature, and the Egyptian had a speare in his hand: but he went downe to him with a stafe, and plucked the speare out of the

So when they had gone about all the Iád, they returned to Ierufalém at the end of nine moneths and twentie dayes.

And Ioáb deliuered the nomber and funnie of the people vnto the King: and there were in Ifraél d eight hédreth thou-fand ftrong m n that drewe fwordes, and the men of Iudáh were e fiue hundreth thoufand m:n:

The Dauids heart fmote him, after that he had nombred the people: and Dauid faid vnto the Lord, I haue finned excedingly in that I haue done: therefore now, Lord, I befeche thee, take away the uel-paffe of thy feruant: for I haue done very foolifhly.

And when Dauid was vp in the morning, the worde of the Lord came vnto the Prophet Gad Dauids Seer, faying,

Go, and fay vnto Dauid, Thus fay th the Lord, I offre thee things, chofe the which of them I fhall do vnto thee.

So Gad came to Dauid, and fhitwed hi, and faid vnto him, Wilt thou that ſ f: uen ye: es famine come vpon thee in thy land, or wilt thou ftee thre moneths before thine enemies, they following thee, or that there be thre daies peftilence in thy land: now a dufte thee, and fe, what anfwer I fhall giue to him that fent me.

And Dauid faid vnto Gad, I am in a wonderful ftrate: let vs fall now into the hand of the Lord, (for his mercies are great) and let me not fall into the hād of man.

THE ARGUMENT.

Because the children of God should be for no continual rest and quietnes in this worlde, the holy God seteth before our eyes in this boke the varretie and change of things, which came to the people of Israel from the death of Daud, Salomon and the rest of the Kings, vnto the death of Ahab, declaring how that threshing kingdoms, except they be preserved by Gods protection, (who then faworth them when his worde is truely set forth, verne esteemed, vice punished and concorde maintained) fail to decay and come to naught: as appeareth by the dinding of the kingdom under Roboham, and Ieroboham, which before were but all one people, and now by the infitte punishment of God were made two, whereof Iudah and Benamim clave to Roboham: and this was called the kingdom of Iudah, and the other ten tribes holde with Ieroboham, and this was called the kingdom of Israel. The King of Iudah had his throne in Ierusalem, and the King of Israel in Samaria, after it was buyite by Amri Ahab's father. And because our Samour Christ according to the flesh should come of the flock of Daud, the genealogie of the Kings of Iudah is here described, from Salomon to Ioram the sonne of Iofaphat, who reigned over Iudah in Ierusalem, as Ahab did ever Israel in Samaria.

Ow when King Dauid was a olde, and stricken in yeres, they couered him w clothes, but no b heate came vnto him.

Wherefore his seruats said vnto him, Let there be foght for my lord the King a yong virgin, and let her stand before the King, and cherish him: & let her lye in thy bosome, that my lord the King may get heate.

3 So they foght for a faire yong maid throughout all the coastes of Israel, and founde one Abishag a Shunammite, and broght her to the King.

4 And the maid was exceeding faire, & cherished the King, and minifred to him, but the King knew her not.

5 Then Adoniah the sonne of Haggith exalted him selfe, saying, I wil be King. And he gate him charets and horsemen, & a fifty men to runne before him.

6 And his father wolde not displease him fro his childehode, to say, Why hast thou done so? And he was a very goodly ma, & his mother bare him next after Abfalom.

7 And he toke counsel of Ioab the sonne of Zerunah, and of Abiathar the Priest: & they e helped forward Adoniah.

8 But Zadok the Priest, and Benaiah the sonne of Iehorada, and Nathan the Prophet, & Shimei, & Rei, & y men of might w were with Daid, were not w Adoniiah.

9 Then Adoniiah sacrificed fupe & oxen, and fat cattel by the stone of Zohelath, which is by En-rogel, and called all his brethren the Kings sonnes, & all the men of Iudah the Kings seruants, 10 But Nathan the Prophet, & Benaiah, and the mighty men, and Salomon his brother he called not.

11 Wherefore Nathan spake vnto Bath-she ba the mother of Salomon, saying, Hast thou not heard, that Adoniiah the sonne of Haggith doeth reigne, and Daid our lord knoweth it not?

12 Now therefore come, I wil now giue thee counsel, how to faue thine owne a life, and the life of thy sonne Salomon.

13 Go, and get thee in vnto King Daid, & say vnto him, didest not thou, my lord, o King, sweare vnto thine hadmaid, sayig, Assuredly Salomon thy sonne shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne? why is then Adoniiah King?

14 Beholde, while y yet talkest there with the King, I also wil come in after thee, & h confirme thy wordes.

17 And fhe answered hi, My lord, thou fwa- reft by the Lord thy God vnto thine had- maid, faying, Affuredly Salomón thy fonne fhall reigne after me, and he fhall fit vpon my throne.

18 And beholde, now n Adoniāh King, & now, my lord, ó King, thou knoweft it not.

19 And he hathe offered many oxen, and fat cattle, and fhepe, and hathe called all the fonnes of the King, & Abiathar y Prift, & Ioab the captaine of the hoftes: but Salomón thy feruant hathe he not hidden.

20 And thou, my lord, ó King, knoweft that the eyes of all Ifrael are on thee, that thou fhouldest tel them, who fhoulde fit on the throne of my lord the King after him.

23 And they tolde the King, faying, Beholde, Nathán the Prophet. And when he was come in to y King, he made oberfan- ce before the King vpon his face to the grounde.

24 And Nathán said, My lord, ó King, haft thou said, Adoniāh shal reigne after me, and he shal sit vpon my throne?

25 For he is gone downe this day, & hathe slaine many oxen, and fat cattle and shipe, and hathe called all the King, sonnes, & the captaines of the holte, & Abiathar the Priest and beholde, they eat & drink before him, and say, "God saue King Adoled.

27 Is this thing done by my lord the King, & thou haft not shewed it vnto thy seruāt, who shulde sit on the throne of my lord the King after him?

28 Then King Daud answered, & said, Call me Bath sheba.
And she came into y Kings pefence, and stoode before the King.

29 And the King sware, saying, As y Lord lueth, who hathe redeemed my foule out of all aduerfitie,

31 Then Bath ſheba bowed her face to the earth, & did reuerēce vnto y Kig, & ſaid, God ſaue my lord King Daud for euer.

32 And King Daud ſaid, Call me Za- dók the Priſt, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiāh the ſonne of Iehoiadá. And they came before the King.

33 Then the King ſaid vnto them, Take with you the ſeruant of your lord, and cauſe Salomón my ſonne to ride vpon mine owne mule, & cary him downe to Gi- hón.

34 And let Zadoók the Priſt and Nathán the Prophet anoint him there King ouer Iſrael, and blow ye the trumpet, and ſay, God ſaue King Salomón.

35 Then come vp after him, that he may come and fit vpon my throne: and he ſhal be King in my ſteade: for I haue appointed him to be prince ouer Iſrael and ouer Iudah.

36 Then Benaiāh the ſonne of Iehoiadá answered the King, & ſaid, So be it, & the Lord God of my lord the King "ratifie it."

37 As the Lord hathe bene with my lord y King, ſo be he with Salomón, & exalt his throne aboue the throne of my lord King Daud.

38 So Zađók the Prift, and Nathán the Prophet, and Benaiāh the sonne of Ieho- iadá, and the Cherethites & the Pelethites wct downe, and caused Salomón to ride vpon King Daudis mule, and broght him to Gihón.

39 And Zađók the Prift toke an herne of royle out of the Tabernacle, and anointed Salonón an 'tlet blow the trumpet, and all the people said, God saue King Sa- lomón.

40 And all the people came vp after him, and the people piped with pipes & reioy- ced with great ioye, so that the earth "rag with the founde of them.

41 And Adoniāh and all the geftes that were with him, heard it: (and they had made an end of eating) and when Ioab heard the founde of the trumpet, he said, What meaneth this noffe & vprose in the citic?

42 And as he yet spake, beholde, Ionathán the sonne of Abiathar the Prift came: & Adoniāh said, Come in: for y art "a wor- thy man, and bringest s good tidings.

1 Then the daies of David drewne that he shulde dye, and he charged Salomón his sonne, saying,

2 I go the waie of all the earth: be strong therefore, and shewe thy solve a man,

3 And take hede to y charge of the Lord thy God, to walke in his waies, & kepe his starutes, & his comandements, & his judg- emnets, & his testimonies, as it is written in the Lawe of Moses, that thou maieest "proper in all that thou doest, and in e- very thing whereunto thou tu: nest thee,

4 That the Lord may confirme his worde which he spake vnto me, sayig, If thy son- nes take hede to their way, that they walke before me in truerh, with all their hearts, and with all their soules, "thou shalt not (said he) want one of thy posteritie vpon the throne of Israel.

5 Thou knowest also what Ioiáh the sonne of Zeruiah did to me, and what he did to the two captaines of the hostes of Israel, vnto Abner the sonne of Ner, and vnto Amasa the sonne of Iethér: whome he shewe, and shed blood of battel in peace, and put the blood of warre vpon his girdle that was about his loynes, & in his shooes that were on his feete. He put the bloody swords vnto his shen- the.

6 Do therefore according to thy wisdom, and let thou not his hoare head go downe to the graue in peace.

7 But shewe kindenes vnto the sonnes of Barzillái the Gileadite, and let them be among them that eat at thy table: for so thei came to me when I fled from Absa- lóm thy brother.

8 And beholde, with thee shimei the sonne of Gera, the sonne of Iemmi, of Ba- huim, which cursed me with an horrible curse in y day when I went to Mahanáim: but he came downe to meete me at Ior- dén, and I sware to him by the Lord, saying, "I wil not slaye thee with the swords.

9 But thou shalt not count him innocent: for thou art a wife man, and knowest what thou ogheest to do vnto him: therefore shalt cause his hoare head to go downe to the graue with blood.

10 So David slept with his fathers, & was buryed in the citre of David.

11 And the daies which David reigned vpon Israel, were fourteen years: seuen yeres reigned he in Hebrón, and thirty & three yeres: reigned he in Leuialém.

12 The fate Salomón vpo the throne of David his father, and his kingdome was stablished mightily.

13 And Adoniiiáh the sonne of Haggith came to Bath-sheba the mother of Salomón: and she said, "Commett thou peaceably: And he said, Yea.

14 He said moreover, I haue a sute vnto thee. And she said. Say on.

15 Then he said, Thou knowest that the kingdome was min, and that all Israel set their faces on me, that I shulde reigne: howbeit the kingdome is turned away, & is my brothers: for it came to him by the Lord.

16 Now therefore I ask thee one request, "refuse me not. And she said vnto him, Say on.

17 And he said, Speake, I pray thee, vnto Salomón the King, (for he wil not say thee naye) that he giue me Abishag the Shunammite to wife.

18 And Bath-sheba said, Wel, I wil speak for thee vnto the King.

19 Bath-sheba therefore went vnto King Salomón, to speak vnto him for Adonii- áh: and the King rose to meete her, and "bowed him selfe vnto her, & fate downe on his throne: and he caused a seat to be set for the Kings mother, and she fate at his right hand.

20 Then she said, I desire a smale request of thee, say me not naye. Then the King said vnto her, Ask on my mother: for I wil not lay thee naye.

21 She laid the, Let Abihág the Shunámite be giuē to Adoniiáh thy brother to wife.

22 But King Salomón answered and laid vnto his mother, And why doest y affe Abihág y Shunámite for Adoniiáh affe for him the kingdome also: for he is mine elder brother, & hafhe for him boshe Abiathár the Priest, and Ioáb the sonne of Zeruiáh.

23 The King Salomón fwaie by the Lord, saying, God do so to me and more also, if Adoniiáh hafhe not spoken this worde againft his owne life.

24 Now therefore as the Lord liuefh, who hafhe establihed me, and fet me on the throne of Daud my father, who also hafhe made me an housse, as he promifed, Adoniiáh shal surely dye his day.

25 And King Salomón sent by the hand of Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiada, and he smote him that he dyed.

26 Then the King laid vnto Abiathár the Priest, Go to Anathóth vnto thine owne fields: for thou art worthy of death: but I wil not this day kil thee, becaufe thou bareft the Alike of the Lord

God before Daudid my father, & becaufe thou haft fuffred in all, wherein my father hafhe bene afflicted.

27 So Salomón caft out Abiathár from being Prielt vnto the Lord, that he might fuffal the wordes of the Lord, which he fpake againft the houfe of Elí in Shilóh.

28 Then ridings came to Ioáb: (for Ioáb had turned after Adoniiáh, but he turned not after Abfalóm) and Ioáb fhed vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & caught holde on the hornes of the altar.

29 And it was tolde King Salomón, that Ioáb was fled vnto the Tabernacle of the Lord, & beholde, he is by the altar. The Salomón fent Benaiáh the fonne of Iehoiada, faying, Go, fall vpon him.

30 And Benaiáh came to the Tabernacle of the Lord, & faid vnto him, Thus faith the King, Come out. And he faid, Naye, but I wil dye here. Then Benaiáh broght the King worde again, faying, Thus faid Ioáb, and thus he answered me.

31 And the King faid vnto him, Do as he hafhe faid, and fimate him, & buye him, y thou maielt take away the blood, which Ioáb fhed caufeles, from me and from the houfe of my father.

32 And the Lord fhall bring his blood vpó his owne head: for he fmote two me more righteous & better then he, & flewe them with the fworde, and my father Daudid knewe not: to wit, Abné:

y fonne of Ner, captaine of the hofte of Ifiaél, and Amafá the fonne of Ielhér captaine of the hofte of Iudáh.

33 Their blood fhall therefore returne vpon the head of Ioáb, and on the head of his fede for euer: but vpon Dauíd, and vpon his fede, and vpon his houle, and vpon his throne fhall there be peace for euer fro the Lord.

34 So Benaiáh the fonne of Iehoiada went vp, and fmote him, and flew him, and he was buryed in his owne houle in the wilderness.

35 And the King put Benaiáh the fonne of Iehoiada in his rounge ouer y hofte: & the King fet Zadók the Prieft in the rounge of Abiathár.

36 Afterwarde the King fent, and called Shimeí, and faid vnto him, Buylde thee an houle in Ierufalém, and dwel there, & departe not thence anie whether.

37 For that day that thou goeft out, & paffeft ouer the riuer of Kidrón, knowe affuredly, that thou fhalt dye the death: thy blood fhall be vpon thine owne head.

38 And Shimeí faid vnto the King, The thing is good: as my lord the King hafte faid, fo wil thy feruát do. So Shimeí dwelt in Ierufalém many dayes.

39 And after thre yeres two of the seruáts of Shimeí fled away vnto Achífh sonne of Maacháh King of Gath: & thei tolde Shimeí, faying, Beholde, thy seruants be in Gath.

40 And Shimeí arofe, and fadled his affe, and went to Gath to Achífh, to feke his seruants: and Shimeí went, and broght his seruants from Gath.

41 And it was tolde Salomón, that Shimeí had gone from Ierufalém to Gath, & was come againe.

42 And the King sent and called Shimeí, & laid vnto him, Did I not make thee to fweare by y Lord, & protested vnto thee, faying, That day that thou goeft out, and walkéft anie whether, knowe affuredly y thou fhalt dye the death: And thou laidéft vnto me, The thing is good, that I haue heard.

43 Why then haft thou not kept the othe of the Lord, & the comandement wherewith I charged thee?

44 The King laid alfo to Shimeí, Thou knoweft all the wickednes whereunto thine heart is priuie, that thou didéft to Dauid my father: the Lord therefore fhall bring thy wickednes vpon thine owne head.

45 And let King Salomón be bleffed, and the throne of Dauid ftablifhed before the Lord for euer.

46 So the King commanded Benaiáh the sonne of Iehoiada: who went out & smote him that he dyed. And the kingdome was stablished in the hand of Salomón.

9 Ioáb shalbe affely punished for the blood that he hadde cranly

1 Salomón the made affinitie with Pharaoh King of Egypt, and toke Paroahs daughter, and brought her into the cstie of Daud, vntil he had made an end of buylding his owne house, and the house of the Lord, and the wall of Icrusalem roud about.

2 Onely the people sacrificed in the hie places, because there was no house buylt vnto the Name of the Lord, vntil those dayes.

3 And Salomón loued the Lord, walking in the ordinaces of Daud his father: onely he sacrificed and offered incense in the hie places.

4 And the King wét to Gibeón to sacrifice there, for that was the chief hie place: a thousand burnt offrings did Salomón offer vpon that altar.

5 In Gibeón the Lord appeared to Salomón in a dreame by night: and God said, Aike wnat I shal giue thee.

6 And Salomón said, Thou hast shewed vnto thy seruant Daud my father great mercy, when he walked before thee in truen, & in righteousness, and in uprightness of heart with thee: & thou hast kept for him this great mercy, and hast giuen him a sonne, to sit on his throne, as appeared this day.

7 And now, o Lord, my God, thou hast made thy seruant King in stead of Daud my father: and I am but a yong childe, and knowe not now to go out and in.

8 And thy seruant is in the middes of thy people, which y hast chosen, euen a great people which cannot be tolde nor nombred for multitude.

9 Giue therefore vnto thy seruant an vnderstanding heart, to iudge thy people, that I may discerne between good & bad: for who is able to iudge this thy mighty people?

10. And this pleased the Lord wel, that Salomón had desired this thing.

11 And God said vnto him, Because thou hast asked this thing, & hast not asked for thy selfe long life, nether hast asked riches for thy selfe, nor hast asked y life of thine enemies, but hast asked for thy selfe vnderstanding to heave iudgement,

12 Beholde, I haue done according to thy wordes: lo, I haue giuen thee a wife and an vnderstanding heart, so that there has he bene none like thee before thee, nether after thee shal arise the like vnto thee.

13 And I haue also y giuen thee that, which thou hast not asked, bothe riches and honour, so that among the Kings there shal be none like vnto thee all thy dayes.

14 And if thou wilt walke in my wayes, to kepe mine ordinances and my commandments, as thy father Daud did walke, Chap. 15, 16 I wil prolong thy dayes.

15 And when Salomón awoke, beholde, it was a dreame, and he came to Icrusalem, and stode before the Aike of the covenant of the Lord, and offered burnt offrings and mace peace offrings, and made a feast to all his seruants.

16 Then came two harlottes vnto the King, and stode before him.

17 And the one woman said, Oh my lord, I & this woman dwel in one house, & I was deliuered of a childe with her in y house.

18 And the third day after that I was deliuered, this woman was deliuered also: and we were in the house together: no stranger was with us in the house, saue we twaine.

19 And this woman sonne dyed in the night: for she overlay him.

20 And she rose at midnight, and toke my sonne from my sise, while thine had maid slept, & layed him in her bosome, & layed her dead sonne in my bosome.

21 And when Frose in the morning to giue my sonne sucke, beholde, he was dead: and when I had wel considered him in the morning, beholde, it was not my sonne, whome I had borne.

22 Then the other woman said, Nay, but my sonne liueh, and thy sonne is dead: againe she said, No, but thy sonne is dead, & mine aliue: thus they spake before y King.

23 The said the King, She sayth, this that liueh is my sonne, & the dead is thy sonne: and y other saith, Naye, but the dead is thy sonne, and the liuing is my sonne.

24 Then y King said, "Bring me a swords: & they brogh out a swords before y King.

25 And the King said, Deude ye the liuing childe in twaine, and giue the one: halfe to the one, and the other halfe to the other.

26 Then spake the woman, whos the liuing childe was, vnto the King, for her compassion was kindled toward her sonne, & she said, Oh my lord, giue her the liuing childe, and s slay him not: but the other said, Let it be nether mine nor thine, but deude it.

27 Then the King answered & said, Give her the liuing childe, and slay him not: this is his mother.

28 And all Israel heard y iudgement, which the King had a uugd, and they feared the King: for they sawe that the wisdom of God was in him to do justice.

Salomons prouison.

1 And King Salomón was King ouer all Ifraél. 2 And thefe were his princes, Azariáh the fonne of Zadók the Prieft, Elihóreph and Ahiáh the fonnes of Shíshá scribes, Iehofhaphát the fonne of Ahilúd, the recorder, 4 And Benaráh the fonne of Iehoiádá wat ouer the hofte, and Sadók and Abia-thár Priests, 5 And Azariáh the fonne of Nathán was ouer the officers, and Zabúd the fonne of Nathán Prieft was the Kings friend, 6 And Ahíshár was ouer the housholde: & Adoniráam the fonne of Abdá was ouer the tribute. 7 And Salomón had twelve officers ouer all Ifraél, which prouided vitalles for the King and his housholde: eche man had a moneth in the yere to prouide vitalles. 8 And thefe are their names: the fonne of Hur in mount Ephráim: 9 The fonne of Dekár in Makáz, and in Shaalbím and Beth-fhéme fh, and Elón and Beth-hanán: 10 The fonne of Héfed in Arubóth, to whome pertemed Sochóh, & all the land of Hépher: 11 The fonne of Abinadáb in all the regió of Dor, which had Tapháth the daughter of Salomón to wife. 12 Baaná the fonne of Ahilúd in Taanách, and Megiddó, & in all, Beth-fheán, which is by Zartánth beneth Izreél, from Beth-fheán to Abel-meholáh, euen til beyonde ouer against Iokmeám: 13 The fonne of Géber in Ramóth Gileád, & his were the townes of Iair, the fonne of Manafléh, which are in Gileád, and vnder him was the regió of Argóh which is in Bañhán: threfcore great cities with walles and barres of braffe. 14 Ahinadáb the fonne of Iddó had to Mahanáim: 15 Ahimázz in Naphtalí, and he toke Bañ-máth the daughter of Salomón to wife: 16 Baaná the fonne of Huñhás in Aher and in Alóth: 17 Iehofhaphát the fonne of Parúah in Iffachár. 18 Shimeí the fonne of Eláh in Beniamín: 19 Giber the fonne of Vrí in the countrei of Gileád, the land of Sihón King of the Amorites, and of Og King of Bañhán, and was officer alone in the land. 20 Iudáh and Ifraél were manie, as the fand of the fea in nomber, eating, drinking, and making meary. 21 And Salomón reigned ouer all kingdomes, from the Ruer vne the land of the Philiftins, and vnto the bordei of Egypt, and they broght prefentes, and ferued Sa-lomón all the dayes of his life.

22 And Salomons vitalles for one day were thirtie measures of fine floure, and thre- score measures of mcale: 23 Ten fat oxen, and twentie oxen of the pattures, and an hundreth fhepe, befide hartes, and buckes, and bugles, and fat foule. 24 For heruled in all the region on the other side of the Ruer, from Tiphfaíh euen vnto Azzáh, ouer all the Kings on the other side the Ruer: & he had peace roude about him on euerie fide. 25 And Iudáh and Ifraél dwelt without feare, euerie man vnter his vine, and vnder his fig tre, from Dan, euen to Beer- shéba, all the dayes of Salomón. 26 And Salomón had fortie thoufád ftalles of hores for his charets, and twelve thoufand horsemen. 27 And thefe officers prouided vitalle for King Salomón, and for all that came to King Salomons table, euerie man his moneth, and they fuffred to lacke nothing. 28 Barly also and ftrawe for the hores and mules broght they vnto the place where the officers were, euerie man according to his charge. 29 And God gave Salomón wifdome and vnderftanding exceeding muche, and a large heart, euen as the fand that is on the fea ftoore. 30 And Salomons wifdome excelled the wifdome of all the children of the Ealt and all the wifome of Egypt. 31 For he was wifr then anre oyan: yea, ther were Ethán the Ezrahite, then Hemán, then Chalcól, then Darcá the fonnes of Mahól: and he was famous throughout all nations rounde about. 32 And Salomón fpake thre thoufád prouerbes: and his fongs were a thoufand and fine. 33 And he fpake of trees, from the cedar tre that is in Lebanon, euen vnto the byffope that fpringeth out of the wall: he fpake also of beaftes, and of foules, and of creping things, and of fithes. 34 And there came of all people to heare the wifdome of Salomón, fró all Kings of the earth, which had heard of his wifdome. CHAP.

appointed ouer the wo:ke, euen ohre thousand and thre hund:eth, which ruled the people that wrogt in the worke.

17 And the King commanded them, & they broght great ftones and coftly ftones to make the fundacion of the houfe, euen hewed ftones.

18 And Salomons workemen, & the workemen of Hiram, and the mafons hewed & prepared timbre and ftones for the buylding of the houfe.

CHAP. VI.

1 The buylding of the Temple and the forme thereof. 2 The promes of the Lord to Salomón.

1 And in the foure hunoreth and foure fore yere (after the children of Israel: were come out of the land of Egypt) and in the fourth yere of the reigne of Salomón ouer Ifrael, in the moneth Zif, (which is the feconde moneth) he buy it the houfe of the Lord.

2 And the houfe which Kig Salomón buy it for the Lord, was thre fore cubites long, & twentie broad, and thirty cubites hie.

3 And the porche before the Temple of the houfe wartwentie cubites long according to the breadth of the houfe, and ten cubites broad before the houfe.

4 And in the houfe he made windowes, broad without, and narrow within.

5 And by the wall of the houfe he made galleries round about, euen by the walles of the houfe round about the Temple and the oracle, and made chambres round about.

6 The nethermoft gallerie was fiue cubites broad, and the middlemoft fix cubites broad, & the thirde feue cubites broad; for he made restes: ounde about without the houfe, that the beams fshulde not be fastened in the walles of the houfe.

7 And whe the houfe was buylt, it was buylt of ftone perfit, before it was broght, so that there was nether hammer, nor axe, nor any toole of yron heard in the houfe, while it was in buylding.

8 The dore of the middle chambre was in the right fide of the houfe, & men went vp with winding fteires into the middlemoft, and out of the middlemoft into the third.

9 So he buylt the houfe and finifhed it, & cielled the houfe being vawted with cieling of cedar trees.

10 And he buylt the galleries vpon all the wall of the houfe of fiue cubites herght, & they were ioyned to the houfe with beams of cedar.

10 And when the Priests were come out of the Sanctuarie, the e cloude filled the house of the Lord, 11 So that the Priests colde not stand to minister, because of the cloud: for the glorie of the Lord had filled the house of the Lord.

12 Then spake Salomón, The Lord e faid, that he wolde dwel in the darcke cloude.

13 I haue buylt thee an house to dwel in, an habitation for thee to abide in for euer.

14 And the King turned his face, & blef-fed all the Congregation of Israel: for all the Congregation of Israel stode there.

15 And he faid, Blef-fed be the Lord God of Israel, who spake with his mouth vnto Daud my father, and hahe with his had fulfilled it, faying, 16 Since the day that I broght my people Israel out of Egypt, I chofe no citie of all y tribes of Israel, to buylde an house that my Name might be there: but I haue cho-fen e Daud to be ouer my people Israel.

17 And it was in the heart of Daud my father to buyld an house to the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

18 And the Lord faid vnto Daud my father, Where as it was in thine heart to buyld an house vnto my Name, thou didest wel, that thou wast so minded:

19 Neuertheles thou shalt not buyld the house, but thy fonne, that shal come out of thy loynes, he shal buyld the house vnto my Name.

20 And the Lord hahe made good his worde that he spake: and I am risen vp in the rounge of Daud my father, and sit on y throne of Israel, as the Lord promised, and have buylt the house for the Name of the Lord God of Israel.

21 And I haue prepared therein a place for the Arke, whe: ein is the s couenant of the Lord which he made with our fathers, whe he broght the out of y lad of Egypt.

22 Then Salomón stode before e the altar of the Lord in the fight of all the Congregacio of Israel, and stretched out his hands to warde heauen,

23 And faid, o Lord God of Israel, there is no god like thee in heauen abou, or in the earth beneth, thou that kepest couenat & mercy with thy feruants that walke before thee with h all their heart, 24 Thou that hast kept with thy feruant Daud my father, that thou hast promised him: for thou spake it with thy mouth & hast fulfilled it with thine hand, as appeareth this day.

25 Therefore now, Lord God of Israel, kepe with thy feruat Daud my father that thou hast promised him, faying, e Thou shalt not want a man in my fight to fit vpon y throne of Israel: so that thy children rake hede to their way, that they walke before me, as thou hast walked in my fight.

26 And now, o God of Israel, I pray thee, let thy worde be verified, which thou spakest vnto thy feruant Daud my father.

27 Is it true in dede that God wil dwel on the earth: beholde, the heauens, & the heauens of heauens are not able to containe thee: how muche more vnable is this house that I haue buylt?

21 And all King Salomons drinking vessels were of gold, and all the vessels of the house of the wood of Lebanon were of pure gold. none were of silver: for it was nothing esteemed in the daies of Salomón.

22 For the King had on the sea the nauie of Tharshish with the nauie of Hiram: once in the yere came y nauie of Tharshish, & brought gold and silver, yuerie, & apes and peacocks.

23 So King Salomón exceeded all y Kings of the earth bothe in riches and in wisdom.

24 And all the worlde foght to se Salomón, to heare his wisdom, which God had put in his heart,

25 And thei broght euery man his present, vessels of silver, and vessels of gold, and raiment, and armour, and swete odors, horses and mules, from yere to yere.

26 Then Salomón gathered together charets and horsemen: and he had a thousand and foure hundred charets, and twelve thousand horsemen, whome he placed in the charet, cities, and with the King at Ierusalém.

27 And the King 'gaue silver in Ierusalém as stones, and gaue cedres as the wilde fig- trees that growe abundantly in the plaine.

28 Also Salomón had horses broght out of Egypt, and fine linen: 'the Kings marchants received the linen for a price.

29 There came vp and went out of Egypt

some charet, wrthe six hundred shekels of silver: that is, one horse, vn hundred and fifty, and thus they broght horses to all the Kings of the Hittites and to the Kings of Aram by their "meanes.

1 Salomón bathe a thousand wines and concubines, which bring him to edolatrie. 2 His God raiseth vp aduefsures against him. 3 He dyeh.

1 D Vt Kig Salomón loued many out- landish women: bothe the daughter of Pharaoh, & the women of Moab, Ammón, Edom, Zidon and Hech,

2 Of the nacions, whereof the Lord had said vnto the children of Israel, "Go not ye in to them, nor let the come in to you: for surely they wil turne your hearts after their gods. to them, I say, did Salomón ioyne in loue.

3 And he had seuen hundred wines, that were princefles and the hundred concubines, and his wines turned away his heart.

4 For when Salomón was olde, his wines turned his heart after other gods, so y his heart was not e perfit with the Lord his God, as was the heart of David his father.

5 For Salomón followed a Ashtaroth the god of y Zidonians, & a Milcom the abomination of the Ammonites.

6 So Salomón wrogt wickednes in the fight of the Lord, but continued not to follow the Lord, as did David his father.

8 And so did he for all his outiádish wiues, which burnt incense and offred vnto their gods.

9 Therefore the Lord was angry with Sa- lomón, because he had turned his heart from the Lord God of Israel, *which had appeared vnto him twice,

10 And had guen him a *charge concer- ning this thing, that he shulde not follow other gods: but he kept not that, which the Lord had commanded him.

11 Wherefore the Lord said vnto Salo- món, Forasmuchess this is done of thee, and thou hast not kept my couchant, and my statutes (which I commanded thee) * I wil surely rent the kingdome fro thee, and wil giue it to thy seruant.

12 Notwithstanding in thy daies I wil not do it, because of Dauid thy father, but I wil rent it out of the hand of thy sonne:

13 Howbeit I wil not rent all kingdome, but wil giue ones tribe to thy sonne, be- cause of Dauíd my seruánt, and because of Ierusalém, which I haue chosen.

14 ¶ Then the Lord stirred vp an aduer- sa-rie vnto Salomón, enen Hadád the Edo- mite, of the Kings * feede, which was in Edóm.

15 *For when Dauíd was in Edóm, & Ioáb the captaine of the hoste had smitten all the males in Edóm, and was gone vp to bury the flas ne,

16 (For six moneths did Ioáb remaine the- re, and all Israel, till he had destroyed all the males in Edóm)

17 Then this Hadád * fled and certeine other Edomites of his fathers seruants with him, to go into Egypt, Hadád being yet a little childe.

18 And they arose out of Midián, & came to Parán, and toke men with them out of Parán, and came to Egypt vnto Pharaóh King of Egypt, which gaue him an house, and appointed him vrtailles, and gaue him land.

19 So Hadád * founde great favour in the sight of Pharaóh, & he gaue him to wife the sister of his owne wife, enen the sister of Tahpenés the quene.

20 And the sister of Tahpenés bare him Genubáth his sonne, whome Tahpenés wayned in Pharaohs house: & Genubáth was in Pharaohs house among the sonnes of Pharaóh.

21 And when Hadád heard in Egypt, that Daud slept with his fathers, & that Ioáb the captaine of the hoste was dead, Hadád said to Pharaóh, Let me depaite, that I may go to mine owne countrey.

22 But Pharaóh said vnto him, What hast thou lacked with me, that thou woldest thus go to mine owne countrey? And he answered, Nothing, but in any wife let me go.

23 ¶* And God stirred him vp another ad- uerfarie, Rezón the sonne of Eliadáh, which = fled from his lord Hadadézer King of Zobáh.

24 And he gathered men vnto him, & had bene captaine ouer the companie, when Daud llewe them. And then went to Damafeus, and dwelt there, * and then made him King in Damafeus.

25 Therefore was he an aduerfarie to Is- rael all the daies of Salomón: besides the euil that Hadád did, he also abhorred Israel, and reigned ouer Atám.

26 ¶* And Ieroboám y sonne of Nebát an Ephraihite of Zeréda Salomons seruant (whose mother was called Zeruáh a widowe) lift vp his hand against the King.

27 And this was the cause that he lift vp his hand against the King, when Salomón buyit Milló, he repaired the broken places of the citre of Daudid his father.

28 And this man Ieroboám was a man of strength and courage, and Salomón sing that the yong má was mete for the worke, he made him * ouersce: of all the laboure of the house of Ioféph.

29 And at that time, when Ieroboám went out of Ierusalém, the Prophet Ahiiáh the Shilonite founde him in the way, hauing a newe garment on him, and then two were alone in the field.

30 Then Ahiiáh caught the newe garment that was on him, and * rent it in twelue pieces, 31 And said to Ieroboám, Take vnto thee ten pieces: for thus fayth the Lord God of Israel, Beholde, I wil rét the kingdome out of the hands of Salomón, & wil giue ten tribes to thee.

32 But he shal haue one tribe for my seruát Dauids fake, and for I. rusalém the citre, which I haue chosen out of all the tribes of Israel, 33 Because the haue forsaken me, and haue worshipped Ashtaroth the god of the Zi- donians, & Chemósh the god of the Moa- bites, and Mileóm the god of the Ammo- nites, & haue not walked in my wayes (to * do right in mine eyes, and my statutes, & my lawes) as did Daudid his father.

34 But I wil not take the whole kingdome out of his hád: for I wil make him prim-e all his life long for Daud my seruans fake, whome I haue chosen, & who kept my commandments and my statutes.

35 *But I wil take the kingdome out of his sonnes hand, and wil giue it vnto thee; eni the ten tribes.

8 And Abírám ſlept with his fathers, & they buried him in the citie of Dauid: & Afa his ſonne reigned in his ſteade.

9 ¶ And in the twentie yere of Ieroboám King of Ifraél reigned Afa ouer Iudáh.

10 He reigned in Ierusalém one & fourtie yere, and his mothers name was Maacháh, the daughter of Abíſhalóm.

11 And Afa did right in y eyes of the Lord, as did Dauid his father.

12 And he toke away the Sodomites out of the land, and put away all the idoles that his fathers had made.

13 And he put downe Maacháh his mother alfo from her eftate, becauft ſhe had made anidole in a groue: & Afa deſtroyed her idoles, & burnt the by the broke Kidión.

14 But they put not downe the he places. Neuertheles Afa's heart was a vpright with the Lord all his dayes.

15 Also he broght in the holy vessels of his father, & the things that he had dedycase vnto the house of the Lord, siluer, & golde and vessels.

16 ¶ And there was warre betwene Afa and Baasha King of Israēl all their dayes.

17 Then Baasha King of Israēl went vp against Iudáh, and buylt a Ramáh, so that he wolde let none go out or in to Afa King of Iudáh.

18 Then Afa toke all the siluer & the gold y was left in the treasures of the house of the Lord, and the treasures of the Kings house, and deliuetted them into the hands of his seruants, and King Afa sent them to *Ben-hadád the sonne of Tábrimón, the sonne of Hczión King of. Arám that dwelt at Damascus, saying,

19 There is a couenant between me and thee, and between my father and thy father: behold, I haue sent vnto thee a pre- sent of siluer, and golde: come, breake thy couenant with Baasha King of Israēl, that he may departe from me.

20 So Ben-hadád hearkened vnto King Afa, and sent the captaynes of the hostes, which he had against the cities of Israēl, and smote Ión, and Dan, and Abélbeth- maacháh, and all Cinneróth, with all the land of Naphtali.

21 And when Baasha heard thereof, he left buylding of Ramáh, and dwelt in Tir- zah.

22 Then King Afa assembled all Iudáh, "none excepted, & they toke the stones of Ramáh, & the timber thereof, wherewith Baasha had buylt, & King Afa buylt with them Géba of Beniamín and Mispáh.

23 And the rest of all the actes of Afa, and all his might and all that he did, and the cities which he buylt, are they not witten in the booke of the Chronicles of y Kings of Iudáh but in his olde age he was diseased in his feete.

24 And Afa slept with his fathers, and was buryed with his fathers in the citie of David his father. And Iehoshaphát his sonne reigned in his stead.

25 And Nadáb the sonne of Ieroboám began to reigne ouer Israēl the second yere of Afa King of Iudáh, and reigned ouer Israēl two yere.

26 And he did euill in the sight of the Lord, walking in the way of his father, & in his sinne wherewith he made Israēl to sinne.

27 And Baasha the sonne of Abiráh of the house of Íftachár conspired against him, & Baasha slew him at Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistines: for Nadab & all Israēl laid siege to Gibbethón.

28 Euen in the third yere of Afa King of Iudáh did Baaffa flay him, and reigned in his fteade.

29 And when he was King, he h fmote all the houfe of Ieroboám, he left non aliuie to Ieroboám, vntil he had deftroied him, according to the worde of y Lord which he fpake by his feruant Abiráh the Shilo- nite, 30 Because of y finnes of Ieroboám which he committed, and wherewith he made If raél to finne, by his prouocation, where- with he prouoked the Lord God of If- raél.

31 And the refidue of the aftes of Nadáb and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél?

32 And there was warre between Afa & Ba- affa King of Ifraél, all their dayes.

33 In the third yere of Afa King of Iudáh, began Baaffa the fonne of Abiráh to reig- ne ouer all Ifraél in Tirzáh, and reigned foure and twentie yeres.

34 And he did euil in the fight of the Lord, walking in the way of Ieroboám, & in his finne, wherewith he made Ifraél to finne.

Baathá and what he did, and his power, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél 8 So Baathá slept with his fathers, & was buryed in Tirzáh, & Eláh his sonne reigned in his steade. 9 And also by the hand of Iehú the sonne of Hanáni the Prophet came the worde of the Lord to Baathá, & to his house, that he shulde be like the house of Ieroboám, euen for all the wickednes that he did in the fight of the Lord, in prouoking him with the worke of his hands, and because he killed him. 10 In the six and twentie yere of Asá Kíng of Iudáh began Eláh the sonne of Baathá to reigne ouer Ifraél in Tirzáh, & reigned two yere. 11 And his seruante Zimrí, captaine of halfe his charets conspired against him, as he was in Tirzáh drinking, til he was drunken in the house of Arzá stuarde of his house in Tirzáh. 12 And Zimrí came & smote him & killed him in the seuen and twenty yere of Asá Kíng of Iudáh, & reigned in his steade. 13 And when he was King, and fate on his throne, he slewe all y house of Baathá, not leauing thereof one to pisse against a wall, nether of his kinsfolkes nor of his friends. 14 So did Zimrí destroy all the house of Baathá, according to the worde of y Lord which he spake against Baathá by the had of Iehú the Prophet, 15 For all the sinnes of Baathá, and sinnes of Eláh his sonne, which they sined and made Ifraél to sinne, and prouoked the Lord God of Ifraél with their vanities. 16 And the rest of the aces of Eláh, and all that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of 15 In the seuen and twentie yere of Asá Kíng of Iudáh did Zimrí reigne seuen dayes in Tirzáh, and the people was then in the holte a besieging Gibbethón, which belonged to the Philistims.

Ifraél

16 And the people of the holte heard say, Zimrí hathe conspired, & hathe also slaine the Kíng. Wherefore all Ifraél made Omrí the captaine of the holte King ouer Ifraél that fame day, euen in the holte.

17 Then Omrí went vp from Gibbethón, and all Ifraél with him, and they besieged Tirzáh.

18 And whé Zimrí slewe, that the citie was taken, he went into the palace of the Kings house, and burnt him selfe and the Kings house with fire, & so dyed, 19 For his sinnes which he sined, in doing that which is euil in the fight of the Lord, in walking in the way of Ieroboám, and in his sinnes which he did, causing Ifraél to sinne.

20 And the rest of the aces of Zimrí, and his treason that he wrought, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél

21 The were y people of Ifraél deuided into two partes: for halfe y people followed Tibní the sonne of Gináth to make him King, & the other halfe followed Omrí.

22 But the people that followed Omrí, preuailed against the people that followed Tibní the sonne of Gináth: so Tibní dyed, and Omrí reigned.

23 In the one and thirtie yere of Asá King of Iudáh began Omrí to reigne ouer If- raél, & reigned twelve yere. Six yere reig- ned he in Tírzáh.

24 And he bognt the moutaine 'Samaria of one Shémer for two talents of siluer, and buylt in the mountaine, and called the na- me of the citie, which he buylt, after the name of Shémer, lord of the mountaine Samaria.

25 But Omrí did euil in the eyes of the Lord, and did worfe then all that were before him.

26 For he walked in all the way of Ierobo- ám the sonne of Nebát, and in his sinnes wherewith he made Ifraél to sinne in pro- uoking the Lord God of Ifraél with their vanities.

27 And the rest of the aces of Omrí, that he did, and his strégth that he shewed, are they not written in the boke of the Chro- nicles of the Kings of Ifraél

28 And Omrí slept with his fathers, & was buryed in Samaria: and Aháb his sonne reigned in his steade.

3 And the worde of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

4 Go hence, and turne thee Eafwarde, and hide ahy selfe in the 'riuer Cherith, that is ouer against Iordén,

5 And thou shalt drinke of the riuer: and I have commanded the rauens to feede thee there.

6 So he went and did according vnto the worde of the Lord:
for he went, and re- mained by the riuer Cherith that is ouer against Iordén.

7 And the rauens broght him bread & flesh in the morning, and bread and flesh in the euening, and he dranke of the riuer.

8 And after a while, the riuer dried vp, be- cause there fell no raine vpon the earth.

9 And the worde of the Lord came vnto him, saying,

10 Vp, and get thee to Zarepháth, which is in Zidón, and remain there: beholde, I have commanded a widowe there to fi- staine thee.

11 So he arose, and went to Zarepháth: and when he came to the gate of the citie, be- holde, the widowe was there gathering stokes: & he called her, & said, Bring me, I pray thee, a little water in a vessel, that I may drinke.

12 And as she was going to fet it, he called to her, and said,
Bring me, I pray thee, a morsel of bread in thine hand.

13 And she said, As the Lord thy God li- ueth, I have not a cake, but euen an hande- ful of meale in a baryl, and a little oyle in a cruise: and beholde, I am gathering a fewe stokes for to go in, and dresse it for me & my sonne, that we may eat it, and dye.

14 And Eliáh said vnto her, Feare not, come, do as thou hath said, but make me thereof a little cake first of all, and bring it vnto me, and afterwards make for thee, and thy sonne.

15 For thus saith the Lord God of Ifraél, The meale in y baryl shal not be wasted, nether shal the oyle in the cruise be dimmu- shed, vnto the time that the Lord send raine vpon the earth.

16 So she went, and did as Eliáh said, and she did eat: so did he and her house b for a certaine time.

17 The baryl of the meale wasted not, nor the oyle was spent out of the cruise, accor- ding to the worde of the Lord, which he spake by the hand of Eliáh.

18 And after these things, the sonne of the wife of the house fell sicke, and his sicknes was so fore, that there was no breath

17 And when Aháb fawe Eliáh, Aháb faid vnto him, Art thou he that troubleth If-raél?

18 And he anfwered, I haue not troubled If-raél, but f thou, and thy fathers houfe, in that ye haue forfaken the comandements of the Lord, and thou haft followed Baa-lim.

19 Now therefore fend, and gather to me all Ifraél vnto mount Carmél, and the prophetes of Báal foure hüdreth & fifte, & the prophetes of the groues foure hun-dreth, which eat at Iezebels table.

20 ¶ So Aháb fent vnto all the children of Ifraél, & gathered the prophetes together vnto mount Carmél.

21 And Eliáh came vnto all the people, & faid, How long t halt ye betwene two opi-nions? If the Lord be God, followe him, but if Báal be he, then go after him. And the people answered him not a worde.

22 Then faid Eliáh vnto y people, I onely remaine a Prophet of the Lord: but Baals proph: tes are foure hundreth & fifté.

23 Let them therefore giue vs two bullocks, and let them chufte the one, and cut him in pieces, and laye him on the wood, but put no fyre vnder, and I wil prepare the o-ther bullocke, and laye him on the wood, and wil put no fyre vnder.

24 Then call ye on the name of your god, and I wil call on the Name of the Lord: and the the God that anwereth b by fyre, let him be God. And all the people an-fwered, and faid, It is wel fpoken.

25 And Eliáh faid vnto the prophetes of Báal, Chufte you a bullocke, and prepare him fift, (for ye are many) & call on the name of your gods, but put no fyre vnder.

26 So thei toke the one bullocke, y was gi-uen them, & thei prepared it, & called on y name of Báal, from morning to noone, faying, O Báal, heare vs: but there was no voyce, nor anie to anfwer: and thei leapt vpon the altar that was made.

27 And at noone Eliiáh mocked them, and faid, Crye loud: for he is a b god: ether he talketh or purfueth hu enemies, or is in his iourney, or it may be that he flepeth, and muft be l awaked.

28 And they cryed loude, and cut them fel-ues as their maner was, with knues and lancets, til the blood gufhed out vpon them.

29 And when mydday was paffed, and thei had prophecied vntil the offing of the evening facrifice, there was nether voyce, nor one to anfwer, nor anie that regaided.

30 And Eliiáh faid vnto all the people, Co-me to me. And all y people came to him. And he tepared the altar of the Lord that was broken downe.

31 And Eliiáh toke twelve fiones, accordig to the number of the tribes of the fones

2 Samaria is befieged. 13 The Lord premifeth the wi-therie to Aháb by a Prophet. 21 The King of Ifraél made peace with Ben-hadád, and is reproved there-fore by the Prophet.

1 Then Bé-hadád the King of Arám affembled all his armae, and two and thirtie Kings with him, with horses, & charets, and went vp, and befieged Samária, and foght againft it.

2 And he fent meflengers to Aháb King of Ifraél, into the citie,

3 And faid vnto him, Thus fayeth Ben-hádád, Thy filuer and thy golde his mine: alfo thy women, and thy faire children are mine.

4 And the King of Ifraél answered, and faid, My lord King, according to thy fay- ing, I am thine, and all that I haue.

5 And when the meflengers came againe, they faid, Thus comandech Ben-hadád, & fayth, When I fhall fend vnto thee, and cōmande, thou fhalt deliuer me thy filuer & thy golde, & thy women, & thy childré,

6 Or els I wil fend my feruants vnto thee by to morow this time: and they fhall fear- che thine houfe, and the houfes of thy fer- uants: and what focuet is pleafant in thine eyes, they fhall take it in their hands, and bring it away.

7 Then the King of Ifraél fent for all the Elders of the land, and faid, Take hede, I pray you, and fe how he fkeeth mufchief: for he fent vnto me for my wines, and for my children, and for my filuer, and for my golde, and I denyed him not.

8 And all the Elders, & all the people faid to him, Hearke not 9 Wherefore he faid vnto the meflengers of Ben-hadád, Tel my lord the King, All that thou didest fend for to thy feruant at the firft time, that I wil do, but this thig I may not do. And the meffengers depar- ted, and broght him an answer.

14 And Aháb faid, By whome: And he faid, Thus faith the Lord, By the feruants of the princes of the prouances. He faid a- gaine, Who fhall ordre the battel? And he answered, Thou.

15 Then he nombred the feruants of the princes of the prouances, and they were two hundieth, two and thirtie: & after the he nombred the whole people of all the children of Ifraél, even feuen thoufande.

16 And they wét out at noone: but Ben-ha- dád did drinke til he was dronken in the tents, habe he & the Kings: for two & thir- tre Kings helped him.

17 So the feruants of the princes of the prouances went out firft: & Ben-hadád fent out, and they fhewed him, faying, There are men come out of Samaria.

18 And he faid, Whether they be come out for peace, take them aliue: or whether they be come out to fight, take them yet aliue.

19 So they came out of the citie, to wit, the fer- uants of the princes of the prouances, and the hofte whaib followed them.

After thefe things Nabóth the Izre- elite had a vineyarde in Izreél, hard by the palace of Aháb King of Samaria.

2 And Aháb fpake vnto Nabóth, faying, 4 Giue me thy vineyarde, that I may make me a garden of herbes thereof, becaufe it is nere by mine houfe: and I wil giue thee for it a better vineyarde then it is: or if it pleafe thee, I wil giue thee the worthe of it in money.

And Nabóth said to Aháb, The Lord kepe me from giuing the inheritance of my fathers vnto thee.

4 Then Aháb came into his house heavy & in displeasure, because of the worde which Nabóth the Izreelite had spoke vnto him, for he had said, I wil not giue thee the inheritance of my fathers, and he lay vpon his bed and turned his face and wolde eat no bread.

5 Then Iezébel his wife came to him and said vnto him, Why is thy spirit so sad if thou eatest no bread?

6 And he said vnto her, Because I spake vnto Nabóth the Izreelite, and said vnto him, Giue me thy vineyarde for money, or if it please thee, I wil giue thee another vineyarde for it: but he answered, I wil not giue thee my vineyarde.

7 Then Iezébel his wife said vnto him, "Doct thou now gouerne the kingdome of Ifraél? vp, eat bread, and" he of good chere, I wil giue thee the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite.

8 So she wrote letters in Ahabs name, & sealed them with his seale, and sent the letters vnto the Elders, and to the nobles that were in his citie dwelling in Nabóth.

9 And she wrote in the letters, saying, Proclaime a fast, and fet Nabóth among the chief of the people,

10 And fet two wicked men before him, and let the wines

13 And there came two wicked men, & ſate before him: and the wicked men witneſſed againſt Nabóth in the preſence of the people, ſaying, Nabóth did "blaſpheme God and the King. The they caryed him away out of the citie, and ſtoned him with ſtones, that he dyed.

14 Then they ſent to Iezébel, ſaying, Na- bóth is ſtoned and is dead.

15 And when Iezébel heard that Nabóth was ſtoned and was dead, Iezébel ſaid to Aháb, Vp, or take poſſeſſion of the vi- neyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, which he refuſed to giue thee for money: for Nabóth is not aliue, but is dead.

16 And when Aháb heard that Nabóth was dead, he roſe to go downe to the vineyard of Nabóth the Izreelite, to take poſſeſ-fion of it.

17 And the worde of the Lord came vn- to Eliiáh the Tiffubite, faying, 18 Arife, go downe to mere Aháb King of Ifraél, which is in Samaria, lo, he is in the vineyarde of Nabóth, whether he is go- ne downe to take poffeffion of it.

20 And Aháb faid to Eliiáh, Haft thou found me, o mine enemies? And he anfwe- red, I haue founds fine: for thou haft folde thy felfe to worke wickednes in the fight of the Lord.

21 "Beholde, I wil bring euil vpon thee, & wil take away thy poffertie, and wil cut of from Aháb him that poffeft againft fi wall, afwel him that is "fhut vp, as him that is left in Ifraél, 22 And I wil make thine houle like fi houle of Ieroboám the fonne of Nebár, & like the houle of Baalhá the fonne of Ahiiáh, for the prouocation wherewith thou haft prouoked, and made Ifraél to finne.

23 And also of Iezébel spake the Lord, saying, "The dogs shall eat Iezébel, by the wall of Izreél.

24 The dogs shall eat him of Ahabs flocke, that dyeth in the citie: and him that dyeth in the fields, shall the foules of the ayre eat.

25 But there was none like Aháb, who did sell him selfe, to worke wickednes in the sight of the Lord: whome Iezébel his wife prouoked.

26 For he did exceedingly abominably in following idoles, according to all that the Am moretes did, whome the Lord cast out before the children of Israél.

27 Now when Aháb heard those wordes, he rent his clothes, and put sackcloth vpon him and fasted, and lay in sackcloth and went softly.

28 And the worde of the Lord came to Elishah the Tishbite, saying,

29 Soft thou how Aháb is humbled before me because he submitteth him selfe before me, I will not bring that euil in his dayes, for in his sonnes dayes will I bring euil vpon his house.

And the King of Israel changed him self, and went into the battel. And the King of Aram commanded his two & thirtie captaines ouer his charters, saying, Fight nether with final, nor great, saue onely against the King of Israel. And when the captaines of the charets sawe Iehohaphat, they said, Surely it is y King of Israel, & they turned to fight against him: and Iehohaphat cryed. And when the captaines of the charets sawe that he was not the King of Israel, they turned backe from him. Then a ceteine man drue a bowe'mightely and fmote the King of Israel betwe-ne the ioynthes of his brigadine. Wherefore he said vnto his charet man, Turne thine had & cary me out of the hofte: for I am "hurt. And the battel encreased that day, and the r King fto de fil in his charet against the Aramites, and dyed at euen: and the blood ran out of the woide into the mides of the charet. And there went a proclamatio through out y hofte about the going downe of the funne, saying, Euery man to his citie, and euery man to his owne counerei. So the King dyed, and was Iehohaphat made shippes of Tharishih to faile to Ophir for golde, but they wet not, for the shippes were broken at Ezion Gaber. Then said Ahaziah the fonne of Ahab vnto Iehohaphat, Let my feruats go with thy feruats in y shippes.

But Iehohaphat wolde not. And Iehohaphat did slepe with his fathers, & was buryed with his fathers in the citie of Daud his

of the Kings.

THE ARGUMENT.

This seconde boke containeth the actes of the Kings of Iudah and Israel: to wit, of Israel, from the death of Ahab vnto the last King Hofeia, who was imprisoned by the King of Assyria, & his citie Samaria taken, & the te tribes by the uute plague of God for their idolatry & disobedience to God led into capituite. And also of Iudah, frothe reigne of Iehoram fonne of Iehohaphat vnto Zedecha who for contemning the Lords comandement by his Prophet, & neglecting his fundry admonitions, by famine & other meanes was taken by his enemies, sawe his fannes moft cruelly flarne before his face, & his owne eyes put out, as the Lord had declared to him before by his Prophet Iereme: and also by the u-ute vengeance of God for contempt of his worde Ierufalem was destroyed, the Temple towns, and he and all his people were led away captives into Babylon. In this boke are notable examples of Gods sinner towards those rulers and people which obey his Prophetes and imbeace his words: and contrary wife of his plagues towards those commune weales which neglect his ministers and do not obey his commandments.

CHAP. I.

1. Ahaziáh by a full falllest sick & cissileth with Baal-zebúb. He is reproved by Eliáh. 2. The captures over fifty were sent to Eliáh, whereof two were burnt with fire fril-leaning by his prayer. 3. Ahaziáh dysth, and Iehorám his brother succedeth him.

Hen Moáb rebelled against Israel after the death of Aháb:

And Ahaziáh fell through the lattesse win dowe in his upper chamber which was in Samaria:

for he was sickest: he sent messengers, to whome he said, Go, or enquire of Baal-zebúb the god of Ekrón, if I shall recover of this my disease.

Then the Angel of the Lord said to Eliáh the Títhbite, Arise, or go vp to mete the messengers of the King of Samaria, and say vnto them, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that ye go to inquire of Baal-zebúb the god of Ekrón?

4. Wherefore thus sayth the Lord, Thou shalt not come downe from the bed on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death. So Eliáh departed.

5. And the messengers returned vnto him, to whome he said,
Why are ye now returned?
6. And they answered him, There came a man and met vs, and said vnto vs, Go, and return vnto the King which sent you, and say vnto him, Thus sayth the Lord, Is it not because there is no God in Israel, that thou sendest to enquire of Baal-zebúb the god of Ekrón? Therefore thou shalt not come downe from the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.
7. And he said vnto them, What maner of man was he which came and met you, and told you these words?
8. And they said vnto him, He was an heterie man, and girded with a girdle of lether about his lownes. Then said he, It is Eliáh the Títhbite.
9. Therefore the King sent vnto him a captaine ouer fifty with his fifty men, who went vp vnto him: for beholde, he sat on the toppe of a mountaine, & he said vnto him, O man of God, the King hath commanded that thou come downe.
10. But Eliáh answered, & said to the captaine ouer the fifty, If that I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen and deuoure thee and thy fyfie. So fyre came downe from the heauen and deuoured him and his fifty.

11. Againe also he sent vnto him another captaine ouer fifty, with his fifty. Who spake, and said vnto him, O man of God, thus the King commandeth, Come downe quickly.
12. But Eliáh answered & said vnto them, If I be a man of God, let fyre come downe from the heauen, and deuoure thee and thy fifty. So fyre came downe from the heauen, and deuoured him and his fifty.
13. Yet againe he sent the third captaine ouer fifty & his fifty. And the third captaine ouer fifty went vp & came, & fell on his knees before Eliáh, & besoght him, & said vnto him, O man of God, I pray thee, let my life and the life of these thy fifty seruantes be precious in thy sight.
14. Beholde, there came fyre downe from the heauen and deuoured the two former captaines ouer fifty with their fifties: therefore let my life now be precious in thy sight.
15. And the Angel of the Lord said vnto Eliáh, Go downe & him, be not afrayd of his presence. So he arose, and we'd downe with him vnto the King.
16. And he said vnto him, Thus saith the Lord, Because thou hast sent messengers to inquire of Baal-zebúb the God of Ekrón, (was it not because there was no God in Israel to inquire of his words) therefore thou shalt not come downe of the bed, on which thou art gone vp, but shalt dye the death.

17. So he dyed according to the words of Lord which Eliáh had spoken. And Iehorám begá to reigne in his steady, in the seconde yere of Iehorám the sonne of Iehohaphát King of Iudáh, because he had no sonne.
18. Concerning the rest of the actes of Ahaziáh, that he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Israel?

CHAP. II.

19. Eliáh deuideth the waters with his cliffs. 20. He is taken vp into heauen. 21. Eliáh taketh his cliffs & deuideth Iordán to The latter and venomous waters are hauled. 22. The children that mocks Eliáh, are rent in process with bepres.
20. And when the Lord wolded take vp Eliáh into heaué by a whitle wind, Eliáh went with Eliáh from Gilgál.
21. Then Eliáh said to Eliáh, Tary here, I pray thee: for the Lord hath sent me to Beth-él. But Eliáh said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy soule liueth, I will not leave thee. So they came downe to Beth-él.
22. He spoke thus to moche-ty, & therefore provoked Gods wrath so moche the more. 26. Manolg, that God wolded shew by ef-feth, whe-cher he was a true Prophet or not.

23. Which humble my life before God & his seruans? That is, spare my life & Ife me not dye as the other two.
24. Thus Lord gmeth holde-nes to but that they spare not the chronings of tyrants, & otherwise of them felizes are afraid to do Gods mess-ages.
25. Iehohaphát going to bat-st against the Syrian, made his sonne Iehorám King in the 17 yere of his reigns: and in the 18 yere, & was the se-conde yere of his sonne, Iehorám sonne of Aháb reigned to Ie-oh: and in the fifth yere of this Iehorám Iehohaphát dyed and the kingdoms of Iudáh was re-famed to his sonne.
26. Which was I place where the children of Israel were cut

5 And the children of the Prophetes that were at Ierichô, came

6 Moreover Eliáh said vnto him, Tary, I pray thee, be it: for the Lord hathe sent me to Iordén. But he said, As the Lord liueth, & as thy foule liueth, I wil not leau thee. So they went both together.

7 And fittie min of the sonnet of the Pro- phetes went and stode on the other side a- farre of, and they two stode by Iordén.

8 Then Eliáh toke his cloke, and wrapt it together, and fmore the waters, and they were deuded hethe: and thether, & they twaine went over on the diye land.

9 Now when they were paffed over, Eliáh said vnto Eliáh, Afise what I shal do for thee before I be taken from thee. And Eliáh said, I pray thee, Let thy Spirit be double vpon me.

10 And he said, Thou hast asked an hard thing: yet if thou fe me when I am tak n from thee, thou shalt haue it fo: & it not, it shal not be.

11 And as they went walking and talking, beholde, there appeared a charet of fyre, and horfee of fyre, and did feparate them twaine. So Eliáh went vp by a why: le- winde into heauen.

12 And Eliáh sawe it, and he cryed, My father, my father, the cha et of Ifraél, and the horsemen thereof: & he sawe him no more: and he toke his owne clothes, & rent them in two pieces.

13 He toke vp also the cloke of Eliáh that fell from him, and returned, and stode by the banke of Iordén.

14 After, he toke the cloke of Eliáh, that fell from him, and fmote the waters, and said, Where is the Lord God of Eliáh, and he him felfe? Againe also he fmote the waters, and they were feparated this waye and that waye: and Eliáh went ouen.

15 And when the children of the Prophe- tes, which were at Ierichô, sawe him on the other side, they said, The Spirit of Eliáh doeth rest on Eliáh: and they came to mete him, & fell to the ground before him,

16 And said vnto him, Beholde now, there be with thy feruants fiftie strong men: let them go, we pray thee, and feke thy master, if fo be the Spirit of the Lord hathe taken him vp, and cast him vpon some mountaine, or into some valley. But he said, Ye shal not send.

17 Yet they were instant vpon him, til he was ashamed: wherefore he said, Send. So they sent fiftie me, which foght there daies, but founde him not.

18 Therefore they returned to him, (for he tamed at Ierichô) and he said vnto them, Did not I say vnto you, Go not?

19 And the min of the citie said vnto Eliáh, Beholde, we pray thee: the fruacion of this citie is pleasant, as thou, my lord, feeft, but the water nnoght, & the groside baren.

20 Then he said, Bring me a newe crufe, & put salt therein. And they brought it to him.

21 And he went vnto the spring of the waters, and cast therein the salt, and said, Thus saith the Lord, I haue healed this water: death shal no more come thereof, neither barennes to the ground.

22 So the waters were healed vntil this day, according to the worde of Eliáh which he had spoken.

23 And he wét vp from thence vnto Beth-él. And as he was going vp the waye, lile children came out of the citie, and mocked him, and said vnto him, Come vp, thou balde head, come vp, thou balde head.

24 And he turned backe & looked on them, and cursed them in the Name of the Lord. And two bearers came out of the forest, and tare in pieces two and fourtie children of them.

25 So he went from thence to mount Carmél, and from thence he returned to Samaria.

5 But when Aháb was deade, the King of Moáb rebelled againſt the King of Iſraél.

6 The effore King Iehorám went out of Samaria the ſame ſeaſon, and nombred all Iſraél,

7 And went, and ſent to Iehofhaphát King of Iudáh, ſaying, The Kig of Moáb haſhe rebelled againſt me: wilt thou go with me to batrel againſt Moáb: And he anſwered, I wil go vp: for d I am, as thou art, my people, as thy people, and mine horſes as thine horſes.

8 Then ſaid he, What way ſhal we go vp? And he anſwered, The way of the wildernes of Edóm.

9 So went the King of Iſraél & the King of Iudáh, and the e King of Edóm, and when they had compaſſed the way ſeuē daies, they had no water for the hoſte, nor for the cartel that "followed them.

10 Therefore the King of Iſraél ſaid, Alas, that y Lord haſhe called theſe thre Kigs, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

11 But Iehofhaphát ſaid, Is there not here a Prophet of the Lord, that we may inquire of the Lord by him: And one of the King of Iſraél ſeruants anſwered, & ſaid, Here is Eliſhá y ſonne of ſhaphát, which f powied water on the hands of Eliáh.

12 Then Iehoshaphát said, s The worde of the Lord is with him.
Therefore the King of Ifraél, and Iehoshaphát, and the King of Edóm went downe to him.

13 And Elifhá said vnto the King of Ifraél, h What haue I to do with thee? Get thee to the Prophetes of thy father and to the Prophetes of thy mother. And the King of Ifraél said vnto him, i Naye: for the Lord hafhe called these thre Kings, to giue them into the hand of Moáb.

14 Then Elifhá said, As the Lord of hostes liuech, in whose fight I stand, if it were not, that I regarde the pefrence of Iehoshaphát the King of Iudáh, I wolde k not haue loked toward thee, nor sene thee.

15 But now bring me a minstrel. And when the minstrel i played, the hand of the Lord came vpon him.

16 And he said, Thus faith the Lord, Make this valley ful of dyches.

17 For thus faith the Lord, Ye shal nether se winde nor se raine, yet the valley shal be filled with water, that ye may drinke, bothe ye and your cartel, and your beastes.

18 But this is a e small thing in the fight of the Lord: for he wil giue Moáb into your hand.

19 And ye shal fynde euerie strong towne and euerie chief cite, and shal fel euerie fayre, and shal stop all the fountaines of water, and e marre euerie good field with stones.

20 And in the morning when the meat of-firing was offered, beholde, there came water by the way of Edóm: and the country was filled with water.

21 And when all the Moabites heard that the Kings were come vp to fight against them, they gathered all that was able to put on harness, and vppwarde, and stood in their border.

22 And they trofe early in the morning, when the sunne arose vpon the water, & the Moabites sawe the water ouer against them, as red as blood.

23 And they said, O This is blood: y Kings are surely slayne, and one hath smitten another: now therefore, Moáb, to y spoile.

24 And when they came to the hoste of Israél, the Israelites arose vp, and smote the Moabites, so that they fled before them, but they pynuaded them, and smote Moáb.

25 And they destroyed the cities: and on all the good field euerie man cast his stone, & filled them, & they stopped all the fountaines of water, and felled all the good trees: onely in y Kir-haráseth left they the stones thereof: howbeit they wete about it with slings, and smote it.

26 And when the King of Moáb sawe that the battel was to fore for him, he toke with him seven hundredth men that drew the sword to breake through vnto the King of Edóm: but they could not.

27 Then he toke his eldest sonne, that should haue reigned in his steade, & offered him for a burnt offering vpon the wall: so that Israél was sore grieved, and they departed from him, and returned to their country.

6 And when the vessels were full, she said vnto her sonne, Bring me yet a vessel. And he said vnto her, There is no more vessels. And the oyle ceased.

7 Then she came and tolde the man of God. And he said, Go, and sel the oyle, & pay them that thou art in det vnto, and liuc thou and thy children of the rest.

8 ¶ And on a time Elíshá came to Shuné, & there a woman of great estimation cost: as- ned him to eat bread: and as he passed by, he turned in thether to eat bread.

9 And she said vnto her housband, Beholde, I knowe now, that this is an holie man of God that passeth by vs continually.

10 Let vs make h him a litle chamber, I pray thee, with walles, and let vs set him there a bed and a table & a stole, and a candlestick, that he may turne in thether whe he commeth to vs.

11 ¶ And on a day, he came thether and turned into the chamber, and laye therein, 12 And said to Gehazi his feruán, Call this Shunammite: and when he called her, she stode before him.

13 Then he said vnto him, Say vnto her now, Beholde, thou hast had all this great care for vs, what shal we do for thee? Is there anie thing to be spoke for thee to the King or to the captaine of the host? And she answered, I dwel among mine own people.

14 Agane he said, What is then to be done for her? Then Gehazi answered, In dede she hathe: no sonne, and her housband is olde.

15 The said he, Call her. And he called her, and she stode in the dore.

16 And he said, "At this time appointed, according to the time of life, thou shalt embrace a sonne. And she said, Oh my lord, thou man of God, do not lye vnto thine handmaid.

17 So the womán conceiued, and bare a sonne at that same season, according to the time of life, that Elíshá had said vnto her.

18 ¶ And when the childe was grown, it sel on a day, that he went out to his father, & to the reapers.

19 And he said to his father, m Mine head, mine head. Who said to his feruant, Bea- re him to his mother.

20 And he toke him and brought him to his mother, & he fate on his knees til noone, and dyed.

21 Then she went vp, and layed him on the bed of the man of God, and shut the dore upon him, and went out.

22 ¶ Then she called to her housband; and said, Send with me, I pray thee, one of the yong me & one of the asses: for I wil haste to the man of God, and come againe.

23 And he said, Wherefore wilt thou go to him to day; it is nether a newe moone nor Sabbath day. And she answered, "All shalbe wel.

24 Then she saddled an asse, and said to her feruant, Dryue, and go forward: stay not for me to get vp, except I bid thee.

25 ¶ So she went, & came vnto the man of God to mount Carmel. And whe the man of God saw her ouer against him, he said to Gehazi his feruant, Beholde, the Shu- nammite.

26 Runne now, I say, to mete her, and say vnto her, Art thou in helthe is thine hous- band in helthe? is the childe in helthe? And she answered, We are in helthe.

27 And when she came to the man of God vnto the mountaine, she caught him by his fire: and Gehazi went to her, to thrust her away: but the man of God said, Let her alone: for her foule is "vexed within he; and the Lord hathe hid it from me, and hashe not tolde it me.

28 Then she said, Did I desire a sonne of my lord: did I not say, Discerne me not.

29 The he said to Gehazi; Girdethy loy- nes, and take my staffe in thine hand, and go thy way: if thou mete anie, salute him not: and if anie salute thee, answer him not: and lay my staffe vpon the face of the childe.

30 And the mother of the childe said, As the Lord liueh, and as thy foule liueh, I wil not leau thee. Therefore he arose, and followed her.

31 But Gehazi was gone before the, & had layed the staffe vpon the face of the childe, but he nether spake nor heard: wherefore he returned to mete him: and tolde him, saying, The childe is not wakin.

32 ¶ Then came Elíshá into the house, and beholde, the childe was dead, and layed vpon his bed.

33 He went in therefore, and shut the dore vpon them twaine, and prayed vnto the Lord.

34 After he went vp, and v lay vpon the childe, and put his mouth on his mouth, and his eyes vpon his eyes, and his hair is vpon his hands, and stretched him selfe vpon him, & the flesh of the childe waxed warme.

1 Naamán the Syrian is healed of his leprosie. 16 Eli- sha refuseth his gifts 27 Gehazi: 11 stricken with leprosie, because he took money, & ruined the Naamán.

2 Now was there one Naamán captaine of the hoste of the King of Arám, a great man, and honorable in the sight of his lord, because that by him y Lord had delivered the Aramites. He also was a mightie man and valiant, but a leper.

3 And the Aramites had gone out by bands, & had taken a little maid of the land of Israél, and she serued Naamans wife.

4 And ſhe ſaid vnto her maſties, Wolde God my lord were with the b Prophet that is in Samaria, he wolde ſoone deliuer him of his leproſie.

5 And c he went in, and tolde his lord, ſaying, Thus and thus faith the maid that is of the land of Ifraél.

6 And broght the letter to the King of Ifraél to this effect, Now when this letter is come vnto thee, vnderſtád, that I haue ſent thee Naamán my ſeruát, that thou mayeſt heale him of his leproſie.

7 And when the King of Ifraél had red the letter, he rent his clothes, and ſaid, Am I God, to kil and to giue life, that he doeth ſend to me, that I ſhulde heale a man from his leproſie? wherefore confidre, I pray you, and ſe how he ſeketh a quarel againſt me.

8 But when Eliſſa the man of God had heard that the King of Ifraél had rent his clothes, he ſent vnto the King, ſaying, 2 Wherefore haſt thou rét thy clothes? Let him come now to me, and he ſhal knowe, that there is a Prophet in Ifraél.

9 ¶ Then Naamán came with his horfes, & with his charets, and ftode at the dore of the houle of Eliffa.

10 And Eliffa fent a meffenger vnto him, faying, Go and wafh thee in Iordén feuen times, and thy flefh fhall come againe to thee, and thou fhalt be cleanfed.

10 And when they were come to Samaria, Elisha said, Lord, opé their eyes that they may fe. And the Lord opened their eyes, and they faw, and beholde, they were in the middes of Samaria.

21 And the King of Israel said vnto Elisha when he faw them, My father, shal I smite them, shal I smite them?

22 And he answered, Thou shalt not smite them: doest thou not smite them that thou haft taken with thy swore, & with thy bowe? but the bread and water before the, that they may eat and drink and go to their master.

23 And he made great preparation for the: & when they had eaten & dronken, he sent them away: and they went to their master. So the bands of Aram came = nomore into the land of Israel.

24 But afterwards Ben-hadad King of A- ram gathered all his hoste, and went vp, & besieged Samaria.

25 So there was a great famine in Samaria: for lo, they besieged it vntil an asses head was at foure score pieces of siluer, and the fourth parte of a kab of dooues = dounge at fine pieces of siluer.

26 And as the King of Israel was going vpon the wall, there cryed a woman vnto him, saying, Helpe, my lord, o King.

27 And he said, doing the Lord doeth not succour, thee, how shulde helpe thee with the barne, or with the wine presle?

28 Also y King said vnto her, What aileth thee? And she answered, This woman said vnto me, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him to day, and we wil eat my sonne to- morowe.

29 So we fod my sonne, and did eat him: and I said to her the day after, Giue thy sonne, that we may eat him, but she hathe hid her sonne.

30 And when she King had heard y wordes of the woman, he rent his clothes, (and as he went vpon the wall, the people looked, and beholde, he had sackcloth within avgon his flesh)

31 And he said, God do so to me and more also, if the head of Elisha the sone of Sha- phat shal stand on him this day.

32 (Now Elisha fate in his house, and the Elders fate with him) And the King sent a man before him: but before the messenger came to him, he said to the Elders, So ye not how thus a murtherers sonne hathe sent to take away mine head? take hede when the messenger commeth, or shut the dore, and hadle him roughly at the dore: is not the sound of his masters fese behind him?

1 Elisha propheseth plaster of vuralle and other things to Samaria. 2 The Syrians runne away, and have no man following them 17 The prince that wode not bele- ne the words of Elisha is troden to death.

1 Then Elisha said, He are ye the words of the Lord: thus saith the Lord, Tomorowe this time a measure of fine floure shalde solde for a shekel, and two measures of barley for a shekel in the gate of Samaria.

2 Then a prince, on whose hand the King leaned, answered the man of God, and said, Thooth the Lord wode make windows in the heau, colde this thing come to pass? And he said, Beholde, thou shalt fe it with thine eyes, but y shalt not eat thereof.

3 Now there were foure leprouse men at y centing in of y gate: and they said one to another, Why fit we here vntil we dye?

4 If we say, We wil entice into the citie, the famine is in the cutie, & we shal dye there: and if we sit here, we dye also. Now there- fore come, and let vs fall into the campe of the Aramites: if thei faue our liues, we shal liue: & if they kil vs, we are but dead.

5 So they lose vp in the twilight, to go to the campe of the Aramites: and when thei were come to the vmoste parte of the campe of the Aramites, lo, there was no man there.

6 For the Lord had caused the campe of y Aramites to heare a noise of chariets & a noise of horses, or a noise of a great armie, so y they said one to another, Behol- de, the King of Israel hath hired against vs the Kings of the Hittites, & the Kings of the Egyptians to come vpon vs.

7 Wherefore they arose, and fled in the twilight, & left their tentes & their horses, & their asses, even the campe as it was, and s fled for their liues.

8 And when these lepers came to y vmoste part of the campe, they entred into one tent, and did eat and drink, and carried thence siluer and golde, and raiment, and went and hid it: after they returned, and entred into another tent, & carried thence also, and went, and hid it.

9 Then said one to another, We do not wel: this day is a day of good ridings, and we holde our peace, if we tarry til day light, some mischief wil come vpon vs. Now therefore come, let vs go, and tel the Kings housholde.

10 So they came, & called vnto the porters of the citie, & tolde the, saying, We came to the campe of the Aramites, & lo, there was no man there, nether voyce of ma, but ho. ses

12 Then the King arose in the night, and said vnto his seruants, b I wil shewe you now, what the Aramites haue done vnto vs.
They knowe that we are assamished, therefore they are gone out of the campe to hide them selues in the field, saying, When thei come out of the citie, we shal catche them aliue, and get into the citie.

13 And one of his seruants answered, and said, Let men take now sue of the horses that remaine, & are left in the citie, f behol- de, they are enen as all the multitude of Israel that are left the tein: beholde, I say, they are as the multitude of the Israelites that are consumed & we wil send to se. 14 So they toke two chatets of horses, and the King sent after the hoste of the Ara- mites, saying, Go and se.

15 And they went after them vnto Iorden, and lo, all the way was ful of clothes and vessels which the Aramites had cast from them in their haste: & the messengers re- turned, and tolde the King.

16 Then the people went out and spoiled the campe of the Aramites: so a measure of fine floure was at a shekel, and two mea- sures of barley at a shekel k according to y wode of the Lord.

17 And the King gave the prince (on whose hand he leaned) the charge of the gate, & the people l trode vpon him in the gate, and he dyed, as the man of God had said, which spake it, when the King came dow- ne to him.

18 And it came to passe, as the man of God had spoken to the King, sayig, Two mea- sures of barley at a shekel and a measure

6 ¶ Then he wrote another letter to them, fayig, If ye be mine, & wil obey my voice, & take the header of the men that are your mafters fonnes, and come to me to Izreel by tomorowe this time. (Now the Kings fonnes, even feuenty perfones were with the great men of the citie, which broght them vp)

7 And when the letter came to them, they toke the Kings fonnes, and flewe the fe- uenty perfones, and laied their heads in baffees, and fent them vnto him to Iz- reel.

8 ¶ Then there came a meffenger & tolde him, faying, Thei haue broght the heads of the Kings fonnes. And he faid, Let the lay them on two heapes at the entrung in of the gaie vntil the morning.

9 And whē it was day, he went out, & ftode & faid to all the people, Ye be & righteous: beholde, I confpnted againft my mafter, & flewe him: but who flewe all thefe?

10 Knowe now that there fhall fall vnto the earth nothing of the worde of the Lord, which the Lord fpake concerning y houfe of Aháb: for the Lord hathe broght to paffe the things that he fpake " by his fer- uant" Eliáh.

11 So Iehú flewe all that remayned of the houle of Aháb in Izreel, and all that were great with him, and his familiars and his • priests, fo that he let none of his re- maine.

12 ¶ And he arofe, and departed and came to Samaria. And as Iehú was in the waye by an houle where the fhepherdes did there, 13 He met with the brethren of Ahaziáh King of Iudáh and faid, Who are ye? And thei anfwieied, We are the brethren of Ahaziáh, & go downe to falute the children of the King and the children of the quene.

14 And he faid, Take them aliue. And thei toke them aliue, & flewe them at the well befide the houle where y fhepe are fhorne, enfh two and fourtie men, and he left not one of them.

15 ¶ And when he was departed thence, he met with Iehonadáb the fonne of Recháb comming to mete him, and he a bleffed him, and faid to him, Is thine heart vp-right, as mine heart is toward chine? And Iehonadáb anfwieied, Yea, douteles. Then giue me thine hand. And when he had giuen him his hand, he toke him vp to him into the charet.

16 And he faid, Come with me, and fe the zeale that I haue for the Lord: fo they made him ryde in his charet.

17 And when he came to Samaria, he flewe all that remained vnto Aháb in Samaria, til he had deftroyed him, according to the woide of the Lord, which he fpake to B- liiáh.

18 Then Iehú affembled all the people, and laid vnto them, Aháb ferued b Báal a litle, but Iehú fhall ferue him muche moie.

19 Now therefore call vnto me all the pro- pheres of Báal, all his feruants, and all his priests, and let not a man be lacking: for I haue a great facrifice for Báal: who focuer is lacking, he fhall not liue. But Iehú did it by a subtilite to deftroye the feruants of Báal.

20 And Iehú laid, "Proclaime a folemne afféblie for Báal. And thei proclaimed it.

21 So Iehú fent vnto all Ifraél, and all the feruants of Báal came, and there was not a má left that came not. And thei came into the houfe of Báal, & the houfe of Báal was ful from end to end.

22 Then he laid vnto him that had y char- ge of the veftrie, Bring for the veftelements for all the feruáts of Báal. And he broght them out veftelements.

23 And when Iehú went, & Iehonadáb the fonne of Recháb into the houfe of Báal, he laid vnto the feruants of Báal, Searche diligently, and loke, left there be here with you any of the seruants of the Lord, but the seruants of Báal onely.

24 And when thei went in to make sacrifice & burnt offting, Iehú appointed fourtescore men without, and said, If anie of the men whome I haue broght into your hands, escape, his foule shalle for his foule.

25 And when he had made an end of the burnt offering, Iehú said to the garde, and to the captaines, Go in, slaye them, let not a man come out. And they smote the with the edge of the sword. And the garde, and the captaines cast them out, & went vnto the city, where was the temple of Báal.

26 And they broght out the images of the temple of Báal, and burnt them.

27 And they destroyed the image of Báal, and thiewe downe the house of Báal, and made a lake of it vnto this day.

He slewe also of Edom in the valley of salt ten thousand, and toke the cive of Sela by warre, & called the name thereof Ioktheel vnto this day.

Then Amaziáh sent messengers to Ichoáth the sonne of Ichoaház, sone of Iehú King of Ifraél; saying, Come, let vs se one another in the face.

Then Ichoáth the King of Ifraél sent to Amaziáh King of Iudáh, saying, The thistle that is in Lebanon, sent to the cedre that is in Lebanon, saying, Give thy daughter to my sonne to wife: and the wilde beast that was in Lebanon, went and trode downe the thistle.

Because thou hast smitten Edom, thine heart harhe made thee proude: 'brag of glorie, & tarye at home. why doest thou prouoke to thine hurt, that thou shuldest fall, and Iudáh with thee?

But Amaziáh wilde not hear: therefore Ichoáth King of Ifraél went vp: and he & Amaziáh King of Iudáh sawe one another in the face at Beth-shémesh which is in Iudáh.

And Iudáh was put to the worfe before Ifraél, and they had euerie man to their tenues.

But Ichoáth King of Ifraél toke Amaziáh King of Iudáh, the sonne of Ichoáth the sonne of Amaziáh, at Beth-shémesh, & came to Ierufalém, and brake downe the wall of Ierufalém fro the gate of Ephraim to the corner gate, soure hundred cubites.

And he toke all the goide and siluer, and all the vessels that were foude in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and the children that were in a hostage, and returned to Samaria.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Ichoáth which he did and his valiant dedes, and how he foght with Amaziáh King of Iudáh, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél?

And Ichoáth slept with his fathers, and was buried at Samaria among the Kings of Ifraél: and Ieroboám his sonne reigned in his steade.

And Amaziáh the sonne of Ioáth King of Iudáh, lived after the death of Ichoáth sonne of Ichoaház King of Ifraél siftene yere.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Amaziáh, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

But they wrought, treason against him in Ierufalém, and he fled to Lachiáth, but they sent after him to Lachiáth, and slewe him there.

And they broghe him on horses, and he was buried at Ierufalém with his fathers in the citie of Daud.

Then all the people of Iudáh toke Azariáh, which was sfxtene yere olde, and made him King for his father Amaziáh.

He buylt Eláth, and restored it to Iudáh, after the Kig slept with his fathers.

In the fifteenth yere of Amaziáh the sonne of Ioáth King of Iudáh, was Ieroboám the sonne of Ioáth made Kig ouer Ifraél in Samaria, or reigned one and four-tie yere.

And he did euil in the fight of the Lord: for he departed not from all the sinnes of Ieroboám the sonne of Nebát, which made Ifraél to sinne.

He restored the coast of Ifraél, from the entring of Hamáth, vnto Sea of the wilderness, accordig to worde of the Lord God of Ifraél, which he spake by his servant Ionáh the sonne of Amitrái the Prophet, which was of Gath Hépher.

For the Lord sawe the exceeding bitter affliction of Ifraél, so that these was none thus vp, nor any left, nether yet any that colde helpe Ifraél.

Yet the Lord had not decreed to put out the name of Ifraél from vnder the heauenz: therefore he prefereued them by hand of Ieroboám the sonne of Ioáth.

Concerning the rest of the actes of Ieroboám, and all that he did, and his valiat dedes, or how he foght, and how he restored

Damascus, and Hamáth to Iudáh in Ifraél, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél?

So Ieroboám slept with his fathers, even with the Kings of Ifraél, and Zachariah his sonne reigned in his steade.

15 Concerning the rest of the actes of Shal lúm, and the treason which he wrought, be- holde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél.

16 ¶ Then Menahém destroyed Tiphísáh, and all that were therem, and the coastes thereof from Tirzáh, because they opened not to him, and he fmote it, and ript vp all their women with childe.

17 The nine and thirtieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, began Menahém the fonne of Gadi to reigne ouer Ifraél, & reigned ten yeres in Samaria.

18 And he did euil in the fight of the Lord, and departed not all his dayes from the finne of Ieroboám the fonne of Nebát, which made Ifraél to finne.

19 ¶ The Phul the King of Afshúr came against the s land: & Minahém gaue Phul a thousand talents of silver, that his hād might be with him, & establish the king- dome in his hand.

20 And Menahém exacted the money in If- raél, that all men of substance shulde giue the King of Afshúr fifty shekels of silver a piece: fo the King of Afshúr retuned & tarred not there in the land.

21 Concerning the rest of the actes of Me- nahém, and all that he did, are they not writen in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél?

22 And Menahém slept with his fathers, & Pekahiáh his fonne did reigne in his stead.

23 ¶ In the fiftieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh, begá Pekahiáh the fonne of Mina- hém to reigne ouer Ifraél in Samaria, & reigned two yere.

24 And he did euil in the fight of & Lord: for he departed not fro the finnes of Iero- boám the fonne of Nebát, which made Ifraél to finne.

25 And Pekah the fonne of Remaliáh, his captaine conspired against him, and fmote him in Samaria in the place of the Kings palace with Argób and Ariéh, and with him fifty men of the Gileadites: fo he kil- led him, and reigned in his steade.

26 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pe- kahiáh, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél.

27 In the two and fiftieth yere of Azariáh King of Iudáh began Pekah the fonne of Remaliáh to reigne ouer Ifraél in Sama- ria, and reigned twentie yere.

28 And he did euil in the fight of the Lord: for he departed not from the finnes of Ie- roboám the fonne of Nebát, that made Ifraél to finne.

29 In the dayes of Pekah King of Ifraél, a came Tigláth Pilefer King of Afshúr, and toke Lion, & Abél, Beth-maacháh, & Iánoah, and Kedéth, and Hazór, and Gi- leád, and Galiláh, & all the land of Naph- talí, and carried them away to Afshúr.

30 And Hofnéa the fonne of Eliáh wrought treason against Pekah the fonne of Rema- liáh, and fmote him, and stewe him, & trig- ned in his steade in the twentieth yere of Iothám the fonne of Vzziáh.

31 Concerning the rest of the actes of Pé- kah, and all that he did, beholde, they are written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Ifraél.

32 ¶ In the second yere of Pekah the fonne of Remaliáh Kig of Ifraél, began Iothám fonne of Vzziáh Kig of Iudáh to reigne.

The seunteenth yere of Pekáh the sonne of Remaliáh; Aház the sonne of Iothám King of Iudáh began to reigne.

Twentie yere olde was Aház, when he began to reigne, and he reigned sixtene yere in Ierusalém, and did not vprightly in the sight of the Lord his God, like Dauid his fathers:

But walked in the way of the Kings of Ifraél, yea, & made his sonne to go thow the fyre, after the abominations of the heathé, whome the Lord had cast out before the children of Ifraél.

Also he offred and burnt incense in the hie places and on the hills, & vnder eueriegrete tre.

Then Rezín King of Arám and Pekáh sonne of Remaliáh Kig of Ifraél came vp to Ierusalém to fight: & they besieged Aház, but colde not ouercome him.

At the same time Rezín King of Arám restored 1 Eláth to Arám, and droue the Iewes fró, Eláth: so the Aramites came to Eláth, and dwelt there vnto this day.

Then Aház sent emeflengers to Tigláth Pilefar King of Afshúr, saying, I am thy sexuant and thy sonne: come vp, and deli-ue me out of the hand of the King of Arám, and out of the hand of the King of Ifraél which rife vp against me.

And Aház toke the siluer and the golde that was foude in the house of the Lord, and in the treasures of the Kings house, and sent a present vnto the King of Afshúr.

And the King of Afshúr consented vnto him: and the King of Afshúr went vp against Damásus, and when he had také it, he caried the people away to Kir, and slewe Rezín.

And King Aház went vnto Damásus to mete Tiglath Pilefar King of Afshúr: and when King Aház sawe the altar that was at Damásus, he sent to Vriiáh the Priest the pattern of the altar, and the faction of it, and all the workeman ship thereof.

And Vriiáh the Priest made an altar in all pointes like to that which King Aház had sent from Damásus, so did Vriiáh the Priest against King Aház came from Damásus.

So when the King was come from Damásus, the King sawe the altar: & the King drew nere to the altar and offred the tron.

And he burnt his burnt offering, and his meat offering, & powied his drink offering, and sprinkled the blood of his peace of frings besides the altar,

And set it by the brazen altar which was before the Lord, and broght it in farther before the house between the altar and the house of the Lord, & set it on the Northside of the altar.

And King Aház commaded Vriiáh the Priest and said, Vpon the great altar set on fyre in the morning the burnt offering, and in the euen the meat offering, and the Kings burnt offering and his meat offering, with the burnt offering of all the people of the land, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings: and powre thereby all the blood of the burnt offering, and all the blood of the sacrifice, and the brazen altar shalbe for me to inquire of God.

And Vriiáh the Priest did according to all that King Aház had commanded.

And King Aház brake the borders of the bases, and toke the caldrons from of them, and toke downe the sea from the brazen oxen that were vnder it, and put it vpon a pauement of stones.

And the vaile for the Sabbáth (that they had made in the house) & the Kings entrie without turned he to the house of the Lord, because of King of Afshúr. Concerning the rest of the acres of Aház, which he did, are they not written in the boke of the Chronicles of the Kings of Iudáh?

And Aház slept with his fathers, & was buried with his fathers in the citie of Daud, & Hezekiah his sonne reigned in his steade.
